Chap. XXXVI.

1 Sennacherib invadeth Judah. 4 Rabshakeh ſent by Sennacherib, by blaſphemous perſwaſions ſoliciteth the people to revolt. 22 His words are told to Hezekiah.

NOw* [a] it came to paſſe in the [b] fourteenth yeare of king Hezekiah, that Sennacherib king of Aſſyria came up againſt all the defenced cities of Judah, and took them.

2 And the king of Aſſyria ſent Rabſhakeh, from Lachiſh to Jeruſalem, unto king Hezekiah, with a great army: and he ſtood by the conduit of the upper pool in the high-way of the fullers field.

3 Then came forth unto him Eliakim, Hilkiahs ſonne, which was [c] over the houſe, and [d] Shebna the ‡ ſcribe, and Joah Aſaphs ſonne the recorder.

4 ¶ And [e] Rabshakeh ſaid unto them, Say ye now to Hezekiah, Thus ſaith the great king, the king of Aſſyria, What confidence is this wherein thou truſteſt?

5 I ſay, ſayeſt [f] thou, (but they are but † vain words) ‡ I have counſel and ſtrength for warre: now on whom doſt thou truſt, that thou rebelleſt againſt me?

6 Lo, thou truſteſt in the * ſtaff of this broken reed, on Egypt; whereon if a man lean, it will go into his hand and pierce it: ſo is [g] Pharaoh king of Egypt to all that truſt in him.

7 But if thou ſay to me, We truſt in the LORD our God: is it not he whoſe high places, and whoſe altars Hezekiah hath taken away, and ſaid to Judah and to Jeruſalem, Ye ſhall worſhip before this altar?

8 Now therefore give ‡ pledges, I pray thee, to my maſter the king of Aſſyria, and I will give thee two thouſand horſes, if thou be able on thy part to ſet riders upon them.

9 How then wilt thou turn away the face of one captain of the [h] leaſt of my maſters ſervants, and put thy truſt on Egypt for chariots and for horſemen?

10 And am I now come up without the LORD againſt this land to deſtroy it? the LORD ſaid unto me, [i] Go up againſt this land, and deſtroy it.

11 ¶ Then ſaid Eliakim and Shebna and Joah unto Rabſhakeh, [k] Speak, I pray thee, unto thy ſervants in the Syrian language; for we underſtand it: and ſpeak not to us in the Jews language, in the eares of the people that are on the wall.

12 ¶ But Rabſhakeh ſaid, Hath my maſter ſent me to thy maſter and to thee, to ſpeak theſe words? hath he not ſent me to the men that ſit upon the wall, that they may eat their own dung, and drink their own piſſe with you?

13 Then Rabſhakeh ſtood, and cried with a loud voice in the Jews language, and ſaid, Heare ye the words of the great king, the king of Aſſyria.

14 Thus ſaith the king, let not Hezekiah deceive you, for he ſhall not be able to deliver you.

15 Neither let Hezekiah make you truſt in the Lord, ſaying, The Lord will ſurely deliver us, this city ſhall not be delivered into the hand of the king of Aſſyria.

16 Hearken not to Hezekiah: for thus ſaith the king of Aſſyria, ‡ † [l] Make an agreement with me by a preſent, and come out to me: and eat ye every one of his vine, and every one of his figtree, and drink ye every one the waters of his own ciſtern:

17 Untill I come and take you away to a land like your own land, a land of corn and wine, a land of bread and vineyards.

18 Beware leſt Hezekiah perſwade you, ſaying, The LORD will deliver us. Hath any of the gods of the nations delivered his land out of the hand of the king of Aſſyria?

19 Where are the gods of [m] Hamath and Arphad? where are the gods of Sepharvaim? and have they delivered Samaria out of my hand?

20 Who are they amongſt all the gods of theſe lands, that have delivered their land out of my hand, that the LORD ſhould deliver Jeruſalem out of my hand?

21 But they [n] held their peace, and anſwered him not a word, for the kings commandment was, ſaying, Anſwer him not.

22 ¶ Then came Eliakim the ſonne of Hilkiah, that was over the houſhold, and Shebna the ſcribe, and Joah the ſonne of Aſaph the recorder, to Hezekiah with their clothes rent, and told him the words of Rabshakeh.

* 2 Kings 18: 13. 2 Chron. 32: 1.

a This hiſtorie is rehearſed, becauſe it is a leal and confirmation of the doctrine afore, both for the threatnings and promiſes: to wit, that God would ſuffer his Church to be afflicted, but at length would ſend deliverance.

b When he had abolished ſuperſtition, and idolatry, and reſtored religion, yet God would exerciſe his Church, to trie their faith and patience.

c For he was now reſtored to his office, as Iſaiah had propheſied, Chap. 22: 20.

d This declareth, that there were few godly to be found in the kings houſe, when he was driven to ſend this wicked man in ſuch a weightie matter.

f He ſpeaketh this in the perſon of Hezekiah, chiefly charging him that he put his truſt in wit and eloquence, whereas his onely confidence was in the Lord.

† Heb. a word of lips.

* Ezek. 29: 6, 7.

g Satan laboured to pull the godly king from one vaine confidence to another: to wit, from truſt in the Egyptians, whoſe power was weak and would deceive them, to yeeld himſelf to the Aſſyrians, and ſo not to hope for any help of God.

h He reprocheth to Hezekiah his ſmall power which is not able to reſiſt one of Sennacheribs leaſt captains.

i Thus the wicked to deceive us, will pretend the name of the Lord: but we muſt trie the ſpirits, whether they be of God or no.

k They were afraid, leſt by his words he ſhould have ſtirred the people againſt the king, and alſo pretended to grow to ſome appointment with him.

l The Hebrew word ſignifieth, Bleſſing: whereby this wicked captaine would have perſwaded the people that their condition ſhould be better under Sennacherib than under Hezekiah

m That is, of Antiochia in Syria, of the which theſe two other cities alſo were: whereby wee ſee how everie towne had his peculiar idol, and how the wicked make God an idol, becauſe they doe not underſtand that God maketh them his ſcourge, and puniſheth cities for ſinne.

n Not that they did not ſhew by evident ſignes, that they did deteſt his blaſphemie; for they had now rent their clothes, but they knew it was in vaine to uſe long reaſoning with this infidel, whoſe rage they ſhould have ſo much more provoked.

Chap. XXXVII.

1 Hezekiah mourning, ſendeth to Iſaiah to pray for them. 6 Iſaiah comforteth them. 8 Sennacherib going to encounter Tirhakah, ſendeth a blaſphemous letter to Hezekiah. 14 Hezekiahs prayer. 21 Iſaiah his propheſie of the pride and deſtruction of Sennacherib, and the good of Zion. 36 An angel ſlayeth the Aſſyrians. 37 Sennacherib is ſlain at Nineveh by his own ſonnes.

ANd* it came to paſſe when king Hezekiah heard it, that he [a] rent his clothes, and covered himſelf with ſackcloth, and went into the houſe of the LORD.

2 And he ſent Eliakim, who was over the houſhold, and Shebna the ſcribe, and the elders of the prieſts covered with ſackcloth, unto [b] Iſaiah the prophet the ſonne of Amoz.

3 And they ſaid unto him, Thus ſaith Hezekiah, This day is a day of trouble, and of rebuke, and of ‡ blaſphemie: for the children are come to the [c] birth, and there is not ſtrength to bring forth.

4 It may be the LORD thy God will [d] heare the words of Rabſhakeh, whom the king of Aſſyria his maſter hath ſent to reproach the living God, and will reprove the words which the LORD thy God hath heard: wherefore [e] lift up thy prayer for the remnant that is left.

5 So the ſervants of king Hezekiah came to Iſaiah.

6 ¶ And Iſaiah ſaid unto them, Thus ſhall ye ſay unto your maſter, Thus ſaith the LORD, Be not afraid of the words that thou haſt heard, wherewith the ſervants of the king of Aſſyria have blaſphemed me.

7 Behold,

a In ſigne of grief and repentance.

b To have comfort of him by the word of God, that his faith might be confirmed, and ſo his prayer be more earneſt: teaching hereby that in all dangers theſe two are the onely remedies, to ſeek unto God and his miniſters.

c Wee are in as great ſorrow as a woman that travaileth of childe, and cannot bee delivered.

d That is, will declare by effect that he hath heard it: for when God deferreth to puniſh, it ſeemeth to the fleſh, that he knoweth not the ſin, or heareth not the cauſe.

e Declaring, that the miniſters office doth not only ſtand in comforting by the word, but alſo in praying for the people.

7 Behold, I will ‡ send a blast upon him, and he shall heare [f] a rumour, and return to his own land, and I will cause him to fall by the sword in his own land.

8 ¶ So Rabshakeh returned, and found the king of Assyria warring against [g] Libnah: for he had heard that he was departed from Lachish.

9 And he heard say concerning Tirhakah king of Ethiopia, He is come forth to make warre with thee: and when he heard it, he sent messengers to Hezekiah, saying.

10 Thus shall ye speak to Hezekiah king of Judah, saying, Let not thy God in whom thou trustest [h] deceive thee, saying, Jerusalem shall not be given into the hand of the king of Assyria.

11 Behold, thou hast heard what the kings of Assyria have done to all lands by destroying them utterly, and shalt thou be delivered?

12 Have the gods of the nations delivered them which my fathers have destroyed, as [i] Gozan, and [k] Haran, and Rezeph, and the children of Eden which were in Telassar?

13 Where is the king of Hamath, and the king of Arphad, and the king of the citie of Sepharvaim, Hena and Ivah?

14 ¶ And Hezekiah received the letter from the hand of the messengers, and read it: and Hezekiah went up unto the house of the Lord, and spread it before the LORD.

15 And Hezekiah prayed unto the LORD, saying,

16 O LORD of hosts, God of Israel, that [l] dwellest between the cherubims, thou art the God, even thou alone, of all the kingdomes of the earth, thou hast made heaven and earth.

17 Incline thine eare, O LORD, and heare; open thine eyes, O LORD, and see: and heare all the words of Sennacherib, which hath sent to reproach the living God.

18 Of a truth, LORD, the kings of Assyria have laid waste all the † nations and [m] their countreys, 19 And have † cast their gods into the fire: for they were no gods, but the work of mens hands, wood and stone: therefore they have destroyed them.

20 Now therefore, O LORD our God, save us from his hand, that all the [n] kingdomes of the earth may know, that thou art the LORD, even thou onely.

21 ¶ Then Isaiah the sonne of Amoz sent unto Hezekiah, saying, Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Whereas thou hast prayed to me against Sennacherib king of Assyria:

22 This is the word which the LORD hath spoken concerning him, The [o] virgin the daughter of Zion hath despised thee, and laughed thee to scorn, the daughter of Jerusalem hath shaken her head at thee.

23 Whom hast thou reproached and blasphemed? and against whom hast thou exalted thy voice, and lifted up thine eyes on high? even against the [p] holy one of Israel.

24 † By thy servants hast thou reproached the Lord, and hast said, By the multitude of my chariots am I come up to the height of the mountains to the sides of Lebanon, and I will cut down † the tall cedars thereof, and the choice firre-trees thereof: and I will enter into the height of his border, and ‡ the forrest of his Carmel.

25 I have digged [q] and drunk water, and with the sole of my feet have I dried up all the rivers of the † besieged places.

26 ‡ Hast thou not heard long ago, how I have done it, and of ancient times that I have [r] formed it? now have I brought it to passe, that thou shouldest be to lay waste defenced cities into ruinous heaps.

27 Therefore their inhabitants were † of small power, they were dismayed and confounded: they were as the grasse of the field, and as the green herb, as the grasse on the house-tops, and as corn [r] blasted before it be grown up.

28 But I know thy ‡ abode, and thy going [t] out, and thy coming in, and thy rage against me.

29 Because thy rage against me, and thy tumult is come up into mine eares: therefore will I put my [u] hook in thy nose, and my bridle in thy lips, and I will turn thee back by the way by which thou [x] camest.

30 And this shall be a [y] signe unto thee, Ye shall eat this yeare such as groweth of it self: and the [z] second yeare that which springeth of the same: and in the third yeare sow ye and reap, and plant vineyards, and eat the fruit thereof.

31 And † the [a] remnant that is escaped of the house of Judah, shall again take root downward, and bear fruit upward.

32 For out of Jerusalem shall go forth a remnant, and ‡ they that escape out of mount Zion: the * zeal of the LORD of hosts shall do this.

33 Therefore thus saith the LORD concerning the king of Assyria: He shall not come into this citie, nor shoot an arrow there, nor come before it with shields, nor cast a bank against it.

34 By the way that he came, by the same shall he return, and shall not come into this citie saith the LORD.

35 For I will * defend this city to save it, for mine own sake, and for my servant [b] Davids sake.

36 Then the * angel of the LORD went forth, and smote in the camp of the Assyrians a hundred and fourescore and five thousand, and when they arose early in the morning, behold, they were all dead corpses.

37 ¶ So Sennacherib king of Assyria departed, and went, and returned, and dwelt at [c] Nineveh.

3 And ſaid, Remember now, O LORD, I beſeech thee, how I have walked before thee in truth, and with a perfect heart, and have done that which is good in thy ſight; and Hezekiah wept † ſore.

b For his heart was touched with feare of Gods judgement, ſeeing he had appointed him to die, ſo quickly after his deliverance from ſo great calamity, as one unworthy to remain in that eſtate, & alſo foreſeeing the great change, that ſhould come in the church, foraſmuch as he left no ſonne to reigne after him: for as yet Manaſſeh was not born: and when he reigned, we ſee what a tyrant he was.

f He left this ſong of his lamentation and, thanksgiving to all poſterity, as a monument of his own infirmitie and thankfull heart for Gods benefits, as David did, Pſalm 51.

10 I ſaid in the [g] cutting off of my dayes, I ſhall go to the gates of the grave: I am deprived of the reſidue of my yeares.

g At what time it was told mee, that I ſhould die.

11 I ſaid, I [h] ſhall not ſee the LORD, even the LORD in the land of the living: I ſhall behold man no more with the inhabitants of the world.

h I ſhall no more praiſe the Lord here in this temple among the faithfull: thus God ſuffereth his deareſt children to want his conſolation for a time, that his grace afterward may the more appeare when they feel their own weakeneſſe.

12 Mine age is departed, and is removed from me as a ſhepherds tent: [i] I have cut off like a weaver my life: he will cut me off ‡ with pining ſickneſſe: from day even to [k] night wilt thou make an end of me.

i By my ſinne I have provoked God to take my life from me. ‡ Or, from the thrum. k That is, in one day, or ſhortly.

13 I reckoned till [l] morning, that as a lion ſo will he break all my bones: from day even to night wilt thou make an end of me.

l Over night I thought that I ſhould live till morning, but my pangs in the night perſwaded me the contrary: he ſheweth the horror that the faithfull have, when they apprehend Gods judgements againſt their ſinne.

14 Like a crane or a ſwallow, ſo did I [m] chatter: I did mourn as a dove: mine eyes fail with looking upward: O LORD, I am [n] oppreſſed, ‡ undertake for me.

18 For the [u] grave cannot praiſe thee, death cannot celebrate thee: they that go down into the pit cannot hope for thy truth.

u Foraſmuch as God hath placed man in this world to glorifie him, the godly take it as a ſigne of his wrath, when their dayes were ſhortned, either becauſe that they ſeemed unworthy for their ſinnes to live longer in his ſervice: or for their zeal to Gods glory, ſeeing that there are ſo few in earth that doe regard it, Pſal. 6: 5. and 115: 17.

19 The living, the living, he ſhall praiſe thee as I do this day: the father to the [x] children ſhall make known thy truth.

Chap. XLI.

1 God expostulateth with his people, about his mercies to the church, 10 about his promises, 21 and about the vanity of idols.

KEep [a] silence before me, O islands, and let the people [b] renew their strength: let them come neare, then let them speak: let us come neare together to judgement.

2 Who raised up † the [c] righteous man from the east, called him to his foot, gave the nations before him, and made him rule over kings? he gave them as the dust to his sword, and as driven stubble to his bow.

3 He pursued them and passed † safely; even by the way that he had not gone with his feet.

4 Who hath wrought and done it, calling the [d] generations from the beginning? I the LORD the * [e] first, and with the last, I am he

5 The isles saw it, and [f] feared, the ends of the earth were afraid, drew neare, and [g] came.

6 They helped every one his neighbour, and every one said to his brother, † [h] Be of good courage.

7 So the carpenter encouraged the ‡ goldsmith, and he that smooth*e*th with the hammer † him that smote the anvil, ‡ saying, It is ready for the sodering: and he fastened it with nails that it should not be moved.

8 But thou Israel art my [i] servant, Jacob whom I have * chosen, the seed of Abraham my * friend.

9 Thou whom I have taken from the ends of the earth, and called thee from the chief men thereof, and said unto thee, Thou art my servant, I have chosen thee, and not cast thee away

10 ¶ Fear thou not, for I am with thee: be not dismayed, for I am thy God: I will strengthen thee, yea I will help thee, yea I will uphold thee with the [k] * right hand of my righteousnesse.

11 Behold, all they that were incensed against thee, shall be * ashamed and confounded: they shall be as nothing, and † they that strive with thee shall perish.

12 Thou shalt seek them, and shalt not finde [l] them, even † them that contended with thee: † they that warre against thee shall be as nothing, and as a thing of nought.

13 For I the LORD thy God will hold thy right hand, saying unto thee, Fear not, I will help thee.

14 Fear not, thou [m] worm Jacob, and ye ‡ men of Israel: I will help thee, saith the LORD, and thy redeemer, the holy one of Israel.

15 Behold, I will make thee a new sharp threshing-instrument having † teeth: thou shalt thresh the [n] mountains, and beat them small, and shalt make the hills as chaff.

16 Thou shalt fanne them, and the winde shall carry them away, and the whirlwinde shal scatter them: and thou shalt rejoyce in the LORD, and shalt glory in the holy one of Israel.

17 When the [o] poore and needy seek water and there is none, and their tongue faileth for thirst, I the LORD will heare them, I the God of Israel will not forsake them.

18 I will open * rivers in high places, and fountains in the midst of the valleys: I will make the * wildernesse a pool of water, and the [p] drie land springs of water.

19 I will plant in the wildernesse the cedar, the shittah-tree, and the myrtle, and the oyl-tree: I will set in the desert the firre-tree, and the pine, and the box-tree together:

20 That they may see, and know, and consider, and understand together, that the hand of the LORD hath done this, and the holy one of Israel [q] hath created it.

21 † [r] Produce your cause, saith the LORD, bring forth your strong reasons, saith the King of Jacob.

22 Let them bring them forth, and shew us what shall happen: let them shew the former things what they be, that we may † consider them, and know the latter end of them; or declare us things for to come.

24 Behold, ye are ‡ of nothing, and your work ‡ of nought; an abomination is he that chooseth you.

25 [t] I have raised up one from the north, and he shall come: from the rising of the sunne shall [u] he call upon my name, and he shall come upon [x] princes as upon morter, and as the potter treadeth clay.

26 Who hath declared from the beginning, that we may know? and beforetime, that we may say, He is righteous? yea, there is none that sheweth, yea, there is none that declareth, yea, there is none that heareth [y] your words.

27 The first shall say to Zion, Behold, behold [z] them, and I will give to Jerusalem [a] one that bringeth good tidings.

28 For I [b] beheld, and there was no man, even amongst them; and there was no counseller, that when I asked of them, could † answer a word.

29 Behold, they are all vanitie, their works are nothing: their molten images are winde and confusion.

1 The office of Christ, graced with meekenesse and constancie. 5 Gods promise unto him. 10 An exhortation to praise God for his gospel. 17 He reproveth the people of incredulitie.

BEhold * [a] my servant whom I [b] uphold, mine elect in whom my soul * [c] delighteth: I have put my spirit upon him, he shall bring forth [d] judgement to the Gentiles.

* Matth. 3: 17. and 17: 5. Ephes. 1: 6.
c He only is acceptable unto me, and they that come unto me by him: for there is no other meanes of reconciliation.
d He shall declare himself governour over the gentiles, and call them by his word, and rule them by his spirit.
e His coming shall not be with pomp and noise, as earthly princes.

3 [f] A bruised reed shall he not break: and the [‡] smoking [g] flax shall he not † quench: he shall bring forth judgement unto [h] truth.

4 He shall not fail, nor be † discouraged, till he have [i] set judgement in the earth: and the [k] isles shall wait for his law.

5 ¶ Thus saith God the LORD, he that created the heavens, and stretched them out; he that spread forth the earth and that which cometh out of it, he that giveth breath unto the people upon it, and spirit to them that walk therein.

6 I the LORD have called thee in [l] righteousnesse, and will [m] hold thine hand, and will keep thee, and give thee for [n] a covenant of the people, for * a light of the Gentiles:

7 To open the blinde eyes, to * bring out the prisoners from the prison, and them that sit in * darknesse out of the prison-house.

8 I am the LORD, that is my name, and my * [o] glorie will I not give to another, neither my praise to graven images.

9 Behold, the former things are [p] come to passe, and new things do I declare: before they spring forth I tell you of them.

10 Sing unto the LORD a new song, and his praise from the end of the earth: ye that go down to the sea, and † all that is therein; the isles and the inhabitants thereof.

11 Let the wilderneſse, and the cities thereof lift up their voice, the villages that [q] Kedar doth inhabit: let the inhabitants of the rock sing, let them shout from the top of the mountains.

12 Let them give glory unto the LORD, and declare his praise in the islands.

13 The LORD shall go forth as [r] a mightie man, he shall stirre up jealousie like a man of warre: he shall crie; yea, roar; he shall † prevail against his enemies.

14 I have long time holden my peace, I have been still and refrained my self, now will I crie like [s] a travailing woman, I will destroy and † devoure at once.

15 I will make waste mountains and hills, and drie up all their herbs, and I will make the rivers islands, and I will drie up the pools.

16 And I will bring the [t] blinde by a way that they knew not, I will lead them in paths that they have not known: I will make darknesse light before them, and crooked things † straight. These things will I do unto them, and not forsake them.

17 ¶ They shall be * turned back, they shall be greatly ashamed that trust in graven images, that say to the molten images, Ye are our gods.

18 Heare ye deaf, and look ye blinde, that ye may see.

19 Who is blinde but [u] my servant? or deaf, as my [x] messenger that I sent? who is blinde as he that is [y] perfect, and blinde as the LORDS servant?

20 Seeing many things, * but thou obserVest not: opening the eares, but he heareth not.

21 The LORD is well pleased for his righteousnesse sake, he will magnifie the law, and make ‡ it honourable.

22 But this is a people [z] robbed and spoiled, ‡ they are all of them snared in holes, and they are hid in prison houses: they are for a prey, and none delivereth; for † a spoil, and none saith, [a] Restore.

23 Who among you will give eare to this? who will hearken, and heare † for the [b] time to come?

24 Who gave Jacob for a spoil, and Israel to the robbers? did not the LORD, he, against whom we have sinned? for they would not walk in his wayes, neither were they obedient unto his law.

25 Therefore he hath poured upon him the furie of his anger, and the strength of battel; and it hath set him on fire round about, yet he knew not; and it burned him, yet he laid it not to heart.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The Lord comforteth the church with his promises. 8 He appealeth to the people for witnesse of his omnipotencie. 14 He foretelleth them the destruction of Babylon, 18 and his wonderfull deliverance of his people. 22 He reproveth the people as inexcusable.

BUt now thus saith the LORD that [a] created thee, O Jacob, and he that formed thee, O Israel, [b] Fear not: for I have redeemed thee, I have called thee by thy name, thou art mine.

2 When thou passest through the [c] waters, I will be with thee; & through the rivers, they shall not overflow thee: when thou walkest through the fire, thou shalt not be burnt; neither shall the flame kindle upon thee.

3 For I am the LORD thy God, the holy one of Israel, thy saviour: I gave [d] Egypt for thy ransome, Ethiopia and Seba for thee.

7 Even every one that is called by my [g] name: for I have created him for my glorie, I have formed him, yea I have made him.

8 ¶ Bring forth the blinde people that have eyes, and the deaf that have eares.

23 Thou hast [z] not brought me the † small cattel of thy burnt-offerings, neither hast thou honoured me with thy sacrifices. I have not caused thee to serve with an offering, nor wearied thee with incense.

24 Thou hast bought me no [a] sweet cane with money, neither hast thou † filled me with the fat of thy sacrifices: but thou hast made me to [b] serve with thy sinnes, thou hast wearied me with thine iniquities.

25 I, even I am he that * blotteth out thy transgressions for mine own sake, and will not remember thy sinnes.

26 Put [c] me in remembrance: let us plead together: declare thou, that thou mayest be justified, 27 Thy [d] first father hath sinned, and thy † [e] teachers have transgressed against me.

28 Therefore I have [f] profaned the ‡ princes of the sanctuary, and have given Jacob to the curse, and Israel to reproaches.

CHAP. XLIIII.

1 God comforteth the church with his promises. 7 The vanity of idols, 9 and folly of idol-makers. 21 He exhorteth to praise God for his redemption and omnipotency.

YEt now heare, * O Jacob my servant, and Israel whom I have chosen.

2 Thus saith the LORD that made thee, and formed [a] thee from the wombe, which will help thee, Fear not, O Jacob, my servant, and thou Jesurun, [b] whom I have chosen.

3 For I will * poure water upon him that is [c] thirsty, and flouds upon the dry ground: I will poure my spirit upon thy seed, and my blessing upon thine offspring:

4 And they [d] shall spring up as among the grasse, as willows by the water-courses.

5 One shall say, I am the LORD's: and another [e] shall call himself by the name of Jacob: and another shall subscribe with his hand unto the LORD, and surname himself by the name of Israel.

6 Thus saith the LORD the king of Israel, and his redeemer the LORD of hosts, [f] I am the first, and I am the last, and besides me there is no God.

7 And who, as I, shall call, and shall [g] declare it, and set [h] it in order for me, since I appointed the [i] ancient people? and the things that are coming, and shall come? let [k] them shew unto them.

8 Fear ye not, neither be afraid: have not I told thee from that time, and have declared it? [l] ye are even my witnesses. Is there a God besides me? yea, * there is no † God, I know not any.

9 ¶ They that make a graven image are all of them vanity, and their † [m] delectable things shall not profit, and they are their own witnesses, * they see not, nor know; [n] that they may be ashamed.

10 Who hath formed [o] a god, or molten a graven image that is [p] profitable for nothing?

11 Behold, all his [q] fellows shall be * ashamed: and the workmen, they are of men: let them all be gathered together, let them [r] stand up; yet they shall fear, and they shall be ashamed together.

12 * The smith ‡ with the tongs both worketh in the coals, and fashioneth it with hammers, and worketh it with the strength of his arms: yea, he is [s] hungry, and his strength faileth; he drinketh no water, and is faint.

13 The carpenter stretcheth out his rule: he marketh it out with a line: he fitteth it with planes, and he marketh it out with the compasse, and maketh it after the figure of a man,

CHAP. XLV.

1 God calleth Cyrus for his churches sake. 5 By his omnipotency he challengeth obedience. 20 He convinceth the idols of vanity, by his saving power.

THus saith the LORD to his [a] anointed, to Cyrus, whose [b] right hand I have holden, to [c] subdue nations before him: and I will loose the loyns of kings to open before him the two-leaved gates, and the gates shall not be shut.

2 I will go before thee, and [d] make the crooked places straight: I will break in pieces the gates of brasse, and cut in sunder the barres of iron.

3 And I will give thee the treasures of darknesse, and hidden riches of secret places, that thou [e] mayest know, that I the LORD, which call thee by thy name, am the God of Israel:

4 For Jacob my servants [f] sake, and Israel mine elect, I have even called thee by thy name: I have surnamed thee, though thou hast not known me.

5 ¶ I * am the LORD, and there is none else, there is no God besides me, I [g] girded thee, though thou hast not known me:

m They shall utterly perish, and no part of them remain.

15 Thus shall they be unto thee with whom thou hast laboured, even thy merchants from thy youth, they shall wander every one to his [n] quarter, none shall save thee.

n They shall flee every one to that place, which he thought by his speculation to be most sure: but that shall deceive them.

Chap. XLVIII.

1 God, to convince the people of their foreknown obstinacy, revealed his prophesies. 9 He saved them for his own sake. 12 He exhorteth them to obedience, because of his power and providence. 16 He lamenteth their backwardnesse. 20 He powerfully delivereth his out of Babylon.

HEare ye this, O house of Jacob, which are [a] called by the name of Israel, and are come forth out of the [b] waters of Judah; which swear by the name of the LORD, and make mention of the God of Israel, but not in truth, nor in righteousnesse.

a He detecteth their hypocrisie, which vaunted themselves to be Israelites, and were not so in deed.

b That who are descended from Jacob as from a fountain, Deut. 33: 28. Psalm 68: 27.

2 For they call themselves of the holy city, and stay themselves [c] upon the God of Israel, the LORD of hosts is his name.

c They make shew as though they would have none other God.

3 I have declared the former things from the beginning: and they went forth out of my mouth, and I shewed [d] them, I did them suddenly, and they came to passe.

d He sheweth, that they could not accuse him in any thing, for as much as he had performed whatsoever he had promised.

4 Because I knew that [e] thou art † obstinate, and thy neck is an iron sinew, and thy brow brasse:

e I have done for thee, more than I promised, that thy stubbornesse and impudency might have been overcome.

5 I have even from the beginning declared it to thee; before it came to passe I shewed [f] it thee; lest thou shouldest say; Mine idol hath done them, and my graven image, and my molten image hath commanded them.

f How thou shouldest be delivered out of Babylon.

6 Thou hast heard, see all this; and will not ye [g] declare it? I have shewed thee new things from this time, even hidden things, and thou didst not know them.

g Will ye not acknowledge this my benefit, and declare it unto others?

7 They are created now, and not from the beginning, even before the day when thou heardest them not; lest thou shouldest say, Behold, I [h] knew them.

h Shewing, that mans arrogancie is the cause why God dosh not declare all things at once, lest they should attribute this knowledge to their own wisedome.

8 Yea thou heardest not, yea thou knewest not, yea from that time that thine eare was not opened: for I knew that thou wouldst deal very treacherously, and wast called a transgressour from the [i] wombe.

i From the time that I brought thee out of Egypt: for that deliverance was at the birth of the church.

9 ¶ For my names sake will I deferre mine anger, and for my praise will I refrain for thee, [k] that I cut thee not off.

k As it was my free mercie that I did chuse thee, so it is my free mercie that must save thee.

10 Behold, I have refined thee, [l] but not ‡ with silver; I have [m] chosen thee in the furnace of affliction.

l For I had respect to thy weaknesse and infirmitie: for in silver there is some pureness, but in us there is nothing but drosse.

m I took thee out of the fornace where thou shouldest have been consumed.

11 For mine own sake, even for mine own sake will I do it; for how should my name be [n] polluted? and * [o] I will not give my glory unto another.

n God joyneth the salvation of his, with his own honour: so that they cannot perish, but his glory should be diminished, as Deut. 32: 27.

* Chap. 42: 8.

o I will not suffer another to take it from me.

12 ¶ Hearken unto me, O Jacob, and Israel my called, [p] I am he, I am the first, I also am the last.

p Reade chap 41. vers. 4. and 44: 6. Rev. 1: 17. and 22: 13.

13 Mine hand also hath laid the foundation of the earth, and ‡ my right hand hath spanned the heaven: when I call unto them they [q] stand up together.

‡ Or, the palm of my right hand hath spread out.

14 All ye assemble your selves and heare: which among them hath declared the things? the LORD hath [r] loved him: he will do his pleasure on Babylon, and his arm shall be on the Caldeans.

q To obey me, and to doe whatsoever I command them.

r Meaning, Cyrus, whom he had chosen to destroy Babylon.

15 I, even I have spoken, yea I have called him: I have brought him, and he shall make his way prosperous.

16 ¶ Come ye neare unto me, heare ye [s] this, I have not spoken in secret from the [s] beginning, from the time that it was, there am I: and now the Lord GOD and his spirit hath [t] sent me.

s Since the time that I declared my self to your fathers.

t Thus the prophet speaketh for himself, and to assure them of these things.

17 Thus saith the LORD, thy redeemer the holy one of Israel, I am the LORD thy God which teacheth thee to [u] profit, which leadeth thee by the way that thou shouldest go.

u What things shall doe thee good.

18 O that thou hadst hearkened to my commandments, then had thy peace been as a river, and thy righteousnesse as the waves of the sea.

19 Thy seed also had been as the sand, and the offspring of thy bowels like the gravell thereof: [x] his name should not have been cut off, nor destroyed from before me.

x That is, the prosperous estate of Israel.

20 ¶ [y] Go ye forth of Babylon, flee ye from the Caldeans, with a voice of singing declare y After that he had forewarned them of their captivitie, and of the cause thereof, he sheweth them the great joy that shall come of their deliverance.

ye, tell this, utter it even to the end of the earth: say ye, The LORD hath * redeemed his servant Jacob.

21 And they z thirsted not when he led them through the deserts: he * caused the waters to flow out of the rock for them: he clave the rock also and the waters gushed out.

22 There is a no peace, saith the LORD, unto the wicked.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 Christ being sent to the Jews, complaineth of them. 5 He is sent to the Gentiles with gracious promises. 13 Gods love is perpetuall to his church. 18 The ample restauration of the church. 24 The powerfull deliverance out of captivity.

LIsten, O Isles, unto me, & hearken ye people from farre, The LORD hath called a me from the b wombe, from the bowels of my mother hath he made mention of my name.

2 And he hath made my mouth like a sharp c sword in the shadow of his hand hath he d hid me, and made me a polished shaft, in his quiver hath he hid me.

3 And said unto me, Thou art my servant, O e Israel, in whom I will be glorified.

4 Then I said, I have f laboured in vain, I have spent my strength for nought, and in vain, yet surely my judgement is with the LORD, and ‡ my work with my God.

5 ¶ And now, saith the LORD that formed me from the wombe to be his servant, to bring Jacob again to him, ‡ Though Israel be not gathered, g yet shall I be glorious in the eyes of the LORD, and my God shall be my strength.

6 And he said, ‡ It is a light thing that thou shouldest be my servant to raise up the tribes of Jacob, and to restore the ‡ preserved of Israel: I will also give h thee for a light to the Gentiles, that thou mayest be my salvation unto the end of the earth.

7 Thus saith the LORD the redeemer of Israel, and his holy one, ‡ to him whom man despiseth, to him whom the nations abhorreth, to a i servant of rulers, Kings shall see and k arise, princes also shall worship, because of the LORD that is faithfull, and the holy one of Israel, and he shall choose thee.

8 Thus saith the LORD, l In an acceptable time have I heard thee, and in a day of salvation have I helped thee: and I will preserve thee, and m give thee for a covenant of the people, to ‡ n establish the earth, to cause to inherit the desolate heritages;

9 That thou mayest say * to the o prisoners, Go forth: to them that are in darkness, Shew your selves: they shall feed in the wayes, and their p pastures shall be in all high places.

10 They shall not * hunger nor thirst, neither shall the heat nor sunne smite them: for he that hath mercy q on them shall lead them, even by the springs of water shall he guid them.

11 And I will make all my mountains a way, and my high-wayes shall be exalted.

12 Behold, these shall come from farre: and lo, these from the north and from the west; and these from the land of r Sinim.

13 ¶ Sing, O s heavens, and be joyfull, O earth, and break forth into singing, O mountains: for God hath comforted his people, and will have mercy upon his afflicted.

14 But Zion said, The LORD t hath forsaken me, and my Lord hath forgotten me.

15 Can a woman forget her sucking childe, † that she should not have compassion on the sonne of her wombe? yea they may forget, yet will I not forget thee.

16 Behold, I have graven thee upon the palms of my u hands, thy x walls are continually before me.

17 y Thy children shall make haste; thy destroyers, and they that made thee waste shall go forth of thee.

18 ¶ * Lift up thine eyes round about, and behold: all these gather themselves together and come to thee: as I live, saith the LORD, thou shalt surely clothe thee with them all, as with an ornament, and binde them on thee as a bride doth.

19 For thy waste and thy desolate places, and the land of thy destruction shall even now be too narrow by reason of the inhabitants, and they that z swallowed thee up shall be farre away.

20 The children which thou shalt have, after thou hast lost the other, shall say again in thine eares, The place is too strait for me: give place to me that I may dwell.

21 Then shalt thou say in thine heart, Who hath begotten me these, seeing I have lost my children and am desolate, captive, and removing to and fro? and who hath brought up these? Behold, I was left alone, these, where had they been.?

22 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will lift up mine hand to the a Gentiles, and set up my standard to the people: and they shall bring thy sonnes in their † arms, & thy daughters shall be carried upon their shoulders.

23 And b kings shall be thy † nursing-fathers, and their † queens thy nursing-mothers: they shall bowe down to thee with their face toward the earth, and * lick up the c dust of thy feet, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD for they shall not be ashamed that wait for me.

24 ¶ Shall the prey be d taken from the mighty, or † the lawfull captive delivered?

25 But thus saith the LORD, e Even the † captives of the mighty shall be taken away, and the prey of the terrible shall be delivered: for I will contend with him that contendeth with thee, and I will save thy children.

26 And I will feed them that oppresse thee, with their f own flesh, and they shall be drunken with their own * bloud, as with ‡ sweet wine: and all flesh shall know that I the LORD am thy saviour and thy redeemer, the mighty one of Jacob.

CHAP.

* Exod. 19. vers. 4, 5, 6.
z He sheweth, that it shall be as easie to deliver them, as he did their fathers out of Egypt.
* Exod. 17: 6. Num. 20: 11.
a Thus he speaketh that the wicked hypocrites should not abuse Gods promise, in whom was neither faith nor repentance, as chap. 57. vers. 21.

a This is spoken in the person of Christ, to assure the faithfull, that these promises should come to passe, for they were all made in him, and in him should be performed.
b This is meant of the time that Christ should be manifested to the world, as Psal. 2: 7.
c By the sword and shaft, he signifieth the vertue and efficacie of Christs doctrin.
d God hath taken me to his protection and defence: this chiefly is meant of Christ, and may also be applied to the ministers of his word.
e By Israel is meant Christ, and all the bodie of the faithfull, as the members and their head.
f Thus Christ, in his members complaineth that his labour and preaching take none effect, yet he is content that his doings are approved of God.
‡ Or, my reward.
‡ Or, that Israel may be gathered to him, and I may, &c.
g Though the Jews refuse my doctrin, yet God will approve my ministerie.
‡ Or, art thou lighter than that thou shouldest, &c.
h To declare my gospel to the Gentiles, Chap. 42: 6. Acts 13: 47. Luke 2: 32.
‡ Or, to him that is despised in soul.
i Meaning, the Jews, whom tyrants keep in bondage.
k The benefit of their deliverance shall be so great, that great and small shall acknowledge it, and reverence God for it.
l Thus he speaketh of his church, when he would shew his mercie toward it, 2 Cor. 6: 2.
m Meaning, Christ alone.
‡ Or, raise up.
n Signifying, that before Christ renue the earth by his word, there is nothing but confusion and disorder.
* Chap. 42: 7.
* Revel. 7: 16.
o To them that are in the prison of sin and death.
p Being in Christs protection, they shall be safe against all dangers, and free from the fear of their enemies.
q Meaning, that there should be nothing in their way from Babylon, that should hinder or hurt them: but this is accomplished spiritually.

r Meaning, the south countrey, so that Christ shall deliver his from all the parts of the world.
s Reade chap. 44. vers. 23.
t He objecteth what the faithfull might say in their long affliction, and answereth thereunto to comfort them, with a most proper similitude, and full of consolation.
† Heb. from having compassion.
u Because I would not forget thee.
x Meaning, the good order of policie and discipline.
y That is, such as by the seed of the word are born to thee in Christ.
* Chap. 60: 4.
z He sheweth, what are the ornaments of the church: to have many children, which are assembled by the word of God, and governed by his spirit.
a He sheweth, that Christ will not onely gather this great number of the Jews, but also of the Gentiles.
b Meaning, the kings shall be converted to the gospel, and bestow their power and authority for the preservation of the church.
* Psalm 72: 9.
c Being joyned with the church, they shall humble themselves to Christ their head, and give him all honour.
d He maketh this as an objection, as though the Caldeans were strong, and had them in just possession.
† Heb. the captivity of the just.
e This is the answer to their objection, that none is stronger than the Lord, neither hath a more just title unto them.
f I will cause them to destroy one another, as Judg. 7: 22. 2 Chron. 20. Chap. 19: 2.
* Rev. 14: 20. and 16: 6.

Chap. L.

1 Christ sheweth, that the dereliction of the Jews is not to be imputed to him, by his ability to save, 5 by his obedience in that work, 7 and by his confidence in that assistance. 10 An exhortation to trust in God, and not in our selves.

THus saith the LORD, Where is the [a] bill of your mothers divorcement [b] whom I have put away? or which of my creditours is it [c] to whom I have sold you? Behold, for your iniquities have you sold your selves, and for your transgressions is your mother put away.

2 Wherefore when [d] I came, was there no man? when I called, was there none to answer? * Is my hand [e] shortened at all, that it cannot redeem? or have I no power to deliver? behold, at my rebuke I * drie up the sea: I make the * rivers a wilderness: their fish stinketh, because there is no water, and dieth for thirst.

3 I clothe the heavens with blackness, and I make [f] sackcloth their covering.

4 The Lord GOD hath [g] given me the tongue of the learned, that I should know how to speak a word in season to him that is * [h] weary: he wakeneth morning by morning: he wakeneth mine eare to heare as the [i] learned.

5 ¶ The Lord GOD hath opened mine eare, and I was not * rebellious, neither turned away back.

6 * I gave my back to the [k] smiters, and my cheeks to them that plucked off the hair: I hid not my face from shame and spitting.

7 ¶ For the Lord GOD will help me: therefore shall I not be confounded: therefore have I set my face like a flint, and I know that I shall not be ashamed.

8 * He is neare that justifieth me, who will contend with me? let us stand together: who is † mine adversarie? let him come near to me.

9 Behold, the Lord GOD will help me, who is he that shall condemn me? lo, they all shall wax old as a garment: the moth shall eat them up.

10 ¶ [l] Who is among you that feareth the LORD, that obeyeth the voice of his servant, that walketh in darkness, and hath no light? let him trust in the name of the LORD, and stay upon his God.

11 Behold, all ye that kindle [m] a fire, that compasse your selves about with sparks: walk in the light of your fire, and in the sparks that ye have kindled. * This shall ye have of mine hand, ye shall lie down in sorrow.

a Meaning, that he had not forsaken her, but through her own occasion, as Hos. 2: 2. b Which should declare that I have cut her off: meaning that they could shew none.
c Signifying, that he sold them not for any debt or poverrie, but that they sold themselves to sinnes, to buy their owne lusts and pleasures.
d He came by his prophets and ministers, but they would not beleeve their doctrine and convert.
* Num. 11: 23. Chap. 59: 1.
e Am I not as able to help you as I have holpen your fathers of old, when I dried up the red sea, and killed the fish in the rivers, and also afterward in Jordan?
* Exod. 14: 21.
* Josh. 3: 16.
f As I did in Egypt in token of my displeasure, Exod. 10: 21.
g The prophet doth represent here the person and charge of them that are justly called to the ministerie of Gods word.
* Matth. 11: 28.
h To him that is oppressed by affliction and misere.
i As they that are taught and made meet by him.
* John 14: 31. Hebr. 10: 5, &c. Phil. 2: 8.
* Matth. 26: 67. and 27: 26.
k I did not shrink from God for any persecution or calamitie: Whereby he sheweth, that the true ministers of God can look for none other recompence of the wicked, but after this sort, and also what is their comfort.
* Rom. 8: 32, 33.
† Heb. the master of my cause.
l Shewing, that it is a rare thing, that any should obey aright Gods true ministers, though they labour to bring them from hell to heaven.
m You have sought consolation by your own devices, and have refused the light and consolation, which God hath offered: therefore ye shall remain in sorrow, and not be comforted. * John 9: 39.

Chap. LI.

1 An exhortation after the pattern of Abraham to trust in Christ. 3 by reason of his comfortable promises, 4 of his righteous salvation, 7 and mans mortalitie. 9 Christ by his sanctified arm defendeth his from the fear of man. 17 He bewaileth the afflictions of Jerusalem, 21 and promiseth deliverance.

HEarken to me, [a] ye that follow after righteousnesse, ye that seek the LORD: look unto the [b] rock whence ye are hewen, and to the hole of the pit whence ye are digged.

2 Look unto Abraham your father, and unto Sarah that bare you: for I called him alone, and blessed him, and increased him.

3 For the LORD shall comfort Zion: he will comfort all her waste places, and he will make her wildernesse like [c] Eden, and her desert like the garden of the LORD; joy and gladnesse shall be found therein, thanksgiving, and the voice of melodie.

4 ¶ Hearken unto me, my people, and give eare unto me, O my nation: for [d] a law shall proceed from me, and I will make my judgement to rest for a light of the people.

5 My [e] righteousnesse is neare: my salvation is gone forth, and mine [f] arms shall judge the people: the isles shall wait upon me, and on mine arm shall they trust.

6 Lift up your eyes to the heavens, and look upon the earth beneath: for * the [g] heavens shall vanish away like smoke, & the earth shall wax old like a garment, and they that dwell therein shall die in like manner: but my salvation shall be for ever, and my righteousnesse shall not be abolished.

7 ¶ Hearken unto me ye that know righteousnesse, the people * in whose heart is my law, * fear ye not the reproach of men, neither be ye afraid of their revilings.

8 For the moth shall eat them up like a garment, and the worm shall eat them like wooll: but my righteousnesse shall be for ever, and my salvation from generation to generation.

9 ¶ Awake, awake, put on strength, O arm of the LORD, awake, as in the [h] ancient dayes, in the generations of old. Art thou not it that hath cut [i] Rahab, and wounded the * [k] dragon?

10 Art thou not it which hath * dried the sea, the waters of the great deep, that hath made the depths of the sea a way for the ransomed to passe over?

11 Therefore * the redeemed of the LORD shall [l] return, and come with singing unto Zion, and everlasting joy shall be upon their head: they shall obtain gladnesse and joy, and sorrow and mourning shall flee away.

12 I, even I am he that comforteth you: who art thou that thou shouldest be afraid * of a man that shall die, and of the sonne of man, which shall be made * as grasse?

13 And forgettest the LORD thy maker, that hath stretched forth the heavens, and laid the foundations of the earth? and hast feared continually every day, because of the furie of the oppressour, as if he ‡ were readie to destroy? and where is the furie of the oppressour?

14 The captive exile [m] hasteneth that he may be loosed, and that he should not die in the pit; nor that his bread should fail.

21 ¶ Therefore heare now this, thou afflicted, and drunken, [r] but not with wine.

22 Thus ſaith thy Lord the LORD, and thy God that pleadeth the cauſe of his people, Behold, I have taken out of thine hand the cup of trembling, even the dregs of the cup of my fury, thou ſhalt no more drink it again.

23 But I will put it into the hand of them that afflict thee: which have ſaid to thy ſoul, Bowe down, that we may go over: and thou haſt laid thy body as the ground, and as the ſtreet to them that went over.

CHAP. LII.

1 Chriſt perſwadeth the church to beleeve his free redemption. 7 to receive the miniſters thereof, 9 to joy in the power thereof. 11 and to free themſelves from bondage. 13 Chriſts kingdome ſhall be exalted.

* Awake, awake, put on thy ſtrength, O Zion, put on thy beautifull garments, O Jeruſalem the holy city: for henceforth there ſhall [a] no more come into thee the uncircumciſed, and the unclean.

2 Shake thy ſelf from the [b] duſt: ariſe, and ſit down, O Jeruſalem: looſe thy ſelf from the bands of thy neck, O captive daughter of Zion.

3 For thus ſaith the LORD, Ye have ſold your ſelves for [c] nought: and ye ſhall be redeemed without money.

4 For thus ſaith the Lord GOD, My people [d] went down aforetime into * Egypt to ſojourn there, and the Aſſyrian [e] oppreſſed them without cauſe.

5 Now therefore, what have I here, ſaith the LORD, that my people is taken away for nought? they that rule over them, make them to howl, ſaith the LORD, and my name continually every day is * [f] blaſphemed.

6 Therefore my people ſhall know my name: therefore they ſhall know in that day, that I am he that doth ſpeak, behold, it is I.

7 ¶ How [g] beautifull upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publiſheth peace, that bringeth good tidings of good, that publiſheth ſalvation, that ſaith unto Zion, Thy God reigneth!

CHAP. LIIII.

1 The prophet for the comfort of the Gentiles, propheseth the amplitude of their church, 4 their safety, 6 their certain deliverance out of affliction, 11 their fair edification, 15 and their sure preservation.

* SIng O [a] barren, thou that didst not bear; break forth into singing and cry aloud thou that didst not travail with childe: for more are the children of the [b] desolate, than the children of the married wife, saith the LORD.

2 [c] Enlarge the place of thy tent, and let them stretch forth the curtains of thine habitations: spare not, lengthen thy cords, and strengthen thy stakes.

3 For thou shalt break forth on the right hand and on the left; and thy seed shall inherit the Gentiles, and make the desolate cities to be inhabited.

4 Fear not, for thou shalt not be ashamed: neither be thou confounded, for thou shalt not be put to shame: for thou shalt forget the shame of thy [d] youth, and shalt not remember the reproach of thy [e] widowhood any more.

5 For thy [f] maker is thine husband, (the LORD of hosts is his name;) and thy redeemer the holy one of Israel, the God of the [g] whole earth shall he be called.

* Gal. 4: 27.
a After that he hath declared the death of Christ, he speaketh to the church, because it should feel the fruit of the same, and calleth her barren, because that in the captivitie she was a widow without hope to have any children.
b The church in this her affliction and captivity shall bring forth moe children, than when she was at liberty: or this may be spoken by admiration, considering the great number that should come of her. Her deliverance under Cyrus was as her childhood, and therefore this was accomplished when she came to her age, which was under the Gospel.
c Signifying, that for the great number of children that God should give her, she should seem to want room to lodge them.
d The afflictions which thou sufferedst at the beginning.
e When as thou wast refused for thy sinnes, Chap. 50: 1.
f That did regenerate thee by his holy Spirit.
* Luke 1: 32.
g His glory shall shine through the whole world, which seemed before to be shut up in Judea.

6 For the LORD hath called thee as a woman forsaken and grieved in spirit, and a [h] wife of youth, when thou wast refused, saith thy God.

7 For a small moment have I forsaken thee, but with great mercies will I gather thee.

8 In a little wrath I hid my face from thee, for a moment; but with everlasting kindnesse will I have mercy on thee, saith the LORD thy redeemer.

9 For this is as the [i] waters of * Noah unto me: for as I have sworn that the waters of Noah should no more go over the earth; so have I sworn that I would not be wroth with thee, nor rebuke thee.

10 For the mountains shall depart, and the hills be removed, but my kindnesse shall not depart from thee; neither shall the covenant of my peace be removed, saith the LORD, that hath mercy on thee.

11 ¶ Oh thou afflicted, tossed with tempest, and not comforted, behold, I will lay thy stones with * fair colours, and lay thy foundations with [k] saphires.

12 And I will make thy windows of agates, and thy gates of carbuncles, and all thy borders of pleasant stones.

13 And all thy children shall be * [l] taught of the LORD, and great shall be the peace of thy children.

14 In [m] righteousnesse shalt thou be established: thou shalt be farre from oppression, for thou shalt not fear; and from terrour, for it shall not come neare thee.

15 Behold, they shall surely gather together, [n] but not by me: whosoever shall gather together [o] against thee, shall fall for thy sake.

16 Behold, I have created the [p] smith that bloweth the coals in the fire, and that bringeth forth an instrument for his work, and I have created the waster to destroy.

17 ¶ No weapon that is formed against thee, shall prosper; and every tongue that shall rise against thee in judgement, thou shalt condemn. This is the heritage of the servants of the LORD, and their righteousnesse is of me, saith the LORD.

CHAP. LV.

1 The prophet with the promises of Christ, calleth to faith, 6 and to repentance. 8 The happy successe of them that beleeve.

HO,* every one that [a] thirsteth, come ye to the waters, and he that hath [b] no money; come ye, [c] buy and eat, yea, come, buy wine and milk without money, and without price.

* John 7: 37.
a Christ by proposing his graces and gifts to his church, exempteth the hypocrites which are full with their imagined works, and the epicures which are full with their worldly lusts, and so thirst not after these waters.
b Signifying, that Gods benefits cannot be bought for money.
c Buy waters, wine, milk and bread, he meaneth all things necessary to the spirituall life, as these are necessary to this corporall life.

9 For as the heavens are higher than the earth, so are my wayes higher than your wayes, and my thoughts than your thoughts.

10 For as the rain cometh down, and the snow from heaven, and returneth not thither, but watereth the earth, and maketh it bring forth and bud, that it may give seed to the sower, and bread to the eater:

11 So shall my [m] word be that goeth forth out of my mouth: it shall not return unto me void, but it shall accomplish that which I please, and it shall prosper in the thing whereto I sent it.

CHAP. LVI.

1 The prophet exhorteth to sanctification. 3 He promiseth it shall be generall without respect of persons. 9 He inveigheth against blinde watchmen.

THus saith the LORD, [a] Keep ye ‡ judgement, and do justice: for my salvation is neare to come, and my [b] righteousnesse to be revealed.

2 Blessed is the man that doeth this, and the sonne of man that layeth hold on it: that keepeth the [c] sabbath from polluting it, and keepeth his hand from doing any evil.

3 ¶ Neither let the sonne of the stranger, that hath [d] joyned himself to the LORD, speak, saying, The LORD hath utterly separated me from his people, neither let the eunuch say, Behold, I am a drie tree.

4 For thus saith the LORD unto the eunuchs that keep my sabbaths, and choose the things that please me, and take hold of my covenant:

a God sheweth what he requireth of them after that he hath delivered them: to wit, the works of charity whereby true faith is declared.
b Which I will declare toward you, and powre into your hearts by my Spirit.
c Under the sabbath he comprehendeth the whole service of God and true religion.
d Let none think himself unmeet to receive the graces of the Lord for the Lord will take away all impediments, and will forsake none which will keep his true religion, and beleeve in him.

5 Even unto them will I give in mine [e] house, and within my walls, a place and a [f] name better than of sonnes and of daughters: I will give them an everlasting name, that shall not be cut off.

6 Also the sonnes of the stranger, that joyn themselves to the LORD, to serve him, and to love the name of the LORD, to be his servants, every one that keepeth the sabbath from polluting it, and taketh hold of my covenant:

7 Even them will I * bring to my holy mountain, and make them joyfull in my house of prayer: their [g] burnt-offerings and their sacrifices shall be accepted upon mine altar; for * mine house shall be called an house of prayer for [h] all people.

8 The Lord GOD, which gathereth the outcasts of Israel, saith, Yet will I gather others to him, † besides those that are gathered unto him.

9 ¶ All ye [i] beasts of the field, come to devoure, yea all ye beasts in the forrest.

10 His [k] watchmen are blinde: they are all ignorant, they are all dumbe dogs, they cannot bark; ‡ sleeping, lying down, loving to slumber.

11 Yea they are † greedy dogs which † can never have enough, and they are shepherds that cannot understand: they all look to their own way, every one for his gain: from his quarter.

12 Come ye, say they, I will fetch wine, and we will fill our selves with strong drink, and to [l] morrow shall be as this day, and much more abundant.

e Meaning, in his church.
f They shall be called after my people, and be of the same religion yea, under Christ the dignity of the faithfull shall be greater than the Jews were at that time.
* Chap. 2: 2.
g Hereby he meaneth the spirituall service of God, to whom the faithfull offer continuall thanksgiving, yea themselves, and all that they have is a lively and acceptable sacrifice.
* Mark 11: 17. Luke 19: 46.
h Not onely for the Jews but for all others, Matth. 28: 19.
† Heb. to his gathered.
i Meaning, the enemies of the church, as the Babylonians, Assyrians, &c. thus he speaketh to feare the hypocrites, and to assure the faithfull, that when this commeth, they may know it was told them before.
k He sheweth that this affliction shall come through the fault of the governours, prophets and pastours, whose ignorance, negligence, avarice and obstinacy, provoked Gods wrath against them.
‡ Or, dreaming, or talking in their sleep. † Heb. strong of appetite. l We are well yet, and to morrow shall be better: therefore let us not feare the plagues before they come: thus the wicked contemned the admonitions and exhortations, which were made them in the name of God.

CHAP. LVII.

1 The blessed death of the righteous. 3 God reproveth the Jews for their whorish idolatry. 13 He giveth evangelicall promises to the penitent.

THe righteous perisheth, and no man layeth it to heart? and † * mercifull men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away ‡ [a] from the evil to come.

c He threatneth the wicked hypocrites, who under the pretence of the name of Gods people, deride Gods word and his promises: boasting openly that they were the children of Abraham, but because they were not faithfull and obedient as Abraham was, he calleth them bastards, and the children of sorcerers which forsook God, and fled to wicked means for succour. * 2 Kings 16: 4. d Read Levit. 18: 21. 2 King. 23: 10. 12 I will declare thy [p] righteousnesse, and thy works, for they shall not profit thee.

13 ¶ When thou criest, let thy companies deliver thee: but the [q] winde shall carry them all away; vanity shall take them: but he that putteth his trust in me, shall possesse the land: and shall inherit my holy mountain:

14 [r] And shall say, * Cast ye up, cast ye up; prepare the way, take up the stumbling-block out of the way of my people.

15 For thus saith the high and loftie one that inhabiteth eternity, whose name is Holy, I dwell in the high and holy place; with him also that is of a contrite and humble spirit, to revive the spirit of the humble, and to revive the heart of the contrite ones.

16 For I will not contend for ever, neither will I be alwayes wroth: [f] for the spirit should fail before me, and the souls which I have made.

17 For the iniquity of his [t] covetousnesse was I wroth, and smote him: I hid me, and was wroth, and he went on † frowardly in the way of his heart.

18 I have seen his wayes and will [u] heal him: I will lead him also, and restore comforts unto him, and to his mourners.

19 I create the [x] fruit of the lips; peace, peace to him that is [y] farre off, and to him that is neare, saith the LORD, and I will heal him.

20 But the wicked are like the troubled sea, when it [z] cannot rest, whose waters cast up mire and dirt.

21 There is no peace, saith my God, to the wicked.

f In the sacrifices which you, offering before these idols, thought you did serve God.

g To wit, thine altars in an open place like an impudent harlot, that careth not for the sight of her husband.

h In stead of setting up the word of God in the open places on the posts and doores to have it in remembrance, Deut. 6: 9. and 27: 1. thou hast set up signes and marks of thine idolatry in every place.

CHAP. LVIII. 555

1 The prophet being sent to reprove hypocrisie. 3 expresseth a counterfeit fast and a true. 8 He declareth what promises are due unto godlinesse, 11 and to the keeping of the sabbath.

CRie ¡† [a] aloud, spare not, lift up thy voice like a trumpet, and shew my people their transgression, and the house of Jacob their sinnes.

2 Yet [b] they seek me daily, and delight to know my wayes, as a nation that did righteousnesse, and forsook not the ordinance of their God: they ask of me the ordinances of justice: they take delight in approching to God.

3 ¶ [c] Wherefore have we fasted, say they, and thou seest not? wherefore have we afflicted our soul, and thou takest no knowledge? Behold, in the day of your fast you finde pleasure, and [d] exact all your ‡ † labours.

4 Behold, ye fast for strife and debate, and to smite with the fist of wickednesse; ‡ ye shall not fast as ye do this day, to make your voice to be [e] heard on high.

5 Is it * such a fast that I have chosen? * ‡ a day for a man to afflict his soul? is it to bowe down his head as a bul-rush, & to spread sackcloth and ashes under him? wilt thou call this a fast, and an acceptable day to the LORD?

6 Is not this the fast that I have chosen? to loose the bands of wickednesse, to undo † the heavy burdens, and to let the † oppressed go free, and that ye break every [f] yoke?

7 Is it not * to deal thy bread to the hungrie, and that thou bring the poore that are ‡ cast out, to thy house? when thou seest the naked, that thou cover him, and that thou hide not thy self from [g] thine own flesh?

8 ¶ Then shall thy [h] light break forth as the morning, and thine health shall spring forth speedily: and thy [i] righteousnesse shall go before thee, the glory of the LORD † shall be thy rere-ward.

9 Then shalt thou call, and the LORD shall answer; thou shalt cry, and he shall say, Here I am: if thou take away from the midst of thee the yoke, the putting forth of the [k] finger, and speaking vanity:

10 And if thou draw out thy [l] soul to the hungry, and satisfie the afflicted soul; then shall thy light rise in obscurity, and thy [m] darknesse be as the noon-day.

11 And the LORD shall guide thee continually, and satisfie thy soul in † drought, and make fat thy bones: and thou shalt be like a watered garden, and like a spring of water, whose waters † fail not.

12 And they that shall be of thee, * shall build the old [n] waste places: thou shalt raise up the foundations of many generations; and thou shalt be called, the repairer of the breach, the restorer of paths to dwell in.

‡ Or, have made him hide.

3 For your hands are defiled with [a] bloud, and your fingers with iniquitie, your lips have spoken lies, your tongue hath muttered perverseneſſe.

a Read. chap. 1. vers. 15.

4 None calleth for justice, nor any [b] pleadeth for truth: they trust in vanitie, and speak lies; * they conceive mischief, and [c] bring forth iniquitie.

b All men wink at the injuries and oppressions, and none go about to remedy them.
* Job 15: 35. Psal. 7: 14.
c According to their wicked devices, they hurt their neighbours.

5 They hatch ‡ [d] cockatrice-egs, and weave the spiders [e] web: he that eateth of their egs dieth, and ‡ that which is crushed breaketh out into a viper.

d Whatsoever cometh from them, is poison, & bringeth death.
e They are profitable to no purpose.

6 * Their webs shall not become garments, neither shall they cover themselves with their works: their works are works of iniquitie, and the act of violence is in their hands.

‡ Or, that which is sprinkled, is as if there brake out a viper.
* Job 8: 14, 15.

9 ¶ Therefore is [f] judgement farre from us, neither doth [g] justice overtake us: we wait for light, but behold obscuritie; for brightneſſe, but we walk in darkneſſe.

f That is, Gods vengeance to punish our enemies.
g Gods protection to defend us.

10 We grope for the wall like the [h] blinde, and we grope as if we had no eyes: we stumble at noon-day as in the night; we are in desolate places as dead men.

h We are altogether destitute of counsel, and can finde no end of our miseries.

11 We roar all like [i] bears, and mourn sore like doves: we look for judgement, but there is none; for salvation, but it is farre off from us.

i We expresse our sorrows by outward signes, some more, some lesse.

12 For our transgressions are multiplied before thee, and our [k] sinnes testifie against us: for our transgressions are with us, and as for our iniquities, we know them.

k This confession is generall to the church, to obtain remission of sinnes, and the prophets did not exempt themselves from the same.

13 In transgressing and lying against the LORD, and departing away from our God, speaking oppression and revolt, conceiving and uttering from the heart [l] words of falshood.

14 And [m] judgement is turned away backward, and justice standeth afarre off: for truth is fallen in the street, aud equitie cannot enter.

19 So shall they fear the name of the LORD from the west, and his glorie from the rising of the sunne: when the enemie shall come in * [s] like a floud, the spirit of the LORD shall ‡ lift up a standard against him.

* Rev. 12: 15.
s He sheweth that there shall be great affliction in the church, but God will ever deliver his.
‡ Or, put him to flight.

20 ¶ And [t] the redeemer shall come to Zion, and unto [t] them that turn from transgression in Jacob, saith the LORD.

* Rom. 11: 26.
t Whereby he declareth that the true deliverance from sin and Satan belongeth to none but to the children of God, whom he sustaineth.

21 As for me, this is my covenant with them, saith the LORD, My spirit that is upon thee, and my words which I have put in thy mouth, [u] shall not depart out of thy mouth, nor out of the mouth of thy seed, nor out of the mouth of they seeds seed, saith the LORD, from henceforth and for ever.

u Because the doctrine is made profitable by the virtue of the Spirit, he joyneth the one with the other, and promiseth to give them both to his church for ever.

2 For behold, the darkneſſe shall cover the [b] earth, and grosse darkneſſe the people: but the LORD shall arise upon thee, and his glorie shall be seen upon thee.

b Signifying, that all men are in darkneſſe, till God give them the light of his spirit, and that this light shineth to none but to those that are in his church.

3 And the Gentiles shall come to [c] thy light, and kings to the brightneſſe of thy rising.

* Revel. 21: 24.
c Meaning, that Judea should be as the morning star, and that the Gentiles should receive light of her.

4 * Lift up thine eyes round about, and see; [d] all they gather themselves together, they come to thee, thy sonnes shall come from far, and thy daughters shall be nursed at thy side.

5 Then thou shalt see and flow together, and thine heart shall fear, and be [e] enlarged, because the ‡ abundance of the sea shall be converted unto thee, the ‡ forces of the Gentiles shall come unto thee.

e For joy, as the heart is drawn in for sorrow.
‡ Or, noise of the sea shall be turned toward thee.
‡ Or, wealth.

6 [f] The multitude of camels shall cover thee: the dromedaries of Midian and Ephah: all they from Sheba shall come: they shall bring * gold and incense, and they shall shew forth the praises of the LORD.

f Meaning, that every one shall honour the Lord with that wherewith he is able.

7 All the flocks of [g] Kedar shall be gathered together unto thee, the rammes of Nebaioth shall minister unto thee: they shall come up with acceptance on mine [h] altar, and I will glorifie the house of my glory.

Signifying, that it is no true serving of God, except we offer our selves to serve his glory, and all that we have.

* Chap 61: 6. g That is, the Arabians, that have great abundance of cattel.

12 For the nation and [m] kingdome that will not serve thee, shall perish: yea those nations shall be utterly wasted.

13 The [n] glory of Lebanon shall come unto thee, the firre-tree, the pine-tree, and the box together, to beautifie the place of my sanctuary, and I will make the place of my [o] feet glorious.

14 The sonnes also of them that afflicted thee, shall come bending unto thee; and all they that despised thee, shall * [p] bowe themselves down at the soles of thy feet; and they shall call thee, The city of the LORD, the Zion of the holy one of Israel.

15 Whereas thou hast been forsaken and hated, so that no man went through thee, I will make thee an eternall excellencie, a joy of many generations.

q Both high and low shall be ready to help and succor thee.

16 Thou shalt also suck the milk of the Gentiles, and shalt suck the [q] breast of kings, and thou shalt know that I the LORD am thy saviour and thy redeemer, the mighty one of Jacob.

r Thy governours shall love thee and seek they wealth and prosperity.

17 For brasse I will bring gold, and for iron I will bring silver, and for wood brasse, and for stones iron: I will also make thy officers [r] peace, and thine exactours righteousnesse.

18 Violence shall no more be heard in thy land, wasting nor destruction within thy borders; but thou shalt call thy walls [s] salvation, and thy gates praise.

s Meaning, not a temporall felicity, but a spirituall, which is fulfilled in Christs kingdome.
* Rev. 21: 23. and 22: 5.
t Signifying, that all worldly means shall cease, and that Christ shall be all in all, as Rev. 21: 22. and 22: 5.

19 * The sunne shall be no more thy light by day, neither for brightnesse shall the [t] moon give light unto thee: but the LORD shall be unto thee an everlasting light, and thy God thy glory.

20 Thy sunne shall no more go down, neither shall thy moon withdraw it self: for the LORD shall be thine everlasting light, and the dayes of thy mourning shall be ended.

u The children of the church.

21 Thy people also shall be all righteous: they shall inherit the land for ever, the [u] branch of my planting, the work of my hands, that I may be glorified.

x Meaning, that the church should be miraculously multiplied.

22 A little one shall become [x] a thousand, and a small one a strong nation: I the LORD will haste it in his time.

1 The office of Christ. 4 The forwardnesse, 7 and blessings of the faithfull.

THE * spirit of the Lord GOD is [a] upon me, because the LORD hath anointed me to preach good tidings unto the meek, he hath sent me to binde up the [b] broken-hearted, to proclaim libertie to the [c] captives, and the opening of the prison to them that are bound:

* Luke 4: 18.
a This appertaineth to all the prophets and ministers of God, but chiefly to Christ, of whose abundant graces every one receiveth according as it pleaseth him to distribute.
b To them that are lively touched with the feeling of their sins.
c Which are in the bondage of sinne.

2 To proclaim the [d] acceptable yeare of the LORD, and the day of [e] vengeance of our God, to comfort all that mourn:

d The time when it pleased God to shew his good favour to man, which S. Paul calleth the fulnesse of time, Gal. 4: 4.
e For when God delivereth his church, he punisheth his enemies.

3 To appoint unto them that mourn in Zion, to give unto them beauty for [f] ashes, the oyl of joy for mourning, the garment of praise for the spirit of heavinesse, that they might be called [g] trees of tighteousnesse, the planting of the LORD, that he might be glorified.

f Which was the signe of mourning.
g Trees that bring forth good fruits, as Matth. 3: 8.

7 ¶ For your shame you shall have [m] double, and for confusion [n] they shall rejoyce in their [o] portion: therefore in their land they shall possesse the [p] double: everlasting joy shall be unto them.

m Abundant recompence, as this word is used, chap. 40: 2. n That is, the Jews.
o To wit, of the Gentiles.
p Whereas the Gentiles had dominion over the Jews in times past, now they shall have double authoritie over them, and possesse twice so much.

8 For I the LORD love judgement, I hate [q] robbery for burnt-offering, and I will direct their work in truth, and I will make an everlasting covenant with them.

q I will not receive their offering, which are extortioners, deceivers, hypocrites, or that deprive me of my glory.

9 And [r] their seed shall be known among the Gentiles, and their offspring among the people: all that see them shall acknowledge them, that they are the seed which the LORD hath blessed.

r That is, of thy church.

10 [s] I will greatly rejoyce in the LORD, my soul shall be joyfull in my God, for he hath clothed me with the garments of salvation, he hath covered me with the robe of righteousnesse, as a bridegroom † decketh himself with ornaments, and as a bride adorneth her self with her jewels.

s He sheweth what shall be the affection, when they feel this their deliverance.
† Heb. decketh as a priest.

11 For as the earth bringeth forth her bud, and as the garden causeth the things that are sown in it to spring forth: so the Lord GOD will cause righteousnesse and praise to spring forth before all the nations.

CHAP. LXIII.

1 Christ sheweth who he is, 2 what his victory over his enemies, 7 and what his mercy toward his church. 10 In his just wrath remembreth his free mercy. 15 The church in their prayer, 17 and complaint, professe their faith.

WHo is this that cometh [a] from Edom, with died garments from Bozrah? this that is † glorious in his apparell, travelling in the greatnesse of his strength? [b] I that speak in righteousnesse, mighty to save.

2 [c] Wherefore * art thou red in thine apparell, and thy garments like him that treadeth in the wine-fat?

3 I have troden the wine-presse alone, and of the people there was none with me: for I will tread them in mine anger, and trample them in my fury, and their bloud shall be sprinkled upon my garments, and I will stain all my raiment.

4 For the * day of vengeance is in mine heart, and the [d] yeare of my redeemed is come.

5 And I looked, and there was none to help; and I wondered that there was none to uphold: therefore mine own [e] arm brought salvation unto me, and my fury, it upheld me.

6 And I will tread down the people in mine anger, and make them [f] drunk in my fury, and I will bring down their strength to the earth.

7 ¶ I will [g] mention the loving kindnesses of the LORD, and the praises of the LORD, according to all that the LORD hath bestowed on us, and the great goodnesse towards the house of Israel, which he hath bestowed on them, according to his mercies, and according to the multitude of his loving kindnesses.

8 For he said, Surely they are my [h] people, children that will not lie; so he was their saviour.

9 ¶ In all their affliction he was [i] afflicted, and the angel [k] of his presence saved them: * in his love and in his pity he redeemed them, and he bare them, and carried them all the dayes of old.

10 ¶ But they * rebelled and vexed his holy spirit; therefore he was turned to be their enemie, and he fought against them.

11 Then he [l] remembred the dayes of old, Moses and his people, saying, Where is he that * brought them up out of the sea, with the ‡ [m] shepherd of his flock? where is he that put his holy spirit within [n] him?

12 That led them by the right hand of Moses, with his glorious arm, * dividing the water before them, to make himself an everlasting name?

13 That led them through the deep, as an [o] horse in the wilderness, that they should not stumble?

14 As a beast goeth down in the valley, the spirit of the LORD caused him to rest: so didst thou lead thy people to make thy self a glorious name.

15 ¶ * [p] Look down from heaven, and behold from the habitation of thy holinesse and of thy glory: where is thy [q] zeal and thy strength, ‡ the sounding of thy bowels, and of thy mercies towards [r] me? are they restrained?

16 Doubtlesse thou art our father, though [s] Abraham be ignorant of us, and Israel acknowledge us not: thou, O LORD, art our father, ‡ our redeemer, thy name is from everlasting.

17 ¶ O LORD, why hast [t] thou made us to erre from thy wayes? and hardened our heart a This prophecy is against the Idumeans, and enemies which persecuted the church, on whom God will take vengeance, and is here set forth all bloudy after that he hath destroyed them in Bozrah, the chief city of the Idumeans: for these were the greatest enemies, and under the title of circumcision, and the kindred of Abraham, claimed to themselves the chief religion, and hated the true worshippers, Psalm 137: 7. † Heb. decked.

Chap. LXV.

1 The calling of the Gentiles. 2 The Jews for their incredulitie, idolatry, and hypocriſie, are rejected. 8 A remnant ſhall be ſaved. 11 Judgement on the wicked, and bleſſings on the godly. 17 The bleſſed ſtate of the new Jeruſalem.

I * Am ſought of them that [a] asked not for me: I am found of them that ſought me not: I ſaid, Behold me, behold me, unto a nation that was not called by my name.

2 I have ſpread [b] out my hands all the day unto a rebellious people, which walketh in a way that was not good, after their own [c] thoughts:

3 A people that provoketh me to anger continually to my face, that ſacrificeth in [d] gardens, and burneth incenſe † upon altars of [e] brick:

THE BOOK of the prophet JEREMIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe prophet Jeremiah born in the citie of Anathoth in the countrey of Benjamin, was the sonne of Hilkiah whom some think to be he that found out the book of the law, and gave it to Josiah. This prophet had excellent gifts of God, and most evident revelations of prophesie, so that by the commandement of the Lord he began very young to prophesie, that is, in the thirteenth year of Josiah, and continued 18 year under the said king, and three moneths under Jehoahaz, and under Jehoiakim eleven years, and three moneths under Johoiachin, and under Zedekiah eleven years unto the time that they were carried away into Babylon. So that this time amounteth to above fourtie years, besides the time that he prophesied after the captivitie. In this book he declareth with tears and lamentation, the destruction of Jerusalem, and the captivitie of the people for their idolatrie, covetousnesse, subtiltie, crueltie, excesse, rebellion and contempt of Gods word, and for the consolation of the church, revealeth the just time of their deliverance. And here chiefly are to be considered three things: First, the rebellion of the wicked, which wax more stubborn and obstinate, when the prophets doe admonish them most plainly of their destruction. Next, how the prophets and ministers of God, ought not to be discouraged in their vocation, though they be persecuted and rigorously handled of the wicked for Gods cause. And thirdly, though God shew his just judgement against the wicked, yet will he ever shew himself a preserver of his church, and when all means seem to mans judgement to be abolished, then will he declare himself victorious in preserving his.

CHAP. I.

1 The time, 3 and the calling of Jeremiah. 11 His prophetical visions of an almond-rod, and a seething pot. 15 His heavy message against Judah. 17 God encourageth him with his promise of assistance.

THe [a] words of Jeremiah the sonne of [b] Hilkiah, of the priests that were in [c] Anathoth in the land of Benjamin:

2 To whom [d] the word of the LORD came in the dayes of Josiah the sonne of Amon king of Judah, in the thirteenth yeare of his reigne.

3 It came also in the dayes of Jehoiakim the [e] sonne of Josiah king of Judah, unto the end of the eleventh yeare of Zedekiah the sonne of Josiah king of Judah, unto the carrying away of Jerusalem captive in the [f] fifth moneth.

4 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

5 Before I * [g] formed thee in the belly, I knew thee; and before thou camest forth out of the wombe, I * sanctified thee, and I † ordained thee a prophet unto the [h] nations.

6 Then said I, [i] Ah, * Lord GOD, behold, I cannot speak, for I am a childe.

7 ¶ But the LORD said unto me, Say not, I am a childe: for thou shalt go to all that I shall send thee, and whatsoever I command thee thou shalt speak.

8 * Be not afraid of their faces: for * I am with thee to deliver thee, saith the LORD.

a That is, the sermons and prophesies.

b Which is thought to be he that found the book of the law under king Josiah, 2 King 22: 8.

c This was a citie about three miles distant from Jerusalem, and belonged to the priests, the sonnes of Aaron, Josh. 21: 18.

d This is spoken to confirm his vocation and office; for as much as he did not presume of himself to preach and prophesie, but was called thereunto by God.

e Meaning, the nephew of Josiah: for Jehoahaz was his father, who reigned but three moneths, and therefore is not mentioned, no more is Joachin that reigned no longer.

f Of the eleventh year of Zedekiah, who was also called Mattaniah, and at this time the Jews were carried away into Babylon by Nebuchadnezzar.

g The Scripture useth this manner of speech, to declare that God hath appointed his ministers to their offices before they were born. * Isa. 49: 1, 5. * Gal. 1: 15.

h For Jeremiah did not onely prophesie against the Jews, but also against the Egyptians, Babylonians, Moabites, and other nations.

i Considering the great judgements of God, which according to his threatnings should come upon the world, he was moved with a certain compassion on the one side to pitie them that should thus perish, & on the other side by the infirmitie of mans nature, knowing how hard a thing it was to enterprise such a charge, as Isa. 6: 11. Exod. 3: 11. and 4: 1. * Exod. 4: 10. * Ezek. 3: 9. * Exod. 3: 12. Deut. 31. vers. 6, 8. Josh. 1: 5. Hebr. 13: 6.

9 Then

9 Then the LORD put forth his hand, and * [k] touched my mouth, and the LORD ſaid unto me, Behold, I have * put my words in thy mouth.

10 See, I have this day ſet thee over the [l] nations, and over the kingdomes, to root out, and to pull down, and to deſtroy, and to throw down, to build and to plant.

11 ¶ Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying, Jeremiah, what ſeeſt thou? and I ſaid, I ſee a rod of an [m] almond-tree, 12 Then ſaid the LORD unto me, thou haſt well ſeen: for I will haſten my word to perform it.

13 And the word of the LORD came unto me the ſecond time, ſaying, What ſeeſt thou? and I ſaid, I ſee a ſeething [n] pot, and the face thereof was † towards the north.

14 Then the LORD ſaid unto me, Out of the [o] north an evil ‡ ſhall break forth upon all the inhabitants of the land.

15 For lo, I will * call all the families of the kingdomes of the north, ſaith the LORD, and they ſhall come, and they ſhall ſet every one his throne at the entring of the gates of Jeruſalem, and againſt all the walls thereof round about, and againſt all the cities of Judah.

16 And I will utter my [p] judgements againſt them touching all their wickedneſſe, who have forſaken me, and have burnt incenſe unto other gods, and worshipped the works of their own hands.

17 ¶ Thou therefore gird up thy loyns, and ariſe, and ſpeak unto them all that I command thee: be not diſmayed at their faces, leſt I ‡ [q] confound thee before them.

18 For behold, I have made thee this day a defenced citie, and an [r] iron pillar, and braſen walls againſt the whole land, againſt the kings of Judah, againſt the princes thereof, againſt the prieſts thereof, and againſt the people of the land.

19 And they ſhall fight againſt thee, but they ſhall not prevail againſt thee: for I am with thee, ſaith the LORD, to deliver thee.

3 Iſrael was [c] holineſſe unto the LORD, and the firſt fruits of his increaſe: * all [d] that devoure him, ſhall offend; evil ſhall come upon them, ſaith the LORD.

4 Heare ye the word of the LORD, O houſe of Jacob, and all the families of the houſe of Iſrael.

5 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD, What iniquity have your fathers found in me, that they are gone [e] farre from me, and have walked after vanitie, and are become [f] vain?

6 Neither ſaid they, Where is the LORD that * brought us up out of the land of Egypt? that led us through the wilderneſſe, through a land of deſerts, and of pits, through a land of drought, and of the [g] ſhadow of death, through a land that no man paſſed through, and where no man dwelt.

7 And I brought you into a plentifull countrey, to eat the fruit thereof, and the goodneſſe thereof; but when ye entred, ye defiled [h] my land, and made mine heritage an abomination.

8 The prieſts ſaid not, [i] Where is the LORD? and they that handle the [k] law, knew me not: the [l] paſtours alſo tranſgreſſed againſt me, and the prophets propheſied by [m] Baal, and walked after things that do not profit.

9 ¶ Wherefore I will yet [n] plead with you, ſaith the LORD, and with your childrens children will I plead.

10 For paſſe ‡ over the [o] iſles of Chittim, and ſee; and ſend unto [p] Kedar, and conſider diligently: and ſee if there be ſuch a thing.

11 Hath a nation changed their gods, which are * yet no gods? but my people have changed their [q] glory, for that which doth not [r] profit.

12 Be aſtoniſhed, [ſ] O ye heavens, at this, and be horribly afraid, be ye very deſolate, ſaith the LORD.

13 For my people have committed two evils: they have forſaken me the * fountain of [t] living waters, and hewed them out ciſterns, broken ciſterns that can hold no water.

14 ¶ Is Iſrael a [u] ſervant; is he a home-born ſlave? why is he † ſpoiled?

15 The young [x] lions roared upon him, and † yelled, and they made his land waſte: his cities are burnt without [y] inhabitant.

know therefore and ſee, that it is an evil thing and bitter that thou haſt forſaken the LORD thy God, and that my fear is not in thee, ſaith the Lord GOD of hoſts.

20 ¶ For of old time I have broken thy yoke, and burſt thy bands, and thou ſaidſt, [f] I will not ‡ tranſgreſſe: when * upon every high hill, and under every green tree thou wanderedſt, playing the harlot.

37 Yea, thou ſhalt go forth from him, and thine hands [z] upon thine head: for the LORD hath rejected thy confidences, and thou ſhalt not proſper in them.

CHAP. III.

1 Gods great mercy in Judahs vile whoredome. 6 Judah is worſe than Iſrael. 12 The promiſes of the goſpel to the penitent. 20 Iſrael reproved and called by God, maketh a ſolemn confeſſion of their ſinnes.

† THey [a] ſay, If a man put away his wife, and ſhe go from him, and become another mans, ſhall he return unto her again? ſhall not that land be greatly [b] polluted? but thou haſt played the harlot with many [c] lovers; yet [d] return again to me, ſaith the LORD.

a According as it is written, Deut. 24: 4.

b If he take ſuch one to wife again.

c That is, with idols, and with them, whom thou haſt put they confidence in.

d And I will not caſt thee off, but receive thee according to my mercie.

2 Lift up thine eyes unto the high places, and ſee where thou haſt not been lien with: in the wayes haſt thou ſat for them, as the [e] Arabian in the wilderneſſe, and thou haſt polluted the land with thy whoredomes, and with thy wickedneſſe.

e Which dwelleth in tents, and waiteth for them that paſſe by, to ſpoil them.

3 Therefore the ſhowres have been withholden, and there hath been no [f] latter rain, and thou hadſt a * [g] whores forehead, thou refuſedſt to be aſhamed.

f As God threatned by his law, Deut. 28: 24.

* Chap. 6: 15.

g Thou wouldeſt never be aſhamed of thine acts and repent: and this impudency is common to idolaters, which will not give off, though they be never ſo manifeſtly convicted.

4 Will thou not from this time [h] cry unto me, My father, thou art the guide of my youth?

5 Wilt he reſerve his anger for ever? will he keep it to the end? Behold, thou haſt ſpoken and done evil things as thou couldeſt.

h He ſheweth that the wicked in their miſeries will cry unto God, and uſe outward prayer as the godly doe: but becauſe they turn not from their evil, they are not heard, Iſa. 58: 3, 4.

6 ¶ The LORD ſaid alſo unto me in the dayes of Joſiah the king, Haſt thou ſeen that which [i] back-ſliding Iſrael hath done? ſhe is * gone up upon every high mountain, and under every green tree, and there hath played the harlot.

i Meaning, the ten tribes from God, with whom they had made a ſpirituall contract.

* Chap. 2: 20.

7 And I ſaid after she had done all theſe things, Turn thou unto me: but she returned not, and her treacherous ſiſter Judah ſaw it.

8 And I ſaw, when for all the cauſes whereby back-ſliding Iſrael committed adulterie, I had [k] put her away, and given her a bill of divorce: yet her treacherous ſiſter Judah feared not, but went and played the harlot alſo.

k And gave her into the hands of the Aſſyrians.

9 And it came to paſſe through the [l] † lightneſſe of her whoredome, that she defiled the land, and committed adulterie with ſtones and with ſtocks.

l The Hebrew word may either ſignifie lightneſſe and wantonneſſe, or noiſe and bruit.

10 And yet for all this, her treacherous ſiſter Judah hath not turned unto me with her [m] whole heart, but † feignedly, ſaith the LORD.

m Judah fained for a time that she did return, as under Joſiah and other good kings, but she was never truly touched, or wholly reformed, as appeared when occaſion was offered by any wicked prince.

11 And the LORD ſaid unto me, The backſliding Iſrael hath [n] juſtified her ſelf more than treacherous Judah.

* Heb. in falſhood. n Iſrael hath not declared her ſelf ſo wicked as Judah, which yet hath had more admonitions and examples to call her to repentance.

* Job 9: 30.

g Though thou uſe all the purifications and ceremonies of the law, thou canſt not eſcape puniſhment, except thou turn to me by faith and repentance.

h Meaning, that hypocrites denie that they worſhip the idols: but that they honour God in them, and therefore they call their doings Gods ſervice.

i He compareth the idolaters to theſe beaſts, becauſe they never ceaſe running to and fro: for both valleys and hills are full of their idolatrie.

m Hereby he warneth them, that they ſhould not go into ſtrange countries to ſeek help: for they ſhould but ſpend their labour and hurt themſelves, which is here meant by the bare foot and thirſt, Iſa. 57: 10.

n As a thief will not acknowledge his fault, till he be taken with the deed, and readie to be punished, ſo they will not confeſſe their idolatrie, till the plagues due to the ſame light upon them.

mine anger to fall upon you: for I am * mercifull, ſaith the LORD, and I will not keep anger for ever.

13 Onely acknowledge thine iniquitie that thou haſt tranſgreſſed againſt the LORD thy God, and haſt p ſcattered thy wayes to the ſtrangers under every green tree, and ye have not obeyed my voice, ſaith the LORD.

14 Turn, O back-ſliding children, ſaith the LORD, for I am married unto you: and I will take you one of a citie, and two of a familie, and I will bring you to Zion.

15 And I will give you * paſtours according to mine heart, which ſhall feed you with knowledge and underſtanding.

16 And it ſhall come to paſſe when ye be multiplied and increaſed in the land; in thoſe

The q ark of the covenant of the LORD: neither ſhall it † come to minde, neither ſhall they remember it, neither ſhall they viſit it, neither ſhall ‡ that be done any more.

17 At that time they ſhall call Jeruſalem the r throne of the LORD, and all the nations ſhall be gathered unto it, to the name of the LORD, to Jeruſalem: neither ſhall they walk any more after the ‡ imagination of their evil heart.

18 In thoſe dayes the houſe of Judah ſhall walk ‡ with the houſe of Iſrael, and they ſhall come together out of the land of the f north, to the land that I have ‡ given for an inheritance unto your fathers.

19 But I ſaid, How ſhall I put thee among goodly heritage of the hoſts of nations? and I ſaid, Thou ſhalt call me, My father, and ſhalt not turn away † from me.

20 ¶ Surely, as a wife treacherouſly departeth from her t husband: ſo have you dealt treacherouſly with me, O houſe of Iſrael, ſaith the LORD.

21 u A voice was heard upon the high places, weeping and ſupplications of the children of Iſrael: for they have perverted their way, and they have forgotten the LORD their God.

22 * Return ye back-ſliding children, and I will heal your back-ſlidings: x behold, we come unto thee, for thou art the LORD our God.

23 Truly in vain is ſalvation hoped for from the hills, and from the multitude of mountains:
truly in the LORD our God is the ſalvation of Iſrael.

24 For ſhame hath devoured the labour of our y fathers from our youth; their flocks and their herds, their ſonnes and their daughters.

25 We lie down in our ſhame, and our con-fuſion covereth us: z for we have ſinned againſt the LORD our God; we and our fathers from our youth even unto this day, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD our God.

thine abominations out of my ſight, then ſhalt thou not remove.

2 And thou ſhalt b ſwear, The LORD liveth, in truth, in judgement, and in righteouſneſſe; and in him ſhall they * glorie.

3 ¶ For thus ſaith the LORD to the men of Judah and Jeruſalem, Break up your c fallow ground, and ſow not among thorns.

4 Circumciſe your ſelves to the LORD, and take away the foreſkinnes of your heart, ye men of Judah, and inhabitants of Jeruſalem: leſt my fury come forth like fire, and burn that none can quench it, becauſe of the evil of your 21 How long ſhall I ſee the ſtandard, and heare the ſound of the trumpet?

22 For my people is fooliſh, they have not known me, they are ſottiſh children, and they have none underſtanding: [s] they are wiſe to do evil, but to do good they have no knowledge.

24 I beheld the mountains, and lo, they trembled, and all the hills moved lightly.

25 I beheld, and lo, there was no man, and all the birds of the heavens were fled.

26 I beheld, and lo, the fruitfull place was a wilderneſſe, and all the cities thereof were broken down at the preſence of the LORD, and by his fierce anger.

27 For thus hath the LORD ſaid, The whole land ſhall be deſolate; * [u] yet will I not make a full end.

28 For this ſhall the earth mourn, and the heavens above be black: becauſe I have ſpoken it, I have purpoſed it, and will not repent, neither will I turn back from it.

29 The whole city ſhall flee, for the noiſe of the horſemen and bowmen, they ſhall go into thickets, and climbe up upon the rocks: every city ſhall be forſaken, and not a man dwell therein.

30 And when thou art ſpoiled, what wilt thou do? Though thou clotheſt thy ſelf with crimſon, though thou [x] deckeſt thee with ornaments of gold, though thou renteſt thy † face with painting, in vain ſhalt thou make thy ſelf fair, thy lovers will deſpiſe thee, they will ſeek thy life.

1 The judgement of God upon the Jews, for their perverſeneſſe, 7 for their adultery, 10 for their impiety, 19 for their contempt of God, 25 and for their great corruption in the civil ſtate, 30 and eccleſiaſtical.

RUn ye to and fro through the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, and ſee now and know, and ſeek in the broad places thereof, if ye can finde a man, if there be any that executeth judgement, that ſeeketh the truth, and I will pardon [a] it.

2 And though they ſay, The LORD [b] liveth, ſurely they ſwear falſely.

3 O LORD, are not thine eyes upon the [c] truth? thou haſt * [d] ſtricken them, but they have not grieved; thou haſt conſumed them, but they have refuſed to receive correction: they have made their faces harder than a rock, they have refuſed to return.

4 Therefore I ſaid, Surely theſe are poore, they are fooliſh: for they know not the way of the LORD, nor the judgement of their God.

5 I will get me unto the [e] great men, and will ſpeak unto them, for they have known the way of the LORD, and the judgement of their God: but theſe have altogether broken the yoke, and burſt the bonds.

6 Wherefore [f] a lion out of the forreſt ſhall ſlay them, and a wolf of the [g] evenings ſhall ſpoil them, a leopard ſhall watch over their cities: every one that goeth out thence ſhall be torn in pieces; becauſe their tranſgreſſions are many, and their back-ſlidings † are increaſed.

7 ¶ How ſhall I pardon thee for this? thy children have forſaken me, and ſworn by them that are [g] no gods: when I had fed them to the full, they then committed adultery, and aſſembled themſelves by troups in the harlots houſes.

8 * They were as fed horſes in the morning; every one neighed after his neighbours wife.

9 Shall I not viſit for theſe things? ſaith the LORD: and ſhall not my ſoul be avenged on ſuch a nation as this?

10 ¶ [h] Go ye up upon her walls, and deſtroy, but make not a full end: [i] take away her battlements, for they are not the LORDS.

12 They have [k] belied the LORD, and ſaid, It is not he, neither ſhall evil come upon us, neither ſhall we ſee ſword nor famine:

13 And the prophets ſhall become [l] winde, and the word is not [m] in them: thus ſhall it be done unto them.

14 Wherefore thus ſaith the LORD God of hoſts, Becauſe ye ſpeak this word, * behold, I will make my words in [n] thy mouth fire, and this people wood, and it ſhall devoure them.

15 Lo, I will bring a * nation upon you from [o] farre, O houſe of Iſrael, ſaith the LORD: it is a mighty nation, it is an ancient nation, a nation whoſe language thou knoweſt not, neither underſtandeſt what they ſay.

19 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſſe when ye ſhall ſay, * Wherefore doeth the LORD our God all theſe things unto us? then ſhalt [r] thou anſwer them, like as ye have forſaken me, and ſerved ſtrange gods in your land; ſo ſhall ye ſerve ſtrangers in a land that is not yours.

20 Declare this in the houſe of Jacob, and publiſh it in Judah, ſaying, 21 Heare now this, O * fooliſh people, and without † underſtanding, which have eyes and ſee not, which have eares and hear not.

22 Fear ye not me? ſaith the LORD: will ye not tremble at my preſence, which have placed the ſand for the * bound of the ſea, by a perpetuall decree that it cannot paſſe it; and though the waves thereof toſſe themſelves, yet can they not prevail; though they roar, yet can they not paſſe over it?

23 But this people hath a revolting and a rebellious heart: they are revolted and gone.

24 Neither ſay they in their heart, Let us now fear the LORD our God that giveth rain, both the * former and the latter in his ſeaſon: he reſerveth unto us the appointed weeks of the harveſt.

30 ¶ ‡ A wonderfull and horrible thing is commited in the land.

31 The [u] prophets propheſie * falſely, and the prieſts ‡ bear rule by their means, and my people love to have it ſo: and what will ye do in the end thereof?

CHAP. VI.

1 The enemies ſent againſt Judah, 4 encourage themſelves, 6 God ſetteth them on work becauſe of their ſinnes. 9 The prophet lamenteth the judgements of God becauſe of their ſins. 18 He proclaimeth Gods wrath. 26 He calleth the people to mourn for the judgement on their ſinnes.

O Ye children of [a] Benjamin, gather your ſelves to flee out of the midſt of Jeruſalem, and blow the trumpet in [b] Tekoa: and ſet up a ſigne of fire in [c] Beth-haccerem: for evil appeareth out of the north, and great deſtruction.

2 I have likened the daughter of Zion, to a ‡ comely and [d] delicate woman.

3 The ſhepherds with their flocks ſhall come unto [e] her: they ſhall pitch their tents againſt her round about: they ſhall feed every one in his place.

4 [f] Prepare ye warre againſt her, ariſe and let us go up at noon; wo unto us, for the day goeth away, for the ſhadows of the evening are ſtretched out.

5 Ariſe, and let us go by night, and let us deſtroy her palaces.

6 ¶ For thus hath the LORD of hoſts ſaid, Hew ye down trees, and ‡ caſt a mount againſt Jeruſalem: this is the citie to be viſited, ſhe is wholly oppreſſion in the midſt of her.

7 * As a fountain caſteth out her waters, ſo ſhe caſteth out her wickedneſſe, [g] violence and ſpoil is heard in her: before me continually is grief and wounds.

8 Be thou inſtructed, [h] O Jeruſalem, leſt my ſoul † depart from thee: leſt I make thee deſolate, a land not inhabited.

9 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, They ſhall throughly glean the remnant of Iſrael as a vine: [i] turn back thine hand as a grape-gatherer into the baskets.

10 To whom ſhall I ſpeak and give warning, that they may heare? behold, their * eare is [k] uncircumciſed, and they cannot hearken: behold, the word of the LORD is unto them a reproach: they have no delight in it.

11 Therefore I am full of the furie of the LORD: I am weary with holding in: [l] I will poure it out upon the [m] children abroad, and upon the aſſemby of young men together: for even the husband with the wife ſhall be taken, the aged with him that is full of dayes.

12 And their houſes ſhall be turned unto others, with their fields and wives together: for I will ſtretch out my hand upon the inhabitants of the land, ſaith the LORD.

13 For from the leaſt of them even unto the greateſt of them, every one is given to * covetouſneſſe; and from the prophet even unto the prieſt, every one dealeth falſely.

14 They have * healed alſo the † hurt of the daughter of my people ſlightly, ſaying, [n] Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

15 Were they * aſhamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all aſhamed, neither could they blush: therefore they ſhall fall among them that fall: at the time that I viſit them, they ſhall be caſt down, ſaith the LORD.

16 Thus ſaith the LORD, Stand ye in the wayes and ſee, and aſk for the * [o] old paths, where is the good way, and walk therein, and ye ſhall finde * reſt for your ſouls: but they ſaid, we will not walk therein.

CHAP. VII.

1 Jeremiah is ſent to call for true repentance, to prevent the Jews captivitie. 8 He rejecteth their vain confidence, 12 by the example of Shiloh. 17 He threatneth them for their idolatry. 21 He rejecteth the ſacrifices of the diſobedient. 29 He exhorteth to mourn for their abominations in Tophet, 32 and the judgements for the ſame.

THE word that came to Jeremiah from the LORD, ſaying,

2 Stand in the gate of the LORDS houſe, and proclaim there this word, and ſay, Heare the word of the LORD, all ye of Judah, that enter in at theſe gates to worſhip the LORD.

3 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts the God of Iſrael, * Amend your wayes, and your doings, and I will cauſe you to dwell in this place.

* Chap. 18: 11. and 26: 13.

4 Truſt ye not in [a] lying words, ſaying, The temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD, the temple of the LORD are theſe.

5 For if ye throughly amend your wayes, and your doings; if you throughly execute judgement between a man and his neighbour;

6 If ye oppreſſe not the ſtranger, the fatherleſſe, and the widow, and ſhed not innocent bloud in this place, neither walk after other gods to your hurt:

7 Then [b] will I cauſe you to dwell in this place, in the land that I gave to your fathers, for ever and ever.

8 ¶ Behold, ye truſt in lying words, that cannot profit.

9 Will ye ſteal, murder, and commit adultery, and ſwear falſely, and burn incenſe unto Baal, and walk after other gods whom ye know not;

10 And come and ſtand before me in this houſe, † which is called by my name, and ſay, We are delivered to do all theſe abominations?

11 Is * this houſe, which is called by my name, become a * [c] den of robbers in your eyes? behold, even I have ſeen it, ſaith the LORD.

12 But go ye now unto my place which was in Shiloh, [d] where I ſet my name at the firſt, and ſee * what I did to it, for the wickedneſſe of my people Iſrael.

13 And now becauſe ye have done all theſe works, ſaith the LORD, and I ſpake unto you, [e] riſing up early, and ſpeaking, but ye heard not; and I * called you, [f] but ye anſwered not:

14 Therefore will I do unto this houſe which is called by my name, wherein ye truſt, and unto the place which I gave to you, and to your fathers, as I have done to * Shiloh.

15 And I will [g] caſt you out of my ſight, as I have caſt out all your brethren, even the whole ſeed of Ephraim.

16 Therefore * [h] pray not thou for this people, neither liſt up crie nor prayer for them, neither make interceſſion to me, for I will not heare thee.

17 ¶ Seeſt thou not what they do in the cities of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem?

18 * The children gather wood, and the fathers kindle the fire, and the women knead their dough to make cakes to the ‡ [i] queen of heaven, and to poure out drink-offerings unto other gods, that they may provoke me to anger.

19 Do they provoke me to anger? ſaith the LORD: do they not provoke themſelves to the confuſion of their own faces?

20 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, mine anger and my furie ſhall be poured out upon this place, upon man and upon beaſt, and upon the trees of the field, and upon the fruit of the ground; and it ſhall burn, and ſhall not be quenched

21 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts the God

CHAP. VIII.

1 The calamity of the Jews both dead and alive. 4 He upbraideth their foolish and shamelesse impenitencie. 13 He sheweth their grievous judgement, 18 and bewaileth their desperate estate.

AT that time, saith the LORD, they shall bring out the bones of the kings of Judah, and the bones of his princes, and the bones of the priests, and the bones of the prophets, and the bones of the inhabitants of Jerusalem out of their [a] graves.

2 And they shall spread them before the sunne, and the moon, and all the host of heaven whom they have loved, and whom they have served, and after whom they have walked, and whom they have sought, and whom they have worshipped: they shall not be gathered, nor be buried, they shall be for dung upon the face of the earth.

3 And death shall be chosen [b] rather than life, by all the residue of them that remain of this evil family, which remain in all the places whither I have driven them, saith the LORD of hosts

4 ¶ Moreover thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD, Shall they [c] fall, and not arise? shall he turn away, and not return?

5 Why then is this people of Jerusalem slidden back, by a perpetuall back-sliding? they hold fast deceit, they refuse to return.

6 I hearkened and heard, but they spake not aright: no man repented him of his wickednes, saying, What have I done? every [d] one turned to his course, as the horse rusheth into the battel.

7 Yea,* the stork in the heaven knoweth her appointed times, and the turtle, and the crane, and the swallow observe the time of their coming, but my people know [e] not the judgement of the LORD.

8 How do ye say, We are wise, and the law [f] of the LORD is with us? Lo, certainly ‡ in vain made he it, the pen of the scribes is in vain.

9 * ‡ The [g] wise men are ashamed, they are dismayed and taken; lo, they have rejected the word of the LORD, and † what wisdome is in them?

10 Therefore will I give their wives unto others, and their fields to them that shall inherit them: for every one from the least even unto the greatest is given to * covetousnesse, from the prophet even unto the priest, every one dealeth falsely.

11 For they have * healed the hurt of the daughter of my people slightly, saying,* Peace, peace, when there is no peace.

12 Were they * ashamed when they had committed abomination? nay, they were not at all ashamed, neither could they blush: therefore shall they fall among them that fall, in the time of their visitation they shall be cast down, saith the LORD.

13 ¶ † I will surely consume them, saith the LORD; there shall be no grapes * on the vine, nor figs on the * fig-tree, and the leaf shall fade, and [h] the things that I have given them shall passe away from them:

14 Why do we sit still? [i] assemble your selves, and let us enter into the defenced cities, and let us be silent there: for the LORD our God hath put us to silence, and given us * water of [k] ‡ gall a The enemy for greedinesse of gain shall rifle your graves, and lay you before those idols, which in your life you worshipped, to see if they can help you.

b Because of the afflictions that they shall feel through Gods judgements.

c Is there no hope that they will return?

d They are full of hypocrisie & every one followeth his own fantasie without any consideration.

* Isa. 1: 3.

CHAP. IX.

1 Jeremiah lamenteth the Jews for their manifold sinnes, 9 and for their judgement. 12 Disobedience is the cause of their bitter calamity. 17 He exhorteth to mourn for their destruction, 23 and to trust not in themselves, but in God. 25 He threatneth both Jews and Gentiles.

† OH * that my head were [a] waters, and mine eyes a fountain of tears, that I might weep day and night for the slain of the daughter of my people.

2 Oh that I had in the [b] wildernesse a lodging-place of way-faring men, that I might leave my people, and go from them: for they be all [c] adulterers, an assembly of treacherous men.

3 And they bend their tongues like their bow for [d] lies: but they are not valiant for the truth upon the earth; for they proceed from evil to evil: and they know not me, saith the LORD.

4 * Take ye heed every one of his ‡ neighbour, and [e] trust ye not in any brother: for every brother will utterly supplant, and every neighbour will walk with slanders.

5 And they will † deceive every one his neighbour, and will not speak the truth: they have [f] taught their tongue to speak lies, and weary themselves to commit iniquitie.

6 Thine habitation is in the midst of deceit, [g] through deceit they refuse to know me, saith the LORD.

7 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Behold, I will [h] melt them, and try them; for how shall I do for the daughter of my people.

10 For the [i] mountains will I take up a weeping and wailing, and for the ‡ habitations of the wildernesse a lamentation, because they are ‡ burnt up, so that none can passe through them, neither can men heare the voice of the cattel, ‡ both the fowl of the heavens and the beast are fled, they are gone.

11 And I will make Jerusalem heaps, and * a den of dragons, and I will make the cities of Judah † desolate, without an inhabitant.

12 ¶ Who is the [k] wise man that may understand this, and who is he to whom the mouth of the LORD hath spoken, that he may declare it, for what the land perisheth and is burnt up like a wildernesse that none passeth through?

13 And the LORD saith, Because they have forsaken my law which I set before them, and have not obeyed my voice, neither walked therein?

14 But have walked after the ‡ imagination of their own heart, and after Baalim, which [l] their fathers taught them:

15 Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will feed them, even this people, * with [m] wormwood, and give them water of gall to drink.

16 I will * scatter them also among the heathen, whom neither they nor their fathers have known: and I will send a sword after them, till I have consumed them.

17 ¶ Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Consider ye, and call for the [n] mourning-women, that they may come, and send for cunning women, that they may come.

18 And let them make haste, and take up a wailing for us, that our eyes may runne down with tears, and our eye-lids gush out with waters.

19 For a voice of wailing is heard out of Zion, How are we spoiled? we are greatly confounded, because we have forsaken the land, because our dwellings have [o] cast us out.

20 Yet heare the word of the LORD, O ye women, and let your eare receive the word of his mouth, and [p] teach your daughters wailing, and every one her neighbour lamentation.

21 For death is come up into our [q] windows, and is entred into our palaces, to cut off the children from without, and the young men from the streets.

22 Speak, Thus saith the LORD, Even the carcases of men shall fall as drunk upon the open field, and as the handfull after the harvest-man, and none shall gather them.

p He derideth the superstition of the women which made an art of mourning, and taught to weep with fained tears.
q Signifying, that there is no means to deliver the wicked from Gods judgement, but when they thinke to be most sure and most far off, then are they soonest taken.

r For as much as none can save himself by his own labour, or any wordly means, he sheweth that it is in vain to put our trust therein, but that we trust in the Lord, and rejoyce in him, who onely can deliver us, 1 Cor. 1: 31. 2 Cor. 10: 17.

1 The unequall comparison of God and idols. 17 The prophet exhorteth to flee from the calamity to come. 19 He lamenteth the spoil of the tabernacle by foolish pastours. 23 He maketh an humble supplication.

HEare ye the word which the LORD speaketh unto you, O house of Israel.

2 Thus saith the Lord, Learn not the way of the heathen, and be not dismayed at the [a] signes of heaven, for the heathen are dismayed at them.

3 For the † [b] customes of the people are vain: for one cutteth a tree out of the forrest (the work of the hands of the workman) with the ax

4 They deck it with [c] silver and with gold, they fasten it with nails and with hammers that it move not.

5 They are upright as the palm-tree, * but speak not: they must needs be * born, because they cannot go: be not afraid of them, for * they cannot do evil, neither also is it in them to do good.

6 Forasmuch as there is none * like unto thee, O LORD, thou art great, and thy name is great in might.

7 * Who would not fear thee, O king of nations? [d] for ‡ to thee doth it appertain: forasmuch as among all the wise men of the nations, and in all their kingdomes there is none like unto thee.

8 But they are † altogether * brutish and foolish: the stock is [e] a doctrine of vanities.

9 Silver spread into plates is brought from Tarshish, and gold from [f] Uphaz, the work of the workman, and of the hands of the founder: blue and purple is their clothing: they are all the work of cunning men.

10 But the LORD is the † true God, he is the living God, and an † everlasting king: at his wrath the earth shall tremble, and the nations shall not be able to abide his indignation.

11 Thus shall ye say unto them, The gods that have [g] not made the heavens, and the earth, even they shall perish from the earth, and from under these heavens.

12 He * hath made the earth by his power, he hath established the world by his wisdome, and hath stretched out the heavens by his discretion.

13 When he uttereth his voice there is a ‡ multitude of waters in the heavens, and he causeth the vapours to ascend from the ends of the earth: he maketh lightnings ‡ with rain, and bringeth forth the winde out of his treasures.

14 Every man ‡ is * [h] brutish in his knowledge: every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falshood, and there is no breath in them.

15 They are vanitie, and the work of errours: in the time of their visitation they shall perish

16 * [i] The portion of Jacob is not like them: for he is the former of all things, and Israel is the rod of his inheritance; the LORD of hosts is his name.

17 ¶ [k] Gather up thy wares out of the land, O † inhabitant of the fortresse.

18 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will sling out the inhabitants of the land at this once, and will distresse them, that they may finde it so.

19 ¶ Wo is me for my hurt, my wound is grievous: but I said, Truly this is a [l] grief, and I must bear it.

20 [m] My tabernacle is spoiled, and all my cords are broken: my children are gone forth of me, and they are not: there is none to stretch forth my tent any more, and to set up my curtains.

21 For the [n] pastours are become brutish, and have not sought the LORD: therefore they shall not prosper, and all their flocks shall be scattered.

22 Behold, the noise of the bruit is come, and a great commotion out of the * [o] north-country, to make the cities of Judah desolate, and a * den of dragons.

23 ¶ O LORD, † I know that [p] the * way of man is not in himself: it is not in man that walketh to direct his steps.

24 O LORD, * correct me, but with [q] judgement; not in thine anger, lest thou † bring me to nothing.

25 * Poure out thy [r] fury upon the heathen that know thee not, and upon the families that call not on thy name: for they have eaten up Jacob, and devoured him, and consumed him, and have made his habitation desolate.

a God forbiddeth his people to give credit, or feare the constellations and conjunctions of starrs and planets, which have no power of themselves, but are governed by him, and their secret motions, and influences are not known to man, and therefore there can be no certain judgement thereof, Deut. 18: 9.

CHAP. XII.

1 Jeremiah complaining of the wickeds proſperity, by faith ſeeth their ruine. 5 God admoniſheth him of his brethrens treachery againſt him, 7 and lamenteth his heritage. 14 He promiſeth to the penitent return from captivitie.

[a] RIghteous art thou, O LORD, when I plead with thee: yet ‡ let me talk with thee of thy judgements: * Wherefore doth the way of the wicked [b] proſper? wherefore are all they happie that deal very treacherouſly?
a The prophet confeſſeth God to be juſt in all his doing, although man be not able to give a reaſon of all his acts.
‡ Or, let me reaſon the caſe with thee.
* Job 21: 7. Pſal. 73: 1. and 73: 3. Hab. 1: 4.
q This queſtion hath been alway a great tentation to the godly, to ſee the wicked enemies of God in proſperity, and his deare children in adverſitie.

d The Hebrew word is, Sanctifie them, meaning, that God would be ſanctified in the deſtruction of the wicked, to whom God for a while giveth proſperity, that afterward they ſhould the more feel his heavie judgement when they lack their riches, which were a ſigne of his mercy.

e Abuſing Gods lenity and his promiſes, they flattered themſelves as though God would ever be mercifull, and not utterly deſtroy them: therefore they hardned themſelves in ſin, till at length the beaſts and inſenſible creatures felt the puniſhment of their ſtubborn rebellion againſt God.
5 ¶ If thou haſt run with the [f] footmen, and they have wearied thee, then how canſt thou contend with horſes? and if in the land of peace wherein thou truſtedſt, they wearied thee, then how wilt thou do in the ſwelling of Jordan?
f Some think that God reproveth Jeremiah, in that that he would reaſon with him, ſaying, that if he were not able to march with men, that he were far unable to diſpute with God. Others by the footmen, meane them of Anathoth: and by the horſemen, them of Jeruſalem, which ſhould trouble the prophet worſe than his own countrey men did.

CHAP. XIII.

1 In the type of a linnen girdle, hidden at Euphrates, God prefigureth the deſtruction of his people. 12 under the parable of the bottles filled with wine, he foretelleth their drunkenneſſe in miſery. 15 He exhorteth to prevent their future judgements. 22 He ſheweth their abominations are the cauſe thereof.

THus ſaith the LORD unto me, Go and get thee a linnen girdle, and put it upon thy loyns, and put it not in water.

2 So I got a girdle, according to the word of the LORD, and put it on my loyns.

3 And the word of the LORD came unto me the ſecond time, ſaying,

4 Take the girdle that thou haſt got, which is upon thy loyns, and ariſe, go to [a] Euphrates, and hide it there in a hole of the rock.

5 So I went and hid it by Euphrates, as the LORD commanded me.

a Becauſe this river of Euphrates was farre from Jeruſalem, it is evident, that this was a viſion, whereby was ſignified that the Jews ſhould paſſe over Euphrates to be captives in Babylon, and there, for length of time, ſhould ſeem to be rotten, although they were joyned to the Lord before, as a girdle about a man.

6 And it came to paſſe after many dayes, that the LORD ſaid unto me, Ariſe, go to Euphrates, and take the girdle from thence, which I commanded thee to hide there.

7 Then I went to Euphrates and digged, and took the girdle from the place where I had hid it; and behold, the girdle was marred, it was profitable for nothing.

8 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying, 9 Thus ſaith the LORD, After this manner will I marre the pride of Judah, and the great pride of Jeruſalem.

10 This evil people which refuſe to heare my words, which walk in the ‡ imagination of their heart, and walk after other gods to ſerve them, and to worship them, ſhall even be as this girdle, which is good for nothing.

11 For as the girdle cleaveth to the loyns of a man; ſo have I cauſed to cleave unto me the whole houſe of Iſrael, and the whole houſe of Judah, ſaith the LORD; that they might be unto me for a people, and for a name, and for a praiſe, and for a glorie: but they would not heare.

12 ¶ Therefore thou ſhalt ſpeak unto them this word, Thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael, [b] Every bottle ſhall be filled with wine: & they ſhall ſay unto thee, Do we not certainly know that every bottle ſhall be filled with wine?

b Every one of you ſhall be filled with ſpirituall drunkenneſſe, and be without all knowledge to ſeek how to help your ſelves.

13 Then ſhalt thou ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, I will fill all the inhabitants of this land, even the kings that ſit upon Davids throne, and the prieſts, and the prophets, and all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem with drunkenneſſe.

14 And I [c] will dash them † one againſt another, even the fathers and the ſonnes together, ſaith the LORD: I will not pitie, nor ſpare, nor have mercie, † but deſtroy them.

2 Judah mourneth, and the [b] gates thereof languiſh, they are black unto the ground, and the crie of Jeruſalem is gone up.

3 And their nobles have ſent their little ones to the waters, they came to the pits, and found no water, they returned with their veſſels empty: they were aſhamed and confounded, and [c] covered their heads.

4 Becauſe the ground is chapt, for there was no rain in the earth, the plowmen were aſhamed, they covered their heads.

5 Yea, the hinde alſo calved in the field, and forſook [d] it, becauſe there was no graſſe.

6 And the wilde aſſes did ſtand in the high places, they ſnuffed up the winde like [e] dragons: their eyes did fail becauſe there was no graſſe.

7 ¶ [f] O LORD, though our iniquities teſtifie againſt us, do thou it for thy names ſake: for our back-ſlidings are many, we have ſinned againſt thee.

8 O the hope of Iſrael, the ſaviour thereof in time of trouble, why ſhouldeſt thou be as a [g] ſtranger in the land, and as a way-faring-man, that turneth aſide to tarrie for a night?

9 Why ſhouldeſt thou be as a man aſtonied, as a [h] mightie man that cannot ſave? yet thou, O LORD, art in the midſt of us, and † we are called by thy name, leave us not.

10 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD unto this people, Thus have they loved to wander, they have not refrained their feet, therefore the LORD doth not accept them; he will now remember their iniquitie, and viſit their ſinnes.

11 Then ſaid the LORD unto me, * [i] Pray not for this people for their good.

12 * When they faſt I will not heare their cry, and when they offer burnt-offering and an oblation, I will not accept them: but I will conſume them by the ſword, and by the famine, and by the peſtilence.

13 ¶ Then ſaid I, [k] Ah Lord GOD, behold, the prophets ſay unto them, Ye ſhall not ſee the ſword, neither ſhall ye have famine, but I will give you † aſſured peace in this place.

14 Then the LORD ſaid unto me, The prophets propheſie lies in my name, * I ſent them not, neither have I commanded them, neither ſpake unto them: they propheſie unto you a falſe viſion and divination, and a thing of nought, and the deceit of their heart.

15 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD concerning the prophets that propheſie in my name, and I ſent them not, yet they ſay, Sword and famine ſhall not be in this land, By ſword and famine ſhall thoſe prophets be conſumed.

16 And the people to whom they propheſie, ſhall be caſt out in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, becauſe of the famine, and the ſword, and they ſhall have none to bury them, them, their wives, nor their ſonnes, nor their daughters: for I will poure their wickedneſſe upon them.

17 ¶ Therefore thou ſhalt ſay this word unto them, * Let mine eyes runne down with [l] tears night and day, and let them not ceaſe: for the virgin daughter of my people is broken with a great breach, with a very grievous blow.

18 If I go forth into the field, then behold the ſlain with the ſword; and if I enter into the city, then behold them that are ſick with famine; yea, [m] both the prophet and the prieſt ‡ go about into a land that they know not.

19 Haſt thou utterly rejected [n] Judah? hath thy ſoul loathed Zion? why haſt thou ſmitten us, and there is no healing for us? * we looked for peace, and there is no good; and for the time of healing, and behold trouble.

20 We [o] acknowledge, O LORD, our wickedneſſe, and the iniquitie of our fathers: for * we have ſinned againſt thee.

21 Do not abhorre us, for thy names ſake, do not diſgrace the throne of thy glory: remember, break not thy covenant with us.

CHAP. XVI.

1 The prophet under the types of abstaining from marriage, from houses of mourning and feasting, foreshewеth the utter ruine of the Jews, 10 because they were worse than their fathers. 14 Their return from captivity, shall be stranger than their deliverance out of Egypt. 16 God will doubly recompense their idolatry.

THE word of the LORD came also unto me, saying.

2 Thou shalt not take [a] thee a wife, neither shalt thou have sonnes, nor daughters in this place.

3 For thus saith the LORD concerning the sonnes and concerning the daughters that are born in this place, and concerning their mothers that bare them, and concerning their fathers that begat them in this land,

4 They shall die of * grievous deaths, they shall not * be lamented, neither shall they be buried: but they shall be as dung upon the face of the earth, and they shall be consumed by the sword, and by famine, and their * carcases shall be meat for the fowls of heaven, and for the beasts of the earth.

5 For thus saith the LORD, [b] Enter not into the house of ‡ mourning, neither go to lament, nor bemone them: for I have taken away my peace from this people, saith the LORD, even loving kindnesse and mercies.

6 Both the great and the small shall die in this land: they shall not be buried, neither shall men lament for them, nor * [c] cut themselves, nor make themselves bald for them.

7 Neither shall men tear themselves for them in mourning to comfort them for the dead, neither shall men give them the [d] cup of consolation to drink for their father or for their mother.

8 Thou shalt not also go into the house of feasting, to sit with them to eat and to drink.

9 For thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, * I will cause to cease out of this place in your eyes, and in your dayes, the voice of mirth, and the voice of gladnesse, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride.

a Meaning, that the affliction should be so horrible in Jerusalem, that wife and children should but increase his sorrow.
* Chap. 15: 2.
* Chap. 25: 33.
* Psalm 79: 2. Chap. 7: 33. and 34: 20.
b Signifying, that the affliction should be so great, that one should not have leisure to comfort another.
‡ Or, mourning-feast.
* Lev. 19: 28. Deut. 14: 1. c That is, should not rent their clothes in signe of mourning.
‡ Or, breake bread for them, as Ezek. 24: 17.
d For in these great extremities, all consolation and comfort shall be in vain.
* Isa. 24: 7, 8. Chap. 7: 34. and 25: 10. Ezek. 26: 13.

10 ¶ And

10 ¶ And it shall come to passe when thou shalt shew this people all these words, and they shall say unto thee,* Wherefore hath the LORD pronounced all this great evil against us? or what is [c] our iniquitie? or what is our sinne that we have committed against the LORD our God?

11 Then shalt thou say unto them, Because your fathers have forsaken me, saith the LORD, and have walked after other gods, and have served them, and have worshipped them, and have forsaken me, and have not kept my law:

12 And ye have done* worse than your fathers, (for behold, ye walk every one after the ‡ imagination of his evil heart, that they may not hearken unto me)

13 * Therefore will I cast you out of this land, into a land that ye know not, neither ye nor your fathers, and there shall ye serve other gods day and night, where I will not shew you favour.

14 ¶ Therefore behold, the * dayes come, saith the LORD, that it shall no more be said, The LORD, liveth that brought up the children of Israel out of the land of Egypt;

15 But, the LORD liveth that brought up the children of Israel [f] from the land of the north, and from all the lands whither he had driven them, and I will bring them again into their land that I gave unto their fathers.

16 ¶ Behold, I will send for many [g] fishers, saith the LORD, and they shall fish them; and after will I send for many hunters, and they shall hunt them from every mountain, and from every hill, and out of the holes of the rocks.

17 For mine* eyes are upon all their wayes: they are not hid from my face, neither is their iniquitie hid from mine eyes.

18 And first I will recompense their iniquitie, & their sinne double; because they have defiled my land, they have filled mine inheritance with the [h] carcases of their detestable and abominable things.

19 O LORD, my [i] strength and my fortresse, and my refuge in the day of affliction, the Gentiles shall come unto thee from the ends of the earth, and shall say, Surely our fathers have [k] inherited lies, vanitie, and things wherein there is no profit.

20 Shall a man make gods unto himself, and * they are no gods?

21 Therefore behold, I will this once cause them [l] to know, I will cause them to know mine hand and my might, and they shall know that my name is the LORD.

* Chap. 5: 19. and 13: 22.

c Because the wicked are alwayes rebellious, and dissemble their own sinnes, and murmure against Gods judgements, as though he had no just cause to punish them, he sheweth him what to answer.

g By the fishers and hunters are meant the Babylonians and Caldeans: who should destroy them in such sort, that if they escaped the one, the other should take them.

* Job 34: 21. Prov. 5: 21. Chap. 32: 19.

h That is, their sons and daughters, which they offred to Molech:

i He wondreth at the great mercie of God in this deliverance, which shall not onely extend to the Jews, but also to the Gentiles.

k Our fathers were most vile idolaters: therefore it cometh onely of Gods mercie, that he performeth his promise, and hath not utterly cast us off.

* Chap. 2: 11.

l They shall once again feel my power and mercie for their deliverance, that they may learn to worship me.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The captivitie of Judah for her sinne. 5 Trust in man is cursed, 7 in God is blessed. 9 The deceitfull heart cannot deceive God. 12 The salvation of God. 15 The prophet complaineth of the mockers of his prophesie. 19 He is sent to renew the covenant in hallowing the sabbath.

THE sinne of Judah is [a] written with a * pen of iron, and with the † point of a diamond; it is graven upon the [b] table of their heart, and upon the horns of your [c] altars:

2 Whilest their [d] children remember their altars and their * groves by the green trees upon the high hills.

3 [e] O my mountain in the field, * I will give thy substance, and all thy treasures to the spoil, and thy high places for sinne, throughout all thy borders.

4 And thou, even † thy self shalt discontinue from thine heritage that I gave thee, and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not: for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burn [f] for ever.

5 ¶ Thus saith the LORD, [g] Cursed be the man that trusteth in man, & maketh flesh his arm, and whose heart departeth from the LORD.

6 For he shall be like the heath in the desert, and shall not see when good cometh, but shall inhabit the parched places in the wilderness, in a salt land and not inhabited.

7 * Blessed is the man that trusteth in the LORD, and whose hope the LORD is.

8 [h] For he shall be as a tree planted by the waters, and that spreadeth out her roots by the river, and shall not see when heat cometh, but her leaf shall be green, and shall not be carefull in the yeare of ‡ drought, neither shall cease from yeelding fruit.

9 ¶ The heart is deceitfull above all things, and desperately wicked, who can know it?

10 [i] I the LORD search the heart, I trie the reins, even to give every man according to his wayes, & according to the fruit of his doings.

11 [k] As the partridge sitteth on egs, and hatcheth them not: so he that getteth riches and not by right, shall leave them in the midst of his dayes, and at his end shall be a fool.

12 ¶ A glorious [l] high throne from the beginning, is the place of our sanctuarie.

13 O LORD, the hope of Israel, * all that forsake thee shall be ashamed, and they that depart from me shall be written in the [m] earth, because they have forsaken the LORD, the * fountain of living waters.

14 Heal me, O LORD, and I shall be healed; [n] save me, and I shall be saved: for thou art my praise.

15 ¶ Behold, [o] they say unto me, * Where is the word of the LORD? let it come now.

16 As for me, * I have [p] not hastened from being a pastour † to follow thee, neither have I desired the wofull day, thou knowest: that which came out of my lips, was right before thee.

17 Be not [q] a terrour unto me, thou art my hope in the day of evil.

19 ¶ Thus ſaid the LORD unto me, Go and ſtand in the [f] gate of the children of the people whereby the kings of Judah come in, and by the which they go out, and in all the gates of Jeruſalem;

20 And ſay unto them, Heare ye the word of the LORD, ye kings of Judah, and all Judah, and all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, that enter in by theſe gates.

21 Thus ſaith the LORD: * Take heed to your ſelves, and bear no burden on the [t] ſabbath-day, nor bring it in by the gates of Jeruſalem.

22 Neither carrie forth a burden out of your houſes on the ſabbath-day, neither do ye any work, but hallow ye the ſabbath-day, as I * commanded your fathers.

23 But they obeyed not, neither inclined their eare, but made their neck ſtiff, that they might not heare nor receive inſtruction,

24 And it ſhall come to paſſe, if ye diligently hearken unto me, ſaith the LORD, to bring in no burden through the gates of this citie on the ſabbath-day, but hallow the ſabbath-day, to do no work therein:

25 * Then ſhall there enter into the gates of this citie, kings and princes ſitting upon the throne of David, riding in chariots, and on horſes, they and their princes, the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and this citie ſhall remain for ever.

26 And they ſhall come from the cities of Judah, and from the places about Jeruſalem, and from the land of Benjamin, and from the plain, and from the mountains, and from the ſouth, bringing burnt-offerings, and ſacrifices, and meat-offerings, and incenſe, and bringing ſacrifices of praiſe unto the houſe of the LORD.

27 But if you will not hearken unto me to hallow the ſabbath-day, and not to bear a burden, even entring in at the gates of Jeruſalem on the ſabbath-day: then will I kindle a fire in the gates thereof, and it ſhall devoure the palaces of Jeruſalem, and it ſhall not be quenched.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Under the type of a potter, is ſhewed Gods abſolute power in diſpoſing of nations. 11 Judgements threatned to Judah for her ſtrange revolt. 18 Jeremiah prayeth againſt his conſpiratours.

THE word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, ſaying,

2 Ariſe and go down to the potters houſe, and there I will cauſe thee to heare my words.

3 Then I went down to the potters houſe, and behold, he wrought a work on the [‡] wheels.

4 And the veſſel [‡] that he made of [a] clay was marred in the hand of the potter, ſo he [†] made it again another veſſel, as ſeemed good to the potter to make it.

5 Then the word of the LORD came to me, ſaying,

6 O houſe of Iſrael, * cannot I do with you as this potter? ſaith the LORD. Behold, as the clay is in the potters hand, ſo are ye in mine hand, O houſe of Iſrael.

7 At what inſtant I ſhall ſpeak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdome to * pluck up and to pull down, and to deſtroy it:

8 If that nation againſt whom I have pronounced, turn from their evil, * I will [b] repent of the evil that I thought to do unto them.

9 And at what inſtant I ſhall ſpeak concerning a nation, and concerning a kingdome to build and to plant it:

10 If it do evil in my ſight, that it obey not my voice, then I will repent of the good wherewith I ſaid I would benefit them.

11 ¶ Now therefore go to, ſpeak to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, I frame evil againſt you, and deviſe a device againſt you: * return ye now every one from his evil way, and make your wayes and your doings good.

12 And they [c] ſaid, * There is no hope, but we will walk after our own devices, and we will every one do the imagination of his evil heart.

13 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD, * Aſk ye now among the heathen, Who hath heard ſuch things? the virgin of Iſrael hath done a very horrible thing.

14 Will a man leave [‡] the ſnow of Lebanon which cometh from the rock of the field? [d] or ſhall the cold flowing waters that come from another place, be forſaken?

15 Becauſe my people hath forgotten * me, they have burnt incenſe to vanity, and they have cauſed them to ſtumble in their wayes from the * [e] ancient paths, to walk in paths, in a way not caſt up.

16 To make their land * deſolate, and a perpetuall hiſſing: every one that paſſeth thereby ſhall be aſtoniſhed, and wag his head.

17 I will ſcatter them as with an eaſt-winde before the enemy, I will ſhew them the [f] back and not the face in the day of their calamity.

18 ¶ Then ſaid they, Come, and let us deviſe devices againſt Jeremiah: [§] for the law ſhall not perish from the prieſt, nor counſel from the wiſe, nor the word from the prophet; come, and let us ſmite him [‡] with the [h] tongue, and let us not give heed to any of his words.

19 Give heed to me O LORD, and hearken to the voice of them that contend with me.

20 Shall evil be recompenſed for good? for they have digged a pit for my ſoul: remember that I ſtood before thee to ſpeak good for them, and to turn away thy wrath from them.

21 Therefore *[i] deliver up their children to the famine, and [†] poure out their bloud by the force of the ſword, and let their wives be be-

1 Under the type of breaking a potters vessel, is foreshewed the desolation of the Jews for their sinnes.

THus saith the LORD, Go and get a potters earthen bottle, and take of the ancients of the people, and of the ancients of the priests,

2 And go forth unto the valley of the sonne of Hinnom, which is by the entry of † the east-gate, and proclaim there the words that I shall tell thee:

a By the kings, here and in other places, are meant counsellers and governours of the people: which he called the Ancients, vers. 1.
* 1 Sam. 3: 11. 2 Kings 21: 12. b That is, at the hearing thereof, a dreadfull fear shall possesse them.

3 And say, Heare ye the word of the LORD, O [a] kings of Judah, and inhabitants of Jerusalem, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring evil upon this place, the which whosoever heareth, his eares shall * [b] tingle.

4 Because they have forsaken me, and have estranged this place, and have burnt incense in it unto other gods, whom neither they nor their fathers have known, nor the kings of Judah, and have filled this place with the bloud of innocents.

c Whereby is declared, that whatsoever is not commanded by Gods word touching his service, is against his word.
d Read chap. 7. vers. 31. and 2 Kings 23: 10. Isa. 30: 33.

5 They have built also the high places of Baal, to burn their sonnes with fire for burnt-offerings unto Baal, which [c] I commanded not, nor spake it, neither came it into my minde.

6 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the LORD, that this place shall no more be called [d] Tophet, nor the valley of the sonne of Hinnom, but the valley of slaughter.

* Chap. 7: 33. and 16: 4.

10 Then shalt thou break the bottle in the sight of the men that go with thee, 11 And shalt say unto them, Thus saith the LORD of hosts, Even so will I break this people and this citie, as one breaketh [e] a potters vessel that cannot † be made whole again, and they shall * bury them in Tophet, till there be no place else to bury.

* Chap. 7: 32.

12 Thus will I do unto this place, saith the LORD, and to the inhabitants thereof, and even make this citie as Tophet.

13 And the houses of Jerusalem, and the houses of the kings of Judah shall be defiled as the place of Tophet, because of all the [f] houses upon whose * [g] roofs they have burnt incense unto all the host of heaven, and have poured out drink-offerings unto other gods.

14 Then came Jeremiah from Tophet, whither the LORD had sent him to prophesie, and he stood in the court of the LORDS * house, and said to all the people, 15 Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Behold, I will bring upon this citie and upon all her towns all the evil that I have pronounced against it; because they have hardened their necks, that they might not heare my words.

CHAP. XX.

1 Pashur smiting Jeremiah, receiveth a new name, and a fearfull doom. 7 Jeremiah complaineth of contempt, 10 of treacherie, 14 and of his birth.

NOw Pashur the sonne of * Immer the priest, who was also chief governour in the house of the LORD, heard that Jeremiah prophesied these things.

* 1 Chron. 24: 14.

2 Then Pashur smote Jeremiah the prophet, and put him in the [a] stocks that were in the high-gate of Benjamin, which was by the house of the LORD.

a Thus we see that the thing which neither the king, nor the princes, nor the people, durst enterprise against the prophet of God, this priest as a chief instrument of Satan, ? first attempted, read chap. 18: 18.

3 And it came to passe on the morrow, that Pashur brought forth Jeremiah out of the stocks. Then said Jeremiah unto him, The LORD hath not called thy name Pashur, but ‡ Magor-missabib.

‡ That is, fear round about.

4 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will make thee a terrour to thy self, and to all thy friends, and they shall fall by the sword of their enemies, and thine eyes shall behold it, and I will give all Judah into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall carrie them captive into Babylon, and shall slay them with the sword.

* 2 Kings 20: 17.

5 Moreover, I * will deliver all the strength of this citie, and all the labours thereof, and all the precious things thereof, and all the treasures of the kings of Judah will I give into the hand of their enemies, which shall spoil them, and take them, and carrie them to Babylon.

6 And thou Pashur, and all that dwell in thine house, shall go into captivitie, and thou shalt come to Babylon, and there thou shalt die, and shalt be buried there, thou and all thy [b] friends, to whom thou hast prophesied lies.

b Which have suffered themselves to be abused by thy false prophesies.

7 ¶ O LORD, thou hast [c] deceived me, and I was ‡ deceived: thou art stronger than I, and hast [d] prevailed: I am in derision daily, every one mocketh me.

c Herein appeareth the impatiencie, which oftentimes overcometh the servants of God, when they see not their labours to profit, and also feel their own weaknesse, reade chap. 15: 18. ‡ Or, enticed. d Thou didst thrust me forth to this work against my will.

8 For since I spake, I cried out, I cried violence and [e] spoil; because the word of the LORD was made a reproach unto me, and a derision daily.

9 Then I said, I will not make mention of him, nor speak any more in his name. But his word was in mine heart as a * burning fire shut up in my bones, and I was weary with forbearing, and * I could not stay.

10 ¶ For I heard the defaming of many, fear on every side: [f] Report, say they, and we will report it: † all my familiars watched for my halting, saying, Peradventure he will be enticed, and we shall prevail against him, and we shall take our revenge on him.

12 But, O LORD of hosts that * triest the righteous, and seest the reins and the heart, let me see thy vengeance on them: for unto thee have I opened my cause.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Zedekiah sendeth to Jeremiah to enquire the event of Nebuchadrezzars warre. 3 Jeremiah foretelleth a hard siege and miserable captivitie 8 He counselleth the people to fall to the Caldeans, 11 and upbraideth the kings house.

THE word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, when king Zedekiah sent unto him Pashur the sonne of Melchiah, and Zephaniah the sonne of Maaseiah the priest, saying,

2 [a] Enquire, I pray thee, of the LORD for us, (for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon maketh warre against us) if so be that the LORD will deal with us according to all his wonderous works, that he may go up from us.

3 ¶ Then said Jeremiah unto them, Thus shall ye say to Zedekiah,

4 Thus saith the LORD God of Israel, Behold, I will [b] turn back the weapons of warre that are in your hands, wherewith ye fight against the king of Babylon, and against the Caldeans, which besiege you without the walls, and I will assemble them into the midst of this citie.

a Not that the king was touched with repentance of his sins, and so sought to God, as did Hezekiah, when he sent to Isaiah, 2 Kings 19: 2. Isa. 37: 2. but because the prophet might pray unto God to take this present plague away, as Pharaoh sought unto Moses, Exod. 9: 28.
b To wit, from your enemies to destroy your selves.

5 And I my self will fight against you with an * outstretched hand, and with a strong arm, even in anger, and in furie, and in great wrath.

6 And I will smite the inhabitants of this citie, both man and beast: they shall die of a great pestilence.

7 And afterwards, saith the LORD, I will deliver Zedekiah king of Judah, and his servants, and the people, and such as are left in this citie from the pestilence, from the sword, and from the famine, into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of those that seek their life, and he shall smite them with the edge of the sword: he shall not spare them, neither have pitie, nor have mercie.

8 ¶ And unto this people thou shalt say, Thus saith the LORD, Behold, I set before you the way of [c] life, and the way of [d] death.

9 He that * abideth in this citie, shall die by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence: but he that goeth out, and falleth to the Caldeans that besiege you, he shall live, and * his life shall be unto him for a [e] prey.

10 For I have set my face against this citie for evil, and not for good, saith the LORD; it shall be given into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall burn it with fire.

11 ¶ And touching the house of the king of Judah, say, Heare ye the word of the LORD.

12 O house of David, thus saith the LORD, * † Execute judgement in the [f] morning, and deliver him that is spoiled, out of the hand of the oppressour, lest my furie go out like fire, and burn that none can quench it, because of the evil of your doings.

13 Behold, I am against thee, [g] O † inhabitant of the valley, and rock of the plain, saith the LORD; which say, Who shall come down against us? or who shall enter into our habitations?

THUS saith the LORD, Go down to the house of the king of Judah, and speak there this word,

2 And say, Heare the word of the LORD, O king of Judah, that sittest upon the throne of David, thou, and thy servants, and thy people that enter in by these gates;

the fatherleſſe, nor the widow, neither ſhed innocent bloud in this place.

4 For if ye do this thing indeed,* then ſhall there enter in by the gates of this houſe, kings ſitting † upon the throne of David, riding in chariots, and on horſes, he, and his ſervants, and his people.

5 But if ye will not heare theſe words, I [b] ſwear by my ſelf, ſaith the LORD, that this houſe ſhall become a deſolation.

6 For thus ſaith the LORD unto the kings houſe of Judah, Thou art [c] Gilead unto me, and the head of Lebanon: yet ſurely I will make thee a wilderneſſe, and cities which are not inhabited.

7 And I will [d] prepare deſtroyers againſt thee, every one with his weapons, and they ſhall cut down thy choice [e] cedars, and caſt them into the fire.

8 [f] And many nations ſhall paſſe by this city, and they ſhall ſay every man to his neighbour, * Wherefore hath the LORD done thus unto this great city?

9 Then they ſhall anſwer, Becauſe they have forſaken the covenant of the LORD their God, and worſhipped other gods, and ſerved them.

10 ¶ Weep ye not for the dead, neither bemone him, but weep ſore for him that [g] goeth away: for he ſhall return no more, nor ſee his native countrey.

11 For thus ſaith the LORD touching [h] Shallum, the ſonne of Joſiah king of Judah, which reigned in ſtead of Joſiah his father, which went forth out of this place, He ſhall not return thither any more.

12 But he ſhall die in the place whither they have led him captive, and ſhall ſee this land no more.

13 ¶ Wo unto * him that buildeth his houſe by [i] unrighteouſneſſe, and his chambers by wrong, that uſeth his neighbours ſervice without wages, and giveth him not for his work:

14 That ſaith, I will build me a wide houſe, and † large chambers, and cutteth him out ‡ windows, and it is cieled with cedar, and painted with vermilion.

15 Shalt thou reigne becauſe thou cloſeſt thy ſelf in cedar? did not thy [k] father eat and drink, and do judgement and juſtice, and then it was well with him?

16 He judged the cauſe of the poore and needie, then it was well with him: was not this to know me? ſaith the LORD.

17 But thine eyes and thine heart are not but for thy covetouſneſſe, and for to ſhed innocent bloud, and for oppreſſion, and for ‡ violence to do it.

18 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD concerning Jehoiakim the ſonne of Joſiah king of Judah, They ſhall not [l] lament for him, ſaying, Ah my brother, or ah ſiſter: they ſhall not lament for him, ſaying, Ah lord, or ah his glory.

19 He ſhall be buried with the [m] buriall of an aſſe, drawn and caſt forth beyond the gates of Jeruſalem.

20 ¶ Go up to [n] Lebanon, and crie and lift up thy voice in [o] Baſhan, and crie from the paſſages: for all thy lovers are deſtroyed.

21 I ſpake unto thee in thy † proſperitie, but thou ſaidſt, I will not heare: this hath been thy manner from thy youth, that thou obeyedſt not my voice.

22 The winde ſhall eat up all thy paſtours, and thy [p] lovers ſhall go into captivitie, ſurely then ſhalt thou be aſhamed and confounded for all thy wickedneſſe.

23 O † inhabitant of Lebanon, that makeſt thy neſt in the [q] cedars, how gracious ſhalt thou be when pangs come upon thee, the pain as of a woman in travail?

24 As I live, ſaith the LORD, though [r] Coniah the ſonne of Jehoiakim king of Judah were the ſignet upon my right hand, yet would I pluck thee thence,

25 And I will give thee into the hand of them that ſeek thy life, and into the hand of them whoſe face thou feareſt, even into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 And I will caſt thee out, and thy mother that bare thee, into another countrey, where ye were not born, and there ſhall ye die.

27 But to the land whereunto they † deſire to return, thither ſhall they not return.

28 Is this man Coniah a deſpiſed broken idol? is he a veſſel wherein is no pleaſure? wherefore are they caſt out, he and his ſeed, and are caſt into a land which they know not?

29 O [ſ] earth, earth, earth, heare the word of the LORD.

30 Thus ſaith the LORD, Write ye this man [t] childleſſe, a man that ſhall not proſper in his dayes: for no man of his ſeed ſhall proſper, ſitting upon the throne of David, and ruling any more in Judah.

5 ¶ Behold * the dayes come, ſaith the LORD, that I will raiſe unto David a righteous [c] branch, and a king ſhall reigne and proſper, and ſhall execute judgement and juſtice in the earth.

6 * In his dayes Judah ſhall be ſaved, and Iſrael ſhall dwell ſafely: and this is his name whereby he ſhall be called, † THE LORD OUR RIGHTEOUSNESSE.

7 Therefore behold, the dayes come, ſaith the LORD, that they ſhall no more ſay, The LORD [f] liveth, which brought up the children of Iſrael out of the land of Egypt:

8 But, The LORD liveth, which brought up, and which led the ſeed of the houſe of Iſrael out of the north countrey, and from all countreys whither I had driven them, and they ſhall dwell in their own land.

9 ¶ Mine heart within me is broken becauſe of the [g] prophets, all my bones ſhake: I am like a drunken man, and like a man whom wine hath overcome; becauſe of the LORD, and becauſe of the words of his holineſſe.

10 For the land is full of adulterers, for becauſe of ‡ ſwearing the land mourneth: the pleaſant places of the wilderneſſe are dried up, and their ‡ [h] courſe is evil, and their force is not right.

11 For both prophet and prieſt are profane; yea, in my [i] houſe have I found their wickedneſſe, ſaith the LORD.

12 Wherefore their way ſhall be unto them as ſlippery wayes in the darkneſſe: they ſhall be driven on and fall therein: for I will bring evil upon them, even the yeare of their viſitation, ſaith the LORD.

13 And I have ſeen †† folly in the prophets of Samaria; they propheſied in Baal, and cauſed my people Iſrael to erre.

14 I have ſeen alſo in the [k] prophets of Jeruſalem ‡ an horrible thing: they commit adultery, and walk in lies: they ſtrengthen alſo the hands of evil-doers, that none doth return from his wickedneſſe: they are all of them unto [l] me as * Sodom, and the inhabitants thereof as Gomorrah.

15 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts concerning the prophets, Behold, I will feed them with [m] wormwood, and make them drink the water of gall: for from the prophets of Jeruſalem is ‡ profaneneſſe gone forth into all the land.

16 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, Hearken not unto the words of the prophets that propheſie unto you; they make you vain: they ſpeak a viſion of their [n] own heart, and not out of the mouth of the LORD.

17 They ſay ſtill unto them that deſpiſe me, The LORD hath ſaid, [o] Ye ſhall have peace? and they ſay unto every one that walketh after the ‡ imagination of his own heart, No evil ſhall come upon you.

18 For [p] who hath ſtood in the ‡ counſel of the LORD, and hath perceived and heard his word? who hath marked his word, and heard it?

19 Behold, a * whirlwinde of the LORD is gone forth in fury, even a grievous whirlwinde, it ſhall fall grievouſly upon the head of the wicked.

20 The * anger of the LORD ſhall not return, untill he have executed, and till he have performed the thoughts of his heart: in the latter dayes ye ſhall [q] conſider it perfectly.

21 * I have not ſent theſe prophets, yet they ran: I have not ſpoken to them, yet they propheſied.

22 But if they had ſtood in my counſel, and had [r] cauſed my people to heare my words, then they ſhould have turned them from their evil way, and from the evil of their doings.

23 Am I a God at hand, ſaith the LORD, and not a [s] God a farre off?

24 Can any * hide himſelf in ſecret places that I ſhall not ſee him? ſaith the LORD: do not I fill heaven and earth? ſaith the LORD.

25 I have heard what the prophets ſaid, that propheſie lies in my name, ſaying, I have [t] dreamed, I have dreamed.

26 How long ſhall this be in the heart of the prophets that propheſie lies? yea they are prophets of the deceit of their own heart;

27 Which think to cauſe my people to [u] forget my name by their dreams which they tell every man to his neighbour, * as their fathers have forgotten my name, for Baal.

28 The prophet † that hath a dream, let him [x] tell a dream; and he that hath my word, let him ſpeak my word faithfully: [y] what is the chaff to the wheat? ſaith the LORD.

29 Is not my word like as a fire? ſaith the LORD: and like a hammer that breaketh the rock in pieces?

30 Therefore behold, * I am againſt the prophets, ſaith the LORD, that [z] ſteal my word every one from his neighbour.

31 Behold, I am againſt the prophets, ſaith the LORD, ‡ that uſe their tongues, and ſay, [a] He ſaith.

32 Behold, I am againſt them that propheſie falſe dreams, ſaith the LORD, and do tell them, and cauſe my people to erre by their lies and by their lightneſſe, yet I ſent them not, nor commanded them: therefore they ſhall not profit this people at all, ſaith the LORD.

33 ¶ And when this people, or the prophet, or a prieſt ſhall aſk thee: ſaying, What is the [b] burden of the LORD? thou ſhalt then ſay unto them, What burden? I will even forſake you, ſaith the LORD.

1 Under the type of good and bad figs, 4 he foreshweth the restauration of them that were in captivity, 8 and the desolation of Zedekiah and the rest.

THE LORD shewed me, and behold, two [a] baskets of figs were set before the temple of the LORD, after that Nebuchadrezzar * king of Babybon had carried away captive Jeconiah the sonne of Jehoiakim king of Judah and the princes of Judah, with the carpenters and smiths from Jerusalem, and had brought them to Babylon.

2 One basket had very good figs, even like the figs that are first ripe: and the other basket had very naughty figs, which could not be eaten, † they were so bad.

3 Then said the LORD unto me, What seest thou, Jeremiah? and I said, Figs: the good figs, very good, and the evil, very evil, that cannot be eaten, thy are so evil.

4 ¶ Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

5 Thus saith the LORD the God of Israel, Like these good figs, so will I acknowledge † them that are carried away captive of Judah, whom I have sent out of this [b] place into the land of the Caldeans for their good.

6 For I will set mine eyes upon them for good, and I will bring them again to this land, and I will build them, and not pull them down; and I will plant them, and not pluck them up.

7 And I will give them * [c] an heart to know me, that I am the LORD, and they shall be * my people, and I will be their God: for they shall return unto me with their whole heart.

8 ¶ And as the evil * figs, which cannot be eaten, they are so evil: (surely thus saith the LORD) so will I give Zedekiah the king of Judah, and his princes, and the residue of Jerusalem, that remain in this land, and them that dwell [d] in the land of Egypt.

9 And I will deliver them † to * be removed into all the kingdomes of the earth for their hurt, to be a reproach and a proverb, a taunt and a curse in all places whither I shall drive them.

THE word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the people of Judah, in the [a] fourth yeare of Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah king of Judah, that was the first yeare of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon:

2 The which Jeremiah the prophet spake unto all the people of Judah, and to all the inhabitants of Jerusalem, saying,

3 From the thirteenth yeare of Josiah the sonne of Amon king of Judah, even unto [b] this day (that is the three and twentieth yeare) the word of the LORD hath come unto me, and I have spoken unto you, [c] rising early and speaking, but ye have not hearkened.

4 And the LORD hath sent unto you all his servants the prophets, * rising early and sending them, but ye have not hearkened, nor inclined your eare to heare.

5 They [d] said, Turn ye again now every one from his evil way, and from the evil of your doings, and dwell in the land, that the LORD hath given unto you and to your fathers, for ever and ever?

6 And go not after other gods to serve them, and to worship them, and provoke me not to anger with the works of your hands, and I will do you no hurt.

7 Yet ye have not hearkened unto me, saith the LORD; that ye might provoke me to anger with the works of your hands, to your own hurt.

8 ¶ Therefore thus saith the LORD of hosts, Because ye have not heard my words, 9 Behold, I will send and take all the [e] families of the north, saith the LORD, and Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon my [f] servant, and will bring them against this land, and against the inhabitants thereof, and against all these nations [g] round about, and will utterly destroy them, and make them an astonishment, and an hissing, and perpetuall desolations.

10 Moreover, † I will take from them the * voice of mirth, and the voice of gladnesse, the voice of the bridegroom, and the voice of the bride, the sound of the [h] milstones, and the light of the candle.

a That is, in the third yeare accomplished, and in the beginning of the fourth: for though Nebuchad-nezzar began to reigne in the end of the third yeare of Jehoiakims reigne, yet that yeare is not here counted, because it was almost expired, Dan. 1: 1.
b Which was the fifth yeare, and the ninth moneth of Jehoiakims reigne.
c That is, I have spared no diligence or labour, Chap. 7: 13.
* Chap. 29: 19.

d He sheweth that the prophets wholy with one consent did labour to pull the people from those vices, which then reigned: to wit, from idolatrie, and the vaine confidence of men: for under these two all other were contained, 2 Kings 17: 13. chap 18: 11. and 35. 15. Ionah 3. 8.

11 And this whole land ſhall be a deſolation, and an aſtoniſhment; and theſe nations ſhall ſerve the king of Babylon ſeventie yeares.

12 And it ſhall come to paſſe * when [i] ſeventy yeares are accompliſhed, that I will † puniſh the [k] king of Babylon, and that nation, ſaith the LORD for their iniquity, and the land of the Caldeans, and will make it perpetuall deſolations.

13 And I will bring upon that land all my words which I have pronounced againſt it, even all that is written in this book, which Jeremiah hath propheſied againſt all the nations.

14 For many nations and great kings ſhall * [l] ſerve themſelves of them alſo: and I will recompenſe them according to their deeds, and according to the works of their own hands.

15 ¶ For thus ſaith the LORD God of Iſrael unto me, [m] Take the wine-cup of this fury at my hand, and cauſe all the nations, to whom I ſend thee, to drink it.

16 And they ſhall drink, and be moved, and be mad, becauſe of the ſword that I will ſend among them.

17 Then took I the cup at the LORDS hand, and made all the nations to drink, unto whom the LORD had ſent me:

18 To wit, Jeruſalem, and the cities of Judah, and the kings thereof, and the princes thereof, to make them a deſolation, an aſtoniſhment, an hiſſing, and a curſe, ([n] as it is this day)

19 Pharaoh king of Egypt, and his ſervants, and his princes, and all his people.

20 And all the mingled people, and all the kings of the land of [o] Uz, and all the kings of the land of the Philiſtines, and [p] Aſhkelon, and Azzah, and Ekron, and the remnant of Aſhdod.

21 * [q] Edom, and * Moab, and the children of * Ammon,

22 And all the kings of * Tyrus, and all the kings of Zidon, and the kings of the ‡ [r] iſles which are beyond the * ſea, 23 * [ſ] Dedan, and Tema, and Buz, and all † that are in the utmoſt corners.

24 And all the kings of Arabia, and all the kings of the * mingled people that dwell in the [t] deſert, 25 And all the kings of Zimri, and all the kings of * Elam, and all the kings of the Medes.

26 And all the kings of the north, farre and neare, one with another, and all the kingdomes of the world, which are upon the face of the earth, and the king of [u] Sheſhach ſhall drink after them.

27 Therefore thou ſhalt ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts the God of Iſrael, Drink ye and be drunken, and ſpue and fall, and riſe no more, becauſe of the ſword which I will ſend among you.

28 And it ſhall be, if they refuſe to take the cup at thine hand to drink, then ſhalt thou ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, Ye ſhall certainly drink.

29 For lo, I begin to bring evil on the * [x] city, † which is called by my name, and ſhould ye be utterly unpuniſhed? ye ſhall not be unpuniſhed: for I will call for a ſword upon all the inhabitants of the earth, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

30 Therefore propheſie thou againſt them all theſe words, and ſay unto them, The LORD ſhall * roar from on high, and utter his voice from his holy habitation, he ſhall mightily roar upon his habitation, he ſhall give a ſhout, as they that tread the grapes, againſt all the inhabitants of the earth.

31 A noiſe ſhall come even to the ends of the earth; for the LORD hath a controverſie with the nations: he will plead with all fleſh, he will give them that are wicked to the ſword, ſaith the LORD.

32 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, Behold, evil ſhall go forth from nation to nation, and a great whirlwinde ſhall be raiſed up from the coaſts of the earth.

33 And the [y] ſlain of the LORD ſhall be at that day from one end of the earth even unto the other end of the earth: they ſhall not be * lamented, neither gathered nor buried, they ſhall be dung upon the ground.

34 ¶ * Howl ye [z] ſhepherds and crie, and wallow your ſelves in the ashes ye principal of the flock: for † the dayes of your ſlaughter, and of your diſperſions are accomplished, and ye ſhall fall like † a [a] pleaſant veſſel.

35 And † the ſhepherds ſhall have no way to flee [b], nor the principall of the flock to eſcape.

36 A voice of the crie of the ſhepherds, and an howling of the principall of the flock ſhall be heard: for the LORD hath ſpoiled their paſture.

37 And the peaceable habitations are cut down, becauſe of the fierce anger of the LORD.

38 He hath forſaken his covert, as the lion: for their land is † deſolate, becauſe of the fierceneſſe of the oppreſſour, and becauſe of his fierce anger.

16 ¶ Then ſaid the princes, and all the people unto the prieſts, and to the prophets, This man is not worthy to die: for he hath ſpoken to us in the name of the LORD our God.

17 Then roſe up certain of the elders of the land, and ſpake to all the aſſembly of the people, ſaying, 20 And there was alſo a man that propheſied in the name of the LORD, Urijah the ſonne of Shemaiah of Kirjath-jearim, who propheſied againſt this city, and againſt this land, according to all the words of Jeremiah.

21 And when Jehoiakim the king with all his mightie men, and all the princes heard his words, the king ſought to put him to death; but when Urijah heard it he was afraid, and fled, and went into Egypt.

e That is, I would wish the ſame for Gods honour and wealth of my people, but he hath appointed the contrary.

12 ¶ Then the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah the prophet (after that Hananiah the prophet had broken the yoke from off the neck of the prophet Jeremiah) ſaying, 13 Go, and tell Hananiah, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD, Thou haſt broken the yokes of wood, but thou ſhalt make for them yokes of iron.

14 For thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, I have put a yoke of [h] iron upon the neck of all theſe nations, that they may ſerve Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and they ſhall ſerve him; and I have given him the [i] beaſts of the field alſo.

15 ¶ Then ſaid the prophet Jeremiah unto Hananiah the prophet, Heare now, Hananiah, The LORD hath not ſent thee, but thou makeſt this people to truſt in a lie.

16 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, I will caſt thee from off the face of the earth: this yeare thou ſhalt die, becauſe thou haſt taught * † rebellion againſt the LORD.

17 So Hananiah the prophet [k] died the ſame yeare, in the ſeventh moneth.

NOw theſe are the words of the letter, that Jeremiah the prophet ſent from Jeruſalem unto the [a] reſidue of the elders which were carried away captives, and to the prieſts, and to the prophets, and to all the people whom Nebuchadnezzar had carried away captive from Jeruſalem to Babylon,

2 (After that * Jeconiah the king, and the [b] queen, and the [‡] eunuchs, the princes of Judah and Jeruſalem, and the carpenters, and the ſmiths were departed from Jeruſalem)

3 By the hand of Elaſah the ſonne of Shaphan, and Gemariah the ſonne of Hilkiah, (whom Zedekiah king of Judah [c] ſent unto Babylon to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon) ſaying,

4 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts the God of Iſrael unto all that are carried away captives, whom I have [d] cauſed to be carried away from Jeruſalem unto Babylon,

5 Build ye houſes, and dwell in them, and plant gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

6 Take ye wives, and beget ſonnes and daughters, and take wives for your ſonnes, and give your daughters to husbands, that they may bear ſonnes and daughters, that ye may be increaſed there, and not diminiſhed.

7 And ſeek the peace of the city, whither I have cauſed you to be carried away captives, and [e] pray unto the LORD for it: for in the peace thereof ſhall ye have peace.

8 ¶ For thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Let not your prophets and your diviners that be in the midſt of you, * deceive you, neither hearken to your dreams which ye cauſe to be dreamed.

9 For they propheſie † falſely unto you in my name; I have not ſent them, ſaith the LORD.

10 ¶ For thus ſaith the LORD, that after * ſeventie yeares be accompliſhed at Babylon, I will viſit you, and perform my good word towards you, in cauſing you to return to this place.

11 For I know the thoughts that I think towards you, ſaith the LORD, thoughts of peace, and not of evil, to give you an † expected end.

12 Then ſhall ye * call upon me, and ye ſhall go and pray unto me, and I will hearken unto you.

13 And ye ſhall ſeek me, and finde me, when ye ſhall ſearch for me with all [f] your heart.

14 And I will be found of you, ſaith the LORD, and I will turn away your captivity, and I will gather you from all the nations, and from all the places whither I have driven you, ſaith the LORD, and I will bring you again into the place whence I cauſed you to be carried away captive.

15 ¶ Becauſe ye have ſaid, The LORD hath raiſed us up [g] prophets in Babylon:

16 Know that thus ſaith the LORD, of the king that ſitteth upon the throne of David, and of all the people that dwelleth in this city, and of your brethren that are not gone forth with you into captivity;

17 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, Behold, I will ſend upon them, the * [h] ſword, the famine, and the peſtilence, and will make them like * vile [i] figs, that cannot be eaten, they are ſo evil.

18 And I will perſecute them with the ſword, with the famine, and with the peſtilence, and will deliver them to be removed to all the kingdomes of the earth, † to be [k] a curſe, and an aſtoniſhment, and a hiſſing, and a reproach among all the nations, whither I have driven them:

19 Becauſe they have not hearkened to my words, ſaith the LORD, which * I ſent unto them by my ſervants the prophets, [l] riſing up early, and ſending them, but ye would not heare, ſaith the LORD.

20 ¶ Heare ye therefore the word of the LORD, all ye of the captivity, whom I have ſent from Jeruſalem to Babylon:

22 And of them ſhall be taken up a curſe by all the captivity of Judah, which are in Babylon, ſaying, The LORD make thee like Zedekiah, and like Ahab, whom the king of Babylon roſted [m] in the fire.

m Becauſe they gave the people hope of ſpeedy returning.

23 Becauſe they have committed [n] villany in Iſrael, and have committed adultery with their neighbours wives, and have ſpoken lying words in my name, which I have not commanded them, even I know, and am a witneſſe, ſaith the LORD.

n Which was adultery, and falſifying the word of God.

24 ¶ Thus ſhalt thou alſo ſpeak to Shemaiah the ‡ Nehelamite, ſaying,

25 Thus ſpeaketh the LORD of hoſts the God of Iſrael, ſaying, Becauſe thou haſt ſent letters in thy name unto all the people that are at Jeruſalem, and to Zephaniah the ſonne of Maaſeiah the prieſt, and to all the prieſts, ſaying,

26 The LORD hath made thee prieſt in the ſtead of [o] Jehoiada the prieſt, that ye ſhould be officers in the houſe of the LORD, for every man that is * mad, and maketh himſelf a prophet, that thou ſhouldeſt put him in priſon, and in the ſtocks:

o Shemaiah the falſe prophet flattereth Zephaniah the chief prieſt, as though God had given him the ſpirit and zeal of Jehoiada to puniſh whoſoever treſpaſſed againſt the word of God, of the which he would have made Jeremiah one, calling him a raver, and a falſe prophet.

2 Thus ſpeaketh the LORD God of Iſrael, ſaying, Write thee all the words that I have ſpoken unto thee in [a] a book.

a Becauſe they ſhould be aſſured, and their poſterity confirmed in the hope of this deliverance promiſed.

3 For lo, the dayes come, ſaith the LORD, that I will bring again the captivity of my people Iſrael and Judah, ſaith the LORD, and I will cauſe them to return to the land that I gave to their fathers, and they ſhall poſſeſſe it.

4 ¶ And theſe are the words that the LORD ſpake concerning Iſrael, and concerning Judah.

5 For thus ſaith the LORD, We have heard a voice, of [b] trembling, ‡ of fear, and not of peace.

b He ſheweth that before that this deliverance ſhall come, the Caldeans ſhould be extremely afflicted by their enemies, and that they ſhould be in ſuch perplexity and ſorrow as a woman in her travell, as Iſa. 13: 8.

6 Ask ye now, and ſee whether † a man doth travail with childe? wherefore do I ſee every man with his hands on his loyns, as a woman in travail, and all faces are turned into paleneſſe?

33 But this ſhall be the covenant that I will make with the houſe of Iſrael, [k] After thoſe dayes, ſaith the LORD, I will put my law in their inward parts, and write it in their hearts, * and will be their God, and they ſhall be my people.

34 And they ſhall [l] teach no more every man his neighbour, and every man his brother, ſaying, Know the LORD: for * they ſhall all know me, from the leaſt of them unto the greateſt of them, ſaith the LORD: for * I will forgive their iniquitie, and I will remember their ſinne no more.

35 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD, * which giveth [m] the ſun for a light by day, and the ordinances of the moon and of the ſtarres for a light by night, which divideth * the ſea when the waves thereof roar; the LORD of hoſts is his name.

36 * If thoſe ordinances depart from before me, ſaith the LORD, then the ſeed of Iſrael alſo ſhall ceaſe from being a nation before me for ever.

37 Thus ſaith the LORD, If * heaven above can be meaſured, and the [n] foundations of the earth ſearched out beneath, I will alſo caſt off all the ſeed of Iſrael, for all that they have done, ſaith the LORD.

38 ¶ Behold, the dayes come, ſaith the LORD, that the [o] city ſhall be built to the LORD from the tower of Hananeel unto the gate of the corner.

39 And the meaſuring-line ſhall yet go forth over againſt it, upon the hill Gareb, and ſhall compaſſe about Goath.

40 And the whole valley of the dead bodies, and of the aſhes, and all the fields unto the brook of Kidron, unto the corner of the horſegate towards the eaſt, ſhall be holy unto the LORD, it ſhall not be plucked up, nor thrown down any more for ever.

d Becauſe their deliverance from Babylon was a figure of their deliverance from ſin, he ſheweth how this ſhould be procured, to wit, by Jeſus Chriſt, whom a woman ſhould conceive, and bear in her wombe, which is a ſtrange thing in earth: becauſe he ſhould be born of a virgin without man: or, he meaneth that Jeruſalem, which was like a barren woman in her captivitie, ſhould be fruitfull as ſhe that is joyned in marriage, and whom God bleſſeth with children.

e Having underſtood this viſion of the Meſſiah to come, in whom the two houſes of Iſrael and Judah ſhould be joyned, I rejoyced.

weighed him the money, even ‡ f seventeen shekels of silver.

10 And I † subscribed the evidence, and sealed it, and took witnesses, and weighed him the money in the balances.

11 So I took the evidence of the purchase, both that which was sealed g according to the law and custome, and that which was open,

12 And I gave the evidence of the purchase unto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, the sonne of Maaseiah, in the sight of Hanameel mine uncles sonne, and in the presence of the witnesses that subscribed the book of the purchase, before all the Jews that sat in the court of the prison.

13 ¶ And I charged Baruch before them, saying,

14 Thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Take these evidences, this evidence of the purchase, both which is sealed, and this evidence which is open, and put them in an earthen h vessel, that they may continue many dayes.

15 For thus saith the LORD of hosts the God of Israel, Houses and fields, and vineyards shall be possessed again in this land.

16 ¶ Now when I had delivered the evidence of the purchase unto Baruch the sonne of Neriah, I prayed unto the LORD, saying, 17 Ah Lord GOD, behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched out arm, and there is nothing ‡ too hard for thee.

18 Thou shewest * loving kindnesse unto thousands, and recompensest the iniquitie of the fathers into the bosome of their i children after them: the great, the mighty God, the LORD of hosts is his name.

19 Great in counsel, and mightie in † work, (for thine * eyes are open upon all the wayes of the sonnes of men, to give every one according to his wayes, and according to the fruit of his doings)

20 Which hast set signes and wonders in the land of Egypt, even unto k this day, and in Israel and amongst other men, and hast made thee a name, as at this day.

21 And hast brought forth thy people Israel * out of the land of Egypt, with signes and with wonders, and with a strong hand, and with a stretched out arm, and with great terrour, 22 And hast given them this land which thou didst swear to their fathers to give them, a land flowing with milk and honey.

23 And they came in and possessed it, but they obeyed not thy voice, neither walked in thy law, they have done nothing of all that thou commandedst them to do: therefore thou hast caused all this evil to come upon them.

24 Behold the ‡ l mounts, they are come unto the city to take it, and the city is given into the hand of the Caldeans that fight against it, because of the sword, and of the famine, and of the pestilence, and what thou hast spoken is come to passe, and behold, thou seest it.

25 And thou hast said unto me, O Lord GOD, Buy thee the field for money, and take witnesses: for the city is given into the hand of the Caldeans.

26 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah, saying, 27 Behold, I am the LORD, the * God of all m flesh: Is there any thing too hard for me?

28 Therefore thus saith the LORD, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the Caldeans, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take it.

29 And the Caldeans that fight against this city, shall come and set fire on this city, and burn it with the houses, * upon whose roofs they have offered incense unto Baal, and poured out drink-offerings unto other gods, to provoke me to anger.

30 For the children of Israel, and the children of Judah, have onely done evil before me from their n youth: for the children of Israel have onely provoked me to anger with the work of their hands, saith the LORD.

31 For this city hath been to me, as † a provocation of mine anger and of my furie, from the day that they built it, even unto this day: that I should remove it from before my face.

32 Because of all the evil of the children of Israel, and of the children of Judah which they have done to provoke me to anger, they, their kings, their princes, their priests, and their prophets, and the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jerusalem.

33 And they have turned unto me the † * back, and not the face; though I taught them o rising up early, and teaching them, yet they have not hearkened to receive instruction.

34 But they * set their abominations in the house (which is called by my name) to defile it.

35 And they built the p high places of Baal, which are in the valley of the sonne of q Hinnom, to * cause their sonnes and their daughters r to passe through the fire unto * Molech, which I commanded them not, neither came it into my minde, that they should do this abomination to cause Judah to sinne.

36 ¶ And now f therefore thus saith the LORD the God of Israel concerning this city, whereof ye say, It shall be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon, by the sword, and by the famine, and by the pestilence;

37 Behold, I will * gather them out of all countreys, whither I have driven them in mine anger and in my furie and in great wrath; and I will bring them again unto this place, and I will cause them to dwell safely.

38 And they shall be * my people, and I will be their God.

26 Then will I caſt away the ſeed of Jacob, and David my ſervant, ſo that I will not take any of his ſeed to be rulers over the ſeed of Abraham, Iſaac, and Jacob: for I will cauſe their captivitie to return, and have mercie on them.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 Jeremiah propheſieth the captivitie of Zedekiah and the city, 8 The princes and the people having diſmiſſed their bond-ſervants, contrary to the covenant of God reaſſume them. 12 Jeremiah for their diſobedience, giveth them and Zedekiah, into the hands of their enemies.

THE word which came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, (* when [a] Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, and all his armie, and all the kingdomes of the earth † of his dominion, and all the people fought againſt Jeruſalem, and againſt all the cities thereof) ſaying:

2 Thus ſaith the LORD the God of Iſrael, Go, and ſpeak to Zedekiah king of Judah, and tell him, Thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, I will give this city into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he ſhall burn it with fire.

3 And thou ſhalt not eſcape out of his hand, but ſhalt ſurely be * taken, and delivered into his hand, and thine eyes ſhall behold the eyes of the king of Babylon, and † he ſhall ſpeak with thee mouth to mouth, and thou ſhalt go to Babylon.

4 Yet heare the word of the LORD, O Zedekiah king of Judah, Thus ſaith the LORD of thee, Thou ſhalt not die by the ſword;

5 But thou ſhalt die in [b] peace, and with the burnings of thy fathers the former kings which were before thee: ſo ſhall they burn odours for thee, and they will lament thee, ſaying, [c] Ah lord; for I have pronounced the word, ſaith the LORD.

6 Then Jeremiah the prophet ſpake all theſe words unto Zedekiah king of Judah in Jeruſalem, 7 When the king of Babylons armie fought againſt Jeruſalem, and againſt all the cities of Judah that were left, againſt Lachiſh, and againſt Azekah: for theſe defenced cities remained of the cities of Judah.

8 ¶ This is the word that came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, after that the king Zedekiah had made a covenant with all the people which were at Jeruſalem [d] to proclaim liberty unto them;

9 That every man ſhould let his [e] man-ſervant, and every man his maid-ſervant, being an Hebrew or an Hebreweſſe, go free, that none ſhould ſerve himſelf of them, to wit, of a Jew his brother.

10 Now when all the princes, and all the people which had entred into the covenant, heard that every one ſhould let his man-ſervant, and every one his maid-ſervant go free, that none ſhould ſerve themſelves of them any more, then they obeyed and let them go.

11 But afterwards they turned and cauſed the ſervants and the handmaids, whom they had let go free, return, and brought them into ſubjection for ſervants and for handmaids.

12 ¶ Therefore the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah from the LORD, ſaying,

13 Thus ſaith the LORD, the God of Iſrael, I made a covenant with your fathers in the day that I brought them forth out of the land of Egypt, out of the houſe of bond-men, ſaying, 14 At the end of * ſeven yeares, let ye go every man his brother an Hebrew, which ‡ hath been ſold unto thee: and when he hath ſerved thee ſix yeares, thou ſhalt let him go free from thee: but your fathers hearkened not unto me, neither inclined their eare.

15 And ye were † now turned, and had done right in my ſight, in proclaiming libertie every man to his neighbour, and ye had made a covenant before me in the [f] houſe † which is called by my name.

16 But ye turned and polluted my name, and cauſed every man his ſervant, and every man his hand-maid, whom he had ſet at liberty at their pleaſure, to return, and brought them into ſubjection, to be unto you for ſervants and for handmaids.

17 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD, Ye have not hearkened unto me, in proclaiming libertie, every one to his brother, and every man to his neighbour: behold, I proclaim a libertie for you, ſaith the LORD, to the [g] ſword, to the peſtilence, and to the famine, and I will make you † to be * removed into all the kingdomes of the earth.

18 And I will give the men that have tranſgreſſed my covenant, which have not performed the words of the covenant which they had made before me, when they [h] cut the calf in twain, and paſſed between the parts thereof,

19 The princes of Judah, and the princes of Jeruſalem, the eunuchs, and the prieſts, and all the people of the land which paſſed between the parts of the calf, 20 I will even give them into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that ſeek their life, and their * dead bodies ſhall be for meat unto the fowls of the heaven, and to the beaſts of the earth.

21 And Zedekiah king of Judah, and his princes will I give into the hand of their enemies, and into the hand of them that ſeek their life, and into the hand of the king of Babylons army which are [i] gone up from you.

22 Behold, I will command, ſaith the LORD, and cauſe them to return to this citie, and they ſhall fight againſt it, and take it, and burn it with fire, and I will make the cities of Judah a deſolation without an inhabitant.

12 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah: ſaying, 13 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Go and tell the men of Judah, and the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, Will [i] ye not receive inſtruction to hearken to my words, ſaith the LORD?

14 The words of Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab, that he commanded his ſonnes not to drink wine, are performed? for unto this day they drink none, but obey their fathers commandment: notwithſtanding I have ſpoken unto you, [k] riſing early, and ſpeaking, but ye hearkened not unto me.

15 I have ſent alſo unto you all my ſervants the prophets, riſing up early and ſending them, ſaying, * Return ye now every man from his evil way, and amend your doings, and go not after other gods to ſerve them, and ye ſhall dwell in the land, which I have given to you, and to your fathers: but ye have not enclined your eare, nor hearkened unto me.

16 Becauſe the ſonnes of Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab, have performed the commandment of their father, which he commanded them, but this people hath not hearkened unto me.

17 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD God of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will bring upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, all the evil that I have pronounced againſt them: becauſe I have [l] ſpoken unto them, but they have not heard, and I have called unto them, but they have not anſwered.

18 ¶ And Jeremiah ſaid unto the houſe of the Rechabites, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Becauſe ye have obeyed the commandment of Jonadab your father, and kept all his precepts, and done according unto all that he hath commanded you:

19 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Jonadab the ſonne of Rechab † ſhall [m] not want a man to ſtand before me for ever.

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 Jeremiah cauſeth Baruch to write his propheſie. 5 and publickly to reade it. 11 The princes having intelligence thereof by Michaiah, ſent Jehudi to fetch the roll and reade it, 19 They will Baruch to hide himſelf and Jeremiah. 20 The king Jehoiakim being certified thereof, heareth part of it, and burneth the roll. 27 Jeremiah denounceth his judgement. 32 Baruch writeth a new copy.

AND it came to paſſe in the [a] fourth yeare of Jehoiakim the ſonne of Joſiah king of Judah, that this word came unto Jeremiah from the LORD, ſaying,

2 Take thee a roll of a book, and write therein all the words that I have ſpoken unto thee againſt Iſrael, and againſt Judah, and againſt all the nations, from the day I ſpake unto thee, [b] from the dayes of * Joſiah, even unto this day.

3 It may be that the houſe of Judah will heare all the evil which I purpoſe to do unto them; that they may return every man from his evil way, that I may forgive their iniquity and their ſinne.

4 Then Jeremiah called Baruch the ſonne of Neriah, and Baruch wrote [c] from the mouth of Jeremiah all the words of the LORD, which he had ſpoken unto him, upon a roll of a book

5 And Jeremiah commanded Baruch, ſaying, I am [d] ſhut up, I cannot go into the houſe of the LORD:

6 Therefore go thou and reade in the roll, which thou haſt written from my mouth, the words of the LORD in the eares of the people in the LORDS houſe upon the [e] faſting day: and alſo thou ſhalt reade them in the eares of all Judah, that come out of their cities.

7 It may be † they will preſent their [f] ſupplication before the LORD, and will return every one from his evil way; for great is the anger and the fury that the LORD hath pronounced againſt this people.

8 And Baruch the ſonne of Neriah did according to all that Jeremiah the prophet commanded him, reading in the book the words of the LORD in the LORDS houſe.

† Heb. their ſupplication, ſhall fall,

f He sheweth, that faſting without prayer and repentance availeth nothing, but is meer hypocriſie.

9 And

9 And it came to passe in the fifth [g] yeare of Jehoiakim the sonne of Josiah king of Judah, in the ninth moneth, that they proclaimed a fast before the LORD to all the people in Jerusalem, and to all the people that came from the cities of Judah unto Jerusalem.

g The fast was then proclamed, and Baruch reade this roll, which was a little before that Jerusalem was first taken, and then Jehoiakim and Daniel, and his companions were led away captives.

10 Then read Baruch in the book, the words of Jeremiah in the house of the LORD, in the chamber of Gemariah, the sonne of Shaphan the scribe, in the higher court, at the ‡ [*] entrie of the [h] new gate of the LORDS house in the eares of all the people.

‡ Or, doore.
* Chap. 26: 10.
h Which is the east gate of the temple.

11 ¶ When Michaiah the sonne of Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan, had heard out of the book all the words of the LORD, 12 Then he went down into the kings house into the scribes chamber, and lo, all the princes sat there, even Elishama the scribe, and Delaiah the sonne of Shemaiah, and Elnathan the sonne of Achbor, and Gemariah the sonne of Shaphan, and Zedekiah the sonne of Hananiah, and all the princes.

13 Then Michaiah declared unto them all the words that he had heard when Baruch read the book in the eares of the people.

14 Therefore all the princes sent Jehudi the sonne of Nethaniah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Cushi, unto Baruch, saying, Take in thine hand the roll wherein thou hast read in the eares of the people, and come. So Baruch the sonne of Neriah took the roll in his hand, and came unto them.

15 And they said unto him, Sit down now, and reade it in our eares. So Baruch read it in their eares.

16 Now it came to passe when they had heard all the words, they were [i] afraid both one and other, and said unto Baruch, We will surely tell the king of all these words.

i The godly were afraid, seeing God so offended, and the wicked were astonied for the horrour of the punishment.

17 And they asked Baruch, saying, Tell us now, How didst thou write all these words at his mouth?

18 Then Baruch answered them, He pronounced all these words unto me with his mouth, and I wrote them with ink in the book.

19 Then said the princes unto Baruch, Go [k] hide thee, thou and Jeremiah, and let no man know where ye be.

k They that were godly among the princes, gave this counsel, by whose means it is like that Jeremiah was delivered: for they knew the rage of the king, and of the wicked to be such, that they could not escape without danger of their lives.

20 ¶ And they went in to the king into the court, but they laid up the roll in the chamber of Elishama the scribe, and told all the words in the eares of the king.

21 So the king sent Jehudi to fet the roll, and he took it out of Elishama the scribes chamber, and Jehudi read it in the eares of the king, and in the eares of all the princes which stood beside the king.

22 Now the king sat in the winter house, in the [l] ninth moneth; and there was a fire on the hearth burning before him.

l Which contained part of November, and part of December.

23 And it came to passe that when Jehudi had read three or foure leaves, he cut it with the pen-knife, and cast it into the fire that was on the hearth, untill all the roll was consumed in the fire that was on the hearth.

24 Yet they were not afraid, nor rent [m] their garments, neither the king, nor any of his servants that heard all these words.

m Shewing, that the wicked instead of repenting when they heat Gods judgements, grow into further malice against him and his word.

25 Nevertheless, Elnathan, and Delaiah and Gemariah had made intercession to the king, that he would not burn the roll, but he would not heare them.

26 But the king commanded Jerahmeel the sonne † of Hammelech, and Seraiah the sonne of Azriel, and Shelemiah the sonne of Abdeel, to take Baruch the scribe, and Jeremiah the prophet: but the LORD [n] hid them.

n Thus we see the continuall care, that God hath ever over his, to preserve them from the rage of the wicked.

27 ¶ Then the word of the LORD came to Jeremiah (after that the king had burnt the roll, and the words which Baruch wrote at the mouth of Jeremiah) saying, 28 Take thee again [o] another roll, and write in it all the former words that were in the first roll, which Jehoiakim the king of Judah hath burnt.

o Though the wicked think to have abolished the word of God, when they have burnt the book thereof: yet this declareth that God will not onely raise it up again, but also increase it in greater abundance to their condemnation, as vers. 32.

29 And thou shalt say to Jehoiakim king of Judah, Thus saith the LORD, Thou hast burnt this roll, saying, [p] Why hast thou written therein, saying, The king of Babylon shall certainly come and destroy this land, and shall cause to cease from thence man and beast?

p These are Jehoiakims words.

30 Therefore thus saith the LORD of Jehoiakim king of Judah, He shall have [q] none to sit upon the throne of David, and his [r] dead body shall be cast out in the day to the heat, and in the night to the frost.

q Though Jehoiachim his sonne succeeded him, yet because he reigned but three moneths, it was esteemed as no reigne.
r Reade chap. 22. vers. 19.

31 And I will † punish him and his seed, and his servants, for their iniquity, and I will bring upon them, and upon the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and upon the men of Judah all the evil that I have pronounced against them, but they hearkened not.

† Heb. visit upon.

32 ¶ Then took Jeremiah another roll, and gave it to Baruch the scribe the sonne of Neriah, who wrote therein from the mouth of Jeremiah, all the words of the book which Jehoiakim king of Judah had burnt in the fire, and there were added besides unto them many ‡ like words.

CHAP. XXXVII.

1 The Egyptians having raised the siege of the Caldeans, king Zedekiah sendeth to Jeremiah to pray for the people. 6 Jeremiah prophesieth the Caldeans certain return and victory. 11 He is taken for a fugitive, beaten, and put in prison. 16 He assureth Zedekiah of the captivity. 18 Intreating for his liberty, he obtaineth some favour.

among the people: for they had not put him into prison.

e To help the Jews.

5 Then Pharaohs army was e come forth out of Egypt: and when the Caldeans that besieged Jerusalem, heard tidings of them, they departed from Jerusalem.

6 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto the prophet Jeremiah, saying,

7 Thus saith the LORD, the God of Israel, Thus shall ye say to the king of Judah, that sent you unto me to enquire of me, Behold, Pharaohs army which is come forth to help you, shall return to Egypt into their own land, 8 And the Caldeans shall come again, and fight against this citie, and take it, and burn it with fire.

9 Thus saith the LORD, Deceive not your † selves, saying, The Caldeans shall surely depart from us: for they shall not depart.

10 For though ye had smitten the whole army of the Caldeans that fight against you, and there remained but † wounded men among them, yet should they rise up every man in his tent, and burn this citie with fire.

11 ¶ And it came to passe that when the armie of the Caldeans was † broken up from Jerusalem for fear of Pharaohs army.

† Heb. made to ascend.

12 Then Jeremiah went forth out of Jerusalem to go into the f land of Benjamin, ‡ to separate himself thence in the mids of the people.

f As some think to go to Anathoth his own town.
‡ Or, to slip away from thence in the midst of the people.

13 And when he was in the g gate of Benjamin, a captain of the ward was there, whose name was Irijah, the sonne of Shelemiah, the sonne of Hananiah, and he took Jeremiah the prophet, saying, Thou fallest away to the Caldeans.

g By the which men went into the countrey of Benjamin.

† Heb. falsehood, or lie.

14 Then said Jeremiah, It is † false, I fall not away to the Caldeans: but he hearkened not to him: so Irijah took Jeremiah and brought him to the princes.

15 Wherefore the princes were wroth with Jeremiah, and smote him, and put him in prison in the house of Jonathan the scribe; for they had made that the h prison.

h Because it was a vile and strait prison.

16 ¶ When Jeremiah was entred into the dungeon, and into the ‡ cabins, and Jeremiah had remained there many dayes:

‡ Or, Cells.

17 Then Zedekiah the king sent, and took him out; and the king asked him secretly in his house, and said, Is there any word from the LORD? and Jeremiah said, There is: for, said he, thou shalt be delivered into the hand of the king of Babylon.

18 Moreover, Jeremiah said unto king Zedekiah, What have I offended against thee, or against thy servants, or against this people, that ye have put me in prison?

19 Where are now your prophets which prophesied unto you, saying, The king of Babylon shall not come against you, nor against this land?

20 Therefore heare now, I pray thee, O my lord the king, † let my supplication, I pray thee, be accepted before thee; that thou cause me not to return to the house of Jonathan the scribe, lest I die there.

21 Then Zedekiah the king commanded that they should commit Jeremiah into the court of the prison, and that they should give him daily a piece of bread out of the bakers street, untill all i the bread in the citie were spent. Thus Jeremiah remained in the court of the prison.

i That is, so long as there was any bread in the city: thus God provideth for his, that he will cause their enemies to preserve them to that end whereunto he hath appointed them.

CHAP. XXXVIII.

1 Jeremiah by a false suggestion is put into the dungeon of Malchiah. 7 Ebed-melech, by suit, getteth him some enlargement. 14 Upon secret conference he counselleth the king by yeelding to save his life. 24 By the kings instructions, he concealeth the conference from the princes.

THen Shephatiah the sonne of Mattan, and Gedaliah the sonne of Pashur, and Jucal the sonne of Shelemiah, and Pashur the sonne of a Malchiah, heard the words that Jeremiah had spoken unto all the people, saying, a For Zedekiah had sent these to Jeremiah, to enquire at the Lord for the state of the countrey, now when Nebuchadnezzar came, as Chap. 21: 1.

2 Thus saith the LORD, He that remaineth in this citie shall die by the sword, by the famine, and by the pestilence; but he that goeth forth to the Caldeans, shall live: for he shall have his life for b a prey, and shall live.

b Read chap. 21: 9. and 45: 5.

3 Thus saith the LORD, This city shall surely be given into the hand of the king of Babylons army, which shall take it.

4 Therefore the princes said unto the king, We beseech thee let this man be put to death: for thus he weakeneth the hands of the men of warre that c remain in this citie, and the hands of all the people, in speaking such words unto them: for this man seeketh not the † welfare of this people, but the hurt.

c Thus we see how the wicked when they cannot abide to hear the truth of Gods word, seek to put the ministers to death, as transgressours of policies.
† Heb. peace.

5 Then Zedekiah the king said, Behold he is in your hand: for the king is not he that can d do any thing against you.

d Wherein he grievously offended in that, that not onely he would not hear the truth spoken by the prophet, but also gave him to the lusts of the wicked to be cruelly intreated.

6 Then took they Jeremiah, and cast him into the dungeon of Malchiah the sonne ‡ of Hammelech that was in the court of the prison: and they let down Jeremiah with cords: and in the dungeon there was no water, but mire: so Jeremiah sunk in the mire.

‡ Or, of the king.

7 ¶ Now when Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, one of the eunuchs which was in the kings house, heard that they had put Jeremiah in the dungeon, (the king sitting in the e gate of Benjamin) e To hear matters, and give sentence.

8 Ebed-melech went forth out of the kings house, and spake to the king, saying,

9 My lord the king, f these men have done evil in all that they have done to Jeremiah the prophet, whom they have cast into the dungeon, and ‡ he is like to die for hunger in the place where he is, for there is no more bread in the citie.

f Hereby is declared that the prophet found more favour at this strangers hands, than he did by all them of his countrey, which was to their great condemnation.
† Heb. he will die.

10 Then the king commanded Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, saying, Take from hence thirtie men † with thee, and take up Jeremiah the prophet out of the dungeon before he die.

† Heb. in thine hand.

11 So Ebed-melech took the men with him, and went into the house of the king under the treasurie, and took thence old cast clouts, and old rotten rags, and let them down by cords into the dungeon to Jeremiah.

12 And

12 And Ebed-melech the Ethiopian ſaid unto Jeremiah, Put now theſe old caſt clouts, and rotten rags under thine arm-holes, under the cords; and Jeremiah did ſo.

13 So they drew up Jeremiah with cords, and took him up out of the dungeon, and Jeremiah remained in [g] the court of the priſon.

g Where the king had ſet him before to be at more libertie, as chap. 37: 21.

14 ¶ Then Zedekiah the king ſent, and took Jeremiah the prophet unto him into the ‡ third entry that is in the houſe of the LORD, and the king ſaid unto Jeremiah, I will ask thee a thing: hide nothing from me.

15 Then Jeremiah ſaid unto Zedekiah, If I declare it unto thee, wilt thou not ſurely put me to death, and if I give thee counſel, wilt thou not hearken unto me?

16 So the king ſware ſecretly unto Jeremiah, ſaying, As the LORD liveth, that made us this ſoul, I will not put thee to death, neither will I give thee into the hand of theſe men that ſeek thy life.

17 Then ſaid Jeremiah unto Zedekiah, Thus ſaith the LORD the God of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, If thou wilt aſſuredly go forth unto the king of Babylons [h] princes, then thy ſoul ſhall live, and this citie ſhall not be burnt with fire, and thou ſhalt live, and thine houſe.

h And yeeld thy ſelf unto them.

18 But if thou wilt not go forth to the king of Babylons princes, then ſhall this citie be given into the hand of the Caldeans, and they ſhall burn it with fire, and thou ſhalt not eſcape out of their hand.

19 And Zedekiah the king ſaid unto Jeremiah, I am afraid of the Jews that are fallen to the Caldeans, leſt they deliver me into their hand, and [i] they mock me.

i Which declareth that he more feared the reproch of men, than the threatnings of God.

20 But Jeremiah ſaid, They ſhall not deliver thee: obey, I beſeech thee, the voice of the LORD, which I ſpeak unto thee: ſo it ſhall be well unto thee, and thy ſoul ſhall live.

21 But if thou refuſe to go forth, this is the word that the LORD hath ſhewed me.

22 And behold, all the [k] women that are left in the king of Judahs houſe, ſhall be brought forth to the king of Babylons princes, and thoſe women ſhall ſay, † Thy friends have ſet thee on, and have prevailed againſt thee: thy feet are ſunk in the mire, and they are turned away back.

k When Jeconiah and his mother, with others, were carried away, theſe women of the kings houſe were left: which ſhall be taken, ſaith the prophet, and tell the king of Babel how Zedekiah hath been ſeduced by his familiar friends, and falſe prophets, which have left him in the mire.

† Heb. men of thy peace.

23 So they ſhall bring out all thy wives and thy children to the Caldeans, and thou ſhalt not eſcape out of their hand, but ſhalt be taken by the hand of the king of Babylon: and † thou ſhalt cauſe this citie to be burnt with fire.

24 ¶ Then ſaid Zedekiah unto Jeremiah, Let no man know of theſe words, and thou ſhalt not die.

25 But if the princes heare that I have talked with thee, and they come unto thee, and ſay unto thee, Declare unto us now what thou haſt ſaid unto the king, hide it not from us, and we will not put thee to death; alſo what the king ſaid unto thee:

l Herein appeareth the infirmitie of the prophet, who did diſſemble, to ſave his life, albeit it was not to the deniall of his doctrine, or to the hurt of any.

26 Then thou ſhalt ſay unto them, [l] I preſented my ſupplication before the king, that he would not cauſe me to return to Jonathans houſe to die there.

27 Then came all the princes unto Jeremiah, and asked him, and he told them according to all theſe words that the king had commanded: ſo † they left off ſpeaking with him, for the matter was not perceived.

† Heb. they were ſilent from him.

28 So Jeremiah abode in the court of the priſon, untill the day that Jeruſalem was taken, and he was there when Jeruſalem was taken.

IN the * ninth yeare of Zedekiah king of Judah, in the tenth moneth, came Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and all his army againſt Jeruſalem, and they beſieged it.

* 2 King 25: 1. Chap. 52: 4.

2 And in the eleventh yeare of Zedekiah, in the fourth moneth, the ninth day of the moneth, the citie was [a] broken up.

a The gates and walls were broken down.

3 And all the princes of the king of Babylon came in, and ſat in the middle gate, even Nergal-Sharezer, Samgar-Nebo, Sarſechim, Rab-ſaris, Nergal-Sharezer, Rab-mag, with all the reſidue of the princes of the king of Babylon.

4 ¶ And it came to paſſe, that when Zedekiah the king of Judah ſaw them, and all the men of warre, then they fled, and went forth out of the city by night, by the way of the kings garden, by the [b] gate betwixt the two walls, and he went out the way of the plain.

b Which was a poſtern doore, reade 2 King. 25. verſ. 4.

5 But the Caldeans army purſued after them, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho: and when they had taken him, they brought him up to Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon to [c] Riblah in the land of Hamath, where he † gave judgement upon him.

c Which is called Antiochia in Syria.

† Heb. ſpake with him judgements.

6 Then the king of Babylon ſlew the ſonnes of Zedekiah in Riblah before his eyes; alſo the king of Babylon ſlew all the nobles of Judah.

7 Moreover, he put out Zedekiahs eyes, and bound him † with chains to carry him to Babylon.

† Heb. with two braſen chains, or fetters.

8 ¶ And the Caldeans burnt the kings houſe, and the houſes of the people with fire, and brake down the walls of Jeruſalem.

9 Then Nebuzaradan the ‡ † captain of the guard carried away captive into Babylon the remnant of the people that remained in the citie, and thoſe that fell away, that fell to him, with the reſt of the people that remained.

10 But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard left of the [d] poore of the people which had nothing, in the land of Judah, and gave them vineyards and fields † at the ſame time.

d For the rich and the mighty which put their truſt in their ſhifts and means, were by Gods juſt judgements moſt rigorouſly handled.

† Heb in that day.

11 ¶ Now Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon gave charge concerning Jeremiah † to Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, ſaying, † Heb. ſet thine eyes upon him.

12 Take him, and † look well to him, and do him no harm, but do unto him [e] even as he ſhall ſay unto thee.

e Thus God preſerved his prophet by his means, whom he made the ſcourge to puniſh the king, and them that were his enemies.

13 So Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard

ſent,

596 ſent, and Nebushasban, Rab-ſaris, and Nergal-sharezer, Rab-mag, and all the king of Babylons princes:

14 Even they ſent, and took Jeremiah out of the court of the priſon, and committed him unto [f] Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam, the ſonne of Shaphan, that he ſhould carry him home: ſo he dwelt among the people.

f Whom the king of Babel had now appointed governour over the reſt of the Jews, that he left behinde.

15 ¶ Now the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah, while he was ſhut up in the court of the priſon, ſaying, 16 Go and ſpeak to Ebed-melech the Ethiopian, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will bring my words upon this city for evil, and not for good, and they ſhall be accomplished in that day before thee.

17 But I will deliver thee in that day, ſaith the LORD, and thou ſhalt not be given into the hand of the men of whom thou art afraid.

18 For I will ſurely deliver thee, and thou ſhalt not fall by the ſword, but thy life ſhall be for a prey unto thee, [g] becauſe thou haſt put thy truſt in me, ſaith the LORD.

g Thus God recompenſeth his zeal and favour, which he ſhewed to his prophet in his troubles.

CHAP. XL.

1 Jeremiah being ſet free by Nebuzaradan, goeth to Gedaliah. 7 The diſperſed Jews repair unto him. 13 Johanan revealing Iſhmaels conſpiracy, is not beleeved.

THE word which came to Jeremiah from the LORD, after that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had let him go from Ramah, when he had taken him being bound in ‡ chains among all that were carried away captive of Jeruſalem and Judah, which were carried away captive unto Babylon.

a From this ſecond verſe unto Chap. 42: 7. it ſeemeth to be as a parentheſis, and ſeparated matter: and there this ſtory beginneth againe, and by this viſion is declared what it was.

3 Now the LORD hath brought it, and done according as he hath ſaid: becauſe ye have [b] ſinned againſt the LORD, and have not obeyed his voice, therefore this thing is come upon you.

b God moved this infidell to ſpeak this, to declare the great blindnes and obſtinacie of the Jews, which could not feel that which this heathen man confeſſed.

4 And now behold, I looſe thee this day from the chains which were upon thine hand: if it ſeem good unto thee to come with me into Babylon, come, and † I will look well unto thee: but if it ſeeem ill unto thee to come with me into Babylon, forbear: behold, all the land is before thee: whither it ſeemeth good and convenient for thee to go, thither go.

† Heb. I will ſet mine eye upon thee.

5 Now while he was not yet gone back, he ſaid, Go back alſo to Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam the ſonne of Shaphan, whom the king of Babylon hath made governour over all the cities of Judah, and dwell with him among the people: or go whereſoever it ſeemeth convenient unto thee to go. So the captain of the guard gave him victuals and a reward, and let him go.

6 Then went Jeremiah unto Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam to [c] Mizpah, and dwelt with him among the people that were left in the land.

c Which was a city of Judah.

7 ¶ Now when all the captains of the forces which [d] were in the fields, even they and their men heard that the king of Babylon had made Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam governour in the land, and had committed unto him men, and women, and children, and of the poore of the land, of them that were not carried away captive to Babylon;

d Which were ſcattered abroad for feare of the Caldeans.

8 Then they came to Gedaliah to Mizpah, even [e] Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah, and Johanan and Jonathan the ſonnes of Kareah, and Seraiah the ſonne of Tanhumeth, and the ſonnes of Ephai the Netophathite, and Jezaniah the ſonne of a Maachathite, they and their men:

e Who was of the kings blond, and after ſlew him, chap. 41: 1.

9 And Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam the ſonne of Shaphan, ſware unto them and to their men, ſaying, Fear not to ſerve the Caldeans: dwell in the land and ſerve the king of Babylon, and it ſhall be well with you.

10 As for me, behold, I will dwell at Mizpah † to ſerve the Caldeans, which will come unto us: but ye, gather ye wine, and ſummer-fruits, and oyl, and put them in your veſſels, and dwell in your cities that ye have taken.

11 Likewiſe when all the Jews that were in [f] Moab, and among the Ammonites, and in Edom, and that were in all the countreys, heard that the king of Babylon had left a remnant of Judah, and that he had ſet over them Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam the ſonne of Shaphan.

f Which were fled alſo for feare of the Caldeans.

12 Even all the Jews returned out of all places whither they were driven, and came to the land of Judah, to Gedaliah unto Mizpah, and gathered wine and ſummer-fruits, very much.

13 ¶ Moreover Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, & all the captains of the forces that were in the fields, came to Gedaliah to Mizpah.

14 And ſaid unto him, Doſt thou certainly know that [g] Baalis the king of the Ammonites hath ſent Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah † to ſlay thee? But Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam beleeved them not.

g For under the colour of entertayning of Ishmael, he ſought onely to make them to deſtroy one another.

† Heb. to ſtrike thee in ſunder.

15 Then Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, ſpake to Gedaliah in Mizpah ſecretly, ſaying, Let me go, I pray thee, and I will ſlay Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah, and no man ſhall know it: wherefore ſhould he ſlay thee, that all the Jews which are gathered unto thee ſhould be ſcattered, and the remnant in Judah periſh?

16 But Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam ſaid unto Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, [h] Thou ſhalt not do this thing, for thou ſpeakeſt falſely of Iſhmael.

h Thus the godly, which think no harm to others, are ſoneſt deceived, and never lack ſuch as conſpire their deſtruction.

CHAP. XLI.

1 Ishmael, treacherouſly killing Gedaliah and others, purpoſeth with the reſidue to flee unto the Ammonites. 11 Johanan recovereth the captives, and mindeth to flee into Egypt.

NOw it came to paſſe in the [a] ſeventh moneth, that Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah the ſonne of Eliſhamah of the ſeed royall, and the princes of the [b] king, even ten men with him, came unto Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam to Mizpah, and there they did [c] eat bread together in Mizpah.

a The citie was deſtroyed in the fourth moneth, and in the ſeventh moneth, which contained part of September, and part of October, was the governour Gedaliah ſlain.

b Meaning, Zedekiah.

c They are together as familiar friends.

2 Then

2 Then aroſe Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah, and the ten men that were with him, and ſmote Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam the ſonne of Shaphan with the ſword, and ſlew him, whom the king of Babylon had made governour over the land.

3 Iſhmael alſo ſlew all the Jews that were with him, even with Gedaliah at Mizpah, and the Caldeans that were found there, and the men of warre.

4 And it came to paſſe the ſecond day after he had ſlain Gedaliah, and no man knew it,

5 That there came certain from Shechem, from Shiloh, and from Samaria, even foureſcore men having their beards ſhaven, and their clothes rent, and having cut themſelves, with [d] offerings and incenſe in their hand, to bring them to the houſe of the LORD.

d For they thought that the temple had not been deſtroyed, and therefore came up to the feaſt of tabernacles: but hearing of the burning thereof in the way, they ſhewed theſe ſignes of ſorrow.

6 And Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah went forth from Mizpah to meet them, † weeping all along as he went: and it came to paſſe as he met them, he ſaid unto them, Come to [e] Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam.

e For his death was kept ſecret, and he fained that he lamented for the deſtruction of Ieruſalem, and the temple: but after ſlew them when they ſeemed to favour Gedaliah.

7 And it was ſo when they came into the midſt of the citie, that Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah ſlew them, and caſt them into the midſt of the pit, he, and the men that were with him.

8 But ten men were found among them that ſaid unto Ishmael, Slay us not: for we have treaſures in the field, of wheat, and of barley, and of oyl, and of honey: ſo he forbare, and ſlew them not among their brethren.

9 Now the pit wherein Ishmael had caſt all the dead bodies of the men (whom he had ſlain ‡ †† becauſe of Gedaliah) was it, which Aſa the king had [f] made for fear of Baasha king of Iſrael; and Ishmael the ſonne of Nethaniah filled it with them that were ſlain.

‡ Or, neare Gedaliah.
†† Heb. by the hand, or by the ſide of Gedaliah.
f Aſa fortified Mizpah for feare of the enemy, and caſt ditches and trenches, 2 King. 15: 22.

10 Then Ishmael carried away captive all the reſidue of the people, that were in Mizpah, even the kings daughters, and all the people that remained in Mizpah, whom Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had committed to Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam, and Ishmael the ſonne of Nethaniah carried them away captive, and departed to go over to the Ammonites.

11 ¶ But when Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the [g] captains of the forces that were with him, heard of all the evil that Ishmael the ſonne of Nethaniah had done, g Which had been captaines under Zedekiah.

12 Then they took all the men, and went to fight with Ishmael the ſonne of Nethaniah, and found him by the great waters that are in Gibeon.

13 Now it came to paſſe, that when all the people which were with Ishmael ſaw Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, then they were glad.

14 So all the people that Ishmael had carried away captive from Mizpah, caſt about and returned, and went unto Johanan the ſonne of Kareah.

15 But Ishmael the ſonne of Nethaniah eſcaped from Johanan with eight men, and went to the [h] Ammonites.

h For Baalis, the king of the Ammonites, was the cauſe of this murder.

16 Then took Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces that were with him, all the remnant of the people whom he had recovered from Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah, from Mizpah (after that he had ſlain Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam) even mighty men of warre, and the women and the children, and the eunuchs whom he had brought again from Gibeon.

17 And they departed and dwelt in the habitation of [i] Chimham, which is by Bethlehem, to go to enter into Egypt, i Which place David of old had given to Chimham the ſon of Barzillai the Gileadite, 2 Sam. 19: 38.

18 Becauſe of the Caldeans: for they were afraid of them, becauſe Iſhmael the ſonne of Nethaniah had ſlain Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam, whom the king of Babylon made governour in the land.

CHAP. XLII.

1 Johanan deſireth Jeremiah to enquire of God, promiſing obedience to his will. 7 Jeremiah aſſureth him of ſafetie in Judea, 13 and deſtruction in Egypt. 19 He reproveth their hypocriſie in requiring of the Lord that which they meant not.

THen all the captains of the forces, and Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, and Jezaniah the ſonne of Hoshaiah, and all the people from the leaſt even unto the greateſt, came neare,

2 And ſaid unto Jeremiah the prophet, † Let, we beſeech thee, our ſupplication be accepted before thee, and pray for us unto the LORD thy God, even for all this remnant, (for we are left but a few of many, as thine eyes do behold us)

† Or, let our ſupplication fall before thee.

3 That the LORD thy God may ſhew us the way wherein we may walk, and the thing that we may [a] do.

a This declareth the nature of hypocrites, which would know of Gods word what they ſhould doe, but will not follow it, but in as much as it agreeth with that thing which they have purpoſed to doe.

4 Then Jeremiah the prophet ſaid unto them, I have heard you; behold, I will pray unto the LORD your God according to your words, and it ſhall come to paſſe, that whatſoever thing the LORD ſhall anſwer you, I will declare it unto you: I will keep nothing back from you.

5 Then they ſaid to Jeremiah, [b] The LORD be a true and faithfull witneſſe between us, if we do not even according to all things for the which the LORD thy God ſhall ſend thee to us.

b There are none more ready to abuſe the name of God, and take it in vaine, than the hypocrites, which to colour their falſehood, uſe it without all reverence, and make it a meanes for them to deceive the ſimple and the godly.

6 Whether it be good, or whether it be evil, we will obey the voice of the LORD our God, to whom we ſend thee; that it may be well with us, when we obey the voice of the LORD our God.

7 ¶ [c] And it came to paſſe after ten dayes, that the word of the LORD came unto Jeremiah.

c Here is declared the viſion and the occaſion thereof, whereof mention was made, Chap. 40: 1.

8 Then called he Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces which were with him, and all the people from the leaſt even to the greateſt, 9 And ſaid unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD the God of Iſrael, unto whom ye ſent me to preſent your ſupplication before him.

10 If ye will ſtill abide in this land, then will will I build you and not pull you down, and I will plant you, and not pluck you up: for I [d] repent me of the evil that I have done unto you.

d Read Chap. 18. verſ. 8.

11 Be not afraid of the king of Babylon, of whom ye are afraid: be not afraid of him, ſaith the LORD: for I am with you to ſave you, and to deliver you [e] from his hand.

e Becauſe all kings hearts and wayes are in his hands, he can turn them and diſpoſe them as it pleaſeth him, and therefore they need not to feare man, but onely obey God, Prov. 21: 1.

12 And I will ſhew mercies unto you, that he may have mercy upon you, and cauſe you to return to your own land.

13 ¶ But if ye ſay, We will not dwell in this land, neither obey the voice of the LORD your God,

14 Saying, No, but we will go into the land of Egypt, where we ſhall ſee no warre, nor heare the ſound of the trumpet, nor have hunger of bread, and there will we dwell:

15 (And now therefore heare the word of the LORD, ye remnant of Judah, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts the God of Iſrael, If ye wholly ſet your faces to enter into Egypt, and go to ſojourn there)

16 Then it ſhall come to paſſe, that the ſword which ye feared, [f] ſhall overtake you there in the land of Egypt, and the famine whereof ye were afraid, † ſhall follow cloſe after you there in Egypt, and there ye ſhall die.

f Thus God turneth the poliſie of the wicked to their own deſtruction: for they thought themſelves ſure in Egypt, and there Nebuchadnezzar deſtroyed them and the Egyptians, Chap. 46: 25.
† Heb. ſhall cleave after you.

17 † So ſhall it be with all the men that ſet their faces to go into Egypt to ſojourn there, they ſhall die by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence: and none of them ſhall remain or eſcape from the evil that I will bring upon them.

† Heb. ſo ſhall all the men be.

18 For thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, As mine anger and my fury hath been poured forth upon the inhabitants of Jeruſalem; ſo ſhall my fury be poured forth upon you, when ye ſhall enter into Egypt: and ye ſhall be an execration, and an aſtoniſhment, and a [g] curſe, and a reproach, and ye ſhall ſee this place no more.

g Read. chap. 26. verſ. 6. and 44: 12. ſhewing, that this ſhould come upon them for their infidelity and ſtubbornneſſe.

19 ¶ The LORD hath ſaid concerning you, O ye remnant of Judah, Go ye not into Egypt: know certainly, that I have † admoniſhed you this day.

† Heb. teſtified againſt you.

20 For ‡ ye [h] diſſembled in your hearts, when ye ſent me unto the LORD your God, ſaying, Pray for us unto the LORD our God, and according unto all that the LORD our God ſhall ſay, ſo declare unto us, and we will do it.

‡ Or, you have uſed deceit againſt your ſouls.
h For ye were fully minded to go into Egypt, whatſoever God ſpake to the contrary.

21 And now I have this day declared it to you, but ye have not obeyed the voice of the LORD your God, nor any thing for the which he hath ſent me unto you.

22 Now therefore know certainly, that ye ſhall die by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence, [i] in the place whither ye deſire to go, and to ſojourn.

i To wit, in Egypt.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 Johanan diſcrediting Jeremiahs propheſie, carrieth Jeremiah and others into Egypt. 8 Jeremiah propheſieth by a type the conqueſt of Egypt by the Babylonians.

AND it came to paſſe, that when Jeremiah had made an end of ſpeaking unto all the people, all the words of the LORD their God, for which the LORD their God had ſent him to them, even all theſe words,

2 Then ſpake [a] Azariah the ſonne of Hoſhaiah, and Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the [b] proud men, ſaying unto Jeremiah, [c] Thou ſpeakeſt falſely: the LORD our God [d] hath not ſent thee to ſay, Go not into Egypt to ſojourn there.

a Who was alſo called Jezaniah, chap. 42: 1. b This declareth, that pride is the cauſe of rebellion, and contempt of Gods miniſters.
c When the hypocriſie of the wicked is diſcovered, they burſt forth into open rage: for they can abide nothing but flatteries, read Iſa. 30. verſ. 10.
d He ſheweth what is the nature of the hypocrites: to wit, to faign that they would obey God and imbrace his word, if they were aſſured that his meſſengers ſpake the truth: though indeed they be moſt far from all obedience.

3 But Baruch the ſonne of Neriah [e] ſetteth thee on againſt us, for to deliver us into the hand of the Caldeans, that they might put us to death, and carry us away captives into Babylon.

e Thus the wicked do not onely contemn and hurt the meſſengers of God, but ſlander and ſpeak wickedly of all them that ſupport or favour the godly.

4 So Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, and all the people, obeyed not the voice of the LORD, to dwell in the land of Judah.

5 But Johanan the ſonne of Kareah, and all the captains of the forces, took all the remnant of Judah, that were returned from all [f] nations whither they had been driven, to dwell in the land of Judah;

f As from the Moabites, Ammonites, and Edomites, Chap. 40. verſ. 11.

6 Even men and women, and children, and the kings daughters, and every perſon that Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard had left with Gedaliah the ſonne of Ahikam the ſonne of Shaphan, and Jeremiah the [g] prophet, and Baruch the ſonne of Neriah.

g Whom theſe wicked led away by force.

7 So they came into the land of Egypt: for they obeyed not the voice of the LORD; thus came they, even to [h] Tahpanhes.

h A citie in Egypt near to Nilus.

8 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD unto Jeremiah in Tahpanhes, ſaying, 9 Take great ſtones in thine hand, and [i] hide them in the clay in the brick-kill, which is at the entry of Pharaohs houſe in Tahpanhes, in the ſight of the men of Judah.

i Which ſignified that Nebuchadnezzar ſhould come even to the gates of Pharaoh, where were his brick kills for his buildings.

10 And ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts the God of Iſrael, Behold, I will ſend and take Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon [k] my ſervant, and will ſet his throne upon theſe ſtones that I have hid, and he ſhall ſpread his royall pavilion over them.

k Read chap. 25. verſ. 9.

11 And when he cometh, he ſhall ſmite the land of Egypt, and deliver * [l] ſuch as are for death, to death; and ſuch as are for captivitie, to captivitie; and ſuch as are for the ſword, to the ſword.

* Chap. 15: 2. Zech 11: 9.
l Every one ſhall be ſlain by that means that God hath appointed.

12 And I will kindle a fire in the houſes of the gods of Egypt, and he ſhall burn them, and carry them away captives: and he ſhall aray himſelf with the land of Egypt, as [m] a ſhepherd putteth on his garment, and he ſhall go forth from thence in peace.

m Meaning, moſt eaſily, and ſuddenly ſhall he carry the Egyptians away.

13 He ſhall break alſo the † images of ‡ Beth-ſhemeſh, that is in the land of Egypt; and the houſes of the gods of the Egyptians ſhall he burn with fire.

CHAP. XLIIII.

1 Jeremiah expreſſeth the deſolation of Judah for their idolatry. 11 He propheſieth their deſtruction, who commit idolatrie in Egypt. 15 The obſtinacie of the Jews. 20 Jeremiah threatneth them for the ſame, 29 and for a ſigne, propheſieth the deſtruction of Egypt.

THE word that came to Jeremiah concerning all the Jews which dwell in the land of of Egypt, which dwell at Migdol, and at [a] Tahpanhes, and at Noph, and in the countrey of Pathros, ſaying,

2 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Ye have ſeen all the evil that I have brought upon Jeruſalem, and upon all the cities of Judah; and behold, this day they are a deſolation; and no man dwelleth therein.

3 Becauſe of their wickedneſſe which they have committed to provoke me to anger, in that they went to burn incenſe, and to ſerve other gods whom they knew not, neither they, you, nor your fathers.

4 Howbeit I ſent unto you all my ſervants the prophets, [b] riſing early and ſending them, ſaying, Oh do not this abominable thing that I hate.

5 But they hearkened not, nor inclined their eare to turn from their wickedneſſe, to burn no incenſe unto other gods.

6 Wherefore [c] my fury and mine anger was poured forth, and was kindled in the cities of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, and they are waſted and deſolate, as at this day.

7 Therefore now thus ſaith the LORD, the God of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Wherefore commit ye this great evil againſt your ſouls, to cut off from you man and woman, childe and ſuckling † out of Judah, to leave you none to remain;

8 In that ye provoke me unto wrath with the works of your hands, burning incenſe unto other gods in the land of Egypt, whither ye be gone to dwell, that ye might cut your ſelves off, and that ye might be a curſe, and a reproch among all the nations of the earth?

9 Have ye forgotten the † wickedneſſe of your fathers, and the wickedneſſe of the [d] kings of Judah, and the wickedneſſe of their wives, and your own wickedneſſe, and the wickedneſſe of your wives, which they have committed in the land of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem?

10 They are not † humbled even unto this day, neither have they feared nor walked in my law, nor in my ſtatutes that I ſet before you, and before your fathers.

11 ¶ Therefore thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, Behold, * I will ſet my face againſt you for evil, and to cut off all Judah.

12 And I will take the remnant of Judah, that [e] have ſet their faces to go into the land of Egypt to ſojuurn there, and they ſhall all be conſumed, and fall in the land of Egypt: they ſhall even be conſumed by the ſword, and by the famine: they ſhall die, from the leaſt even unto the greateſt, by the ſword, and by the famine: and they ſhall be an execration, and an aſtoniſhment, and [f] a curſe, and a reproch.

13 For I will puniſh them that dwell in the land of Egypt, as I have puniſhed Jeruſalem, by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence.

14 So that none of the remnant of Judah, which are gone into the land of Egypt to ſojourn there, ſhall eſcape or remain, that they ſhould return into the land of Judah, to the which they † have a deſire to return to dwell there: for none ſhall return but [g] ſuch as ſhall eſcape.

15 ¶ Then all the men which knew that their wives had burnt incenſe unto other gods, and all the women that ſtood by, a great multitude, even all the people that dwelt in the land of Egypt in Pathros, anſwered Jeremiah, ſaying, 16 As for the word that thou haſt ſpoken unto us in the name of the LORD, we will [h] not hearken unto thee.

17 But we will certainly do whatſoever thing goeth forth out of our own mouth to burn incenſe unto the ‡ [i] queen of heaven, and to poure out drink-offerings unto her, as we have done, we and our fathers, our kings and our princes, in the cities of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem: for then had we [k] plenty of † victuals, and were well, and ſaw no evil.

18 But ſince we left off to burn incenſe to the queen of heaven, and to poure out drink-offerings unto her, we have wanted all things, and have been conſumed by the ſword, and by the famine.

19 * And when we burnt incenſe to the queen of heaven, and poured out drink-offerings unto her, did we make her cakes to worſhip her, and poure out drink-offerings unto her without our ‡ [l] men?

20 ¶ Then Jeremiah ſaid unto all the people, to the men and to the women, and to all the people which had given him that anſwer, ſaying,

21 The incenſe that ye burnt in the cities of Judah, and in the ſtreets of Jeruſalem, ye and your fathers, your kings and your princes, and the people of the land, did not the LORD remember them, and came it not into his minde?

22 So that the LORD could no longer bear, becauſe of the evil of your doings, and becauſe of the abominations which ye have committed: therefore is your land a deſolation, and an aſtoniſhment, and a curſe without an inhabitant, as at this day.

23 Becauſe you have burnt incenſe, and becauſe ye have ſinned againſt the LORD, and have not obeyed the voice of the LORD, nor walked in his law, nor in his ſtatutes, nor in his teſtimonies: therefore this evil is happened unto you, as at this day.

24 Moreover, Jeremiah ſaid unto all the people, and to all the women, Heare the word of the LORD, all Judah, that are in the land of Egypt.

25 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts the God of Iſrael, ſaying, Ye and your wives have both ſpoken with your mouthes, and fulfilled with your [m] hand, ſaying, We will ſurely perform our vows that we have vowed, to burn incenſe to the queen of heaven, and to poure out drink-offerings unto her: ye will ſurely accompliſh your 29 ¶ And this ſhall be a ſigne unto you, ſaith the LORD, that I will punish you in this place, that ye may know that my words ſhall ſurely ſtand againſt you for evil.

30 Thus ſaith the LORD, Behold, I will [p] give Pharaoh-Hophra king of Egypt into the hand of his enemies, and into the hand of them that ſeek his life, as I gave Zedekiah king of Judah into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon his enemy, and that ſought his life.

p He ſheweth the meanes whereby they ſhould be deſtroyed, to aſſure them of the certainty of the plague, and yet they remaine ſtill in their obſtinacy till they perish: for Joſephus lib. 10. de Antiq. cap. 11. writeth, that five yeares after the taking of Jeruſalem, Nebuchad-nezzar the younger, having overcome the Moabites and the Ammonites, went againſt Egypt, and ſlew the King, and ſo brought theſe Jews, and others into Babylon.

CHAP. XLV.

1 Baruch being diſmayed, 4 Jeremiah inſtructeth and comforteth him.

THe word that Jeremiah the prophet ſpake unto [a] Baruch the ſonne of Neriah, when he had written [b] theſe words in a book at the mouth of Jeremiah, in the fourth yeare of Jehoiakim the ſonne of Joſiah king of Judah, ſaying, a Which was Jeremiahs diſciple, and wrote his propheſies under him.

b Whereof reade Chap. 36: 10.

2 Thus ſaith the LORD the God of Iſrael unto thee, O Baruch,

3 Thou didſt ſay, Wo is me now, for the LORD hath added grief to my ſorrow, [c] I fainted in my ſighing, and I finde no reſt.

c Baruch moved with an inconſiderate zeal of Jeremiahs impriſonment, but chiefly for the deſtruction of the people and the temple, maketh this lamentation, as Pſalm 6: 8.

4 ¶ Thus ſhalt thou ſay unto him, The LORD ſaith thus, Behold, that which I have built will I [d] break down, and that which I have planted, I will pluck up, even this whole land.

d Meaning, that God might deſtroy this people, becauſe he had planted them.

5 And ſeekeſt [e] thou great things for thy ſelf? ſeek them not: for behold, I will bring evil upon all fleſh, ſaith the LORD: but thy life will I give unto thee [f] for a prey in all places whither thou goeſt.

e Thinkeſt thou to have honour & credit? wherein he ſheweth his infirmitie.
f Reade Chap. 21. verſ. 9.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 Jeremiah propheſieth the overthrow of Pharaohs army at Euphrates, 13 and the conqueſt of Egyt by Nebuchadrezzar. 27 He comforteth Jacob in their chaſtiſement.

THe word of the LORD, which came to Jeremiah the prophet, againſt the [a] Gentiles.

a That is, nine nations, which are round about the land of Egypt.

2 Againſt Egypt, againſt the army of [b] Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt, which was by the river Euphrates in Carchemiſh, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon ſmote in the fourth yeare of Jehoiakim the ſonne of Joſiah king of Judah.

b Read 2 King. 23. verſ. 29. and 24: 7. and 2 Chron. 35. verſ. 20.

3 [c] Order ye the buckler and ſhield, and draw neare to battel.

c He warneth the Egyptians to prepare themſelves to warre.

4 Harneſſe the horſes, and get up ye horſemen, and ſtand forth with your helmets, furbiſh the ſpears, and put on the brigandines.

5 [d] Wherefore have I ſeen them diſmayed, and turned away back? and their mightie ones are † beaten down, and are † fled apace, and look not back: for fear was round about, ſaith the LORD.

d The prophet had this viſion of the Egyptians which ſhould be put to flight by the Babylonians at Carchemiſh.

6 Let not the ſwift flee away, nor the mightie man eſcape; they ſhall ſtumble, and fall toward the [e] north by the river Euphrates.

e The Babylonians ſhall diſcomfit them at the river Euphrates.

7 Who is this that cometh up as [f] a floud, whoſe waters are moved as the rivers?

f He derideth the boaſtings of the Egyptians, who thought by their riches and power to have overcome all the world, alluding to the river Nilus, which at certain times overfloweth the countrey of Egypt.

8 Egypt riſeth up like a floud, and his waters are moved like the rivers, and he ſaith, I will go up, and will cover the earth, I will deſtroy the citie, and the Inhabitants thereof.

9 Come up ye horſes, and rage ye chariots, and let the mighty men come forth, † [g] the Ethiopians, and † the Libyans that handle the ſhield, and the Lydians that handle and bend the bow.

g For theſe nations took part with the Egyptians.

10 For this is the day of the Lord GOD of hoſts, a day of vengeance, that he may avenge him of his adverſaries: and the ſword ſhall devoure, and it ſhall be ſatiate, and made drunk with their bloud: for the Lord GOD of hoſts hath [h] a ſacrifice in the north-countrey by the [i] river Euphrates.

h He calleth the ſlaughter of Gods enemies a ſacrifice, becauſe it is a thing that doth pleaſe him, Iſai. 34: 6.
i That is, at Carchemiſh.

11 Go up into Gilead, and take [k] balm, O [l] virgin, the daughter of Egypt: in vain ſhalt thou uſe many [m] medicines: for † thou ſhalt not be cured.

k For at Gilead did grow moſt ſoveraigne balm for wounds.
l So called, becauſe Egypt had not yet been overcome by the enemie.
m He ſheweth, that no ſalve or medicine can prevail, whereas God giveth the wound.

12 The nations have heard of thy ſhame, and thy crie hath filled the land: for the mighty man hath ſtumbled againſt the mighty, and they are fallen both together.

13 ¶ The word that the LORD ſpake to Jeremiah the prophet, how Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon ſhould come and ſmite the land of Egypt.

14 Declare ye in Egypt, and publiſh in Migdol, and publiſh in Noph, and in Tahpanhes: ſay ye, Stand faſt, and prepare thee; for the ſword ſhall devoure round about thee.

15 Why are thy valiant men ſwept away? they ſtood not, becauſe the LORD did drive them.

16 He † made many to fall, yea one fell upon another, and they ſaid, Ariſe, and let us go again to [n] our own people, and to the land of our nativitie, from the oppreſſing ſword.

n As they that ſhould repent that they helped the Egyptians.

17 They did crie there, Pharaoh king of Egypt is but a noiſe, he [o] hath paſſed the time appointed.

o He derideth them which ſhall impute their overthrow to lack of counſel and policie, or to fortune, and not obſerving of time: not conſidering that it is Gods juſt judgement.

18 As I live, ſaith the King, whoſe name is the LORD of hoſts, Surely as Tabor is among the mountains, and as Carmel by the ſea, [p] ſo ſhall he come.

p To wit, that the Egyptians ſhall be deſtroyed.

19 Oh thou daughter dwelling in Egypt, † furniſh thy ſelf to go into captivitie: for Noph ſhall be waſte and deſolate without an inhabitant.

20 Egypt

20 Egypt is like a [q] very fair heifer, but destruction cometh: it cometh out of the north.

21 Also her hired men [r] are in the midst of her, like † fatted bullocks, for they also are turned back, and are fled away together; they did not stand, because the day of their calamitie was come upon them, and the time of their visitation.

22 The voice thereof shall go like [s] a serpent, for they shall march with an army, and come against [t] her with axes, as hewers of wood.

23 They shall cut down her [u] forrest, saith the LORD, though it cannot be searched, because they are more than the [x] grashoppers, and are innumerable.

24 The daughter of Egypt shall be confounded, she shall be delivered into the hand of the people of the north.

25 The LORD of hosts, the God of Israel saith, Behold, I will punish the ‡ [y] multitude of No, and Pharaoh, and Egypt, with their gods and their kings, even Pharaoh, and all them that trust in him.

26 And I will deliver them into the hand of those that seek their lives, and into the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and into the hand of his servants, and afterwards it shall be inhabited, as in the dayes of [z] old, saith the LORD.

27 ¶ * [a] But fear not thou, O my servant Jacob, and be not dismayed, O Israel; for behold, I will save thee from afarre off, and thy seed from the land of their captivitie, and Jacob shall return, and be in rest and at ease, and none shall make him afraid.

28 Fear thou not, O Jacob my servant, saith the LORD, for I am with thee, for I will make a full end of all the nations whither I have driven thee, but I will not make a full end of thee, [b] but correct thee in measure, yet will I ‡ not leave thee wholly unpunished.

CHAP. XLVII.

The destruction of the Philistines.

THe word of the LORD that came to Jeremiah the prophet against the Philistines, before that Pharaoh smote † [a] Gaza.

2 Thus saith the LORD, Behold, waters rise up out of the [b] north, and shall be an overflowing floud, and shall overflow the land, and † all that is therein, the city, and them that dwell therein: then the men shall crie, and all the inhabitants of the land shall howl.

3 At the noise of the stamping of the hoofs of his strong horses, at the rushing of his chariots, and at the rumbling of his wheels, the fathers shall [c] not look back to their children for feebleness of [d] hands.

4 Because of the day that cometh to spoil all the Philistines, and to cut off from Tyrus and Zidon every helper that remaineth: for the LORD will spoil the Philistines, the remnant of † the countrey of [e] Caphtor.

5 [f] Baldness is come upon Gaza, Ashkelon is cut off with the remnant of their valley: [g] how long wilt thou cut thy self?

6 O thou sword of the LORD, how long will it be ere thou be quiet? † put up thy self into thy scabbard, rest and be still. 601

7 † How can it be quiet, seeing the LORD hath given it a charge against Ashkelon, and against the [h] sea-shore? there hath he appointed it.

CHAP. XLVIII.

1 The judgement of Moab, 7 for their pride, 11 for their security, 14 for their carnall confidence, 16 and for their contempt of God, and his people. 47 The restauration of Moab.

AGainst Moab thus saith the LORD of hosts, the God of Israel, Wo unto [a] Nebo, for it is spoiled: Kiriathaim is confounded and taken, ‡ Misgab is confounded and dismayed.

2 There shall be no more praise of Moab: in Heshbon they have devised evil against it; [b] come and let us cut it off from being a nation; also thou shalt † be cut down, O [c] Madmen, the sword shall † pursue thee.

3 A voice of crying shall be from Horonaim, spoiling and great destruction.

4 Moab is destroyed, her little ones have caused a cry to be heard.

5 For in the going up of [d] Luhith, † continuall weeping shall go up; for in the going down of Horonaim the enemies have heard a cry of destruction.

6 Flee, save your lives, and be like ‡ the [e] heath in the wilderness.

7 ¶ For because thou hast trusted in thy [f] works and in thy treasures, thou shalt also be taken, and [g] Chemosh shall go forth into captivity with his* priests and his princes together.

8 And the spoiler shall come upon every city, and no city shall escape; the valley also shall perish, and the plain shall be destroyed, as the LORD hath spoken.

9 Give wings unto Moab, that it may flee and get away: for the cities thereof shall be desolate, without any to dwell therein.

10 [h] Cursed be he that doeth the work of the LORD ‡ deceitfully, and cursed be he that keepeth back his sword from bloud.

11 ¶ Moab hath been at ease from his youth, and he hath settled on his lees, and hath not been [i] emptied from vessel to vessel, neither hath he gone into captivitie: therefore his taste † remained in him, and his scent is not changed.

12 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the LORD, that I will send unto him wanderers that shall cause him to wander, and shall empty his vessels, and break their bottles.

13 And Moab shall be ashamed of Chemosh, as the house of Israel was ashamed of * [k] Beth-el their confidence.

14 ¶ How say ye, We are mighty and strong men for the warre?

15 Moab is spoiled, and gone up out of her cities, and † his chosen young men are gone down to the slaughter, saith the King, whose name is the LORD of hosts.

16 The calamity of Moab is neare to come, and his affliction hasteth fast.

[q] They have abundance of all things, and therefore are disobedient and [r] Meaning, unskillfull of warres, and weak.
† Heb. bullocks of the stall.

[s] They shall be scarce able to speak for fear of the Caldeans.
[t] Meaning, Egypt.
[u] That is, they shal slay the great and mighty men of power.
[x] To wit, Nebuchadnezzars army.

† Heb. Amon.
[y] Some take the Hebrew word Amon for the kings name of No, that is, of Alexandria, but it seemeth that here is meant Alexandria it self: being a mother citie, and by her great plentie and store the noarisher of all Egypt: as Nah. 3: 8.
[z] Meaning, that after the space of fourtie yeares, Egypt should be restored, Isa. 19: 23. Ezek 29: 13.
* Isa. 41: 13. and 43: 5. and 44: 2. Chap. 30: 10.
[a] God comforteth all his that were in captivitie, but specially the small church of the Jews, whereof were Jeremiah and Baruch, which remained among the Egyptians: for the Lord never forsaketh his.
[b] Read chap. 10. vers. 24. and 30: 11.

† Heb. Azzah.
[a] A citie of the Philistines.
[b] He meaneth, the armie of the Caldeans, Isa. 8: 7, 8.

† Heb. the fulnesse thereof.

[c] The great feat shall take away their naturall affection.
[d] Their heart shall so fail them.
† Heb. the isle.
[e] For the Caphtorims, which are also called Cappadocians, had destroyed in old time the Philistines, and dwelt in their land, even to Gaza, Deut. 2: 23.
[f] They have pulled off their hair for sorrow and heavinesse.
[g] As the heathen used in their mourning, which the Lord forbad his people to do, Deut. 14: 1.

[h] All the countries neare the sea, as Chap. 25: 22.

[a] These were cities of the Moabites, which Nebuchad-nezzar took before he went to fight against Necho king of Egypt.
‡ Or, the high place.
[b] Thus shall the Babylonians incourage one another.
‡ Or, be brought to silence.
[c] Read Isa 25: 10.
† Heb go after thee.

[d] Horonaim and Luhith were two places whereby the Moabites should flee, Isa. 15: 5.
† Heb. weeping with weeping.
‡ Or, a naked tree.
[e] Hide your selves in barren places where the enemy will not pursue after you, chap. 17. vers. 6.
[f] That is, the idols which are the works of thine hands. Some read, in thy possessions, for so the word may signifie, as 1 Sam. 25: 28.
[g] Both thy great idol and his maintainers shall be led away captives, so that they shall then know that it is in vain to look for help at idols, Isa. 15: 2.
* Chap. 49: 3.
[h] He sheweth that God would punish the Caldeans, if they did not destroy the Egyptians, and that with a courage, and calleth this execution of his vengeance against his enemies his work, though the Caldeans sought another end, Isa. 10: 12.
‡ Or, negligently.
[i] Have not been removed as the Jews have, but have lived at ease, and as wine that feedeth it self on his lees.
* 1 Kings 12: 29.
[k] As the calf of Beth-el was not able to deliver the Israelites: no more shall Chemosh deliver the Moabites.
‡ Heb. the choise of.

17 All ye that are about him bemone him, and all ye that know his name, say, How is the [l] strong staff broken, and the beautifull rod!

18 Thou daughter that dost inhabit Dibon, come down from thy glory, and sit in thirst; for the spoiler of Moab shall come upon thee, and he shall destroy thy strong holds.

19 O † inhabitant of Aroer, stand by the way and espie, ask him that fleeth, and her that escapeth, and say, What is done?

20 [m] Moab is confounded, for it is broken down, * howl and cry, tell ye it in Arnon, that Moab is spoiled,

21 And judgement is come upon the plain countrey; upon Holon, and upon Jahazah, and upon Mephaath, 22 And upon Dibon, and upon Nebo, and upon Beth-diblathaim, 23 And upon Kiriathaim, and upon Beth-gamul, and upon Beth-meon.

24 And upon Kerioth, and upon Bozrah, and upon all the cities of the land of Moab, farre or neare.

25 [n] The horn of Moab is cut off, and his arm is broken, saith the LORD.

26 ¶ Make ye him [o] drunken for he magnified himself against the LORD: Moab also shall wallow in his vomit, and he also shall be in derision.

27 For was not Israel a derision unto thee; was he found among theeves? for since thou speakest of him, thou ‡ [p] skippedst for joy.

28 O ye that dwell in Moab, leave the cities and dwell in the rock, and be like the dove that maketh her nest in the sides of the holes mouth.

29 We have heard the * pride of Moab, (he is exceeding proud) his loftinesse and his arrogancy, and his pride, and the haughtinesse of his heart.

30 I know his wrath, saith the LORD, [q] but it shall not be so, ‡ his lies shall not so effect it.

31 [r] Therefore will I howl for Moab, and I will cry out for all Moab, mine heart shall mourn for the men of Kir-heres.

32 O vine of Sibmah, I will weep for thee, with the weeping of Jazer; thy plants are gone over the sea, they reach even to the sea of [s] Jazer, the spoiler is fallen upon thy summer-fruits, and upon thy vintage.

33 And * joy and gladnesse is taken from the plentifull field, and from the land of Moab, and I have caused wine to fail from the wine-presses, none shall tread with shouting, their shouting shall be no shouting.

34 From the cry of Heshbon even unto Elealeh, and even unto Jahaz have they uttered their voice, * from Zoar even unto Horonaim, as an heifer of three yeares old: for the waters also of Nimrim shall be † desolate.

35 Moreover, I will cause to cease in Moab, saith the LORD, him that offereth in the high places, and him that burneth incense to his gods, 36 [t] Therefore mine heart shall sound for Moab like [u] pipes, and mine heart shall sound like pipes for the men of Kir-heres: because the riches that he hath gotten is perished.

37 For * every head shall be bald, and every beard † clipt: upon all the hands shall be cuttings, and upon the loyns sackcloth.

38 There shall be lamentation generally upon all the house-tops of Moab, and in the streets thereof: for I have broken Moab like a vessel, wherein is no pleasure, saith the LORD.

39 They shall howl, saying, How is it broken down; how hath Moab turned the † back with shame? so shall Moab be a derision, and a dismaying to all them about him.

40 For thus saith the LORD, Behold, [x] he shall flie as an eagle, and shall spread his wings over Moab.

41 ‡ Kerioth is taken, and the strong holds are surprized, and the mighty mens hearts in Moab at that day shall be as the heart of a woman in her pangs, 42 And Moab shall be destroyed from being a people, because he hath magnified himself against the LORD.

43 * [y] Fear and the pit, and the snare shall be upon thee, O inhabitant of Moab, saith the LORD.

44 He that fleeth from the fear, shall fall into the pit, and he that getteth up out of the pit, shall be taken in the snare: for I will bring upon it, even upon Moab, the yeare of their visitation, saith the LORD.

45 They that fled, stood under the shadow of [z] Heshbon, because of the force: but * [a] fire shall come forth out of Heshbon, and a flame from the midst of Sihon, and shall devoure the corner of Moab, and the crown of the head of the † tumultuous ones.

46 Wo be unto thee, O Moab, the people of [b] Chemosh perisheth: for thy sonnes are taken † captives, and thy daughters captives.

47 ¶ Yet will I bring again the captivity of Moab in the [c] latter dayes, saith the LORD. Thus farre is the judgement of Moab.

CHAP. XLIX.

1 The judgement of the Ammonites. 6 Their restauration. 7 The judgement of Edom, 23 of Damascus, 28 of Kedar, 30 of Hazor, 34 and of Elam. 39 The restauration of Elam.

‡ CONcerning the [a] Ammonites, thus saith the LORD, Hath Israel no sonnes? hath he no heir? why then doth ‡ their [b] king inherit * Gad, and his people dwell in [c] his cities?

2 Therefore behold, the dayes come, saith the LORD, that I will cause an alarm of warre to be heard in * [d] Rabbah of the Ammonites, and it shall be a desolate heap, and her daughters shall be burnt with fire: then shall Israel be heir unto them that were his heirs, saith the LORD.

3 Houl, O Heshbon, for Ai is spoiled: cry ye daughters of Rabbah, gird ye with sackcloth: lament and run to and fro by the hedges, for ‡ their king shall go into captivitie, and his * priests and his princes together.

4 Wherefore glorie*st* thou in the [e] valleys, ‡ thy e In thy plentifull countrey.

‡ thy flowing valley, O back-sliding daughter? that trusted in her treasures, saying, Who shall come unto me?

5 Behold, I will bring [f] a fear upon thee, saith the Lord GOD of hosts, from all those that be about thee, and ye shall be driven out every man [g] right forth, and none shall gather up him that wandereth.

6 And [h] afterward I will bring again the captivity of the children of Ammon, saith the LORD.

7 ¶ Concerning Edom, thus saith the LORD of hosts, * Is wisdome no more in [i] Teman? is counsel perished from the prudent? is their wisdome vanished?

8 Flee ye, ‡ [k] turn back, dwell deep, O inhabitants of Dedan, for I will bring the calamity of Esau upon him, the time that I will visit him.

9 If *[l] grape-gatherers come to thee, would they not leave some gleaning-grapes; if theeves by night, they will destroy † till they have enough.

10 But I have made Esau bare, I have uncovered his secret places, and he shall not be able to hide himself: his seed is spoiled, and his brethren and his neighbours, and he is not.

11 Leave thy [m] fatherlesse children, I will preserve them alive, and let thy widows trust in me.

12 For thus saith the LORD, [n] behold, they whose judgement was not to drink of the cup, have assuredly drunken, and art thou he that shalt altogether go unpunished; thou shalt not go unpunished, but thou shalt surely drink of it.

13 For I have sworn by my self, saith the LORD, that [o] Bozrah shall become a desolation, a reproach, a waste and a curse, and all the cities thereof shall be perpetuall wastes.

14 I have heard a * rumour from the LORD, and an ambassadour is sent unto the heathen, saying, Gather ye together and come against [p] her, and rise up to the battel.

15 For lo, I will make thee small among the heathen, and despised among men.

16 Thy terribleness hath deceived thee, and the pride of thine heart, O thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, that holdest the height of the hill: though thou shouldest make thy * nest as high as the eagle, I will bring thee down from thence, saith the LORD.

17 Also Edom shall be a desolation: * every one that goeth by it, shall be astonished, and shall hisse at all the plagues thereof.

18 * As in the overthrow of Sodom and Gomorrah, and the neighbour cities thereof, saith the LORD: no man shall abide there, neither shall a sonne of man dwell in it.

19 Behold, [q] he shall come up like a lion from the swelling of Jordan against the habitation of the strong: but I will suddenly make [r] him run away from her, and who is a chosen man that I may appoint over her? for who is like me? and who will ‡ * appoint me the time? and who is that [f] shepherd that will stand before me?

20 Therefore heare the counsel of the LORD, that he hath taken against Edom, and his purposes that he hath purposed against the inhabitants of Teman: surely the least of the [t] flock shall draw them out; surely [u] he shall make their habitations desolate with them.

21 The earth is moved at the noise of their fall: at the crie, the noise thereof was heard in the † Red sea.

22 Behold, he shall come up and flie as the eagle, and [x] spread his wings over Bozrah: and at that day shall the heart of the mightie men of Edom be as the heart of a woman in her pangs.

23 Concerning [y] Damascus, Hamath is confounded, and Arpad: for they have heard evil tidings, they are † faint-hearted, there is sorrow ‡ on the sea, it cannot be quiet.

24 Damascus is waxed feeble, and turneth her self to flee, and [z] fear hath seised on her: anguish and sorrows have taken her as a woman in travail.

25 [a] How is the citie of praise not left, the citie of my joy?

26 Therefore her young men shall fall in her streets, and all the men of warre shall be cut off in that day, saith the LORD of hosts

27 And I will kindle a * fire in the wall of Damascus, and it shall consume the palaces of [b] Ben-hadad.

28 ¶ Concerning [c] Kedar, and concerning the kingdomes of Hazor, which Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon shall smite, thus saith the LORD, Arise ye, go up to Kedar, and spoil the men of the east.

29 Their tents and their flocks shall they take away, they shall take to themselves their [d] curtains and all their vessels, and their camels, and they shall cry unto them, Fear is on every side.

30 ¶ * Flee, † [e] get you farre off, dwell deep, O ye inhabitants of Hazor, saith the LORD; for Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon hath taken counsel against you, and hath conceived a purpose against you.

31 [f] Arise, get you up unto the ‡ wealthy nation that dwelleth without care, saith the LORD, which have neither gates nor barres, which dwell alone.

‡ Or, destroyer.

19 And I will bring Israel again to his habitation, and he shall feed on Carmel and Bashan, and his soul shall be satisfied upon mount Ephraim and Gilead.

20 In those dayes, and in that time, saith the LORD, the iniquitie of Israel shall be sought for, and there shall be none; and the sinnes of Judah, and they shall not be found: for I will pardon them whom I reserve.

21 ¶ Go up against the land † [t] of Merathaim even against it, and against the inhabitants of ‡ Pekod: waste and utterly destroy after them, saith the LORD, and do according to all that I have commanded thee.

24 I have laid a snare for thee, and thou art also taken, O Babylon, and thou wast not aware: thou art found and also caught, because thou hast striven against the LORD.

25 The LORD hath opened his armorie, and hath brought forth the weapons of his indignation: for this is the work of the Lord GOD of hosts, in the land of the Caldeans.

28 The voice of them that y flee and escape out of the land of Babylon to declare in Zion the vengeance of the LORD our God, the vengeance of his temple.

29 Call together the archers against Babylon: all ye that bend the bow, camp against it round about; let none thereof escape: recompense her according to her work; according to all that she hath done, do unto her: for she hath been proud against the LORD, against the holy one of Israel.

30 Therefore shall her young men fall in the streets, and all her men of warre shall be cut off in that day, saith the LORD.

a For Cyrus did cut the river Euphrates, and divided the course thereof into many streames, so that it might be passed over, as though there had been no water: which thing he didby the counsel of two of Belshazars captaines, who conspired against their king, because he had gelded the one of them in despight, and slain the sonne of the other. b Reade Isa. 13. vers. 21. * Gen. 19: 25. c Meaning, that the Persians should gather their armie of many nations, 42 They shall hold the bow and the lance: they are cruel and will not shew mercy: their voice shall roar like the sea, and they shall ride upon horses, every one put in aray like a man to the battel, against thee, O daughter of Babylon.

43 The king of Babylon hath heard the report of them, and his hands d waxed feeble: anguish took hold of him, and pangs as of a woman in travail.

d Which is meant of Belshazzar, Dan. 5: 6.

44 Behold he shall come up * like a lion from the swelling of Jordan, unto the habitation of the strong: but I will make them suddenly run away from her: and who is a chosen man that I may appoint over her? for who is like me, and * who will ‡ appoint me the time? and who is that e shepherd that will stand before me?

46 At the noise of the taking of Babylon the earth is moved, and the cry is heard among the nations.

CHAP. LI.

1 The severe judgement of God against Babylon, in revenge of Israel. 59 Jeremiah delivered the book of their prophesie to Seraiah, to be cast into Euphrates, in token of the perpetuall sinking of Babylon.

THus saith the LORD, Behold, I will raise up against Babylon, and against † them that dwell in the † midst of them that rise up against me, a destroying a winde; a The Medes and Persians that shall destroy them as the winde doth the chaffe.

† Heb. heart.

2 And will send unto Babylon fanners, that shall fanne her, and shall empty her land: for in the day of trouble they shall be against her round about.

3 Against him that bendeth let the archer bend his bow, and against him that lifteth himself up in his brigandine; and spare ye not her young men, destroy ye utterly all her host.

4 Thus the slain shall fall in the land of the Caldeans, and they that are thrust through in her streets.

5 For Israel hath not been b forsaken, nor Judah of his God, of the Lord of hosts; though their land was filled with sinne against the holy one of Israel.

b Though they were forsaken for a time, yet they were not utterly cast off, as though their husband were dead.

6 * c Flee out of the midst of Babylon, and deliver every man his soul: be not cut off in her iniquitie: for this is the time of the LORDS vengeance: he will render unto her a recompense.

* Chap. 50: 8. Revel. 18: 4. c He sheweth that there remaineth nothing for them that abide in Babylon, but destruction, Chap. 17: 6. and 48: 6.

7 Babylon hath been a golden cup in the d LORDS hand, that made all the earth drunken: the nations have drunken of her wine, therefore the nations are e mad.

d By whom the Lord powred out the drink of his vengeance, to whom it pleased him. e For the great afflictions that they have felt by the Babylonians.

8 Babylon is suddenly * fallen and destroyed: howl for her, take balm for her pain, if so be she may be healed.

* Isa. 21: 9. Revel. 14: 8. and 18: 2.

9 We would have healed Babylon, but she is not healed: forsake her, and let us f go every one into his own countrey: for her judgement reacheth unto heaven, and is lifted up even to the skies.

f Thus the people of God exhort one another to go to Zion and praise God.

10 The LORD hath brought forth our [g] righteouſneſſe: come and let us declare in Zion the work of the LORD our God.

11 Make † bright the arrows: gather the ſhields: the LORD hath raiſed up the ſpirit of the kings of the Medes: for his device is againſt Babylon, to deſtroy it; becauſe it is the [h] vengeance of the LORD, the vengeance of his temple.

12 Set up the ſtandard upon the walls of Babylon, make the watch ſtrong, ſet up the watchmen, prepare the † ambuſhes: for the Lord hath both deviſed and done that which he ſpake againſt the inhabitants of Babylon.

13 O thou that dwelleſt upon many [i] waters, abundant in treaſures, thine end is come, and the meaſure of thy covetouſneſſe.

14 * The Lord of hoſts hath ſworn † by himſelf, ſaying, Surely I will fill thee with men, as with caterpillers; and they ſhall † liſt up a ſhout againſt thee.

15 * He hath made the earth by his power, he hath eſtabliſhed the world by his wiſdome, and hath ſtretched out heaven by his underſtanding.

16 When he uttereth his voice there is a multitude of waters in the heavens, and he cauſeth the vapours to aſcend from the ends of the earth, he maketh lightnings with rain, and bringeth forth the winde out of his treaſures.

17 Every man ‡ [k] is brutiſh by his knowledge, every founder is confounded by the graven image: for his molten image is falſhood, and there is no breath in them.

18 They are vanity, the work of errours: in the time of their [l] viſitation they ſhall periſh.

19 * The [m] portion of Jacob is not like them, for he is the former of all things, and Iſrael is the rod of his inheritance: the Lord of hoſts is his name.

20 Thou art my [n] battel-ax and weapons of warre: for ‡ with thee will I break in pieces the nations, and with thee will I deſtroy kingdomes:

21 And with thee will I break in pieces the horſe and his rider, and with thee will I break in pieces the chariot and his rider:

22 With thee alſo will I break in pieces man and woman, and with thee will I break in pieces old and young, and with thee will I break in pieces the young man and the maid:

23 I will alſo break in pieces with thee, the ſhepherd and his flock, and with thee will I break in pieces the husbandman and his yoke of oxen, and with thee will I break in pieces captains and rulers, 24 And I will render unto Babylon, and to all the inhabitants of Caldea, all their evil that they have done in Zion in your ſight, ſaith the LORD.

25 Behold, I am againſt thee, O deſtroying [o] mountain, ſaith the Lord, which deſtroyeſt all the earth, and I will ſtretch out mine hand upon thee, and roll thee down from the [p] rocks and will make thee a burnt mountain.

26 And they ſhall not take of thee a ſtone for a corner, nor a ſtone for foundations, but thou ſhalt be † deſolate for ever, ſaith the LORD.

27 Set ye up a ſtandard in the land, blow the trumpet among the nations, prepare the nations againſt her, call together againſt her the kingdomes of [q] Ararat, Minni, and Aſchenaz, appoint a captain againſt her, cauſe her horſes to come up as the rough caterpillers.

28 Prepare againſt her the nations with the kings of the Medes, the captains thereof, and all the rulers thereof, and all the land of his dominion.

29 And the land ſhall tremble and ſorrow: for every purpoſe of the Lord ſhall be performed againſt Babylon, to make the land of Babylon a deſolation without an inhabitant.

30 The mighty men of Babylon have forborn to fight, they have remained in their holds, their might hath failed, they became as women they have burnt her dwelling places, her barres are broken.

31 One poſt ſhall run to meet another, and one meſſenger to meet another, to ſhew the king of Babylon that this city is taken [r] at one end, 32 And that the paſſages are ſtopped, and the reeds they have burnt with fire, and the men of warre are affrighted.

33 For thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, the God of Iſrael, The daughter of Babylon is like a threshing floore, ‡ it is time to thresh her, yet a little while, and the time of her harveſt [s] ſhall come.

34 Nebuchadrezzar the king of Babylon hath [t] devoured me, he hath crushed me, he hath made me an empty veſſel, he hath ſwallowed me up like a dragon, he hath filled his belly with my delicates, he hath caſt me out.

35 † The violence done to me and to my ‡ flesh, be upon Babylon, ſhall the † inhabitant of Zion ſay; and my bloud upon the inhabitants of Caldea, ſhall Jeruſalem ſay.

36 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord, Behold, I will plead thy [u] cauſe, and take vengeance for thee, and I will dry up her ſea, and make her ſprings drie.

37 And Babylon ſhall become heaps, a dwelling place for dragons, an aſtoniſhment and an hiſſing without an inhabitant.

38 They ſhall roar together like lions: they ſhall ‡ yell as lions whelps.

39 In their [x] heat I will make their feaſts, and I will make them drunken, that they may rejoyce, and ſleep a perpetuall ſleep, and not wake, ſaith the LORD.

40 I will bring them down like lambes to the ſlaughter, like rams with he-goats.

41 How is [y] Sheſhach taken? and how is the praiſe of the whole earth ſurpriſed? how is Babylon become an aſtoniſhment among the nations?

42 The [z] ſea is come upon Babylon: she is covered with the multitude of the waves thereof.

b Meaning, that Babylon ſhould not be deſtroyed all at once, but by little and little ſhould be brought to nothing: for the firſt yeare came the tidings, the next yeare the ſiege, and in the third yeare it was taken: yet this is not that horrible deſtruction which the prophets threatned in many places: for that was after this when they rebelled, and Darius overcame them by the policie of Zopyrus and hanged three thouſand gentlemen, beſides the common people.

CHAP. LII.

1 Zedekiah rebelleth. 4 Jeruſalem is beſieged and taken. 8 Zedekiahs ſonnes killed, and his own eyes put out. 12 Nebuzaradan burneth and ſpoileth the city. 24 He carried away the captives. 31 Evil-merodach advanceth Jehoiachim.

ZEdekiah was * one and twenty yeare old when he † began to reigne, and he reigned eleven yeares in Jeruſalem; and his mothers name was Hamutal the daughter of Jeremiah of Libnah.

* 2 Kihgs 24: 18.

2 And he did that which was evil in the eyes of the LORD, according to all that Johoiakim had done.

3 For [a] through the anger of the LORD it came to paſſe in Jeruſalem and Judah, till he had caſt them out from his preſence, that Zedekiah rebelled againſt the king of Babylon.

a So the Lord punished ſinne by ſinne, and gave him up to his rebellious heart, till he had brought the enemie upon him to lead him away, and his people.

4 ¶ And it came to paſſe in the * ninth yeare of his reigne, in the tenth moneth, in the tenth day of the moneth, that Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon came, he and all his armie againſt Jeruſalem, and pitched againſt it, and built forts againſt it round about.

* 2 Kings 25: 1. Chap. 39: 1.

5 So the citie was beſieged unto the eleventh yeare of king Zedekiah.

6 And in the fourth moneth, in the ninth day of the moneth, the famine was ſore in the city, ſo that there was no bread for the people of the land.

7 Then the city was broken up, and all the men of warre fled, and went forth out of the city by night by the way of the [b] gate between the two walls, which was by the kings garden, (now the Caldeans were by the city round about) and they went by the way of the plain.

b Read. chap. 39. vers. 4.

8 ¶ But the armie of the Caldeans purſued after the king, and overtook Zedekiah in the plains of Jericho, and all his armie was ſcattered from him.

9 Then they took the king, and carried him up unto the king of Babylon to Riblah in the land land of Hamath; [c] where he gave judgement upon him.

10 And the king of Babylon ſlew the ſonnes of Zedekiah before his eyes: he ſlew alſo all the princes of Judah in Riblah.

11 Then he † put out the eyes of Zedekiah, and the king of Babylon bound him in ‡ chains, and carried him to Babylon, and put him in † priſon till the day of his death.

12 ¶ Now in the fifth moneth, in the [d] tenth day of the moneth (which was the nineteenth yeare of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon) came Nebuzaradan ‡ † captain of the guard, which [e] ſerved the king of Babylon, into Jeruſalem, 13 And burnt the houſe of the Lord, and the kings houſe: and all the houſes of Jeruſalem, and all the houſes of the great men burnt he with fire.

14 And all the armie of the Caldeans that were with the captain of the guard, brake down all the walls of Jeruſalem round about.

15 Then Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive certain of the poore of the people, and the reſidue of the people that remained in the city, and thoſe that fell away, that fell to the king of Babylon, and the reſt of the multitude.

16 But Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard, left certain of the poore of the land for vine dreſſers, and for husbandmen.

17 Alſo the * [f] pillars of braſſe that were in the houſe of the Lord, and the baſes, and the braſen ſea that was in the houſe of the Lord, the Caldeans brake, and carried all the braſſe of them to Babylon.

18 The caldrons alſo, and the ‡ [g] ſhovels, and the ſnuffers, and the ‡ bowls, and the ſpoons, and all the veſſels of braſſe wherewith they miniſtred, took they away.

19 And the baſons, and the ‡ firepans, and the bowls, and the caldrons, and the candleſticks, and the ſpoons, and the cups; that which was of gold in gold, and that which was of ſilver in ſilver, took the captain of the guard away.

20 The two pillars, one ſea, and twelve braſen bulls that were under the baſes, which king Solomon had made in the houſe of the LORD: † the braſſe of all theſe veſſels was without [h] weight.

21 And concerning the * pillars, the height of one pillar was eighteen cubites, and a † fillet of twelve cubits did compaſſe it, and the thickneſſe thereof was foure fingers: it was hollow.

22 And a chapiter of braſſe was upon it, and the height of one chapiter was five cubits, with net-work and pomegranates upon the chapiters round about, all of braſſe: the ſecond pillar alſo and the pomegranates were like unto theſe.

23 And there were ninety and ſix pomegranates on a ſide, and all the pomegranates upon the net-work, were [i] an hundred round about.

24 ¶ And the captain of the guard took Seraiah the chief prieſt, and Zephaniah the [k] ſecond prieſt, and the three keepers of the † doore.

25 He took alſo out of the city an eunuch, which had the charge of the men of warre, and [l] ſeven men of them that † were neare the kings perſon which were found in the city, and the ‡ principall ſcribe of the hoſt, who muſtered the people of the land, and threeſcore men of the people of the land that were found in the midſt of the city.

26 So Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard took them, and brought them to the king of Babylon to Riblah.

27 And the king of Babylon ſmote them, and put them to death in Riblah, in the land of Hamath: thus Judah was carried away captive out of his own land.

28 This is the people whom Nebuchadrezzar carried away captive in the [m] ſeventh yeare, three thouſand Jews and three and twentie.

29 In the [n] eighteenth yeare of Nebuchadrezzar he carried away captive from Jeruſalem eight hundred thirty and two † perſons.

30 In the three and twentieth yeare of Nebuchadrezzar, Nebuzaradan the captain of the guard carried away captive of the Jews ſeven hundred fourtie and five perſons: all the perſons were foure thouſand and ſix hundred.

31 ¶ And it came to paſſe in the ſeven and thirtieth yeare of the captivity of Jehoiachin king of Judah, in the twelfth moneth, in the five and twentieth day of the moneth, that Evil-merodach king of Babylon, in the firſt yeare of his reigne, [o] lifted up the head of Jehoiachin king of Judah, and brought him forth out of priſon.

32 And ſpake † kindly unto him, and ſet his throne above the throne of the kings that were with him in Babylon, 33 And changed his [p] priſon-garments: and he did continually eat bread before him all the dayes of his life.

34 And for his diet, there was a [q] continuall diet given him of the king of Babylon, † every day a portion untill the day of his death, all the dayes of his life.

THE LAMENTATIONS OF JEREMIAH.

CHAP. I.

1 The miſerable eſtate of Jeruſalem by reaſon of her ſinne. 12 She complaineth of her grief, 18 and confeſſeth Gods judgements to be righteous.

HOwdoth [a] the city ſit ſolitary, that was full of people? how is ſhe become as a widow? ſhe that was great among the nations, and [b] princeſſe among the provinces, how is ſhe become tributary?

2 She * weepeth ſore in the * [c] night, and her tears are on her cheeks: among all her [d] lovers ſhe hath none to comfort her, all her friends have dealt treacherouſly with her, they are become her enemies.

3 Judah is gone into captivitie, becauſe of [e] affliction, and † becauſe of great ſervitude: ſhe dwelleth among the heathen, ſhe findeth no reſt: all her perſecutours overtook her between the ſtraits.

4 The wayes of Zion do mourn, becauſe [f] none come to the ſolemn feaſts: all her gates are deſolate: her prieſts ſigh, her virgins are afflicted, and she is in bitterneſſe.

5 Her adverſaries * [g] are the chief, her enemies proſper: for the LORD hath afflicted her; for the multitude of her tranſgreſſions, her * children are gone into captivitie before the enemy.

6 And from the daughter of Zion all her beauty is departed: her princes are become [h] like harts that finde no paſture, and they are gone without ſtrength before the purſuer.

7 Jeruſalem remembred in the dayes of her affliction, and of her miſeries, all her ‡ pleaſant things that she had in the dayes of old, when her people [i] fell into the hand of the enemie, and none did help her, the adverſaries ſaw her, and did mock at her [k] ſabbaths.

8 Jeruſalem hath grievouſly ſinned: therefore she † is removed: all that honoured her, deſpiſe her, becauſe they have ſeen her nakedneſſe: yea, she ſigheth, and turneth backward.

9 [l] Her filthineſſe is in her skirts, she remembreth not her laſt end, therefore she came down wonderfully: she had no comforter: O LORD, behold my affliction: for the enemy hath magnified himſelf.

10 The adverſary hath ſpread out his hand upon all her ‡ pleaſant things: for she hath ſeen that the heathen entred into her ſanctuary, [m] whom thou diſt command that they should not enter into thy congregation.

11 All her people ſigh, they ſeek bread, they have given their pleaſant things for meat ‡ to relieve the ſoul: ſee, O LORD, and conſider, for I am become vile.

12 ¶ ‡ Is it nothing to you, all ye that † paſſe by? behold and ſee, if there be any [n] ſorrow like unto my ſorrow, which is done unto me, wherewith the LORD hath afflicted me, in the day of his fierce anger.

13 From [o] above hath he ſent fire into my bones, and it prevaileth againſt them: he hath ſpread a net for my feet, he hath turned me back: he hath made me deſolate, and faint all the day.

14 [p] The yoke of my tranſgreſſions is bound by his hand: they are wreathed, and come up upon my neck: he hath made my ſtrength to fall, the Lord hath delivered me into their hands, from whom I am not able to riſe up.

15 The Lord hath troden under foot all my mighty men in the midſt of me: he hath called an aſſembly againſt me, to cruſh my young men: the Lord hath troden ‡ the virgin, the daughter of Judah, as in [q] a winepreſſe.

16 For theſe things I weep, * mine eye, mine eye runneth down with water: becauſe the comforter that should † relieve my ſoul, is farre from me: my children are deſolate, becauſe the enemy prevailed.

17 Zion ſpreadeth forth her hands, and there is none to comfort her: the Lord hath commanded concerning Jacob, that his adverſaries ſhould be round about him: Jeruſalem is as [r] a menſtruous woman among them.

18 ¶ The LORD is * righteous, for I have rebelled againſt his † commandment: heare, I pray you, all people, and behold my ſorrow: my virgins and my young men are gone into captivity.

19 I called for my lovers, but they deceived me; my prieſts and mine elders gave up the ghoſt in the city, while they [t] ſought their meat to relieve their ſouls.

20 Behold, O LORD, for I am in diſtreſſe; my * bowels are troubled; mine heart is turned within me, for I have grievouſly rebelled: abroad the ſword bereaveth, at home there is as death.

21 They have heard that I ſigh, there is none to comfort me: all mine enemies have heard of my trouble, they are glad that thou haſt done it: thou wilt bring the day that thou haſt ‡ called, and they ſhall be like unto me.

22 [t] Let all their wickedneſſe come before thee: and do unto them, as thou haſt done unto me for all my tranſgreſſions, for my ſighs are many, and my heart is faint,

Chap. II.

1 Jeremiah lamenteth the misery of Jerusalem. 20 He complaineth thereof to God.

HOw hath the Lord [a] covered the daughter of Zion with a cloud in his anger, and cast down from [b] heaven unto the earth the beautie of Israel, and remembred not his [c] footstool in the day of his anger?

2 The Lord hath swallowed up all the habitations of Jacob, and hath not pitied: he hath thrown down in his wrath the strong holds of the daughter of Judah: he hath † brought them down to the ground: he hath polluted the kingdome and the princes thereof.

3 He hath cut off in his fierce anger all the [d] horn of Israel: he hath drawn back his [e] right hand from before the enemie, and he burned against Jacob like a flaming fire which devoureth round about.

4 He [f] hath bent his bow like an enemie: he stood with his right hand as an adversary, and slew † all that were pleasant to the eye, in the tabernacle of the daughter of Zion: he poured out his fury like fire.

5 The Lord was as an enemy: he hath swallowed up Israel, he hath swallowed up all her palaces: he hath destroyed his strong holds, and hath increased in the daughter of Judah mourning and lamentation.

6 And he hath violently * taken away his ‡ tabernacle, as if it were of a garden, he hath destroyed his places of the assembly: the Lord hath caused the solemn feasts and sabbaths to be forgotten in Zion, and hath despised in the indignation of his anger the king and the priest.

7 The Lord hath cast off his altar: he hath abhorred his sanctuary: he hath † given up into the hand of the enemy the walls of her palaces: they have made [g] a noise in the house of the Lord, as in the day of a solemn feast.

8 The Lord hath purposed to destroy the wall of the daughter of Zion; he hath stretched out a line, he hath not withdrawn his hand from † destroying: therefore he made the rampart and [h] the wall to lament; they languished together.

9 Her gates are sunk into the ground; he hath destroyed and broken her barres; her king and her princes are among the Gentiles; the law is no more, her * prophets also finde no vision from the Lord.

10 The elders of the daughter of Zion sit upon the ground and keep silence: they have cast up dust upon their heads: they have girded themselves with sackcloth; the virgins of Jerusalem hang down their heads to the ground.

11 Mine eyes do fail with tears; my bowels are troubled; my liver is poured upon the earth, for the destruction of the daughter of my people, because the children and the sucklings ‡ swoon in the streets of the citie.

12 They say to their mothers, Where is corn and wine? when they swooned as the wounded in the streets of the city, when their soul was poured out into their mothers bosome.

13 [i] What thing shall I take to witnesse for thee? what thing shall I liken to thee, O daughter of Jerusalem? what shall I equall to thee, that I may comfort thee, O virgin daughter of Zion? for thy breach is great like the sea; who can heal thee?

14 Thy * prophets [k] have seen vain and foolish things for thee, and they have not discovered thine iniquitie, to turn away thy captivitie; but have seen for thee false burdens, and causes of banishment.

15 All that passe † by, clap their hands at thee; they hisse and wag their head at the daughter of Jerusalem, saying, Is this the citie that men call * the perfection of beauty, the joy of the whole earth?

16 All thine enemies have opened their mouth against thee: they hisse and gnash the teeth: they say, We have swallowed her up: certainly this is the day that we looked for: we have found, we have seen it.

17 The Lord hath done that which he had * devised: he hath fulfilled his word that he had commanded in the dayes of old: he hath thrown down, and hath not pitied: and he hath caused thine enemy to rejoyce over thee, he hath set up the horn of thine adversaries.

18 Their heart cried unto the Lord, O wall of the daughter of Zion, * let tears runne down like a river day and night, give thy self no rest, let not the apple of thine eyes cease.

19 Arise, cry out in the night: in the beginning of the watches poure out thine heart like water before the face of the Lord: lift up thy hands towards him, for the life of thy young children, that faint for hunger in the top of every street.

20 ¶ Behold, O Lord, and consider to whom thou hast done this: shall the women eat their fruit, and children ‡ of a span long? shall the priest and the prophet be slain in the sanctuary of the Lord?

21 The young and the old lie on the ground in the streets, my virgins and my young men are fallen by the sword: thou hast slain them in the day of thy anger, thou hast killed and not pitied.

22 Thou hast called as in a solemn day my terrours round about, so that in the day of the Lords anger none escaped nor remained: those that I have swadled and brought up, hath mine enemy consumed.

41 Let us lift [u] up our heart with our hands unto God in the heavens.

42 We have transgressed and have rebelled, thou hast not pardoned.

51 Mine [x] eye affecteth † mine heart, ‡ because of all the daughters of my city.

52 Mine enemies chased me sore like a bird, without cause.

53 They have cut off my life in the [y] dungeon, and cast a stone upon me.

54 Waters flowed over mine head, then I said, I am cut off.

55 ¶ I called upon thy name, O LORD, out of the low dungeon.

56 Thou hast heard my voice, hide not thine eare at my breathing, at my cry.

57 Thou dreweſt neare in the day that I called upon thee: thou saidst, Fear not.

58 O Lord, thou hast pleaded the causes of [z] my soul, thou hast redeemed my life.

59 O LORD, thou hast seen my wrong, judge thou my cause.

60 Thou hast seen all their vengeance, and all their imaginations against me.

61 Thou hast heard their reproach, O LORD, and all their imaginations against me:

62 The lips of those that rose up against me, and their device against me all the day.

63 Behold their sitting down and their rising up, I am their musick.

64 ¶ Render unto them a recompense, O LORD, according to the work of their hands.

65 Give them ‡ sorrow of heart, thy curse unto them.

66 Persecute and destroy them in anger, from under the * heavens of the LORD.

THE

THE BOOK OF the prophet EZEKIEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that Jehoiachin, by the counsel of Jeremiah and Ezekiel, had yeelded himself to Nebuchad-nezzar, and so went to captivitie with his mother, and divers of his princes, and of the people, certain began to repent and murmure that they had obeyed the prophets counsel, as though the thing which they had propheſied should not come to paſſe, and therefore their eſtate should be ſtill miſerable under the Caldeans, by reaſon whereof he confirmeth his former propheſies, declaring by new viſions and revelations shewed unto him, that the citie should moſt certainly be deſtroyed, and the people grievouſly tormented by Gods plagues, inſomuch that they that remained, should be brought into cruell bondage. And leſt the godly should deſpaire in theſe great troubles, he aſſureth them that God will deliver his church at his time appointed, and alſo deſtroy their enemies, which either afflicted them, or rejoyced in their miſeries: the effect of the one and the other should chiefly be performed under Chriſt, of whom in this book are many notable promiſes, and in whom the glory of the new temple should perfectly be reſtored. Hee propheſied theſe things in Caldea, at the ſame time that Jeremiah propheſied in Judah, and there began in the firſt yeare of Jehoiachins captivitie.

CHAP. I.

1 The time of Ezekiels propheſie at Chebar. 4 His viſion of foure cherubims, 15 of the foure wheels 26 and of the glory of GOD.

NOw it came to paſſe in the [a] thirtieth yeare, in the fourth moneth, in the fifth day of the moneth, (as I was among the † captives by the river of [b] Chebar) that the heavens were opened, and I ſaw viſions of [c] God.

2 In the fifth day of the moneth, (which was the fifth yeare of king Jehoiachins captivitie)

3 The word of the LORD came expreſly unto † Ezekiel the prieſt, the ſonne of Buzi, in the land of the Caldeans, by the river Chebar, and the [d] hand of the LORD was there upon him.

4 ¶ And I looked, and behold, [e] a whirlwinde came out of the north, a great cloud, and a fire † infolding it ſelf, and a brightneſſe was about it, and out of the midſt thereof as the colour of amber, out of the midſt of the fire.

5 Alſo out of the midſt thereof came the likeneſſe of foure living [f] creatures. And this was their appearance, They had the likeneſſe of a man.

6 And every one had foure faces, and every one had foure wings.

7 And their feet were † ſtraight feet, and the ſole of their feet was like the ſole of a calves foot, and they ſparkled like the colour of burniſhed braſſe.

8 And they had the hands of a man under their wings on their foure ſides, and they foure had their faces and their wings.

9 Their wings were [g] joyned one to another; they turned not when they went, they went every one ſtraight forward.

10 As for the likeneſſe of their faces, they foure had the [h] face of a man, and the face of a lion on the right ſide, and they foure had the face of an ox on the left ſide, they foure alſo had the face of an eagle.

11 Thus were their faces: and their wings were ‡ ſtretched upward, two wings of every one were joyned one to another, and two covered their bodies.

12 And they went every one ſtraight forward: whither the ſpirit was to go, they went: and they turned not when they went.

13 As for the likeneſſe of the living creatures, their appearance was like burning coals of fire, and like the appearance of lamps: it went up and down among the living creatures, and the fire was bright, and out of the fire went forth lightning.

14 And the living creatures ran, and [i] returned as the appearance of a flaſh of lightning.

15 ¶ Now as I beheld the living creatures, behold, one wheel upon the earth by the living creatures, with his foure faces.

16 The appearance of the wheels, and their work was like unto the colour of a [k] beryll: and they foure had one likeneſſe, and their appearance and their work was as it were a wheel in the middle of a wheel.

17 When they went, they went upon their foure ſides: and they returned not when they went.

18 As for their rings, they were ſo high that they were dreadfull, and their ‡ rings were full of eyes round about them foure.

19 And when the living creatures went, the wheels went by them: and when the living creatures were liſt up from the earth, the wheels were liſt up,

20 Whitherſoever the ſpirit was to go, they went, thither was their ſpirit to go, and a After that the book of the law was found, which was the eighteenth yeare of the reigne of Joſiah, ſo that five and twenty year after this book was found, Jeconiah was led away captive with Ezekiel (and many of the people) who the firſt yeare after ſaw theſe viſions.

‡ Or, of life.

22 And the likeness of the firmament upon the heads of the living creature, was as the colour of the terrible crystall, stretched forth over their heads above.

23 And under the firmament were their wings straight, the one toward the other; every one had two, which covered on this side, and every one had two, which covered on that side, their bodies.

24 And when they went, I heard the noise of their [l] wings, like the noise of great waters, as the voice of the Almighty, the voice of speech as the noise of an host: when they stood, they [m] let down their wings.

l Which declared the swiftnesse, and the fearfulnesse of Gods judgements.

m Which signified, that they had no power of themselves, but onely waited to execute Gods commandement.

25 And there was a voice from the firmament, that was over their heads; when they stood, and had let down their wings.

26 ¶ And above the firmament that was over their heads, was the likeness of a throne, as the appearance of a saphire stone, and upon the likeness of the throne was the likeness as the appearance of a man above upon it.

27 And I saw as the colour of amber, as the appearance of fire [n] round about within it: from the appearance of his loyns even upward, and from the appearance of his loyns even downward, I saw as it were the appearance of fire, and it had brightness round about.

n Whereby was signified a terrible judgement toward the earth.

28 As the appearance of the bow that is in the cloud in the day of rain, so was the appearance of the brightness round about. This was the appearance of the likeness of the glory of the LORD: and when I saw it, I [o] fell upon my face, and I heard a voice of one that spake.

CHAP. II.

1 Ezekiels commission. 6 His instruction. 9 The roll of his heavy prophesie.

AND [a] he said unto me, [b] Sonne of man, stand upon thy feet, and I will speak unto thee, a That is, the Lord.

b Meaning, man, which is but earth and ashes, which was to humble him, and cause him to consider his own state, and Gods grace.

2 [c] And the spirit entred into me, when he spake unto me, and set me upon my feet, that I heard him that spake unto me.

c So that he could not abide Gods presence till Gods spirit did enter into him.

3 And he said unto me, Sonne of man, I send thee to the children of Israel, to a rebellious † nation that hath rebelled against me; they and their fathers have transgressed against me, even unto this very day.

4 For they are † impudent children and stiffhearted: I do send thee unto them, and thou shalt say unto them, Thus saith the Lord God.

d This declareth on the one part, Gods great affection toward his people, that notwithstanding their rebellion, yet he will send his prophets among them, and admonisheth his ministers on the other part, that they cease not to doe their duty, though the people be never so obstinate: for the word of God shall be either to their salvation, or greater condemnation.

6 ¶ And thou sonne of man, be not [e] afraid of them, neither be afraid of their words, though ‡ briers and thorns be with thee, and thou dost dwell among scorpions: be not afraid of their words, nor be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.

e Read Jer. 1: 17. he sheweth, that for none afflictions they should cease to do their duties.

‡ Or, rebels.

7 And thou shalt speak my words unto them, whether they will heare, or whether they will forbear, for they are † most rebellious.

† Heb. rebellion.

8 But thou, sonne of man, heare what I say unto thee, Be not thou rebellious like that rebellious house: open thy mouth and [*] [f] eat that I give thee.

* Revel. 10: 9.

f He doth not onely exhort him to his duty, but also giveth him the mean, wherewith he may be able to execute it.

9 ¶ And when I looked, behold, an hand was sent unto me, and lo, a roll of a book was therein.

10 And he spread it before me, and it was written within and without, and there was written therein [g] lamentations, and mourning, and wo.

g He sheweth, what were the contents of this book, to wit, Gods judgements against the wicked.

CHAP. III.

2 Ezekiel eateth the roll. 4 God encourageth him. 15 God sheweth him the rule of prophesie. 22 God shutteth and openeth the prophets mouth.

MOreover he said unto me, Sonne of man, eat that thou findest, [a] eat this roll, and go speak unto the house of Israel.

a Whereby is meant, that none is meet to be Gods messenger before he have received the word of God in his heart, as vers. 10. and have a zeal thereto, and delight therein, as Jer. 15: 16. Revel. 10: 10.

2 So I opened my mouth, and he caused me to eat that roll.

3 And he said unto me, Sonne of man, cause thy belly to eat, and fill thy bowels with this roll that I give thee, Then did I [*] eat it, and it was in my mouth as honey for sweetness.

* Revel. 10: 9.

4 ¶ And he said unto me, Sonne of man, go, get thee unto the house of Israel, and speak with my words unto them.

5 For thou art not sent to a people † of a strange speech, and of an hard language, but to the house of Israel.

† Heb. deep of lip, & heavie of tongue, and 10 verse 6.

6 Not to many people † of a strange speech, and of an hard language, whose words thou canst not understand: ‡ surely, had I sent thee to them, they would have hearkened unto thee.

† Heb. deep of lip, and heavy of language.

‡ Or, if I had sent thee, &c. would they not have hearkened unto thee?

7 But the house of Israel will not hearken unto thee; for they will not hearken unto me: for all the house of Israel are † impudent and hard-hearted.

† Heb. stiff of forehead, and hard of heart.

8 Behold, I have made thy face [b] strong against their faces, and thy forehead strong against their foreheads.

b God promiseth his assistance to his ministers, and that he will give them boldnesse and constancy in their vocation, Isa. 50: 7. Jer. 1. vers. 18. Mich. 3: 8.

9 As an adamant harder than flint have I made thy forehead: [*] fear them not, neither be dismayed at their looks, though they be a rebellious house.

* Jerem. 1: 8.

10 Moreover he said, unto me, Son of man, all my words that I shall speak unto thee, [c] receive in thine heart, and hear with thine ears.

c He sheweth what is meant by the eating of the book, which is, that the ministers of God may speak nothing as of themselves, but that onely which they have received of the Lord.

11 And go, get thee to them of the captivity, unto thy people, and speak unto them and tell them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, whether they will heare, or whether they will forbear.

d Whereby he signifieth that Gods glory should not be diminished although he departed out of his temple; for this declared, that the citie and temple should be destroyed.

12 Then the spirit took me up, and I heard behinde me a voice of a great rushing, saying, [d] Blessed be the glory of the LORD from his place.

13 I heard

13 I heard alſo the noiſe of the wings of the living creatures that † touched one another, and the noiſe of the wheels over againſt them, and a noiſe of a great rushing.

14 So the ſpirit lifted me up, and took me away: and [e] I went † in bitterneſſe, in the † heat of my ſpirit, but the hand of the LORD was ſtrong upon me.

[e] This sheweth, that there is ever an infirmity of the flesh which can never be ready to render full obedience to God, and alſo Gods grace, who ever aſſiſteth his, and overcometh their rebellious affections.

15 ¶ Then I came to them of the captivity at [f] Tel-abib, that dwelt by the river of Chebar, and I ſat where they ſat, and remained there aſtonished among them [g] ſeven dayes.

[f] Which was a place by Euphrates, where the Jews were priſoners.
[g] Declaring hereby, that Gods miniſters muſt with adviſement and deliberation utter his judgements.

16 And it came to paſſe at the end of ſeven dayes, that the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying, 17 * Sonne of man, I have made thee a [h] watchman unto the houſe of Iſrael: therefore heare the word at my mouth, and give them warning from me.

[h] That is, a prophet, as Iſa. 52: 8. and 57: 2. Jerem. 6: 17. Chap. 33: 2.

18 When I ſay unto the wicked, Thou ſhalt ſurely die, and thou giveſt him not warning, nor ſpeakeſt to warn the wicked from his wicked way to ſave his life: the ſame wicked man ſhall die in his iniquitie: but his bloud will I require at thine hand.

19 Yet if thou warn the wicked, and he turn not from his wickedneſſe, nor from his wicked way, he ſhall die in his iniquitie; but thou haſt delivered thy ſoul.

20 Again, when a * [i] righteous man doth turn from his † righteouſneſſe, and commit iniquitie, and I lay [k] a ſtumbling-block before him, he ſhall die: becauſe thou haſt not given him warning, he ſhall die in his ſinne, and his [l] righteouſneſſe which he hath done ſhall not be remembred; but his bloud will I require at thine hand.

* Chap. 18: 24.

[k] I will give him up into a reprobate minde, Rom. 1. verſ. 28.
[l] That is, his righteous deeds, which ſeemed to have been done in faith, and were not.

21 Neverthleſſe, if thou warn the righteous man, that the righteous ſinne not, and he doth not ſinne; he ſhall ſurely live, becauſe he is warned: alſo thou haſt delivered thy ſoul.

22 ¶ And the [m] hand of the LORD was there upon me, and he ſaid unto me, Ariſe, go forth into the plain, and I will there talk with thee.

[m] That is, the ſpirit of propheſie.

23 Then I aroſe, and went forth into the plain, and behold, the [n] glory of the LORD ſtood there, as the glory which I * ſaw by the river of Chebar? and I fell on my face.

[n] Meaning, the viſion of the cherubims, and the wheels.
* Chap. 1.

24 Then the ſpirit entred into me, and [o] ſet me upon my feet, and ſpake with me, and ſaid unto me, Go, [p] ſhut thy ſelf within thine houſe.

[o] Read Chap. 2: 2.
[p] Signifying, that not only he ſhould not profit, but they ſhould grievouſly trouble and afflict him.

25 But thou, O ſonne of man, behold, they ſhall put bands upon thee, and ſhall binde thee with them, and thou ſhalt not go out among them.

26 And I will make thy tongue [q] cleave to the roof of thy mouth, that thou ſhalt be dumbe, and ſhalt not be to them † a reprover, for they are a rebellious houſe.

[q] Which declareth the terrible plagne of the Lord, when God ſtoppeth the mouths of his miniſters, and that all ſuch are the rods of his vengeance that do it.

27 But when I ſpeak with thee, I will open thy mouth, and thou ſhalt ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, He that heareth, let him heare, and he that forbeareth, let him forbear; for they are a rebellious houſe.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Under the type of a ſiege, is shewed the time from the defection of Jeroboam to the captivity. 9 By the proviſion of the ſiege is shewed the hardneſſe of the famine.

THou alſo ſonne of man, take thee a tile, and lay it before thee, and pourtray upon it the city, even Jeruſalem;

2 And lay ſiege againſt it, and build a fort againſt it, and caſt a mount againſt it: ſet the camp alſo againſt it, and ſet ‡ battering rams againſt it round about.

‡ Or, chief leaders.

3 Moreover, take thou unto thee † an [a] iron pan, and ſet it for a wall of iron between thee and the citie, and ſet thy face againſt it, and it ſhall be beſieged, and thou ſhalt lay ſiege againſt it: this ſhall be a ſigne to the houſe of Iſrael.

† Or, flat plate, or, ſlice.
[a] Which ſignified the ſtubbornneſſe and hardneſſe of their heart.

4 Lie thou alſo upon thy left ſide, and lay the iniquitie of the [b] houſe of Iſrael upon it: according to the number of the dayes that thou ſhalt lie upon it, thou ſhalt bear their iniquitie.

[b] Hereby he repreſented the idolatry and ſinne of the ten tribes (for Samaria was on his left hand from Babylon and how they had remained therein three hundred and ninety dayes
* Num. 14: 34.

5 For I have laid upon thee the yeares of their iniquitie, according to the number of the dayes, three hundred and ninetie dayes: * ſo ſhalt thou bear the iniquity of the houſe of Iſrael.

6 And when thou haſt accompliſhed them, lie again on thy [c] right ſide, and thou ſhalt bear the iniquity of the houſe of Judah fourtie dayes: I have appointed thee † each day for a yeare.

[c] Which declared Judah, who had now from the time of Joſiah ſlept in their ſins fourty yeares.

7 Therefore thou ſhalt ſet thy face toward the ſiege of Jeruſalem, and thine [d] arm ſhall be uncovered, and thou ſhalt propheſie againſt it.

[d] In token of a ſpeedy vengeance.

8 And behold, I will lay [e] bands upon thee, and thou ſhalt not turn thee † from one ſide to another, till thou haſt ended the dayes of thy ſiege.

[e] The people ſhould ſo ſtraitly be beſieged, that they ſhould not be able to turn them.
† Heb. from thy ſide to thy ſide.

9 ¶ Take thou alſo unto thee, wheat, and barley, and beans, and lentiles, and millet, and ‡ [f] fitches, and put them in one veſſel, and make thee bread thereof, according to the number of the dayes that thou ſhalt lie upon thy ſide; [g] three hundred and ninety dayes ſhalt thou eat thereof.

‡ Or, ſpelt.
[f] Meaning, that the famine ſhould be ſo great, that they ſhould be glad to eat whatſoever they could get.
[g] Which were fourteen moneths that the city was beſieged, and this was as many dayes as Iſrael ſinned yeares.

10 And thy meat which thou ſhalt eat, ſhall be by weight [h] twenty ſhekels a day: from time to time ſhalt thou eat it.

[h] Which make a pound.

11 Thou ſhalt drink alſo water by meaſure, the ſixth part of an [i] hin: from time to time ſhalt thou drink.

[i] Read Exod. 29. verſ. 40.

12 And thou ſhalt eat it as barley-cakes, and thou ſhalt bake it with [k] dung that cometh out of man in their ſight.

[k] Signifying hereby, the great ſcarcity of fuel, and matter to burn.

13 And the LORD ſaid, Even thus ſhall the childrē of Iſrael eat their defiled bread among the Gentiles, whither I will drive them.

14 Then ſaid I, [l] Ah Lord GOD, behold, my ſoul hath not been polluted: for from my youth up even till now, have I not eaten of that which dieth of it ſelf, or is torn in pieces, neither came there abominable fleſh into my mouth.

[l] The prophet deſires that he might be excuſed, leaſt for the unclean lews he ſhould be conſtrained to eat unclean meat: for mans dung and excrements were impure by the law, Deut. 23: 9, &c.

15 Then he ſaid unto me, Lo, I have given thee [m] cows dung for mans dung, and thou ſhalt prepare thy bread therewith.

[m] To be as fire to bake thy bread with.

16 Moreover, he ſaid unto me, Sonne of man, behold I will [n] break the * ſtaff of bread in Jeruſalem, and they ſhall eat bread by weight, and with care, and they ſhall drink water by meaſure, and with aſtonishment.

17 That they may want bread and water, and be aſtonied one with another, and conſume away for their iniquitie.

1 Vnder the type of hair. 5 is shewed the judgement of Jeruſalem for their rebellion, 12 by famine ſword, and diſperſion.

AND thou ſonne of man, take thee a sharp knife, take thee a barbors raſour, and cauſe it [a] to paſſe upon thine head, and upon thy beard, then take the balances to weigh and divide the hair.

a To ſhave thine head and thy beard.

2 Thou ſhalt burn with fire a third part in the midſt of the [b] city, when the dayes of the ſiege are fulfilled, and thou ſhalt take a third part, and ſmite about it with a knife, and a third part thou ſhalt ſcatter in the winde, and I will draw out a ſword after them.

b To wit, of that city which he had pourtrayed upon the brick, chap. 4. verſ. 1. By the fire and peſtilence he meaneth the famine, wherewith one part periſhed during the ſiege of Nebuchad-nezzar. By the ſword, thoſe that were ſlain when Zedekiah fled, and thoſe that were carried away captive. And by the ſcattering into the winde, thoſe that fled into Egypt and into other parts after the city was taken

3 Thou ſhalt alſo take thereof a few in number, and binde them in thy † [c] skirts.

† Heb. wing.

4 Then take of them again, and caſt them into the midſt of the fire, and burn them in the fire: [d] for thereof ſhall a fire come forth into all the houſe of Iſrael.

c Meaning, that a very few ſhould be left, which the Lord would preſerve among all theſe ſtorms, but not without troubles and triall.

d Out of that fire which thou kindleſt, ſhall a fire come, which ſhall ſignifie the deſtruction of Iſrael.

5 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, This is Jeruſalem: I have ſetit in the midſt of the nations and countreys that are round about her.

6 And ſhe hath changed my [e] judgements into wickedneſſe more than the nations, and my ſtatutes more than the countreys that are round about her: for they have refuſed my judgemenrs, and my ſtatutes, they have not walked in them.

e My word and law into idolatry and ſuperſtitions.

7 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Becauſe ye [f] multiplied more than the nations that are round about you, and have not walked in my ſtatutes, neither have kept my judgements, neither have done according to the judgements of the nations that are round about you:

f Becauſe your idols are in greater number, and your ſuperſtitions more than among the profeſſed idolaters, read Iſa. 65. verſ. 11. or he condemneth their ingraritude in reſpect of his benefits.

8 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I, even I am againſt thee, and will execute judgements in the midſt of thee, in the ſight of the nations.

9 And I will do in thee that which I have not done, and whereunto I will not do any more the like; becauſe of all thine abominations.

10 Therefore the fathers * ſhall eat the ſonnes in the midſt of thee, and the ſonnes ſhall eat their fathers; and I will execute judgments in thee, and the whole remnant of thee will I ſcatter into all the windes.

* Lev. 26: 29. Deut. 28: 53. 2 King 6: 29. Lam. 4: 10. Baruch 2: 3.

* Chap. 7: 4, 9.

12 ¶ A third part of thee ſhall die with the peſtilence, and with famine ſhall they be conſumed in the midſt of thee: and a third part ſhall fall by the ſword round about thee: and I will ſcatter a third part into all the windes, and I will draw out a ſword after them.

13 Thus ſhall mine anger be accompliſhed, and I will cauſe my furie to reſt upon them, and I will be [g] comforted: and they ſhall know that I the LORD have ſpoken it in my zeal, when I have accompliſhed my fury in them.

g That is, I will not be pacified till I be revenged, Iſa. 1: 24.

14 Moreover, I will make thee waſte, and a reproch among the nations that are round about thee, in the ſight of all that paſſe by.

15 So it ſhall be a * reproach and a taunt, an inſtruction and an aſtoniſhment unto the nations that are round about thee; when I ſhall execute judgements in thee in anger and in fury, and in furious rebukes: I the LORD have ſpoken it.

* Deut. 28: 37.

2 Sonne of man, ſet thy face towards the * mountains of Iſrael, and propheſie againſt them,

* Chap. 36: 1.

3 And ſay, Ye mountains of Iſrael, heare the word of the Lord GOD, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD to the [a] mountains and to the hills, to the rivers and to the valleys, Behold, I even I will bring a ſword upon you, and I will deſtroy your high places.

a He ſpeaketh to all the places where the Iſraelites accuſtomed to commit their idolatry, threatning their deſtruction.

4 And your altars ſhall be deſolate, and your ‡ [b] images ſhall be broken: and I will caſt down your ſlain men before your idols.

‡ Or, ſunne images, and ſo verſe 6.
b Read 2 King. 23. verſ. 11.

5 And I will † lay the dead carcaſes of the children of Iſrael before their [c] idols, and I will ſcatter your bones round about your altars.

c In contempt of their power and force, which ſhall neither be able to deliver you, nor themſelves, 2 King 23: 20.

6 In all your dwelling-places the cities ſhall be laid waſte, and the high places ſhall be deſolate; that your altars may be laid waſte and made deſolate, and your idols may be broken and ceaſe, and your images may be cut down, and your works may be abolished.

7 And the ſlain ſhall fall in the midſt of you, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

8 ¶ Yet will I leave [d] a remnant, that ye may have ſome that ſhall eſcape the ſword among the nations, when ye ſhall be ſcattered through the countreys.

d He ſheweth that in all dangers God will preſerve a few, which ſhall be as the ſeed of his church, and call upon his name.

9 And they that eſcape of you ſhall remember me among the nations, whither they ſhall be carried captives, becauſe I am broken with their their whorish heart which hath departed from me, and with their eyes which go a whoring after their idols: and they ſhall [e] loath themſelves for the evils which they have committed in all their abominations.

10 And they ſhall know that I am the LORD, and that I have not ſaid in vain that I would do this evil unto them.

11 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, [f] Smite * with thine hand, and ſtamp with thy foot, and ſay, Alas, for all the evil abominations of the houſe of Iſrael: for they ſhall fall by the ſword, by the famine, and by the peſtilence.

12 He that is farre off ſhall die of the peſtilence, and he that is neare ſhall fall by the ſword, and he that remaineth and is beſieged ſhall die by the famine: thus will I accompliſh my fury upon them.

13 Then ſhall [g] ye know that I am the LORD, when their ſlain men ſhall be among their idols round about their altars, upon every high hill in all the tops of the mountains, and under every green tree, and under every thick oak, the place where they did offer ſweet ſavour to all their idols.

14 So will I ſtretch out my hand upon them, and make the land deſolate; yea, ‡ more deſolate than the wilderneſſe [h] towards Diblath, in all their habitations, and they ſhall know that I am the LORD.

1 The finall deſolation of Iſrael. 16 The mournfull repentance of them that eſcape. 20 The enemies defile the ſanctuary becauſe of the Iſraelites abominations. 23 Under the type of a chain, is ſhewed their miſerable captivity.

MOreover the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

2 Alſo thou ſonne of man, thus ſaith the Lord GOD unto the land of Iſrael, An end, the end is come upon the foure corners of the land.

3 Now is the end come upon thee, and I will ſend mine anger upon thee, and will judge thee according to thy wayes, and will † recompence upon thee all thine [a] abominations.

4 And mine eye ſhall not ſpare thee, neither will I have pitie: but I will recompenſe thy wayes upon thee, and thine abominations ſhall be in the midſt of thee, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

5 Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, An evil, an onely evil, behold, is come.

6 An end is come, the end is come, it † [b] watcheth for thee, behold, it is come.

7 The [c] morning is come upon thee, O thou that dwelleſt in the land: the time is come, the day of trouble is neare, and not the ‡ [d] ſounding again of the mountains.

8 Now will I ſhortly poure out my furie upon thee, and accompliſh mine anger upon thee: and I will judge thee according to thy wayes, and will recompenſe thee for all thine abominations.

9 And mine eye ſhall not ſpare, neither will I have pity: I will recompenſe ‡ thee according to thy wayes, and thine abominations that are in the midſt of thee, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD that ſmiteth.

10 Behold the day, behold, it is come, the morning is gone forth, the [e] rod hath bloſſomed, [f] pride hath budded.

11 [g] Violence is riſen up into a rod of wickedneſſe: none of them ſhall remain, nor of their ‡ multitude, nor of any of ‡ theirs, neither ſhall there be [h] wailing for them.

12 The time is come, the day draweth neare, let not the buyer [i] rejoyce, nor the ſeller [k] mourn: for wrath is upon all the multitnde thereof.

13 For the ſeller ſhall not [l] return to that which is ſold, † although they were yet alive: for the [m] viſion is touching the whole multitude thereof, which ſhall not return: [n] neither ſhall any ſtrengthen himſelf ‡ in † the iniquitie of his life.

14 [o] They have blown the trumpet, even to make all ready, but none goeth to the battel: for my wrath is upon all the multitude thereof.

15 The ſword is without, and the peſtilence and the famine within: he that is in the field ſhall die with the ſword; and he that is in the city, famine and peſtilence ſhall devoure him.

16 ¶ But they that eſcape of them, ſhall eſcape, and ſhall be on the mountains like doves of the valleys, all of them mourning, every one for his iniquitie.

17 All * hands ſhall be feeble, and all knees ſhall † be weak as water.

18 They ſhall alſo * gird themſelves with ſackcloth, and horrour ſhall cover them, and ſhame ſhall be upon all faces, and baldneſſe upon all their heads.

19 They ſhall caſt their ſilver in the ſtreets, and their gold ſhall be † removed: their * ſilver and their gold ſhall not be able to deliver them in the day of the wrath of the LORD: they ſhall not ſatisfie their ſouls, neither fill their bowels: ‡ becauſe it is the ſtumbling-block of their iniquitie.

20 ¶ As for the beauty of his [p] ornament, he ſet it in majeſtie: but they made the images of their abominations, and of their deteſtable things therein: therefore have I † ſet it farre from them.

21 And I will give it into the hands of the [q] ſtrangers for a prey, and to the wicked of the earth for a ſpoil, and they ſhall pollute it.

22 My face will I turn alſo from them, and they ſhall pollute my [r] ſecret place: for the ‡ robbers ſhall enter into it and defile it.

23 ¶ Make [ſ] a chain: for the land is full of [t] bloudy crimes, and the city is full of violence.

24 Wherefore I will bring the worſt of the heathen, and they ſhall poſſeſſe their houſes: I will alſo make the pomp of the ſtrong to ceaſe, and † their [u] holy places ſhall be defiled.

1 Ezekiel in a viſion of God at Jeruſalem, 5 is shewed the image of jealouſie, 7 the chambers of imagery, 13 the mourners for Tammuz, 15 the worshippers towards the ſunne. 18 Gods wrath for their idolatry.

AND it came to paſſe in the [a] ſixth year, in the [b] ſixth moneth, in the fifth day of the moneth, as I ſat in mine houſe, and the elders of Judah ſat before me, that the hand of the Lord God fell there upon me.

a Of the captivitie of Jeconiah.
b Which contained part of Auguſt, and part of September.

2 Then I beheld, and lo, a likeneſſe as the appearance of fire: from the [c] appearance of his loyns even downward, fire: and from his loyns even upward, as the appearance of brightneſſe, as the colour of amber.

c As Chap. 1: 27.

3 And he * put forth the form of an hand, and took me by a lock of mine head, and the ſpirit lift me up between the earth and the heaven, and brought me in the [d] viſions of God to Jeruſalem, to the doore of the inner [e] gate, that looketh toward the north, where was the ſeat of the image of [f] Jealouſie, which provoketh to jealouſie.

* Dan. 5: 5.

d Meaning, that he was thus carried in ſpirit, and not in bodie.
e Which was the porch or the court, where the people aſſembled.
f So called, becauſe it provoked Gods indignation, which was the idol of Baal.

4 And behold, the glory of the God of Iſrael was there, according to the viſion that I * ſaw in the [g] plain.

* Chap. 1: 23.
g Reade chap. 3. verſ. 22.

5 ¶ Then ſaid he unto me, Sonne of man, lift up thine eyes now the way towards the north: ſo I lift up mine eyes the way toward the north, and behold, north-ward at the gate of the [h] altar, this image of jealouſie in the entry.

h That is, in the court where the people had made an altar to Baal.

6 He ſaid furthermore unto me, Sonne of man, ſeeſt thou what they do? even the great abominations that the houſe of Iſrael committeth here, that I ſhould go farre off from my [i] ſanctuary? but turn thee yet again, and thou ſhalt ſee greater abominations.

i For God will not be where idols are.

7 ¶ And he brought me to the doore of the court; and when I looked, behold, a hole in the wall.

8 Then ſaid he unto me, Sonne of man dig now in the wall: and when I had digged in the wall, behold a doore.

9 And he ſaid unto me, Go in, and behold the wicked abominations that they do here.

10 So I went in and ſaw, and behold, every form of creeping things, and [k] abominable beaſts, and all the idols of the houſe of Iſrael pourtrayed upon the wall round about.

k Which were forbidden in the law, Levit. 11: 4.

11 And there ſtood before them ſeventy [l] men of the ancients of the houſe of Iſrael, and in the midſt of them ſtood Jaazaniah the ſonne of Shaphan, with every man his cenſer in his hand, and a thick [m] cloud of incenſe went up.

l Thus they that ſhould have kept all the reſt in the fear and true ſervice of God, were the ring-leaders to all abomination, and by their example pulled others from God.
m It was in ſuch abundance,

12 Then ſaid he unto me, Sonne of man, haſt thou ſeen what the ancients of the houſe of Iſrael [n] do in the dark, every man in the chambers of his imagery? for they ſay, * The LORD ſeeth us not, the Lord hath forſaken the earth.

n For beſides their common idolatrie, they had particular ſervice, which they had in ſecret chambers.
* Chap. 9: 9.

13 ¶ He ſaid alſo unto me, Turn thee yet again, and thou ſhalt ſee greater abominations that they do.

14 Then he brought me to the doore of the gate of the LORDS houſe, which was towards the north, and behold, there ſat women weeping for [o] Tammuz.

o The Jews write that this was a prophet of the idols, who after his death was once a yeare mourned for in the night.

15 ¶ Then ſaid he unto me, Haſt thou ſeen this, O ſonne of man? turn thee yet again, and thou ſhalt ſee greater abominations than theſe.

16 And he brought me into the inner court of the LORDS houſe, and behold, at the doore of the temple of the LORD, between the porch and the altar, were about five and twenty men, with their backs toward the temple of the LORD, and their faces toward the eaſt, and they worſhipped the ſunne toward the eaſt.

17 ¶ Then he ſaid unto me, Haſt thou ſeen this, O ſonne of man? ‡ Is it a light thing to the houſe of Judah, that they commit the abominations, which they commit here? for they have filled the land with violence, and have returned to provoke me to anger; and lo, they put the [p] branch to their noſe.

† Or, is there any thing lighter than to commit.

p Some take it for fruitfull boughs offering ſuch things as it were as firſt fruits to the ſunne and their idols.

18 Therefore will I alſo deal in fury: mine * eye ſhall not ſpare, neither will I have pity: and though they * cry in mine eares with a loud voice, yet will I not heare them.

* Chap. 5: 11, and 7: 4.
* Prov. 1: 28. Iſa. 1: 15. Jer. 11: 11. Mich. 3: 4.

CHAP. IX.

1 A viſion whereby is shewed the preſervation of ſome, 5 and the deſtruction of the reſt. 8 God cannot be intreated for them.

HE cried alſo in mine eares with a loud voice, ſaying, Cauſe them that have charge over the [a] citie, to draw neare, even every man with his deſtroying weapon in his hand.

a The time to take vengeance.

2 And behold, [b] ſix men came from the way of the higher gate, † which lieth toward the [c] north, and every man † a ſlaughter-weapon in his hand: and one man among them was clothed with linnen, with a writers [d] inkhorn † by his ſide, and they went in and ſtood beſide the braſen altar.

b Which were angels in the ſimilitude of men.
c Signifying, that the Babylonians ſhould come from the north to deſtroy the cities and the temple.

3 And the glory of the God of Iſrael was [e] gone up from the cherub whereupon he was, to the threſhold of the houſe, and he called to the man clothed with linnen, which had the writers inkhorn by his ſide;

d To mark them that ſhould be ſaved.
† Heb. upon his loyns.

4 And the LORD ſaid unto him, Go through the midſt of the city, through the midſt of Jeruſalem, and † ſet * a mark upon the foreheads of the men that [f] ſigh, and that crie for all the abominations that be done in the midſt thereof.

e Which declared that he was not bound thereunto, neither would remain any longer, than there was hope that they would turn from their wickedneſſe and worship him aright.
† Heb. mark a mark.
* Exod. 12: 7. Revel. 7: 3.
f He sheweth, what is the manner of Gods children whom he marketh to ſalvation, to wit, to mourn and crie out againſt the wickedneſſe, which they ſee committed againſt gods glorie.

5 ¶ And to the others he ſaid in † mine hearing, Go ye after him through the city, and ſmite: let not your eye ſpare, neither have ye pitie.

6 Slay † utterly old and young, both maids and little children, and women; but come not near any man upon whom is the g mark; and begin at my sanctuary: then they began at the h ancient men which were before the house.

g Thus in all his plagues the Lord preserveth his small number which he marketh, as Exod. 12. verſ. 22. Revel. 7: 3. but the chief mark is the Spirit of adoption, wherewith the heart is sealed up to life everlasting.

h Which were the chief occasion of all these evils, as Chap. 8: 11.

7 And he said unto them, Defile the house, and fill the courts with the slain, go ye forth: and they went forth and slew in the city.

8 ¶ And it came to passe while they were slaying them, and I was left, that I fell upon my face, and cried, and said, i Ah, Lord God, wilt thou destroy all the residue of Israel, in thy pouring out of thy fury upon Jerusalem?

i This declareth, that the servants of God have a compassion, when they see his judgements executed.

9 Then said he unto me, The iniquity of the house of Israel and Judah is exceeding great; and the land is † k full of bloud, and the city full of ‡ perverseness: for they say, * The LORD hath forsaken the earth, and the LORD seeth not.

k That is, with all kinde of wickedness, reade Isa. 1: 15.

‡ Or, wresting of judgement.

* Chap. 8: 12.

10 And as for me also, mine * eye shall not spare, neither will I have pity, but I will recompense their way upon their head.

* Chap. 5: 11. and 7: 4. and 8: 18.

11 And behold, the man clothed with linen, which had the inkhorn by his side, † reported the matter, saying, I have done as thou hast commanded me.

† Heb. returned the word.

CHAP. X.

1 The vision of the coals of fire, to be scattered over the citie. 8 The vision of the cherubims.

* Chap. 1: 22.

THen I looked, and behold, in the * firmament that was above the head of the a cherubims, there appeared over them, as it were a saphire-stone, as the appearance of the likeness of a throne.

a Which in the first, Chap. verſ. 5. he called the foure beasts.

2 And he spake unto the man clothed with linen, And said, Go in between the wheels, even under the cherub, and fill † thine hand with coals of fire from between the cherubims, and scatter them over the b city. And he went in my sight.

† Heb. the hollow of thine hand.

b This signified, that the citie should be burnt.

3 Now the cherubims stood on the right-side of the house, when the man went in, and the cloud filled the inner court.

4 Then the glory of the LORD † c went up from the cherub, and stood over the threshold of the house, and the house was filled with the cloud, and the court was full of the brightness of the LORDS glory.

c Meaning, that the glory of God should depart from the temple.

5 And the d sound of the cherubims wings was heard even to the utter court, as the voice of the Almighty God when he speaketh.

d Reade chap. 1. verſ. 24.

6 And it came to passe, that when he had commanded the man clothed with linen, saying, Take fire from between the wheels, from between the cherubins; then he went in, and stood beside the wheels.

† Heb. sent forth.

7 And one cherub † stretched forth his hand from between the cherubims unto the fire that was between the cherubims, and took thereof, and put it into the hands of him that was clothed with linen: who took it, and went out.

8 ¶ And there appeared in the cherubims, the form of a mans hand under their wings.

9 And when I looked, behold, the foure wheels, by the cherubims, one wheel by one cherub, and another wheel by another cherub, and the appearance of the wheels was as the colour of a e beryll stone.

e Reade cap. 1. verſ. 19.

10 And as for their appearances, they foure had one likeness, as if a wheel had been in the midst of a wheel.

11 When they went, they went upon their foure sides; they turned not as they went, but to the place whither the head looked, they followed it; they f turned not as they went.

f Untill they had executed Gods judgements.

12 And their whole † body, and their backs, and their hands, and their wings, and the wheels were full of eyes round about, even the wheels that they foure had.

13 As for the wheels, ‡ it was cried unto them in my hearing, O wheel.

‡ Or, they were called in my hearing, wheel, or galgal.

14 And every one had foure faces: the first face was the face of a cherub, and the second face was the face of a man, and the third the face of a lion, and the fourth the face of an eagle.

15 And the cherubims were lifted up: this is the living creature that I saw by the river of Chebar.

16 And when the cherubims went, the wheels went by them: and when the cherubims lift up their wings, to mount up from the earth, the same wheels also turned not from beside them.

17 When they stood, these stood, and when they were lifted up, these lift up themselves also: for the g spirit ‡ of the living creature was in them.

g There was one consent between the cherubims and the wheels.

‡ Or, of life.

18 h Then the glory of the LORD departed from off the threshold of the house, and stood over the cherubims.

h Reade chap. 9. verſ. 3.

19 And the cherubims lift up their wings: and mounted up from the earth in my sight, when they went out, the wheels also were besides them, and every one stood at the doore of the east-gate of the LORDS house, and the glory of the God of Israel was over them above.

20 This is the i living creature that I saw under the God of Israel, by the river of Chebar, and I knew that they were the cherubims.

i That is, the whole body of the foure beasts or cherubims.

21 Every one had foure faces a piece, and every one foure wings, and the likeness of the hands of a man was under their wings.

22 And the likeness of their faces was the same faces which I saw by the river of Chebar, their appearances and themselves: they went every one straight forward.

CHAP. XI.

1 The presumption of the princes. 4 Their sinne and judgement. 13 Ezekiel complaining, God sheweth him his purpose in saving a remnant, 21 and punishing the wicked. 22 The glorie of God leaveth the city. 24 Ezekiel is returned to the captivitie.

MOreover, the spirit lift me up, and brought me unto the east-gate of the LORDS house, which looketh east-ward: and behold, at the doore of the gate five and twenty men; among whom I saw Jaazaniah the sonne of Azur, and Pelatiah the sonne of Benaiah, princes of the people.

2 Then said he unto me, Sonne of man, these these are the men that deviſe miſchief, and give wicked counſel in this city.

3 Which ſay, ‡ It is not *[a] neare, let us build houſes: this city is the [b] caldron, and we be the fleſh.

‡ Or, it is not for us to build houſes neare.
* 2 Pet. 3: 4.
a Thus the wicked derided the prophets, as though they preached but errours, and therfore gave themſelves ſtill to their pleaſures.
b We ſhall not be pulled out of Jeruſalem, till the houre of our death come, as the fleſh is not taken out of the caldron till it be ſod.

4 ¶ Therefore propheſie againſt them, propheſie, O ſonne of man.

5 And the ſpirit of the LORD fell upon me, and ſaid unto me, Speak, Thus ſaith the LORD, Thus have ye ſaid, O houſe of Iſrael: for I know the things that come into your minde, every one of them.

6 Ye have multiplied your ſlain in this city, and ye have filled the ſtreets thereof with the ſlain.

7 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord God, Your ſlain whom ye have laid in the midſt of it, they are the [c] fleſh, and this citie is the caldron: but I will bring you forth out of the midſt of it.

c Contrary to their vain confidence, he ſheweth in what ſenſe this citie is the caldron: that is becauſe of the dead bodies that have been murthered therein, and ſo lie as fleſh in the caldron.

8 Ye have feared the ſword, and I will bring a ſword upon you, ſaith the Lord GOD.

9 And I will bring you out of the midſt thereof, and deliver you into the [d] hands of ſtrangers, and will execute judgements among you.

d That is, of the Caldeans.

10 Ye ſhall fall by the ſword, I will judge you in the border of [e] Iſrael, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

e That is, in Riblah, read 2 King 25: 6.

11 This citie ſhall not be your caldron: neither ſhall ye be the fleſh in the midſt thereof, but I will judge you in the border of Iſrael.

12 And ye ſhall know that I am the LORD: ‡ for ye have not walked in my ſtatutes, neither executed my judgements, but have done after the manners of the heathen that are round about you.

‡ Or, which have not walked.

13 ¶ And it came to paſſe when I propheſied, that [f] Pelatiah the ſonne of Benaiah died: then fell I down upon my face, and cried with a loud voice, and ſaid, Ah Lord GOD, wilt thou make a full end of the remnant of Iſrael?

f It ſeemeth that this noble man died of ſome terrible death, and therefore the prophet feared ſome ſtrange judgement of God toward the reſt of the people.

14 Again the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

15 Sonne of man, thy [g] brethren, even thy brethren, the men of thy kindred, and all the houſe of Iſrael wholly are they, unto whom the inhabitants of Jeruſalem have ſaid, Get ye farre from the LORD: unto us is this land given in poſſeſſion.

g They that remained ſtill at Jeruſalem, thus reproched them that were gone into captivitie, as though they were caſt off and forſaken of God.

16 Therefore ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Although I have caſt them farre off among the heathen, and although I have ſcattered them among the countreys: yet will I be to them as a little [h] ſanctuarie in the countreys where they ſhall come.

h They ſhall be yet a little church, ſhewing that the Lord will ever have ſome to call upon his name, whom he will preſerve and reſtore, though they be for a time afflicted.

17 Therefore ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, I will even gather you from the people, and aſſemble you out of the countreys where ye have been ſcattered, and I will give you the land of Iſrael.

18 And they ſhall come thither, and they ſhall take away all the deteſtable things thereof, and all the abominations thereof from thence.

19 And * I will give them one heart, and I will put a new ſpirit within you; and I will take the [i] ſtony heart out of their fleſh, and will give them an heart of fleſh:

* Jer. 32: 39. Chap. 36: 26.

i Meaning, the heart whereunto nothing can enter, and regenerate them a new, ſo that their heart may be ſoft, and ready to receive my graces.

20 That they may walk in my ſtatutes, and keep mine ordinances, and do them: and they ſhall be my people, and I will be their God.

21 But as for them whoſe heart walketh after the heart of their deteſtable things, and their abominations, I will recompenſe their way upon their own heads, ſaith the Lord GOD.

22 ¶ Then did the cherubims lift up their wings, and the wheels beſides them, and the glory of the God of Iſrael was over them above.

23 And the glory of the LORD went up from the midſt of the city, and ſtood upon the mountain, which is on the eaſt ſide of the citie.

24 ¶ Afterwards the ſpirit took me up, and brought me in viſion by the ſpirit of God into Caldea, to them of the captivity: ſo the viſion that I had ſeen went up from me.

25 Then I ſpake unto them of the [k] captivity, all the things that the LORD had ſhewed me.

k When Jeconiah was led away captive.

CHAP. XII.

1 The type of Ezekiels removing. 8 It ſhewed the captivity of Zedekiah. 17 Ezekiels trembling ſheweth the Jews deſolation. 21 The Jews preſumptuous proverb is reproved. 26 The ſpeedineſſe of the viſion.

THE word of the LORD alſo came unto me, ſaying,

2 Sonne of man, thou dwelleſt in the midſt of a rebellious houſe, which have eyes to ſee, and [a] ſee not: they have eares to heare, and heare not: for they are a rebellious houſe.

a That is, they receive not the fruit of that which they ſee and heare.

3 Therefore thou ſonne of man, prepare thee ‡ ſtuff for removing, and remove by day in their ſight, and thou ſhalt remove from thy place to another place in their ſight; it may be they will conſider, though they be a rebellious houſe.

4 Then ſhalt thou bring forth thy ſtuff by day in their ſight, as ſtuff for removing: and thou ſhalt go forth at even in their ſight, † as they that go forth into captivity.

† Heb. as the goings forth of captivitie.

5 † Dig thou through the wall in their ſight, and carry out thereby.

† Heb. dig for thee.

6 In their ſight ſhalt thou bear it upon thy ſhoulders, and carry it forth in the twilight: thou ſhalt cover thy face that thou ſee not the ground: for I have ſet thee for a [b] ſigne unto the houſe of Iſrael.

b That as thou doſt, ſo ſhall they do, and therefore in thee they ſhall ſee their own plague and puniſhment.

7 And I did ſo as I was commanded: I brought forth my ſtuff by day, as ſtuff for captivity, and in the even I † digged through the wall with mine hand, I brought it forth in the twilight, and I bare it upon my ſhoulder in their ſight.

† Heb. digged for me.

8 ¶ And in the morning came the word of the LORD, ſaying, 9 Sonne of man, hath not the houſe of Iſrael the rebellious houſe, ſaid unto thee, [c] What doeſt thou?

c Do not they deride thy doings?

10 Say thou unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, This burden concerneth the prince prince in Jerusalem, and all the house of Israel that are among them.

11 Say, I am your signe: like as I have done, so shall it be done unto them, † they shall remove and go into captivitie.

† Heb. by removing go into captivity.

12 And the prince that is among them shall bear upon his shoulder in the twilight, and shall go forth: they shall dig through the wall to carry out thereby: he shall cover his face that he see not the ground with his eyes.

13 My net also will I spread [d] upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare; and I will bring him to Babylon to the land of the Caldeans, yet shall he not see it, though he shall die there.

d When the king shall think to escape by fleeing, I will take him in my net, as Chap. 17: 20. and 32: 3.

14 And I will scatter toward every winde all that are about him to help him, and all his bands, and I will draw out the sword after them.

15 And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I shall scatter them among the nations, and disperse them in the countreys.

16 But I will leave † [e] a few men of them from the sword, from the famine, and from the pestilence, that they may declare all their abominations among the heathen whither they come, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

e Which should bear his name, and should be his church, reade Chap. 11: 16.

17 ¶ Moreover, the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, eat thy bread with quaking, and drink thy water with trembling and with carefulnesse, 19 And say unto the people of the land, Thus saith the Lord GOD, of the inhabitants of Jerusalem, and of the land of Israel, They shall eat their bread with carefulnesse, and drink their water with astonishment, that her land may be desolate from † all that is therein, because of the violence of all them that dwell therein.

† Heb. the fulnesse thereof.

20 And the cities that are inhabited, shall be laid waste, and the land shall be desolate, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

21 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying.

22 Sonne of man, what is that proverb, that ye have in the land of Israel, saying, The dayes [f] are prolonged, and every vision faileth?

f Because they did not immediately see the prophesies accomplished, they contemned them as though they should never be fulfilled.

23 Tell them therefore, Thus saith the Lord GOD, I will make this proverb to cease, and they shall no more use it as a proverb in Israel: but say unto them, The dayes are at hand, and the effect of every vision.

24 For there shall be no more any vain vision, nor flattering divination within the house of Israel.

25 For I am the LORD: I will speak, and the word that I shall speak shall come to passe: it shall be no more prolonged: for in your dayes, O rebellious house, will I say the word, and will perform it, saith the Lord GOD.

26 ¶ Again the word of the LORD came to me, saying,

27 Sonne of man, behold, they of the house of Israel say, The vision that he seeth is * for [g] many dayes to come, and he prophesieth of times that are farre off.

* 2 Pet. 3: 4.
g That is, it shall not come to passe in our dayes, and therefore we care not for it: thus the wicked ever abuse Gods patience and benignitie.

28 Therefore say unto them, thus saith the Lord GOD, there shall none of my words be prolonged any more, but the word which I have spoken shall be done, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XIII.

1 The reproof of lying prophets, 10 and their untempered morter. 17 Of propheteſſes and their pillows.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophesie against the prophets of Israel that prophesie, and say thou unto † them that prophesie out of their own * hearts, Heare ye the word of the LORD, † Heb. them that are prophets out of their own hearts.

* Jerem. 23: 16.

3 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Wo unto the foolish prophets, that † follow [a] their own spirit, ‡ and have seen nothing.

a After their own fantasie, and not as having the revelation of the Lord.
‡ Or, and things which they have not seen.

4 O Israel, thy prophets are like the foxes in the [b] deserts.

b Watching to destroy the vineyard.

5 [c] Ye have not gone up into the ‡ gaps, neither † made up the hedge for the house of Israel, to stand in the battel in the day of the LORD.

c He speaketh to the governors and true ministers that should have resisted them.
‡ Or, breaches.
† Heb. hedged the hedge.

6 They have seen vanity, and lying divination, saying, The LORD saith; and the LORD hath not sent them: and they have made others to hope, that they would confirm the word.

7 Have ye not seen a vain vision, and have ye not spoken a lying divination, whereas [d] ye say, The LORD saith it, albeit I have not spoken?

d Ye promised peace to this people, and now ye see their destruction, so that it is manifest, that ye are false prophets.

8 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Because ye have spoken vanity, and seen lies, therefore behold, I am against you, saith the Lord GOD.

9 And mine hand shall be upon the prophets that see vanity, and that divine lies: they shall not be in the ‡ assembly of my people, neither shall they be written in the [e] writing of the house of Israel, neither shall they enter into the land of Israel, and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

e That is, in the book of life, wherein the true Israelites are written.

10 ¶ Because, even because they have seduced my people, saying, [f] Peace, and there was no peace; and one built up ‡ [g] a wall, and lo, others daubed it with untempered morter:

f Reade Jer. 6. vers. 14.
‡ Or, a slight wall.
g Whereas the true prophets prophesied the destruction of the citie to bring the people to repentance, the false prophets spake the contrary, and flattered them in their vanities, so that what one false prophet said, (which is here called the building of the wall) another false prophet would affirm, though he had neither occasion nor good ground to beat him.

11 Say unto them which daub it with untempered morter, that it shall fall: there shall be an overflowing showre, and ye, O great hailstones, shall fall, and a stormy winde shall rent it.

12 Lo, when the wall is fallen, shall it not be said unto you, Where is the daubing wherewith ye have daubed it?

13 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, I will even rent it with a stormy winde in my fury: and there shall be an overflowing showre in mine anger, and great hail-stones in my fury to consume it.

14 So will I break down the wall that ye have daubed with untempered morter, and bring it down to the ground, so that the foun-

622 foundation thereof ſhall be diſcovered, and it ſhall fall, and ye ſhall be conſumed in the midſt thereof: and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

15 Thus will I accompliſh my wrath upon the wall, and upon them that have daubed it with [h] untempered morter, and will ſay unto you, The wall is no more, neither they that daubed it;

16 To wit, the prophets of Iſrael which propheſie concerning Jeruſalem, and which ſee viſions of peace for her, and there is no peace, ſaith the Lord GOD.

17 ¶ Likewiſe thou ſonne of man, ſet thy face againſt the daughters of thy people, which propheſie out of their own heart; and propheſie thou againſt them,

18 And ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Wo to the women that ſow [i] pillows to all ‡ armholes, and make kerchiefs upon the head of every ſtature to hunt ſouls: Will ye hunt the ſouls of my people, and will ye ſave the ſouls alive that come unto you?

19 And will ye pollute me among my people for handfulls of [k] barley, and for pieces of bread, to ſlay the ſouls that ſhould not die, and to [l] ſave the ſouls alive that ſhould not live, by your lying to my people that heare your lies?

20 Wherefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am againſt your pillows, wherewith ye there [m] hunt the ſouls, ‡ to make them fly, and I will tear them from your arms, and will let the ſouls go, even the ſouls that ye hunt to make them flie.

21 Your kerchiefs alſo will I tear, and deliver my people out of your hand, and they ſhall be no more in your hand, to be hunted, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

22 Becauſe with lies ye have made the heart of the [n] righteous ſad, whom I have not made ſad; and ſtrengthened the hands of the wicked, that he ſhould not return from his wicked way, ‡ † promiſing him life:

23 Therefore ye ſhall ſee no more vanity, nor divine divinations, for I will deliver my people out of your hand, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

h Whereby is meant, whatſoever man of himſelf ſetteth forth under the authoritie of Gods word.

i Theſe ſuperſtitious women for lucre would propheſie, and tell every man his fortune, giving them pillows to lean upon, and kerchiefs to cover their heads, to the intent they might the more allure them and bewitch them.

k Will ye make my word to ſerve your bellies?

l Theſe ſorcerers made the people beleeve that they could preſerve life, or deſtroy it, and that it ſhould come to everie one according as they propheſied.

m That is, to cauſe them to periſh, and that they ſhould depart from the bodie.

‡ Or, into gardens.

n By threatning them that were godly, and upholding the wicked.

‡ Or, that I ſhould ſave his life.

† Heb. by quickening him.

CHAP. XIIII.

1 God anſwereth idolaters according to their own heart. 6 They are exhorted to repent, for fear of judgements, by means of ſeduced prophets. 12 Gods irrevocable ſentence of famine, 15 of noiſome beaſts. 17 of the ſword, 19 and of peſtilence. 22 A remnant ſhall be reſerved for example of others.

THen came certain of the elders of Iſrael unto me, and [a] ſat before me.

2 And the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

3 Sonne of man, theſe men have ſet up their idols in their [b] heart, and put the ſtumbling-block of their iniquitie before their face: ſhould I be enquired of at all by them?

4 Therefore ſpeak unto them, and ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Every man of the houſe of Iſrael that ſetteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the ſtumbling block of his iniquity before his face, and cometh to the [c] prophet, I the LORD will anſwer him that cometh, according to the multitude [d] of his idols,

5 That I may [e] take the houſe of Iſrael in their own heart, becauſe they are all eſtranged from me through their idols.

6 ¶ Therefore ſay unto the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Repent and turn ‡ your ſelves from your idols, and turn away your faces from all your abominations.

7 For everie one of the houſe of Iſrael, or of the ſtranger that ſojourneth in Iſrael, which ſeparateth himſelf from me, and ſetteth up his idols in his heart, and putteth the ſtumbling-block of his iniquitie before his face, and cometh to a prophet to enquire of him concerning me; I the LORD will anſwer him by my ſelf.

8 And I will ſet my face againſt that man, and will make him a * ſigne and a proverb, and I will cut him off from the midſt of my people, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

9 And if the prophet be [f] deceived when he hath ſpoken a thing, I the LORD have deceived that prophet, and I will ſtretch out my hand upon him, and will deſtroy him from the midſt of my people Iſrael.

10 And they ſhall bear the punishment of their iniquitie: the puniſhment of the prophet ſhall be even as the punishment of him that ſeeketh unto him:

11 That the houſe of Iſrael [g] may go no more aſtray from me, neither be polluted any more with all their tranſgreſſions: but that they may be my people, and I may be their God, ſaith the Lord GOD.

12 ¶ The word of the LORD came again to me, ſaying,

13 Sonne of man, when the land ſinneth againſt me by treſpaſſing grievouſly, then will I ſtretch out mine hand upon it, and will break the * [h] ſtaff of the bread thereof, and will ſend famine upon it, and will cut off man and beaſt from it.

14 * Though theſe three men, [i] Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, they ſhould deliver but their own ſouls by their [k] righteouſneſſe, ſaith the Lord GOD.

15 ¶ If I cauſe noiſome beaſts to paſſe through the land, and they ‡ ſpoil it, ſo that it be deſolate, that no man may paſſe through becauſe of the beaſts:

16 Though theſe three men were † in it, as I live, ſaith the Lord GOD, they ſhall deliver neither ſonnes nor daughters; they onely ſhall be delivered, but the land ſhall be deſolate.

17 ¶ Or if I bring a ſword upon that land, and ſay, Sword, go through the land; ſo that I cut off man and beaſt from it.

18 Though theſe three men were in it, as I live, ſaith the Lord GOD, they ſhall deliver neither ſonnes nor daughters, but they onely ſhall be delivered themſelves.

19 ¶ Or if I ſend a peſtilence into that land a He ſheweth the hypocriſie of the idolaters, who will diſſemble to hear the prophets of God, though in their heart they follow nothing leſſe than their admonitions, and alſo how by one meanes or other, God doth diſcover them.

b They are not onely idolaters in heart, but alſo worſhip their filthy idols openly, which lead them in blindneſſe, and cauſe them to ſtumble, and caſt them out of Gods favour, ſo that he will not heare them when they call unto him, reade Jer. 10: 15.

c To enquire of things which the Lord hath appointed to come to paſſe.

d As his abomination hath deſerved, that is, he ſhall be led with lies, according as he delighted therein, 2 Theſ. 2: 10.

e That is, convince them by their own conſcience.

f The prophet declareth, that God, for mans ingratitude, raiſeth up falſe prophets to ſeduce them that delight in lies, rather than in the truth of God, and thus he puniſheth ſin by ſin, 1 Kings 22. verſ. 20, 22. and deſtroyeth as well thoſe prophets as that people.

g Thus Gods judgements againſt the wicked, are admonitions to the godly, to cleave unto the Lord, and not to defile themſelves with like abominations.

* Lev. 26: 26.

h Reade chap. 4. verſ. 16. and 5: 16. Iſa. 3: 1.

* Jer. 15: 1.

i Though Noah and Job were now alive, which in their time were moſt godly men (for at this time Daniel was in captivitie with Ezekiel) and ſo theſe three together ſhould pray for this wicked people, yet ſhould I not heare them.

k Meaning, that a very few (which he calleth the remnant, verſ. 22.) ſhould eſcape theſe plagues, whom God hath ſanctified and made righteous, ſo that this righteouſneſs is a ſigne that they are the church of God, whom he would preſerve for his own ſake.

† Or, bereave.

land, and poure out my furie upon it in bloud, to cut off from it man and beaſt:

20 Though Noah, Daniel, and Job were in it, as I live, ſaith the Lord GOD, they ſhall deliver neither ſonne nor daughter: they ſhall but deliver their own ſouls by their righteouſneſſe.

‡ Or, alſo when,

21 For thus ſaith the Lord GOD, ‡ How much more when I ſend my foure ſore judgements upon Jeruſalem, the ſword, and the famine, and the noiſome beaſt, and the peſtilence, to cut off from it man and beaſt?

ǁ Read chap. 5: 3.

22 ¶ Yet behold, therein ſhall be left a ǁ remnant that ſhall be brought forth, both ſonnes and daughters: behold they ſhall come forth unto you, and ye ſhall ſee their way, and their doings: and ye ſhall be comforted concerning the evil that I have brought upon Jeruſalem, even concerning all that I have brought upon it.

23 And they ſhall comfort you when ye ſee their wayes and their doings: and ye ſhall know that I have not done without cauſe, all that I have done in it, ſaith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XV.

3 By the unfitneſſe of the vine-branch for any work, 6 is ſhewed the rejection of Jeruſalem.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me ſaying,

2 Sonne of man, What is the vine-tree more than any tree, or than a branch which is among the [a] trees of the forreſt?

a Which bringeth forth no fruit, no more than the other trees of the forreſt doe: meaning, that if Jeruſalem, which bare the name of his church, did not bring forth fruit, it ſhould be utterly deſtroyed.

3 Shall wood be taken thereof to do any work? or will men take a pin of it to hang any veſſel thereon?

4 Behold, it is caſt into the fire for fewel; the fire devoureth both the ends of it, and the midſt of it is burnt: † is it meet for any work?

† Heb. will it proſper.

5 Behold, when it was whole it was † meet for no work: how much leſſe ſhall it be meet yet for any work when the fire hath devoured it, and it is burned?

† Heb. made it.

6 ¶ Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, As the vine-tree among the trees of the forreſt, which I have given to the fire for fewel, ſo will I give the inhabitants of Jeruſalem.

7 And I will ſet my face againſt them, they ſhall go out from one fire, and another [b] fire ſhall devoure them: and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD, when I ſet my face againſt them.

b Though they eſcape one danger yet another ſhall take them.

8 And I will make the land deſolate, becauſe they have † committed a treſpaſſe, ſaith the Lord GOD.

† Heb. treſpaſſed a treſpaſſe.

CHAP. XVI.

1 Under the ſimilitude of a wretched infant, is ſhewed the naturall ſtate of Jeruſalem. 6 Gods extraordinary love towards her. 15 Her monſtrous whoredome. 35 Her grievous judgement. 44 Her ſinne, matching her mother, and exceeding her ſiſters Sodom and Samaria, calleth for judgements. 60 Mercy is promiſed her in the end.

AGAIN the word of the LORD came unto me ſaying,

2 Sonne of man, cauſe Jeruſalem to know her abominations,

† Heb. cutting out, or habitation,

3 And ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD unto Jeruſalem, Thy † birth, and thy nativitie is of the land of [a] Canaan, thy father was an Amorite, and thy mother an Hittite.

a Thou boaſteſt to be of the ſeed of Abraham, but thou art degenerate and followeſt the abominations of the wicked Canaanites, as children do the manners of their fathers, Iſa. 1: 4. and 57. 3.

4 And as for thy nativitie in the day thou waſt [b] born, thy navel was not cut, neither waſt thou waſhed in water ‡ to ſupple thee: thou waſt not ſalted at all, nor ſwadled at all.

b When I firſt brought thee out of Egypt, and planted thee in this land to be my church.

‡ Or, when I looked upon thee.

5 None eye pitied thee, to do any of theſe unto thee, to have compaſſion upon thee; but thou waſt caſt out in the open field, to the loathing of thy perſon, in the day that thou waſt born.

6 ¶ And when I paſſed by thee, and ſaw thee ‡ polluted in thine [c] own bloud, I ſaid unto thee when thou waſt in thy bloud, Live: yea, I ſaid unto thee when thou waſt in thy bloud, Live.

c Being thus in thy filthineſſe, and forſaken of all men, I took thee, and gave thee life: whereby is meant, that before God wash his church and give life, there is nothing but filthineſſe and death.

7 I have † cauſed thee to multiply as the bud of the field, and thou haſt increaſed and waxen great, and thou art come to † excellent ornaments: thy breaſts are faſhioned, and thine hair is grown, whereas thou waſt naked and bare.

† Heb. made thee a million.

† Heb. ornament of ornaments.

8 Now when I paſſed by thee, and looked upon thee, behold, thy time was the time of love, and I ſpread my skirt over thee, and covered thy [d] nakedneſſe: yea, I ſware unto thee, and entred into a covenant with [e] thee, ſaith the Lord GOD, and thou becameſt mine.

d Theſe words, as bloud, pollution, nakedneſſe, and filthineſſe, are oftimes repeated, to beat down their pride, and to cauſe them to conſider what they were before God received them to mercy, favoured them, and covered their ſhame.

e That thou ſhouldeſt be a chaſte wife unto me, and that I ſhould maintain thee, and endue thee with all graces.

9 Then waſhed I thee with [f] water: yea, I throughly waſhed away thy † bloud from thee, and I [g] anointed thee with oyl.

f I waſhed away thy ſins.

g I ſanctified thee with mine holy ſpirit.

10 I clothed thee alſo with broidered work and ſhod thee with badgers skin and I girded thee about with fine linen, and I covered thee with ſilk.

h Hereby he ſheweth how he ſaved his church, enriched it, and gave it power and dominion to reign.

11 I decked thee alſo with ornaments: and put bracelets upon thine hands, and a chain on thy neck.

12 And I put a jewel on thy forehead, and eare-rings in thine eares, and a beautifull [h] crown upon thine head.

13 Thus waſt thou decked with gold and ſilver; and thy raiment was of fine linen, and ſilk, and broidered work: thou didſt eat fine floure, and honey, and oyl: and thou waſt exceeding beautifull, and thou didſt proſper into a kingdome.

i He declareth wherein the dignity of Jeruſalem ſtood: to wit, in that that the Lord gave them of his beauty and excellency.

14 And thy renown went forth among the heathen for thy beauty: for it was perfect through my [i] comelineſſe which I had put upon thee, ſaith the Lord God.

k In abuſing my gifts, and in putting thy confidence in thine own wiſdome and dignity, which were the occaſion of thine idolatry.

15 ¶ But thou didſt [k] truſt in thine own beauty, and playedſt the harlot becauſe of thy renown, and pouredſt out thy [l] fornications on every one that paſſed by; his it was.

l There was no idolatry ſo vile wherewith thou didſt not pollute thy ſelf.

16 And of thy garments thou didſt take, and deckedſt thy high places with divers colours, and [m] playedſt the harlot thereupon: the like thing ſhall not come, neither ſhall it be ſo.

m This declareth, how the idolaters put their chief delight in thoſe things, which pleaſe the eyes and outward ſences.

17 Thou haſt alſo taken thy fair jewels of my gold and of my ſilver, which I had given thee, and [n] madeſt to thy ſelf images † of men, and didſt commit whoredome with them.

n Thou haſt converted my veſſels and inſtruments which I gave thee to ſerve me with, to the uſe of thine idols.

18 And tookeſt thy broidered garments, and coveredſt them: and thou haſt ſet mine oyl and mine incenſe before them.

624

19 My meat alſo which I gave thee, fine floure, and oyl, and hony wherewith I fed thee, thou haſt even ſet it before them for † a ſweet ſavour: and thus it was, ſaith the Lord GOD.

† Heb. a ſavour of reſt.

20 Moreover, thou haſt taken thy ſonnes and thy daughters, whom thou haſt born unto me, and theſe haſt thou ſacrificed unto them † to be ° devoured: is this of thy whoredomes a ſmall matter?

† Heb. to devoure. ° Meaning, by fire, read Levit. 18: 21. 2 King 23: 10.

21 That thou haſt ſlain my children, and delivered them to cauſe them to paſſe through the fire for them?

22 And in all thine abominations and thy whoredomes thou haſt not remembred the dayes of thy youth, when thou waſt naked and bare, and waſt polluted in thy bloud.

23 And it came to paſſe after all thy wickedneſſe (WO, WO unto thee, ſaith the Lord GOD)

24 That thou haſt alſo built unto thee an ‡ eminent place, and haſt made thee an high place in every ſtreet.

‡ Or, brothelhouſe.

25 Thou haſt built thy high place at every head of the way, and haſt made thy beauty to be abhorred, and haſt opened thy feet to every one that paſſed by, and multiplied thy whoredomes.

26 Thou haſt alſo committed fornication with the P Egyptians thy neighbours, great of fleſh, and haſt increaſed thy whoredomes, to provoke me to anger.

P He noteth the great impiety of this people, who firſt falling from God to ſeek help at ſtrange nations, did alſo at length imbrace their idolatry, thinking thereby to make their amity more ſtrong.

27 Behold therefore, I have ſtretched out my hand over thee, and have diminiſhed thine ordinary food, and delivered thee unto the will of them that hate thee, the ‡ daughters of the Philiſtines, which are aſhamed of thy lewd way.

‡ Or, cities.

28 Thou haſt played the whore alſo with the Aſſyrians, becauſe thou waſt unſatiable: yea, thou haſt played the harlot with them, and yet couldeſt not be ſatisfied.

29 Thou haſt moreover multiplied thy fornication in the land of Canaan unto Caldea, and yet thou waſt not ſatisfied herewith.

30 How weak is thine heart, ſaith the Lord GOD, ſeeing thou doeſt all theſe things, the work of an imperious whoriſh woman?

‡ Or, in thy daughters is thine, &c.

31 ‡ In that thou buildeſt thine eminent place in the head of every way, and makeſt thine high place in every ſtreet, and haſt not been as an harlot (in that thou q ſcorneſt hire)

q Meaning, that ſome harlots contemn ſmall rewards, but no lovers gave a reward to Iſrael, but they gave to all others: ſignifying, that the idolaters beſtow all their ſubſtance, which they receive of God for his glory, to ſerve their vile abominations.

32 But as a wife that committeth adultery, which taketh ſtrangers in ſtead of her husband 33 They give gifts to all whores, but thou giveſt thy gifts to all thy lovers, and † hireſt them, that they may come unto thee on every ſide for thy whoredome.

34 And the contrary is in thee from other women in thy whoredomes, whereas none followeth thee to commit whoredomes: and in that thou giveſt a reward, and no reward is given unto thee; therefore thou art contrary.

35 ¶ Wherefore, O harlot, heare the word of the LORD.

36 Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Becauſe thy filthineſſe was poured out, and thy nakedneſſe diſcovered through thy whoredomes with thy lovers, and with all the idols of thy abominations, and by the bloud of thy children, which thou didſt give unto them;

37 Behold therefore, I will gather all thy r lovers, with whom thou haſt taken pleaſure, and all them that thou haſt loved, with all them that thou haſt hated: I will even gather them round about againſt thee, and will diſcover thy nakedneſſe unto them, that they may ſee all thy nakedneſſe.

r Egyptians, Aſſyrians and Chaldeans, whom thou tookeſt to be thy lovers, ſhall come and deſtroy thee, chap 23: 9.

38 And I will judge thee, † as women that break ſ wedlock, and ſhed bloud, are judged, and I will give thee bloud in fury and jealouſie.

† Heb. with judgement of. ſ I will judge thee to death, as the adulterers and murtherers.

39 And I will alſo give thee into their hand, and they ſhall throw down thine eminent place, and ſhall break down thy high places: they ſhall ſtrip thee alſo of thy clothes, and ſhall take † thy fair jewels, and leave thee naked and bare.

† Heb. inſtruments of thine ornament.

40 They ſhall alſo bring up a company againſt thee, and they ſhall ſtone thee with ſtones, and thruſt thee through with their ſwords.

41 And they ſhall * burn thine houſes with fire, and execute judgements upon thee in the ſight of many women: and I will cauſe thee to ceaſe from playing the harlot, and thou alſo ſhalt give no hire any more.

* 2 King 25: 9. Jer. 52: 13.

42 So will I make my fury towards thee to reſt, and my t jealouſie ſhall depart from thee, and I will be quiet, and will be no more angry.

t I will utterly deſtroy thee, and ſo my jealouſie ſhall ceaſe.

43 Becauſe thou haſt not remembred the dayes of thy youth, but haſt fretted me in all theſe things; behold therefore, I alſo will u recompenſe thy way upon thine head, ſaith the Lord GOD, and thou ſhalt not commit this lewdneſſe, above all thine abominations.

u I have punished thy faults, but thou wouldeſt not repent.

44 ¶ Behold, every one that uſeth proverbs, ſhall uſe this proverb againſt thee, ſaying. As is the mother, x ſo is her daughter.

x As were the Canaanites, and the Hittites, & others your predeceſſors, ſo are you their ſucceſſors.

45 Thou art thy mothers y daughter, that lotheth her husband and her children, and thou art the ſiſter of thy z ſiſters, which lothed their husbands, and their children: your mother was an Hittite, and your father an Amorite.

y That is, of Samaria and Sodom. z That is, her cities.

46 And thine elder ſiſter is Samaria, ſhe and her daughters that dwell at thy left hand: and † thy younger ſiſter, that dwelleth at thy right hand, is Sodom and her daughters.

47 Yet haſt thou a not walked after their wayes, nor done after their abominations: but ‡ as if that were a very little thing, thou waſt corrupted more than they in all thy wayes.

a But done farre worſe. ‡ Or, that was loathed as a ſmall thing.

48 As I live, ſaith the Lord GOD, Sodom thy ſiſter hath not done, ſhe nor her daughters, as thou haſt done, thou and thy daughters.

49 Behold, this was the iniquity of thy ſiſter Sodom, b Pride, fulneſſe of bread, and abundance of idleneſſe was in her and in her daughters, neither did ſhe ſtrengthen the hand of the poore and needy.

b He alleadgeth theſe foure vices, pride, exceſſe, idleneſſe, & contempt of the poore, as foure principall cauſes of ſuch abomination, wherefore they were ſo horribly punished, Gen. 19: 24.

50 And they were haughty, and committed abomination abomination before me: therefore * I took them away as I saw good.

* Gen. 19: 24.

51 Neither hath [c] Samaria committed half of thy sinnes, but thou hast multiplied thine abominations more than they, and hast [d] justified thy sisters in all thine abominations which thou hast done.

c Which worshipped the calves in Bethel and Dan.

d Thou art so wicked, that in respect of thee, Sodom and Samaria were just.

52 Thou also which hast judged thy sisters, bear thine own shame for thy sinnes that thou hast committed more abominable than they: they are more righteous than thou: yea, be thou confounded also, and bear thy shame, in that thou hast justified thy sisters.

53 When I shall bring again their [e] captivitie, the captivitie of Sodom and her daughters, and the captivitie of Samaria and her daughters, then will I bring again the captivitie of thy captives in the midst of them.

e This he speaketh in comparison, saying, that he would restore Jerusalem, when Sodom should be restored, that is, never: and this meant of the greatest part of the Jews.

54 That thou mayest bear thine own shame, and mayest be confounded in all that thou hast done, in that thou art a [f] comfort unto them.

f In that thou hast shewed thy self worse than they, and yet thoughtest to escape punishment.

55 When thy sisters Sodom and her daughters, shall return to their former estate, and Samaria, and her daughters shall return to their former estate, [g] then thou and thy daughters shall return to your former estate.

g Meaning, that it should never come to passe.

56 For thy sister Sodom was not † mentioned by [h] thy mouth in the day of thy † pride.

† Heb. for a report, or, hearing.

h Thou wouldest not call her punishment to minde when thou wast aloft, to learne by her example to feare my judgements.

† Heb. prides, or excellencies.

57 Before thy wickednesse was [i] discovered, as at the time of thy reproach of the daughters of † Syria, and all that are round about [k] her, the daughters of the Philistines which ‡ despise thee round about.

i That is, till thou wast brought under by the Syrians and Philistines, 2 Chron. 28: 19.

† Heb. Aram.

k Which joyned with the Syrians, or compassed about Jerusalem.

‡ Or, spoil.

58 Thou hast † born thy lewdnesse, and thine abominations, saith the Lord.

† Heb. born them.

59 For thus saith the Lord GOD, I will even deal with thee as thou hast done, which hast despised the [l] oath in breaking the covenant.

l When thou brakest the covenant, which was made between thee and me, as vers. 8.

60 ¶ Nevertheless, I will [m] remember my covenant with thee in the dayes of thy youth, and I will establish unto thee an everlasting covenant.

m That is, of mercy and love I will pitie thee, and so stand to my covenant, though thou hast deserved the contrary.

61 Then thou shalt remember thy wayes, and be ashamed, when thou shalt receive thy [n] sisters, thine elder and thy younger: and I will give them unto thee for * daughters, [o] but not by thy covenant.

n Whereby he sheweth, that among the most wicked he had ever some seed of his church, which he would cause to fructifie in due times: and here he declareth how he will call the Gentiles.

* Galat. 4: 26.

o But of my free mercy.

62 And I will establish my covenant with thee, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

63 That thou mayest remember and be [p] confounded, and never open thy mouth any more: because of thy shame, when I am pacified toward thee, for all that thou hast done, saith the Lord GOD.

p This declareth what fruits Gods mercies worke in his, to wit, sorrow and repentance for their former life.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Under the parable of two eagles and a vine, 11 is shewed Gods judgement upon Jerusalem for revolting from Babylon to Egypt. 22 God promiseth to plant the cedar of the gospel.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, put forth a riddle, and speak a parable unto the house of Israel.

3 And say, Thus saith the Lord GOD, A great [a] eagle with great wings, long-winged, full of feathers, which had † divers colours, came unto Lebanon, and took the highest branch of the cedar:

a That is, Nebuchad nezzar, who hath great power, riches, and many countreis under him, shall come to Jerusalem, and take away Jeconiah the king, as verse 12.

† Heb. embroidering.

4 He cropt off the top of his young twigs, and carried it into a land of [b] traffick; he set it in a citie of merchants.

b Meaning to Babylon.

5 He took also of the [c] seed of the land, and † planted it in a fruitfull field, he placed it by great waters, and set it as a willow-tree.

c That is, Zedekiah, who was of the kings bloud and was left at Jerusalem, and made king in stead of Jeconiah, 2 King. 24: 17. Jerem. 37: 1.

† Heb. put it in a field of seed.

6 And it grew, and became [d] a spreading vine of [e] low stature, whose branches turned toward him, and the roots thereof were under him, so it became a vine, and brought forth branches, and shot forth sprigs.

d This was Zedekiahs kingdom.

e That it might not have power to rebell against Babylon, as vers. 14.

7 There was also another [f] great eagle with great wings and many feathers, and behold, this vine did bend her roots toward him, and shot forth her branches towards him, that he might water it by the furrows of her plantation, f Meaning, the king of Egypt, of whom Zedekiah sought succour against Nebuchadnezzar.

8 It was planted in a good † soil: by great [g] waters, that it might bring forth branches, and that it might bear fruit, that it might be a goodly vine.

† Heb field.

g They thought to be moistned by the waters of Nilus.

9 Say thou, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Shall it prosper? shall [h] he not pull up the roots thereof, and cut off the fruit thereof that it wither? it shall wither in all the leaves of her spring, even without great power, or many people to pluck it up by the roots thereof.

h Shall not Nebuchad-nezzar.

10 Yea, behold, being planted, shall it prosper? shall it not utterly wither, [i] when the eastwinde toucheth it? it shall wither in the furrows where it grew.

i By this drie winde, he meaneth the Babylonians.

11 ¶ Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

12 Say now to the rebellious house, Know ye not what these things mean? tell them, Behold, the king of Babylon is come to Jerusalem, and hath [k] taken the king thereof, and the princes thereof, and led them with him to Babylon.

k That is, Jeconiah, 2 King. 24. vers. 15.

13 And hath taken of the kings seed, and made a covenant with him, and hath † taken an [l] oath of him: he hath also taken the mighty of the land.

l For his subjection and obedience.

† Heb. brought him to an oath.

14 That the kingdome might be base, that it might not lift it self up, † but that by keeping of his covenant it might stand.

† Heb. to keep his covenant, to stand to it.

15 But he rebelled against him in sending his ambassadours into Egypt, that they might give him horses and much people: shall he prosper? shall he escape that doeth such things? or shall he break the covenant, and be delivered?

16 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely in the place where the king dwelleth that made him king, whose oath he despised, and whose covenant he brake, even with him, in the midst of Babylon he shall die.

17 Neither shall Pharaoh with his mighty army and great company make for him in the warre by casting up mounts, and building forts, to cut off many persons.

18 Seeing he despised the oath, by breaking the covenant (when lo, he had given his [m] hand) and hath done all these things, he shall not escape.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, As I live, surely mine oath that he hath despised, and my covenant that he hath broken, even it will I recompense upon his own head.

20 And I will * spread my net upon him, and he shall be taken in my snare, and I will bring him to Babylon, and will plead with him there for his trespasse that he hath trespassed against me.

21 And all his fugitives with all his bands shall fall by the sword, and they that remain shall be scattered towards all windes: and ye shall know that I the LORD have spoken it.

22 ¶ Thus saith the Lord GOD, I will also take of the [n] highest branch of the high cedar, and will set it, I will crop off from the [o] top of his young twigs a tender one, and will plant it upon an high mountain and eminent.

23 In the mountain of the height of Israel will I plant it: and it shall bring forth boughs, and bear fruit, and be a goodly cedar, and under it shall dwell all [p] fowl of every wing: in the shadow of the branches thereof shall they dwell.

24 And all the [q] trees of the field shall know that I the LORD have brought down the high tree, have exalted the low tree, have dried up the green tree, and have made the dry tree to flourish: I the LORD have spoken and have done it.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 God reproveth the unjust parable of sowre grapes. 5 He sheweth how he dealeth with a just father, 10 with a wicked sonne of a just father, 14 with a just sonne of a wicked father, 19 with a wicked man repenting, 24 with a just man revolting. 25 He defendeth his justice, 31 and exhorteth to repentance.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me again, saying,

2 What mean ye, that ye use this proverb concerning the land of Israel, saying, [a] The fathers have eaten sowre grapes, and the childrens teeth are set on edge?

3 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, ye shall not have occasion any more to use this proverb in Israel.

4 Behold, all souls are mine, as the soul of the father, so also the soul of the sonne is mine: the soul that sinneth, it shall die.

5 ¶ But if a man be just, and do † that which is lawfull and right,

6 And hath not [b] eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lift up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, neither hath * defiled his neighbours wife, neither hath come neare to * a menstruous woman,

7 And hath not * oppressed any, but hath restored to the debtour his * pledge, hath spoiled none by violence, hath * given his bread to the hungry, and hath covered the naked with a garment,

8 He that hath not given forth upon * usury, neither hath taken any increase, that hath withdrawn his hand from iniquity, hath executed true judgement between man and man,

9 Hath walked in my statutes, and hath kept my judgements to deal truly; he is just, he shall surely live, saith the Lord GOD.

10 ¶ If he beget a sonne that is a ‡ robber, a shedder of bloud, and ‡ that doeth the like to any one of these things,

11 And that doeth not any of those duties, but even hath eaten upon the mountains, and defiled his neighbours wife,

12 Hath oppressed the poore and needy, hath spoiled by violence, hath not restored the pledge, and hath lift up his eyes to the idols, hath committed abomination,

13 Hath given forth upon usury, and hath taken increase: shall he then live? he shall not live: he hath done all these abominations, [e] he shall surely die, his † bloud shall be upon him.

14 ¶ Now lo, if he beget a sonne that seeth all his fathers sinnes which he hath done, and considereth, and doeth not such like,

15 That hath not eaten upon the mountains, neither hath lift up his eyes to the idols of the house of Israel, hath not defiled his neighbours wife,

1 A lamentation for the princes of Iſrael, under the parable of lions whelps taken in a pit; 10 and for Jeruſalem, under the parable of a waſted vine.

MOreover, take thou up a lamentation for the [a] princes of Iſrael, [a] That is, Jehoahaz and Jehoiakim, Joſias ſons, who, for their pride and cruelty, are compared unto lions.

2 And ſay, What is thy [b] mother? a lioneſſe: ſhe lay down among lions, ſhe nouriſhed her whelps among young lions.

[b] To wit, Jehoahaz mother, or Jeruſalem.

3 And ſhe brought up one of her whelps: it became a young lion, and it learned to catch the prey, it devoured men.

4 The [c] nations alſo heard of him, he was taken in their pit, and they brought him with chains unto the land of Egypt.

[c] By Pharaoh Necho king of Egypt, 2 King. 23. verſ. 33, 34. Jer. 22: 11, 12.

5 Now when ſhe ſaw that ſhe had waited and her hope was loſt, then ſhe took another of her [d] whelps, and made him a young lion.

[d] Which was Jehoiakim.

6 And he went up and down among the lions, he became a young lion and learned to catch the prey, and devoured [e] men.

[e] He ſlew of the prophets, and them that feared God, and ravished their wives.

7 And he knew ‡ their deſolate palaces, and he laid waſte their cities, and the land was deſolate, and the fulneſſe thereof by the noiſe of his roaring.

‡ Or, their widows.

‡ Or, in thy quietneſſe, or in thy likeneſſe.

11 And ſhe had ſtrong rods for the ſcepters of them that bear rule, and her ſtature was exalted among the thick branches, and ſhe appeared in her height with the multitude of her branches.

12 But ſhe was plucked up in fury, ſhe was caſt down to the ground, and the * [h] eaſt-winde dried up her fruit: her ſtrong rods were broken and withered, the fire conſumed them.

1 God refuſeth to be conſulted by the elders of Iſrael. 5 He sheweth the ſtory of their rebellions in Egypt, 10 in the wilderneſſe, 27 and in the land. 33 He promiſeth to gather them by the goſpel. 45 Under the name of a forreſt he sheweth the deſtruction of Jeruſalem.

AND it came to paſſe in the [a] ſeventh yeare, in the fifth moneth, the tenth day of the moneth, that certain of the elders of Iſrael came to enquire of the LORD, & ſat before me.

[a] Of the captivitie of Jeconiah.

2 Then came the word of the LORD unto me, ſaying,

3 Sonne of man, ſpeak unto the elders of Iſrael, and ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Are ye come to enquire of me? as I live, ſaith the Lod GOD, I will not be enquired of by you.

4 Wilt thou ‡ * judge them, ſonne of man, wilt thou judge them? [b] cauſe them to know the abominations of their fathers:

‡ Or, plead for them.
* Chap. 22: 2. and 23: 36.
[b] This declareth the great lenitie and patience of God, which calleth ſinners to repentance before he condemn them.

5 ¶ And ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, In the day when I choſe Iſrael, and ‡ [c] lifted up mine hand unto the ſeed of the houſe of Jacob, and made my ſelf * known unto them in the land of Egypt, when I lifted up mine hand unto them, ſaying, I am the LORD your God.

‡ Or, ſware, and ſo verſ. 6. &c.
[c] I ſware that I would be their God, which manner of oath was obſerved from all antiquitie, where they uſed to lift up their hands toward the heaven, acknowledging God to be the author of truth, and the defender thereof, and alſo the judge of the heart, wiſhing that he ſhould take vengeance, if they concealed any thing which they knew to be truth.

6 In the day that I lifted up mine hand unto them to bring them forth of the land of Egypt, into a land that I had eſpied for them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands:

7 Then ſaid I unto them, Caſt ye away every man the abominations of his eyes, and [d] defile not your ſelves with the idols of Egypt: I am the LORD your God.

* Exod. 3: 8. and 4: 31.
[d] God had forbidden them to make mention of the idols, Exod. 23: 13. Pſalm 16: 4.

8 But they rebelled againſt me, and would not hearken unto me: they did not every man caſt away the abominations of [e] their eyes, neither did they forſake the idols of Egypt: then I ſaid, I will poure out my fury upon them, to accomplish my anger againſt them in the midſt of the land of Egypt.

9 But I wrought for my [f] names ſake, that it should not be polluted before the heathen, among whom they were, in whoſe ſight I made my ſelf known unto them, in bringing them forth out of the land of Egypt.

10 ¶ Wherefore I * cauſed them to go forth out of the land of Egypt, and brought them into the wilderneſſe.

11 And I gave them my ſtatutes, and † ſhewed them my judgements, * which if a man do, he shall even live in them.

12 Moreover alſo, I gave them my * ſabbaths, to be a ſigne between me and them, that they might know that I am the LORD that ſanctifie them.

13 But the houſe of Iſrael rebelled againſt me in the wilderneſſe: they walked not in my ſtatutes, and they deſpiſed my judgements, which if a man do, he shall even live in them; and my ſabbaths they greatly * polluted: then I ſaid I would poure out my furie upon them in the * wilderneſſe to conſume them.

14 But I wrought for my names ſake, that it should not be polluted before the [g] heathen, in whoſe ſight I brought them out.

15 Yet alſo I lifted up my hand unto them in the wilderneſſe, that I would not bring them into the land which I had given them, flowing with milk and honey, which is the glory of all lands.

16 Becauſe they deſpiſed my judgements, and walked not in my ſtatutes, but polluted my [h] ſabbaths: for their heart went after their idols.

17 Neverthelesſe, mine eye ſpared them from deſtroying them, neither did I make an end of them in the wilderneſſe.

18 But I ſaid unto their children in the wilderneſſe, Walk ye not in the ſtatutes of your [i] fathers, neither obſerve their judgements, nor defile your ſelves with their idols.

19 I am the LORD your God: walk in my ſtatutes, and keep my judgements and do them:

20 And hallow my ſabbaths; and they ſhall be a ſigne between me and you, that ye may know that I am the LORD your God.

21 Notwithſtanding the children rebelled againſt me: they walked not in my ſtatutes, neither kept my judgements to do them, which if a man do, he ſhall even live in them; they polluted my ſabbaths: then I ſaid I would poure out my fury upon them, to accompliſh my anger againſt them in the wilderneſſe.

22 Neverthelesſe I withdrew mine hand, and wrought for my names ſake, that it ſhould not be polluted in the ſight of the heathen, in whoſe ſight I brought them forth.

23 I lifted up mine hand unto them alſo in the wilderneſſe, that I would ſcatter them among the heathen, and diſperſe them through the countreys:

24 Becauſe they had not executed my judgements, but had deſpiſed my ſtatutes, and had polluted my ſabbaths, and their eyes were after [k] their fathers idols.

25 Wherefore [l] I gave them alſo ſtatutes that were not good, and judgements whereby they ſhould not live.

26 And I polluted them in their own [m] gifts, in that they cauſed to paſſe * through the fire all that openeth the wombe, that I might make them deſolate, to the end, that they might know that I am the LORD.

27 ¶ Therefore ſonne of man, ſpeak unto the houſe of Iſrael, and ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Yet in this your fathers have blaſphemed me, in that they have † committed a treſpaſſe againſt me.

28 [n] For when I had brought them into the land, for the which I lifted up mine hand to give it to them, then they ſaw every high hill, and all the thick trees, and they offered there their ſacrifices, and there they preſented the provocation of their offering: there alſo they made their ſweet ſavour, and poured out there their drink-offerings.

29 Then ‡ I ſaid unto them, What is the high place whereunto ye go? and the name thereof is called [o] Bamah unto this day.

30 Wherefore ſay unto the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Are ye polluted after the manner of your fathers? and commit ye whoredome after their abominations?

31 For when ye offer your gifts, when ye make your ſonnes to paſſe through the fire, ye pollute your ſelves with all your idols even unto this day: and ſhall I be enquired of by you, O houſe of Iſrael? As I live, ſaith the Lord God, [p] I will not be enquired of by you.

32 And that which cometh into your minde, ſhall not be at all, that ye ſay, We will be as the heathen, as the families of the countreys, to ſerve wood and [q] ſtone.

33 ¶ As I live, ſaith the Lord GOD, ſurely with a mighty hand, and with a ſtretched out arm, and with fury poured out, will I rule over you.

34 And I will bring you out from the people, and will gather you out of the countreys wherein ye are ſcattered, with a mighty hand and with a ſtretched out arm, and with fury poured out.

35 And I will bring you into the [r] wildernes of the people, and there will I plead with you face to face.

36 Like as I pleaded with your fathers in the wilderneſſe of the land of Egypt, ſo will I plead with you, ſaith the Lord GOD.

37 And I will cauſe you to paſſe under the rod, and I will bring you into ‡ the bond of the covenant.

21 For the king of Babylon ſtood at the † [q] parting of the way, at the head of the two wayes, to uſe divination: he made his ‡ arrows bright, he conſulted with † images, he looked in the [r] liver.

22 At his right hand was the divination for Jeruſalem to appoint ‡ † captains, to open the mouth in the ſlaughter, to lift up the voice with ſhouting, to appoint battering rammes againſt the gates, to caſt a mount, and to build a fort.

23 And it ſhall be unto them [s] as a falſe divination in their ſight, ‡ to them that have ſworn oathes: [t] but he will call to remembrance the iniquitie, that they may be taken.

24 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Becauſe ye have made your iniquity to be remembred, in that your tranſgreſſions are diſcovered, ſo that in all your doings, your ſinnes do appear: becauſe, I ſay, that ye are come to remembrance, ye ſhall be taken with the hand.

25 ¶ And [u] thou profane wicked prince of Iſrael, whoſe day is come, when iniquitie ſhall have an end, 26 Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Remove the [x] diademe, and take off the crown: this ſhall not be the ſame, exalt him that is low, and abaſe him that is high.

27 † I will overturn, overturn, overturn it, and it ſhall be no more untill he [y] come whoſe right it is, and I will give it him.

28 ¶ And thou ſonne of man, propheſie and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD concerning the Ammonites, and concerning their reproach: even ſay thou, The ſword, the ſword is drawn: for the ſlaughter it is furbiſhed, to conſume becauſe of the glittering:

29 Whiles they ſee [z] vanity unto thee, whiles they divine a lie unto thee, to bring thee upon the necks of them that are ſlain, of the wicked whoſe day is come, when their iniquitie ſhall have an end.

30 ‡ Shall I cauſe it to return into his ſheath? I will judge thee in the place where thou waſt created, in the land of thy nativitie.

31 And I will poure out mine indignation upon thee, I will blow againſt thee in the fire of my wrath, and deliver thee into the hand of ‡ brutiſh men, and skilfull to deſtroy.

32 Thou ſhalt be for fewel to the fire: thy bloud ſhall be in the midſt of the land, thou ſhalt be no more remembred: for I the LORD have ſpoken it.

f Becauſe there was a league between the Jews and the Babylonians, they of Jeruſalem ſhall think nothing leſſe than that this thing ſhould come to paſſe.
‡ Or, for the oathes made unto them.
t That is, Nebuchad-nezzar will remember the rebellion of Zedekiah, and ſo come upon them.

z Though the Jews and Ammonites would not beleeve that thou, to wit, the ſword, ſhouldſt come upon them, and ſaid that the prophets which threatned, ſpake lies, yet thou ſhalt as ſurely come, as though thou wereſt already upon their necks.
‡ Or, cauſe it to return.
‡ Or, burning.

CHAP. XXII.

1 A catalogue of ſinnes in Jeruſalem. 13 God will burn them as droſſe in his furnace. 23 The generall corruption of prophets, prieſts, princes, and people.

MOreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

2 Now thou ſonne of man, * wilt thou ‡ judge, wilt thou [a] judge the † bloudy city? yea thou ſhalt † ſhew her all her abominations.

3 Then ſay thou, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, The citie ſheddeth bloud in the midſt of it, that her time [b] may come, and maketh idols [c] againſt her ſelf to defile her ſelf.

4 Thou art become guilty in thy bloud that thou haſt * ſhed, and haſt defiled thy ſelf in thine idols, which thou haſt made, and thou haſt cauſed thy dayes to draw neare, and art come even unto thy yeares; therefore have I made thee a reproach unto the heathen, and a mocking to all countreys.

5 Thoſe that be neare, and thoſe that be farre from thee, ſhall mock thee, which art † [d] infamous, and much vexed.

6 Behold, the princes of Iſrael, every one were in thee to their † power to ſhed bloud.

7 In thee have they ſet light by father and mother: in the midſt of thee have they dealt by ‡ oppreſſion with the [e] ſtranger: in thee have they vexed the fatherleſſe and the widow.

8 Thou haſt deſpiſed mine holy things, and haſt profaned my ſabbath.

9 In thee are † men that carry tales to ſhed bloud: & in thee they eat upon the mountains: in the midſt of thee they commit lewdneſſe.

10 In thee have they * diſcovered their fathers nakedneſſe: in thee have they humbled her that was * ſet apart for pollution.

11 And ‡ one hath committed abomination with his neighbours * wife, and ‡ another hath ‡ lewdly defiled his daughter in law, and another in thee hath humbled his * ſiſter, his fathers daughter.

12 In thee have they taken gifts to ſhed bloud: thou haſt taken uſurie and increaſe, and thou haſt greedily gained of thy neighbours by extortion, and haſt forgotten me, ſaith the Lord GOD.

13 ¶ Behold therefore I have * [f] ſmitten mine hand at thy diſhoneſt gain which thou haſt made, and at thy bloud which hath been in the midſt of thee.

14 Can thine heart endure, or can thine hands [g] be ſtrong in the dayes that I ſhall deal with thee? I the LORD have ſpoken it, and will do it.

15 And I will ſcatter thee among the heathen, and diſperſe thee in the countreys, and will conſume thy [h] filthineſſe out of thee.

16 And thou ‡ ſhalt take thine [i] inheritance in thy ſelf in the ſight of the heathen, and thou ſhalt know that I am the LORD.

17 And the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

18 Sonne of man, the houſe of Iſrael is to me become [k] droſſe, all they are braſſe, and tin, and iron, and lead, in the midſt of the furnace, they are even the † droſſe of ſilver.

19 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Becauſe ye are all become droſſe, behold therefore I will gather you into the midſt of Jeruſalem.

20 † As they gather ſilver, and braſſe, and iron, and lead, and tin into the midſt of the furnace, to blow the fire upon it, to melt it; ſo will I gather you in mine anger, and in my fury, and I will leave you there, and [l] melt you.

23 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

24 Sonne of man, ſay unto her, Thou art the land that is not cleanſed, nor [m] rained upon in the day of indignation.

m Thou art like a barren land, which the Lord plagueth with drought.

CHAP. XXIII.

3 The whoredomes of Aholah and Aholibah. 22 Aholibah is to be plagued by her lovers. 36 The prophet reproveth the adulteries of them both, 45 and sheweth their judgements.

a Meaning, Iſrael and, Judah which came both out of one family.
b They became idolaters, after the manner of the Egyptians.
c Aholah, ſignifieth a manſion or dwelling in her ſelf, meaning, Samaria, which was the royall city of Iſrael: and Aholibah ſignifieth my manſion in her, whereby is meant Jeruſalem, where Gods temple was.
d When the Iſraelites were named, the people of God, they became idolaters, and forſook God, and put their truſt in the Aſſyrians.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, ſaying,

2 Sonne of man, there were two women the daughters of one [a] mother.

3 And they committed whoredomes in [b] Egypt, they committed whoredomes in their youth: there were their breaſts preſſed, and there they bruiſed the teats of their virginity.

4 And the names of [c] them were, Aholah the elder, and Aholibah her ſiſter: and they were mine, and they bare ſonnes and daughters: thus were their names, Samaria is Aholah, and Jeruſalem Aholibah.

5 And Aholah played the harlot when [d] ſhe was mine; and ſhe doted on her lovers, on the Aſſyrians her neighbours,

6 Which were clothed with blue, captains and rulers, all of them deſireable young men, horſemen riding upon horſes. 631

7 Thus ſhe † committed her whoredomes with them, with all them that were † the choſen men of Aſſyria, and with all on whom ſhe doted, with all their idols ſhe defiled her ſelf.

8 Neither left ſhe her whoredomes brought from Egypt; for in her youth they [e] lay with her, and they bruiſed the breaſts of her virginity, and poured their whoredome upon her.

e The holy Ghoſt uſeth theſe termes which ſeem, ſtrange to chaſte eares, to cauſe this wicked vice of idolatry ſo to be abhorred.
* 2 Kings 17: 23.

9 Wherefore I have delivered her into the hand of her lovers, into the hand of the * Aſſyrians, upon whom ſhe doted.

10 Theſe diſcovered her nakedneſſe, they took her ſonnes and her daughters, and ſlew her with the ſword: and ſhe became † famous among women, for [f] they had executed judgement upon her.

f Meaning, the Aſſyrians.

11 And when her ſiſter Aholibah ſaw this, † ſhe was more corrupt in her inordinate love than ſhe, and in her whoredomes † more than her ſiſter in her whoredomes.

† Heb. ſhe corrupted her inordinate love more than, &c.
† Heb. more than the whoredomes of her ſiſter.
* 2 Kings 16: 7.

12 She doted upon the * Aſſyrians her neighbours, captains and rulers clothed moſt gorgeouſly, horſemen riding upon horſes, all of them deſireable young men.

13 Then I ſaw that ſhe was defiled, that they took both one way,

14 And that ſhe increaſed her whoredomes: for when ſhe ſaw men [g] pourtrayed upon the wall, the images of the Caldeans pourtrayed with vermilion, g This declareth, that no words are able ſufficiently to expreſſe the rage of idolaters, and therefore the holy Ghoſt here compareth them to thoſe which in their raging love and filthy luſts doe upon the images and paintings of them after whom they luſt.

15 Girded with girdles upon their loyns, exceeding in dyed attire upon their heads, all of them princes to look to, after the manner of the Babylonians of Caldea, the land of their nativity:

16 And † aſſoon as ſhe ſaw them with her eyes, ſhe doted upon them, and ſent meſſengers unto them into Caldea.

† Heb. at the ſight of her eyes.

17 And the † Babylonians came to her into the bed of love, and they defiled her with their whoredome, and ſhe was polluted with them, and her minde was † alienated from them.

† Heb. children of Babel.
† Heb. looſed, or diſjoynted.

18 So ſhe diſcovered her whoredomes, and diſcovered her nakedneſſe: then my minde was alienated from her, like as my minde was alienated from her ſiſter.

19 Yet ſhe multiplied her whoredomes, in calling to remembrance the dayes of her youth, wherein ſhe had played the harlot in the land of Egypt.

20 For ſhe doted upon their paramours, whoſe fleſh is as the fleſh of aſſes, and whoſe iſſue is like the iſſue of horſes.

21 Thus thou calledſt to remembrance the lewdneſſe of thy youth, in bruiſing thy teats by the Egyptians, for the paps of thy youth.

22 ¶ Therefore, O Aholibah, thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will raiſe up thy lovers againſt thee, from whom thy minde is alienated, and I will bring them againſt thee on every ſide;

23 The Babylonians, and all the Caldeans, h Pekod, and Shoa, and Koa, and all the Assyrians with them: all of them desireable young men, captains and rulers, great lords and renowned, all of them riding upon horses.

h These, were the names of certain princes and captains under Nebuchad-nezzar.

24 And they shall come against thee with chariots, wagons, and wheels, and with an assembly of people which shall set against thee buckler, and shield, and helmet round about: & I will set judgement before them, and they shal judge thee according to their judgements.

25 And I will set my jealousie against thee, and they shall deal furiously with thee: they shall take away thy i nose, and thine eares, and thy remnant shall fall by the sword: they shall take thy sonnes and thy daughters, and thy residue shall be devoured by the fire.

i They shall destroy thy princes and priests, with the rest of thy people.

26 They shall also strip thee out of thy clothes, and take away thy † fair jewels.

27 Thus will I make thy lewdnesse to cease from thee, and thy whoredome brought from the land of Egypt: so that thou shalt not lift up thine eyes unto them, nor remember Egypt any more.

28 For thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will deliver thee into the hand of them whom thou hatest, into the hand of them from whom thy minde is alienated.

29 And they shall deal with thee hatefully, and shall take away all thy k labour, and shall leave thee naked and bare, and the nakednesse of thy whoredomes shall be l discovered, both thy lewdnesse and thy whoredomes.

k All thy treasures and riches which thou hast gotten by labour.

l All the world shal see thy shamefull forsaking of God to serve idols.

30 I will do these things unto thee, because thou hast gone a whoring after the heathen, and because thou art polluted with their idols.

31 Thou hast walked in the way of thy sister, therefore will I give her m cup into thine hand.

m I will execute the same judgements and vengeance against thee, and that with greater severity.

32 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Thou shalt drink of thy sisters cup deep and large: thou shalt be laughed to scorn and had in derision? it containeth much.

33 Thou shalt be filled with n drunkennesse and sorrow, with the cup of astonishment and desolation, with the cup of thy sister Samaria.

n Meaning, that the afflictions should be so great that they should cause them to lose their sences and reason.

34 Thou shalt even drink it and suck it out, and thou shalt break the sherds thereof, and pluck off thine own breasts: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord GOD.

35 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Because thou hast forgotten me, and cast me behinde thy back, therefore bear thou also thy lewdnesse, and thy whoredomes.

36 ¶ The LORD said moreover unto me, Sonne of man, wilt thou * ‡ judge Aholah and Aholibah? yea, declare unto them their abominations;

* Chap. 20: 4. and 22: 2.

‡ Or, plead for.

37 That they have committed adultery, and bloud is in their hands, and with their idols have they committed adultery, and have also caused their sonnes whom they bare unto me, to o passe for them through the fire to devoure them.

o That is, to be sacrifices to their idols, read Chap. 16: 20.

38 Moreover, this they have done unto me: they have defiled my sanctuary in the same day, and have profaned my sabbaths.

39 For when they had slain their children to their idols, then they came the same day into my sanctuary to profane it, and lo, * thus have they done in the midst of mine house.

* 2 Kings 21: 4.

40 And furthermore, that ye have sent for men † to come from p farre, unto whom a messenger was sent, and lo, they came, for whom thou didst wash thy self, paintedst thy eyes, and deckedst thy self with ornaments,

p They sent into other countries to have such as should teach the service of their idols.

* Prov. 7: 17.

42 And a voice of a multitude being at ease was with her, and with the men † of the common sort were brought ‡ r Sabeans from the wilderness, which put bracelets upon their hands, and beautifull crowns upon their heads.

† Heb. of the multitude of men.

r Which should teach the manner of worshipping their gods.

43 Then said I unto her that was old in adulteries, Will they now commit † whoredomes with her, and she with them?

44 Yet they went in unto her, as they go in unto a woman that playeth the harlot: so went they in unto Aholah and unto Aholibah the lewd women.

45 ¶ And the righteous men, they shall * judge them after the manner of f adulteresses, and after the manner of women that shed bloud; because they are adulteresses, and bloud is in their hands.

* Chap. 16: 38.

f That is, worthy death.

46 For thus saith the Lord GOD, I will bring up a company upon them, and will give them † to be removed and spoiled.

† Heb. for a removing and spoil.

47 And the company shall stone them with stones, and ‡ dispatch them with their swords; they shall slay their sonnes and their daughters, and burn up their houses with fire.

‡ Or, single them out.

48 Thus will I cause lewdnesse to cease out of the land, that all t women may be taught not to do after your lewdnesse.

t Meaning, all other cities and countries.

49 And they shall recompense your lewdnesse upon you, and ye shall bear the sinnes of your idols, and ye shall know that I am the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 Under the parable of a boyling pot, 6 is shewed the irrevocable destruction of Jerusalem. 15 By the signe of Ezekiel not mourning for the death of his wife, 19 is shewed the calamitie of the Jews to be beyond all sorrow.

AGain in the a ninth yeare, in the tenth moneth, in the tenth day of the b moneth, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, a Of Jeconiahs captivity, and of the reigne of Zedekiah, 2 King 25: 1.

b Called Tebeth, which containeth part of December, and part of January, in the which moneth and day Nebuchad-nezzar besieged Jerusalem.

2 Sonne of man, Write thee the name of the day, even of this same day: the king of Babylon set himself against Jerusalem this same day.

3 And utter a parable unto the rebellious house, and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Set on a c pot, set it on, and also poure water into it.

c Whereby was meant Ierusalem.

4 Gather the d pieces thereof into it, even every good piece, the thigh, and the shoulder, fill it with he choice bones.

d That is, the citizens, and the chief men thereof.

5 Take

‡ Or, heap.

5 Take the choice of the flock, and ‡ burn alſo the [e] bones under it, and make it boyl well, and let him ſeethe the bones of it therein.

e Meaning, of the innocent, whom they had ſlain, who were the cauſe of the kindling of Gods wrath againſt them.

6 ¶ Wherefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Wo to the bloudy city, to the pot whoſe [f] ſcum is therein, and whoſe ſcum is not gone out of it; bring it out [g] piece by piece, let no [h] lot fall upon it.

f Whoſe iniquities, and wicked citizens there yet remain.

g Signifying, that they ſhould not be deſtroyed all at once, but by little and little.

h Spare none eſtate or condition.

7 For her bloud is in the midſt of her, ſhe ſet it upon the top of a [i] rock, ſhe poured it not upon the ground to cover it with duſt:

i The city ſhewed her cruelty to all the world, and was not aſhamed thereof, neither yet hid it.

8 That it might cauſe fury to come up to take vengeance: I have ſet her bloud upon the top of a rock, that it ſhould not be covered.

9 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, * Wo to the bloudy city, I will even make the pile for fire great.

* Nah. 3: 1. Hab. 2: 12.

10 Heap on wood, [k] kindle the fire, conſume the fleſh, and ſpice it well, and let the bones be burnt.

k Meaning, that the city ſhould be utterly deſtroyed, and that he would give the enemies an appetite thereunto.

12 [l] She hath wearied herſelf with lies, and her great ſcum went not forth out of her: her ſcum ſhall be in the fire.

l The city hath flattered her ſelf in vain.

13 In thy filthineſſe is lewdneſſe: becauſe I [m] have purged thee, and thou waſt not purged, thou ſhalt not be purged from thy filthineſſe any more, till I have cauſed my fury to reſt upon thee.

m I labour by ſending my prophets to call thee to repentance, but thou wouldſt not.

14 I the LORD have ſpoken it, it ſhall come to paſſe, and I will do it, I will not go back, neither will I ſpare, neither will I repent; according to thy wayes, and according to thy doings ſhall they [n] judge thee, ſaith the Lord GOD.

n That is, the Babylonians.

15 ¶ Alſo the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying, 16 Sonne of man, behold, I take away from thee the [o] deſire of thine eyes with a ſtroke: yet neither ſhalt thou mourn nor weep, neither ſhall thy tears † run down.

o Meaning, his wife, in whom he delighted, as verſ. 18.

† Heb. go.

17 † Forbear to crie, make no mourning for the dead, binde the tire of thine head upon thee, and [p] put on thy ſhoes upon thy feet, and cover not thy † lips, and [q] eat not the bread of men.

p For in mourning they went bare-headed and bare-footed, and alſo covered their lips.

r Meaning, the morning following.

19 ¶ And the people ſaid unto me, Wilt thou not tell us what theſe things are to us, that thou doeſt ſo?

20 Then I anſwered them, The word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying, 21 Speak unto the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will [f] profane my ſanctuary, the [t] excellencie of your ſtrength, the deſire of your eyes, and † that which your ſoul pitieth, and your ſonnes and your daughters whom ye have left ſhall fall by the ſword.

f By ſending the Caldeans to deſtroy it, as Chap. 7. 22.

23 And your tires ſhall be upon your heads, and your ſhoes upon your feet: ye ſhall not mourn nor weep, but ſhall pine away for your iniquities, and mourn one towards another.

24 Thus Ezekiel is unto you a ſigne: according to all that he hath done ſhall ye do: and when this cometh, ye ſhall know that I am the Lord GOD.

25 Alſo thou ſonne of man, ſhall it not be in the day when I take from them their ſtrength, the joy of their glory, the deſire of their eyes, and † that whereupon they ſet their mindes, their ſonnes and their daughters;

† Heb. the lifting up of the ſoul.

26 That he that eſcapeth in that day, ſhall come unto thee, to cauſe thee to heare it with thine eares?

CHAP. XXV.

1 Gods vengeance for their inſolencie againſt the Jews, upon the Ammonites, 8 upon Moab and Seir, 12 upon Edom, 15 and upon the Philiſtines.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, ſaying,

2 Sonne of man, ſet thy face * againſt the Ammonites, and propheſie againſt them;

* Jer. 49: 1. &c.

3 And ſay unto the Ammonites, Heare the word of the Lord GOD: thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Becauſe thou ſaidſt, [a] Aha, againſt my ſanctuarie, when it was profaned, and againſt the land of Iſrael, when it was deſolate, and againſt the houſe of Judah, when they went into captivitie;

a Becauſe ye rejoyced when the enemy deſtroyed my city and temple.

4 Behold therefore, I will deliver thee to the † [b] men of the eaſt for a poſſeſſion, and they ſhall ſet their [c] palaces in thee, and make their dwellings in thee: they ſhall eat thy fruit, and they ſhall drink thy milk.

7 Behold therefore, I will ſtretch out mine hand upon thee, and will deliver thee for ‡ a ſpoil to the heathen, and I will cut thee off from the people, and I will cauſe thee to perish out of the countreys: I will deſtroy thee, and thou ſhalt know that I am the LORD.

11 And I will execute judgements upon Moab, and they ſhall know that I am the LORD.

12 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Becauſe that Edom hath dealt againſt the houſe of Judah † by taking vengeance, and hath greatly offended, and revenged himſelf upon them:

† Heb. by revenging revengements.

13 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, I will alſo ſtretch out mine hand upon Edom, and will cut off man and beaſt from it, and I will make it deſolate from Teman, and ‡ they of Dedan ſhall fall by the ſword.

‡ Or, they ſhall fall by the ſword unto Dedan.

14 And I will lay my vengeance upon Edom by the hand of my people Iſrael, and they ſhall do in Edom according to mine anger, and according to my fury, and they ſhall know my vengeance, ſaith the Lord GOD.

15 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Becauſe the Philiſtines have dealt by revenge, and have taken vengeance with a deſpitefull heart, to deſtroy it † for the old hatred;

‡ Or, with perpetuall hatred.

16 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will ſtretch out mine hand upon the Philiſtines, and I will cut off the [f] Cherethims, and deſtroy the remnant of the ‡ ſea-coaſt.

CHAP. XXVI.

1 Tyrus for inſulting againſt Jeruſalem, is threatned. 7 The power of Nebuchadrezzar againſt her. 15 The mourning and aſtoniſhment of the ſea, at her fall.

a Either of the captivitie of Ieconiah, or of the reigne of Zedekiah.

AND it came to paſſe in the [a] eleventh yeare, in the firſt day of the moneth, that the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

2 Sonne of man, becauſe that Tyrus hath ſaid againſt Jeruſalem, Aha, ſhe is broken that was the [b] gates of the people: ſhe is turned unto me, I ſhall be [c] repleniſhed, now ſhe is laid waſte:

b That is, the famous citie Ieruſalem, whereunto all people reſorted.

c My riches and fame ſhall increaſe: thus the wicked rejoyce at their fall by whom they may have any profit or advantage.

3 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am againſt thee, O Tyrus, and will cauſe many nations to come up againſt thee, as the ſea cauſeth his waves to come up.

4 And they ſhall deſtroy the walls of Tyrus, and break down her towers: I will alſo ſcrape her duſt from her, and make her like the top of a rock.

5 It ſhall be a place for the ſpreading of nets in the midſt of the ſea: for I have ſpoken it, ſaith the Lord GOD, and it ſhall become a ſpoil to the nations.

6 And her [d] daughters which are in the field ſhall be ſlain by the ſword, and they ſhall know that I am the LORD.

d The towns that belonged unto her.

7 ¶ For thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will bring upon Tyrus Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, a king of kings: from the north, with horſes, and with chariots, and with horſemen, and companies, and much people.

8 He ſhall ſlay with the ſword thy daughters in the field, and he ſhal make a fort againſt thee, and ‡ caſt a mount againſt thee, and lift up the buckler againſt thee.

‡ Or, poure out the engine of ſhot.

9 And he ſhall ſet engines of warre againſt thy walls, and with his axes he ſhall break down thy towers.

10 By reaſon of the abundance of his horſes, their duſt ſhall cover thee, thy walls ſhall ſhake at the noiſe of the horſemen, and of the wheels, and of the chariots, when he ſhall enter into thy gates, † as men enter into a citie wherein is made a breach.

† Heb. according to the entrings of a citie broken up.

11 With the hoofs of his horſes ſhall he tread down all thy ſtreets; he ſhall ſlay thy people by the ſword, and thy ſtrong [e] gariſons ſhall go down to the ground.

e For Tyrus was much built by art, and by labour of men was won out of the ſea: ſome referre this unto the images of the noble men which they had erected up for their glory and renown.

12 And they ſhall make a ſpoil of thy riches, and make a prey of thy merchandiſe, and they ſhall break down thy walls, and deſtroy † thy pleaſant houſes, and they ſhall lay thy ſtones, and thy timber, and thy duſt in the midſt of the water.

13 * And I will cauſe the noiſe of thy ſongs to ceaſe, and the ſound of thy harps ſhall be no more heard.

* Iſa. 24: 8. Ier. 7: 34. and 16: 9.

14 And I will make thee like the top of a rock: thou ſhalt be a place to ſpread nets upon: [f] thou ſhalt be built no more: for I the LORD have ſpoken it, ſaith the Lord GOD.

f I will make thee ſo bare, that thou ſhalt have nothing to cover thee.

15 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord GOD to Tyrus, Shall not the iſles ſhake at the ſound of thy fall, when the wounded crie, when the ſlaughter is made in the midſt of thee?

16 Then all the princes of the [g] ſea ſhall come down from their thrones, and lay away their robes, and put off their broidered garments: they ſhall clothe themſelves with † trembling, they ſhall ſit upon the ground, and ſhall tremble at every moment, and be aſtoniſhed at thee.

g The governors and rulers of other countries that dwell by the ſea: whereby he ſignifieth, that her deſtruction ſhould be ſo horrible, that all the world ſhould heare thereof and be afraid.

17 And they ſhall take up a * lamentation for thee, and ſay to thee, How art thou deſtroyed that waſt inhabited † [h] of ſea-faring men, the renowned citie which waſt ſtrong in the ſea, ſhe and her inhabitants, which cauſe their terrour to be on all that haunt it?

* Revel. 18: 9.

h Meaning, merchants, which by their traffique did enrich her wonderfully, and increaſe her power.

18 Now ſhall the iſles tremble in the day of thy fall; yea, the iſles that are in the ſea ſhall be troubled at thy departure.

19 For thus ſaith the Lord GOD, When I ſhall shall make thee a desolate citie, like the cities that are not inhabited, when I shall bring up the deep upon thee, and great waters shall cover thee;

20 When I shall bring thee down, with them that descend into the pit, with the people of old time, and shall set thee in the low parts of the earth, in places desolate of [i] old, with them that go down to the pit, that thou be not inhabited, and I shall set glory in the land of the [k] living;

21 I will make thee † a terrour, and thou shalt be no more: though thou be sought for, yet shalt thou never be found again, saith the Lord GOD.

[i] Which were dead long ago.

[k] Meaning in Judea, when it shall be restored.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 The rich supply of Tyrus. 26 The great and unrecoverable fall thereof.

THE word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

2 Now thou sonne of man, take up a lamentation for Tyrus;

3 And say unto Tyrus, O thou that art situate at the entry of the sea, which art [a] a merchant of the people for many isles, Thus saith the Lord GOD, O Tyrus, thou hast said, I am † of perfect beauty.

4 Thy borders are in the † midst of the seas, thy builders have perfected thy beautie.

5 They have † made all thy ship-boards of fir-trees of [b] Senir: they have taken cedars from Lebanon, to make masts for thee.

6 Of the oaks of Bashan have they made thine oars: ‡ † the company of the Ashurites have made thy benches of ivory, brought out of the isles of [c] Chittim.

7 Fine linnen with broidered work from Egypt, was that which thou spreadest forth to be thy sail; ‡ blue and purple from the isles of Elishah, was that which covered thee.

8 The inhabitants of Zidon and Arvad were thy mariners: thy wise men, O Tyrus, that were in thee, were thy pilots.

9 The ancients of Gebal, and the wise men thereof were in thee thy ‡ † [d] calkers, all the ships of the sea with their mariners were in thee to occupy thy merchandise.

10 They of Persia, and of Lud, and of Phut were in thine army, thy men of warre: they hanged the shield and helmet in thee, they set forth thy comelinesse.

11 The men of Arvad with thine army were upon thy wals round about, and the [e] Gammadims were in thy towers; they hanged their shields upon thy walls round about: they have made thy beauty perfect.

12 Tarshish was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of all kinde of riches; with silver, iron, tin, and lead they traded in thy fairs.

13 [f] Javan, Tubal, and Meshech, they were thy merchants: they traded the [g] persons of men, and vessels of brasse in thy ‡ market.

14 They of the house of [h] Togarmah traded in thy fairs with horses, & horsemen, & mules.

15 The men of Dedan were thy merchants, many isles were the merchandise of thine hand: they brought thee for a present horns of [i] ivory and ebony.

16 Syria was thy merchant by reason of the multitude of the † wares of thy making: they occupied in thy fairs with emeralds: purple, and broidered work, and fine linnen and corall, and ‡ agate.

17 Judah and the land of Israel they were thy merchants: they traded in thy market wheat of [k] Minnith, and Pannag, and honey, and oyl, and ‡ balm.

18 Damascus was thy merchant in the multitude of the wares of thy making, for the multitude of all riches: in the wine of Helbon, and white wooll.

19 Dan also and Javan ‡ going to and fro, occupied in thy fairs: bright iron, cassia and calamus were in thy market.

20 Dedan was thy merchant in † precious clothes for chariots.

21 Arabia, and all the princes of Kedar, † they occupied with thee in lambes, and rams, and goats: in these were they thy merchants.

22 The merchants of Shebah and Raamah, they were thy merchants: they occupied in thy fairs with chief of all spices, and with all precious stones, and gold.

23 Haran, and Canneh, and Eden, the merchants of Shebah, Ashur, and Chilmad were thy merchants.

24 These were thy merchants in ‡ all sorts of things in blue † clothes, and broidered work, & in chests of rich apparel, bound with cords, and made of cedar among thy merchandise.

25 The ships of Tarshish did sing of thee in thy market, and thou wast replenished, and made very glorious in the midst of the seas.

26 ¶ Thy rowers have brought thee into great waters: the [l] east-winde hath broken thee in the † midst of the seas.

27 Thy riches and thy fairs, thy merchandise, thy mariners, and thy pilots, thy calkers, and occupiers of thy merchandise, and all thy men of warre that are in thee, ‡ and in all thy company, which is in the midst of thee, shall fall into the † midst of the seas, in the day of thy ruine.

28 The ‡ [m] suburbs shall shake at the sound of the cry of thy pilots.

29 And all that handle the oar, the mariners, and all the pilots of the sea, shall come down from their ships, they shall stand upon the land;

30 And shall cause their voice to be heard against thee, and shall cry bitterly, and shall cast up dust upon their heads, they shall wallow themselves in the ashes.

31 And they shall make themselves utterly bald for thee, and gird them with sackcloth, and they shall weep for thee with bitternesse of heart, and bitter wailing.

32 And in their wailing they shall take up a lamentation for thee, and lament over thee, saying, What citie is like Tyrus, like the destroyed in the midst of the sea?

33 When thy wares went forth out of the seas, thou filledst many people, thou didst enrich the kings of the earth, with the multitude of thy riches, and of thy merchandise.

34 In the time when thou shalt be broken by the seas in the depths of the waters, thy merchandise and all thy company in the midst of thee shall fall.

35 All the inhabitants of the isles shall be astonished at thee, and their kings shall be sore afraid, they shall be troubled in their countenance.

n Whereby is meant a long time: for it was prophesied to be destroyed but seventie yeares, as Isa. 23: 15.

Chap. XXVIII.

1 Gods judgement upon the prince of Tyrus, for his sacrilegious pride. 11 A lamentation of his great glory corrupted by sinne. 20 The judgement of Zidon. 24 The restauration of Israel.

THe word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, say unto the prince of Tyrus, Thus saith the Lord God, Because thine heart is lifted up, and thou hast said, [a] I am a god, I sit in the seat of God, in the † midst of the seas; * yet thou art a man and not God, though thou set thine heart as the heart of God:

a I am safe that none can come to hurt me, as God is in the heaven.
† Heb. heart.
* Isai. 31: 3.

3 Behold, thou art wiser than [b] Daniel; there is no secret that they can hide from thee.

b Thus he speaketh by derision: for Daniel had declared notable signes of his wisdome in Babylon, when Ezekiel wrote this.

4 With thy wisdome, and with thine understanding thou hast gotten thee riches, and hast gotten gold and silver into thy treasures:

† Heb. by the greatnesse of thy wisdome.

5 † By thy great wisdome, and by thy traffick hast thou increased thy riches, and thine heart is lifted up because of thy riches:

6 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Because thou hast set thine heart as the heart of God:

7 Behold therefore, I will bring strangers upon thee, the terrible of the nations: and they shall draw their swords against the beauty of thy wisdome, and they shall defile thy brightnesse.

8 They shall bring thee down to the pit, and thou shalt die the deaths of them that are slain in the midst of the seas.

9 Wilt thou yet say before him that slayeth thee, I am God? but thou shalt be a man and no God in the hand of him that ‡ slayeth thee.

c Like the rest of the heathen and infidels, which are Gods enemies.

10 Thou shalt die the deaths of the [c] uncircumcised, by the hand of strangers: for I have spoken it, saith the Lord God.

11 ¶ Moreover the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, d He derideth the vaine opinion and confidence that the Tyrians had in their riches, strength and pleasures.

12 Sonne of man, take up a lamentation upon the king of Tyrus, and say unto him, Thus saith the Lord God, Thou sealest up the summe full of [d] wisdome and perfect in beauty.

13 Thou hast been in Eden the garden of God? every precious stone was thy covering, the ‡ sardius, topaz, and the diamond, the ‡ beryl, the onyx, and the jasper, the saphire, the ‡ emerald, and the carbuncle, and gold: the workmanship of thy tabrets, and of thy pipes was prepared in thee, in the day that thou wast created.

‡ Or, chrysoprase.

14 Thou art the [e] anointed cherub that covereth: and I have set thee so; thou wast upon the holy [f] mountain of God; thou hast walked up and down in the midst of the [g] stones of fire.

e He meaneth the royall state of Tyrus, which for the excellency and glory thereof he compareth to the cherubims which covered the ark: and by this word anointed, he signifieth the same.
f I did thee this honour to make thee one of the builders of my temple, which was when Hiram sent unto Solomon things necessarie for the work.
g To wit, among my people Israel which shined as precious stones.

15 Thou wast perfect in thy wayes from the day that thou wast [h] created, till iniquitie was found in thee.

h Which was when I first called thee to this dignitie.

16 By the multitude of thy merchandise they have filled the midst of thee with violence, and thou hast sinned: therefore I will cast thee as profane out of the [i] mountain of God: and I will destroy thee, O covering cherub, from the midst of the stones of fire.

i Thou shalt have no part among my people.

17 Thine heart was lifted up because of thy beauty, thou hast corrupted thy wisdome by reason of thy brightnesse: I will cast thee to the ground, I will lay thee before kings, that they may behold thee.

18 Thou hast defiled thy [k] sanctuaries by the multitude of thine iniquities, by the iniquity of thy traffick; therefore will I bring forth a fire from the midst of thee, it shall devoure thee, and I will bring thee to ashes upon the earth, in the sight of all them that behold thee.

k That is, the honour whereunto I called them.

19 All they that know thee among the people, shall be astonished at thee: thou shalt be † a terrour, and never shalt thou be any more.

† Heb. terrours.

20 ¶ Again the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

21 Sonne of man, set thy face against Zidon, and prophesie against it, 22 And say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I am against thee, O Zidon, and I will be [l] glorified in the midst of thee: and they shall know that I am the Lord, when I shall have executed judgements in her, and shall be sanctified in her.

l By executing my judgements against thy wickednesse.

23 For I will send into her, pestilence, and [m] bloud into her streets, and the wounded shall be judged in the midst of her by the sword upon her on every side: and they shall know that I am the Lord.

m That is, cruel slaughters by the Babylonian armie.

24 ¶ And there shall be no more a pricking brier unto the house of Israel, nor any grieving thorn of all that are round about them that despised them, and they shall know that I am the Lord God.

n He sheweth for what cause God will assemble his church, and preserve it still, though he destroy his enemies: to wit, that they should praise him, and give thanks for his great mercies.

25 Thus saith the Lord God, When I shall have gathered the house of Israel from the people among whom they are scattered, and shall be [n] sanctified in them in the sight of the heathen, then shall they dwell in their land, that I have given to my servant Jacob.

26 And they shall dwell ‡ safely therein, and

and shall build houses, and plant vineyards: yea, they shall dwell with confidence when I have executed judgements upon all those that ‡ despise them round about them, and they shall know that I am the Lord their God.

‡ Or, spoil.

Chap. XXIX.

1 The judgement of Pharaoh for his treachery to Israel. 8 The desolation of Egypt. 13 The restauration thereof after fourty yeares. 17 Egypt the reward of Nebuchadrezzar, 21 Israel shall be restored.

IN the [a] tenth yeare, in the tenth moneth, in the twelfth day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, a To wit, of the captivity of Jeconiah, or of the reigne of Zedekiah. Of the order of these prophesies, and how the former sometimes standeth after the latter, read Jer. 27 1.

2 Sonne of man, set thy face against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and prophesie against him, and against all Egypt.

3 Speak and say, Thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I am against thee, Pharaoh king of Egypt, the great * [b] dragon that lieth in the midst of his rivers, which hath said, My river is mine own, and I have made it for my self.

* Psal. 74: 13, 14. Isa. 27: 1. and 51: 1. b He compareth Pharaoh to a dragon, which hideth himself in the river Nilus, as Isa. 51: 9.

4 But I will put [c] hooks in thy chaws, and I will cause the fish of thy rivers to stick unto thy scales, and I will bring thee up out of the midst of thy rivers, and all the fish of thy rivers shall stick unto thy scales.

c I will send enemies against thee, which shall pluck thee and thy people, which trust in thee, out of thy fare places.

5 And I will leave thee thrown into the wilderness, thee and all the fish of thy rivers: thou shalt fall upon the † open fields, thou shalt not be brought together, nor gathered: I have given thee for meat to the beasts of the field, and to the fowls of the heaven.

6 And all the inhabitants of Egypt shall know that I am the Lord, because they have been a [d] staff of reed to the house of Israel.

d Read 2 King 18. vers. 21. Isa 36: 6.

7 When they took hold of thee by thy hand, thou didst break, and rent all their shoulder: and when they leaned upon thee, thou brakest, and madest all their loyns to be at a [e] stand.

e When they felt their hurt, they would stay no more upon thee, but stood upon their feet, and put their trust in others.

8 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will bring a sword upon thee, and cut off man and beast out of thee.

9 And the land of Egypt shall be desolate and waste, and they shall know that I am the Lord; because he hath said, The [f] river is mine, and I have made it.

f Thus God cannot suffer that man should arrogate any thing to himself, or put his trust in any thing save in him alone.

10 Behold therefore, I am against thee, and against thy rivers, and I will make the land of Egypt † utterly waste and desolate, from the tower of † Syene even unto the border of Ethiopia.

11 No foot of man shall passe through it, nor foot of beast shall passe through it, neither shall it be inhabited fourty yeares.

12 And I will make the land of Egypt desolate in the midst of the countreys that are desolate, and her cities among the cities that are laid waste, shall be desolate fourty yeares: and I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countreys.

13 ¶ Yet thus saith the Lord God, At the * end of fourty yeares will I gather the Egyptians from the people whither they were scattered.

* Psal. 19: 21. Jer. 46: 26.

14 And I will bring again the captivity of Egypt, and will cause them to return into the land of Pathros, into the land of their † habitation, and they shall be there a † [g] base kingdome.

g Meaning, that they should not have full dominion, but be under the Persians, Grecians and Romans, and the cause is, that the Israelites should no more put their trust in them, but learn to depend on God.

15 It shall be the baasest of the kingdomes, neither shall it exalt it self any more above the nations: for I will diminish them, that they shall no more rule over the nations.

16 And it shall be no more the confidence of the house of Israel, which bringeth their [h] iniquitie to remembrance, when they shall look after them: but they shall know that I am the Lord God.

h Lest I should by this means punish their sinnes.

17 ¶ And it came to passe in the [i] seven and twentieth yeare, in the first moneth, in the first day of the moneth, the word of the Lord came unto me, saying,

i Counting from the captivity of Jeconiah.

18 Sonne of man, Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon caused his army to [k] serve a great service against Tyrus: every head was made bald, and every shoulder was peeled: yet had he no [l] wages, nor his army for Tyrus, for the service that he had served against it.

k He took great pains at the siege of Tyrus, and his army was sore handled.
l Signifying, that Nebuchad-nezzar had more pains than profit by the taking of Tyrus.

19 Therefore thus saith the Lord God, Behold, I will give the land of Egypt unto Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon, and he shall take her multitude, and † take her spoil, and take her prey, and it shall be the wages for his army.

† Heb. spoil his spoil, and prey.

20 I have given him the land of Egypt ‡ for his labour wherewith he served against it, because they wrought for me, saith the Lord God.

‡ Or, for his hire.

21 ¶ In that day will I cause the horn of the house of Israel to bud forth, and I will give thee the opening of the mouth in the midst of them, and they shall know that I am the Lord.

Chap. XXX.

1 The desolation of Egypt, and her helpers. 20 The arm of Babylon shall be strengthened to break the arm of Egypt.

THE word of the Lord came again unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophesie and say, thus saith the Lord God, Howl ye, wo worth the day.

3 For the day is neare, even the day of the Lord is neare, a cloudy day, it shall be the time of the heathen.

4 And the sword shall come upon Egypt, and great ‡ pain shall be in Ethiopia, when the slain shall fall in Egypt, and they shall take away her multitude, and her foundations shall be broken down.

‡ Or, fear.

5 Ethiopia, and † Lybia, and Lydia, and all the mingled people, and Chub, and the † men of the land that is in league, shall fall with them by the sword.

‡ Or, Africa.

6 Thus saith the Lord, They also that uphold Egypt shall fall, and the pride of her power shall come down: from the tower of b Which was a strong city of Egypt, chap. 29. veri. 10.

b Syene shall they fall in it by the sword, saith the Lord GOD.

7 And they shall be desolate in the midst of the countreys that are desolate, and her cities shall be in the midst of the cities that are wasted.

8 And they shall know that I am the LORD, when I have set a fire in Egypt, and when all her helpers shall be † destroyed.

9 In that day shall messengers go forth from me in ships, to make the careless Ethiopians afraid, and great pain shall come upon them, as in the day of Egypt: for lo it cometh.

10 Thus saith the Lord GOD, I will also make the multitude of Egypt to cease by the hand of Nebuchadrezzar king of Babylon.

11 He and his people with him, the terrible of the nations shall be brought to destroy the land: and they shall draw their swords against Egypt, and fill the land with the slain.

12 And I will make the rivers † dry, and sell the land into the hand of the wicked, and I will make the land waste, and † all that is therein, by the hand of strangers: I the LORD have spoken it.

* Zech. 13: 2.

13 Thus saith the Lord GOD. I will also * destroy the idols, and I will cause their images to cease out of Noph: and there shall be no more a prince of the land of Egypt, and I will put a fear in the land of Egypt.

‡ Or, Tanis.

14 And I will make Pathros desolate, and will set fire in ‡ Zoan, and will execute judgements in No.

‡ Or, Telusium.

15 And I will poure my fury upon ‡ Sin, the strength of Egypt, and I will cut off the multitude of No.

16 And I will set fire in Egypt, Sin shall have great pain, and No shall be rent asunder, and Noph shall have distresses daily.

‡ Or, Heliopolis.
‡ Or, Pubastum.

17 The young men of ‡ Aven and of ‡ Phibeseth, shall fall by the sword: and these cities shall go into captivitie.

‡ Or, restrained.
e Meaning, that there shall be great sorrow and affliction.
d That is, the strength and force.

18 At Tehaphnehes also the day shall be ‡ [e] darkened, when I shall break there the [d] yokes of Egypt: and the pomp of her strength shall cease in her: as for her, a cloud shall cover her, and her daughters shall go into captivity.

19 Thus will I execute judgements in Egypt: and they shall know that I am the LORD.

e Of the captivity of Jeconiah, or of Zedekiahs reigne.

20 ¶ And it came to passe in the [e] eleventh yeare, in the first moneth, in the seventh day of the moneth, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, f For Nebuchadnezzar destroyed Pharaoh Necho at Carchemish, Jer. 46: 2.

21 Sonne of man, I have [f] broken the arm of Pharaoh king of Egypt; and lo, it shall not be bound up to be healed, to put a roller to binde it, to make it strong to hold the sword.

22 Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am against Pharaoh king of Egypt, and will break his [g] arms, the strong, and that which was broken; and I will cause the sword to fall out of his hand.

g His force, and power.

23 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and will disperse them through the countreys.

24 And I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and put my sword in his hand: but I will break Pharaohs arms, and he shall grone before him with the gronings of a deadly wounded man.

25 But I will strengthen the arms of the king of Babylon, and the arms of Pharaoh shall fall down; and they shall know that I am the LORD, [h] when I shall put my sword into the hand of the king of Babylon, and he shall stretch it out upon the land of Egypt.

h Whereby we see that tyrants have no power of themselves, neither can do any more harm than God appointeth, and when he will they must cease.

26 And I will scatter the Egyptians among the nations, and disperse them among the countreys, and they shall know that I am the LORD.

CHAP. XXXI.

1 A relation unto Pharaoh, 3 of the glory of Assyria, 10 and the fall thereof for pride. 18 The like destruction of Egypt.

AND it came to passe in the [a] eleventh yeare, in the third moneth, in the first day of the moneth, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying, a Of Zedekiahs reigne, or of Jeconiahs captivity.

2 Sonne of man, speak unto Pharaoh king of Egypt, and to his multitude, [b] Whom art thou like in thy greatnesse?

b Meaning, that he was not like in strength to the King of the Assyrians whom the Babylonians overcame.

3 ¶ Behold, the Assyrian was a cedar in Lebanon † with fair branches, and with a shadowing shroud, and of an high stature, and his top was among the thick boughs.

† Heb. fair of branches.

4 The waters ‡ made him great, the deep ‡ set him up on high with her rivers running round about his plants, and sent out her † [c] little rivers unto all the trees of the field.

‡ Or, nourished.
c Many other nations were under their dominion.

5 Therefore his height was exalted above all the trees of the field, and his boughs were multiplied, and his branches became long because of the multitude of waters, ‡ when he shot forth.

‡ Or, when it sent them forth.

6 All the * fowls of heaven made their nests in his boughs, and under his branches did all the beasts of the field bring forth their young, and under his shadow dwelt all great nations.

* Dan. 4.

7 Thus was he fair in his greatnesse, in the length of his branches: for his root was by great waters.

8 The cedars in the * garden [d] of God could not hide him: the fir-trees were not like his boughs, and the chesnut-trees were not like his branches; not any tree in the garden of God was like unto him in his beauty.

* Gen. 2. d Signifying, that there was no greater power in the world than his was.

9 I have made him fair by the multitude of his branches: so that all the trees of Eden, that were in the garden of God, envied him.

10 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD, Because thou hast lifted up thy self in height, and he hath shot up his top among the thick boughs, and his heart is lifted up in his height;

11 I have

11 I have therefore delivered him into the hand of the [c] mighty one of the heathen: † he shall surely deal with him, I have driven him out for his wickednesse.

12 And strangers, the terrible of the nations have cut him off, and have left him: upon the mountains and in all the valleys his branches are fallen, and his boughs are [f] broken by all the rivers of the land, and all the people of the earth are gone down from his shadow, and have left him.

13 Upon his ruine shall all the fowls of the heaven remain, and all the beasts of the field shall be upon his branches.

14 To the end that none of all the trees by the waters exalt themselves for their height, neither shoot up their top among the thick boughs, neither their trees ‡ stand up in their height, all that drink water: for they are all delivered unto death to the nether parts of the earth in the midst of the children of men, with them that go down to the pit.

15 Thus saith the Lord GOD, In the day when he went down to the grave, I caused a mourning, I [g] covered the deep for him, and I restrained the flouds thereof, and the great waters were stayed; and I caused Lebanon † to mourn for him, and all the trees of the field fainted for him.

16 I made the nations to shake at the sound of his fall, when I cast him down to hell with them that descend into the pit: and all the trees of Eden, the choice and best of Lebanon, all that drink water, shall be [h] comforted in the nether parts of the earth.

17 They also went down into hell with him unto them that be slain with the sword, and they that were his arm that dwelt under his shadow in the midst of the heathen.

18 ¶ To whom [i] art thou thus like in glory and in greatnesse among the trees of Eden? yet shalt thou be brought down with the trees of Eden unto the nether parts of the earth: thou shalt lie in the midst of the [k] uncircumcised, with them that be slain by the sword: this is Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XXXII.

1 A lamentation for the fearfull fall of Egypt. 11 The sword of Babylon shall destroy it. 17 It shall be brought down to hell among all the uncirmumcised nations.

AND it came to passe in the [a] twelfth yeare in the twelfth moneth, in the first day of the moneth, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, take up a lamentation for Pharaoh king of Egypt, & say unto him, Thou art like a young [b] lion of the nations, and thou art as a † whale in the seas: and thou camest forth with thy rivers, and [c] troubledst the waters with thy feet, and fouledst their rivers.

3 Thus saith the Lord GOD, I will therefore * spread out my net over thee, with a company of many people, and they shall bring thee up in my net.

4 Then will I leave thee upon the land, I will cast thee forth upon the open field, and will cause all the fowls of the heaven to remain upon thee, and I will fill the beasts of the whole earth with thee.

5 And I will lay thy flesh upon the mountains, and [d] fill the valleys with thy height.

6 I will also water with thy bloud ‡ the land wherein thou [e] swimmest, even to the mountains; and the rivers shall be full of thee.

7 And when I shall ‡ [f] put thee out, * I will cover the heaven, and make the starres thereof dark: I will cover the sunne with a cloud, and the moon shall not give her light.

8 All the † bright lights of heaven will I make † dark over thee, and set [g] darknesse upon thy land, saith the Lord GOD.

9 I will also † vex the hearts of many people, when I shall bring thy destruction among the nations, into the countreys which thou hast not known.

10 Yea, I will make many people amazed at thee, and their kings shall be horribly afraid for thee, when I shall brandish my sword before them, and they shall tremble at every moment; every man for his own life, in the day of thy fall.

11 ¶ For thus saith the Lord GOD, The sword of the king of Babylon shall come upon thee.

12 By the swords of the mighty will I cause thy multitude to fall, the terrible of the nations all of them; and they shall spoil the [h] pomp of Egypt, and all the multitude thereof shall be destroyed.

13 I will destroy also all the beasts thereof from besides the great waters, neither shall the foot of man trouble them any more, nor the hoofs of beasts trouble them.

14 Then will I make their [i] waters deep, and cause their rivers to run like oil, saith the Lord GOD.

15 When I shall make the land of Egypt desolate, and the countrey shall be † destitute of that whereof it was full when I shall smite all them that dwell therein, then shall they know that I am the LORD.

16 This is the lamentation wherewith they shall lament her: the daughters of the nations shall lament her: they shall lament for her even for Egypt and for all her multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

17 ¶ It came to passe also in the twelfth yeare, in the fifteenth day of the moneth, that the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

18 Sonne of man, wail for the multitude of Egypt, and [k] cast them down, even her, and the daughters of the famous nations, unto the nether parts of the earth, with them that go down into the pit.

19 Whom dost thou passe in [l] beauty? go down, and be thou laid with the uncircumcised.

† Heb. to be black.

23 Whose graves are set in the sides of the pit, and her company is round about her grave: all of them slain, fallen by the sword; which caused ‡ terrour in the land of the living.

24 There is [o] Elam and all her multitude round about her grave, all of them slain, fallen by the sword, which are gone down uncircumcised into the neither parts of the earth, which caused their terrour in the [p] land of the living, yet have they born their shame with them that go down to the pit.

25 They have set her a bed in the midst of the slain with all her multitude: her graves are round about him, all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword: though their terrour was caused in the land of the living, yet have they born their shame with them that go down to the pit: he is put in the midst of them that be slain.

26 There is [q] Meshech, Tubal, and all her multitude: her graves are round about him: all of them uncircumcised, slain by the sword, though they caused their terrour in the land of the living.

27 And they shall not lie with the mighty, that are fallen of the [r] uncircumcised, which are gone down to hell †with their weapons of warre: and they have laid their sword under their bones, though they were the terrour of the mighty in the land of the living.

28 Yea, thou shalt be broken in the midst of the uncircumcised, and shalt lie with them that are slain with the sword.

29 There is Edom, her kings and all her princes, which with their might are † laid by them that were slain by the sword: they shall lie with the uncircumcised, and with them that go down to the pit.

30 There be the princes of the [s] north all of them, and all the Zidonians, which are gone down with the slain, with their terrour they are ashamed of their might, and they lie uncircumcised with them that be slain by the sword, and bear their shame with them that go down to the pit.

31 Pharaoh shall see them, and shall be [t] comforted over all his multitude, even Pharaoh and all his army slain by the sword, saith the Lord GOD.

32 For I have caused my [u] terrour in the land of the living: and he shall be laid in the midst of the uncircumcised with them that are slain with the sword, even Pharaoh and all his multitude, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XXXIII.

1 According to the duty of a watchman, in warning the people, 7 Ezekiel is admonished of his duty. 10 God sheweth the justice of his wayes towards the penitent, and toward revolters. 17 He maintaineth his justice. 21 Upon the news of the taking of Jerusalem, he propheseth the desolation of the land. 30 Gods judgement upon the mockers of the prophets.

AGain the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, speak to the children of thy people, and say unto them, † When I bring the sword upon a land, if the people of the land take a man of their coasts, and set him for their [a] watchman:

3 If when he seeth the sword come upon the land, he blow the trumpet, & warn the people;

4 Then † whosoever heareth the sound of the trumpet, and taketh not warning; if the sword come, and take him away, his bloud shall be upon his own head.

5 He heard the sound of the trumpet, and took not warning, his bloud shall be upon him: but he that taketh warning, shall deliver his soul.

6 But if the watchman see the sword come, and blow not the trumpet, and the people be not warned: if the sword come and take any person from among them, he is taken away in his [b] iniquity: but his bloud will I require at the watchmans hand.

7 ¶ * So thou, O sonne of man, I have set thee a watchman unto the house of Israel: therefore thou shalt heare the word at my [c] mouth, and warn them from me.

8 When I say unto the wicked, O wicked man, thou shalt surely die; if thou dost not speak to warn the wicked from his way, that wicked man shall die in his iniquity, but his bloud will I [d] require at thine hand.

9 Nevertheless, if thou warn the wicked of his way to turn from it: if he do not turn from his way, he shall die in his iniquitie, but thou hast delivered thy soul.

10 ¶ Therefore, O thou sonne of man, speak unto the house of Israel, Thus ye speak, saying, If our transgressions and our sinnes be upon us, and we pine away in them, [e] how should we then live?

11 Say unto them, As I live, saith the Lord GOD, * I have no [f] pleasure in the death of the wicked, but that the wicked turn from his way and live: turn ye, turn ye from your evil wayes; for * why will ye die, O house of Israel?

12 Therefore, thou sonne of man, say unto the children of thy people, [g] The righteousnesse of the righteous shall not deliver him in the day of his transgression: as for the wickednesse of the wicked, he shall not fall thereby in the day that he turneth from his wickednesse; neither shall the righteous be able to live for his righteousnesse in the day that he sinneth.

13 When I shall say to the righteous, that he shall surely live: if he trust to his own rightea He sheweth, that the people ought to have continually governours and teachers which may have a care over them, and to warn them ever of the dangers which are at hand.

† Heb. When I bring a sword upon her.

b Signifying, that the wicked shall not escape punishment though the watchmen be negligent, but if the watchman blow the trumpet, and then they will not obey, he shall deserve double punishment.

* Chap. 3: 17. &c.

c Which teacheth that he that receiveth not his charge at the Lords mouth, is a spie, and not a true watchman.

d The watchman must answer for the bloud of all that perish, through his negligence.

e Thus the wicked when they hear Gods judgements for their sinnes, despair of his mercies, and murmure.

righteousnesse, and commit iniquity; all his righteousnesse shall not be remembred, but for his iniquitie that he hath committed he shall die for it.

14 Again, when I say unto the wicked, Thou shalt surely die: if he turn from his sinne, and do † that which is lawfull and [b] right;

h Hereby he condemneth all them of hypocrisie, which pretend to forsake wickednesse, and yet declare not themselves such by their fruits, that is, in obeying Gods commandements, and by godly life.

15 If the wicked restore the pledge, give again that he had robbed, walk in the statutes of life without committing iniquitie; he shall surely live, he shall not die.

16 None of his sinnes that he hath committed, shall be mentioned unto him: he hath done that which is lawfull and right; he shall surely live.

17 ¶ Yet the children of thy people say, The way of the Lord is not equall: but as for them, their way is not equall.

18 When the righteous turneth from his righteousnesse, and committeth iniquity, he shall even die thereby.

19 But if the wicked turn from his wickednesse, and do that which is lawfull and right, he shall live thereby.

20 Yet ye say, * The way of the Lord is not equall: O ye house of Israel, I will judge you every one after his wayes.

* Chap. 18: 25.

21 ¶ And it came to passe in the twelfth yeare of [i] our captivity, in the tenth moneth, in the fifth day of the moneth, that one that had escaped out of Jerusalem, came unto me, saying, * The city is smitten.

i When the prophet was led away captive with Jeconiah.

* 2 Kings 25.

22 Now the [k] hand of the LORD was upon me in the evening, afore he that was escaped came; and had opened my mouth untill he came to me in the morning, and my [l] mouth was opened, and I was no more dumbe.

k I was indued with the spirit of prophesie, Chap. 8: 2.

l Whereby is signified, that the ministers of God cannot speak till God give them courage, and open their mouths, Chap. 24: 27. and 29: 21. Ephes. 6: 19.

23 Then the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

24 Sonne of man: they that inhabit those wastes of the land of Israel, speak, saying, [m] Abraham was one, and he inherited the land: but we are many, the land is given us for inheritance.

m Thus the wicked think themselves more worthy to enjoy Gods promise then the saints of God, to whom they were made: and would binde God to be subject to them, though they would not be bound to him.

25 Wherefore say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Ye [n] eat with the bloud, and lift up your eyes toward your idols, and shed bloud: and shall ye possesse the land?

n Contrary to the law, Levit. 17. vers. 14.

26 Ye [o] stand upon your sword, ye work abomination, and ye defile every one his neighbours wife; and shall ye possesse the land?

o As they that are readie still to shed bloud.

27 Say thou thus unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, As I live, surely they that are in the wastes shall fall by the sword, and him that is in the open field will I give to the beasts † to be devoured: and they that be in the forts and in the caves, shall die of the pestilence.

† Heb. to devoure him.

28 For I will lay the land † most desolate, and the * pomp of her strength shall cease: and the mountains of Israel shall be desolate, that none shall passe through.

† Heb. desolation and desolation.

* Chap. 7: 24. and 24: 21. and 30: 6, 7.

29 Then shall they know that I am the LORD, when I have laid the land most desolate, because of all their abominations which they have committed.

30 ¶ Also thou sonne of man, the children of the people still are [p] talking against thee by the walls, and in the doores of the houses, and speak one to another, every one to his brother, saying, Come, I pray you, and heare what is the word that cometh forth from the LORD.

p In derision.

31 And they come unto thee † as the people cometh, and ‡ they sit before thee as my people; and they heare thy words, but they will not do them: for with their mouth † [q] they shew much love, but their heart goeth after their covetousnesse.

† Heb. according to the coming of the people.

‡ Or, my people sit before thee.

† Heb. they make loves, or jests.

q This declareth, that we ought to heare Gods word with such zeal and affection, that we should in all points obey it, else we abuse the word to our own condemnation, and make of his ministers as though they were jests to serve mens foolish fantasies.

32 And lo, thou art unto them as † a very lovely song of one that hath a pleasant voice, and can play well on an instrument: for they heare thy words, but they do them not.

† Heb. a song of loves.

33 And when this cometh to passe (lo it will come) then shall they know that a prophet hath been among them.

CHAP. XXXIIII.

1 A reproof of the shepherds. 7 Gods judgement against them. 11 His providence for his flock. 20 The kingdome of Christ.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

2 Sonne of man, prophesie against the * shep-herds of Israel, prophesie and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD unto the [a] shepherds, Wo be to the shepherds of Israel that do feed themselves: should not the shepherds feed the flocks?

* Jer. 23: 1.

a By the shepherds he meaneth the king, the magistrates, priests, and prophets.

3 Ye eat the [b] fat, and ye clothe you with the wooll, ye kill them that are fed: but ye feed not the flock.

b Ye seek to enrich your selves by their commodities, and so spoil their riches and substance.

4 The [c] diseased have ye not strengthened, neither have ye healed that which was sick, neither have ye bound up that which was broken, neither have ye brought again that which was driven away, neither have ye sought that which was lost; but with * force and with cruelty have ye ruled them.

c He describeth the office and dutie of a good pastor: who ought to love and succour his flock and not to be cruell toward them.

* 1 Pet. 5: 3.

5 And they were [d] scattered ‡ because there is no shepherd: and they became meat to all the beasts of the field, when they were scattered.

d For lack of good government and doctrin they perished.

‡ Or, without a shepherd, and so vers. 8.

6 My sheep wandered through all the mountains, and upon every high hill: yea, my flock was scattered upon all the face of the earth, and none did search or seek after them.

7 ¶ Therefore ye shepherds, heare the word of the LORD:

8 As I live, saith the Lord GOD, surely because my flock became a prey, and my flock became meat to every beast of the field, because there was no shepherd, neither did my shepherds search for my flock, but the shepherds fed themselves, and fed not my flock:

9 Therefore O ye shepherds, heare the word of the LORD;

10 Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold: I am against the shepherds, and I will require my flock at their hand, and cause them to cease from feeding the flock, neither shall the shepherds feed themselves any more; for I will delideliver my flock from their [e] mouth, that they may not be meat for them.

11 ¶ For thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I, even I will both search my sheep, and seek them out.

12 † As a shepherd seeketh out his flock in the day that he is among his sheep that are scattered; so will I seek out my sheep, and will deliver them out of all places, where they have been scattered in the [f] cloudy and dark day.

13 And I will bring them out from the people, and gather them from the countreys, and will bring them to their own land, and feed them upon the mountains of Israel by the rivers, and in all the inhabited places of the countrey.

14 I will feed them in a good pasture, and upon the high mountains of Israel shall their fold be: there shall they lie in a good fold, and in a fat pasture shall they feed upon the mountains of Israel.

15 I will feed my flock, and I will cause them to lie down, saith the Lord GOD.

16 I will seek that which was lost, and bring again that which was driven away, and will binde up that which was broken, and will strengthen that which was sick: but I will destroy the fat and the [g] strong, I will feed them with [h] judgement.

17 And as for you, O my flock, thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I judge between † cattel and cattel, between the rammes and the † he-goats.

18 Seemeth it a small thing unto you, to have eaten up the good pasture, but ye must tread down with your feet the residue of your [i] pastures? and to have drunk of the deep waters, but ye must foul the residue with your feet?

19 And as for my flock, they eat that which ye have troden with your feet: and they drink, that which ye have fouled with your feet.

20 ¶ Therefore thus saith the Lord GOD unto them, Behold, I, even I will judge between the fat cattel, and between the lean cattel.

21 Because ye have thrust with side and with shoulder, and pusht all the diseased with your horns, till ye have scattered them abroad:

22 Therefore will I save my flock, and they shall no more be a prey, and I will judge between cattel and cattel.

23 And I will set up one * shepherd over them, and he shall feed them, even my servant [k] David; he shall feed them, and he shall be their shepherd.

24 And I the LORD will be their God, and my servant David a prince among them, I the LORD have spoken it.

25 And I will make with them a covenant of peace, and will cause the evil beasts to cease out of the land: & they shall dwell [l] safely in the wilderness, and sleep in the woods.

26 And I will make them and the places round about my hill, a blessing; and I will cause the showre to come down in his season: there shall be showres of blessing.

27 And the [m] tree of the field shall yeeld her fruit, and the earth shall yeeld her increase, and they shall be safe in their land, and shall know that I am the LORD, when I have broken the bands of their yoke, and delivered them out of the hand of those that served themselves of them.

28 And they shall no more be a prey to the heathen, neither shall the beasts of the land devoure them; but they shall dwell safely, and none shall make them afraid.

29 And I will raise up for them a [n] plant ‡ of renown: and they shall be no more †consumed with hunger in the land, neither bear the shame of the heathen any more.

30 Thus shall they know that I the LORD their God am with them, and that they, even the house of Israel, are my people, saith the Lord GOD.

31 And ye my * flock the flock of my pasture are men, and I am your God, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XXXV.

The judgement of mount Seir, for their hatred of Israel.

MOreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, saying;

2. Sonne of man, set thy face against mount [a] Seir, and prophesie against it,

3 And say unto it, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, O mount Seir, I am against thee, and I will stretch out mine hand against thee, and I will make thee † most desolate.

4 I will lay thy cities waste, and thou shalt be desolate, and thou shalt know that I am the LORD.

5 Because thou hast had a ‡ perpetuall hatred, and hast † shed the bloud of the children of Israel by the † force of the sword, in the time of their calamitie, in the time that their [b] iniquity had an end:

6 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will prepare thee unto bloud, and bloud shall pursue thee: sith thou hast not [c] hated bloud, even bloud shall pursue thee.

7 Thus will I make mount Seir † most desolate, and cut off from it him that passeth out, and him that returneth.

8 And I will fill his mountains with his slain men: in thy hills, and in thy valleys, and in all thy rivers shall they fall that are slain with the sword.

9 I will make thee perpetuall desolations, and thy cities shall not [d] return, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

10 Because thou hast said, These [e] two nations, and these two countreys shall be mine, and we will * possesse it, ‡ whereas the LORD was [f] there:

11 Therefore, as I live, saith the Lord GOD, I will even do according to [g] thine anger, and according to thine envy which thou hast used out of thy hatred against them: and I will make

CHAP. XXXVI.

1 The land of Iſrael is comforted, both by deſtruction of the heathen, who ſpitefully uſed it, 8 and by the bleſſings of God promiſed unto it. 16 Iſrael was rejected for their ſinne, 21 and ſhall be reſtored without their deſert. 25 The bleſſings of Chriſts kingdome.

ALſo thou ſonne of man, propheſie unto the * mountains of Iſrael, and ſay, Ye mountains of Iſrael, heare the word of the LORD.

2 Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Becauſe the [a] enemy had ſaid againſt you, Aha, even the ancient [b] high places are ours in poſſeſſion:

3 Therefore propheſie and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, † Becauſe they have made you deſolate, and ſwallowed you up on every ſide, that ye might be a poſſeſſion unto the reſidue of the heathen, and ‡ ye are taken up in the lips of [c] talkers, and are an infamie of the people:

4 Therefore ye mountains of Iſrael, heare the word of the Lord GOD, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD to the mountains and to the hills, to the ‡ rivers and to the valleys, to the deſolate waſtes, and to the cities that are forſaken, which became a prey and deriſion to the reſidue of the heathen that are round about:

5 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Surely in the fire of my jealouſie have I ſpoken againſt the reſidue of the heathen, and againſt all Idumea, which have [d] appointed my land into their poſſeſſion, with the joy of all their heart, with deſpitefull mindes to caſt it out for a prey.

6 Propheſie therefore concerning the land of Iſrael, and ſay unto the mountains and to the hils, to the rivers and to the valleys, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I have ſpoken in my jealouſie and in my furie, becauſe ye have born the [e] ſhame of the heathen.

7 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, I have [f] lifted up mine hand, Surely the heathen that are about you, they ſhall bear their ſhame.

8 ¶ But ye, O mountains of Iſrael, ye ſhall [g] ſhoot forth your branches, and yeeld your fruit to my people of Iſrael, for they are at hand to come.

9 For behold, I am for you, and I will turn unto you, and ye ſhall be tilled and ſown.

10 And I will multiply men upon you, all the houſe of Iſrael, even all of it, and the cities ſhall be inhabited, and the waſtes ſhall be builded.

11 And I will multiply upon you man and beaſt, and they ſhall increaſe and bring fruit, and I will ſettle you after your old eſtates, and will do better unto you than at your [h] beginnings, and ye ſhall know that I am the LORD.

12 Yea, I will cauſe men to walk upon [i] you, even my people Iſrael, and they ſhall poſſeſſe thee, and thou ſhalt be their inheritance, and thou ſhalt no more henceforth bereave them of men.

13 Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Becauſe they ſay unto you, [k] Thou land devoureſt up men, and haſt bereaved thy nations;

14 Therefore thou ſhalt devoure men no more, neither † bereave thy nations any more, ſaith the Lord GOD.

15 Neither will I cauſe men to heare in thee † the ſhame of the heathen any more, neither ſhalt thou bear the reproach of the people any more, neither ſhalt thou cauſe thy nations to fall any more, ſaith the Lord GOD.

16 ¶ Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

17 Sonne of man, when the houſe of Iſrael dwelt in their own land, they defiled it by their own way, and by their doings: their way was before me as the uncleanneſſe of a removed woman.

18 Wherefore I poured my fury upon them for the bloud that they had ſhed upon the land, and for their idols wherewith they had polluted it.

19 And I ſcattered them among the heathen, and they were diſperſed through the countreys: according to their way and according to their doings I judged them.

20 And when they entred unto the heathen whither they went, they * profaned my holy name, when they ſaid to them, Theſe are the people of the LORD, and are gone forth out of his land.

21 ¶ But I had pitie for mine holy [l] name, which the houſe of Iſrael had profaned among the heathen whither they went.

22 Therefore ſay unto the houſe of Iſrael, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, I do not this for your ſakes, O houſe of Iſrael, but for [m] mine holy names ſake, which ye have profaned among the heathen, whither ye went.

23 And I will ſanctifie my great name which was profaned among the heathen, which ye have profaned in the midſt of them, and the heathen ſhall know that I am the LORD, ſaith the Lord GOD, when I ſhall be ſanctified in you, before ‡ their eyes.

1 By the resurrection of drie bones, 11 the dead hope of Israel is revived 15 By the uniting of two sticks, 28 is shewed the incorporation of Israel into Judah. 20 The promises of Christs kingdome.

ª He sheweth by a greater miracle, that God hath power, and also will deliver his people from their captivity, in as much as he is able to give life unto the dead bones, and bodies, and raise them up again.

THE hand of the LORD was upon me, and carried me out in the spirit of the LORD, and set me down in the midst of the valley which was full of ª bones,

2 And caused me to passe by them round about, and behold, there were very many in the open † valley, and lo, they were very drie.

† Or, champian.

3 And he said unto me, Sonne of man, can these bones live? and I answered, O Lord GOD, thou knowest.

4 Again he said unto me, Prophesie upon these bones, and say unto them, O ye drie bones, heare the word of the LORD.

5 Thus saith the Lord GOD unto these bones, Behold, I will cause breath to enter into you, and ye shall live.

6 And I will lay sinews upon you, and will bring up flesh upon you, and cover you with skin, and put breath in you; and ye shall live, and ye shall know that I am the LORD.

7 So I prophesied as I was commanded: and as I prophesied there was a noise, and behold a shaking, and the bones came together bone to his bone.

8 And when I beheld, lo, the sinews and the flesh came up upon them, and the skin covered them above; but there was no breath in them.

9 Then said he unto me, Prophesie unto the † winde, prophesie, sonne of man, and say to the winde, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Come from the foure ᵇ windes, O breath, and breathe upon these slain, that they may live.

ᵇ Signifying, all parts, whereas the Israelites were scattered: that is, the faithfull shall be brought to the same unity of spirit, and doctrin, wheresoever they are scattered through the world.

10 So I prophesied as he commanded me, and the breath came into them, and they lived and stood up upon their feet, an exceeding great army.

11 ¶ Then he said unto me, Sonne of man, these bones are the whole house of Israel: behold they say, Our bones are dried, and our hope is lost, we are cut off for our parts.

12 Therefore prophesie and say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, O my people, I will open your graves, and cause you to come up out of your graves, and bring you into the land of Israel.

13 And ye shall know that I am the LORD, ᶜ when I have opened your graves, O my people, and brought you up out of your graves, ᶜ That is, when I have brought you out of those places and towns where you are captives.

14 And shall put my spirit in you, and ye shall live, and I shall place you in your own land: then shall ye know that I the LORD have spoken it, and performed it, saith the LORD.

15 ¶ The word of the LORD came again unto me, saying,

16 Moreover, thou sonne of man, take thee one stick and write upon it, For Judah, and for the children of Israel his companions: then take ᵈ another stick, and write upon it, For Joseph the stick of Ephraim, and for all the house of Israel his companions.

ᵈ Which signifieth the joyning together of the two houses of Israel and Judah.

17 And joyn them one to another into one stick, and they shall become one in thine hand.

18 ¶ And when the children of thy people shall speak unto thee, saying, Wilt thou not shew us what thou meanest by these?

19 Say unto them, Thus saith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will take the stick of ᵉ Joseph which is in the hand of Ephraim, and the tribes of Israel his fellows, and will put them with him, even with the stick of Judah, and and make them one ſtick, and they ſhall be one in mine hand.

20 ¶ And the ſticks whereon thou writeſt, ſhall be in thine hand before their eyes.

21 And ſay unto them, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I will take the children of Iſrael from among the heathen whither they be gone, and will gather them on every ſide, and bring them into their own land.

f Meaning, that the elect by Chriſt ſhall dwell in the heavenly Jeruſalem, which is meant by the land of Canaan.

26 Moreover, I will make a * covenant of peace with them, it ſhall be an everlaſting covenant with them, and I will place them, and multiply them, and will ſet my * ſanctuary in the midſt of them for evermore.

AND the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying;

2 Sonne of man, ſet thy face againſt * [a] Gog, the land of Magog, ‡ the chief prince of Meſhech and Tubal, and propheſie againſt him,

3 And ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Behold, I am againſt thee, O Gog the chief prince of Meſhech and Tubal.

7 Be thou prepared, and [e] prepare for thy ſelf, thou and all thy company that are aſſembled unto thee, and be thou a guard unto them.

e Signifying, that all the people of the world ſhould aſſemble themſelves againſt the church, and Chriſt their head.

8 ¶ After many dayes thou ſhalt be viſited: in the latter yeares thou ſhall come into the land that is brought back from the ſword, and is gathered out of many people againſt the mountains of Iſrael, which have been alwayes waſte: but it is brought forth out of the nations, and they ſhall dwell ſafely all of them.

9 Thou ſhalt aſcend and come like a ſtorm, thou ſhalt be like a cloud to cover the land, thou and all thy bands, and many people with thee.

10 Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, it ſhall alſo come to paſſe, that at the ſame time ſhall things come into thy minde, and thou ſhalt ‡ think an [f] evil thought.

f That is, to moleſt and deſtroy the church.

11 And thou ſhalt ſay, I will go up to the land of unwalled villages, I will go to [g] them that are at reſt, that dwell ‡ ſafely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither barres nor gates, g Meaning, Iſrael which had now been deſtroyed, & was not yet built again: declaring hereby the ſimplicity of the godly, who ſeek not ſo much to fortifie themſelves by outward force, as to depend on the providence and goodneſſe of God.

‡ Or, confidently.

12 † To take a ſpoil, and to take a prey, to turn thine hand upon the deſolate places that are now inhabited, and upon the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattel and goods, that dwell in the † midſt of the land.

h One enemy ſhall envie another, becauſe every one ſhall think to have the ſpoil of the church.

14 ¶ Therefore, ſonne of man, propheſie and ſay unto Gog, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, In that day when my people of Iſrael [i] dwelleth ſafely, ſhalt thou not know it?

i ſhalt not thou ſpy thine occaſions to come againſt my church when they ſuſpect nothing?

15 And thou ſhalt come from thy place out of the north-parts, thou and many people with thee, all of them riding upon horſes, a great company, and a mighty army.

16 And thou ſhalt come up againſt my people of Iſrael, as a cloud to cover the land, it ſhall be in the [k] latter dayes, and I will bring thee againſt my land, that the heathen may know me, when I ſhall be [l] ſanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes.

k Meaning, in the laſt age, and from the coming of Chriſt unto the end of the world.

l Signifying, that God will be ſanctified by maintaining his church, and deſtroying his enemies, as Chap. 36: 23. and 37: 28.

17 Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Art thou he of whom I have ſpoken in old time † [m] by my ſervants the prophets of Iſrael; which propheſied in thoſe dayes many yeares, that I would bring thee againſt them?

m Hereby he declareth that none affliction can come to the church, whereof they have not been advertiſed afore time, to teach them to indure all things with more patience when they know that God hath ſo ordained.

18 And it ſhall come to paſſe at the ſame time when Gog ſhall come againſt the land of Iſrael, ſaith the Lord GOD, that my fury ſhall come up in my face.

19 For in my jealouſie, and in the fire of my wrath have I ſpoken: ſurely in that day there ſhall be a great ſhaking in the land of Iſrael:

20 So that the fiſhes of the ſea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beaſts of the field, and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the the earth, ſhall ſhake at my preſence, and the mountains ſhall be thrown down, and the ‡ [n] ſteep places ſhall fall, and every wall ſhall fall to the ground.

‡ Or, towers, or ſtairs.
n All meanes whereby man ſhould think to ſave himſelf ſhall fail, the affliction in thoſe dayes ſhall be ſo great, and the deſtruction ſhall be ſo terrible.

21 And I will call for a ſword againſt him [o] throughout all my mountains, ſaith the Lord GOD: every mans ſword ſhall be againſt his brother.

o Againſt the people of Gog and Magog.

22 And I will plead againſt him with peſtilence and with bloud, and I will rain upon him and upon his bands, and upon the many people that are with him, an overflowing rain, and great hailſtones, fire and brimſtone.

23 Thus will I * magnifie my ſelf, and ſanctifie my ſelf, and I will be known in the eyes of many nations, and they ſhall know that I am the LORD.

1 Gods judgement upon Gog. 8 Iſraels victory. 11 Gogs buriall in Hamon-gog. 17 The feaſt of the fowls. 23 Iſrael having been plagued for their ſinnes, ſhall be gathered again with eternall favour.

THEREFORE, thou ſonne of man, propheſie againſt Gog, and ſay, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD: Behold, I am againſt thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Meſhech and Tubal.

2 And I will turn thee back, and [a] leave but the ſixth part of thee, and will cauſe thee to come up from † the north-parts, and will bring thee upon the mountains of Iſrael:

3 And I will ſmite thy bow out of thy left hand, and will cauſe thine arrows to fall out of thy right hand.

4 Thou [b] ſhalt fall upon the mountains of Iſrael, thou and all thy bands, and the people that is with thee: I will give thee unto the ravenous birds of every † ſort, and to the beaſts of the field † to be devoured.

b Meaning, that by the vertue of Gods word, the enemy ſhall be deſtroyed whereſoever he aſſaileth his church.
† Heb. wing.
† Heb. to devoure.
† Heb. the face of the field.

5 Thou ſhalt fall upon † the open field, for I have ſpoken it, ſaith the Lord GOD.

6 And I will ſend a fire on Magog, and among them that dwell ‡ careleſly in the [c] iſles, and they ſhall know that I am the LORD.

c That is, among all nations where the enemies of my people dwell, ſeem they never ſo far ſeparate.

7 So will I make my holy name known in the midſt of my people Iſrael, and I will not let them pollute my holy name any more; and the heathen ſhall know that I am the LORD, the holy one in Iſrael.

8 ¶ Behold, [d] it is come, and it is done, ſaith the Lord GOD, this is the day whereof I have ſpoken.

d That is, this plague is fully determined in my counſel, and cannot be changed.

9 And they that dwell in the cities of Iſrael ſhall [e] go forth, and ſhall ſet on fire and burn the weapons, both the ſhields and the bucklers, the bows and the arrows, and the ‡ handſtaves and the ſpears, and they ſhall ‡ burn them with fire ſeven yeares.

e After this deſtruction the church ſhall have great peace and tranquillitie, and burn all their weapons, becauſe they ſhall no more feare the enemy: and this is chiefly meant of the accompliſhment of Chriſts kingdom, when by their head Chriſt, all enemies ſhall be overcome.
‡ Or, javelins.
‡ Or, make a fire of them.

10 So that they ſhall take no wood out of the field, neither cut down any out of the foreſts: for they ſhall burn the weapons with fire, and they ſhall ſpoil thoſe that ſpoiled them, and rob thoſe that robbed them, ſaith the Lord GOD.

11 ¶ And it ſhall come to paſſe at that day that I will give unto Gog [f] a place there of graves in Iſrael, the valley of the paſſengers on the eaſt of the ſea: and it ſhall ſtop the ‡ [g] noſes of the paſſengers, and there ſhall they burie Gog, and all his multitude, and they ſhall call it, the valley of ‡ Hamon-gog.

f Which declareth, that the enemies ſhall have an horrible fall.
‡ Or, mouthes.
g For the ſtink of the carcaſes.
‡ That is, the multitude of Gog.

12 [h] And ſeven moneths ſhall the houſe of Iſrael be burying of them, that they may cleanſe the land.

h Meaning, a long time.

13 Yea, all the people of the land ſhall bury them, and it ſhall be to them a renown the day that I ſhall be glorified, ſaith the Lord GOD.

14 And they ſhall ſever out † men of continuall employment, paſſing through the [i] land to bury with the paſſengers thoſe that remain upon the face of the earth to cleanſe it: after the end of ſeven moneths ſhall they ſearch.

i Partly, that the holy land ſhould not be polluted, and partly, for the compaſſion that the children of God have, even on their enemies.

15 And the paſſengers that paſſe through the land, when any ſeeth a mans bone, then ſhall he † ſet up a ſigne by it, till the buriers have buried it in the valley of Hamon-gog.

16 And alſo the name of the city ſhall be ‡ Hamonah: thus ſhall they cleanſe the land.

‡ That is, the multitude.

17 ¶ And thou ſonne of man, Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Speak † unto every feathered fowl, and to every beaſt of the field, [k] aſſemble your ſelves, and come, gather your ſelves on every ſide to my ‡ ſacrifice that I do ſacrifice for you, even a great ſacrifice upon the mountains of Iſrael, that ye may eat fleſh, and drink bloud.

† Heb. to the fowl of every wing.
k Whereby he ſignifieth the horrible deſtruction upon the enemies of his church.
‡ Or, ſlaughter.

18 Ye ſhall eat the fleſh of the mighty, and drink the bloud of the princes of the earth, of rams, of lambes, and of † goats, of bullocks, all of them fatlings of Bashan.

19 And ye ſhall eat fat till ye be full, and drink bloud till ye be drunken, of my ſacrifice which I have ſacrificed for you.

20 Thus ye ſhall be filled at my table with horſes and chariots, with mighty men, and with all men of warre, ſaith the Lord GOD.

21 And I will ſet my glory among the heathen, and all the heathen ſhall ſee my judgement that I have executed, and my hand that I have laid upon them.

22 So the houſe of Iſrael ſhall know that I am the LORD their God from that day and forward.

23 ¶ And the heathen ſhall know that the houſe of Iſrael went into captivity for their iniquity: becauſe they [l] treſpaſſed againſt me, therefore hid I my face from them, and gave them into the hand of their enemies; ſo fell they all by the ſword.

l The heathen ſhall know that they overcame not my people by their ſtrength, neither yet by the weakneſſe of mine arm, but that this was for my peoples ſinnes.

24 According to their uncleanneſſe, and according to their tranſgreſſions have I done unto them, and hid my face from them.

25 Therefore thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Now will I bring again the captivity of Jacob, and have mercy upon the whole houſe of Iſrael, and will be jealous for my holy name:

26 After that they have born their ſhame, and all their treſpaſſes whereby they have treſpaſſed againſt me, when they dwelt ſafely in their land, and none made them afraid.

27 When I have brought them again from the people, and gathered them out of their enemies enemies lands, and * am sanctified in them in the sight of many nations;

28 Then shall they know that I am the LORD their God, † which caused them to be led into captivity among the heathen: but I have gathered them unto their own land, and have left none of them any more there.

29 Neither will I hide my face any more from them: for I have * poured out my spirit upon the house of Israel, saith the Lord GOD.

CHAP. XL.

1 The time, manner, and end of the vision. 6 The description of the east-gate, 20 of the north-gate, 24 of the south-gate, 32 of the east-gate, 35 and of the north-gate. 39 Eight tables. 44 The chambers, 28 The porch of the house.

IN the five and twentieth yeare of our captivity, in the [a] beginning of the yeare, in the tenth day of the moneth, in the fourteenth yeare after that the city was smitten, in the self-same day the hand of the LORD was upon me, and brought me thither.

a The Jews counted the beginning of the year after two sorts: for their feasts they began to count in March, and for their other affairs in September: so that this is to be understood of September.

2 In the visions of God brought he me into the land of Israel, and set me upon a very high mountain, ‡ by which was as the frame of a city on the south.

‡ Or, upon which.

3 And he brought me thither, and behold, there was a [b] man, whose appearance was like the appearance of brasse, with a line of flax in his hand, and a measuring-reed; and he stood in the gate.

b Which was an angel in form of a man, that came to measure out this building.

4 And the man said unto me, Sonne of man, behold with thine eyes, and heare with thine eares, and set thine heart upon all that I shall shew thee; for to the intent that I might shew them unto thee, art thou brought hither: declare all that thou seest, to the house of Israel.

5 And behold, a wall on the outside of the house round about, and in the mans hand a measuring-reed of six cubits long, by the cubit, and an hand-breadth: so he measured the breadth of the building, one reed, and the height one reed.

† Heb. whose face was the way toward the east.

6 ¶ Then came he unto the gate † which looketh toward the east, and went up the stairs thereof, and measured the threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad, and the other threshold of the gate, which was one reed broad.

7 And every little chamber was one reed long, and one reed broad, and between the little chambers were five cubits, and the threshold of the gate, by the porch of the gate within was one reed.

8 He measured also the porch of the gate within, one reed.

9 Then measured he the porch of the gate, eight cubits, and the posts thereof two cubits, and the porch of the gate was inward.

10 And the little chambers of the gate eastward, were three on this side, and three on that side, they three were of one measure, and the posts had one measure on this side and on that side.

11 And he measured the breadth of the entry of the gate ten cubits, and the length of the gate thirteen cubits.

12 The † space also before the little chambers was one cubit on this side, and the space was one cubit on that side, and the little chambers were six cubits on this side, and six cubits on that side.

† Heb. limit, or bound.

13 He measured then the gate from the roof of one little chamber to the roof of another: the breadth was five and twenty cubits, doore against doore.

14 He made also posts, of threescore cubits, even unto the post of the court round about the gate.

15 And from the face of the gate of the entrance, unto the face of the porch of the inner gate, were fifty cubits.

16 And there were † narrow windows to the little chambers, and to their posts within the gate round about, and likewise to the ‡ arches: and windows were round about ‡ inward: and upon each post were palm-tres.

† Heb. closed.

‡ Or, galleries or porches.

‡ Or, within.

18 And the pavement by the side of the gates over against the length of the gates, was the lower pavement.

19 Then he measured the breadth from the forefront of the lower gate, unto the forefront of the inner court ‡ without, an hundred cubits east-ward and north-ward.

‡ Or, from without.

20 ¶ And the gate of the outward court † that looked toward the north, he measured the length thereof, and the breadth thereof.

† Heb. whose face was.

21 And the little chambers thereof were three on this side, and three on that side, and the posts thereof, and the ‡ arches thereof were after the measure of the first gate: the length thereof was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

‡ Or, galleries or porches.

22 And their windows, and their arches, and their palm-trees, were after the measure of the gate that looketh towards the east, and they went up unto it by seven steps, and the arches thereof were before them.

23 And the gate of the inner court was over against the gate toward the north, and toward the east, and he measured from gate to gate an hundred cubits.

24 ¶ After that he brought me toward the south, and behold a gate toward the south, and he measured the posts thereof, and the arches thereof according to these measures.

25 And there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about, like those windows; the length was fifty cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

26 And there were seven steps to go up to it, and the arches thereof were before them, and it had palm-trees, one on this side, and another on that side upon the posts thereof.

27 And there was a gate in the inner court toward the south, and he measured from gate to gate toward the ſouth an hundred cubits.

28 And he brought me to the inner court by the ſouth-gate, and he meaſured the ſouth-gate according to theſe meaſures.

29 And the little chambers thereof, and the poſts thereof, and the arches thereof according to theſe meaſures, and there were windows in it, and in the arches thereof round about: it was fiftie cubits long, and five and twentie cubits broad.

30 And the arches round about were five and twenty cubits long, and five cubits † broad.

† Heb. breadth.

31 ¶ And the arches thereof were toward the utter court, and palm-trees were upon the poſts thereof; and the going up to it had eight ſteps.

32 ¶ And he brought me into the inner [c] court toward the eaſt, and he meaſured the gate according to theſe meaſures.

c In all he maketh ſix courts, two on the eaſt ſide, two on the north, and two on the ſouth ſide.

33 And the little chambers thereof, and the poſts thereof, and the arches thereof were according to theſe meaſures, and there were windows therein, and in the arches thereof round about; it was fifty cubits long, and five and twenty cubits broad.

34 And the arches thereof were toward the outward court, and palm-trees were upon the poſts thereof on this ſide, and on that ſide, and the going up to it had eight ſteps.

35 ¶ And he brought me to the north-gate, and meaſured it according to theſe meaſures.

36 The little chambers thereof, the poſts thereof, and the arches thereof, and the windows to it round about: the length was fiftie cubits, and the breadth five and twenty cubits.

37 And the poſts thereof were toward the uttercourt, and palm-trees were upon the poſts thereof on this ſide, and on that ſide, and the going up to it had eight ſteps.

d He ſpeaketh of ſix chambers, which were in the porch of the inner court on the north ſide.

38 And the [d] chambers, and the entries thereof were by the poſts of the gates, where they waſhed the burnt-offering.

‡ Or, at the ſtep.

40 And at the ſide without, ‡ as one goeth up to the entry of the north-gate, were two tables; and on the other ſide, which was at the porch of the gate, were two tables.

41 Foure tables were on this ſide, and foure tables on that ſide, by the ſide of the gate; eight tables, whereupon they ſlew their ſacrifices.

42 And the foure tables were of hewn ſtone for the burnt-offering, of a cubit and an half long, and a cubit and an half broad, and one cubit high: whereupon alſo they laid the inſtruments wherewith they ſlew the burnt-offering and the ſacrifice.

‡ Or, andirons, or the two hearth ſtones.

43 And within were ‡ hooks, an hand broad, faſtened round about, and upon the tables was the fleſh of the offering.

44 ¶ And without the innner gate were the chambers of the ſingers in the inner court, which was at the ſide of the north-gate: and their proſpect was toward the ſouth, one at the ſide of the eaſt-gate, having the proſpect toward the north.

45 And he ſaid unto me, This chamber whoſe proſpect is toward the ſouth, is for the prieſts the keepers of the ‡ charge of the houſe.

‡ Or, ward or ordinance, and ſo verſe 46.

46 And the chamber whoſe proſpect is toward the north, is for the prieſts the keepers of the charge of the altar: theſe are the ſonnes of Zadok among the ſonnes of Levi, which come neare to the LORD to miniſter unto him.

47 So he meaſured the court, an hundred cubits long, and an hundred cubits broad, foureſquare, and the altar that was before the houſe.

48 ¶ And he brought me to the porch of the houſe, and meaſured each [e] poſt of the porch, five cubits on this ſide, and five cubits on that ſide: and the breadth of the gate was three cubits on this ſide, and three cubits on that ſide.

e By the poſts of the porch, he meaneth the wall which was five cubits thick on either ſide of the alley or porch.

49 The length of the porch was twenty cubits, and the breadth eleven cubits, and he brought me by the ſteps whereby they went up to it: and there were pillars by the poſts, one on this ſide, and another on that ſide.

CHAP. XLI.

The meaſures, parts, chambers, and ornaments of the temple.

AFterward he brought me to the temple, and meaſured the poſts, ſix cubits broad on the one ſide, and ſix cubits broad on the other ſide, which was the breadth of the tabernacle.

2 And the breadth of the ‡ doore was ten cubits, and the ſides of the doore were five cubits on the one ſide, and five cubits on the other ſide: and he meaſured the length thereof fourty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits.

3 Then went [a] he inward, and meaſured the poſts of the doore two cubits, and the doore ſix cubits, and the breadth of the doore ſeven cubits.

a The angel went into the moſt holy place.

4 So he meaſured the length thereof, twenty cubits, and the breadth twenty cubits before the temple; and he ſaid unto me, This is the moſt holy place.

5 After he meaſured the wall of the houſe ſix cubits, and the breadth of every ſide-chamber foure cubits round about the houſe on every ſide.

6 And the ſide-chambers were three, † one over another, and ‡ thirty in order, and they entred into the wall which was of the houſe for the ſide-chambers round about: that they might † have hold, but they had not hold in the wall of the houſe.

† Heb. ſide-chamber over ſide-chamber.

‡ Or, three and thirty times, or foot.

† Heb. be holden.

7 And † there was an enlarging and a winding about ſtill upward to the ſide-chambers, for the winding about of the houſe went ſtill upward round about the houſe: therefore the breadth of the houſe was ſtill upward, and ſo increaſed from the loweſt chamber to the higheſt by the midſt.

† Heb. it was made broader and went round.

8 I ſaw

8 I ſaw alſo the height of the houſe round about: the foundations of the ſide-chambers were a full reed of ſix great cubits.

9 The thickneſſe of the wall which was for the ſide-chamber without, was five cubits, and that which was left, was the place of the ſide-chambers that were within.

10 And between the chambers was the wideneſſe of twenty cubits round about the houſe on every ſide.

11 And the doores of the ſide-chambers were toward the place that was left, one doore toward the north, and another doore toward the ſouth, and the breadth of the place that was left, was five cubits round about.

12 Now the building that was before the ſeparate place, at the end toward the weſt, was ſeventy cubits broad, and the wall of the building was five cubits thick round about, and the length thereof ninety cubits.

13 So he meaſured the houſe, an hundred cubits long, and the ſeparate place, and the building, with the walls thereof, an hundred cubits long.

14 Alſo the breadth of the face of the houſe, and of the ſeparate place toward the eaſt, an hundred cubits.

15 And he meaſured the length of the building over againſt the ſeparate place which was behinde it, and the ‡ galleries thereof on the one ſide, and on the other ſide an hundred cubits with the inner temple, and the porches of the court.

‡ Or, ſeverall walks, or walks with pillars.

16 The doore-poſts, and the narrow windows, and the galleries round about on their [d] three ſtories, over againſt the doore † cieled with wood round about, ‡ and from the ground up to the windows, and the windows were covered.

[d] He declareth that whatſoever was of ſtone work from the bottom to the top, was covered with wood on the eaſt, ſouth, and north ſides.

† Heb. cieling of wood.

‡ Or, and the ground unto the windows.

17 To that above the doore, even unto the inner houſe and without, and by all the wall round about within and without, by † meaſure.

18 And it was made with cherubims and palm-trees, ſo that a palm-tree was between a cherub and a cherub, and every cherub had two faces.

19 So that the face of a man was toward the palm-tree on the one ſide, and the face of a young lion toward the palm-tree on the other ſide: it was made through all the houſe round about.

20 From the ground unto above the doore were cherubims and palm-trees made, and on the wall of the temple.

21 The † poſts of the temple were ſquared, and the face of the ſanctuary: the appearance of the one as the appearance of the other.

22 The altar of wood was three cubits high, and the length thereof two cubits; and the corners thereof, and the length thereof, and the walls thereof were of wood: and he ſaid unto me, This is the table that is before the LORD.

23 And the temple and the ſanctuary had two doores.

24 And the doores had two leaves a piece, two turning leaves; two leaves for the one doore, and two leaves for the other doore.

25 And there were made on them, on the doores of the temple, cherubims and palm-trees, like as were made upon the walls; and there were thick planks upon the face of the porch without.

26 And there were narrow windows and palm-trees on the one ſide and on the other ſide, on the ſides of the porch, and upon the ſide-chambers of the houſe, and thick planks.

CHAP. XLII.

1 The chambers for the prieſts. 13 The uſe thereof. 19 The meaſures of the outward court.

THen he brought me forth into the utter court, the way toward the north, and he brought me into the chamber that was over againſt the ſeparate place and which was before the building toward the north.

2 Before the length of an hundred cubits was the north-doore, and the breadth was fifty cubits.

3 Over againſt the twenty cubits, which were for the inner court, and over againſt the pavement which was for the utter court, was gallery againſt gallery in three ſtories.

4 And before the chambers was a walk of ten cubits breadth inward, a way of one cubit, and their doores toward the north.

5 Now the upper [a] chambers were ſhorter: for the galleries ‡ were higher than theſe, † than the lower and than the middlemoſt of the building.

[a] Theſe chambers were contrary fashioned to them of the temple.

† Or, did eat of theſe.

‡ Or, and the building conſiſted of the lower and the middlemoſt.

6 For they were in three ſtories, but had not pillars as the pillars of the courts: therefore the building was ſtraitned more than the loweſt, and the middlemoſt from the ground.

7 And the wall that was without over againſt the chambers, towards the utter court on the forepart of the chambers, the length thereof was fifty cubits.

8 For the length of the chambers that were in the utter court was [b] fifty cubits: and lo, before the temple were an hundred cubits.

[b] So that the wall for the chambers of the outward court and the wall of the inner, was either fifty cubits, and the whole court an hundred.

9 And † from under theſe chambers was ‡ the [c] entry on the eaſt-ſide, ‡ as one goeth into them from the utter court.

‡ Or, from the place.

† Or, he that brought me.

[c] Under theſe chambers were entries, or doores to paſſe from one place to another.

10 The chambers were in the thickneſſe of the wall of the court toward the eaſt, over againſt the ſeparate place, and over againſt the building.

‡ Or, as he came.

11 And the way before them was like the appearance of the chambers, which were toward the north, as long as they, and as broad as they and all their goings out were both according to their faſhions, and according to their doores.

12 And according to the doores of the chambers that were toward the ſouth, was a doore in the head of the way, even the way directly before the wall toward the eaſt, as one entreth into them.

13 ¶ Then ſaid he unto me, The north-chambers and the ſouth-chambers, which are 650 before the ſeparate place, they be holy chambers, where the prieſts that approach unto the LORD ſhall eat the moſt holy things: there ſhall they lay the moſt holy things, and the meat-offering, and the ſinne-offering, and the treſpaſſe-offering, for the place is holy.

14 When the prieſts enter therein, then ſhall they not go out of the holy place into the utter court, but there they ſhall lay their garments, wherein they miniſter: for they are holy, and ſhall put on other garments, and ſhall approach to thoſe things which are for the people.

15 Now when he had made an end of meaſuring the inner houſe, he brought me forth toward the gate, whoſe proſpect is toward the eaſt, and meaſured it round about.

† Heb. winds. 16 He meaſured the eaſt-† ſide with the meaſuring-reed, five hundred reeds, with the meaſuring-reed round about.

17 He meaſured the north-ſide five hundred reeds, with a meaſuring-reed round about.

18 He meaſured the ſouth-ſide five hundred reeds, with the meaſuring-reed.

19 ¶ He turned about to the weſt-ſide, and meaſured five hundred reeds, with the meaſuring-reed.

20 He meaſured it by the foure ſides: it had a wall round about, five hundred reeds long, and five hundred broad, to make a ſeparation between the ſanctuary and the profane place.

CHAP. XLIII.

1 The returning of the glory of God into the temple. 7 The ſinne of Iſrael hindred Gods preſence. 10 The prophet exhorteth them to repentance, and obſervation of the law of the houſe. 13 The meaſures, 18 and the ordinances of the altar.

AFterward he brought me to the gate, even the gate that looketh toward the eaſt.

2 And behold, the glory of the God of Iſrael came from the way of the eaſt: and * his voice was like a noiſe of many waters, and the earth ſhined with his glory.

* Chap. 1:24.

3 And it was * according to the appearance of the viſion which I ſaw, even [a] according to the viſion that I ſaw, ‡ when I came to deſtroy the city: and the viſions were like the viſion that I ſaw by the river Chebar: and I fell upon my face.

* Chap. 1:4. and 8:4. a When I prophecied the deſtruction of the city by the Caldeans.
‡ Or, when I came to prophecie that the city ſhould be deſtroyed. See Chap. 9:2, 3.

4 And the [b] glory of the LORD came into the houſe by the way of the gate, whoſe proſpect is toward the eaſt.

b Which was departed afore, Chap. 10:4, and 11:23.

5 So the ſpirit took me up, and brought me into the inner court, and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the houſe.

6 And I heard him ſpeaking unto me out of the houſe, and the man ſtood by me.

7 ¶ And he ſaid unto me, Sonne of man, the place of my throne, and the place of the ſoles of my feet, where I will dwell in the midſt of the children of Iſrael for ever, and my holy name ſhall the houſe of Iſrael no more defile, neither they, nor their kings, [c] by their whoredome, nor by the carcaſes of [d] their kings in their high places.

c By their idolatries.
d He alludeth to Ammon and Manaſſeh, who were buried in their gardens neare the temple, and there had erected up monuments to their idols.

8 In their ſetting of their threſhold by my thresholds, and their poſt by my poſts, ‡ and the wall between me and them, they have even defiled my holy name by their abminations that they have committed: wherefore I have conſumed them in mine anger.

‡ Or, there was but a wall between me and them.

9 Now let them put away their whoredome, and the carcaſes of their kings farre from me, and I will dwell in the midſt of them for ever.

10 ¶ Thou ſonne of man, ſhew the houſe to the houſe of Iſrael, that they may be aſhamed of their iniquities, and let them meaſure the ‡ pattern.

‡ Or, ſumme or number.

11 And if they be aſhamed of all that they have done, ſhew them the form of the houſe, and the faſhion thereof, and the goings out thereof, and the comings in thereof, and all the forms thereof, & all the ordinances thereof, and all the forms thereof, and all the laws thereof: and write it in their ſight, that they may keep the whole form thereof, and all the ordinances thereof, and do them.

12 This is the law of the houſe; upon the top of the mountain, the whole limit thereof: round about ſhall be moſt holy: behold, this is the law of the houſe.

13 ¶ And theſe are the meaſures of the altar after the cubits; the cubit is a cubit and an hand-breadth, even the † bottom ſhall be a cubit, and the breadth a cubit, and the border thereof by the † edge thereof round about ſhall be a ſpan, and this ſhall be the higher place of the altar.

† Heb. lip.

14 And from the bottom upon the ground, even to the lower ſettle, ſhall be two cubits, and the breadth one cubit; and from the leſſer ſettle even to the greater ſettle ſhall be foure cubits, and the breadth one cubit.

15 So † the altar ſhall be foure cubits, and from † the altar and upward ſhall be foure horns.

† Heb. Harel, that is, the mountain of God.
† Heb. Ariel, that is, the lion of God.

16 And the altar ſhall be twelve cubits long, twelve broad, ſquare in the foure ſquares thereof.

17 And the ſettle ſhall be fourteen cubits long, and fourteen broad in the foure ſquares thereof, and the border about it ſhall be half a cubit, and the bottom thereof ſhall be a cubit about, and his ſtairs ſhall look toward the eaſt.

18 ¶ And he ſaid unto me, Sonne of man, thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Theſe are the ordinances of the altar, in the day when they ſhall make it, to offer burnt-offerings thereon, and to ſprinkle bloud thereon.

19 And thou ſhalt give to the prieſts the Levites that be of the ſeed of Zadok which approach unto me, to miniſter unto me, ſaith the Lord GOD, a young bullock for a ſinne-offering.

20 And thou ſhalt take of the bloud thereof, and put it on the foure horns of it, and on the foure corners of the ſettle, and upon the border round about: thus ſhalt thou cleanſe and purge it.

21 Thou ſhalt take the bullock alſo of the ſinne-offering, and he ſhall burn it in the appointed appointed place of the house without the sanctuary.

22 And on the second day thou shalt offer a kid of the goats without blemish for a sinne-offering, and they shall cleanse the altar, as they did cleanse it with the bullock.

23 When thou hast made an end of cleansing it, thou shalt offer a young bullock without blemish, and a ram out of the flock, without blemish.

24 And thou shalt offer them before the LORD, and the priests shall cast salt upon them, and they shall offer them up for a burnt-offering unto the LORD.

25 Seven dayes shalt thou prepare every day a goat for a sinne-offering: they shall also prepare a young bullock, and a ram out of the flock without blemish.

26 Seven dayes shall they purge the altar and purifie it, and they shall † consecrate themselves.

† Heb. fill their hands.

‡ Or, thank-offerings.

CHAP. XLIIII.

1 The east-gate assigned onely to the prince. 4 The priests reproved for polluting of the sanctuary. 9 Idolaters uncapable of the priests office. 15 The sonnes of Zadok are accepted thereto. 17 Ordinances for the priests.

THen he brought me back the way of the gate of the outward sanctuary which looketh toward the east, and it was shut.

2 Then said the Lord unto me, This gate shall be [a] shut, it shall not be opened, and no man shall enter in by it; because the Lord the God of Israel hath entred in by it, therefore it shall be shut.

a Meaning, from the common people, but not from the priests, nor the prince, read Chap. 46: 8, 9.

3 It is for the prince; the prince, he shall sit in it to eat bread before the LORD; he shall enter by the way of the porch of that gate, and shall go out by the way of the same.

4 ¶ Then brought he me the way of the north-gate before the house; and I looked, and behold, the glory of the LORD filled the house of the LORD; and I fell upon my face.

5 And the LORD said unto me, Sonne of man, † mark well, and behold with thine eyes, and heare with thine eares all that I say unto thee concerning all the ordinances of the house of the LORD, and all the laws thereof, and mark well the entring in of the house, with every going forth of the sanctuary.

† Heb. set thine heart.

6 And thou shalt say to the rebellious, even to the house of Israel, Thus saith the Lord God, O ye house of Israel, let it suffice you of all your abominations,

7 In that ye have brought into my sanctuary † [b] strangers uncircumcised in heart, and uncircumcised in flesh, to be in my sanctuary to pollute it, even my house, when ye offer my bread, the fat and the bloud, and they have broken my covenant, because of all your abominations.

b For they had brought idolaters which were of other countries, to teach them their idolatry, Chap. 23: 40.

8 And ye have not kept the [c] charge of mine holy things: but ye have set keepers of my ‡ charge in my sanctuary for your selves.

c Ye have not offered unto me according to my laws,

‡ Or, ward, or ordinance, and so vers. 14, and 16.

9 ¶ Thus saith the Lord God, No stranger uncircumcised in heart, nor uncircumcised in flesh shall enter into my sanctuary, of any stranger that is among the children of Israel.

10 And the [d] Levites that are gone away farre from me, when Israel went astray, which went astray away from me after their idols, they shall even bear their iniquitie.

d The Levites which had committed idolatry, were put from their dignity, and could not be received into the priests office, although they had been of the house of Aaron, but must serve in the inferiour offices, as to watch and to keep the doores, reade 2 Kings 23: 9.

11 Yet they shall be ministers in my sanctuary, having charge at the gates of the house, and ministring to the house: they shall slay the burnt-offering, and the sacrifice for the people, and they shall stand before them to minister unto them:

12 Because they ministred unto them before their idols, and † caused the house of Israel to fall into iniquity; therefore have I lift up mine hand against them, saith the Lord GOD, and they shall bear their iniquity.

13 And they shall not come near unto me to do the office of a priest unto me, nor to come neare to any of my holy things, in the most holy place: but they shall bear their shame, and their abominations which they have committed.

14 But I will make them keepers of the charge of the house for all the service thereof, and for all that shall be done therein.

15 ¶ But the priests the Levites, the sonnes of Zadok, that [e] kept the charge of my sanctuary, when the children of Israel went astray from me, they shall come neare to me to minister unto me, and they shall stand before me to offer unto me the fat and the bloud, saith the Lord GOD.

e Which observed the law of God, and fell not to idolatry.

16 They shall enter into my sanctuarie: and they shall come neare to my table to minister unto me, and they shall keep my charge.

17 ¶ And it shall come to passe, that when they enter in at the gates of the inner court, they shall be clothed with linnen garments, and no wool shall come upon them, whiles they minister in the gates of the inner court, and within.

18 They shall have linnen bonnets upon their heads, and shall have linnen breeches upon their loyns: they shall not gird themselves †† with any thing that causeth sweat.

† Or, in sweating places.
†† Heb. in, or with sweat.

19 And when they go forth into the utter court, even into the utter court to the people, they shall put off their garments wherein they ministred, and lay them in the holy chambers, and they shall put on other garments, and they shall not sanctifie the people with their garments.

20 Neither shall they [f] shave their heads, nor suffer their locks to grow long, they shall onely poll their heads.

f As did the infidels and heathen.

21 Neither shall any priest drink wine, when they enter into the inner court.

22 Neither shall they take for their wives a * widow, or her that is † put away: but they shall take maidens of the seed of the house of

23 And they ſhall teach my people the difference between the holy and profane, and cauſe them to diſcern between the unclean and the clean.

24 And in controverſie they ſhall ſtand in judgement: and they ſhall judge it according to my judgements: and they ſhall keep my laws and my ſtatutes in all mine aſſemblies, and they ſhall hallow my ſabbaths.

* Lev. 21: 1, 11. 25 And they ſhall come at no * dead perſon to defile themſelves: but for father or for mother, or for ſonne or for daughter, for brother or for ſiſter that hath had no husband, they may ᵍ defile themſelves.

g They may be at their burial, which was a defiling.

26 And after he is cleanſed, they ſhall reckon unto him ſeven dayes.

27 And in the day that he goeth into the ſanctuary, unto the inner court to miniſter in the ſanctuary, he ſhall offer his ſinne-offering, ſaith the Lord GOD.

* Num. 18: 20. Deut. 10: 9. and 18: 1, 2. Joſh. 13: 14, 33. 28 And it ſhall be unto them for an inheritance; I * am their inheritance: and ye ſhall give them no poſſeſſion in Iſrael; I am their poſſeſſion.

29 They ſhall eat the meat-offering, and the ſinne-offering, and the treſpaſſe-offering and every ‡ dedicate thing in Iſrael ſhall be theirs.

CHAP. XLV.

1 The portion of land for the ſanctuary, 6 for the citie. 7 and for the prince. 9 Ordinances for the prince.

† Heb. when ye cauſe the land to fall. † Heb. holineſſe. ª Of all the land of Iſrael the Lord only requireth this portion for the temple, and for the prieſts, for the citie, and for the prince.

MOreover, † when ye ſhall divide by lot the land for inheritance, ye ſhall offer an oblation unto the LORD, † an ª holy portion of the land: the length ſhall be the length of five and twenty thouſand reeds, and the breadth ſhall be ten thouſand: this ſhall be holy in all the borders thereof round about.

2 Of this there ſhall be for the ſanctuary five hundred in length, with five hundred in breadth, ſquare round about, and fifty cubits round about, for the ‡ ſuburbs thereof.

‡ Or, void places.

3 And of this meaſure ſhalt thou meaſure the length of five and twenty thouſand, and the breadth of ten thouſand: and in it ſhall be the ſanctuary, and the moſt holy place.

4 The holy portion of the land ſhall be for the prieſts the miniſters of the ſanctuary, which ſhall come neare to miniſter unto the LORD, and it ſhall be a place for their houſes, and an holy place for the ſanctuary.

5 And the five & twenty thouſand of length, & the ten thouſand of breadth ſhal alſo the Levites the miniſters of the houſe have for themſelves, for a poſſeſſion for twenty chambers.

6 ¶ And ye ſhall appoint the poſſeſſion of the city five thouſand broad, and five and twenty thouſand long over againſt the oblation of the holy portion: it ſhall be for the whole houſe of Iſrael.

7 ¶ And a portion ſhall be for the prince on the one ſide and on the other ſide of the oblation of the holy portion and of the poſſeſſion of the city, before the oblation of the holy portion, and before the poſſeſſion of the city, from the weſt-ſide weſt-ward and from the eaſt-ſide eaſt-ward; and the length ſhall be over againſt one of the portions, from the weſt-border unto the eaſt-border.

8 In the land ſhall be his poſſeſſion in Iſrael, & my princes ſhall no more oppreſſe my people, and the reſt of the land ſhall they give to the houſe of Iſrael according to their tribes.

9 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, Let it ᵇ ſuffice you, O princes of Iſrael: remove violence and ſpoil, and execute judgement and juſtice, take away your † exactions from my people, ſaith the Lord God.

ᵇ The prophet sheweth that the heads muſt be firſt reformed afore any good order can be eſtabliſhed among the people.

11 The ephah and the bath ſhall be of one meaſure, that the bath may contain the tenth part of an homer, and the ephah the tenth part of an homer: the meaſure thereof ſhall be after the homer.

12 And the * ſhekel ſhall be twenty gerahs: twenty ſhekels, ᵈ five and twenty ſhekels, fifteen ſhekels ſhall be your maneh.

* Exod. 30: 13. Lev. 27: 25. Num. 3: 47.

ᵈ That is, threeſcore ſhekels make a weight called Mina: for he joyneth theſe three parts to a mina.

13 This is the oblation that ye ſhall offer, the ſixth part of an ephah of an homer of wheat, and ye ſhall give the ſixth part of an ephah of an homer of barley.

14 Concerning the ordinance of oyl, the bath of oyl, ye ſhall offer the tenth part of a bath out of the cor, which is an homer of ten baths, for ten baths are an homer.

15 And one ‡ lambe out of the flock, out of two hundred, out of the fat paſtures of Iſrael for a meat-offering, and for a burnt-offering, and for † peace-offerings, to make reconciliation for them, ſaith the Lord GOD.

17 And it ſhall be the princes part to give burnt-offerings, and meat-offerings, and drink offerings, in the feaſts, and in the new moons, and in the ſabbaths, in all ſolemnities of the houſe of Iſrael: he ſhall prepare the ſinne-offering, and the meat-offering, and the burnt-offering, and the † peace-offerings, to make reconciliation for the houſe of Iſrael.

† Or, thank-offering.

18 Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, In the firſt moneth in the firſt day of the ᵉ moneth, thou ſhalt take a young bullock without blemiſh, and cleanſe the ſanctuary.

ᵉ Which was Niſan, containing part of March, and part of Aprill.

19 And the prieſt ſhall take of the bloud of the ſinne-offering, and put it upon the poſts of the houſe, and upon the foure corners of the ſettle of the altar, and upon the poſts of the gate of the inner court.

20 And

20 And ſo thou ſhalt do the ſeventh day of the moneth, for every one that erreth, and for him that is ſimple: ſo ſhall ye reconcile the houſe.

21 In the firſt moneth, in the fourteenth day of the moneth, ye ſhall have the paſſeover, a feaſt of ſeven dayes, unleavened bread ſhall be eaten.

22 And upon that day ſhall the prince prepare for himſelf, and for all the people of the land, a bullock for a ſinne-offering.

23 And ſeven dayes of the feaſt he ſhall prepare a burnt-offering to the LORD, ſeven bullocks, and ſeven rams without blemiſh, daily the ſeven dayes, and a kid of the goats daily for a ſinne-offering.

24 And he ſhall prepare a meat-offering of an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram, and an [f] hin of oyl for an ephah.

CHAP. XLVI.

1 Ordinances for the prince in his worſhip, 9 and for the people. 16 An order for the princes inheritance. 19 The courts for boiling and baking.

THus ſaith the Lord GOD, The gate of the inner court that looketh toward the eaſt, ſhall be ſhut the ſix working-dayes: but on the ſabbath it ſhall be opened, and in the day of the new moon it ſhall be opened.

2 And the prince ſhall enter by the way of the porch of that gate without, and ſhall ſtand by the poſt of the gate, and the prieſts ſhall prepare his burnt-offering, & his peace-offerings, and he ſhall worſhip at the threshold of the gate: then he ſhall go forth, but the gate ſhall not be ſhut untill the evening.

3 Likewiſe the people of the land ſhall worſhip at the doore of this gate before the Lord, in the ſabbaths, and in the new-moons.

4 And the burnt-offering that the prince ſhall offer unto the LORD in the ſabbath-day, ſhall be ſix lambes without blemiſh, and a ram without blemiſh.

5 And the meat-offering ſhall be an ephah for a ram, and the meat-offering for the lambes, † [a] as he ſhall be able to give, and an hin of oyl to an ephah.

† Heb. the gift of his hand.
[a] That is, as much as he will.

6 And in the day of the new moon it ſhall be a young bullock without blemiſh, and ſix lambes, and a ram: they ſhall be without blemiſh.

7 And he ſhall prepare a meat-offering, an ephah for a bullock, and an ephah for a ram: and for the lambes [b] according as his hand ſhall attain unto, and an hin of oyl to an ephah.

[b] Meaning, as he ſhall think good.

8 And when the prince ſhall enter, he ſhall go in by the way of the porch of that gate, and he ſhall go forth by the way thereof.

9 ¶ But when the people of the land ſhall come before the LORD, in the ſolemn feaſts, he that entreth in by the way of the north-gate to worſhip, ſhall go out by the way of the ſouth-gate: and he that entreth by the way of the ſouth-gate, ſhall go forth by the way of the north-gate: he ſhall not return by the way of the gate whereby he came in, but ſhall go forth over againſt it.

10 And the prince in the midſt of them when they go in, ſhall go in; and when they go forth, ſhall go forth.

11 And in the feaſts, and in the ſolemnities, the meat-offering ſhall be an ephah to a bullock, and an ephah to a ram, and to the lambes as he is able to give, and an hin of oyl to an ephah.

12 Now when the prince ſhall prepare a voluntary burnt-offering or peace-offerings, voluntarily unto the LORD, one ſhall then open him the gate that looketh toward the eaſt, and he ſhall prepare his burnt-offering and his peace-offerings, as he did on the ſabbath-day, then he ſhall go forth, and after his going forth, one ſhall ſhut the gate.

13 Thou ſhalt daily prepare a burnt-offering unto the LORD, of a lambe † of the firſt yeare without blemiſh, thou ſhalt prepare it † every morning.

† Heb. of his yeare.

14 And thou ſhalt prepare a meat-offering for it every morning, the ſixth part of an ephah, and the third part of an hin of oyl, to temper with the fine floure; a meat-offering continually, by a perpetuall ordinance unto the LORD.

15 Thus ſhall they prepare the lambe, and the meat-offering, and the oyl, every morning, for a continuall burnt-offering.

16 ¶ Thus ſaith the Lord GOD, If the prince give a gift unto any of his ſonnes, the inheritance thereof ſhall be his ſonnes, it ſhall be their poſſeſſion by inheritance.

17 But if he give a gift of his inheritance to one of his ſervants, then it ſhall be his to the [c] yeare of liberty; after, it ſhall return to the prince: but his inheritance ſhall be his ſonnes for them.

[c] Which was at the jubile, Lev. 25: 9.

18 Moreover, the prince ſhall [d] not take of the peoples inheritance by oppreſſion to thruſt them out of their poſſeſſion; but he ſhall give his ſonnes inheritance out of his own poſſeſſion: that my people be not ſcattered every man from his poſſeſſion.

[d] But be content with that portion that God hath aſſigned him, as Chap. 45: 8.

19 ¶ After, he brought me through the entry, which was at the ſide of the gate, into the holy chambers of the prieſts, which looked toward the north: and behold, there was a place on the two ſides weſt-ward.

20 Then ſaid he unto me, This is the place where the prieſts ſhall boil the treſpaſſe-offering and the ſinne offering, where they ſhall bake the meat offering: that they bear them not out into the utter court, to [e] ſanctifie the people.

[e] That the people ſhould not have to do with thoſe things which appertain to the Lord, and think it lawfull for them to eat them.

21 Then he brought me forth into the utter court, & cauſed me to paſſe by the foure corners of the court, and behold, † in every corner of the court there was a court.

† Heb. a court in a corner of a court, and a court in a corner of a court.

22 In the foure corners of the court there were courts ‡ joyned of fourty cubits long, and thirty broad: these † foure corners were of one measure.

23 And there was a new building round about in them, round about them foure, and it was made with boiling-places under the rows round about.

24 Then said he unto me, These are the places of them that boil where the ministers of the house shall boil the sacrifice of the people.

Chap. XLVII.

1 The vision of the holy waters. 6 The vertue of them. 13 The borders of the land. 22 The division of it by lot.

AFterward he brought me again unto the doore of the house, and behold, waters issued out from under the threshold of the house east-ward: for the forefront of the house stood toward the east, and the [a] waters came down from under from the right side of the house, at the south-side of the altar.

[a] Whereby are meant the spirituall graces that should be given to the church under the kingdome of Christ.

2 Then brought he me out of the way of the gate northward, and led me about the way without unto the utter gate by the way that looketh east-ward, and behold, there ran out waters on the right side.

3 And when the man that had the line in his hand, went forth east-ward, he measured a thousand cubits, and he brought me through the waters: the † waters were to the ankles.

† Heb. waters of the ankles.

4 Again he measured a thousand, and brought me through the waters; the waters were to the knees: again he measured a thousand, and brought me through; the waters were to the loyns.

5 Afterward he measured a thousand, and it was [b] a river that I could not passe over: for the waters were risen, † waters to swim in, a river that could not be passed over.

[b] Signifying, that the graces of God should never decrease, but ever abound in his church.
† Heb. waters of swimming.

6 ¶ And he said unto me, Sonne of man, hast thou seen this? then he brought me and caused me to return to the brink of the river.

9 And it shall come to passe, that every thing that liveth, which moveth, whithersoever the † rivers shall come, shall live: and there shall be a very great multitude of fish, because these waters shall come thither: for they shall be healed, and every thing shall live whither the river cometh.

[f] Signifying, that when God bestoweth his mercies in such abundance, the ministers shall by their preaching win many.

11 But the [i] mirie places thereof, and the marishes thereof, † shall not be healed, they shall be given to salt.

17 And the border from the sea, shall be Hazar-enan, the border of Damascus, and the north north-ward, and the border of Hamath: and this is the north side.

18 And the east-side ye shall measure † from Hauran, and from Damascus, and from Gilead, and from the land of Israel by Jordan, from the border unto the east-sea: & this is the east-side.

‡ Or, valley.
‡ Or, toward Teman.

20 The west-side also shall be the great sea from the border, till a man come over against Hamath: this is the west-side.

21 So shall ye divide this land unto you, according to the tribes of Israel.

22 ¶ And it shall come to passe, that ye shall divide it by lot for an inheritance unto you, and to the strangers that sojourn among you, which shall beget children among you, and they shall be unto you as born in the countrey among the children of Israel: [l] they shall have inheritance with you among the tribes of Israel.

[l] Meaning, that in this spiritual kingdome, there should be no difference between Jew nor Gentile, but that all should be partakers of this inheritance in their head Christ.

23 And it shall come to passe, that in what tribe the stranger sojourneth, there shall ye give him his inheritance, saith the Lord God.

5 And by the border of Manasseh, from the east-side unto the west-side, a portion for Ephraim.

6 And by the border of Ephraim, from the east-side even unto the west-side, a portion for Reuben.

7 And by the border of Reuben, from the east-side unto the west-side, a portion for Judah.

8 ¶ And by the border of Judah, from the east-side unto the west-side, [b] shall be the offering which they shall offer of five and twenty thousand reeds in breadth, and in length as one of the other parts, from the east-side unto the west-side, and the sanctuary shall be in the midst of it.

b That is, the portion of the ground, which they shall separate and appoint to the Lord which shall be divided into three parts: for the priests, for the prince, and for the citie.

9 The oblation that ye shall offer unto the Lord, shall be of five and twenty thousand in length, and of ten thousand in breadth.

10 And for them, even for the priests shall be this holy oblation, toward the north, five and twenty thousand in length, and toward the west ten thousand in breadth, and toward the east ten thousand in breadth, and toward the south five and twenty thousand in length, and the sanctuary of the Lord shall be in the midst thereof.

‡ Or, the sanctified portion shall be for the priests.

11 ‡ It shall be for the priests that are sanctified, of the sonnes of Zadok, which have kept my ‡ charge, which went not astray when the children of Israel went astray, as the Levites went astray.

‡ Or, ward, or ordinance.

12 And this oblation of the land that is offered, shall be unto them a thing most holy by the border of the Levites.

13 And over against the border of the priests, the Levites shall have five and twenty thousand in length, and ten thousand in breadth: all the length shall be five and twenty thousand, and the breadth ten thousand.

14 And they shall not sell of it, neither exchange, nor alienate the first-fruits of the land: for it is holy unto the Lord.

15 ¶ And the five thousand that are left in the breadth over against the five and twenty thousand, shall be a profane place for the city, for dwelling and for suburbs, and the city shall be in the midst thereof.

31 And the gates of the citie shall be after the names of the tribes of Israel, three gates north-ward; one gate of Reuben, one gate of Judah, one gate of Levi.

32 And at the east-side foure thousand and five hundred: and three gates; and one gate of Joseph, one gate of Benjamin, one gate of Dan.

33 And at the south-side foure thousand and five hundred measures: and three gates; one gate of Simeon, one gate of Issachar, one gate of Zebulun.

34 At the west-side foure thousand and five hundred, with their three gates; one gate of Gad, one gate of Asher, one gate of Naphtali.

35 It was round about eighteen thousand measures: and the name of the city from that day shall be, † The LORD is there.

THE

THE BOOK OF DANIEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe great providence of God, and his ſingular mercie toward his church are moſt lively here ſet forth, who never leaveth his deſtitute, but now in their greateſt miſeries and afflictions giveth them prophets, as Ezekiel, and Daniel, whom he adorned with ſuch graces of his holy Spirit, that Daniel above all other had moſt ſpeciall revelations of ſuch things as ſhould come to the church, even from the time that they were in captivitie, to the laſt end of the world, and to the generall reſurrection, as of the four monarchies and empires of the world, to wit, of the Babylonians, Perſians, Grecians, and Romanes. Alſo, of the certain number of the times even unto Chriſt, when all ceremonies and ſacrifices ſhould ceaſe, becauſe he ſhould be the accompliſhment thereof: moreover, he ſheweth Chriſts office and the cauſe of his death, which was by his ſacrifice to take away ſins, and to bring everlaſting life. And as from the beginning, God ever exerciſed his people under the croſſe, ſo he teacheth here, that after that Chriſt is offered, he will ſtill leave this exerciſe to his church untill the dead riſe again, and Chriſt gather his into his kingdome in the heavens.

CHAP. I.

1 Jehoiakims captivity. 3 Ashpenaz taketh Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah. 8. They refusing the kings portion, do prosper with pulse and water. 17 Their excellencie in wisdome.

a Read 2 King 24. verſ. 1. and Jer. 25: 1.

* 2 Chron. 36: 6.

IN the [a] third year of the reigne of Jehoiakim king of Judah, * came Nebuchadnezzar king of Babylon, unto Jeruſalem, and beſieged it.

2 And the Lord gave Jehoiakim king of Judah into his hand, with part of the veſſels of the houſe of God, which he carried into the land of [b] Shinar to the houſe of his god, and he brought the veſſels into the treaſure-houſe of his god.

3 ¶ And the king ſpake unto [c] Aſhpenaz the maſter of his [d] eunuchs, that he ſhould bring certain of the children of Iſrael, and of the [e] kings ſeed, and of the princes;

4 Children in whom was no blemiſh, but [f] wel-favoured, and skillfull in all wiſdome, and cunning in knowledge, and underſtanding ſcience, and ſuch as had ability in them to ſtand in the kings palace, and whom they might teach the [g] learning and the tongue of the Caldeans.

5 And the king appointed them a daily [h] proviſion of the kings meat, and of † the wine which he drank: ſo nouriſhing them [i] three yeares, that at the end thereof they might [k] ſtand before the king.

6 Now among theſe were of the children of Judah, Daniel, Hananiah, Miſhael, and Azariah:

7 Unto whom the prince of the eunuchs gave names: for he [l] gave unto Daniel the name of Belteſhazzar; and to Hananiah, of Shadrach; and to Miſhael, of Meſhech; and to Azariah, of Abed-nego.

8 ¶ But Daniel purpoſed in his heart, that he would not [m] defile himſelf with the portion of the kings meat, nor with the wine which he drank: therefore he requeſted of the prince of the eunuchs, that he might not defile himſelf.

9 Now God had brought Daniel into favour and tender love with the prince of the eunuchs.

10 And the prince of the eunuchs ſaid unto Daniel, [n] I fear my lord the king, who hath appointed your meat and your drink: for why ſhould he ſee your faces † worſe liking than the children which are of your ‡ ſort? then ſhall ye make me endanger my head to the king.

11 Then ſaid Daniel to ‡ Melzar, whom the prince of the eunuchs had ſet over Daniel, Hananiah, Miſhael, and Azariah, 12 Prove thy ſervants, I beſeech thee, [o] ten dayes, and let them give us † [p] pulſe † to eat, and water to drink.

13 Then let our countenances be looked upon before thee, and the countenance of the children that eat of the portion of the kings meat: and as thou ſeeſt, deal with thy ſervants.

14 So he conſented to them in this matter, and proved them ten dayes.

15 And at the end of ten dayes, their [q] coun-b Which was a plain by Babylon, where was the temple of their great god, and is here taken for Babylon.

c Who was as maſter of the wards.

d He calleth them eunuchs whom the king nouriſhed and brought up to be rulers of other countries afterward.

e His purpoſe was to keep them as hoſtages, and that he might ſhew himſelf victorious, and alſo by their good intreaty and learning of his religion, they might favour rather him than the Jews, and ſo to be able to ſerve him as governours in their land: moreover, by this means the Jews might be better kept in ſubjection, fearing otherwiſe to procure hurt to theſe noble men.

f The king required three things, that they ſhould be of noble birth, that they ſhould be witty and learned, and that they ſhould be of a ſtrong and comely nature, that they might do him better ſervice: this did he for his own commoditie, therefore it is not to praiſe his liberalitie: yet in this he is worthy praiſe, that he eſteemed learning, and knew that it was a neceſſarie mean to govern by.

g That they might forget their own religion and countrey fashions, to ſerve him the better to his purpoſe: yet it is not to be thought that Daniel did learn any knowledge that was not godly: in all points he refuſed the abuſe of things and ſuperſtition, inſomuch that he would not eat the meat that the king appointed him, but was content to learn the knowledge of naturall things.

h That by their good entertainment they might learn to forget the mediocritie of their own people † Heb. the wine of his drink.

i To the intent that in this time they might both learn the manners of the Chaldeans, and alſo their tongue.

k As well to ſerve at the table, as in other offices.

l That they might altogether forget their religion: for the Jews gave their children names, which might ever put them in remembrance of ſome point of religion: therefore this was a great tentation, and a ſigne of ſervitude which they were not able to reſiſt.

m Not that he thought any religion to be in the meat or drink (for afterward he did eat) but becauſe the king ſhould not entiſe him by this ſweet poiſon to forget his religion and accuſtomed ſobrietie, and that in his meat & drink he might daily remember of what people he was: and Daniel bringeth this in, to ſhew how God from the beginning aſſiſted him with his Spirit, and at length called him to be a prophet.

n He ſuppoſed they did this for their religion which was contrary to the Babylonians, and therefore herein he repreſented them, which are of no religion; for neither he would condemn theirs, nor maintain his own.

o Meaning, that within this ſpace he might have the triall, and that no man ſhould be able to diſcern it: and thus he ſpake, being moved by the ſpirit of God. † Heb. of pulſe.

p Not that it was a thing abominable to eat dainty meats, and to drink wine, as both before and after they did, but if they ſhould have hereby been won to the king, and have refuſed their own religion, that meat and drink had been accurſed. † Heb. that we may eat, &c.

q This bare feeding, and that alſo of Moſes when he fled from the court of Egypt, declareth, that we muſt live in ſuch ſobrietie, as God doth call us unto, ſeeing he will make it more profitable unto us, than all dainties: for his bleſſing onely ſufficeth.

tenances appeared fairer, and fatter in fleſh than all the children which did eat the portion of the kings meat.

16 Thus Melzar took away the portion of their meat, and the wine that they ſhould drink: and gave them pulſe.

17 ¶ As for theſe foure children, God gave them knowledge and skill in all learning and [r] wiſdome, and ‡ Daniel had underſtanding in all [f] viſions and dreams.

18 Now at the [t] end of the dayes that the king had ſaid he ſhould bring them in, then the prince of the eunuchs brought them in before Nebuchadnezzar.

19 And the king communed with them, and among them all was found none like Daniel, Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah: therefore ſtood they before the king.

20 And in all matters of † wiſdome and underſtanding that the king enquired of them he found them ten times better than all the magicians and aſtrologers that were in all his realm.

21 And Daniel continued even unto the [u] firſt yeare of king Cyrus.

r Meaning, in the liberall ſciences, and naturall knowledge, and not in the magicall arts which are forbidden, Deut. 13: 11.

Chap. II.

1 Nebuchadnezzar forgetting his dream, requireth it of the Caldeans, by promiſes and threatnings. 10 They acknowledging their inability, are judged to die. 14 Daniel obtaining ſome reſpite, findeth the dream. 19 He bleſſeth God. 24 He ſtaying the decree, is brought to the king. 31 The dream. 36 The interpretation. 40 Daniels advancement.

AND in the ſecond [a] yeare of the reigne of Nebuchadnezzar, Nebuchadnezzar dreamed [b] dreams, wherewith his ſpirit was [c] troubled, and his [d] ſleep brake from him.

2 Then the king commanded to call the magicians, and the aſtrologers, and the ſorcerers, and the [e] Caldeans, for to ſhew the king his dreams: ſo they came and ſtood before the king.

3 And the king ſaid unto them, I have dreamed a dream, and my ſpirit was troubled to know the dream.

4 Then ſpake the [f] Caldeans to the king in Syriack, *O king, live for ever: tell thy ſervants the dream, & we will ſhew the interpretation.

5 The king anſwered and ſaid to the Caldeans, The thing is gone from me: if ye will not make known unto me the dream, with the interpretation thereof, ye [g] ſhall be * † cut in pieces, & your houſes ſhall be made a dunghill.

6 But if ye ſhew the dream, and the interpretation thereof, ye ſhall receive of me gifts and ‡ rewards, & great honour: therefore ſhew me the dream, and the interpretation thereof.

7 They anſwered again and ſaid, Let the king tell [h] his ſervants the dream, and we will ſhew the interpretation of it.

8 The king anſwered and ſaid, I know of certainty that ye would † gain the time, becauſe ye ſee the thing is gone from me.

9 But if ye will not make known unto me the dream, there is but one decree for you: for ye have prepared lying and corrupt words to ſpeak before me, till the time be changed: therefore tell me the dream, and I ſhall know that ye can ſhew me the interpretation thereof.

10 ¶ The Caldeans anſwered before the king, and ſaid, There is not a man upon the earth that can ſhew the kings matter: therefore there is no king, lord, nor ruler, that asked ſuch things at any magician, or aſtrologer, or Caldean.

11 And it is a rare thing that the king requireth, and there is none other that can ſhew it before the king, except the gods, whoſe dwelling is not with fleſh.

12 For this cauſe the king was angry and very furious, and commanded to deſtroy all the wiſe-men of Babylon.

13 And the decree went forth that the wiſemen ſhould be ſlain; and they [i] ſought Daniel and his fellows to be ſlain.

14 ¶ Then Daniel † anſwered with counſel and wiſdome to Arioch the ‡ † captain of the kings guard, which was gone forth to ſlay the wiſe-men of Babylon:

15 He anſwered and ſaid to Arioch the kings captain, Why is the decree ſo haſtie from the king? then Arioch made the thing known to Daniel.

16 Then Daniel went in, and deſired of the king that he would give him time, and that he would ſhew the king the interpretation.

17 Then Daniel went to his houſe, and made the thing known to Hananiah, Mishael, and Azariah his companions:

18 That they would deſire mercies † of the God of heaven concerning this ſecret: ‡ that Daniel and his fellows ſhould not perish with the reſt of the wiſe-men of Babylon.

19 ¶ Then was the ſecret revealed unto Daniel in a night-viſion: then Daniel bleſſed the God of heaven.

20 Daniel anſwered and ſaid, * Bleſſed be the name of God for ever and ever: for wiſdome and might are his.

21 And he changeth the times and the ſeaſons: he removeth kings, and ſetteth up kings: he giveth wiſdome unto the wiſe, and knowledge to them that know underſtanding.

22 He revealeth the deep and ſecret things: he knoweth what is in the darkneſſe, and the [k] light dwelleth with him.

23 I thank thee, and praiſe thee, O thou God of my [l] fathers, who haſt given me wiſdome and [m] might, and haſt made known unto me now what we deſired of thee: for thou haſt now made known unto us the kings matter.

24 ¶ Therefore Daniel went in unto Arioch whom the king had ordained to deſtroy the wiſe-men of Babylon: he went and ſaid thus unto him, Deſtroy not the [n] wiſe-men of Babylon: bring me in before the king, and I will ſhew unto the king the interpretation.

25 Then Arioch brought in Daniel before the king in haſte, and ſaid thus unto him, † I have have found a man of the † captives of Judah, that will make known unto the king the interpretation.

26 The king answered and said to Daniel, whose name was Belteshazzar, Art thou able to make known unto me the dream which I have seen, and the interpretation thereof?

27 Daniel answered in the presence of the king, and said, The secret which the king hath demanded, cannot the wise-men, the astrologians, the magicians, the soothsayers shew unto the king;

o He affirmeth that man by reason and art is not able to attaine to the cause of Gods secrets, but the understanding onely thereof must come of God: whereby he smiteth the king with a certain fear and reverence of God, that he might be the more apt to receive the high mysteries, that should be revealed.

28 But there is a God in ° heaven that revealeth secrets, and † maketh known to the king Nebuchadnezzar, what shall be in the latter dayes. Thy dream, and the visions of thy head upon thy bed, are these;

29 As for thee, O king, thy thoughts † came into thy minde, upon thy bed, what should come to passe hereafter: and he that revealeth secrets maketh known unto thee what shall come to passe.

30 But as for me, this secret is not revealed to me, for any wisdome that I have more than any living, but for their sakes that shall make known the interpretation to the king, and that thou mightest know the thoughts of thy heart.

31 ¶ Thou, O king, † sawest, and behold, a great image: this great image whose brightnesse was excellent, stood before thee, and the form thereof was terrible.

32 This images head was of fine ᵍ gold, his breast and his arms of silver, his belly and his ‡ thighs of brasse, 33 His legs of iron, his feet part of iron and part of clay.

34 Thou sawest till that a stone was cut out ‡ without hands, which smote the image upon his feet that were of iron and clay, and brake them to pieces.

35 Then was the iron, the clay, the brasse, the silver and the gold broken to pieces together, and became like the chaff of the summer threshing-floores, and the winde carried them away, that no place was found for them: and the stone that smote the image became a great mountain, and filled the whole earth.

36 ¶ This is the dream; and we will tell the interpretation thereof before the king.

37 Thou, O king, art a king of kings: for the God of heaven hath given thee a kingdome, power, and strength, and glory.

38 And wheresoever the children of men dwell, the beasts of the field and the fowls of the heaven hath he given into thine hand, and hath made thee ruler over them all: thou art this ʳ head of gold.

39 And after thee shall arise another kingdome ˢ inferiour to thee, and another ᵗ third kingdome of brasse, which shall bear rule over all the earth.

40 And the fourth kingdome shall be strong as iron: forasmuch as iron breaketh in pieces, & subdueth all things: and as iron that breaketh all these, shall it break in ᵘ pieces, & bruise.

41 And whereas thou sawest the feet and toes, part of potters clay, and part of iron: the kingdome shall be ˣ divided, but there shall be in it of the strength of the iron, forasmuch as thou sawest the iron mixed with mirie clay.

42 And as the toes of the feet were part of iron, and part of clay: so the kingdome shall be partly strong, and partly ‡ broken.

43 And whereas thou sawest iron mixt with mirie clay, they shall mingle themselves with ʸ the seed of men: but they shall not cleave ᵗ one to another, even as iron is not mixed with clay.

44 And in † the dayes of these kings shall the God of heaven set up a kingdome, * which ᶻ shall never be destroyed: and the † kingdome shall not be left to other people, but it shall break in pieces, and consume all these kingdomes, and it shall stand for ever.

45 Forasmuch as thou sawest that the ᵃ stone was cut out of the mountain ‡ without hands, and that it brake in pieces the iron, the brasse, the clay, the silver, and the gold; the great God hath made known to the king what shall come to passe † hereafter: and the dream is certain, and the interpretation thereof sure.

46 ¶ Then the king Nebuchadnezzar fell upon his face, and ᵇ worshipped Daniel, and commanded that they should offer an oblation, and sweet odours unto him.

47 The king answered unto Daniel, and said, Of a truth it is, that your ᶜ God is a God of gods, and a Lord of kings, and a revealer of secrets, seeing thou couldest reveale this secret.

48 Then the king made Daniel a great man, and gave him many great ᵈ gifts, and made him ruler over the whole province of Babylon, and * chief of the governours over all the wise-men of Babylon.

49 Then Daniel ᵉ requested of the king, and he set Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego over the affairs of the province of Babylon: but Daniel sat in the ᶠ gate of the king.

q By gold, silver, brasse, and iron, are meant the Caldean, Persian, Macedonian, and Romane kingdomes, which should successively rule all the world, till Christ (which is here called the stone) come himself, and destroy the last: and this was to assure the Jews, that their afflictions should not end with the empire of the Caldeans, but that they should patiently abide the coming of Messiah, which should be at the end of this fourth monarchie.

r Daniel leaveth out the kingdome of the Assyrians', which was before the Babylonians, both because it was not a monarchie and generall empire, and also because he would declare the things that were to come, to the coming of Christ, for the comfort of the elect among these wonderfull alterations: and he calleth the Babylonian kingdome the golden head, because in respect of the other three, it was the best, and yet was of it self wicked and cruel. s Meaning, the Persians which were not inferiour in dignity, power and riches, but were worse touching ambition, cruelty, and all kinde of vice, shewing, that the world should grow worse and worse, till it was restored by Christ. t That is, of the Macedonians shall be of brasse, not alluding to the hardnesse thereof, but to the vilenesse, in respect of silver.

u That is, the Romane empire shall subdue all these other aforenamed, which after Alexander were divided into the Macedonians, Grecians, Syrians and Egyptians.

x They shall have civill warres and continuall discords among themselves.

y They shall by marriages and affinities think to make themselves strong: yet shall they never be joyned in hearts.

z His purpose is to shew that all the kingdomes of the world are transitory, and that the kingdome of Christ shall onely remain for ever.

a Meaning Christ, who was sent of God, and not set up by man, whose kingdome at the beginning should be small, and without beauty to mans judgement, but should at length grow and fill the whole earth, which he calleth a great mountain, as vers. 35. And this kingdome, which is not onely referred to the person of Christ, but also to the whole body of his church, and to every members thereof, shall be eternall: for the spirit that is in them is life eternall Rom. 8: 10.

b Though this humbling of the king seemed to deserve commendation, yet because he joyned Gods honour with the prophets, it is to be reproved, and Daniel herein erred if he suffered it: but it is credible that Daniel admonished him of his fault, and did not suffer it. c This confession was but a sudden motion, as it was also in Pharaoh, Exod. 9: 27, 28. but his heart was not touched as appeared soon afterward. d Not that the prophet was desirous of gifts or honour, but because by this means he might relieve his poor brethren which were grievously oppressed in this their captivitie, & also he received them lest he should offend this cruel king, which willingly gave them. * Chap. 4: 9. e He did not this for their private profite, but that the whole church which was then there in affliction, might have some release and ease by this benefit. f Meaning, that either he was a judge or that he had the whole authority, so that none could be admitted to the kings presence, but by him.

CHAP. III.

1 Nebuchadnezzar dedicateth a golden image in Dura. 8 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego are accused for not worshipping the image. 13 They being threatned, make a good confession. 19 God delivered them out of the furnace. 26 Nebuchadnezzar seeing the miracle, blesseth God.

NEbuchadnezzar the king made ᵃ an image of gold, whose height was threescore a Under pretence of religion, and holinesse, in making an image to his idol Bel, he sought his own ambition and vain glory: and this declareth that he was not touched with the true fear of God before, but that he confessed him on a sudden motion, as the wicked when they are overcome with the greatnesse of his works. The Greek interpreters write, That this was done eighteen year after the dream, and as may appear the king feared lest the Jews by their religion should have altered the state of his common wealth, and therefore he meant to bring all to one kinde of religion, and so rather sought his own quietnesse, than Gods glory.

cubits, and the breadth thereof six cubits: he set it up in the plain of Dura, in the province of Babylon.

2 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king sent to gather together the princes, the governours, and the captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellers, the sheriffs, and all the rulers of the provinces, to come to the [b] dedication of the image which Nebuchadnezzar the [c] king had set up.

3 Then the princes, the governours, and captains, the judges, the treasurers, the counsellers, the sheriffs, & all the rulers of the provinces were gathered together unto the dedication of the image that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up; and they stood before the image that Nebuchadnezzar had set up.

4 Then an herauld cried † aloud, To you † it is commanded, O people, [d] nations, and languages,

5 That at what time ye heare the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, ‡ † dulcimer, and all kindes of musick, ye fall down, and worship the golden image that Nebuchadnezzar the king hath set up.

6 And whoso falleth not down and worshippeth, shall the same houre be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

7 Therefore at that time, when all the people heard the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and all kindes of musick, all the people, the nations, and the languages fell down and worshipped the golden image, that Nebuchadnezzar the king had set up.

8 ¶ Wherefore at that time certain Caldeans came neare and accused the Jews.

9 They spake and said to the king Nebuchadnezzar, O king, live for ever.

10 Thou, O king, hast made a decree, that every man that shall heare the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kindes of musick, shall fall down and worship the golden image:

11 And whoso falleth not down and worshipperh, that he should be cast into the midst of a burning fiery furnace.

12 There are certain Jews whom thou hast set over the affairs of the province of Babylon, [e] Shadrach, Meshach, & Abed-nego: these men, O king, † have not regarded thee, they serve not thy gods, nor worship the golden image which thou hast set up.

13 ¶ Then Nebuchadnezzar in his rage and fury commanded to bring Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: then they brought these men before the king.

14 Nebuchadnezzar spake and said unto them, Is it ‡ true, O Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego? do not ye serve my gods, nor worship the golden image which I have set up?

15 [f] Now if ye be ready that at what time ye heare the sound of the cornet, flute, harp, sackbut, psaltery, and dulcimer, and all kindes of musick, ye fall down and worship the image which I have made, well: but if ye worship not, ye shall be cast the same houre into the midst of a fiery furnace, and who is that God that shall deliver you out of my hands?

16 Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego answered and said to the king, O Nebuchadnezzar, we [g] are not carefull to answer thee in this matter.

17 If it be so, our God whom we serve, is [h] able to deliver us from the burning fiery furnace, and he will deliver us out of thine hand, O king.

18 But if not, be it known unto thee, O king, that we will not serve thy gods, nor worship the golden image, which thou hast set up.

19 ¶ Then was Nebuchadnezzar † full of fury, and the form of his visage was changed against Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego: therefore he spake and commanded, that they should heat the furnace one seven [i] times more than it was wont to be heat.

20 And he commanded the † most mighty men that were in his armie, to binde Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego and to cast them into the burning fiery furnace.

21 Then these men were bound in their ‡ coats, their hosen, and their ‡ hats, and their other garments, and were cast into the midst of the burning fierie furnace.

22 Therefore because the kings † commandment was urgent, and the furnace exceeding hot, the ‡ flame of the fire slew those men that took up Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego.

23 And these three men, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, fell down bound into the midst of the burning fiery furnace.

24 Then Nebuchadnezzar the king was astonied, and rose up in haste, and spake and said unto his ‡ counsellers, Did not we cast three men bound into the midst of the fire? They answered and said unto the king, True, O king.

25 He answered and said, Lo, I see foure men loose, walking in the midst of the fire, and † they have no hurt, and the form of the fourth is like the [k] sonne of God.

26 ¶ Then Nebuchadnezzar came neare to the † mouth of the burning fierie furnace, and spake and said, Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, ye servants of the most high God, come forth, and come hither. Then Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, [l] came forth of the midst of the fire.

27 And the princes, governours and captains, and the kings counsellers being gathered together, saw these men, upon whose bodies the fire had no power, nor was an hair of their head singed, neither were their coats changed, nor the smell of fire had passed on them.

28 Then Nebuchadnezzar spake, and said, [m] Blessed be the God of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abed-nego, who hath sent his angel, and delivered his servants that trusted in him, and have changed the kings word, and yeelded their bodies, that they might not serve nor worship any god, except their own God.

b Shewing, that the idol is not known for an idol so long as he is with the workman: but when the ceremonies and customes are received and used, and the consent of the people is there, then of a block they think they have made a god.

c This was sufficient with the wicked at all times to approve their religion, if the kings authority were alleadged for the establishing thereof, not considering in the mean season what Gods word did permit.

d These are the two dangerous weapons wherewith satan useth to fight against the children of God, the consent of the multitude, and the cruelty of the punishment: for though some feared God, yet the multitude which consented to the wickednesse, astonied them: and here the king required not an inward consent, but an outward gesture, that the Jews might by little and little learn to forget their true religion.

e It seemeth, that they named not Daniel, because he was greatly in the kings favour, thinking if these three had been destroyed, they might have had better occasion to accuse Daniel: and this declareth that this policy of erecting this image, was invented by the malicious flatterers, which sought nothing but the destruction of the Jews, whom they accused of rebellion and ingratitude.

† Cald. have set no regard upon thee.

‡ Or, of purpose, as Exod. 21: 13.

f Signifying, that he would receive them to grace, if they would now at the length obey his decree, g For they should have done injury to God, if they should have doubted in this holy cause, and therefore they say, that they are resolved to die for Gods cause.

h They ground on two points, first, on the power and providence of God over them, and secondly, on their cause, which was Gods glory, and the testifying of his true religion with their bloud, and so make open confession, that they will not so much as outwardly consent to idolatry.

i This declareth that the more that tyrants rage, and the more witty they shew themselves in inventing strange and cruell punishments, the more is God glorified by his servants to whom he giveth patience and constancy to abide the cruelty of their punishment, for either he delivereth them from death, or else for this life giveth them a better.

k For the angels were called the sons of God, because of their excellency: therefore the king called this angel, whom God sent to comfort his in these great torments, the Son of God.

l This commendeth their obedience unto God, that they would not for any fear depart out of this furnace, till the time appointed, as Noah remained in the ark till the Lord called him forth.

m He was moved by the greatnesse of the miracle to praise God, but his heart was not touched. And here we see that miracles are not sufficient to convert men to God, but that doctrine must chiefly be adjoined, without the which there can be no faith.

* Chap. 2:44.

4 ¶ I Nebuchadnezzar was at [a] reſt in mine houſe, and flouriſhing in my palace.

a There was no trouble that might cauſe me to dream, and therefore it came onely of God.

5 I ſaw a [b] dream which made me afraid, and the thoughts upon my bed, and the viſions of my head troubled me.

b This was another dream beſides that which he ſaw of the foure empires: for Daniel both declared what that dream was, and what it meant: and here he only expoundeth the dream.

6 Therefore made I a decree, to bring in all the wiſe-men of Babylon before me, that they might make known unto me the interpretation of the dream.

7 Then came in the magicians, the aſtrologers, the Caldeans, and the ſoothſayers: and I told the dream before them; but [c] they did not make known unto me the interpretation thereof.

c In that that he ſent abroad to others, whoſe ignorance in times paſt he had experimented, and left Daniel which was ever ready at hand: it declareth the nature of the ungodly, which never ſeek to the ſervants of God, but for very neceſſitie, and then they ſpare no flatterings.

8 ¶ But at the laſt Daniel came in before me (whoſe name was [d] Belteſhazzar, according to the name of my God, and in whom is the ſpirit of the holy gods) and before him I told the dream, ſaying, d This no doubt, was a great grief to Daniel, not only to have his name changed, but to be called by the name of a vile idol, which thing Nebuchadnezzar did, to make him forget the true religion of God.

9 O Belteſhazzar, * [e] maſter of the magicians, becauſe I know that the ſpirit of the holy gods is in thee, and no ſecret troubleth thee, tell me the viſions of my dream that I have ſeen, and the interpretation thereof.

* Chap. 2:48.

e Which alſo was a great grief to the prophet, to be numbred among the ſorcerers, and men whoſe practiſes were wicked, and contrarie to Gods word.

10 Thus were the viſions of mine head in my bed, † I ſaw, and behold, [f] a tree in the midſt of the earth, and the height thereof was great.

f By the tree is ſignified the dignity of a king, whom God ordaineth to be a defence for all kinde of men, and whoſe ſtate is profitable for mankinde.

11 The tree grew, and was ſtrong, and the height thereof reached unto heaven, and the ſight thereof to the end of all the earth.

12 The leaves thereof were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all: the beaſts of the field had ſhadow under it, and the fowls of the heaven dwelt in the boughs thereof, and all fleſh was fed of it.

13 I ſaw in the viſions of my head upon my bed, and behold, [g] a watcher, and an holy one came down from heaven.

g Meaning, the angel of God, which neither eateth nor ſleepeth, but is ever ready to do Gods will and is not infected with mans corruption, but is ever holy: and in that that he commandeth to cut down this tree, he knew that ſhould not be cut down by man, but by God.

14 He cried † aloud, and ſaid thus, Hew down the tree, and cut off his branches, ſhake off his leaves, and ſcatter his fruit; let the beaſts get away from under it, and the fowls from his branches.

† Cald. with might.

15 Nevertheleſſe, leave the ſtump of his roots in the earth, even with a band of iron and braſſe, in the tender graſſe of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beaſts in the graſſe of the earth.

16 [h] Let his heart be changed from mans, and let a beaſts heart be given unto him, and let ſeven times paſſe over him.

h Hereby he meaneth that Nebuchad-nezar ſhould not onely for a time loſe his kingdome, but be like a beaſt.

17 [i] This matter is by the decree of the watchers, and the demand by the word of the holy ones: to the intent that the living may know, that the moſt high ruleth in the kingdome of men, and giveth it to whomſoever he will, and ſetteth up over it the baſeſt of men.

i God hath decreed this judgement, and the whole army of heaven have, as it were ſubſcribed unto it, like as alſo they deſire the execution of his decree againſt all them that lift up themſelves againſt God.

18 This dream I king Nebuchadnezzar have ſeen: now thou, O Belteshazzar, declare the interpretation thereof, foraſmuch as all the wiſe men of my kingdome are not able to make known unto me the interpretation: but thou art able, for the ſpirit of the holy gods is in thee.

19 ¶ Then Daniel (whoſe name was Belteshazzar) was [k] aſtonied for one houre, and his thoughts troubled him: the king ſpake, and ſaid, Belteshazzar, let not the dream, or the interpretation thereof trouble thee. Belteshazzar anſwered, and ſaid, My lord, the dream be to them that hate thee, and the interpretation thereof to thine enemies.

k He was troubled for the great judgement of God which he ſaw ordained againſt the king: and ſo the prophets uſed on the one part, to denounce Gods judgements for the zeal they bare to his glory: and on the other part to have compaſſion upon man, and alſo to conſider, that they ſhould be ſubject to Gods judgements, if they did not regard them with pitie.

20 The tree that thou ſaweſt, which grew, and was ſtrong, whoſe height reached unto the heaven, and the ſight thereof to all the earth:

21 Whoſe leaves were fair, and the fruit thereof much, and in it was meat for all, under which the beaſts of the field dwelt, and upon whoſe branches the fowls of the heaven had their habitation:

22 It is thou, O king, that are grown and become ſtrong: for thy greatneſſe is grown and reacheth unto heaven, and thy dominion to the end of the earth.

23 And whereas the king ſaw a watcher, and an holy one coming down from heaven, and ſaying, Hew the tree down, and deſtroy it, yet leave the ſtump of the roots thereof in the earth, even with a band of iron and braſſe in the tender graſſe of the field, and let it be wet with the dew of heaven, and let his portion be with the beaſts of the field, [i] till ſeven times paſſe over him:

i Whereby he meaneth a long ſpace, as ſeven years. Some interpret ſeven months and others ſeven weeks, but it ſeemeth he meant of years.

24 This is the interpretation, O king, and this is the decree of the moſt high, which is come upon my lord the king:

25 That they ſhall * drive thee from men, and thy dwelling ſhall be with the beaſts of the field, and they ſhall make thee to eat graſſe [m] as oxen, and they ſhall wet thee with the dew of heaven, and ſeven times ſhall paſſe over thee, till thou know that the [n] moſt high ruleth in the kingdome of men, and giveth it to whomſoever he will.

* Chap. 5:21, &c.

m Not that his ſhape or form was changed into a beaſt, but that he was either ſtriken mad, and ſo avoided mans company, or was caſt out for this tyrannie, and ſo wandred among the beaſts, and ate herbs and graſſe.

n Daniel ſheweth the cauſe why God thus puniſhed him.

26 And whereas they commanded to leave the the ſtump of the tree-roots, thy kingdome ſhall be ſure unto thee, after that thou ſhalt have known that the heavens do rule.

27 Wherefore, O king, let my counſel be acceptable unto thee, and [o] break off thy ſinnes by righteouſneſſe, and thine iniqnities by ſhewing mercy to the poore; if it may be ‡ [p] a lengthening of thy tranquillity.

28 ¶ All this came upon the king Nebuchadnezzar.

29 At the end of twelve [q] moneths he walked ‡ in the palace of the kingdome of Babylon, 30 The king ſpake, and ſaid, Is not this great Babylon that I have built for the houſe of the kingdome, by the might of my power, and for the honour of my majeſtie?

31 While the word was in the kings mouth, there fell a voice from heaven, ſaying, O king Nebuchadnezzar, to thee it is ſpoken, The kingdome is departed from thee.

32 And they ſhall drive thee from men, and thy dwelling ſhall be with the beaſts of the field; they ſhall make thee to eat graſſe as oxen, and ſeven times ſhall paſſe over thee, untill thou know that the moſt high ruleth in the kingdome of men, and giveth it to whomſoever he will.

33 The ſame houre was the thing fulfilled upon Nebuchadnezzar, and he was driven from men, and did eat graſſe as oxen, and his body was wet with the dew of heaven, till his hairs were grown like eagles feathers, and his nails like birds claws.

34 And at the end of the [r] dayes, I Nebuchadnezzar lift up mine eyes unto heaven, and mine underſtanding returned unto me, and I bleſſed the moſt high, and I praiſed and honoured him that liveth for ever, whoſe dominion is * an everlaſting dominion, and his kingdome is from generation to generation.

35 And all the inhabitants of the earth are reputed as nothing: and he doeth [s] according to his will in the army of heaven, and among the inhabitants of the earth: and none can ſtay his hand, or ſay unto him, * What doeſt thou?

36 At the ſame time my reaſon returned unto me, and for the glory of my kingdome, mine honour and brightneſſe returned unto me, & my [t] counſellers and my lords ſought unto me; and I was eſtabliſhed in my kingdome, and excellent majeſtie was added unto me.

37 Now I Nebuchadnezzar [u] praiſe, and extoll and honour the King of heaven, all whoſe works are truth, and his wayes judgement, and thoſe that walk in pride he is able to abaſe.

BElſhazzar the [a] king made a great feaſt to a thouſand of his lords, and drank wine [b] before the thouſand.

2 Belſhazzar, whiles he taſted the wine, commanded to bring the golden and ſilver veſſels, which his [c] father Nebuchadnezzar had * taken out of the temple which was in Jeruſalem, that the king and his princes, his wives and his concubines might drink therein.

3 Then they brought the golden veſſels that were taken out of the temple of the houſe of God, which was at Jeruſalem: and the king and his princes, his wives and his concubines drank in them.

4 They drunk wine, and praiſed the [d] gods of gold, and of ſilver, of braſſe, of iron, of wood, and of ſtone.

5 ¶ In the ſame houre came forth fingers of a mans hand, and wrote over [e] againſt the candleſtick upon the plaiſter of the wall of the kings palace; and the king ſaw the part of the hand that wrote.

6 Then the kings † countenance † was changed, and his thoughts troubled him, ſo that the ‡ † joynts of his loyns were looſed, and his [f] knees ſmote one againſt another.

7 The king cried † aloud to bring in [g] the aſtrologers, the Caldeans, and the ſoothſayers: and the king ſpake and ſaid to the wiſe-men of Babylon, Whoſoever ſhall reade this writing, and ſhew me the interpretation thereof, ſhall be clothed with ‡ ſcarlet, and have a chain of gold about his neck, and ſhall be the third ruler in the kingdome.

8 Then came in all the kings wiſe-men, but they could not reade the writing, nor make known to the king the interpretation thereof.

9 Then was king Belſhazzar greatly troubled, and his † countenance was changed in him, and his lords were aſtonied.

10 ¶ Now the [h] queen by reaſon of the words of the king and his lords, came into the banquet-houſe; and the queen ſpake and ſaid, O king, live for ever: let not thy thoughts trouble thee, nor let thy countenance be changed.

11 * There is a man in thy kingdome, in whom is the ſpirit of the holy gods, and in the dayes of thy ‡ father light and underſtanding and wiſdome like the wiſdome of the gods, was found in him; whom the king Nebuchadnezzar thy ‡ father, the king, I ſay, thy father made * maſter of the [i] magicians, aſtrologers, Caldeans, and ſoothſayers;

b This heathen king preferred Daniel a ſtranger to all his nobles and familiars, becauſe the graces of God were more excellent in him than in others.

4 ¶ Then the preſidents and princes [c] ſought to finde occaſion againſt Daniel concerning the kingdome, but they could finde none occaſion nor fault: foraſmuch as he was faithfull, neither was there any errour or fault found in him.

c Thus the wicked cannot abide the graces of God in others, but ſeek by all occaſions to deface them: therefore againſt ſuch aſſaults there is no better remedie than to walk uprightly in the feat of God, and to have a good conſcience.

5 Then ſaid theſe men, We ſhall not finde any occaſion againſt this Daniel, except we finde it againſt him concerning the law of his God.

6 Then theſe preſidents and princes ‡ aſſembled together to the king, and ſaid thus unto him, King Darius, live for ever.

† Or, came tumultuouſly.

7 All the preſidents of the kingdome, the governours, and the princes, the counſellers and the captains have conſulted together to eſtabliſh a royall ſtatute, and to make a firm ‡ decree, that whoſoever ſhall ask a petition of any God or man for thirtie dayes, ſave of thee, O king, he ſhall be caſt into the den of lions.

‡ Or, interdict.
* Eſther 1: 19. and 8: 8.

8 Now, O king, eſtabliſh the decree, and ſigne the writing; that it be not changed, according to the * law of the Medes and Perſians which † altereth not.

† Cald. paſſeth not.

9 Wherefore king Darius [d] ſigned the writing and the decree.

d Herein is condemned the wickedneſſe of the king who would be ſet up as a god, and paſſed not what wicked laws he approved for the maintenance of the ſame.

10 ¶ Now when Daniel knew that the writing was ſigned, he went into his houſe; and his [e] windows being open in his chamber* toward Jeruſalem, he kneeled upon his knees * three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did afore-time.

e Becauſe he would not by his ſilence ſhew that he conſented to this wicked decree, he ſet open his windows toward Jeruſalem when he prayed: both to ſtirre up himſelf with the remembrance of Gods promiſes to his people when they ſhould pray toward that temple, and alſo that others might ſee that he would neither conſent in heart nor deed for theſe few dayes, to any thing that was contrary to Gods glorie.

* 1 King. 8: 48.
* Pſalm 55: 17.

11 Then theſe men aſſembled, and found Daniel praying, and making ſupplication before his God.

12 Then they came neare, and ſpake before the king concerning the kings decree, Haſt thou not ſigned a decree, that every man that ſhall ſhall aſk a petition of any God or man, within thirty dayes, ſave of thee, O king, ſhall be caſt into the den of lions? The king anſwered, and ſaid, The thing is true, according to the law of the Medes and Perſians, which altereth not.

13 Then anſwered they and ſaid before the king, That Daniel which is of the children of the captivity of Judah, regardeth not thee, O king, nor the decree that thou haſt ſigned, but maketh his petition three times a day.

14 Then the king when he heard theſe words, was ſore diſpleaſed with himſelf, and ſet his heart on Daniel to deliver him: and he laboured till the going down of the ſunne, to deliver him.

15 Then theſe men aſſembled unto the king, and ſaid unto the king, Know, O king, that the law of the Medes and Perſians is, that no decree nor ſtatute which the king eſtabliſheth, may be [f] changed.

16 Then the king commanded, and they brought Daniel, and caſt him into the den of lions: now the king ſpake and ſaid unto Daniel, Thy God whom thou ſerveſt continually, he will deliver thee.

17 And a ſtone was brought, and laid upon the mouth of the den, and the king ſealed it with his own ſignet, and with the ſignet of his lords; that the purpoſe might not be changed concerning Daniel.

18 ¶ Then the king went to his palace, and paſſed the night faſting: neither were ‡ inſtruments of muſick brought before him, and his ſleep went from him.

19 Then the king aroſe very early in the morning, and went in haſte unto the den of lions.

20 And when he came to the den, he cried with a lamentable voice unto Daniel, and the king ſpake and ſaid to Daniel, O Daniel, ſervant of the living God, is thy God whom thou ſerveſt continually, [g] able to deliver thee from the lions?

21 Then ſaid Daniel unto the king, O king, live for ever.

22 My God hath ſent his angel, and hath ſhut the lions mouthes that they have not hurt me: foraſmuch as before him [h] innocencie was found in me; and alſo before thee, O king, have I done [i] no hurt.

23 Then was the king exceeding glad for him, and commanded that they ſhould take Daniel up out of the den: ſo Daniel was taken up out of the den, and no manner of hurt was found upon him, becauſe he [k] beleeved in his God.

24 ¶ And the king commanded, and they brought thoſe men which had accuſed Daniel, and they [l] caſt them into the den of lions, them, their children, and their wives; and the lions had the maſtery of them, and brake all their bones in pieces or ever they came at the bottom of the den.

25 ¶ Then king Darius wrote unto all people, nations, and languages that dwell in all the earth. Peace be multiplied unto you.

26 I make a decree, that in every dominion of my kingdome, men tremble and fear [m] before the God of Daniel: for he is the [n] living God and ſtedfaſt for ever, and his kingdome that which ſhall not be * deſtroyed, and his dominion ſhall be even unto the end.

27 He delivereth and reſcueth, and he worketh ſignes and wonders in heaven and in earth, who hath delivered Daniel from the † power of the lions.

28 So this Daniel proſpered in the reigne of Darius, and in the reigne of * Cyrus the Perſian.

onely life in himſelf, but is the onely fountain of life, and quickneth all things, ſo that without him there is no life. * Chap. 2: 44. and 4: 3. and 7: 14, 27. Luke 1: 33. † Heb. hand. * Chap. 1: 21.

CHAP. VII.

1 Daniels viſion of the foure beaſts, 9 of Gods kingdome.
15 The interpretation thereof.

IN the firſt yeare of Belshazzar king of Babylon, Daniel † had a dream, and viſions of his head upon his bed: [a] then he wrote the dream, and told the ſumme of the ‡ matters.

2 Daniel ſpake, and ſaid, I ſaw in my viſion by night, and behold, the foure windes of the heaven ſtrove upon [b] the great ſea.

3 And foure great beaſts came up from the ſea, diverſe one from another.

4 The firſt was like a [c] lion, and had eagles wings: and I beheld till the wings thereof were pluckt, ‡ and it was lifted up from the earth, and made ſtand upon the feet as a man, and a mans heart was given to it.

5 And behold, another beaſt, a ſecond like to a [d] bear, and † it raiſed up it ſelf on [e] one ſide, and it had three ribs in the [f] mouth of it between the teeth of it: [g] and they ſaid thus unto it, Ariſe, devoure much fleſh.

6 After this I beheld, and lo, another like a [h] leopard, which had upon the back of it [i] foure wings of a fowl, the beaſt had alſo foure heads; and [k] dominion was given to it.

7 After this I ſaw in the night viſions, and behold, a [l] fourth beaſt, dreadfull and terrible, and ſtrong exceedingly; and it had [m] great iron teeth: it devoured and brake in pieces, and ſtamped [n] the reſidue with the feet of it, and it was diverſe from all the beaſts that were before it, and it had [o] ten horns.

8 I conſidered the horns, and behold, there came up among them another little [p] horn, heart. ‡ Or, wherewith. d Meaning the Perſians, which were barbarous and cruel. ‖ Or, it raiſed up one dominion. e They were ſmall in the beginning, and were ſhut up in the mountaines, and had no bruit. f That is, deſtroyed many kingdomes, and was inſatiable. g To wit, the angels by Gods commandement, who by this meanes punished the ingratitude of the world. h Meaning, Alexander the king of Macedonia. i That is, his foure chief captaines, which had the empire among them after his death. Seleucus had Aſia the great, Antigonus the leſſe, Caſſander, and after him, Antipater was king of Macedonia, and Ptolemeus had Egypt. k It was not of himſelf, nor of his own power, that he gat all theſe countreis: for his armies contained but thirty thouſand men, and he overcame in one battel Darius, which had ten hundred thouſand when he was ſo heavie with ſleep, that his eyes were ſcarce open, as the ſtories report: therefore this power was given him of God. l That is, the Roman empire, which was a monſter, and could not be compared to any beaſt, becauſe the nature of none was able to expreſſe it. m Signifying, the tyrannie and greedineſſe of the Romans. n That which the Romans could not quietly enjoy in other countreis, they would give it to other kings, and rulers, that at all times when they would they might take it againe: which liberalitie is here called, the ſtamping of the reſt under the feet. o That is, ſundry and divers provinces which were governed by the deputies and proconſuls, whereof every one may be compared to a king. p Which is meant of Julius Ceſar, Auguſtus, Tiberius, Caligula, Claudius, and Nero, &c. who were as kings in effect, but becauſe they could not rule but by the conſent of the Senate, their power is compared to a little horn. For Mahomet came not of the Roman empire, and the pope hath no vocation of government: therefore this cannot be applied unto them: and alſo in this propheſie the prophets purpoſe is chiefly to comfort the Jews unto the revelation of Chriſt. Some take it for the whole body of Antichriſt.

m This proveth not that Darius did worſhip God aright, or elſe was converted: for then he would have deſtoyed all ſuperſtition and idolatrie, and not onely given God the chief place, but alſo have ſet him up, and cauſed him to be honoured according to his word: but this was a certain confeſſion of Gods power, whereunto he was compelled by this wonderfull miracle.

n Which hath not

f Thus the wicked maintain evil laws by conſtancie and authoritie, which is oftimes either lightneſſe, or ſtubbornneſſe, when as the innocents thereby perish: and therefore governours neither ought to feare, nor be aſhamed to break ſuch.

‡ Or, table.

g This declareth that Darius was not touched with the true knowledge of God, becauſe he doubted of his power.

h My juſt cauſe and uprightneſſe in this thing wherein I was charged, is approved of God.

i For he did diſobey the kings wicked commandement to obey God, and ſo did no injurie to the king, who ought to command nothing whereby God ſhould be diſhonoured.

k Becauſe he committed, himſelf wholly unto God whoſe cauſe he did defend, he was aſſured, that nothing but good could come unto him? wherein we ſee the power of faith, as Hebr. 11. verſ. 33.

l This is a terrible example againſt all the wicked, which doe againſt their conſcience make cruel laws to deſtroy the children of God, and alſo admoniſheth princes how to punish ſuch, when their wickedneſſe is come to light: though not in everie point, or with ſuch like circumſtances, yet to execute true juſtice upon them.

before whom there were [q] three of the first horns pluckt up by the roots: and behold, in this horn were [r] eyes like the eyes of man, and a mouth speaking great things.

9 ¶ I beheld till the [s] thrones were cast down, and the [t] ancient of dayes did sit, whose garment was white as snow, and the hair of his head like the pure wool; his throne was like the fierie flame, and his wheels as burning fire.

10 A fiery stream issued, and came forth from before him: * thousand thousands ministred unto him, and ten [u] thousand times ten thousand stood before him: the judgement was set, and the * [x] books were opened.

11 I beheld then, [y] because of the voice of the great words which the horn spake; I beheld even till the beast was slain, and his body destroyed, and given to the burning flame.

12 As [z] concerning the rest of the beasts, they had their dominion taken away: yet † their lives were prolonged for a season and time.

13 I saw in the night visions, and behold, [a] one like the sonne of man, came with the clouds of heaven, and [b] came to the ancient of dayes, and they brought him neare before him.

14 And there was given him [c] dominion and glory, and a kingdome, that all people, nations and languages should serve him: his dominion is * an everlasting dominion, which shall not passe away, and his kingdome that which shall not be destroyed.

15 ¶ I Daniel was [d] grieved in my spirit in the midst of my † body, and the visions of my head troubled me.

16 I came neare unto [e] one of them that stood by, and asked him the truth of all this: so he told me, and made me know the interpretation of the things.

17 These great beasts, which are foure, are foure kings, which shall arise out of the earth.

18 But the saints of the † [f] most high shall take the [g] kingdome, and possesse the kingdome for ever, even for ever and ever.

19 Then I would know the truth of the fourth beast, which was [h] diverse † from all the others, exceeding dreadfull, whose teeth were of iron, and his nails of brasse, which devoured, brake in pieces, and stamped the [i] residue with his feet, 20 And of the ten horns that were in his head, and of the other which came up, and before whom three fell, even of that horn that had eyes, and a mouth that spake very great things, whose [k] look was more stout than his fellows.

21 I beheld, and the same [l] horn made warre with the saints, and prevailed against them;

22 Untill [m] the ancient of dayes came, and judgement was given to the saints of the most high: and the time came that the saints possessed the kingdome.

23 Thus he said, The fourth beast shall be the fourth kingdome upon earth, which shall be diverse from all kingdomes, and shall devoure the whole earth, and shall tread it down, and break it in pieces.

24 And the ten horns out of this kingdome are ten kings that shall arise: and another shall rise after them, and he shall be diverse from the first, and he shall subdue [n] three kings.

25 And he shall speak great words against [o] the most high, and shall wear out the saints of the most high, and think to [p] change times and laws: and they shall be given into his hand, untill a [q] time and times and the dividing of time.

26 But the [r] judgement shall sit, and they shall take away his dominion, to consume, and to destroy it unto the end.

27 And the * [s] kingdome and dominion, and the greatnes of the kingdome under the whole heaven, shall be given to the people of the saints of the most high, whose kingdome is an everlasting kingdome, and all ‡ [t] dominions shall serve and obey him.

28 Hitherto is the end of the matter. As for me Daniel, my [u] cogitations much troubled me, and my conntenance changed in me: but I kept the matter in my heart.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Daniels visiõn of the ram, and he-goat. 13 The two thousand three hundred dayes of sacrifice. 15 Gabriel comforteth Daniel, and interpreteth the visiõn.

IN the third yeare of the reigne of king Belshazzar a visiõn appeared unto me, even unto me Daniel [a] after that which appeared unto me at the first.

2 And I saw in a visiõn (and it came to passe when I saw, that I was at Shushan in the palace, which is in the province [b] of Elam) and I saw in a visiõn, and I was by the river of Ulai.

3 Then I lifted up mine eyes, and saw, and behold, there stood before the river, a [c] ram which had two horns, and the two horns were high: but one was [d] higher than † the other, and the higher came up last.

4 I saw the ram pushing west-ward, and north-ward, and south-ward: so that no [e] beasts might stand before him, neither was there any that could deliver out of his hand, but he did according to his will, and became great.

5 And as I was considering, behold, an [f] he-goat came from the west on the face of the whole earth, and ‡ touched not the ground: and q Meaning, a certaine portion of the ten horns: that is, a part from the whole estate was pluckt away, for Augustus took from the Senate the libertie of chusing the deputies to send into the provinces, and took the government of certaine countries to himself.

r These Romane Emperours at the first used a certaine humanitie and gentlenesse, and were content that others, as the Consuls and Senate, should beare the name of dignitie, so that they might have the profit, and therefore in elections and counsels would behave themselves according as did other Senatours: yet against their enemies, and those that would resist them, they were fierce and cruel, which is here meant by the proud mouth.

s Meaning, the places where God and his angels should come to judge these monarchies, which judgement should begin at the first comming of Christ.

t That is, God, which was before all times, and is here described as mans nature is able to comprehend some portion of his glory.

* Revel. 5: 11.

u That is, an infinite number of angels, which were ready to execute his Commandement.

* Revel. 20: 12.

x This is meant of the first comming of Christ, when as the will of God was plainly revealed by his gospel.

y Meaning, that he was astonied, when he saw these Emperours in such dignitie and pride, and so suddenly destroyed at the coming of Christ, when this fourth Monarchie was subject to men of other nations.

z As the three former Monarchies had an end at the time that God appointed, although they flourished for a time, so shall this fourth have,

and they that patiently abide Gods appointment, shall enjoy the promises. † Cald. a prolonging in life was given them. a Which is meant of Christ, who had not yet taken upon him mans nature, neither was the sonne of David according to the flesh, as he was afterward: but appeared then in a figure, and that in the clouds: that is, being separate from the common sort of men by manifest signes of his divinitie. b To wit, when he ascended into the heavens, and his divine majestie appeared, and all power was given unto him in respect of that, that he was our Mediatour. c This is meant of the beginning of Christs kingdome, when God the father gave unto him all dominion, as to the Mediatour, to the intent that he should govern here his church in earth continually, till the time that he brought them to eternall life. * Chap. 2: 44. Mich. 4: 7. Luke 1: 33. d Through the strangenesse of the visiõn. † Cald. sheath. e Meaning of the angels, as verse 10. † Cald. high ones, that is, things, or places. f That is, of the most high things, because God hath chosen them out of this world, that they should look up to the heavens, whereon all their hope dependeth. g Because Abraham was appointed heire of all the world, Rom. 4: 13. and in him all the faithfull, therefore the kingdome thereof is theirs by right, which these foure beasts or tyrants should invade and usurp untill the world were restored by Christ: and this was to confirm them that were troubles, that their afflictions should have an end at length. h For the other three Monarchies were governed by a king, and the Romane Empire by Consuls: the Romanes changed their governours yearely, and the other Monarchies retained them for term of life: also the Romans were the strongest of all the other, and were never quiet among themselves. ‡ Cald from all those. i Read verse 7.

k This is meant of the fourth beast, which was more terrible than the other.

l Meaning the Romane Emperours, who were most cruell against the church of God both of the Jews and of the Gentiles.

m Till God shewed his power in the person of Christ, and by the preaching of the gospel gave unto him some rest, and so obtained a famous name in the world, and were called the church of God, or the kingdome of God.

n Read the exposition hereof, verse. 8.

o That is, shall make wicked decrees and proclamations against Gods word, and lend throughout all their dominion, to destroy all that did professe it.

p These Emperours shall not consider that they have their power of God, but think it is in their own power to change Gods laws and mans, and as it were the order of nature, as appeareth by Octavius, Tyberius, Caligula, Nero, Domitianus, &c.

q God shall suffer them thus to rage against his Saints for a long time, which is meant by the time & times, but at length he will asswage these troubles, and shorten the times for his elects sake, Matth. 24: 22. which is here meant by the dividing of time. r God by his power shall restore things that were out of order, and so destroy this little horn, that it shall never rise up again. * Luke 1: 33. s He sheweth wherefore the beast should be destroyed, to wit, that his church might have rest and quietnesse, which though they doe not fully enjoy here, yet they have it in hope, and by the preaching of the gospel enjoy the beginning thereof, which is meant, by these words, under the heaven: and therefore he here speaketh of the beginning of Christs kingdome in this world, which kingdome the faithfull have by the participation that they have with Christ their head. ‡ Or, rulers. t That is, some of every sort that beare rule. u Though he had many motions in his heart, which moved him to and fro to seek out this matter curiously: yet he was content with that which God revealed, and kept it in memory, and wrote it for the use of the church.

a After the generall visiõn he cometh to certain particular visiõns: as touching the destruction of the Persians and Macedonians: for the ruine of the Babylonians was at hand, and also he had sufficiently spoken thereof.

b That is, of Persia.

c Which representeth the kingdome of the Persians and Medes, which were joyned together.

d Meaning, Cyrus, which after grew greater in power than Darius his uncle and father in law.

† Heb. the second.

e That is, no kings or nations.

f Meaning, Alexander that came from Grecia, with great speed and expedition.

‡ Or, none touched him in the earth.

and the goat had † a notable g horn between his eyes.

6 And he came to the ram that had two horns, which I had seen standing before the river, and ran unto him in the fury of his power.

7 And I saw him come close unto the ram and he was moved with choler against him, and h smote the ram, and brake his two horns, and there was no power in the ram to stand before him, but he cast him down to the ground, and stamped upon him: and there was none that could deliver the ram out of his hand.

8 Therefore the he-goat waxed very great, and when he was strong, the great i horn was broken: and for it came up foure notable ones, toward * k the foure windes of heaven.

9 And out of one of them came forth l a little horn, which waxed exceeding great, toward the m south, and toward the n east, and toward the * o pleasant land.

10 And it waxed great, even ‡ to the p host of heaven, and it cast down some of the host, and of the starres to the ground, and stamped upon them.

11 Yea, he magnified himself even ‡ to the q prince of the host, and ‡ by him the r daily sacrifice was taken away, and the place of his sanctuary was cast down.

12 And ‡ s an host was given him against the daily sacrifice by reason of transgression, and it t cast down the truth to the ground, and it practised, and prospered.

13 ¶ Then I heard one u saint speaking, and another saint said unto ‡ † that certain saint which spake, How long shall be the vision concerning the daily sacrifice, and the transgression ‡ of x desolation, to give both the sanctuary and the y host to be troden under foot?

14 And z he said unto me, Unto two thousand and three hundred † a dayes; then shall the sanctuary be † cleansed.

15 ¶ And it came to passe, when I, even I Daniel had seen the vision, and sought for the meaning, then behold, there stood before me b as the appearance of a man.

16 And I heard a mans voice between the banks of Ulai, which called, and said, * Gabriel, c make this man to understand the vision.

17 So he came neare where I stood: and when he came, I was afraid, and fell upon my face: but he said unto me, Understand, O sonne of man; for d at the time of the end shall be the vision.

18 Now as he was speaking with me, I was in a deep sleep on my face toward the ground: but he touched me, and † set me upright.

19 And he said, Behold, I will make thee know what shall be in the last e end of the indignation: for at the time appointed the end shall be.

20 The ram which thou sawest having two horns, are the kings of Media and Persia.

21 And the rough goat is the king of Grecia, and the great horn that is between his eyes, is the first king.

22 Now that being broken, whereas foure stood up for it, foure kingdomes shall stand up out f of the nation, but not g in his power.

23 And in the latter time of their kingdome, when the transgressours † are come to the full, a king of h fierce countenance, and understanding dark sentences, shall stand up.

24 And his power shall be mighty, but not i by his own power: and he shall destroy wonderfully, and shall prosper, and practise, and shall destroy the k mighty, and the † holy people.

25 And through his l policie also he shall cause craft to prosper in his hand, and he shall magnifie himself in his heart. and by ‡ m peace shall destroy many: he shall also stand up against the n prince of princes, but he shall be * broken o without hand.

26 And the vision of the p evening and the morning which was told, is true: wherefore shut thou up the vision, for it shall be for many dayes.

27 And I Daniel fainted and was sick q certain dayes; afterward I rose up and did the kings businesse, and I was astonished at the vision, but none understood it.

1 Daniel considering the time of the captivitie, 3 maketh confession of sinnes, 16 and prayeth for the restauration of Jerusalem. 20 Gabriel informeth him of the seventy weeks.

IN the first yeare of Darius the sonne of a Ahasuerus, of the seed of the Medes, ‡ which was made king over the b realm of the Caldeans;

2 In the first yeare of his reigne, I Daniel understood by c books the number of the yeares, whereof the word of the LORD came to * Jeremiah the prophet, that he would accomplish seventy yeares in the desolations of Jerusalem.

3 ¶ And I set my face unto the Lord GOD to d seek by prayer and supplications, with fasting, and sackcloth, and ashes.

4 And I prayed unto the LORD my God, and made my confession, and said, O * Lord, the e great and dreadfull God, keeping the covenant, and mercy to them that love him, and to them that keep his commandments:

5 * We have sinned and have committed iniquitie, and have done wickedly, and have rebelled, even by departing from thy precepts, and from thy judgements.

6 Neither have we hearkened unto thy servants the prophets, which spake in thy name to our kings, our princes, and our fathers, and to all the people of the land.

mercy to comfort them which obey thy word, and love thee.

7 O Lord [f] righteouſneſſe ‡ belongeth unto thee, but unto us confuſion of faces, as at this day: to the men of Judah, and to the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and unto all Iſrael that are neare, and that are farre off, through all the countreys whither thou haſt driven them, becauſe of their treſpaſſe that they have treſpaſſed againſt thee.

8 O Lord,* to us belongeth confuſion of face, to our [g] kings,, to our princes, and to our fathers, becauſe we have ſinned againſt thee.

9 To the Lord our God belong mercies and forgiveneſſes, though we have rebelled againſt him.

10 Neither have we obeyed the [h] voice of the LORD our God, to walk in his laws which he ſet before us, by his ſervants the prophets.

11 Yea, all Iſrael have tranſgreſſed thy law, even by departing that they might not obey thy voice, therefore the [i] curſe is poured upon us, and the oath that is written in the * law of Moſes the ſervant of God, becauſe we have ſinned againſt him.

12 And he hath confirmed his words which he ſpake againſt us, and againſt our judges that judged us, by bringing upon us a great evil: for under the whole heaven hath not been done, as hath been done upon Jeruſalem.

13 As * it is written in the law of Moſes, all this evil is come upon us: yet † made we not our prayer before the LORD our God, that we might turn from our iniquities, and underſtand thy truth.

14 Therefore hath the LORD watched upon the evil, and brought it upon us: for the LORD our God is righteous in all his works which he doeth: for we obeyed not his voice.

15 And now O Lord our God, that haſt brought thy people forth out of the land of Egypt with a mighty hand, and haſt † gotten thee * renown as at this day: we have ſinned, we have done wickedly.

16 ¶ O Lord, according to all thy [k] righteouſneſſe, I beſeech thee, let thine anger and thy fury be turned away from thy citie Jeruſalem, thy holy mountain: becauſe for our ſins, and for the iniquities of our fathers, Jeruſalem and thy people are become a reproach to all that are about us.

17 Now therefore, O our God, heare the prayer of thy ſervant, and his ſupplications, and cauſe thy face to [l] ſhine upon thy ſanctuary that is deſolate, for the [m] Lords ſake.

18 O my God, encline thine eare and heare; open thine eyes, and behold our deſolations, and the city, † which is called by thy name: for we do not † preſent our ſupplications before thee for our [n] righteouſneſſe, but for thy great mercies.

19 O Lord heare, O Lord forgive, O Lord [o] hearken and do, deferre not, for thine own ſake, O my God: for thy city, and thy people are called by thy name.

20 ¶ And whiles I was ſpeaking, and praying, and confeſſing my ſinne, and the ſinne of my people Iſrael, and preſenting my ſupplication before the LORD my God, for the holy mountain of my God:

21 Yea, whiles I was ſpeaking in prayer, even the man * Gabriel, whom I had ſeen in the viſion at the beginning, being cauſed to flie † ſwiftly, touched me about the time of the evening oblation.

22 And he informed me, and talked with me, and ſaid, O Daniel, I am now come forth † to give thee ſkill and underſtanding.

23 At the beginning of thy ſupplications the † commandment came forth, and I am come to ſhew thee; for thou art † greatly beloved: therefore underſtand the matter, and conſider the viſion.

24 Seventy [p] weeks are determined upon [q] thy people, and upon thy holy city, ‡ to finiſh the tranſgreſſion, and ‡ to make an end of [r] ſinnes, and to make reconciliation for iniquity, and to bring in everlaſting righteouſneſſe, and to ſeal up the viſion and † propheſie, and to anoint the moſt holy.

25 Know therefore and underſtand, that from [s] the going forth of the commandment to reſtore and to build Jeruſalem, unto the Meſſiah the prince, ſhall be ſeven [t] weeks; and [u] threeſcore and two weeks the ſtreet † ſhall be built again, and the ‡ wall, even † in troublous times.

26 And after threeſcore and [x] two weeks ſhall Meſſiah be cut off, ‡ but [y] not for himſelf: and the people of [z] the prince that ſhall come, ſhall deſtroy the city, and the ſanctuary, and the end thereof ſhall be with a floud, and unto the end of the warre ‡ deſolations are determined.

27 And he [a] ſhall confirm the covenant with many for one week: and in the midſt of the week he ſhall cauſe the ſacrifice and the oblation to [b] ceaſe [c] and ‡ for the overſpreading of * abominations, he ſhall make it deſolate, even untill the conſummation, and that determined ſhall be poured upon the deſolate.

CHAP. X.

1 Daniel having humbled himſelf, ſeeth a viſion. 10 Being troubled with fear, he is comforted by the angel.

IN the [a] third yeare of Cyrus king of Perſia, a thing was revealed unto Daniel, (whoſe name was called Belteſhazzar) and the thing was true, but the time appointed was † [b] long, and he underſtood the thing, and had underſtanding of the viſion.

2 In thoſe dayes I Daniel was mourning three † full weeks.

a He noteth this third yeare, becauſe at this time the building of the temple began to be hindered by Cambyſes, Cyrus ſonne, when the father made warre in Aſia minor againſt the Scythians, which was a diſcouraging to the godly, and a great feare to haſten too much, but patiently to abide the iſſue of Gods promiſe.

† Heb. bread of desires.

3 I ate no † pleasant bread, neither came flesh nor wine in my mouth, neither did I anoint my self at all, till three whole weeks were fulfilled.

4 And in the foure and twentieth day of the [c] first moneth, as [d] I was by the side of the great river, which is * Hiddekel:

5 Then I lift up mine eyes and looked, and behold, † a certain man [e] clothed in linnen, whose loyns were * girded with fine gold of Uphaz:

6 His body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his armes and his feet like in colour to polished brasse, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude.

7 And I Daniel alone saw the vision, for the men that were with me saw not the vision: but a great quaking fell upon them, so that they fled to hide themselves.

8 Therefore I was left alone, and saw this great vision, and there remained no strength in me: for [f] my ‡ * comelinesse was turned in me into corruption, and I retained no strength.

9 Yet heard I the voice of his words: and when I heard the voice of his words, then was I in a deep sleep on my face, and my face toward the ground.

10 ¶ And behold, an [g] hand touched me, which † set me upon my knees, and upon the palms of my hands.

11 And he said unto me. O Daniel, † a man greatly beloved, understand the words that I speak unto thee, and † stand upright: for unto thee am I now sent; and when he had spoken this word unto me, I stood trembling.

12 Then said he unto me, Fear not, Daniel: for from the first day that thou didst set thine heart to understand, and to chasten thy self before thy God, thy words were heard, and I am come for thy words.

13 But the [h] prince of the kingdome of Persia withstood me one and twenty dayes: but lo, [i] Michael ‡ one of the chief princes came to help me, and I remained there with the kings of Persia.

14 Now I am come to make thee understand what shall befall thy people in the latter dayes: for yet the [k] vision is for many dayes.

15 And when he had spoken such words unto me, I set my face toward the ground and I became dumbe.

16 And behold [l] one like the similitude of the sonnes of men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spake, and said unto him that stood before me, O my lord, [m] by the vision my sorrows are turned upon me, and I have retained no strength.

17 For how can ‡ the servant of this my lord, talk with this my lord? for as for me, straightway there remained no strength in me, neither is there breath left in me.

18 Then there came again and touched me one like the appearance of a man, and he strengthened me, 19 And said, O man greatly beloved, fear not, [n] peace be unto thee, be strong, yea, be strong: and when he had spoken unto me, I [o] was strengthened, and said, Let my lord speak; for thou hast strengthened me.

20 Then said he, Knowest thou wherefore I come unto thee? and now will I return to fight with the prince of Persia: and when I am gone forth, lo, the [p] prince of Grecia shall come.

21 But I will shew thee that which is noted in the scripture of truth, [q] and there is none that † holdeth with me in these things, but Michael your prince.

1 The overthrow of Persia by the king of Grecia. 5 Leagues and conflicts between the kings of the south and of the north. 30 The invasion and tyranny of the Romanes.

ALso I, in the first yeare of Darius the Mede, even I [a] stood to confirm and to strengthen him.

2 And now will I shew thee the truth, Behold, there shall stand up yet [b] three kings in Persia, and the fourth shall be farre richer than they all: and by his strength through his riches he shall stirre up [c] all against the realm of Grecia.

3 And a [d] mighty king shall stand up, that shall rule with great dominion, and do according to his will.

4 And when he shall stand up, [e] his kingdome shall be broken, [f] and shall be divided toward [g] the foure windes of heaven; and not to his [h] posteritie, nor according to his [i] dominion which he ruled: for his kingdome shall be pluckt up, even for others besides [k] those.

5 ¶ And the [l] king of the south shall be strong, and one of [m] his princes, and he shall be strong above him; and have dominion: his dominion shall be a great dominion.

6 And in the end of yeares they † shall joyn themselves together; for the kings [n] daughter of the south shall come to the king of the north to make † an agreement: but she shall not retain the power of [o] the arm, neither shall [p] he stand, nor his [q] arm; but she shall be given up, and they that brought her, and ‡ he [r] that begat her, and he that strengthened her in these times.

a The angel assureth Daniel, that God hath given him power to perform these things, seeing he appointed him to assist Darius, when he overcame the Caldeans.

b Whereof Cambyses that now reigned was the first, the second Smerdes, the third Darius the sonne of Hystaspes, and the fourth Xerxes, which all were enemies to the people of God, and stood against them.

c For he raised up all the east countreis for to fight against the Grecians: and albeit he had in his army nine hundred thousand men, yet in foure battels he was discomfited and fled away with shame.

d That is, Alexander the great.

e For when his estate was most flourishing, he overcame himself with drink, and so fell into a disease, or as some write, was poisoned by Cassander.

f For his twelve chief princes first divided his kingdome among themselves.

g After this his monarchie was divided into foure: for Seleucus had Syria, Antigonus Asia minor, Cassander the kingdome of Macedonia, and Ptolomeus Egypt.

h Thus God revenged Alexanders ambition and cruelnie, in causing his posteritie to be murthered, partly of the fathers chiefs friends, and partly one of another.

i None of these foure shall be able to be compared to the power of Alexander.

k That is, his posteritie having no part thereof.

m That is, Antiochus the sonne of Seleucus, and one of Alexanders Princes shall be more mightie: for he should have both Asia and Syria.

o That force and strength shall not continue: for soon after Berenice and her young sonne after her husbands death, was slain of her step sonne Seleucus Calinicus, the sonne of Laodice, the lawfull wife of Antiochus, but put away for this womans sake.

p Neither Ptolomeus nor Antiochus.

q Some read, seed, meaning the childe begotten of Berenice.

r Some read, she that begat her, and thereby understand her nurse, which brought her up: so that all they that were occasion of this marriage, were destroyed.

king of the north, and shall deal against them, and shall prevail:

8 And shall also carry captives into Egypt, their gods with their princes, and with † their precious vessels of silver and of gold, and he shall continue [u] more years than the king of the north.

9 So the king of the south shall come into his kingdome, and shall return into his own land.

10 But his [x] sonnes † shall be stirred up, and shall assemble a multitude of great forces: and one [y] shall certainly come and overflow, and passe through: then shall he [z] return, and be stirred up even to his fortresse.

11 And the king of the south shall be moved with choler, and shall come forth and fight with him, even with the king of the north: and he shall set forth a great [a] multitude, but the multitude shall be given into his hand.

12 And when he hath taken away the multitude, his heart shall be lifted up, and he shall cast down many ten thousands; but he shall not be strengthened by it.

13 For the king of the north [b] shall return, and shall set forth a multitude greater than the former, and shall certainly come († after certain yeares) with a great army, and with much riches.

14 And in those times there shall [c] many stand up against the king of the south; also † the robbers of thy [d] people shall exalt themselves to establish the vision; but they shall fall.

15 So the king of the north shall come, and cast up a mount, and take † the most fenced cities, and the arms of the south shall [e] not withstand, neither † his chosen people, neither shall there be any strength to withstand.

16 But he that cometh against him, shall do according to his own will, and none shall stand before him: and he shall stand in the ‡ † [f] glorious land which by his hand shall be consumed.

17 He shall also [g] set his face to enter with the strength of his whole kingdome, and ‡ upright ones with him: thus shall he do, and he shall give him the [h] daughter of women † corrupting [i] her: but [k] she shall not stand on his side, neither be for him.

18 After this shall he turn his face unto the [l] isles, and shall take many: but a prince [m] † for his own behalf shall cause † the reproach offered by him, to cease; without his own reproach he shall cause it to turn upon [n] him.

19 Then he shall turn his face towards the fort of [o] his own land: but he shall stumble and fall, and not be [p] found.

20 [q] Then shall stand up in his estate † a raiser of taxes in the glory of the kingdome; but within few dayes he shall be destroyed, neither in † [r] anger, nor in battel.

21 And in his estate shall stand up a [s] vile person, to whom they shall not give the honour of the kingdome: but he shall come in peaceably, and obtain the kingdome by flatteries.

22 And with the [t] arms of a floud shall they be overflown from before him, and shall be broken yea also the prince of the [u] covenant.

23 And after [x] the league made with him, he shall work deceitfully; for he shall come up, and shall become strong with a [y] small people.

24 He shall enter ‡ peaceably even upon the fattest places of the province, and he shall do that which his [z] fathers have not done, nor his fathers fathers, he shall scatter among them the prey and spoil, and riches: yea, and he shall † forecast his devices against the strong holds, even for a [a] time.

25 And he shall stirre up his power and his courage against the king of the south with a great armie: and the king of the south shall be stirred up to battel with a very great and mighty army; but he shall not [b] stand: for they shall forecast devices against him.

26 Yea, they that feed of the portion of [c] his meat, shall destroy him, and his army [d] shall overflow: and many shall fall down slain.

27 And both these kings † hearts shall be to do [e] mischief, and they shall speak lies at one table; but it shall not prosper: for [f] yet the end shall be at the time appointed.

28 Then shall he return into his land with great [g] riches, and his heart shall be against the holy covenant: and he shall do exploits, and return to his own land.

29 At the time appointed he shall return, and come toward the south, but it shall not be as the former, or as the latter.

30 ¶ For the ships [h] of Chittim shall come against him: therefore he shall be grieved and return, and have indignation against the holy covenant: so shall he do, he shall even return [i] and have intelligence with them that forsake the holy covenant.

31 And arms [k] shall stand on his part, and they shall pollute the sanctuary [l] of strength, and shall take away the daily sacrifice, and they shall place the abomination that ‡ maketh desolate.

37 Neither shall he regard the [u] God of his fathers, nor the desire [x] of women, nor regard any god: for he shall magnifie himself above all.

38 But in his estate shall he honour the God of ‡ † [y] forces: and a god whom his fathers knew not, shall he honour with [z] gold and silver, and with precious stones, and † pleasant things.

39 Thus shall he do in the [a] † most strong holds with a strange god, whom he shall acknowledge and increase with glory: and he shall cause them to rule over many, and shall divide the land for † gain.

40 And at the time of the end shall the king of the [b] south push at him, and the king of the north shall come against him like a whirlwinde with chariots, and with horsemen, and with many ships, and he shall enter into the countreys, and shall overflow and passe over:

41 He shall enter also into the ‡ † [c] glorious land, and many countreys shall be overthrown but these shall escape out of his hand, even Edom, and Moab, and the chief of the children of Ammon.

42 He shall † stretch forth his hand also upon the countreys, and the land of Egypt shall not escape.

43 But he shall have power over the treasures of gold and silver, and over all the precious things of Egypt: and the Libyans and the Ethiopians shall be at his steps.

44 But tidings out of the east, and out of the north shall [d] trouble him: therefore he shall go forth [e] with great furie to destroy, and utterly to make away many.

45 And he shall plant the tabernacles [f] of his palace between the seas in the ‡ † glorious holy mountain, yet he shall come to his end, and none shall help him.

n They that remain constant among the people shall teach others by their example, and edifie many in the true religion.

o Whereby he exhorteth the godly to constancie, although they should perish a thousand times, and though their miseries endure never so long.

p As God will not leave his church destitute, yet will he not deliver it all at once, but so help, as they may still seem to fight under the crosse, as he did in the time of the Maccabees, whereof he here prophesieth.

q That is, there shall be even of this small number, many hypocrites.

r To wit, of them that fear God, and will lose their life for the defence of true religion, signifying also, that the church must continually be tried and purged, and ought to look for one persecution after another: for God hath appointed the time, therefore we must obey.

s Because the angels purpose is to shew the whole course of the persecutions of the Jews unto the coming of Christ, he now speaketh of the monarchy of the Romanes, which he noteth by the name of a king, who were without all religion, and contemned the true God.

t So long the tyrants shall prevail as God hath appointed to punish his people, but he sheweth it is but for a time.

u The Romanes shall observe no certain form of religion as other nations, but shall change their gods at their pleasure, yea contemn them, and preferre themselves to their gods.

x Signifying, that they should be without all humanity: for the love of women is taken for a singular or great love, as 2 Sam. 1: 26.

‡ Or, munitions.

† Heb. Mauzzim, or, as for the Almighty God in his seat he shall honour, yea, he shall honour a God, &c.

y That is, the God of power and riches: they shall esteem their own power above all their gods, and worship it.

z Under pretence of worshipping the gods, they shall enrich their citie with the most precious jewels of all the world because that hereby all men should have them in admiration for their power and riches. † Heb. things desired.

a Although in their hearts they had no religion, yet they did acknowledge the gods, and worshipped them in their temples, lest they should have been despised as Atheist: but this was to increase their fame and riches: and when they gat any countrey, they so made others the rulers thereof, that the profit ever came to the Romanes.

† Heb. fortresses of munitions. ‡ Heb. a price. b That is, both the Egyptians and Syrians shall at the length fight against the Romanes, but they shall be overcome. ‡ Or, goodly land.

† Heb. land of delight, or ornament. c The angel forewarneth the Jews that when they should see the Romanes invade them, and that the wicked should escape their hands, that then they should not think but that all this was done by Gods providence, forasmuch as he warneth them of it so long afore, and therefore he would still preserve them. † Heb. send forth. d Hearing that Crassus was slain, and Antonius discomfited. e For Augustus overcame the Parthians, and recovered that which Antonius had lost.

f The Romanes after this reigned quietly through all countries, and from sea to sea, and in Judea: but at length for their cruelty God shall destroy them. ‡ Or, goodly. † Heb, mountain of delight of holinesse.

Chap. XII.

1 Michael shall deliver Israel from their troubles. 5 Daniel is informed of the times.

AND at that [a] time shall Michael stand up, the great prince which standeth for the children of thy people, & there shall be a time of trouble, such as never was since there was a nation, even to that same time: and at that time thy people shall be delivered, every one that shall be found written in the book.

2 And many [b] of them that sleep in the dust of the earth shall awake, * some to everlasting life, and some to shame and everlasting contempt.

3 And they that be ‡ [c] wise shall * shine as the brightnesse of the firmament, and they that [d] turn many to righteousnesse, as the starres for ever and ever.

4 But thou, O Daniel, [e] shut up the words, and seal the book even to the [f] time of the end: many shall run to and fro, and knowledge shall be increased,

5 ¶ Then I Daniel looked, and behold, there stood other two, the one on this side of the † bank of the [g] river, and the other on that side of the bank of the river.

6 And one said to the man clothed in * linnen, which was ‡ upon the waters of the river, How long shall it be to the end of these wonders?

7 And I heard the man clothed in linnen, which was upon the waters of the river, when he * held up his [h] right hand, and his left hand unto heaven, and sware by him that liveth for ever, that it shall be for a [i] time, times, and † an half: and when he shall have accomplished [k] to scatter the power of the holy people, all these things shall be finished.

8 And I heard, but I understood not: then said I, O my Lord, what shall be the end of these things?

9 And he said, Go thy way, Daniel: for the words are closed up and sealed till the time of the end.

10 Many shall be purified and made white and tried: but the wicked shall do wickedly: and none of the wicked shall understand, but the wise shall understand.

11 And from the time that the [l] daily sacrifice shall be taken away, and † the abomination that ‡ maketh desolate set up, there [m] shall be a thousand two hundred and ninetie dayes.

12 Blessed is he that waiteth, and cometh to the thousand three hundred and [n] five and thirty dayes.

13 But go [o] thou thy way till the end be: ‡ for thou shalt rest, and stand in the lot at the end of the dayes.

a The angel here noteth two things: first, that the church shall be in great affliction and trouble at Christs coming, and next, that God will send his angel to deliver it, whom here he calleth Michael, meaning Christ, which is published by the preaching of the gospel.

b Meaning; all shall rise at the generall resurrection, which thing he here nameth, because the faithfull should have ever their respect to that: for in the earth there shall be no sure comfort.

* Matth. 25: 46. John 5: 29.

c Who have kept the true feat of God, and his religion.

* Matth. 13: 43.

d He chiefly meaneth the ministers of Gods word, and next, all the faithfull which instruct the ignorant, and bring them to the true knowledge of God.

e Though the most part despise this prophesie, yet keep thou it sure, and esteem it as a treasure.

f Till the time that God hath appointed for the full revelation of these things: and then many shall run to and fro to search the knowledge of these mysteries, which things they obtain now by the light of the gospel.

† Heb. lip.

g Which was Tygris.

* Chap. 10: 5.

‡ Or, from above.

* Revel. 10: 5.

h Which was as it were a double oath, and did the more confirm the thing.

i Meaning, a long time, a longer time, and at length a short time: signifying, that their troubles should have an end.

‡ Or, part.

k When the church shall be scattered and diminished in such sort, as it shall seem to have no power.

l From the time that Christ by his sacrifice shall take away the sacrifice and ceremonies of the law.

† Heb. to set up the abomination, &c.

‡ Or, astonisheth. m Signifying, that the time shall be long of Christs second coming, and yet the children of God ought not to be discouraged though it be deferred. n In this number he addeth a moneth and an half to the former number, signifying, that it is not in man to appoint the time of Christs coming, but that they are blessed that patiently abide his appearing. o The angel warneth the prophet patiently to abide, till the time appointed come, signifying, that he should depart this life, and rise again with the elect, when God had sufficiently humbled and purged his church. ‡ Or, and thou, &c.

HOSEA.

THE ARGUMENT.

After that the ten tribes had fallen away from God by the wicked and ſubtill counſell of Jeroboam the ſon of Nebat, and inſtead of his true ſervice commanded by his word, worshipped him according to their own fantaſies and traditions of men, giving themſelves to moſt vile idolatry & ſuperſtition, the Lord from time to time ſent them prophets to call them to repentance: but they grew ever worſe and worſe, and ſtill abuſed Gods benefits. Therefore now when their proſperity was at the higheſt under Jeroboam the ſon of Joash, God ſent Hoſea and Amos to the Iſraelites (as he did at the ſame time Iſaiah and Micah to them of Judah) to condemn them of their ingratitude, and whereas they thought themſelves to be greatly in the favour of God, and to be his people, the prophet calleth them baſtards, and children born in adultery: and therefore ſheweth them that God would take away their kingdome, and give them to the Aſſyrians to be led away captives. Thus Hoſea faithfully executed his officee for the ſpace of ſeventy yeares, though they remained ſtill in their vices and wickedneſſe, and derided the prophets, and contemned Gods judgements. And becauſe they ſhould neither be diſcouraged with threatnings onely, nor yet flatter themſelves by the ſweetneſſe of Gods promiſes, he ſetteth before them the two principall parts of the law, which are the promiſe of ſalvation, and the doctrine of life: for the firſt part he directeth the faithfull to Meſſiah, by whom onely they ſhould have true deliverance: and for the ſecond, he uſeth threatnings and menaces to bring them from their wicked manners & vices, and this is the chief ſcope of all the prophets, either by Gods promiſes to allure them to be godly, or elſe by threatnings of his judgements to feare them from vice: and albeit that the whole law contain theſe two points, yet the prophets moreover note peculiarly both the time of Gods judgements, and the manner.

CHAP. I.

1 Hoſea, to ſhew Gods judgement for ſpirituall whoredome, taketh Gomer, 4 and hath by her Jezreel, 6 Lo-ruhamah, 8 and Lo-ammi, 10 The reſtauration of Judah and Iſrael.

THE word of the LORD that came unto Hoſea, the ſonne of Beeri, in the dayes of [a] Uzziah, Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, [b] kings of Judah, and in the dayes of Jeroboam the ſonne of Joaſh king of Iſrael.

2 The beginning of the word of the LORD by Hoſea: and the LORD ſaid to Hoſea, Go, take unto thee a wife [c] of whoredomes and children of whoredomes: for the land hath committed great whoredome, departing from the LORD.

3 So he went and took [d] Gomer the daughter of Diblaim, which conceived and bare him a ſonne.

4 And the LORD ſaid unto him, Call his name [e] Jezreel; for yet a little while and I will † avenge the bloud of Jezreel upon the [f] houſe of Jehu, and will cauſe to ceaſe the kingdome of the houſe of Iſrael.

5 And it ſhall come to paſſe at that [g] day, that I will break the bow of Iſrael in the valley of Jezreel.

6 ¶ And ſhe conceived again, and bare a daughter; and God ſaid unto him, Call her name [h] Lo-ruhamah: for † I will no more have mercy upon the houſe of Iſrael, ‡ but I will utterly [i] take them away:

7 But I will have mercy upon the houſe of Judah, and will [k] ſave them by the LORD their God, and will not ſave them by bow, nor by ſword, nor by battel, by horſes, nor by horſemen.

8 ¶ Now when ſhe had weaned Lo-ruhamah, ſhe conceived and bare a ſonne.

9 Then ſaid God, Call his name [l] Lo-ammi: for ye are not my people, and I will not be your God.

10 ¶ Yet the number of the [m] children of Iſrael ſhall be as the ſand of the ſea, which cannot be meaſured nor numbred; and it ſhall come to paſſe, that ‡ in the place where it was ſaid unto them, Ye are not my people, there it ſhall be ſaid unto them, Ye are the ſonnes of the living God.

11 * Then ſhall the children of Judah and the children of Iſrael be [n] gathered together, and appoint themſelves one head, and they ſhall come up out of the land: for great ſhall be the [o] day of Jezreel.

a Called alſo Azariah, who being a leper was depoſed from his kingdome.
b So that it may be gathered by the reign of theſe 4 kings, that he preached above 60 years.
c That is, one that of long time hath accuſtomed to play the harlot: not that the prophet did this thing in effect, but he ſaw this in a viſion, or elſe was commanded by God, to ſet forth under this parable, or figure, the idolatrie of the ſynagogue, and of the people her children.
d Gomer ſignifieth a conſumption or corruption, and Diblaim a cluſters of figs, declaring that they were all corrupt, like rotten figs.
e Meaning, that they ſhould be no more called Iſraelites, of the which name they boaſted, becauſe Iſrael did prevail with God: but that they were as baſtards, and therefore ſhould be called Jezreelites, that is, ſcatterd people, alluding to Jezreel, which was the chief citie of the ten tribes under Ahab, where Jehu ſhed ſo much bloud, 2 King 10:8, 11. † Heb. viſit. f I will be revenged upon Jehu for the bloud that he ſhed in Jezreel: for albeit God ſtirred him up to execute his judgements, yet he did them for his own ambition, and not for the glory of God, as the end declared: for he built up that idolattie, which he had deſtroyed. g When the meaſure of their iniquitie is full, and I ſhall take vengeance and deſtroy all their policie and force. h That is, not obtaining mercie, whereby he ſignifieth that Gods favour was departed from them. † Heb. I will not adde any more to. ‡ Or that I ſhould altogether pardon them. i For the Iſraelites never returned after that they were taken captives by the Aſſyrians.
k For after their captivitie he reſtored them miraculouſly by the means of Cyrus, Ezra 1: 1.
l That is, not my people.
m Becauſe they thought that God could not have been true in his promiſe, except he had preſerved them, he declareth that though they were deſtroyed, yet the true Iſraelites, which are the ſonnes of the promiſe, ſhould be without number, which ſtand both of the Jews and the Gentiles, Rom. 9: 26.
† Or, in ſtead of that.
* Jerem. 3: 18. Ezek. 34: 23.
n To wit, after the captivitie of Babylon, when the Jews were reſtored, but chiefly this is referred to the time of Chriſt, who ſhould be the head both of the Jews and Gentiles. o The calamitie and deſtruction of Iſrael ſhall be ſo great, that to reſtore them ſhall be as a miracle.

CHAP. II.

1 The idolatrie of the people. 6 Gods judgements againſt them. 14 His promiſes of reconciliation with them.

SAy ye unto your [a] brethren, ‡ Ammi, and to your ſiſters, † Ruhamah.

2 Plead with your [b] mother, plead: for ſhe is not my wife, neither am I her husband: let her therefore put away her whoredomes out of her ſight, and her adulteries [c] from betweene her breaſts;

3 [d] Leſt I ſtrip her naked, and ſet her as in

† That is, my people.
‡ That is, having obtained mercie.
b God ſheweth, that he forſook them, Iſa. 50: 1. c Meaning, that their idolatry was ſo great, that they were not aſhamed, but boaſted of it, Ezek. 16: 25. d For though this people were as an harlot for their idolatries, yet he had left them with their apparell and dowrie, and certain ſignes of his favour, but if they continued ſtill, he would utterly deſtroy them.

the day that she was [e] born; and make her as a wilderneſſe, and ſet her like a drie land, and ſlay her with thirſt.

4 And I will not have mercy upon her children; for they be the [f] children of whoredomes.

5 For their mother hath plaid the harlot: ſhe that conceived them hath done ſhamefully: for ſhe ſaid, I will go after my [g] lovers, that give me my bread and my water, my wooll and my flax, mine oyl and my † drink.

6 ¶ Therefore behold, I will [k] hedge up thy way with thorns, and † make a wall, that ſhe ſhall not finde her paths.

7 And ſhe ſhall follow after her lovers, but ſhe ſhall not overtake them, and ſhe ſhall ſeek them, but ſhall not finde them: then ſhall she ſay, [i] I will go and return to my firſt husband, for then was it better with me than now.

8 For she did not know that I gave her [k] corn, and † wine, and oyl, and multiplied her ſilver and gold ‡ which they prepared for Baal.

9 Therefore will I return, and take away my [l] corn in the time thereof, and my wine in the ſeaſon thereof, and will † recover my wooll and my flax given to cover her nakedneſſe.

10 And now will I diſcover [m] her † lewdneſſe in the ſight of her lovers, and none ſhall deliver her out of mine hand.

11 I will alſo cauſe all her mirth to ceaſe, her feaſt dayes, her new moons, and her ſabbaths: and all her ſolemn feaſts.

12 And I will † deſtroy her vines and her fig-trees, whereof she hath ſaid, Theſe are my rewards that my lovers have given me: and I will make them a forreſt, and the beaſts of the field ſhall eat them.

13 And I will viſit upon her the dayes of [n] Baalim, wherein she burnt incenſe to them, and she decked her ſelf with her [o] eare-rings and her jewels, and ſhe went after her lovers, and forgat me, ſaith the LORD.

14 ¶ Therefore behold, I will [p] allure her and bring her into the wilderneſſe, and ſpeak † † comfortably unto her.

15 And I will give her her vineyards from thence, and the valley of [q] Achor for a door of hope, and she ſhall [r] ſing there as in the dayes of her youth, and as in the day when she came up out of the land of Egypt.

16 And it ſhall be at that day, ſaith the LORD, that thou ſhalt call me [ſ] Ishi; and ſhalt call me no more [t] Baali.

17 For I will take away the names of Baalim out of her mouth, and they ſhall no more be remembred by their [u] name.

18 And in that day will I make a * covenant for them with the [x] beaſts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, and with the creeping things of the ground: and I will break the bow and the ſword, and the battel out of the earth, and will make them to lie down ſafely.

19 And I will betroth thee unto me for ever, yea I will betroth thee unto me in righteouſneſſe, and in judgement, and in loving kindneſſe, and in mercies.

20 I will even betroth thee unto me in [y] faithfulneſſe, and thou ſhalt know the LORD.

21 And it ſhall come to paſſe in that day, I will heare, ſaith the LORD, I will heare [z] the heavens, and they ſhall heare the earth.

22 And the earth ſhall heare the corn and the wine and the oyl, and they ſhall heare Jezreel.

23 And I will ſow her unto me in the earth, and I will have mercy upon her that had not obtained mercy, and I * will ſay to them which were not my people, Thou art my people; and they ſhall ſay, Thou art my God.

CHAP. III.

1 By the expiation of an adultereſſe, 4 is ſhewed the deſolation of Iſrael before their reſtauration.

THen ſaid the LORD unto me, [a] Go yet, love a woman (beloved of her friend, yet an adultereſſe) according to the love of the LORD toward the children of Iſrael, who look to other gods, and [b] love flagons † of wine.

2 So [c] I bought her to me for fifteen pieces of ſilver, and for an homer of barley, and an † half-homer of barley.

3 And I ſaid unto her, Thou ſhalt * abide for [d] me many dayes, thou ſhalt not play the harlot, and thou ſhalt not be for another man, ſo will I alſo be for thee.

4 For the children of Iſrael ſhall [e] abide many dayes without a king, and without a [f] prince, and without a ſacrifice, and without † an image, and without an ephod, and without teraphim.

5 Afterwad ſhall the children of Iſrael return, and ſeek the LORD their God, and * [g] David their king, and ſhall fear the LORD, and his goodneſſe in the * latter dayes.

CHAP. IV.

1 Gods judgements againſt the ſinnes of the people, 6 and of the prieſts, 12 and againſt their idolatry. 15 Judah is exhorted to take warning by Iſraels calamitie.

HEare the word of the LORD, ye children of Iſrael: for the LORD [a] hath a controverſie with the inhabitants of the land, becauſe there is no truth, nor mercy nor knowledge of God in the land.

2 By ſwearing, and lying, and killing, and ſtealing, and committing adultery, they break out, and ‡ [b] bloud toucheth bloud.

3 Therefore ſhall the land mourn, and every one that dwelleth therein ſhall languiſh with the beaſts of the field, and with the fowls of heaven, yea the fiſhes of the ſea alſo ſhall be taken away.

4 Yet [c] let no man ſtrive, nor reprove another: for thy people are as they that ſtrive with the prieſt.

l Shewing, that their wickedneſſe ſhall be puniſhed on all ſorts: for though they think by the multitude of wives to have many children, yet they ſhall be deceived of their hope.
m In giving themſelves to pleaſures, they become like brute beaſts.
n Thus he ſpeaketh by deriſion in calling them his people, which now for their ſins they were not: for they ſought help of ſtocks and ſticks.
o They are carried away with a rage.
p Becauſe they take away Gods honour, and give it to idols, therefore he will give them up to their luſts, that they ſhall diſhonour their own bodies, Rom. 1: 28.
‡ Or, ſhall it not, &c.
q I will not correct your ſhame to bring you to amendment, but let you run headlong to your own damnation.
‡ Or, be puniſhed.
r God complaineth that Judah is infected, and willeth them to learn by their example to return in time.
f For albeit the Lord had honoured this place in time paſt by his preſence, yet becauſe it was abuſed by their idolatry, he would not that his people ſhould reſort thither.
* 1 Kings 12: 29.
t He calleth Beth-el, that is, the houſe of God, Beth-aven, that is, the houſe of iniquity, becauſe of their abominations ſet up there, ſignifying, that no place is holy, where God is not purely worſhipped.
u God will ſo diſperſe them, that they ſhall not remain in any certain place.

CHAP. V.

1 Gods judgements againſt the prieſts, the people, and the princes of Iſrael for their manifold ſinnes, 15 untill they repent.

HEare ye this O prieſts, and hearken, ye houſe of Iſrael, and give ye eare, O houſe of the king; for judgement is toward you, becauſe ye have been a [a] ſnare on Mizpah, and a net ſpread upon Tabor.

2 And the revolters are profound to make [b] ſlaughter, ‡ though I have been † a [c] rebuker of them all.

3 I know [d] Ephraim, and Iſrael is not hid from me: for now, O Ephraim, thou committeſt whoredome, and Iſrael is defiled.

4 † ‡ They will not frame their doings to turn unto their God: for the ſpirit of whoredomes is in the midſt of them, and they have not known the LORD.

5 And the [e] pride of Iſrael doth teſtifie to his face: therefore ſhall Iſrael and Ephraim fall in their iniquity: Judah alſo ſhall fall with them.

6 They ſhall go with their flocks, and with their herds to ſeek the LORD: but they ſhall not finde him, he hath withdrawn himſelf from them.

7 They have dealt treacherouſly againſt the LORD: for they have begotten [f] ſtrange children, now ſhall [g] a moneth devoure them with their portions.

8 Blow ye the cornet in Gibeah, and the trumpet in Ramah: cry aloud at Beth-aven: after thee, O [h] Benjamin.

9 Ephraim ſhall be deſolate in the day of rebuke: among the tribes of Iſrael have I made [i] known that which ſhall ſurely be.

10 The princes of Judah were like them that [k] remove the bound: therefore I will poure out my wrath upon them like water.

11 Ephraim is oppreſſed, and broken in judgement: becauſe he willingly walked after the [l] commandment.

12 Therefore will I be unto Ephraim as a moth: and to the houſe of Judah as ‡ rottenneſſe.

13 When Ephraim ſaw his ſickneſſe, and Judah ſaw his wound, then went Ephraim to the [m] Aſſyrian, and ſent ‡ to king [n] Jareb: yet could he not heal you, nor cure you of your wound.

14 For I will be unto Ephraim as a lion, and as a young lion to the houſe of Judah: I, even I will tear and go away; I will take away, and none ſhall reſcue him.

15 ¶ I will go and return to my place, † till they acknowledge their offence, and ſeek my face: in their affliction they will ſeek me early.

a The prieſts and princes catched the poore people in their ſnares, as the foulers did the birds in theſe two high mountains.
b Notwithſtanding they ſeemed to be given altogether to holineſſe, and to ſacrifices, which here he calleth ſlaughter in contempt.
‡ Or, and, &c.
† Heb. a correction.
c Though I had admoniſhed them continually by my prophets.
d They boaſted themſelves not only to be Iſraelites, but alſo Ephraimites, becauſe their king Jeroboam came of that tribe.
† Heb. they will not give.
‡ Or, their doings will not ſuffer them.
e Meaning, their contemning of all admonitions.
f That is, their children are degenerate, ſo that there is no hope in them.
g Their deſtruction is not far off.
h That is, all Iſrael comprehended under this part, ſignifying, that the Lords plagues ſhould purſue them from place to place, till they were deſtroyed.
i By the ſucceſſe they ſhall know that I have ſurely determined this.
k They have turned upſide down all politicall order, and all manner of religion.
l To wit, after king Jeroboams commandement, and did not rather follow God.
‡ Or, a worm.
m In ſtead of ſeeking for remedy at Gods hand.
† Or, to the king of Jareb: or to the king that ſhould plead.
n Who was king of the Aſſyrians.
† Heb. till they be guilty.

CHAP. VI.

1 An exhortation to repentance. 4 A complaint of their untowardneſſe and iniquitie.

COme and let us [a] return unto the LORD: for he hath torn, and he will heal us; he hath ſmitten, and he will binde us up.

2 * After two dayes will [b] he revive us, in the third day he will raiſe us up, and we ſhall live in his ſight.

3 Then ſhall we know, if we follow on to know the LORD: his going forth is prepared as the morning; and he ſhall come unto us as the rain; as the latter and former raine unto the earth.

a He ſheweth the people how they ought to turn to the Lord, that he might call back his plagues.
* 1 Cor. 15: 4.
b Though he correct us from time to time, yet his help will not be far off, if we return to him.

4 ¶ O Ephraim, what shall I do unto thee? O Judah, what shall I do unto thee? for [c] your ‡ goodnesse is as a morning cloud, and as the early dew it goeth away.

5 Therefore have I [d] hewed them by the prophets: I have slain them by the words of my mouth, ‡ and thy [e] judgements are as the light that goeth forth.

6 For I desired * [f] mercy, and not sacrifice; and the knowledge of God, more than burnt-offerings.

7 But they [g] ‡ like men have transgressed the covenant: there have they dealt treacherously against me.

8 [h] Gilead is a citie of them that work iniquitie; and is ‡ polluted with bloud.

9 And as troups of robbers wait for a man, so the company of priests murder in the way † by consent: for they commit ‡ lewdnesse.

10 I have seen an horrible thing in the house of Israel: there is the whoredome of Ephraim, Israel is defiled.

11 Also O Judah, he hath set an [i] harvest for thee, when I returned the captivitie of my people.

c You seem to have a certain holinesse and repentance, but it is upon the sudden, and as a morning cloud.
‡ Or, mercie or, kindnesse.
d I have still labored by my prophets, and as it were framed you to bring you to amendment, but all was in vain: for my word was not meat to feed them, but a sword to slay them.
‡ Or, that thy judgements might be, &c.
e My doctrine which I taught thee, was most evident.
* 1 Sam. 15: 22. Eccles 5: 1. Matth. 9: 13. and 12: 7.
f He sheweth to what scope his doctrine tended, that they should joyne the obedience of God, and the love of their neighbour with outward sacrifice.
g That is, like light and weak persons.
i Or, like Adam.
h Which was the place where the priests dwelt, and which should have been best instructed in my word. ‡ Or, cunning for bloud. † Heb. with one shoulder, or to Shechem. ‡ Or, enormitie. i That is, doth imitate thine idolatry, and hath taken graffs of thy trees.

Chap. VII.

1 A reproof of manifold sinnes. 11 Gods wrath against them for their hypocrisie.

WHen I would have healed Israel, then the iniquitie of Ephraim was discovered, and the † wickednesse of Samaria: for they commit falshood: and [a] the thief cometh in, and the troup of robbers † spoileth without.

2 And they † consider not in their hearts, that I remember all their wickednesse: now their own doings have beset them about, they are before my face.

3 They make the [b] king glad with their wickednesse, and the princes with their lies.

4 They are all adulterers, as an [c] oven heated by the baker, ‡ who ceaseth ‡ from raising after he hath kneaded the dough, untill it be leavened.

5 In the [d] day of our king, the princes have made him sick ‡ with bottles of wine, he stretched out his hand with scorners.

6 For they have ‡ made ready their heart like an oven, whiles they lie in wait: their baker sleepeth all the night, in the morning it burneth as a flaming fire.

7 They are all hot as an oven, and have [e] devoured their judges; all their kings are fallen, there is none among them that calleth unto me.

8 Ephraim, he hath [f] mixed himself among the people, Ephraim is a cake not turned.

9 Strangers have devoured his strength, and he knoweth it not: yea, [g] gray hairs are † here and there upon him, yet he knoweth not.

a Meaning, that there was not one kinde of vice among them, but that they were subject to all wickednesse, both secret and open.
† Heb. stripeth.
‡ Heb. say not to.
b They esteem their wicked king Jeroboam above God, and seek but how to flatter and please him.
c He compareth the rage of the people to a burning oven which the baker heateth still, till his dough be leavened and raised.
‡ Or, the raiser will cease.
‡ Or, from waking.
d They used all riot and excesse in their feasts and solemnities, whereby their king was overcome with surfet, and brought into diseases, and delighted in flatteries.
‡ Or, with heat through wine.
‡ Or, applied.
e By their occasion God hath deprived them of all good rulers.
f That is, he counterfeiteth the religion of the Gentiles, yet is but as a cake baked on the one side, and raw on the other, that is, neither through hot nor through cold, but partly a Jew, and partly a Gentile.
g Which are a token of his manifold afflictions.

10 And the * pride of Israel testifieth to his face, and they do not return to the LORD * their God, nor seek him for all this.

11 ¶ Ephraim also is like a silly dove without [h] heart; they call to Egypt, they go to Assyria.

12 When they shall go, I will spread my net upon them, I will bring them down as the fowls of the heaven, I will chastise them as their [i] congregation hath heard.

13 Wo unto them, for they have fled from me: † destruction unto them, because they have transgressed against me: though I have [k] redeemed them, yet they have spoken lies against me.

14 And they have not cried unto me with their heart [l] when they howled upon their beds: [m] they assemble themselves for corn and wine, and they rebell against me.

15 Though I ‡ have bound, and strengthened their arms, yet do they imagine mischief against me.

16 They return, but not to the most high: they are like a deceitfull bow: their princes shall fall by the sword for the * rage [n] of their tongue: this shall be their derision in the land of Egypt.

* Chap. 5: 5.
h That is, without all judgement, as they that cannot tell whether it is better to cleave onely to God, or to seek the help of man.
i According to my curses made to the whole congregation of Israel.
† Heb. spoil.
k That is, divers times redeemed them, & delivered them from death.
l When they were in affliction, and cried out for pain, they sought not unto me for help.
m They onely seek their own commodity and wealth, and passe not for me their God.
‡ Or, chastened.
* Psalm 73: 9.
n Because they boast of their own strength, and passe not what they speak against me and my servants, Psalm 73: 9.

Chap. VIII.

1, 12 Destruction is threatned for their impiety, 5 and idolatrie.

SEt the trumpet to † thy [a] mouth, he shall come as an eagle against the house of the LORD, because they have transgressed my covenant, and trespassed against my law.

2 Israel shall [b] cry unto me, My God, we know thee.

3 Israel hath cast off the thing that is good: the enemie shall pursue him.

4 They have set up [c] kings, but not by me: they have made princes, and I knew it not: of their silver and their gold have they made them idols, that they may be cut off.

5 ¶ Thy calf, O Samaria, hath cast thee off; mine anger is kindled against them: how long will it be ere they attain to [d] innocencie?

6 [e] For from Israel was it also, the workmen made it, therefore it is not God: but the calf of Samaria shall be broken in pieces.

7 For they have [f] sown the winde, and they shall reap the whirlwind: it hath no ‡ stalk: the bud shall yeeld no meal: if so be it yeeld, the strangers shall swallow it up.

8 Israel is swallowed up, now shall they be among the Gentiles, as a vessel wherein is no pleasure.

9 For they are gone up to Assyria, a [g] wilde asse alone by himself: Ephraim hath hired † lovers.

10 Yea, though they have hired among the nations, now will I gather them, and they shall ‡ sorrow a little for the [h] burden of the king of princes.

11 Because Ephraim hath made many altars to sinne, altars shall be unto him to sinne.

12 I have written to him the great things

† Heb. the roof of thy mouth.
a God encourageth the prophet to signifie the speedy coming of the enemy against Israel, which was once the people of God.
b They shall cry like hypocrites, but not from the heart, as their deeds declare.
c That is, Jeroboam, by whom they sought their own libertie, and not to obey my will.
d That is, upright judgement, and godly.
e Meaning, the calf was invented by themselves, and of their fathers in the wildernesse.
f Shewing, that their religion hath but a shew, and in it self is but vanitie.
‡ Or, standing-corn.
g They never cease, but run to and fro to seek help.
† Heb. lovers.
‡ Or, begin.
h That is, for the tribute which the king and the princes shall lay upon them: which means the Lord useth, to bring them to repentance.

of my law, but they were counted as a [i] strange thing.

13 ‡ They sacrifice flesh for the sacrifices of mine offerings, and eat it; but the [k] LORD accepteth them not: now will he remember their iniquity, and visit their sinnes; they shall return to Egypt.

14 For Israel hath forgotten his maker, and buildeth temples; and Judah hath multiplied fenced cities: but I will send a fire upon his cities, and it shall devoure the palaces thereof.

i Thus the idolaters count the word of God as strange in respect of their own inventions.
‡ Or, in the sacrifices of mine offerings they, &c.
k Saying, that they offer it to the Lord, but he accepteth no service which he himself hath not appointed.

CHAP. IX.

The distresse and captivity of Israel for their sinnes and idolatry.

REjoyce not, O Israel, for joy, [a] as other people: for thou hast gone a whoring from thy God, thou hast loved [b] a reward ‡ upon every corn-floore.

2 [c] The floore and the ‡ wine-presse shall not feed them, and the new wine shall fail in her.

3 They shall not dwell in the LORDS land; but Ephraim shall return to Egypt, and they shall eat unclean things in Assyria.

4 They shall not offer [d] wine-offerings to the Lord, neither shall they be pleasing unto him: their sacrifices shall be unto them as the bread of mourners: all that eat thereof shall be polluted: for their bread [e] for their soul shall not come into the house of the LORD;

5 What will ye do [f] in the solemne day, and in the day of the feast of the LORD?

6 For lo they are gone, because of † [g] destruction: Egypt shall gather them up, Memphis shall bury them: ‡ † the pleasant places for their silver, nettles shall possesse them: thorns shall be in their tabernacles.

7 The dayes of visitation are come, the dayes of recompense are come, Israel shall know it: [h] the prophet is a fool, the † spirituall man is mad, for the multitude of thine iniquity, and the great hatred.

8 The watchman of Ephraim [i] was with my God: but the prophet is a snare of a fowler in all his wayes, and hatred ‡ in the house of his God.

9 They [k] have deeply corrupted themselves, as in the dayes of * Gibeah: therefore he will remember their iniquity, he will visit their sinnes.

10 I found Israel like [l] grapes in the wilderness: I saw your fathers as the first-ripe in the fig-tree at her first-time: but they went to * Baal-peor, and separated themselves unto that shame; and their abominations were according as [m] they loved.

11 As for Ephraim: their glory shall flie away like a bird; from the birth [n] and from the wombe, and from the conception.

12 Though they bring up their children, yet will I bereave them that there shall not be a man left: yea, wo also to them when I depart from them, 13 Ephraim, as I saw [o] Tyrus, is planted in a pleasant place: but Ephraim shall bring forth his children to the murderer.

14 Give them, O LORD: what wilt thou give? give them a † [p] miscarrying wombe, and dry breasts.

15 All their wickednesse * is in [q] Gilgal: for there I hated them: for the wickednesse of their doings I will drive them out of mine house, I will love them no more: all their princes are revolters.

16 Ephraim is smitten, their root is dried up, they shall bear no fruit: yea, though they bring forth, yet will I slay even † the beloved fruit of their wombe.

17 My God will cast them away, because they did not hearken unto him: and they shall be wanderers among the nations.

a For though all other people should escape, yet thou shalt be punished.
b Thou hast committed idolatry in hope of reward, and to have thy barns filled, Jer. 44: 17. as an harlot that had rather live by playing the whore, than to be entertained of her own husband.
‡ Or, in, &c.
c Their outward things that thou seekest shall be taken from thee.
† Or, wine-fat.
d All these doings both touching policy and religion shall be rejected as things polluted.
e The meat offering, which they offered for themselves.
f When the Lord shall take away all the occasions of serving him, which shall be the most grievous point of your captivity, when ye shall see your selves cut off from God.
† Heb. spoil.
g Though they think to escape by fleeing the destruction that is at hand, yet shall they be destroyed in the place whither they flee for succour.
‡ Or, their silver shall be desired, the nettle, &c.
† Heb. the desire.
h Then they shall know that they were deluded by them who challenged to themselves to be their prophets and spirituall men.
† Heb. man of the spirit.
i The prophets duty is to bring men to God, and not to be a snare to pull them from God.
‡ Or, against.
k This people is so rooted in their wickednesse, that Gibeah, which was like to Sodom, was never more corrupt, Jud. 19: 22.
* Jud. 19: 18.
l Meaning, that he so esteemed them, and delighted in them.
* Num. 25: 3.
m They were as abominable unto me, as their lovers the idols.
n Signifying, that God would destroy their children by these sundry meanes, and so consume them by little and little.
o As they kept tender plants in their houses in Tyrus, to preserve them from the cold aire of the Sea, so was Ephraim at the first unto me, but now I will give him to the slaughter.
† Heb. that casteth the fruit.
p The prophet seeing the great plagues of God toward Ephraim, prayeth to God to make them barren, rather than that this great slaughter should come upon their children.
* Chap. 12: 11.
q The chief cause of their destruction is, that they commit idolatry, and corrupt my religion in Gilgal.
† Heb. the desires.

CHAP. X.

Israel is reproved and threatned for their impiety and idolatry.

ISrael is ‡ an [a] empty vine, he bringeth forth fruit unto himself: according to the multitude of his fruit, he hath increased the altars; according to the [b] goodnesse of his land, they have made goodly † images.

2 ‡ Their heart is [c] divided; now shall they be found faulty: he shall † break down their altars: he shall spoil their images.

3 For now they shall say, We have no [d] king, because we feared not the LORD; what then should a king do to us?

4 They have spoken words, swearing falsly in making a [e] covenant: thus [f] judgement springeth up as hemlock in the furrows of the field.

5 The inhabitants of Samaria shall [g] fear, because of the calves of Beth-aven: for the people thereof shall mourn over it, and ‡ the [h] priests thereof that rejoyced on it, for the glory thereof, because it is departed from it.

6 It shall be also carried unto Assyria for a present to * king Jareb: Ephraim shall receive shame, and Israel shall be ashamed of his own counsel.

7 As for Samaria, her king is cut off as the fome upon † the water.

8 The high places also of [i] Aven, the sin of Israel shall be destroyed: the thorn and the thistle shall come up on their altars; * and they shall say to the mountains, Cover us; and to the hills, Fall on us.

9 O Israel, thou hast [k] sinned from the dayes of Gibeah: there they [l] stood: the battel in Gibeah against the children of iniquity did not [m] overtake them.

10 It is in my desire [n] that I should chastise them: and the people shall be gathered against them, ‡ when they shall binde themselves in their two [o] furrows.

11 And Ephraim is as an heifer that is a Whereof though the grapes were gathered, yet ever as it gathered new strength it increased new wickednesse, so that the correction which should have brought them to obedience did but utter their stubbornesse.

‡ Or, a vine emptying the fruit which it giveth.
b As they were rich, and had abundance.
† Heb. statues, or standing images.
‡ Or, he hath divided their heart.
c To wit, from God.
† Heb. behead.
d The day shall come, that God shall take away their king, & then they shall feel the fruit of their sins, and how they trusted in him in vain, 2 King 17. vers. 6: 7.
e In promising to be faithfull toward God.
f Thus their integrity and fidelity which they pretended, was nothing but bitternesse and grief.
g When the calf shall be carried away.
‡ Or, Chemarims, h Chemarims were certain idolatrous priests, which did weare black apparell in their sacrifices, and cried with a loud voice, which superstition Elijah derided, 1 Kings 18. vers 27. read 2 Kings 23: 5.

i Thus he speaketh in contempt of Beth-el, read Chap. 4: 15.
* Isa. 2: 19. Luke 23: 30. Revel 6: 16. and 9: 6. k In those dayes wast thou as wicked as the Gibeonites, as God there partly declared: for thy zeal could not be good in executing Gods judgements, seeing thine own deeds were as wicked as theirs. l To wit, to fight, or the Israelites remained in that stubbornesse from that time. m The Israelites were not movedby their example to cease from their sinnes. n Because they are so desperate, I will delight to destroy them. ‡ Or, when I shall binde them for their two transgressions, or in their two habitations. o That is, when they have gathered all their strength together.

taught,

taught, and loveth [p] to tread out the corn, but I passed over upon † her [q] fair neck: I will make Ephraim to ride: Judah shall plow, and Jacob shall break his clods.

12 Sow to your selves in righteousnesse, reap in mercy: [r] break up your fallow ground: for it is time to seek the LORD, till he come and rain righteousnesse upon you.

13 Ye have plowed wickednesse, ye have reaped iniquity, ye have eaten the fruit of lies: because thou didst trust in thy way, in the multitude of thy mighty men.

14 Therefore shall a tumult arise among thy people, and all thy fortresses shall be spoiled, as [s] Shalman spoiled * Beth-arbel in the day of battel: the mother was dashed in pieces upon her children.

15 So shall Beth-el do unto you, because of † your great wickednesse: in a morning shall the king of Israel utterly be cut off.

CHAP. XI.

1 The ingratitude of Israel unto God for his benefits. 5 His judgement. 8 Gods mercy toward them.

WHen Israel [a] was a childe, then I loved him, and * called my sonne out of Egypt.

2 As they called them, so they [b] went from them: they sacrificed unto Baalim, and burnt incense to graven images.

3 I taught Ephraim also to go, taking them by their arms, but they knew not that I healed them.

4 I drew them with cords [c] of a man, with bands of love, and I was to them as they that † take off the yoke on their jaws, and I laid meat unto them.

5 ¶ He shall not return into the land of Egypt, but the Assyrian shall be his [d] king, because they refused to return.

6 And the sword shall abide on his cities and shall consume his branches, and devoure them, because of their own counsels.

7 And my people are bent to back-sliding from me: though [e] they called them to the most high, † none at all would exalt him.

8 [f] How shall I give thee up, Ephraim? how shall I deliver thee, Israel? how shall I make thee as * [g] Admah? how shall I set thee as Zeboim? mine heart is turned within me, [h] my repentings are kindled together.

9 I will not execute the fiercenesse of mine anger, I will not return to destroy Ephraim; for I am God, and not man, the holy one in the midst of thee, and I will not [i] enter into the city.

10 They shall walk after the LORD: he shall roar like a lion: when he shall roar, then the children shall tremble from the west.

11 [k] They shall tremble as a bird out of Egypt, and as a dove out of the land of Assyria: and I will place them in their houses, saith the LORD.

12 Ephraim compasseth me about with lies, & the house of Israel with deceit: but Judah yet ruleth with [l] God, & is faithfull † with the saints.

h Meaning, that his love wherewith he first loved them, made him between doubt & assurance what to do: and herein appeareth his fatherly affection, that his mercy toward his shall overcome his judgements, as he declareth in the next verse.
i To consume thee, but wil cause thee to yeeld, and so receive thee to merey: and this is meant of the small number who shall walk after the Lord.
k The Egyptians and Assyrians shall be afraid when the Lord maintaineth his people.
l Governeth their state according to Gods word, and doth not degenerate.
‡ Or, with the most holy.

CHAP. XII.

1 A reproof of Ephraim, Judah, and Jacob. 3 By former favours he exhorteth to repentance. 7 Ephraims sinnes provoke God.

EPhraim feedeth [a] on winde, and followeth after the east-winde: he daily increaseth lies and desolation, and they do make a covenant with the Assyrians, and [b] oyl is carried into Egypt.

2 The LORD hath also a controversie with Judah, and will † punish Jacob according to his wayes; according to his doings will he recompense him.

3 ¶ He took his brother * by the heel in the wombe, and by his strength he † * had [d] power with God:

4 Yea, he had [e] power over the angel and prevailed, he wept and made supplication unto him: [f] he found him in * Beth-el, and there he spake with us.

5 Even the LORD God of hosts, the LORD is his * memoriall.

6 Therefore turn thou to thy God: keep mercy and judgement, and wait on thy God continually.

7 ¶ He is ‡ [g] a merchant, the balances of deceit are in his hand: he loveth to ‡ oppresse.

8 And Ephraim said, Yet I am become rich, I have found me out substance: † in all my labours they shall finde none iniquitie in me, † [h] that were sinne.

9 And I that am the LORD thy God from the land of Egypt, will yet make thee to dwell in tabernacles, as in [i] the dayes of the solemne feast.

10 I have also spoken by the prophets, and I have multiplied visions, and used similitudes, † by the ministerie of the prophets.

JOEL.

THE ARGUMENT.

THE prophet Joel first rebuketh them of Judah, that being now punished with a great plague of famine, remaineth still obstinate. Secondly, he threatneth greater plagues, because they grew daily to a more hardnesse of heart, and rebellion against God, notwithstanding his punishments. Thirdly, he exhorteth them to repentance, shewing that it must be earnest, and proceed from the heart, because they had grievously offended God. And so doing, he promiseth that God will be mercifull, and not forget his covenant that he made with their fathers: but will send his Christ, who shall gather the scattered sheep, and restore them to life and liberty, though they seemed to be dead.

CHAP. I.

1 Joel declaring sundry judgements of God, exhorteth to observe them, 8 and to mourn. 14 He prescribeth a fast for complaint.

THE word of the LORD that came to Joel the sonne of Pethuel.

2 Heare this, ye [a] old men, and give eare, all ye inhabitants of the land: hath [b] this been in your dayes, or even in the dayes of your fathers?

3 Tell ye your children of it, and let your children tell their children, and their children another generation.

4 † That which the palmer-worm hath left, hath the locust eaten; and that which the locust hath left, hath the canker-worm eaten; and that which the canker-worm hath left, hath the caterpiller eaten.

5 Awake ye [c] drunkards, and weep, and howl all ye drinkers of wine, because of the new wine: for it is cut off from your mouth.

6 For [d] a nation is come up upon my land, strong, and without number, whose teeth are the teeth of a lion, and he hath the cheek-teeth of a great lion.

7 He hath laid my vine waste, and † barked my fig-tree: he hath made it clean bare, and cast it away, the branches thereof are made white.

8 ¶ Lament like a virgin girded with sackcloth for the [e] husband of her youth.

9 The meat-offering, and the drink-offering is [f] cut off from the house of the LORD; the priests the LORDS ministers mourn.

10 The field is wasted, the land mourneth; for the corn is wasted: [g] the new wine is ‡ dried up, the oyl languisheth.

11 Be ye ashamed, O ye husbandmen: howl, O ye vine-dressers, for the wheat and for the barley; because the harvest of the field is perished.

12 The vine is dried up, and the fig-tree languisheth, the pomegranate-tree, the palm-tree also, and the apple-tree, even all the trees of the field are withered: because joy is withered away from the sonnes of men.

13 [h] Gird your selves, and lament, ye priests: howl, ye ministers of the altar: come, lie all night in sackcloth, ye ministers of my God: for the meat-offering and the drink-offering is withholden from the house of your God.

14 ¶ * Sanctifie ye a fast, call a ‡ solemne assembly, gather the elders, and all the inhabitants of the land into the house of the LORD your God, and cry unto the LORD.

15 Alas for the day: for * the [i] day of the LORD is at hand, and as a destruction from the Almighty shall it come.

16 Is not the meat cut off before our eyes, yea, joy and gladnesse from the house of our God?

17 The † seed is rotten under their clods, the garners are laid desolate, the barns are broken down; for the corn is withered.

18 How do the beasts groan, the herds of cattel are perplexed, because they have no pasture; yea, the flocks of sheep are made desolate.

19 O LORD, to thee will I cry: for the fire hath devoured the ‡ pastures of the wilderness, and the flame hath burnt all the trees of the field.

20 The beasts of the field cry also unto thee: for the rivers of waters are dried up, and the [k] fire hath devoured the pastures of the wilderness.

CHAP. II.

1 He sheweth unto Zion the terribleness of Gods judgement. 12 He exhorteth to repentance, 15 prescribeth a fast, 18 promiseth a blessing thereon. 21 He comforteth Zion with present, 28 and future blessings.

18 ¶ Then will the LORD be [m] jealous for his land, and pity his people.

19 Yea, the LORD will anſwer and ſay unto his people, Behold, I will ſend you corn, and wine, and oyl, and ye ſhall be ſatisfied therewith: and I will no more make you a reproach among the heathen, 20 But I will remove farre off from you the [n] northern army, and will drive him into a land barren and deſolate, with his face toward the [o] eaſt ſea, and his hinder part towards the utmoſt ſea, and his ſtink ſhall come up, and his ill ſavour ſhall come up, becauſe † he hath done great things.

21 ¶ Fear not, O land, be glad and rejoyce: for the LORD will do great things.

22 Be not afraid, ye beaſts of the field: for the paſtures of the wilderneſſe do ſpring, for the tree beareth her fruits, the fig-tree and the vine do yeeld their ſtrength.

23 Be glad then ye children of Zion, and rejoyce in the LORD your God: for he hath given you ‡ the former rain [p] ‡ moderately, and he * will cauſe to come down for you the rain, the former rain, and the latter rain in the firſt moneth.

24 And the floores ſhall be full of wheat, and the fats ſhall overflow with wine and oyl.

25 And I will reſtore to you the yeares that the locuſt hath eaten, the canker-worm, and the caterpillar, and the palmer-worm, my great army which I ſent among you.

26 And ye ſhall eat in plenty, and be ſatisfied, and praiſe the name of the LORD your God, that hath dealt wonderouſly with you: and my people ſhall never be aſhamed.

27 And ye ſhall know that I am in the midſt of Iſrael, and that I am the LORD your God, and none elſe: and my people ſhall never be aſhamed.

3 And they have cast lots for my people, and have given a boy [c] for a harlot, and sold a girle for wine, that they may drink.

4 Yea, and [d] what have ye to do with me, O Tyre and Zidon, and all the coasts of Palestine? will ye render me [e] a recompense? and if ye recompense me, swiftly and speedily will I return your recompense upon your own head.

5 Because ye have taken my silver and my gold, and have carried into your temples my goodly † pleasant things.

AMOS.

THE ARGUMENT.

AMong many other prophets that God raised up to admonish the Israelites of his plagues, for their wickednesse and idolatry, he stirred up Amos, who was an herdman or shepherd of a poore town, and gave him both knowledge and constancy to reprove all estates and degrees, and to denounce Gods horrible judgements against them, except they did in time repent: shewing them, that if God spare not the other nations about them, who had lived, as it were, in ignorance of God in respect of them, but for their sinnes will punish them, that they could look for nothing, but an horrible destruction, except they turned to the Lord by unfained repentance. And finally, he comforteth the godly with hope of the coming of the Messiah, by whom they should have perfect deliverance and salvation.

CHAP. I.

1 Amos sheweth Gods judgement upon Syria, 6 upon the Philistines, 9 upon Tyrus, 11 upon Edom, 13 upon Ammon.

THE words of Amos, who was among the herdmen of [a] Tekoa, which he saw concerning Israel, in the dayes of Uzziah king of Judah, and in the dayes of [b] Jeroboam the sonne of Joash king of Israel, two yeare before the * [c] earthquake.

2 And he said, the LORD will * roar from Zion, and utter his voice from Jerusalem: and the habitations of the shepherds shall mourn, and the top of [d] Carmel shall wither.

3 Thus saith the LORD, For [e] three transgressions of Damascus, and † for foure I will not ‡ turn away the punishment thereof, because they have [f] threshed Gilead with threshing instruments of iron.

a Which was a town six miles from Jerusalem in Judea, but he prophesied in Israel.
b In his dayes the kingdome of Israel did most flourish.
* Zech. 14: 5.
c Which, as Josephus writeth was when Uzziah would have usurped the priests office, and therefore was smitten with the leprosie.
* Jerem. 25: 30; Joel 3: 16.
d Whatsoever is fruitfull and pleasant in Israel shall shortly perish.
e He sheweth, first that all the people round about should be destroyed for their manifold sins: which are meant by three and foure, which make seven, † Or, yea for foure. ‡ Or, convert it, or let it be quit, and so vers 6. &c. f If the Syrians shall not be spared for committing this cruelty against one city, it is not possible that Israel should escape punishment, which hath committed so many and grievous sins against God and man.

4 But

4 But I will ſend a fire into the houſe of Hazael, which ſhalll devoure the [g] palaces of Benhadad.

5 I will break alſo the barre of Damaſcus, and cut off the inhabitant from ‡ the plain of Aven: and him that holdeth the ſcepter from ‡ the houſe of Eden, and the people of Syria ſhall go into captivity unto [h] Kir, ſaith the LORD.

6 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD, For three tranſgreſſions of * Gaza, and for foure I will not turn away the punishment thereof: becauſe they ‡[i] carried away captive the whole captivitie, to deliver them up to Edom.

7 But I will ſend a fire on the wall of Gaza, which ſhall devoure the palaces thereof.

8 And I will cut off the inhabitant from Aſhdod, and him that holdeth the ſcepter from Aſhkelon, and I will turn mine hand againſt Ekron; and the remnant of the Philiſtines ſhall periſh, ſaith the Lord GOD.

9 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD, For three tranſgreſſions of Tyrus, and for foure I will not turn away the punishment thereof: becauſe they delivered up the whole captivitie to Edom, and remembred not † the [k] brotherly covenant.

10 But I will ſend a fire on the wall of Tyrus, which ſhall devoure the palaces thereof.

11 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD, For three tranſgreſſions of Edom, and for foure I will not turn away, the punishment thereof: becauſe he did purſue his brother with the ſword, and † did caſt off all pitie, and his anger did tear perpetually, and kept his wrath for [l] ever.

12 But I will ſend a fire upon Teman, which ſhall devoure the palaces of Bozrah.

13 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD, For three tranſgreſſions of the children of Ammon, and for foure I will not turn away the punishment thereof: becauſe they [m] have ‡ ript up the women with childe of Gilead, that they might enlarge their border.

14 But I will kindle a fire in the wall of Rabbah, and it ſhall devoure the palaces thereof, with ſhouting in the day of battel; with a tempeſt in the day of the whirlwinde.

15 And their king ſhall go into captivitie, he, and his princes together, ſaith the LORD,

CHAP. II.

1 Gods wrath againſt Moab, 4 upon Judah, 6 and upon Iſrael. 9 God complaineth of their unthankfulneſſe

THus ſaith the LORD, For three tranſgreſſions of Moab, and for foure I will not turn away the punishment thereof: becauſe he * burnt the [a] bones of the king of Edom into lime.

2 But I will ſend a fire upon Moab; and it ſhall devoure the palaces of Kirioth, and Moab ſhall die with tumult, with ſhouting, and with the ſound of the trumpet.

3 And I will cut off the judge from the midſt thereof, and will ſlay all the princes thereof with him, ſaith the LORD.

4 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD, for three tranſgreſſions of Judah, and for foure I will not [b] turn away the punishment thereof: becauſe they have deſpiſed the law of the LORD, and have not kept his commandments, and their lies cauſed them to erre, after the which their fathers have walked.

5 But I will ſend a fire upon Judah, and it ſhall devoure the palaces of Jeruſalem.

6 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD, for three tranſgreſſions of [c] Iſrael, and for foure I will not turn away the punishment thereof: becauſe * they ſold the righteous for ſilver, and the poore [d] for a pair of ſhoes.

7 That pant after the [e] duſt of the earth on the head of the poore, and turn aſide the way of the meek: and a man and his father will go in unto the ſame ‡ maid, to profane my holy name.

8 And they lay themſelves down upon clothes laid to pledge, [f] by every altar, and they [g] drink the wine of ‡ the condemned in the houſe of their god.

9 ¶ Yet deſtroyed I the * [h] Amorite before them, whoſe height was like the height of the cedars, and he was ſtrong as the oaks, yet I deſtroyed his fruit from above, and his roots from beneath.

10 Alſo * I brought you up from the land of Egypt, and led you fourty yeares through the wilderneſſe, to poſſeſſe the land of the Amorite.

11 And I raiſed up of your ſonnes for prophets, and [i] of your young men for Nazarites, Is it not even thus, O ye children of Iſrael? ſaith the LORD.

12 But ye gave the Nazarites wine to drink, and commanded the prophets, * ſaying, Propheſie not.

13 Behold, ‡ I am [k] preſſed under you, as a cart is preſſed that is full of ſheaves.

14 Therefore the flight ſhall periſh from the [l] ſwift, and the ſtrong ſhall not ſtrengthen his force, neither ſhall the mighty deliver † himſelf.

15 Neither ſhall he ſtand that handleth the bow, and he that is ſwift of foot ſhall not deliver himſelf, neither ſhall he that rideth the horſe deliver himſelf.

16 And he that is † couragious among the mighty, ſhall flee away naked in that day, ſaith the LORD.

CHAP. IIII.

1 He reproveth Iſrael for oppreſſion. 4 for idolatry, 6 and for their incorrigibleneſſe.

6 ¶ And I alſo have given you [k] cleanneſſe of teeth in all your cities, and want of bread in all your places: yet have ye not returned unto me, ſaith the LORD.

7 And alſo I have withholden the rain from you, when there were yet three [i] moneths to the harveſt, and I cauſed it to rain upon one city, and cauſed it not to rain upon another city: one piece was rained upon, and the piece whereupon it rained not, withered.

8 So two or three cities wandered unto one city, to drink water; but they were [k] not ſatisfied: yet have ye not returned unto me, ſaith the LORD.

9 I have ſmitten you with blaſting and mildew; ‡ when your gardens and your vineyards, and your fig-trees, and your olive-trees increaſed, the palmer-worm devoured them: yet have ye not returned unto me, ſaith the LORD.

11 Forasmuch therefore as your treading is upon the poore, and [g] ye take from him burdens of wheat, * ye have built houses of hewen stone but ye shall not dwell in them: ye have planted † pleasant vineyards, but ye shall not drink wine of them.

12 For I know your manifold transgressions, and your mightie sinnes: they afflict the just, they take ‡ a bride, and they turn aside the poore in the gate from their right.

13 Therefore [h] the prudent shall keep silence in that time, for it is an evil time.

14 Seek good and not evil, that ye may live: and so the LORD the God of hosts shall be with you, as ye have spoken.

15 * Hate the evil, and love the good and establish judgement in the gate: it may be that the LORD God of hosts will be gracious unto the remnant of Joseph.

16 Therefore the LORD the God of hosts, the Lord saith thus, Wailing shall be in all streets, and they shall say in all the high-wayes, Alas, alas: and they shall call the [i] husbandman to mourning, and such as are skilfull of lamentation, to wailing.

17 And in all vineyards shall be wailing: for I will passe through thee, saith the LORD.

18 * Wo unto you that [k] desire the day of the LORD: to what end is it for you? the day of the LORD is darknesse and not light.

19 As if a man did flee from a lion, and a bear met him; or went into the house, and leaned his hand on the wall, and a serpent bit him.

20 Shall not the day of the LORD be darknesse, and not light? even very dark, and no brightnesse in it?

22 Though ye offer me burnt-offerings, and your meat-offerings, [l] I will not accept them: neither will I regard the ‡ peace-offerings of your fat beasts.

23 Take thou away from me the noise of thy songs, for I will not heare the melody of thy viols.

24 But let judgement † run down as [m] waters, and righteousnesse as a mightie stream.

25 * Have ye offered unto me sacrifices and offerings in the wilderness fourty yeares, O house of Israel?

26 But ye have born ‡ [n] the tabernacle of your Moloch and Chiun your images, the starre of your god, which ye made to your selves.

27 Therefore will I cause you to go into captivitie beyond Damascus, saith the LORD, whose name is the God of hosts.

7 ¶ Therefore now shall they go captive with the first that go captive, and [g] the banquet of them that stretched themselves, shall be removed.

8 [h] The Lord GOD hath sworn by himself, saith the LORD the God of hosts, I abhorre [i] the excellencie of Jacob, and hate his palaces: therefore will I deliver up the citie, with † all that is therein.

9 And it shall come to passe, if there remain ten men in one house, that they shall die.

10 And a mans uncle [k] shall take him up, and he that burneth him, to bring out the bones out of the house, and shall say unto him that is by the [l] sides of the house, Is there yet any with thee? and he shall say, No: then shall he say, * [m] Hold thy tongue; for ‡ we may not make mention of the name of the LORD.

11 For behold, the LORD commandeth, and he will smite the great house with ‡ breaches, and the little house with clefts.

12 ¶ Shall horses [n] run upon the rock? will one plow there with oxen? for ye have turned judgement into gall, and the fruit of righteousnesse into [o] hemlock.

13 Ye which rejoyce in a thing of nought, which say, Have we not taken to us [p] horns by our own strength?

5 Then said I, O Lord God, cease, I beseech thee; by whom shall Jacob arise? for he is small.

6 The Lord repented for this: This also shall not be, saith the Lord God.

7 ¶ Thus he shewed me, and behold, the Lord stood upon a wall made by a plumbeline, [e] with a plumbe-line in his hand.

e Signifying, that this should be the last measuring of the people, and that he would defer his judgements no longer.

8 And the Lord said unto me, Amos, what seest thou? and I said, A plumbe-line. Then said the Lord, Behold, I will set a plumbe-line in the midst of my people Israel, I will not again passe by them any more.

9 And the high places of Isaac shall be desolate, and the sanctuaries of Israel shall be laid waste; and I will rise against the house of Jeroboam with the sword.

10 ¶ [f] Then Amaziah the priest of Beth-el sent to Jeroboam king of Israel, saying, Amos hath conspired against thee in the midst of the house of Israel: the land is not able to bear all his words.

f That is, when Amos had prophesied that the king should be destroyed: for this wicked priest more for hatred he bare to the prophet, than for love toward the king, thought this accusation sufficient to condemn him, whereas none other could take place.

11 For thus Amos saith, Jeroboam shall die by the sword, and Israel shall surely be led away captive, out of their own land.

12 Also [g] Amaziah said unto Amos, O thou seer, go, flee thee away into the land of Judah, and there eat bread, and prophesie there.

g When this instrument of Satan was not able to compasse his purpose by the king, he assayed by another practise: that was, to feare the prophet, that he might depart, and not reprove their idolatry there openly, and so hinder his profit.

13 But prophesie not again any more at Beth-el: for it is the kings ‡ chappel, and it is the † kings court.

‡ Or, sanctuary.
† Heb. house of the kingdome.

14 ¶ Then answered Amos, and said to Amaziah, I was no [h] prophet, neither was I a prophets sonne, but I was an herdman, and a gatherer of ‡ sycomore-fruit.

h Thus he sheweth by his extraordinary vocation that God had given him a charge which he must needs execute.

15 And the Lord took me † as I followed the flock, and the Lord said unto me, Go, prophesie unto my people Israel.

‡ Or, wilde figs.
† Heb. from behinde.

16 ¶ Now therefore heare thou the word of the Lord: thou sayest, Prophesie not against Israel, and * drop not thy word against the house of Isaac.

* Ezek. 21: 2.

17 Therefore thus saith the Lord, [i] Thy wife shall be an harlot in the city, and thy sonnes & thy daughters shall fall by the sword, and thy land shall be divided by line: and thou shalt die in a polluted land, and Israel shall surely go into captivity forth of his land. 683

i Thus God useth to approve the authority of his prophets by his plagues and judgements against them which were malicious enemies, Jer. 28: 12. and 29: 21, 25. as this day he doth against them that persecute the ministers of his gospel.

Chap. VIII.

1 By a basket of summer-fruit, is shewed the propinquity of Israels end. 4 Oppression is reproved. 11 A famine of the word threatned.

THus hath the Lord God shewed unto me, and behold, a basket of summer-fruit.

2 And he said, Amos, what seest thou? and I said, A basket of summer-[a] fruit. Then said the Lord unto me, The end is come upon my people of Israel, I will not again passe by them any more.

a Which signified the ripenesse of their sins, and the readinesse of Gods judgements.

3 And the songs of the temples † shall be howlings in that day, saith the Lord God: there shall be many dead bodies in every place, they shall cast them forth † with [b] silence.

† Heb. shall howl.
b There shall be none left to mourn for them.

4 ¶ Heare this, O ye that [c] swallow up the needy, even to make the poore of the land to fail, c By slaying the sale of food and necessary things which you have gotten into your own hands, and so cause the poore to spend quickly that little that they have, and at length for necessity to become your slaves.

5 Saying, When will the [d] ‡ new moon be gone, that we may sell corn? and the sabbath, that we may † set forth wheat, making [e] the ephah small, and the shekel great, and † falsifying the balances by deceit?

d When the death was once come, they were so greedy of gain, that they thought the holy day to be an hinderance unto them.
† Heb. open.
e That is, the measure small and the price great.
Heb. perverting the balances of deceit.

6 That we may buy the poore for * silver, and the needy for a paire of shoes; yea, and sell the refuse of the wheat?

* Chap. 2: 6.

7 The Lord hath sworn by the excellency of Jacob, Surely I will never forget any of their works.

8 Shall not the land tremble for this, and every one mourn that dwelleth therein? and it shall rise up wholly as a floud; and it shal be cast out and [f] drowned, as by the floud of Egypt.

f That is, the inhabitants of the land shall be drowned, as Nilus drowneth many when it overfloweth.

9 And it shall come to passe in that day, saith the Lord God, that I will cause the [g] sun to go down at noon, and I will darken the earth in the clear day.

g In the mids of their prosperity will send great afflictions.

10 And I will turn your feasts into mourning, and all your songs into lamentation, and I will bring up sackcloth upon all loyns, and baldnesse upon every head: and I will make it as the mourning of an onely sonne, and the end thereof as a bitter day.

11 ¶ Behold, the dayes come, saith the Lord God, that I will send a famine in the land, not a famine of bread, nor a thirst for water, but of hearing the words of the Lord.

12 And they shall wander from sea to sea and from the north even to the east, they shall run to and fro to seek the [h] word of the Lord, and shall not finde it.

h Whereby he sheweth that they shall not onely perish in body, but also in soul, for lack of Gods word, which is the food thereof.

13 In that day shall the fair virgins and young men faint for thirst.

14 They that swear by the sinne [i] of Samaria, and say, Thy God, O Dan, liveth, and the [k] manner of Beer-sheba liveth; even they shall fall, and never rise up again.

i For the idolaters did use to sweare by their idols, which here he calleth their sinne, as the papists yet do by theirs.
k That is, the common manner of worshipping, and the service or religion there used.

CHAP. IX.

1 The certainty of the deſolation. 11 The reſtoring of the tabernacle of David.

I Saw the Lord ſtanding upon the [a] altar, and he ſaid, Smite the ‡ lintel of the doore, that the poſts may ſhake: and ‡ cut them in the [b] head all of them; and I will ſlay the laſt of them with the ſword: he that fleeth of them, ſhall not flee away; and he that eſcapeth of them, ſhall not be delivered.

2 * Though they dig into hell, thence ſhall mine hand take them: though they climbe up to heaven, thence will I bring them down.

3 And though they hide themſelves in the top of Carmel: I will ſearch and take them out thence, and though they be hid from my ſight in the bottom of the ſea, thence will I command the [c] ſerpent, and he ſhall bite them.

4 And though they go into captivitie before their enemies, thence will I command the ſword, and it ſhall ſlay them: and * I will ſet mine eyes upon them for evil, and not for good.

5 And the Lord GOD of hoſts is he that toucheth the land, and it ſhall melt, and all that dwell therein ſhall mourn, and it ſhall riſe up wholly like a floud, and ſhall be drowned, as by the floud of Egypt.

6 It is he that buildeth his ‡ [d] † * ſtories in the heaven, and hath founded his ‡ troup in the earth, he that * calleth for the waters of the ſea, and poureth them out upon the face of the earth: the LORD is his name.

7 Are ye not as children of the Ethiopians [e] unto me, O children of Iſrael? ſaith the LORD: have not I brought up Iſrael out of the land of Egypt? and the Philiſtines from [f] Caphtor, and the Aſſyrians from Kir?

8 Behold, the eyes of the Lord GOD are upon the ſinfull kingdome, and I will deſtroy it from off the face of the earth; ſaying, that I will not utterly [g] deſtroy the houſe of Jacob, ſaith the LORD.

9 For lo, I will command, and I will † ſift the houſe of Iſrael among all nations, like as corn is ſifted in a ſive, yet ſhall not the [h] leaſt † grain fall upon the earth.

10 All the ſinners of my people ſhall die by the ſword, which ſay, The evil ſhall not overtake nor prevent us.

11 ¶ In that day will I raiſe up the [i] tabernacle of David that is fallen, and † cloſe up the breaches thereof, and I will raiſe up his ruines, and I will build it as in the dayes of old:

12 That they may poſſeſſe the remnant of [k] Edom, and of all the heathen, † which are called by my name, ſaith the LORD that doeth this.

13 Behold, the dayes come, ſaith the LORD, that the plow-man ſhall [l] overtake the reaper, and the treader of grapes, him that † ſoweth ſeed, and the mountains ſhall drop ‡ [m] ſweet wine, and all the hills ſhall melt.

14 [n] And I will bring again the captivitie of my people of Iſrael, and they ſhall build the waſte cities, and inhabit them; and they ſhall plant vineyards, and drink the wine thereof: they ſhall alſo make gardens, and eat the fruit of them.

15 And I will plant them upon their land, and they ſhall no more be pulled up out of their land which I have given them, ſaith the LORD thy God.

OBADIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe Idumeans which came of Esau, were mortall enemies alwayes to the Israelites, which came of Jacob, aud therefore did not onely vex them continually with sundry kindes of cruelty, but also stirred up others to fight against them. Therefore when they were now in their greatest prosperitie, and did most triumph against Israel, which was in great affliction and miserie, God raised up his prophet to comfort the Israelites, forasmuch as God had now determined to destroy their adversaries, which did so sore vex them, and to send them such as should deliver them, and set up the kingdome of Messiah, which he had promised.

1 The destruction of Edom, 3 for their pride, 10 and for their wrong unto Jacob, 17 The salvation and victorie of Jacob.

THe vision of Obadiah. Thus saith the Lord GOD, concerning Edom, [a] We have heard a rumour from the LORD, and an ambassadour is sent among the heathen, Arise ye, and [b] let us rise up against her in battel.

a God hath certainly revealed to his prophets that he will raise up the heathen to destroy the Edomites, whereof the rumour is now published, Jerem. 49: 14.

b Thus the heathen encourage themselves to rise against Edom.

2 Behold, I have made thee small among the heathen: thou art greatly despised.

3 ¶ The [c] pride of thine heart hath deceived thee: thou that dwellest in the clefts of the rock, whose habitation is high, that saith in his heart, Who shall bring me down to the ground?

c Which despiseth all others in respect of thy self, and yet art but an handfull in comparison of others, and art shut up among the hils, as separate from the rest of the world.

4 * Though thou exalt thy self as the eagle, and though thou set thy nest among the starres, thence will I bring thee down, saith the LORD.

* Jerem. 49: 16.

5 If [d] theeves came to thee, If robbers by night, (how art thou cut off!) would they not have stolen till they had ênough? if the grape gatherers come to thee, would they not leave ‡ some grapes?

d God will so destroy them, that he wil leave none, though theeves when they come, take but till they have enough, and they that gather grapes, ever leave some behinde them, Jer. 49: 9.

‡ Or, gleanings.

6 How are the things of Esau searched out? how are his hid things sought up?

7 All the men of thy confederacie [e] have brought thee even to the border: † the men that were at peace with thee have deceived thee, and prevailed against thee: † they that eat thy [f] bread, have laid a wound under thee: there is none understanding ‡ in him.

e They in whom thou didst trust, for to have help and friendship of them, shall be thine enemies, and destroy thee.

† Heb. the men of thy peace.

† Heb. the men of thy bread.

f That is, thy familiar friends and guests have by secret practises destroyed thee.

‡ Or, of it.

8 * Shall I not in that day, saith the LORD, even destroy the wise men out of Edom, and understanding out of the mount of Esau?

* Isa. 29: 14. Jerem. 49: 7.

9 And thy mightie men, O Teman, shall be dismayed, to the end that every one of the mount of Esau may be cut off by slaughter.

10 ¶ For the * violence against thy [g] brother Jacob, shame shall cover thee, and thou shalt be cut off for ever.

* Genes. 27: 41. Ezek. 35: 5. Amos 1: 11.

g He sheweth the cause why the Edomites were so sharply punished: to wit, because they were enemies to his church, whom now he comforteth by punishing their enemies.

11 In the day that thou stoodest [h] on the other side, in the day that the strangers ‡ carried away captive his forces, and forreiners entred into his gates, and cast lots upon Jerusalem, even thou wast as one of them.

h When Nebuchad-nezzar came against Jerusalem, thou joinedst with him, and hadst part of the spoil, and so didst rejoice, when my people, that is, thy brother, were afflicted, whereas thou shouldest have pitied and holpen thy brother.

‡ Or, carried away his substance.

12 But ‡ thou shouldest not have looked on the day of thy brother, in the day that he became [i] a stranger, neither shouldest thou have rejoyced over the children of Judah in the day of their destruction: neither shouldest thou have † spoken proudly in the day of distresse.

i When the Lord deprived them of their former dignitie, and gave them to be carried into captivitie.

† Heb. magnified thy mouth.

13 Thou shouldest not have entred into the gate of my people in the day of their calamitie; yea, thou shouldest not have looked on their affliction in the day of their calamitie, nor have laid hands on their ‡ substance, in the day of their calamitie.

‡ Or, forces.

14 Neither shouldest thou have stood in the crosse way, to cut off those of his that did escape; neither shouldest thou have ‡ delivered up those of his that did remain in the day of distresse.

‡ Or, shut up.

15 For the day [k] of the LORD is neare upon all the heathen: * as thou hast done, it shall be done unto thee, thy reward shall return upon thine own head.

k When he will summon all the heathen, and send them to destroy thee.

* Ezek. 35: 15.

16 For as ye have [l] drunk upon my holy mountain, so shall all the heathen drink continually, yea, they shall drink, and they shall ‡ swallow down, and they shall be [m] as though they had not been.

l That is, rejoiced and triumphed.

m The Edomites shall utterly be destroyed, and yet in despite of all the enemies, I will reserve my church and restore it.

17 ¶ But upon mount Zion shall be ‡ deliverance, and † there shall be holinesse, and the house of Jacob shall possesse their possessions.

‡ Or, they that escape.

‡ Or, it shall be holy.

18 And the house of Jacob shall be [n] a fire, and the house of Joseph a flame, and the house of Esau for stubble, and they shall kindle in them, and devoure them, and there shall not be any remaining of the house of Esau; for the LORD hath spoken it.

n God attributeth this power, to consume his enemies to his church, which power is onely proper to himself, as Isa. 10: 17. Deut. 4: 24. Hebr. 12: 29.

19 And they of the south shall possesse the [o] mount of Esau, and they of the plain, the Philistines: and they shall possesse the fields of Ephraim, and the fields of Samaria, and Benjamin shall possesse Gilead.

o He describeth, how the church shall be enlarged and have great possessions, but this chiefly is accomplished under Christ, when as the faithfull are made heires and lords of all things by him which is their head.

20 And the captivitie of this host of the children of Israel shall possesse that of the [p] Canaanites, even unto Zarephath, and the captivitie of Jerusalem ‡ which is in Sepharad, shall possesse the cities of the south.

p By the Canaanites the Jews mean the Dutchmen: and by Zarephath, France: and by Sepharad Spain.

‡ Or, shall possesse that which is in Sepharad.

21 And * [q] saviours shall come upon mount Zion to judge the mount of Esau, and the * kingdome shall be the LORDS.

* 1 Tim. 4: 16. James 5: 20.

q Meaning, that God will raise up in his church such as shall rule and govern for the defence of the same, and destruction of his enemies under Messiah, whom the prophet calleth here the Lord and head of this kingdome.

* Luce 1: 33.

JONAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

WHen Jonah had long propheſied in Iſrael, and had little profited, God gave him expreſſe charge to goe and denounce his judgements againſt Nineveh the chief citie of the Aſſyrians, becauſe he had appointed, that they which were of the heathen, ſhould convert by the mighty power of his word, and that within three dayes preaching, that Iſrael might ſee how horribly they had provoked Gods wrath, which for the ſpace of ſo many yeares, had not converted to the Lord for ſo many prophets, and ſo diligent preaching. He propheſied under Joash, and Jeroboam, as 2 King. 14, 25.

CHAP. I.

1 Jonah ſent to Nineveh, fleeth to Tarshish. 4 He is bewrayed by a tempeſt, 11 thrown into the ſea, 17 and ſwallowed by a fiſh.

NOw the word of the LORD came [a] unto ‡ Jonah the ſonne of Amittai, ſaying,

2 Ariſe, go to [b] Nineveh that * [c] great citie, and cry againſt it, for their wickedneſſe is come up before me.

3 But Jonah roſe up to [d] flee unto Tarshish from the preſence of the LORD, and went down to [e] Joppa? and he found a ſhip going to Tarshish: ſo he paid the fare thereof, and went down into it to go with them unto Tarshish, from the [f] preſence of the LORD.

4 ¶ But the LORD † ſent out a great winde into the ſea, and there was a mightie tempeſt in the ſea, ſo that the ſhip † was like to be broken

5 Then the mariners were afraid, and cried every man unto his god, and caſt forth the wares that were in the ſhip, into the ſea, to lighten it of them: but Jonah was gone down [g] into the ſides of the ſhip, and he lay, and was faſt aſleep.

6 So the ſhip-maſter came to him, and ſaid unto him, What meaneſt thou, O ſleeper? ariſe, call upon thy [h] God, if ſo be that God will think upon us, that we perish not.

7 And they ſaid every one to his fellow, Come, and let us caſt [i] lots, that we may know for whoſe cauſe this evil is upon us. So they caſt lots, and the lot fell upon Jonah.

8 Then ſaid they unto him, Tell us, we pray thee, for whoſe cauſe this evil is upon us; what is thine occupation? and whence comeſt thou? what is thy countrey? and of what people art thou.

9 And he ſaid unto them, I am an Hebrew, and I fear the LORD the God of heaven, which hath made the ſea and the drie land.

10 Then were the men † exceedingly afraid, and ſaid unto him, Why haſt thou done this (for the men knew that he fled from the preſence of the LORD, becauſe he had told them)

11 ¶ Then ſaid they unto him, What ſhall we do unto thee, that the ſea † may be calm unto us? (for the ſea ‡ † wrought and was tempeſtuous)

12 And he ſaid unto them, Take me up, and caſt me forth into the ſea; ſo ſhall the ſea be calm unto you: for I know that for my ſake this great tempeſt is upon you.

13 Neverthleſſe the men † rowed hard to bring it to the land, but they could not; for the ſea wrought, and was tempeſtuous againſt them.

14 Wherefore they cried unto the LORD, and ſaid, [k] We beſeech thee, O LORD, we beſeech thee, let us not periſh for this mans life; and lay not upon us innocent bloud: for thou, O LORD, haſt done as it pleaſed thee.

15 So they took up Jonah, and caſt him forth into the ſea, and the ſea † ceaſed from her raging.

16 Then the men [l] feared the LORD exceedingly, and † offered a ſacrifice unto the LORD, and made vows.

17 ¶ Now the LORD had prepared a great fiſh to ſwallow up Jonah, and * Jonah was in the † [m] belly of the fiſh three dayes and three nights.

a After that he had preached a long time in Iſrael: and ſo Ezekiel, after that for a time he had propheſied in Judah, he had viſions in Babylon, Ezek. 1: 1.

‡ Called Matth. 12. verſ. 39. Jonas.

b For ſeeing the great obſtination of the Iſraelites, he ſent his prophet to the Gentiles, that they might provoke them to repentance, or at leaſt, make them inexcuſable: for Nineveh was the chief citie of the Aſſyrians.

* Gen. 10: 11, 12. Chap. 3: 3.

c For as authours write, it contained in circuit about eight and fourty mile, and had a thouſand and five hundred towers, and at this time there were an hundred and twenty thouſand children therein, chap. 4: 11.

d Whereby he declared his weakneſſe, that would not promptly follow the Lords calling, but gave place to his own reaſon, which perſwaded him, that he ſhould nothing at all profit there, ſeeing he had done ſo ſmall good among his own people, Chap. 4: 2.

e Which was the haven and port to take ſhipping thither, called alſo Joppe.

‡ From that vocation whereunto God had called him, and wherein he would have aſſiſted him.

† Heb. caſt forth.

g As one that would have caſt off this care and ſolicitude, by ſeeking reſt and quietneſſe.

h As they had called on their idols, which declareth, that idolaters have no ſtay nor certainty, but in their troubles ſeek, they cannot tell to whom.

i Which declareth, that the matter was in great extremity and doubt, which thing was Gods motion in them, for the triall of the cauſe, and this may not be done but in matters of great importance. † Heb. with great fear. † Heb. may be ſilent from. ‡ Or, grew more and more tempeſtuous. † Heb. went.

k This declareth, that the every wicked in their neceſſities flee unto God for ſuccour, and alſo that they are touched with a certain fear to ſhed mans bloud, whereas they know no manifeſt ſigne of wickedneſſe.

l They were touched with a certain repentance of their life paſt, and began to worſhip the true God, by whom they ſaw themſelves ſo wonderfully delivered: but this was done for fear.

† Heb. ſacrificed a ſacrifice, and vowed vows. * Matth. 12: 40. and 16: 4. Luke 11: 30. Heb. bowels. m Thus the Lord would chaſtiſe his prophet with a moſt terrible ſpectacle of death, and hereby alſo confirmed him of his favour and ſupport in this his charge, which was enjoyned him.

and not of a pure heart and affection, neither according to Gods word.

CHAP. II.

1 The prayer of Jonah. 10 He is delivered from the fiſh.

THen Jonah prayed unto the LORD his God [a] out of the fiſhes belly,

2 And ſaid, I * cried ‡ by reaſon of mine affliction unto the LORD, and he heard me; out of the belly [b] of † hell cried I, and thou heardeſt my voice.

3 For thou hadſt caſt me into the deep, in the † midſt of the ſeas, and the flouds compaſſed me about, all thy billows and thy waves paſſed over me.

4 Then I ſaid, I am [c] caſt out of thy ſight; yet I will look again toward thy holy temple.

5 The * waters compaſſed me about even to the ſoul: the depth cloſed me round about, the weeds were wrapt about my head.

6 I went down to the † bottoms of the mountains, the earth with her barres was about me for ever: yet haſt thou brought up my [d] life from ‡ corruption, O LORD my God.

7 When my ſoul fainted within me, I remembred the LORD, and my prayer came in unto thee, into thine holy temple.

8 They that obſerve lying [e] vanities, forſake their own [f] mercy.

a Being now ſwallowed up of death, and ſeeing no remedie to eſcape, his faith braſt out unto the Lord, knowing that out of the very hell he was able to deliver him.

* Pſal. 130: 1.

‡ Or, out of mine affliction.

b For he was now in the fiſhes belly, as in a grave or place of darkneſſe.

‡ Or, the grave.

c This declared what his prayer was, and how he laboured between hope and deſpaire, conſidering the neglect of his vocation, and Gods judgements for the ſame: but yet in the end faith gat the victory.

† Heb. cuttings of.

d Thou haſt delivered me from the belly of thy fiſh, and all theſe dangers, as it were raiſing me from death to life.

‡ Or, the pit. e They that depend upon any thing ſave on God alone.

f They refuſe their own felicity, and that goodneſſe which they ſhould elſe receive of God.

9 But

9 But I will ſacrifice unto thee with the voice of * thankſgiving, I will pay that that I have vowed: * ſalvation is of the LORD.

10 ¶ And the LORD ſpake unto the fish, and it vomited out Jonah upon the drie land.

CHAP. III.

1 Jonah ſent again, preacheth to the Ninevites. 5 Upon their repentance, 10 God repenteth.

AND the word of the LORD came unto [a] Jonah the ſecond time, ſaying,

2 Ariſe, go unto Nineveh that great city, and preach unto it the preaching that I bid thee.

3 So Jonah aroſe and went unto Nineveh, according to the word of the LORD: (now Nineveh was an † exceeding [b] great citie of three dayes journey)

4 And Jonah began to enter into the city a dayes [c] journey, and he cried, and ſaid, Yet fourty dayes and Nineveh ſhall be overthrown.

5 ¶ So the people of Nineveh * [d] beleeved God, and proclaimed a faſt, and put on ſackcloth from the greateſt of them even to the leaſt of them.

6 For word came unto the king of Nineveh, and he aroſe from his throne, and he laid his robe from him, and covered him with ſackcloth, and ſat in ashes.

7 And he cauſed it to be proclaimed, and † published through Nineveh (by the decree of the king and his † nobles) ſaying, Let neither man nor [e] beaſt, herd nor flock taſte any thing; let them not feed, nor drink water.

8 But let man and beaſt be covered with ſackcloth, and [f] crie mightily unto God: yea, let them turn every one from his evil way, and from the violence that is in their hands.

9 * [g] Who can tell if God will turn and repent, and turn away from his fierce anger, that we perish not?

10 ¶ And God ſaw their [h] works, that they turned from their evil way, and [i] God repented of the evil that he had ſaid that he would do unto them, and he did it not.

a This is a great declaration of Gods mercy, that he receiveth him again, and ſendeth him forth as his Prophet, which had before ſhewed ſo great infirmity.

CHAP. IV.

1 Jonah repining at Gods mercy, 4 is reproved by the type of a gourd.

BUT it diſpleaſed [a] Jonah exceedingly, and he was very angry.

2 And he prayed unto the LORD, and ſaid, I pray thee, O LORD, was not this my ſaying, when I was yet in my countrey? Therefore I fled before unto [b] Tarshish: for I knew that thou art a * gracious God and mercifull, ſlow to anger and of great kindneſſe, and repenteſt thee of the evil

3 Therefore now, O LORD, take, I beſeech thee, my life [c] from me; for it is better for me to die than to live.

4 ¶ Then ſaid the LORD. ‡ Doeſt thou well to be [d] angry?

5 So Jonah went out of the city, and ſat on the eaſt-ſide of the city, and there made him a booth, and ſat under it in the ſhadow, [e] till he might ſee what would become of the citie.

6 And the LORD God prepared a † [f] † gourd, and made it to come up over Jonah, that it might be a ſhadow over his head, to deliver him from his grief. So Jonah † was exceeding glad of the gourd.

7 But God prepared a worm when the morning roſe the next day, and it ſmote the gourd that it withered.

8 And it came to paſſe when the ſunne did ariſe, that God prepared a † vehement eaſt-wind; and the ſunne beat upon the head of Jonah, that he fainted, and wished in himſelf to die, and ſaid, It is better for me to die than to live.

9 And God ſaid to Jonah, ‡ Doeſt thou well to be angry for the gourd? and he ſaid, ‡ I do well to be [g] angry even unto death.

10 Then ſaid the LORD, Thou haſt † had pitie on the gourd, for the which thou haſt not laboured, neither madeſt it grow, which † came up in a night, and perished in a night:

11 And ſhould [h] not I ſpare Nineveh that great city, wherein are more than ſix-ſcore thouſand perſons, that [i] cannot diſcern between their right hand and their left hand, and alſo much cattel?

a Becauſe hereby he ſhould be taken as a falſe prophet, and ſo the name of God, which he preached, ſhould be blaſphemed.
b Read chap. 1: 3.
* Exod. 34: 6. Pſal. 86: 5. Joel 2: 13.

c Thus he prayed of grief, fearing leſt Gods name by this forgiveneſs might be blaſphemed, as though he ſent his prophets forth to denounce his judgements in vain.
‡ Or, art thou greatly angry.
d Wilt thou be judge when I do things for my glory, and when I do not?
e For he doubted as yet, whether God would ſhew them mercie or no: and therefore after fortie dayes he departed out of the citie, looking what iſſue God would ſend.
† Or, palmeriſt.
f Which was a further means to cover him from the heat of the ſun, as he remained in his booth. Heb. Kikajon.
† Heb. rejoyced with great joy.
‡ Or, ſilent.
‡ Or, art thou greatly angry?
† Or, I am greatly angry.
g This declareth the great inconveniences whereinto Gods ſervants do fall, when they give place to their own affections, and do not in all things willingly ſubmit themſelves to God.
‡ Or, ſpared.
† Heb. was the ſonne of the night.
h Thus God mercifully reproveth him, which would pitie himſelf, and this gourd, and yet would reſtrain God to ſhew his compaſſion to ſo many thouſand people.
i Meaning, that they were children and infants.

MICAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

Micah the prophet, of the tribe of Judah, served in the work of the Lord concerning Judah and Israel at the least thirty yeares: at what time Isaiah propheſied. He declareth the deſtruction, firſt of the one kingdome, and then of the other, becauſe of their manifold wickedneſſe, but chiefly for their idolatry. And to this end he noteth the wickedneſſe of the people, the cruelty of the princes and governours, and the permiſſion of falſe prophets, and the delighting in them. Then he ſetteth forth the coming of Chriſt, his kingdome, and the felicity thereof. This Prophet was not that Micah, which reſiſted Ahab and all his falſe prophets, as 1 King. 22, 8. but another of the ſame name.

CHAP. I.

1 Micah sheweth the wrath of God againſt Jacob, for idolatrie. 10 He exhorteth to mourning.

THE word of the LORD that came to Micah the [a] Moraſthite in the dayes of Jotham, Ahaz, and Hezekiah, kings of Judah, which he ſaw concerning Samaria and Jeruſalem.

2 †Heare [b] all ye people. * hearken, O earth, and † all that therein is, and let the Lord GOD be witneſſe againſt you, the Lord from his holy temple.

3 For behold, * the LORD cometh forth out of his * place, and will come [c] down, and tread upon the * high places of the earth.

4 And * the mountains ſhall be molten under him, and the valleys ſhall be cleft: as wax before the fire, and as the waters that are poured down † a ſteep place.

5 For the tranſgreſſion of Jacob is all this, and for the ſinnes of the houſe of Iſrael. What is the tranſgreſſion of Jacob? is it not [d] Samaria? and what are the [e] high places of Judah? are they not Jeruſalem?

6 Therefore I will make Samaria as an heap of the field, and as plantings of a vineyard: and I will poure down the ſtones thereof into the valley, and I will diſcover the foundations thereof.

7 And all the graven images thereof ſhall be beaten to pieces, and all the [f] hires thereof ſhall be burnt with the fire, and all the idols thereof will I lay deſolate, for ſhe gathered it of the hire of an harlot, and they ſhall return [g] to the hire of an harlot.

8 Therefore I will wail and howl, I will go ſtript and naked: I will make a wailing like the dragons, and mourning as the † owls.

9 For ‡ her wound is incurable, for it is come unto Judah: he is come unto the gate of my people, even to Jeruſalem.

10 ¶ * Declare ye it not at [h] Gath, weep ye not at all: in the houſe of [i] Aphrah * roll thy ſelf in the duſt.

11 Paſſe ye away, ‡ thou † inhabitant of [k] Saphir, having thy * ſhame naked; the inhabitant of ‡Zaanan came not forth in the mourning of ‡ Beth-ezel, he ſhall [l] receive of you his ſtanding.

12 For the inhabitant of Maroth ‡ waited carefully for good; but evil came down from the LORD unto the [m] gate of Jeruſalem.

13 O thou inhabitant of Lachiſh, binde the chariot to the ſwift [n] beaſt: ſhe is [o] the beginning of the ſinne to the daughter of Zion: for the tranſgreſſions of Iſrael were found in thee.

14 Therefore ſhalt thou give preſents ‡ to Moreſheth-[p] gath: the houſes of ‡Achzib ſhall be a lie to the kings of Iſrael.

15 Yet will I bring an [q] heir unto thee, O inhabitant of Mareſhah: ‡ he ſhall come unto Adullam [r] the glory of Iſrael.

16 Make thee * bald, and poll thee for thy delicate children, enlarge thy baldneſſe as the eagle, for they are gone into captivitie from thee.

3 Who also eat the b flesh of my people, and flay their skin from off them, and they break their bones and chop them in pieces, as for the pot, and as flesh within the cauldron.

4 Then c shall they cry unto the LORD, but he will not heare them: he will even hide his face from them at that time, as they have behaved themselves ill in their doings.

5 ¶ This saith the LORD concerning the prophets that make my people erre, that * d bite with their teeth, and cry, Peace: and he that putteth not into their mouthes, they even prepare warre against him.

6 Therefore e night shall be unto you † that ye shall not have a vision, and it shall be dark unto you, † that ye shall not divine, and the sunne shall go down over the prophets, and the day shall be dark over them.

7 Then shall the seers be ashamed, and the diviners confounded: yea, they shall all f cover their † lips, for there is no answer of God.

8 ¶ But truely I am full g of power by the spirit of the LORD, and of judgement and of might, to declare unto Jacob his transgression, and to Israel his sinne.

f When God shall discover them to the world, they shall be afraid to speak: for all shall know that they were but false prophets, and did belie the word of God.
g The Prophet being assured of his vocation by the Spirit of God, setteth himself alone against all the wicked, shewing how God, both gave him gifts, abilitie and knowledge, to discern between good and evil, and also constancy to reprove the sinnes of the people, and not to flatter them.

9 Heare this, I pray you, ye heads of the house of Jacob, and princes of the house of Israel, that abhorre judgement, and pervert all equitie.

10 They build up Zion with * † h bloud, and Jerusalem with iniquity.

11 The heads thereof judge for reward, and the priests thereof teach for hire, and the prophets thereof divine for money: yet will they i lean upon the LORD † and say, Is not the LORD among us? none evil can come upon us.

BUT * in the a last dayes it shall come to passe, that the mountain of the house of the LORD shall be established in the top of the mountains, and it shall be exalted above the b hills, and people shall flow unto it.

2 And many nations shall come and say, Come and let us go up to the mountain of the LORD, and to the house of the God of Jacob, and he will c teach us of his wayes, and we will walk in his paths: for the law shall go forth of Zion, and the word of the LORD from Jerusalem.

3 ¶ And he will judge among many people, and d rebuke strong nations afarre off, and they shall beat their swords into * plowshares: and their spears into ‡ c pruning-hooks; nation shall not lift up a sword against nation, neither shall they f learn warre any more.

* Exod. 34: 6, 7. s As though he would not ſee it, but wink at it. t Meaning, of his elect.

19 He will turn again, he will have compaſſion upon us: he will ſubdue our iniquities: and thou wilt caſt all [t] their ſinnes into the depths of the ſea.

20 Thou wilt perform the [u] truth to Jacob, and the mercie to Abraham, which thou haſt ſworn unto our fathers from the dayes of old.

u The church is aſſured that God will declare in effect the truth of his mercifull promiſe which he had made of old to Abraham, and to all that ſhould apprehend the promiſe by faith.

NAHUM.

THE ARGUMENT.

AS they of Nineveh ſhewed themſelves prompt and ready to receive the word of God at Jonahs preaching, and ſo turned to the Lord by repentance: ſo after a certain time, rather giving themſelves to worldly meanes to increaſe their dominion, than ſeeking to continue in the feare of God, and trade wherein they had begun, they caſt off the care of religion, and ſo returned to their vomit, and provoked Gods juſt judgement againſt them, in afflicting his people. Therefore their city Nineveh was deſtroyed, and Meroch-baladan king of Babel (or as ſome think Nebuchad-nezzar) enjoyed the empire of the Aſſyrians, But becauſe God hath continuall care of this church, he ſtirreth up his prophet to comfort the godly, ſhewing that the deſtruction of their enemies ſhould be for their conſolation. And as it ſeemeth, he propheſied about the time of Hezekiah, and not in the time of Manaſſeh his ſonne, as the Jews write.

HABAKKUK.

THE ARGUMENT.

THe prophet complaineth unto God, conſidering the great felicity of the wicked, and the miſerable oppreſſion of the godly, which endure all kinde of affliction and cruelty, and yet can ſee none end. Therefore he had this revelation ſhewed him of God, that the Caldeans ſhould come and take them away captives, ſo that they could look for none end of their troubles as yet, becauſe of their ſtubbornneſſe and rebellion againſt the Lord. And leſt the godly ſhould deſpair, ſeeing this horrible confuſion, he comforteth them by this, that God will punish the Caldeans their enemies, when their pride and cruelty ſhall be at height: wherefore he exhorteth the faithfull to patience by his own example, and ſheweth them a form of prayer, wherewith they ſhould comfort themſelves.

CHAP. I.

1 Unto Habakkuk, complaining of the iniquitie of the land, 15 is ſhewed the fearfull vengeance by the Caldeans. 12 He complaineth that vengeance ſhould be executed by them who are farre worſe.

THe burden which Habakkuk the prophet did ſee.

2 O LORD, how long ſhall I crie, and thou wilt not heare! even crie out unto thee [a] of violence, and thou wilt not ſave!

a The prophet complaineth unto God, and bewaileth that among the Jews is left none equity or brotherly love but in ſtead hereof reigneth cruelty, theft, contention, and ſtrife.

3 Why doſt thou ſhew me iniquitie, and cauſe me to behold grievance? for ſpoiling and violence are before me: and there are that raiſe up ſtrife and contention.

4 Therefore the law is ſlacked, and judgement doth never go forth: for the * wicked doth [b] compaſſe about the righteous: therefore ‡ [c] wrong judgement proceedeth.

* Job 21: 7. Jer. 12: 1. b To ſupppres him, if any ſhould ſhew himſelf zealous of Gods cauſe.
‡ Or, wreſted.
c Becauſe the judges which ſhould redreſſe this exceſſe, are as evil as the reſt.

5 ¶ * Behold ye among the heathen, and regard, and wonder marvellouſly: for I will work a work in your dayes, which [d] ye will not beleeve, though it be told you.

* Act. 13: 41.
d As in times paſt you would not beleeve Gods word, ſo ſhall ye not now beleeve the ſtrange plagues which are at hand.

6 For lo, I raiſe up the Caldeans, that bitter and haſtie nation, which ſhall march through the † breadth of the land, to poſſeſſe the dwelling places that are not theirs.

7 They are terrible and dreadfull: ‡ [e] their judgement and their dignitie ſhall proceed of themſelves.

‡ Or, from them ſhall proceed the judgement of theſe and the captivitie of theſe.
e They themſelves ſhall be your judges in this cauſe, and none ſhall have authority over them to controll them.

8 Their horſes alſo are ſwifter than the leopards, and are more † fierce than the * evening wolves: and their horſemen ſhall ſpread themſelves, and their horſemen ſhall come from farre, they ſhall flie as the eagle that haſteth to eat.

* Zeph. 3: 3.

9 They ſhall come all for violence: † their faces ſhall ſup up as the [f] eaſt winde, and they ſhall gather the captivitie [g] as the ſand.

† Heb. the ſupping up of their faces, &c. Or their faces ſhall look toward the eaſt. Heb. the oppoſition of their faces toward the eaſt.
f For the Jews moſt feared this winde, becauſe it deſtroyed their fruits.
g They ſhall be ſo many in number.

10 And they ſhall ſcoff at the kings, and the princes ſhall be a ſcorn unto them: they ſhall deride every ſtrong hold, for they ſhall heap [h] duſt and take it.

h They ſhall caſt up mounts againſt it.

11 Then ſhall his [i] minde change, and he ſhall paſſe over, and offend, imputing this his power unto his god.

i The prophet comforteth the faithfull, that God will alſo deſtroy the Babylonians, becauſe they ſhall abuſe this victory, and become proud and inſolent attributing the praiſe hereof to their idols.

12 ¶ Art thou not from everlaſting, O LORD my God, mine holy one? we ſhall [k] not die: O LORD, thou haſt ordained them for judgement, and O ‡ mightie God, thou haſt ‡ eſtabliſhed them for correction.

2 [b] O LORD, I have heard † thy speech and was afraid: O LORD, ‡ revive thy [c] work in the midst of the yeares, in the midst of the yeares make known; in wrath remember mercie.

3 God came from ‡ [d] Teman, and the holy one from mount Paran. Selah. His glory covered the heavens, and the earth was full of his praise.

4 And his brightnesse was as the light, [e] he had ‡ horns coming out of his hand, and there was the hiding of his power.

5 Before him went the pestilence, and ‡ burning coals went forth at his feet.

6 He stood and measured the earth: he beheld, and drove asunder the nations, and the everlasting mountains were scattered, the perpetuall hills did bowe: his [f] wayes are everlasting.

7 I saw the tents of ‡ Cushan ‡ [g] in affliction: and the curtains of the land of Midian did tremble.

8 Was the LORD displeased against the [h] rivers? was thine anger against the rivers? was thy wrath against the sea, that thou didst ride [i] upon thine horses, and ‡ thy chariots of salvation?

9 Thy [k] bow was made quite naked, according to the [l] oathes of the tribes, even thy word. Selah. ‡ Thou [m] didst cleave the earth with rivers.

ZEPHANIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

SEeing the great rebellion of the people, and that there was now no hope of amendment, he denounceth the great judgement of God, which was at hand, shewing that their country should be utterly deſtroyed, and they carried away captives by the Babylonians. Yet for the comfort of the faithfull, he propheſied of Gods vengeance againſt their enemies, as the Philiſtines, Moabites, Aſſyrians, and others, to aſſure them that God had a continuall care over them. And as the wicked should be punished for their ſinnes and tranſgreſſions, ſo he exhorteth the godly to patience, and to truſt to finde mercy by reaſon of the free promiſe of God made unto Abraham: therefore quietly to abide till God ſhew them the effect of that grace, whereby in the end they ſhould be gathered unto him, and counted as his people and children.

CHAP. I.

Gods ſevere judgement againſt Judah for divers ſinnes.

THe word of the LORD which came unto Zephaniah the ſonne of Cuſhi, the ſonne of Gedaliah, the ſonne of Amariah, the ſon of Hizkiah, in the dayes of Joſiah, the ſon of Amon king of Judah.

2 † I will utterly conſume all things from off † the land, ſaith the LORD.

3 I will conſume man and beaſt: I will conſume the [a] fowls of the heaven, and the fiſhes of the ſea, and the ‡ ſtumbling-blocks with the wicked, and I will cut off man from off the land, ſaith the LORD.

4 I will alſo ſtretch out mine hand upon Judah, and upon all the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and I will cut off the remnant of Baal from this place, and the name of the [b] chemarims with the prieſts:

5 And them that worſhip the hoſt of heaven upon the houſe tops, and them that worſhip, and that ſwear ‡ by the LORD, and that ſwear by [c] Malcham:

6 And them that are turned back from the LORD, and thoſe that have not ſought the LORD, nor enquired for him.

7 Hold thy peace at the preſence of the Lord GOD: for the day of the LORD is at hand: for the LORD hath prepared a ſacrifice, he hath † bid his gueſts.

8 And it ſhall come to paſſe in the day of the LORDS ſacrifice, that I will † puniſh the princes, and the kings children, and all ſuch as are clothed with [d] ſtrange apparell.

9 In the ſame day alſo will I puniſh all thoſe that [e] leap on the threſhold, which fill their maſters houſes with violence and deceit.

10 And it ſhall come to paſſe in that day, ſaith the LORD, that there ſhall be the noiſe of a cry from the [f] fiſh-gate, and an howling from the ſecond, and a great craſhing from the hills.

11 Howl ye inhabitants of [g] Makteſh, for all the merchant people are cut down: all they that bear ſilver are cut off.

12 And it ſhall come to paſſe at that time, that I will ſearch Jeruſalem with [h] candles, and puniſh the men that are † ſetled [i] on their lees; that ſay in their heart, The LORD will not do good, neither will he do evil.

13 Therefore their goods ſhall become a booty, and their houſes a deſolation: they ſhall alſo built houſes, but * not inhabite them; and they ſhall plant vineyards, but not drink the wine thereof.

14 The great day of the LORD is neare, it is neare, and haſteth greatly, even the voice of the day of the LORD: the [k] mighty man ſhall cry there bitterly.

15 That day is a day of * wrath, a day of trouble and diſtreſſe, a day of waſteneſſe and deſolation, a day of darkneſſe and gloomineſſe, a day of clouds and thick darkneſſe, 16 A day of the trumpet and alarm againſt the fenced cities and againſt the high towers.

17 And I will bring diſtreſſe upon men, that they ſhall walk like blinde men, becauſe they GAther [a] your selves together, yea, gather together, O nation ‡ not desired.

a He exhorteth them to repentance and willeth them to descend into themselves, and gather themselves together, lest they be scattered like chaff.

‡ Or, not desirous.

2 Before the decree bring forth, before the day passe as the chaff, before the fierce anger of the LORD come upon you, before the day of the LORDS anger come upon you.

3 Seek ye the LORD, all ye meek of the earth, which [b] have wrought his judgement, seek righteousnesse, seek meekenesse: it may be, ye shall be hid in the day of the LORDS anger.

b That is, which have lived uprightly and godly, according as he prescribeth by his word.

4 ¶ For [c] Gaza shall be forsaken, and Ashkelon a desolation: they shall drive out Ashdod at the noon day, and Ekron shall be rooted up.

c He comforteth the faithful in that, that God would change his punishments from them unto the Philistines their enemies and other nations.

5 Wo unto the inhabitants of the sea-[d] coast, the nation of the Cherethites: the word of the Lord is against you: O Canaan, the land of the Philistines, I will even destroy thee, that there shall be no inhabitant.

d That is, Galilea: by these nations he meaneth the people that dwelt neare to the Jews, and in stead of friendship were their enemies: therefore he calleth them Canaanites whom the Lord appointed to be slain.

6 And the sea-coast shall be dwellings and cottages for shepherds, and folds for flocks.

7 And the coast shall be for the [e] remnant of the house of Judah, they shall feed thereupon, in the houses of Ashkelon shall they lie down in the evening: ‡ for the LORD their God shall visit them, and turn away their captivitie.

HAGGAI.

THE ARGUMENT.

WHen the time of the ſeventy yeares captivity propheſied by Jeremiah, was expired, God raiſed up Haggai, Zechariah, and Malachi to comfort the Jews, and to exhort them to the building of the temple, which was a figure of the ſpirituall temple and church of God, whoſe perfection and excellency ſtood in Chriſt. And becauſe that all were given to their own pleaſures and commodities, he declareth that that plague of famine, which God then ſent among them, was a juſt reward of their ingratitude, in that they contemned Gods honour, who had delivered them. Yet he comforteth them, if they will return to the Lord, with the promiſe of greater felicity, for aſmuch as the Lord will finiſh the work that he hath begun, and ſend Chriſt whom he had promiſed, and by whom they ſhould attain to perfect joy and glory.

CHAP. I.

1 Haggai reproveth the people for neglecting the building of the houſe. 7 He inciteth them to the building. 12 He promiſeth Gods aſſiſtance to them being forward.

IN the ſecond yeare of [a] Darius the king, in the ſixth moneth, in the firſt day of the moneth, came the word of the LORD † by Haggai the prophet unto [b] Zerubbabel the ſonne of Shealtiel, ‡ governour of Judah, and to Joſhua the ſonne of Joſedech the high prieſt, ſaying,

2 Thus ſpeaketh the LORD of hoſts, ſaying, This people ſay, The time is not come, the time that [c] the LORDS houſe ſhould be built.

3 Then came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, ſaying,

4 Is it time for you, O ye, to dwell in your [d] cieled houſes, and this houſe lie waſte?

5 Now therefore, thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, † Conſider your wayes.

6 [e] Ye have * ſown much, and bring in little: ye eat, but ye have not enough: ye drink, but ye are not filled with drink: ye clothe you, but there is none warm, and he that earneth wages, earneth wages to put it into a bag † with holes.

7 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, Conſider your wayes.

8 Go [f] up to the mountain, and bring wood, and build the houſe; and [g] I will take pleaſure in it, and I will [h] be glorified, ſaith the LORD.

9 Ye looked for much, and lo it came to little; and when ye brought it home, I did ‡ blow [i] upon it: why? ſaith the LORD of hoſts; becauſe of mine houſe that is waſte, and ye runne every man unto his own houſe.

10 Therefore * the heaven over you is ſtayed from dew, and the earth is ſtayed from her fruit.

11 And I called for a drought upon the land, and upon the mountains, and upon the corn, and upon the new wine, and upon the oyl, and upon that which the ground bringeth forth, and upon men, and upon cattel, and upon all the labour of the hands.

12 ¶ Then Zerubbabel the ſonne of Shealtiel, and Joſhua the ſonne of Joſedech the high prieſt, with all the remnant of the people obeyed the [k] voice of the LORD their God, and the words of Haggai the prophet, (as the LORD their God had ſent him) and the people did fear before the LORD.

13 Then ſpake Haggai the LORDS meſſenger in the LORDS meſſage unto the people, ſaying, I am with you, ſaith the LORD.

14 And the LORD ſtirred up [l] the ſpirit of Zerubbabel the ſonne of Shealtiel, governour of a Who was the ſon of Hyſtaſpis, and the third king of the Perſians, as ſome think.

† Heb. by the hand of Haggai.
b Becauſe the building of the temple began to ceaſe, by reaſon that the people were diſcouraged by their enemies, and if theſe two notable men had need to be ſtirred up, and admoniſhed of their duties, what ſhall we think of other governours, whoſe doings are either againſt God, or very cold in his cauſe.
‡ Or, captaine.
c Not that they condemned the building thereof, but they preferred policy and private profit to religion, being content with ſmall beginnings.
d Shewing, that they ſought not onely their neceſſities, but their very pleaſures before Gods honour.
† Heb. ſet your heart on your wayes.
† Heb. pierced through.
e Conſider the plagues of God upon you for preferring your policies to his religion, and becauſe ye ſeek not him firſt of all. * Deut. 28: 38. Mich. 6: 14, 15.
f Meaning, that they ſhould leave off their own commodities and go forward in the building of Gods temple, and in the ſetting forth of his religion.
g That is, I will heare your prayers according to my promiſe, 1 King 8. verſ. 21, 29.
h That is, my glory ſhall be ſet forth by you.
‡ Or, blow it away.
i And ſo bring it to nothing.
* Deut. 28: 23.

of Judah, and the ſpirit of Joſhua the ſonne of Joſedech the high prieſt, and the ſpirit of all the remnant of the people, and they came and did work in the houſe of the LORD of hoſts their God, 15 In the foure and twentieth day of the ſixth moneth, in the ſecond yeare of Darius the king.

CHAP. II.

1 He encourageth the people to the work, by promiſe of greater glory to the ſecond temple, than was in the firſt. 10 In the type of holy things and unclean, he ſheweth their ſinnes hindred the work. 20 Gods promiſe to Zerubbabel.

IN the ſeventh moneth, in the one and twentieth day of the moneth, came the word of the LORD † by the prophet Haggai, ſaying, † Heb. by the hand of.

2 Speak now to Zerubbabel the ſonne of Shealtiel governour of Judah, and to Joſhua the ſonne of Joſedech the high prieſt, and to the reſidue of the people; ſaying,

3 Who is left among you that ſaw this [a] houſe in her firſt glory? and how do ye ſee it now? is it not in your eyes in compariſon of it, as nothing?

a For the people according, as Iſa. 32: 11. and Ezek. 41: 1. had propheſied, thought this temple ſhould have been more excellent than Solomons temple which was deſtroyed by the Babylonians, but the ptophets meant the ſpirituall temple, the church of Chriſt.

4 Yet now be ſtrong, O Zerubbabel, ſaith the LORD, and be ſtrong, O Joſhua, ſonne of Joſedech the high prieſt, and be ſtrong all ye people of the land, ſaith the LORD, and [b] work: for I am with you, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, b That is, go forward in building the temple.

5 According to the word that I covenanted with you when ye came out of Egypt, ſo my ſpirit remaineth among you: fear ye not.

6 For thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, * [c] Yet once, it is a little while, and I will ſhake the heavens, and the earth, and the ſea, and the drie land:

* Hebr. 12: 26.
c He exhorteth them to patience, though they ſee not as yet this temple ſo glorious as the prophets had declared: for this ſhould be accomplished in Chriſt, by whom all things ſhould be renewed.

7 And I will ſhake all nations, and [d] the deſire of all nations ſhall come, and I will fill this houſe with glory, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

d Meaning Chriſt, whom all ought to look for & deſire, or by deſire, he may ſignifie all precious things, as riches and ſuch like.

8 The [e] ſilver is mine, and the gold is mine, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

e Therefore when his time cometh, he can make all the treaſures of the world to ſerve his purpoſe: but the glory of this ſecond temple doth not ſtand in materiall things, neither can be built.

9 The glory of this latter houſe ſhall be greater than of the former, ſaith the LORD of hoſts: and in this place will I give [f] peace, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

f Meaning all ſpirituall bleſſings and felicitie purchaſed by Chriſt, Phil. 4: 7.

10 ¶ In the foure and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, in the ſecond yeare of Darius, came the word of the LORD by Haggai the prophet, ſaying,

11 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, Aſk now the prieſts concerning the law, ſaying, 12 If one bear [g] holy fleſh in the skirt of his garment, and with his skirt do touch bread, or pottage, or wine, or oyl, or any meat, ſhall it be holy? and the prieſts anſwered and ſaid, No.

g That is, the fleſh of the ſacrifices, whereby he ſignifieth that that thing which of it ſelf is good, cannot make another thing ſo, and therefore they ought not to juſtifie themſelves by their ſacrifices and ceremonies: but contrary, he that is unclean and not pure of heart, doth corrupt thoſe things, and make them deteſtable unto God, which elſe are good and godly.

13 Then ſaid Haggai, If one that is unclean by a dead body, touch any of theſe, ſhall it be unclean? and the prieſts anſwered and ſaid, It ſhall be unclean.

14 Then anſwered Haggai, and ſaid, So is this people, and ſo is this nation before me, ſaith the LORD, and ſo is every work of their hands, and that which they offer there is unclean.

15 And now, I pray you, conſider from this [h] day and upward, from before a ſtone was laid upon a ſtone in the temple of the LORD.

h Conſider how God did plague you with famine afore you began to build the temple.

16 [i] Since thoſe dayes were, when one came to an heap of twenty meaſures, there were but ten: when one came to the preſſe-fat for to draw out fifty veſſels out of the preſſe; there were but twenty.

i That is, before the building was begun.

17 ¶ I ſmote you * with blaſting, and with mildew, & with hail, in all the labours of your hands, yet ye turned not to me; ſaith the LORD.

* Amos 4: 9.

18 Conſider now from [k] this day, and upward from the foure and twentieth day of the ninth moneth, even from the day that the foundation of the LORDS temple was laid, conſider it.

k From the time they began to build the temple, he promited that God would bleſſe them: and albeit as yet the fruit was not come forth, yet in the gathering they ſhould have plenty.

19 Is the [l] ſeed yet in the barn? yea, as yet the vine, and the fig-tree, and the pomegranate, and the olive-tree hath not brought forth: from this day will I bleſſe you.

l He exhorteth them to patience, and to abide till the harveſt came, and then they ſhould ſee Gods bleſſings.

20 ¶ And again the word of the LORD came unto Haggai in the foure and twentieth day of the moneth, ſaying, 21 Speak to Zerubbabel governour of Judah, ſaying, I [m] will ſhake the heavens and the earth, m I will make a change and renew all things in Chriſt, of whom Zerubbabel here is a figure.

22 And I will overthrow the throne of kingdomes, and I will deſtroy the ſtrength of the [n] kingdomes of the heathen, and I will overthrow the chariots, and thoſe that ride in them, and the horſes and their riders ſhall come down, every one by the ſword of his brother.

n Hereby he ſheweth that there ſhall be no let nor hinderance when God will make this wonderfull reſtitution of his church.

23 In that day, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, will I take thee, O Zerubbabel my ſervant, the ſonne of Shealtiel, ſaith the LORD, and will make thee as a [o] ſignet: for I have choſen thee, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

o Signifying, that his dignity ſhould be moſt excellent, which thing was accompliſhed in Chriſt.

ZECHARIAH.

THE ARGUMENT.

TWo moneths after that Haggai had begun to propheſie, Zechariah was alſo ſent of the Lord to help him in the labour, and to confirm the ſame doctrine. Firſt therefore he putteth them in remembrance, for what cauſe God had ſo ſore punished their fathers: and yet comforteth them, if they will repent unfainedly, and not abuſe this great benefit of God in their deliverance, which was a figure of that true deliverance, that all the faithfull ſhould have from death and ſin by Chriſt. But becauſe they ſtill remained in their wickedneſſe, and coldneſſe to ſet forth Gods glory, and were not yet made better by their long baniſhment, he rebuketh them moſt ſharply: yet for the comfort of the repentant, he ever mixeth the promiſe of grace, that they might by this meanes be prepared to receive Chriſt, in whom all ſhould be ſanctified to the Lord.

CHAP. I.

1 Zechariah exhorteth to repentance. 7 The viſion of the horſes. 12 At the prayer of the angel comfortable promiſes are made to Jeruſalem. 18 The viſion of the foure horns, and the foure carpenters.

IN the eighth moneth, in the ſecond yeare of [a] Darius, came the word of the LORD unto [b] Zechariah, the ſon of Barachiah, the ſon of Iddo the prophet, ſaying,

2 The LORD hath been † [c] ſore diſpleaſed with your fathers.

3 Therefore ſay thou unto them, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, * [d] Turn ye unto me, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, and I will turn unto you, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

4 Be ye not as your fathers, unto whom the former prophets have cried, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, * Turn ye now from your evil wayes, and from your evil doings: but they did not heare, nor hearken unto me, ſaith the LORD.

5 Your fathers, where [e] are they? and the prophets, do they live for ever?

6 But my words and my ſtatutes, which I commanded my ſervants the prophets, did they not ‡ take hold of [f] your fathers? and [g] they returned and ſaid, * Like as the LORD of hoſts thought to do unto us, according to our wayes, and according to our doings, ſo hath he dealt with us.

7 ¶ Upon the foure and twentieth day of the eleventh moneth, which is the moneth [h] Sebat, in the ſecond yeare of Darius, came the word of the LORD unto Zechariah, the ſonne of Barachiah, the ſonne of Iddo the prophet, ſaying,

8 I [i] ſaw by night, and behold, [k] a man riding upon a red horſe, and he ſtood among the myrtle-trees that were in the bottom, and behinde him were there [l] red horſes, ‡ ſpeckled and white.

9 Then ſaid I, O my lord, what are theſe? And the angel that talked with me, ſaid unto me, I will ſhew thee what theſe be.

10 And the man that ſtood among the myrtle-trees anſwered and ſaid, Theſe are they whom the LORD hath ſent to walk to and fro through the earth.

11 And they anſwered the angel of the LORD that ſtood among the myrtle-trees, and ſaid, We have walked to and fro through the earth, and behold, all the earth ſitteth ſtill, and is at reſt.

12 ¶ Then the [m] angel of the LORD anſwered and ſaid, O LORD of hoſts, how long wilt thou not have mercy on Jeruſalem, and on the cities of Judah, againſt which thou haſt had indignation theſe threeſcore and ten yeares?

13 And the LORD anſwered the angel that talked with me, with good words, and comfortable words.

14 So the angel that communed with me ſaid unto me, Crie thou, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, I am * [n] jealous for Jeruſalem, and for Zion with a great jealouſie.

15 And I am very ſore diſpleaſed with the heathen that are at eaſe: for I was but a [o] little diſpleaſed, and they helped forward the affliction.

16 Therefore thus ſaith the LORD, I am returned to Jeruſalem with mercies: my houſe ſhall be built in it, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, and a line [p] ſhall be ſtretched forth upon Jeruſalem.

17 Crie yet, ſaying, Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts. My cities through † proſperitie ſhall yet [q] be ſpread abroad, and the LORD ſhall yet comfort Zion, and ſhall yet chooſe Jeruſalem.

18 ¶ Then lift I up mine eyes, and ſaw, and behold [r] foure horns.

19 And I ſaid unto the angel that talked with me, What be theſe? and he anſwered me, Theſe are the horns which have ſcattered Judah, Iſrael, and Jeruſalem.

[f] These carpenters or smithes are Gods instruments, which with their mallets and hammers break these hard and strong horns which would overthrow the church, and declare that no enemies horn is so strong, but God hath an hammer to break it in pieces.

3 And behold, the angel that talked with me, went forth, and another angel went out to meet him,

4 And said unto him, Run, speak to this [b] young man, saying, [c] Jerusalem shall be inhabited as towns without walls for the multitude of men and cattel therein.

5 For I, saith the LORD, will be unto her a wall of [d] fire round about, and will [e] be the glorie in the midst of her.

6 ¶ Ho, ho, come [f] forth, and flee from the land of the north, saith the LORD: for I have spread you abroad as the foure [g] windes of the heaven, saith the LORD.

3 Now Joshua was clothed with filthy garments, and stood before the angel.

4 And he answered, and spake unto those that stood before him, saying, Take away the [e] filthy garments from him. And unto him he said: Behold, I have [f] caused thine iniquitie to passe from thee, and I will clothe thee with change of raiment.

5 And I said, Let them [g] set a fair mitre upon his head: so they set a fair mitre upon his head, and clothed him with garments, and the angel of the LORD stood by.

6 And the angel of the LORD protested unto Joshua, saying,

1 By the golden candlestick is foreshewed the good successe of Zerubbabels foundation: 11 By the two olive-trees, the two anointed ones.

AND the angel that talked with me, came again and waked me, as a man that is wakened out of his sleep,

2 And said unto me, What seest thou? and I said, I have looked, and behold, a [a] candlestick all of gold, † with a bowl upon the top of it, and his seven lamps thereon, and ‡ seven [b] pipes to the seven lamps, which were upon the top thereof:

a Which was even in the midst of the temple, signifying that the graces of Gods Spirit should shine there in most abundance, and in all perfection.

† Heb. with her bowl. ‡ Or, seven severall pipes to the lamps, &c. b Which conveyed the oil that dropped from the trees into the lamps, so that the light never failed, and this vision was to confirm the faithfull, that God had sufficient power in himself to continue his graces, and to bring his promise to passe, though he had no help of man.

3 And

3 And two olive-trees by it, one upon the right ſide of the bowl, and the other upon the left ſide thereof.

4 So I anſwered and ſpake to the angel that talked with me, ſaying, What are theſe, my lord?

5 Then the angel that talked with me, anſwered, and ſaid unto me, Knoweſt thou not what theſe be? and I ſaid, No, my lord.

6 Then he anſwered and ſpake unto me, ſaying, This is the word of the LORD unto [c] Zerubbabel, ſaying, Not by ‡ might, nor by [d] power, but by my ſpirit, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

7 Who art thou, O [e] great mountain? before Zerubbabel thou ſhalt become a plain, and [f] he ſhall bring forth the head-ſtone thereof with ſhoutings, crying, Grace, grace unto it.

8 Moreover, the word of the LORD came unto me, ſaying,

9 The hands of Zerubbabel have laid the foundation of this houſe, his hands ſhall alſo finiſh it; and [g] thou ſhalt know that the LORD of hoſts, hath ſent me unto you.

10 For who hath deſpiſed the day of [h] ſmall things? ‡ for they ſhall rejoyce, and ſhall ſee the † [i] plummet in the hand of Zerubbabel with [k] thoſe ſeven, they are the eyes of the LORD, which run to and fro through the whole earth.

11 ¶ Then anſwered I and ſaid unto him, What are theſe two olive-trees upon the right ſide of the candleſtick, and upon the left ſide thereof?

12 And I anſwered again, and ſaid unto him, What be thoſe two olive-branches, which † through the two golden pipes ‡ emptie † the golden oyl out of themſelves?

13 And he anſwered me and ſaid, Knoweſt thou not what theſe be? And I ſaid, No, my lord.

14 Then ſaid he, Theſe are the two † [l] anointed ones, that ſtand by the Lord of the whole earth.

c Who was a figure of Chriſt, and therefore this doctrin was directed to all the church, who are his body and members.
‡ Or, army.
d He sheweth that Gods power only is ſufficient to preſerve his church, though he uſe not mans help thereunto.
e He compareth the power of the adverſaries to a great mountain, who thought the Jews nothing in reſpect of them, and would have hindred Zerubbabel, who repreſented Chriſt, whom the enemies daily labour to let in the building of his ſpirituall temple, but all in vain.
f Though the enemies think to ſtay this building, yet Zerubbabel ſhall lay the higheſt ſtone thereof, and bring it to perfection, ſo that all the godly ſhall rejoyce, and pray unto God that he would continue his grace and favour toward the temple.
g Meaning, the propher, that I am Chriſt ſent of my Father for the building and preſervation of my ſpirituall temple.
h Signifying, that all were diſcouraged at the ſmall and poor beginning of the temple.
i Or, ſith the ſeven eyes of the LORD ſhall rejoyce. † Heb. ſtone of tin. i Whereby he ſignifieth the plummet and line, that is, that Zerubbabel which repreſented Chriſt, ſhould go forward with his building, to the joy and comfort of the godly, though the world be againſt him, and though his for a while be diſcouraged, becauſe they ſee not things pleaſant to the eye. k That is, God hath ſeven eyes: meaning, a continuall providence, ſo that neither Satan nor any power in the world can go about to bring any thing to paſſe to hinder his work, chap. 2: 9. † Heb. by the hand. ‡ Or, emptie out of themſelves oil into the gold. ; Heb. the gold. ; Heb. ſonnes of oil. l Which were ever green and full of oil, ſo that ſtill they powred forth oil into the lamps: ſignifying that God will continually maintain and preſerve his church, and endue it ſtill with abundance and perfection of graces.

CHAP. V.

1 By the flying roll, is shewed the curse of theeves and swearers: 5 By a woman pressed in an ephah, the finall damnation of Babylon.

THen I turned, and lift up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, a flying roll.

2 And he ſaid unto me, What ſeeſt thou? and I anſwered, I ſee a flying [a] roll, the length thereof is twenty cubits, and the breadth thereof ten cubits.

3 Then ſaid he unto me, This is the curſe that goeth forth over the face of the whole earth: for ‡every one that [b] ſtealeth, ſhall be cut off as on this [c] ſide, according to it: and every one that [d] ſweareth, ſhall be cut off as on that ſide, according to it.

4 I will bring it forth, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, and it ſhall enter into the houſe of the thief, and into the houſe of him that ſweareth falſly by my name: and it ſhall remain in the midſt of his houſe, and ſhall conſume it, with the timber thereof, and the ſtones thereof.

5 ¶ Then the angel that talked with me, went forth, and ſaid unto me, Lift up now thine eyes, and ſee what is this that goeth forth.

6 And I ſaid, What is it? and he ſaid, This is an [e] ephah that goeth forth. He ſaid moreover, This is their [f] reſemblance through all the earth.

7 And behold, there was lift up a ‡ [g] talent of lead: and this is a [h] woman that ſitteth in the midſt of the ephah.

8 And he ſaid, This is [i] wickedneſſe; and he caſt it into the midſt of the ephah, and he caſt the weight of lead upon the mouth thereof.

9 Then lift I up mine eyes and looked, and behold, there came out two [k] women, and the winde was in their wings, (for they had wings like the wings of a ſtork) and they lift up the ephah between the earth and the heaven.

10 Then ſaid I to the angel that talked with me, Whither do theſe bear the ephah?

11 And he ſaid unto me, [l] To build it an houſe in the land of Shinar, and it ſhall be eſtabliſhed, and ſet there upon her own baſe.

a Becauſe the Jews had provoked Gods plagues by contemning his word, and caſting off all judgements and equitie, he sheweth that Gods curſes written in this book had juſtly light both on them, and their fathers: but now if they would repent, God would ſend the ſame among the Chaldeans their former enemies. ‡ Or, every one of this people that ſtealeth, holdeth himſelf guiltleſſe, as is doth. b That is, uſeth any injurie toward his neighbour. c Meaning, whereſoever he be in the world.

e Which was a meaſure, in drie things containing about ten pottels.
f That is, all the wickedneſſe of the ungodly is in Gods ſight, which he keepeth in a meaſure, and can ſhut it or open it at his pleaſure.
‡ Or, weighty piece.
g To cover the meaſure.
h Which repreſenteth iniquitie, as in the next verſe.
i Signifying, that Satan ſhould not have ſuch power againſt the Jews to tempt them, as he had in time paſt, but that God would ſhut up iniquitie in a meaſure, as in a priſon.
k Which declareth, that God would execute his judgements by the means of weak and infirm means.

1 The viſion of the foure chariots. 9 By the crowns of Joshua, is shewed the temple and kingdome of Christ the Branch.

AND I turned, and lift up mine eyes, and looked, and behold, there came foure [a] chariots out from between two [b] mountains, and the mountains were mountains of braſſe.

2 In the firſt chariot were [c] red horſes, and in the ſecond chariot [d] black horſes,

3 And in the third chariot [e] white horſes, and in the fourth chariot griſled and ‡ [f] bay horſes.

4 Then I anſwered, and ſaid unto the angel that talked with me, What are theſe, my lord?

5 And the angel anſwered and ſaid unto me, Theſe are the [g] foure ‡ ſpirits of the heavens, which go forth from ſtanding before the Lord of all the earth.

6 The black horſes which are therein, go forth into the north countrey, and the white go forth after them; and the griſled go forth toward the [h] ſouth-countrey.

7 And the [i] bay went forth, and ſought to go, that they might walk to and fro through the earth; and he ſaid, Get ye hence, walk to and fro through the earth. So they walked to and fro through the earth.

‡ Or, ſtrong.
f Which ſignified that God would ſometime give his church reſt, and poure his plagues upon their enemies, as he did in deſtroying Nineveh and Babylon, and other their enemies.

9 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto me, saying,

10 Take of them of the captivitie, even of Heldai, of Tobijah, and of Jedaiah, which are come from Babylon, and come thou the same day, and go into the house [l] of Josiah the sonne of Zephaniah;

11 Then take silver and gold, and make crowns, and set them upon the [m] head of Joshua, the sonne of Josedech the high priest.

12 And speak unto him, saying, Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, Behold the man whose name is the * [n] BRANCH, and he shall ‡ grow up [o] out of his place, and he shall [p] build the temple of the LORD:

13 Even he shall build the temple of the LORD, and he shall bear the [q] glorie, and shall sit and rule upon his throne, and he shall be a priest upon his throne, and the counsel of peace shall be between them [r] both.

14 And the crowns shall be to [s] Helem, and to Tobijah, and to Jedaiah, and to [t] Hen the sonne of Zephaniah for a [u] memoriall in the temple of the LORD.

15 And they that are [x] farre off shall come and build in the temple of the LORD, and ye shall know that the LORD of hosts hath sent me unto you. And this shall come to passe, if ye will diligently [y] obey the voice of the LORD your God.

k By punishing the Caldeans, mine anger ceased, and you were delivered.

l To receive of him and the other three, money to make the two crowns: which were men of great authoritie among the Jews, and doubted of the restitution of the kingdome, and of the priest hood, and hurt others by their example.

m Because this could not be attributed to any one according to the law, therefore it followeth that Jehoshua must represent the Messiah, who was both priest and king.

* Chap. 3: 8.

n Meaning Christ, of whom Jehoshua was the figure: for in Greek they were both called Jesus.

‡ Or, branch up from under him.

o That is, of himself without the help of man.

p Which declareth that none could build this temple, whereof Haggai speaketh, but onely Christ: and therefore it was spirituall, and not materiall, Hagg. 2: 10.

q Whereof Jehoshua had but a shadow. r The two offices of the kingdome and priesthood shall be so joyned together, that they shall be no more dissevered.

s Who was also called Heldai. t He was also called Joshia. u That they may acknowledge their infirmitie, which looked that all things should have been restored incontinently: and of this their infidelity these two crowns shall remain as tokens, Acts. 1: 6.

x That is, the Gentiles by the preaching of the gospel shall help toward the building of this spirituall temple.

y If ye will beleeve and remain in the obedience of faith.

CHAP. VII.

1 The captives enquire of fasting. 4 Zechariah reproveth their fasting. 8 Sinne the cause of their captivitie.

AND it came to passe in the fourth yeare of king Darius, that the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah in the fourth day of the ninth moneth, even in [a] Chisleu;

2 When [b] they had sent unto the house of God, Sherezer, and Regem-melech, and their men † to pray before the LORD,

3 And to speak unto the priests which were in the house of the LORD of hosts, and to the prophets, saying, Should I [c] weep in the fifth moneth, [d] separating my self, as I have done these so many [e] yeares?

4 ¶ Then came the word of the LORD of hosts unto me saying,

5 Speak unto all the people of the land, and to the [f] priests, saying, When ye * fasted and mourned in the fifth and seventh moneth, even those seventy yeares, did ye at all fast unto me, [g] even to me?

6 And when ye did eat, and when ye did drink, ‡ did not ye eat [h] for your selves, and drink for your selves?

7 ‡ Should ye not heare the words which the LORD [i] hath cried † by the former prophets, when Jerusalem was inhabited, and in prosperitie, and the cities thereof round about her, when men inhabited the south of the plain?

8 ¶ And the word of the LORD came unto Zechariah, saying,

9 Thus speaketh the LORD of hosts, saying, † [k] Execute true judgement, and shew mercie and compassions every man to his brother.

10 And * oppresse not the widow, nor the fatherlesse, the strangers, nor the poore, and let none of you imagine evil against his brother in your heart.

11 But they refused to hearken, and † [l] pulled away the shoulder, and † stopped their eares, that they should not heare.

12 Yea, they made their hearts as an adamant-stone, lest they should heare the law, and the words which the LORD of hosts hath sent in his [m] spirit † by the former prophets: therefore came a great wrath from the LORD of hosts.

13 Therefore it is come to passe, that, as he cried, and they would not heare; so * they cried, and I would not heare, saith the LORD of hosts.

14 But I scattered them with a whirlwinde among all the nations whom they knew not: thus the land was desolate [n] after them, that no man passed through nor returned: for they laid the † pleasant land [o] desolate.

a Which contained part of November, and part of December.

b That is, the rest of the people that remained yet in Caldea, sent to the church at Jerusalem, for the resolution of these questions, because these feasts were consented upon by the agreement of the whole church, the one in the moneth that the temple was destroyed, and the other when Gedaliah was slain, Jer. 41: 2.

† Heb. to intreat the face of the LORD.

c By weeping and mourning, apear what exercises they used in their fasting.

d That is, prepare my self with all devotion to this fast.

e Which was now since the time the temple was destroyed.

f For there were both of the people and of the priests, which doubted as touching this controversie, besides them that yet remained in Caldea, and reasoned of it, as one of the chief points of their religion.

* Isa. 58: 5.

g For they thought they had deserved toward God, because of this fast, which they invented of themselves: and though fasting of it self be good, yet because they thought it a service toward God, and trusted therein, it is here reproved.

‡ Or, be not ye they that, &c.

h Did ye not eat and drink for your own commoditie and necessitie? and so likewise ye did abstain according to your own fantasies, and not after the prescript of my law.

‡ Or, are not these the words.

i Hereby he condemneth their hypocrisie, which thought by their fasting to please God, and by such things as they invented, and in the mean season would not serve him as he had commanded.

† Heb. by the hand of, &c.

‡ Heb. judge judgement of truth.

k He sheweth that they did not fast with a sincere heart, but for hypocrisie, and that it was not done of a pure religion, because that they lacked these offices of charitie, which should have declared that they were godly, Matth. 23: 23.

* Exod. 22: 21, 22. Isa. 1: 23. Jer. 5: 28.

1 The restauration of Jerusalem. 9 They are encouraged to the building by Gods favour to them. 16 Good works are required of them. 18 Joy and enlargement are promised.

AGAIN the word of the LORD of hosts came to me, saying,

2 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, * I was [a] jealous for Zion, with great jealousie, and I was jealous for her with great fury.

3 Thus saith the LORD, I am returned unto Zion, and will dwell in the midst of Jerusalem, and Jerusalem shall be called a city of [b] truth; and the mountain of the LORD of hosts, the holy mountain.

4 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, There shall yet old [c] men and old women dwell in the streets of Jerusalem, and every man with his staff in his hand † for very age.

5 And the streets of the citie shall be full of boyes and girls playing in the streets thereof.

6 Thus saith the LORD of hosts, If it be ‡ [d] marvellous in the eyes of the remnant of this people in these dayes, should it also be marvellous in mine eyes? saith the LORD of hosts.

* Chap. 1: 14.

a I loved my citie with a singular love, so that I could not abide that any should do her any injurie.

b Because she shall be faithfull and loyall toward me her husband.

c Though their enemies did greatly molest and trouble them, yet God would come and dwell among them, and so preserve them so long as nature would suffer them to live and increase their children in great abundance.

† Heb. for multitude of dayes.

‡ Or, hard, or difficult.

d He sheweth wherein our faith standeth, that is, to beleeve that God can perform that which he hath promised, though it seem, never so impossible to man, Rom. 4: 20. Genes. 18: 14.

7 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, behold, I will ſave my people from the eaſt-countrey, and from † the weſt-countrey,

8 And I will bring them, and they ſhall e dwell in the midſt of Jeruſalem, and they ſhall be my people, and I will be their God in truth and in righteouſneſſe.

9 ¶ Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, Let your f hands be ſtrong, ye that heare in theſe dayes theſe words by the mouth of the prophets, which were in the day that the foundation of the houſe of the LORD of hoſts was laid, that the temple might be built.

10 For before theſe dayes ‡ there was no * hire g for man, nor any hire for beaſt, neither was there any peace to him that went out, or came in, becauſe of the affliction: for I ſet all men, every one againſt his neighbour.

11 But now I will not be unto the reſidue of this people, as in the former dayes, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

12 For the ſeed ſhall be † proſperous, the vine ſhall give her fruit, and the ground ſhall give her increaſe, and the heavens ſhall give their dew, and I will cauſe the remnant of this people to poſſeſſe all theſe things.

13 And it ſhall come to paſſe, that as ye were a curſe among the heathen, O houſe of Judah, and houſe of Iſrael? ſo will I ſave you, and ye ſhall be a bleſſing: fear not, but let your hands be ſtrong.

14 For thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts. As I thought to puniſh h you, when your fathers provoked me to wrath, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, and I repented not;

15 So again have I thought in theſe dayes i to do well unto Jeruſalem, and to the houſe of Judah: fear ye not.

16 ¶ Theſe are the things that ye ſhall do, * Speak ye every man the truth to his neighbour; † execute the judgement of truth and peace in your gates.

17 And let none of you imagine evil in your hearts againſt his neighbour, and love no falſe oath: for all theſe are things that I hate, ſaith the LORD.

18 ¶ And the word of the LORD of hoſts came unto me, ſaying, 19 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, The faſt of the fourth moneth, and the faſt of the fifth, and the faſt of the ſeventh, and the faſt of the k tenth ſhall be to the houſe of Judah joy and gladneſſe, and cheerfull † feaſts, therefore love the truth and peace.

20 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts It ſhall yet come to paſſe, that there ſhall come l people, and the inhabitants of many cities.

21 And the inhabitants of one citie ſhall go to another, ſaying, * Let us go ‡ † ſpeedily † to pray before the LORD, and to ſeek the LORD of hoſts: I will go alſo.

22 Yea, many people and ſtrong nations ſhall come to ſeek the LORD of hoſts in Jeruſalem, and to pray before the LORD.

23 Thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, In thoſe dayes it ſhall come to paſſe, that ten men ſhall take hold out of all languages of the nations, even ſhall take hold of the skirt of him that is a Jew, ſaying, We will go with you; for we have heard that God is with you.

ſonnes, O Zion, againſt thy ſonnes, O Greece, and made thee as the ſword of a mighty man:

14 And the LORD ſhall be ſeen over them, and his arrow ſhall go forth as the lightning: and the Lord GOD ſhall blow the trumpet; and ſhall go with whirlwindes of the ſouth.

15 The LORD of hoſts ſhall defend them, and they ſhall devoure, [z] and ‡ ſubdue with ſlingſtones, and they ſhall drink, and make a noiſe as through wine, and they† ſhall be filled like bowls, and as the corners of the altar.

16 And the LORD their God ſhall ſave them in that day as the flock of his people, for they ſhall be as the [a] ſtones of a crown, lifted up as an enſigne upon his land.

17 For how great is his goodneſſe, and how great is his beauty? corn ſhall make the young men ‡ cheerfull, and new wine the maids.

z He promiſeth that the Jews ſhall deſtroy their enemies, and have abundance and exceſſe of all things, as there is abundance on the altar when the ſacrifice is offered: which things are not to move them to intemperancie, but to ſobrietie, and a thankfull remembrance of Gods great liberality.

‡ Or, ſubdue the ſtones of the ſlings.
‡ Or, ſhall fill both the bowls, &c.

a The faithfull ſhall be preſerved, and reverenced of all, that the very enemies ſhall be compelled to eſteem them: for Gods glory ſhall ſhine in them, as Joſephus declareth of Alexander the great when he met Jadi the high prieſt. ‡ Or, grow, or ſpeak.

CHAP. X.

1 God is to be ſought unto, and not idols. 5 As he viſited his flock for ſinne, ſo he will ſave and reſtore them.

ASk ye of the [a] LORD rain in the time of the latter rain, ſo the LORD ſhall make ‡ bright clouds, and give them showres of rain, to every one graſſe in the field.

2 For [b] the * † idols have ſpoken vanity, and the diviners have ſeen a lie, and have told falſe dreams; they comfort in vain: therefore they [c] went their way as a flock, they † were troubled, becauſe there was no ſhepherd.

3 Mine anger was kindled againſt the ſhepherds, and I † punished the [d] goats: for the LORD of hoſts hath viſited his flock the houſe of Judah, and hath made them as [e] his goodly horſe in the battel.

4 Out [f] of him came forth the corner, out of him the nail, out of him the battel-bow, out of him every [g] oppreſſour together.

5 ¶ And they ſhall be as mighty men, which tread down their enemies in the mire of the ſtreets in the battel, and they ſhall fight, becauſe the LORD is with them, and † the riders on horſes ſhall be confounded.

6 And I will ſtrengthen the houſe of Judah, and I will ſave the houſe [h] of Joſeph, and I will bring them again to place them; for I have mercy upon them: and they ſhall be as though I had not caſt them off: for I am the LORD their God, and will heare them.

7 And they of Ephraim ſhall be like a mighty man, and their heart ſhall rejoyce, as through wine: yea, their children ſhall ſee it, and be glad, their heart ſhall rejoyce in the LORD.

8 I will [i] hiſſe for them, and gather them, for I have redeemed them: and they ſhall increaſe as they have increaſed.

a The prophet reproveth the Jews becauſe by their own infidelitie they put back Gods graces promiſed, and ſo famine came by Gods juſt judgement: therefore to avoid this plague he willeth them to turn to God, and to pray in faith to him, and ſo he will give them abundance.
‡ Or, lightnings.

9 And I will [k] ſow them among the people: and they ſhall remember me in farre countreys, and they ſhall live with their children, and [l] turn again.

10 I will bring them again alſo our of the land of Egypt, and gather them out of Aſſyria, and I will bring them into the land of Gilead and Lebanon, and place ſhall not be found for them.

11 And he [m] ſhall paſſe through the ſea with affliction, and ſhall ſmite the waves in the ſea, and all the deeps of the river ſhall drie up: and the pride of Aſſyria ſhall be brought down, and the ſcepter of Egypt ſhall depart away.

12 And I will ſtrengthen them in the LORD, and they ſhall walk up and down in his name, ſaith the LORD.

k Though they ſhall yet be ſcattered and ſeem to be loſt, yet it ſhall be profitable unto them: for there they ſhall come to the knowledge of my name, which was accompliſhed under the goſpel among whom it was firſt preached.
l Not that they ſhould return into their countrey, but be gathered and joyned in one faith, by the doctrin of the goſpel.
m He alludeth to the deliverance of the people out of Egypt, whereas the angel ſmote the floods and rivers.

1 Jeruſalem a cup of trembling to her ſelf, 3 and a burdenſome ſtone to her adverſaries. 6 The victorious reſtoring of Judah. 9 The repentance of Jeruſalem.

THE burden of the word of the LORD for ª Iſrael, ſaith the LORD, which ſtretcheth forth the heavens, and layeth the foundation of the earth, and formeth the ſpirit of man within him.

ª That is, the ten tribes, which neglected Gods benefits in delivering their brethren, and had rather remain in captivity, than to return home, when God called them.

2 Behold, I will make Jeruſalem a ᵇ cup of ‡ trembling unto all the people round about, ǂ when they ſhall be in the ſiege both againſt Judah, and againſt Jeruſalem.

ᵇ Jeruſalem ſhall be defended againſt all her enemies: ſo ſhall God defend all Judah, and ſhall deſtroy the enemies.
‡ Or, ſlumber, or poiſon.
ǂ Or, and alſo againſt Judah ſhall he be which ſhall be in ſiege againſt Jeruſalem.

3 ¶ And in that day will I make Jeruſalem a burdenſome ſtone for all people; all that burden themſelves with it, ſhall be cut in pieces, though all the people of the earth be gathered together againſt it.

4 In that day, ſaith the LORD, I will ſmite every horſe with aſtoniſhment, and his rider with madneſſe, and I will open mine eyes upon the houſe of Judah, and will ſmite every horſe of the people with blindneſſe.

5 And the governours of Judah ſhall ſay in their heart, ǂ The ᶜ inhabitants of Jeruſalem ſhall be my ſtrength in the LORD of hoſts their God.

ǂ Or, there is ſtrength to me and to the inhabitants, &c.
ᶜ Every captain that had many under him afore, ſhall now think that the ſmall power of Jeruſalem ſhall be ſufficient to defend them againſt all enemies, becauſe the Lord is among them.

6 ¶ In that day will I make the governours of Judah like a hearth of fire among the wood, & like a torch of fire in a ſheaf; and they ſhall devour all the people round about on the right hand and on the left: and Jeruſalem ſhall be inhabited again, in her own place, even in Jeruſalem.

7 The LORD alſo ſhall ſave the ᵈ tents of Judah firſt, that the glory of the houſe of David, and the glory of the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, do not magnifie themſelves againſt Judah.

ᵈ The people which are now as it were diſperſed by the fields, and lie open to their enemies, ſhall be no leſſe preſerved by my power than if they were under their kings, (which is meant by the houſe of David) or in their defenced cities.

8 In that day ſhall the LORD defend the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, and he that is ‡ † feeble among them at that day ſhall be as David; and the houſe of David ſhall be as God, as the angel of the LORD before them.

1 The fountain of purgation for Jeruſalem, 2 from idolatry, and falſe propheſie. 7 The death of Chriſt, and the triall of a third part.

IN that day there ª ſhall be a fountain opened to the houſe of David, and to the inhabitants of Jeruſalem, for ſinne, and for † uncleanneſſe.

8 And it shall come to passe, that in all the land, saith the LORD [k] two parts therein shall be cut off, and die, but the third shall be left therein.

9 And I will bring the third part through the fire, and will * refine them as silver is refined, and will trie them as gold is tried: they shall call on my name, and I will heare them: I will say, It is my people: and they shall say, The LORD is my God.

h Hereby he sheweth, that though their parents and friends dealt more gently with them, and put them not to death, yet they would to punish their children that became false prophets, that the marks and signes should remain for ever.
i The prophet warneth the Jews, that before this great comfort should come under Christ, there should be an horrible dissipation among the people: for their governours and pastours should be destroyed, and the people should be as scattered sheep: and the euangelist applyeth this to Christ, because he was the head of all pastours, Matth. 26: 31. 1 The destroyers of Jerusalem, destroyed. 4 The coming of Christ, and the graces of his kingdome. 12 The plague of Jerusalems enemies. 16 The remnant shall turn to the Lord, 20 and their spoils shall be holy.

BEhold, the day of the LORD cometh, and thy spoil shall be [a] divided in the midst of thee.

2 For I will gather all nations against Jerusalem to battel, and the citie shall be taken, and the houses rifled, and the women ravished, and half of the citie shall go forth into captivitie, and the residue of the people shall not be cut off from the citie.

3 Then shall the LORD go forth, and fight against those nations, as when he [b] fought in the day of battel.

4 ¶ And his feet shall stand in that day upon the [c] mount of Olives, which is before Jerusalem on the east, and the mount of Olives shall cleave in the midst thereof toward the east, and toward the west, and there shall be a very great [d] valley, and half of the mountain shall remove toward the north, and half of it toward the south.

5 And ye shall flee to the [e] valley of ‡ the mountains: † for the valley of the mountains shall reach unto Azal: yea, ye shall flee like as ye fled from before the [f] earthquake in the dayes of Uzziah king of Judah: and the LORD [g] my God shall come, & all the saints with thee.

7 But ‡ it shall be * one day which shall be known to the LORD, [h] not day, nor night: but it shall come to passe that at *evening-time it shall be light.

a He armeth the godly against the great tentations that should come before they enjoyed this prosperous estate, promised under Christ, that when these dangers should come, they might know that they were warned of them before.
b As your fathers and you have had experience, both at the red Sea, and at all other times.
c By this manner of speech the prophet sheweth Gods power and care over his church, and how he will as it were by miracle save it.
d So that out of all the parts of the world, they shall see Jerusalem, which was before hid with this mountain: and this he meaneth of the spirituall Jerusalem, the church.

MALACHI.

THE ARGUMENT.

THis prophet was one of the three, which God raiſed up for the comfort of his church after the captivitie, and after him there was no more untill John baptiſt was ſent, which was either a token of Gods wrath, or an admonition that they ſhould with more fervent deſires look for the coming of Meſſiah. He confirmeth the ſame doctrine, that the two former doe; but chiefly he reproveth the prieſts for their covetouſneſſe, and for that they ſerved God after their own fantaſies, and not according to the preſcript of his word. He alſo noteth certain peculiar ſinnes, which were then among them, as marrying of idolatrous and many wives, murmurings againſt God, impatiencie and ſuch like. Notwithſtanding for the comfort of the godly, he declareth that God would not forget his promiſe made unto their fathers, but would ſend Chriſt his meſſenger, in whom the covenant ſhould be accompliſhed, whoſe coming ſhould be terrible to the wicked, and bring all conſolation and joy unto the godly.

CHAP. I.

1 Malachi complaineth of Iſraels unkindneſſe, 6 of their irreligiouſneſſe, 12 and profaneneſſe.

a Read Iſa. 13: 1.
† Heb. by the hand of Malachi.

THE [a] burden of the word of the LORD to Iſrael † by Malachi.

b Which declareth their great ingratitude that did not acknowledge this love, which was ſo evident, in that he choſe Abraham from out of all the world, and next, choſe Jacob the younger brother, of whom they came, and left Eſau the elder.
* Rom. 9: 13.
c For beſides that the ſignes of my hatred appeared even when he was made ſervant unto his younger brother, being yet in his mothers belly, and alſo afterward in that he was put from his birthright, yet even now before your eyes the ſignes hereof are evident, in that his countrey lyeth waſte, and he ſhall never return to inhabite it, whereas ye my people, whom the enemie hated more than them, are by my grace and love toward you delivered, read Rom. 9. verſ 13.

2 I have loved you, ſaith the LORD: yet ye ſay, [b] Wherein haſt thou loved us, was not Eſau Jacobs brother? ſaith the LORD: yet I * loved Jacob,

3 And I [c] hated Eſau, and laid his mountains, and his heritage waſte, for the dragons of the wilderneſſe.

4 Whereas Edom ſaith, We are impoveriſhed, but we will return and build the deſolate places: thus ſaith the LORD of hoſts, They ſhall build, but I will throw down; and they ſhall call them, The border of wickedneſſe, and the people againſt whom the LORD hath indignation for ever.

5 And your eyes ſhall ſee, and ye ſhall ſay, The LORD will be magnified ‡ † from the border of Iſrael.

‡ Or, upon.
d Beſides the reſt of the people he condemneth the prieſts chiefly, becauſe they ſhould have reproved others for their hypocriſie, and obſtinacy againſt God, and not have hardened them by their example to greater evils.

6 ¶ A ſonne honoureth his father, and a ſervant his maſter: if then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a maſter, where is my fear? ſaith the LORD of hoſts unto you, [d] O prieſts, that deſpiſe my name: and ye ſay, [e] Wherein have we deſpiſed thy name?

e He noteth their groſſe hypocriſie, which would not ſee their faults, but moſt impudently covered them, and ſo were blind guides.

7 ‡ Ye offer [f] polluted bread upon mine altar; and ye ſay, Wherein have we polluted thee? In that ye ſay, The table of the LORD is [g] contemptible.

‡ Or, bring unto, &c.
f Ye receive all manner of offerings for your own greedineſſe, and doe not examine whether they be according to my law or no.
g Not that they ſaid thus, but by their doings they declared no leſſe.

8 And if ye offer the blinde † for ſacrifice, is it not [h] evil? and if ye offer the lame and ſick, is it not evil? offer it now unto thy governour,

h You make it no fault: whereby he condemneth them that think it ſufficient to ſerve God, partly, as he hath commanded, and partly, after mans fantaſie, and ſo come not to that puretie of religion, which he requireth, and therefore in reproach he ſheweth them that a mortall man would not be contented to be ſo ſerved.

will he be pleaſed with thee, or accept thy perſon? ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

9 And now I pray you, [i] beſeech † God that he will be gracious unto us: this hath been † by your means: will he regard your [k] perſons? ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

i He derideth the prieſts, who bare the people in hand that they prayed for them, and ſheweth that they were the occaſion that theſe evils came upon the people.
† Heb. the face of God.
k Will God conſider your office and ſtate, ſeeing you are ſo covetous and wicked?

10 Who is there even among you ‖ that would ſhut the doores for nought? neither do ye kindle fire on mine altar for nought, I have no pleaſure in you, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, neither will I accept an * offering at your hand.

l Becauſe the Levites, who kept the doores, did not trie whether the ſacrifices that came in, were according to the law, God wisheth that they would rather ſhut the doores, than to receive ſuch as were not perfite.
* Iſa. 1: 11. Jer. 6: 20. Amos 5: 21.

11 For from the riſing of the ſunne even unto the going down of the ſame, my name ſhall be [m] great among the Gentiles, and in every place incenſe ſhall be offered unto my name, and a pure offering: for my name ſhall be great among the heathen, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

m God ſheweth that their ingratitude, and neglect of his true ſervice ſhall be the cauſe of the calling of the Gentiles: and here the prophet that was under the law, framed his words to the capacitie of the people, and by the altar and ſacrifice he meaneth the ſpirituall ſervice of God which ſhould be under the goſpel, when an end ſhould be made to all theſe legall ceremonies by Chriſts only ſacrifice.

12 ¶ But ye have profaned it, in that ye ſay, The table of the LORD is [n] polluted, and the fruit thereof, even his meat is contemptible.

n Both the prieſt and the people were infected with this errour, that they paſſed not what they offered: for they thought that God was well content with the lean as with the fat: but in the mean ſeaſon they ſhewed not that obedience to God, which he required, and ſo committed both impiety, and alſo ſhewed their contempt of God, and covetouſneſſe.

13 Ye ſaid alſo, Behold, what a [o] wearineſſe is it, and ‡ ye have ſnuffed at it, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, and ye brought that which was torn, and the lame, and the ſick: thus ye brought an offering: ſhould I accept this of your hands? ſaith the LORD.

o The prieſts and people were both weary with ſerving God, and paſſed not what manner of ſacrifice and ſervice they gave to God, for that which was leaſt profitable, was thought good enough for the Lord.
‡ Or, whereas you might have blown away.

14 But curſed be the deceiver, ‡ which hath in his flock [p] a male, and voweth and ſacrificeth unto the Lord a corrupt thing: for I am a great King, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, and my name is dreadfull among the heathen.

‡ Or, in whoſe flock is.
p That is, hath ability to ſerve the Lord according to his word, and yet will ſerve him according to his covetous minde.

CHAP. II.

1 He ſharply reproveth the prieſts for neglecting their covenant, 11 and the people for idolatry, 14 for adultery. 17 and for infidelity.

a He ſpeaketh unto them chiefly, but under them he containeth the people alſo.

AND now, O ye [a] prieſts, this commandment is for you.

2 If

2 * If ye will not heare, and if ye will not lay it to heart, to give glory [b] unto my name, saith the LORD of hosts, I will even send a curse upon you, and I will curse your [c] blessings yea, I have cursed them already, because ye do not lay it to heart.

3 Behold, I will ‡ corrupt [d] your seed, and † spread dung upon your faces, even the [e] dung of your solemn feasts, and ‡ one shall take you away with it.

4 And ye shall know that I have [f] sent this commandment unto you, that my covenant might be with Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.

5 [g] My covenant was with him of life and peace, and I [h] gave them to him, for the fear wherewith he feared me, and was afraid before [i] my name.

6 The law of [k] truth was in his mouth, and iniquitie was not found in his lips: he walked with me in peace and equity, and did turn many away from iniquitie.

7 For the priests [l] lips should keep knowledge, and they should seek the law at his mouth: for he is the [m] messenger of the LORD of hosts.

8 But ye are departed out of the way: ye have caused many to ‡ stumble at the law: ye have corrupted the covenant of Levi, saith the LORD of hosts.

9 Therefore have I also made you contemptible and base before all the people, according as ye have not kept my wayes, but ‡ † have been partiall in the law.

10 * Have we not all one [n] father? hath not one God created us? why do we deal treacherously every man against his brother, by profaning the covenant of [o] our fathers?

11 ¶ Judah hath dealt treacherously, and an abomination is committed in Israel and in Jerusalem: for Judah hath profaned the holinesse of the LORD which he ‡ loved, and hath married the [p] daughter of a strange god.

12 The LORD will cut off the man that doeth this: ‡ the master and the scholar out of the tabernacles of Jacob, and him that [q] offereth an offering unto the LORD of hosts.

13 And this have ye done again, [r] covering the altar of the LORD with tears, with weeping, and with crying out, insomuch that he regardeth not the offering any more, or receiveth it with good will at your hand.

14 ¶ Yet ye say, [s] Wherefore? Because the LORD hath been witnesse between thee and the wife of thy youth, against whom thou hast dealt treacherously: yet is she thy [t] companion, and the wife of thy [u] covenant.

15 And did not [x] he make one? yet had he the ‡ [y] residue of the spirit: and wherefore one? that he might seek † a godly [z] seed: therefore take heed to your [a] spirit, and let none deal ‡ treacherously against the wife of his youth.

16 For the LORD the God of Israel saith, ‡ that he [b] hateth † putting away: for one covereth [c] violence with his garment, saith the LORD of hosts: therefore take heed to your spirit, that you deal not treacherously.

17 ¶ Ye have [d] wearied the LORD with your words: yet ye say, Wherein have we wearied him? when ye say, Every one that [e] doeth evil, is good in the sight of the LORD, and he delighteth in them; or, [f] Where is the God of judgement?

* Levit 26: 14. &c. Deut. 28: 15. &c. b To serve me according to my word.
c That is, the abundance of Gods benefits.
‡ Or, reprove.
d Your seed sown shall come to no profit.
† Heb. scatter.
e You boast of your holinesse, sacrifices and feasts, but they shall turn to your shame, and be as vile as dung.
‡ Or, it shall take you away to it.
f The priests objected against the prophet that he could not reprove them, but he must speak against the priesthood, and the office established of God by promise, but he sheweth that the office is nothing slandered when these villains and dung are called by their own names.
g He sheweth what were the two conditions of the covenant made with the tribe of Levi: on Gods part, that he would give them long life and felicity, and on their part, that they should faithfully serve him according to his word.
h I prescribed Levi a certain law to serve me.
i He served me and set forth my glory with all humilitie and submission.
k He sheweth that the priests ought to have knowledg to instruct others in the word of the Lord.
l He is as the treasure house of Gods word, and ought to give to every one according to their necessity, and not to reserve it for himself.
m Shewing, that whosoever doeth not declare Gods wil, is not his messenger and priest.
‡ Or, fall in the law.
‡ Or, lifted up the face against.
† Heb. accepted faces.
* Ephes. 4: 6.
n The prophet accuseth the ingratitude of the Jews toward God and man: for seeing they were al born of one father Abraham, and God had elected them to be his holy people, they ought neither to offend God nor their brethren.
o Whereby they had bound themselves to God to be an holy people.
‡ Or, ought to love. p They have joyned themselves in marriage with them that are of another religion. ‡ Or, him that waketh, and him that answereth. q That is, the priests.
r Ye cause the people to lament, because that God doth not regard their sacrifices, so that they seem to sacrifice in vain. s This is another fault, whereof he accuseth them, that is, that they brake the laws of marriage. t As the one half of thy self. u She that was joyned to thee by a solemn covenant, and by the invocation of Gods name. x Did not God make man and woman as one flesh and not many? Or, excellency. y By his power and vertue he could have made many women for one man. † Heb. a seed of God. z Such as should be born in lawfull and moderate marriage, wherein is no excesse of lusts.
a Contain your selves within your bounds, and be sober in minde, and bridle your affections ‡ Or, unfaithfully.
† Or, if he hate her, put her away.
b This sheweth that whatsoever Moses permitted them in this case for the hardnesse of their heart, yet it excused them not before God, but still it was a sin.
† Heb. to put away.
c He thinketh it sufficient to keep his wife still albeit he take others, and so as it were covereth his fault. d Ye murmured against God, because he heard not you assoon as ye called. e In thinking that God favoured the wicked, and had not respect to them that serve him. f Thus they blasphemed God in condemning his power and justice, because he judged not according to their fantasies.

CHAP. III.

1 Of the messenger, majestie, and grace of Christ. 7 of the rebellion, 8 sacriledge 13 and infidelity of the people. 16 The promise of blessing to them that fear God.

BEhold, * I will send my [a] messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me: and [b] the LORD whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple: even the [c] messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in: behold, he shall come, saith the LORD of hosts.

2 But who [d] may abide the day of his coming, and who shall stand when he appeareth? for he is like a refiners fire, and like fullers sope.

3 And he shall sit as a refiner and purifier of silver: and he shall purifie the sonnes [e] of Levi, and purge them as gold and silver, that they may offer unto the LORD an offering in righteousnesse.

4 Then shall the offerings of Judah and Jerusalem be pleasant unto the LORD, as in the dayes of old, and as in ‡ former yeares.

5 And I will come neare to you to judgement, and I will be a swift witnesse against the sorcerers, and against the adulterers, & against false swearers, and against those that † oppresse the hireling in his wages, the widow, and the fatherlesse, and that turn aside the stranger from his right, and fear not me, saith the LORD of hosts.

6 For I am the LORD, I change not: therefore ye sonnes of Jacob [f] are not consumed.

7 ¶ Even from the dayes of your fathers ye are gone away from mine ordinances, and have not kept them: [g] return unto me, and I will return unto you, saith the LORD of hosts: but ye said, Wherein shall we return?

8 ¶ Will a [h] man rob God? yet ye have robbed me: but ye say, Wherein have we robbed thee? [i] In tithes and offerings.

9 Ye are cursed with a curse: for ye have robbed me, even, this whole nation.

10 Bring ye all the tithes into the storehouse, that there may be meat in mine house, and prove me now herewith, saith the LORD of hosts, if I will not open you the * windows of heaven, and † poure you out a blessing, that c That is, Christ by whom the covenant was made and ratified, who is called the angel or messenger of the covenant, because he reconcileth us to his Father: and is Lord or king because he hath the governement of his church.

d He sheweth that the hypocrites, which wish so much for the Lords coming, will not abide, when he draweth neare: for he will consume them, and purge his, and make them clean.
e He beginneth at the priests, that they might be lights and shine unto others.
‡ Or, ancient.
† Or, defraud.
f They murmured against God because they saw not his help ever present to defend them: and therefore he accuseth them of ingratitude, and sheweth that in that they are not daily consumed, it is a token that he doth still defend them: and so his mercy toward them never changeth.

CHAP. IV.

1 Gods judgement on the wicked, 2 and his bleſſing on the good. 4 He exhorteth to the ſtudie of the law, 5 and telleth of Elijahs coming and office.

FOr behold, the day cometh that ſhall [a] burn as an oven, and all the proud, yea, and all that do wickedly ſhall be ſtubble, and the day that cometh ſhall burn them up, ſaith the LORD of hoſts, that it ſhall leave them neither root nor branch.

2 ¶ But unto you that fear my name, ſhall the * [b] ſunne of righteouſneſſe ariſe with healing in his wings; and ye ſhall [c] go forth and grow up as calves of the ſtall.

3 And ye ſhall tread down the wicked; for they ſhall be aſhes under the ſoles of your feet, in the day that I will do this, ſaith the LORD of hoſts.

4 ¶ [d] Remember ye the * law of Moſes my ſervant, which I commanded unto him in Horeb for all Iſrael, with the ſtatutes and judgements.

5 ¶ Behold, I will ſend you * [e] Elijah the prophet, before the coming of the great and [f] dreadfull day of the LORD.

6 And he ſhall [g] turn the heart of the fathers to the children, and the heart of the children to their fathers, leſt I come [h] and ſmite the earth with a curſe.

a He propheſieth of Gods judgements againſt the wicked, who would not receive Chriſt, when as God ſhould ſend him for the reſtauration of his church.
* Luke 1: 78.
b Meaning, Chriſt who with his wings, or beams of his grace ſhould lighten and comfort his church, Epheſ. 5: 14. and he is called the ſunne of righteouſneſſe becauſe in himſelf he hath all perfection, and alſo the juſtice of the Father dwelleth in him, whereby he regenerateth us into righteouſneſſe, cleanſeth us from the filth of this world, and reformeth us to the image of God.
c Ye ſhall be ſet at libertie and increaſe in the joy of the Spirit, 2 Cor. 3: 17.
d Becauſe the time was come that the Jews ſhould be deſtitute of prophets unill the time of Chriſt, becauſe they ſhould with more fervent minds deſire his coming, the prophet exhorteth them to exerciſe themſelves diligently in ſtudying the law of Moſes in mean ſeaſon, whereby they might continue in the true religion, and alſo be armed againſt all tentations.
* Exod. 20: 3. * Mark. 9. verſ. 11. Luke 1: 17.
e This Chriſt expoundeth of John Baptiſt, Matth. 11: 13, 14. who both for his zeal, and reſtoring of religion, is aptly compared to Elijah.
f Which as it is true for the wicked, ſo doth it waken the godly, and call them to repentance.
g He ſheweth wherein Johns office ſhould ſtand: in the turning of men to God, and joyning of the fathers and children in one unitie of faith: ſo that the father ſhall turn to the religion of his ſon, which is converted unto Chriſt, and the ſonne ſhall embrace the faith of the true fathers, Abraham, Iſaac and Jacob.
h The ſecond point of his office was to denounce Gods judgements againſt them that would not receive Chriſt.

The end of the prophets.

2 Christ the true Emmanuel, and therefore Jesus, (that is, Saviour) is conceived in the virgin by the holy Ghost, as it was foretold by the prophets.

17 So e all the generations from Abraham to David, are fourteen generations: and from David untill the carrying away into Babylon, are fourteen generations: and from the carrying away into Babylon unto Christ, are fourteen generations.

18 ¶ Now the * birth of 2 Jesus Christ was on this wise: When as his mother Mary was espoused to Joseph (before they came together) she was found with childe of the holy Ghost.

19 Then Joseph her husband being a just man, and not willing to make her a publick example, was minded to put her away privily.

20 But while he thought on these things, behold, the angel of the Lord appeared unto him in a dream, saying, Joseph thou sonne of David, fear not to f take unto thee Mary thy g wife: for that which is h conceived in her, is of the holy Ghost.

21 * And she shall 3 bring forth a sonne, and thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall i save his people from their sinnes.

22 (Now all this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying,

23 * Behold, a k virgin shall be with childe, and shall bring forth a sonne, and ‡ they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted, is, God with us)

24 Then Joseph being raised from sleep, did as the angel of the Lord had bidden him, and took unto him his wife:

3 When Herod the king had heard these things, he was c troubled, and all Jerusalem with him.

4 And when he had gathered all the d chief priests and e Scribes of the people together, he demanded of them where Christ should be born.

5 And they said unto him, In Bethlehem of Judea: for thus it is written by the prophet;

8 And he sent them to Bethlehem, and said, Go, and search diligently for the young childe, and when ye have found him, bring me word again, that I may come and worship him also.

9 When they had heard the king, they departed, and lo, the starre which they saw in the east, went before them, till it came and stood over where the young childe was.

10 When they saw the starre, they rejoyced with exceeding great joy.

11 ¶ And when they were come into the house, they saw the young childe with Marie his mother, and [h] fell down, and worshipped him: and when they had opened their [i] treasures, they ‡ presented unto him gifts; gold, and frankincense, and myrrhe.

12 And being [k] warned of God in a dream, that they should not return to Herod, they departed into their own countrey another way.

13 And [2] when they were departed, behold, the angel of the Lord appeareth to Joseph in a dream, saying, Arise, & take the young childe, and his mother, and flee into Egypt, and be thou there untill I bring thee word: for Herod will seek the young childe to destroy him.

14 When he arose, he took the young childe & his mother by night, & departed into Egypt:

15 And was there untill the death of Herod: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken of the Lord by the prophet, saying, * Out of Egypt have I called my sonne.

16 ¶ Then Herod when he saw that he was mocked of the wise men, was exceeding wroth, and sent forth, and slew all the children that were in Bethlehem, and in all the coasts thereof, from two yeares old and under, according to the time which he had diligently enquired of the wise men.

17 Then was fulfilled that which was [l] spoken by * Jeremie the prophet, saying, 18 In Rama was there [m] a voice heard, lamentation and weeping, and great mourning, [n] Rachel weeping for her children, and would not be comforted, because they are not.

21 And he arose, and took the young childe and his mother, and came into the land of Israel.

22 But when he heard that Archelaus did reigne in Judea, in the room of his father Herod, he was afraid to go thither: notwithstanding, being warned of God in a dream, he turned aside into the parts of Galilee:

CHAP. III.

1 John preacheth, his office, life, and baptisme, 7 He reprehendeth the Pharisees, 13 and baptizeth Christ in Jordan.

IN [a] those dayes came * [1] John the Baptist, preaching in the [b] wildernesse of Judea,

2 And saying, [c] Repent ye: for the [d] kingdome of heaven is at hand.

3 For this is he that was spoken of by the prophet Esaias, saying, * The voice of one crying in the wildernesse, Prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths [e] straight.

4 And the same John had his raiment of camels hair, and a leathern girdle about his loyns, & his meat was [f] locusts and wilde hony.

5 Then went out to him [g] Jerusalem and all Judea, and all the region round about Jordan,

6 And were baptized of him in Jordan, [h] confessing their sinnes.

7 ¶ [2] But when he saw many of the Pharisees and Sadduces come to his baptisme, he said unto them, * O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

8 [3] Bring forth therefore fruits † meet for repentance.

9 [4] And [i] think not to say [k] within your selves, * We have Abraham to our father: for I say unto you, that God is able of these stones to raise up children unto Abraham.

10 And now also the ax is laid unto the root of the trees: * therefore every tree which bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire.

11 * [5] I indeed baptize you with water unto [l] repentance; but he that cometh after me, is mightier than I, whose shoes I am not worthy to bear: he shall baptize you with the holy Ghost, and with fire.

12 [6] Whose fanne is in his hand, and he will throughly [m] purge his floore, and gather his wheat into the garner: but he will burn up the chaff with unquenchable fire.

13 ¶ * [7] Then cometh Jesus from Galilee to Jordan unto John, to be baptized of him.

14 But John forbad him, saying, I have need to be baptized of thee, & comest thou to me?

15 And Jesus answering, said unto him, Suffer it to be so now: for thus it becometh us to fulfill [n] all righteousnesse. Then he suffered him.

16 And Jesus when he was baptized, went up straightway out of the water: and lo, the heavens were opened unto [o] him, and he saw the Spirit of God descending like a dove, and lighting upon him.

17 [8] And lo, a voice from heaven, saying, This is my beloved Sonne, in whom I am [p] well pleased.

a Not when Joseph went to dwell at Nazareth, but a great while after, about the space of five and twenty yeares: for in the thirtieth yeare of his age was Jesus baptized of John: therefore by those dayes is meant, at that time that Jesus remained as yet an inhabitant of the town of Nazareth.

CHAP. IIII.

1 Christ fasteth, and is tempted. 11 The angels minister unto him. 13 He dwelleth in Capernaum, 17 beginneth to preach, 18 calleth Peter and Andrew, 21 James and John, 23 and healeth all the diseased.

THen was * Jesus led up of the Spirit into the wilderneſſe, to be [1] tempted of the devil.

2 And when he had faſted [a] fourty dayes and fourty nights, he was afterward an hungred.

3 And when the tempter came to him, he ſaid, If thou be the ſonne of God, command that theſe ſtones be made bread.

4 But he anſwered and ſaid, It is written, * Man ſhall not live by bread alone, but by every word that proceedeth out of the mouth of God.

5 Then the devil taketh him up into the holy city, and ſetteth him on a [b] pinnacle of the temple.

6 And ſaith unto him, If thou be the ſonne of God caſt thy ſelf down: for it is written, * He ſhall give his angels charge concerning thee, and in their hands they ſhall bear thee up, leſt at any time thou daſh thy foot againſt a ſtone.

7 Jeſus ſaid unto him, It is written again, * Thou ſhalt not [c] tempt the Lord thy God.

8 Again, the devil taketh him up into an exceeding high mountain, and ſhewed him all the kingdomes of the world, and the glory of them:

9 And ſaith unto him, All theſe things will I give thee, if thou wilt fall down and worſhip me.

10 Then ſaith Jeſus unto him, Get thee hence, Satan: for it is written, * Thou ſhalt worſhip the Lord thy God, and him onely ſhalt thou ſerve.

11 [2] Then the devil leaveth him, and behold, angels came and miniſtred unto him.

12 ¶ * Now when Jeſus had heard that John was [3] caſt into priſon, he departed into Galilee.

13 And leaving Nazareth, he came and dwelt in [d] Capernaum, which is upon the ſea-coaſt, in the borders of Zabulon and Nephthali:

14 That it might be fulfilled which was ſpoken by Eſaias the prophet, ſaying,

15 * The land of Zabulon, and the land of Nephthali, by the way of the [e] ſea beyond Jordan, Galilee of the [f] Gentiles:

16 The people which ſat in darkneſſe, ſaw great light: and to them which ſat in the region and ſhadow of death, light is ſprung up.

17 ¶ * From that time Jeſus began to preach, and to ſay, Repent, for the kingdome of heaven is [g] at hand.

18 ¶ * [3] And Jeſus walking by the ſea of Galilee, ſaw two brethren, Simon, called Peter, and Andrew his brother, caſting a net into the ſea: (for they were fiſhers)

19 And he ſaith unto them, Follow me, and I will make you fiſhers of men.

20 And they ſtraightway left their nets, and followed him.

21 And going on from thence, he ſaw other two brethren, James the ſonne of Zebedee, and John his brother, in a ſhip with Zebedee their father, mending their nets: and he called them.

22 And they immediately left the ſhip and their father, and followed him.

23 ¶ * And Jeſus went about all Galilee teaching in [h] their [i] ſynagogues, and preaching the goſpel of the [k] kingdome, and healing all [l] manner of ſickneſſe, and all manner of [m] diſeaſe among the people.

24 And his fame went throughout all Syria: and they brought unto him all ſick people that were taken with divers diſeaſes, and [n] torments, and thoſe which were poſſeſſed with devils, and thoſe which were [o] lunatick, and thoſe that had the [p] palſie, and he healed them.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ beginneth his ſermon in the mount: 3 declaring who are bleſſed, 13 who are the ſalt of the earth, 14 the light of the world, the city on an hill, 15 the candle: 17 that he came to fulfill the law. 21 What it is to kill, 27 to commit adultery, 33 to ſwear: 38 exhorteth to ſuffer wrong, 44 to love even our enemies, 48 and to labour after perfectneſſe.

ANd ſeeing the multitudes, he went up into a mountain: and when he was ſet, his diſciples came unto him.

2 [1] And he opened his mouth, and taught them, ſaying,

3 * Bleſſed are the [a] poore in [b] ſpirit: for theirs is the kingdome of heaven.

4 Bleſſed are they that mourn: for they ſhall be comforted.

5 * Bleſſed are the meek: for they ſhall inherit the earth.

6 Bleſſed are they which do hunger and thirſt after righteouſneſſe: * for they ſhall be filled.

7 Bleſſed are the mercifull: for they ſhall obtain mercy.

8 * Bleſſed are the [c] pure in heart: for they ſhall ſee God.

9 Bleſſed are the peace-makers: for they ſhall be called the children of God.

10 * Bleſſed are they which are perſecuted for righteouſneſſe ſake: for theirs is the kingdome of heaven.

11 Bleſſed are ye when men ſhall revile you, and perſecute you, and ſhall ſay all manner of * evil againſt you † falſely for my ſake.

12 Rejoyce, and be exceeding glad: for great is your reward in heaven: for ſo perſecuted they the prophets which were before you.

13 ¶ [2] Ye are the ſalt of the [d] earth: * but if the ſalt have loſt his ſavour, wherewith ſhall it be [e] ſalted? it is thenceforth good for nothing, but to be caſt out, and to be troden under foot of men.

1 Chriſt teacheth that the greateſt joy and felicitie is not in the commodities, and pleaſures of this life, but is laid up in heaven for them that willingly reſt in the good will and pleaſure of God, and endeavour to profit all men, although they be cruelly vexed and troubled of the wordlings, becauſe they will not faſhion themſelves to their manners.

14 Ye are the f light of the world. A city that is set on an hill, cannot be hid.

15 Neither do men * light a candle, and put it under ‡ a bushel: but on a candlestick, and it giveth light unto all that are in the house.

16 Let your light so shine before men, * that they may see your good works, and glorifie your Father which is in heaven.

17 ¶ 3 Think not that I am come to destroy the law or the prophets: I am not come to destroy, but to g fulfill.

18 For verily I say unto you, * Till heaven and earth passe, one jot or one tittle shall in no wise passe from the law, till all be fulfilled.

19 * 4 Whosoever therefore shall break one of these least commandments, and shall teach men so, he shall be called the h least in the kingdome of heaven: but whosoever shall do, and teach them, the same shall be called great in the kingdome of heaven.

20 For I say unto you, That except your righteousnesse shall exceed the righteousnesse of the Scribes and Pharisees, ye shall in no case enter into the kingdome of heaven.

21 ¶ 5 Ye have heard, that it was said ‡ by them of old time, * Thou shalt not kill: and whosoever shall kill, shall be in danger of the judgement.

22 But I say unto you, that whosoever is angry with his brother without a cause, shall be in i danger of the k judgement: and whosoever shall say to his brother, Racha, shall be in danger of the l counsel: but whosoever shall say, Thou fool, shall be in danger of m hell n fire.

23 6 Therefore, if thou bring thy gift to the o altar; and there remembrest that thy brother hath ought against thee;

24 Leave there thy gift before the altar, and go thy way, first be reconciled to thy brother, and then come and offer thy gift.

25 * p Agree with thine adversary quickly, whiles thou art in the way with him: lest at any time the adversary deliver thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the officer, and thou be cast into prison.

26 Verily, I say unto thee, thou shalt by no means come out thence, till thou hast q paid the uttermost farthing.

27 ¶ 7 Ye have heard that it was said by them of old time, * Thou shalt not commit adultery.

28 But I say unto you, that whosoever looketh on a woman to lust after her, hath committed adultery with her already in his heart.

29 * And if thy r right eye f offend thee, pluck it out, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

30 And if thy right hand offend thee, cut it off, and cast it from thee: for it is profitable for thee that one of thy members should perish, and not that thy whole body should be cast into hell.

31 It hath been said, * Whosoever shall put away his wife, let him give her a writing of divorcement.

32 But I say unto you, that * whosoever shall put away his wife, saving for the cause of fornication, causeth her to commit adultery: and whosoever shall marry her that is divorced, committeth adultery.

33 ¶ 8 Again, ye have heard that it hath been said by them of old time, * Thou shalt not forswear thy self, but shalt perform unto the Lord thine oathes.

34 But I say unto you, Swear not at all, neither by heaven, for it is Gods throne:

35 Nor by the earth, for it is his footstool: neither by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King.

36 Neither shalt thou swear by thy head, because thou canst not make one hair white or black.

37 * But let your communication be, t Yea, yea; Nay, nay: for whatsoever is more than these, cometh of u evil.

38 ¶ 9 Ye have heard that it hath been said, * An eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth.

39 But I say unto you, * that ye resist not evil: but whosoever shall smite thee on thy right cheek, turn to him the other also.

40 And if any man will sue thee at the law, and take away thy coat, let him have thy cloak also.

41 And whosoever shall compell thee to go a mile, go with him twain.

42 Give to him that asketh thee, and * from him that would borrow of thee, turn not thou away.

43 ¶ Ye have heard that it hath been said, * Thou shalt love thy neighbour, and hate thine enemie:

44 But I say unto you, * Love your enemies, blesse them that curse you, do good to them that hate you, and pray * for them which despitefully use you, and persecute you:

45 10 That ye may be the children of your Father which is in heaven, for he maketh his sunne to rise on the evil and on the good, and sendeth rain on the just and on the unjust.

46 * For if ye love them which love you, what reward have ye? do not even the publicanes the same?

47 And if ye salute your brethren onely, what do you more than others? do not even the x publicanes so?

48 Be ye therefore perfect, even as your Father which is in heaven is perfect.

m Whereas we reade here, Hell, it is in the text it self, Gehenna, which is an Hebrew word made of two, and is as much to say, as the valley of Hinnon, which otherwise the Hebrews called Topheth: it was a place where the Israelites were wont most cruely to sacrifice their children to false gods, whereupon it was taken for a place appointed to torment the reprobates in, Jerem. 7, 31.
n The Jewes used foure kinds of punishments, before their government was taken away by Herod, hanging, beheading, stoning and burning: this is it that Christ shot at, because burning was the greatest punishment, therefore in that he maketh mention of a judgement, a councell, and a fire, he sheweth that some sinnes are worse than other some, but yet they are all such that we must give an account for them, and shall be punished for them.
6 The covetous Pharisees taught that God was appeased by the sacrifices appointed in the Law, which they themselves devoured. But Christ on the contrary side denieth, that God accepteth any mans offering, unlesse he maketh satisfaction to his brother whom he hath offended: and saith moreover, that these stubborn and stiffenecked despisers of their brethren, shall never escape the wrath & curse of God, before they have made full satisfaction to their brethren.
o He applyeth all this speech, to the state of his time, when as there was an altar standing in Jerusalem: and therefore they are very foolish, that gather hereupon, that we must build Altars & use sacrifices: but they are more fooles, which draw that to purgatorie, which is spoken of peace-making & atonement one with another.

9 He sheweth clean contrary to the doctrine of the Scribes, that the summe of the second table must be so understood, that we may in no wise render evil for evil, but rather suffer double injurie and do well to them that are our deadly enemies.

Chap. VI.

1 Chriſt continueth his ſermon in the mount, ſpeaking of almes, 5 prayer, 14 forgiving our brethren, 16 faſting, 19 where our treaſure is to be laid up, 24 of ſerving God and mammon: 25 exhorteth not to be carefull for worldly things; 33 but to ſeek Gods kingdome.

1 Ambition maketh almes vain.

TAke heed that ye do not your [1] almes before men, to be ſeen of them: otherwiſe ye have no [a] reward ‡ of your Father which is in heaven.

2 Therefore, * when thou doeſt thine almes, ‡ do not ſound a trumpet before thee, as the [b] hypocrites do, in the ſynagogues, and in the ſtreets, that they may have glorie of men. Verily, I ſay unto you, they have their reward.

3 But when thou doſt almes, let not thy left hand know what thy right hand doth:

4 That thine almes may be in ſecret: and thy Father which ſeeth in ſecret, himſelf ſhall reward thee openly.

5 ¶ [2] And when thou prayeſt, thou ſhalt not be as the hypocrites are: for they love to pray ſtanding in the ſynagogues, and in the corners of the ſtreets, that they may be ſeen of men. Verily, I ſay unto you, they have their reward.

6 But thou, when thou prayeſt, enter into thy cloſet, and when thou haſt ſhut thy doore, pray to thy Father which is in ſecret, and thy Father which ſeeth in ſecret, ſhall reward thee openly.

c Long prayers are not condemned, but vain needleſſe, and ſuperſtitious.

7 But when ye pray, uſe not [c] vain * repetitions, as the heathen do: for they think that they ſhall be heard for their much ſpeaking.

* Eccius 7, 14.

8 Be not ye therefore like unto them: for your Father knoweth what things ye have need of before ye ask him.

3 A true ſumme and form of all Chriſtian prayers.

9 [3] After this manner therefore pray ye: * Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.

* Luke 11, 2.

10 Thy kingdome come. Thy will be done in earth as it is in heaven.

11 Give us this day our [d] daily bread.

d That that is meet for our nature for our daily food, or ſuch as may ſuffice our nature and complexion.

12 And forgive us our debts, as we forgive our debters.

13 And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from [e] evil: For thine is the kingdome, and the power and the glorie, for ever. Amen.

e From the devill: or from all adverſity.

* Mark 11, 25.

4 They that forgive wrongs, to them their ſinnes are forgiven, but revenge is prepared for them that revenge.

14 * [4] For, if ye forgive men their treſpaſſes, your heavenly Father will alſo forgive you.

15 But if ye forgive not men their treſpaſſes, neither will your Father forgive your treſpaſſes.

5 Againſt ſuch as hunt after a name of holines by faſting.

16 ¶ [5] Moreover, when ye faſt, be not as the hypocrites, of a ſad countenance: for they [f] dis-figure their faces, that they may appeare unto men to faſt. Verily, I ſay unto you, they have their reward.

f They ſuffer not their firſt hue to be ſeen, that is to ſay, they marre the naturall colour of their faces that they may ſeem lean and palefaced.

17 But thou, when thou faſteſt, anoint thine head, and waſh thy face:

18 That thou appeare not unto men to faſt, but unto thy father which is in ſecret: and thy Father which ſeeth in ſecret, ſhall reward thee openly.

6 Thoſe mens labours are ſhewed to be vain, which care not for the aſſured treaſure of everlaſting life, but ſpend their lives in ſcraping together frail and vain riches.

19 ¶ [6] Lay not up for your ſelves treaſures upon earth, where moth and ruſt doth corrupt, and where theeves break through & ſteal.

7

20 * But lay up for your ſelves treaſures in heaven, where neither moth nor ruſt doth corrupt, and where theeves do not break through nor ſteal.

* Luke 12, 33. 1 Tim. 6, 19.

21 For where your treaſure is, there will your heart be alſo.

22 * [7] The light of the bodie is the eye: if therefore thine eye be [g] ſingle, thy whole bodie ſhall be full of light.

* Luke 11, 34.

7 Men do maliciouſly and wickedly put out even the little light of nature that is in them.

g The judgement of the minde: that as the body is with the eyes, ſo our whole life may be ruled with right reaſon; that is to ſay, with the ſpirit of God wherewith we are lightned.

23 But if thine eye be evil, thy whole bodie ſhall be full of darkneſſe, If therefore the light that is in thee be darkneſſe, how great is that darkneſſe!

* Luke 16, 13.

8 God will be worſhipped of the whole man.

h Which be at jarre together, for if two agree, they are as one.

i This word is a Syrian word, and ſignifieth all things that belong to money.

9 The froward carking carefulnes for things of this life, is corrected in the children of God by an earneſt thinking upon the providence of God.

* Pſal. 55, 22. Luke 12, 22. 1 Pet. 5, 7.

25 [9] Therefore I ſay unto you, * Take no thought for your life, what ye ſhall eat, or what ye ſhall drink; nor yet for your bodie what ye ſhall put on: Is not the life more than meat, and the bodie than raiment?

k Or, that live in the aire: for in all tongues almoſt this word heaven, is taken for the air.

26 Behold the fowls of the [k] aire: for they ſow not, neither do they reap, nor gather into barns; yet your heavenly Father feedeth them. Are ye not much better than they?

l He ſpeaketh of care which is joyned with thought of minde, and hath, for the moſt part, diſtruſt yoked with it.

27 Which of you by [l] taking thought can adde one cubit unto his ſtature?

m By labour.

28 And why take ye thought for raiment? Conſider the lilies of the field how they grow; they [m] toil not, neither do they ſpinne.

29 And yet I ſay unto you, that even Solomon in all his glorie, was not arayed like one of theſe.

30 Wherefore if God ſo clothe the graſſe of the field, which to day is, and to morrow is caſt into the oven, ſhall he not much more clothe you, O ye of little faith?

31 Therefore take no thought, ſaying, What ſhall we eat? or what ſhall we drink? or wherewithall ſhall we be clothed?

32 (For after all theſe things do the Gentiles ſeek) for your heavenly Father knoweth that ye have need of all theſe things.

33 But ſeek ye firſt the kingdome of God, and his righteouſneſſe, and all theſe things ſhall be added unto you.

34 Take therefore no thought for the morrow: for the morrow ſhall take thought for the things of it ſelf: ſufficient unto the day is the evil thereof.

Chap. VII.

1 Chriſt ending his ſermon in the mount, reproveth rash judgment, 6 forbiddeth to caſt holy things to dogs, 7 exhorteth to prayer, 13 to enter in at the ſtrait gate, 15 to beware of falſe prophets. 21 not to be hearers, but doers of the word: 24 like houſes builded on a rock, 26 and not on the ſand.

* Luke 6, 37. Rom. 2, 1.

1 We ought to finde fault one with another, but we muſt beware we do it not without cauſe, or to ſeem holier than

* JUdge [1] not, that ye be not judged.

2 For with what judgement ye judge, ye ſhall be judged: * and with what meaſure ye mete, it ſhall be meaſured to you again.

3 * And why beholdeſt thou the mote that they, or in hatred of them. * Mark 4, 24. Luke 6, 38. * Luke 6, 41.

8 is in thy brothers eye, but considerest not the beam that is in thine own eye?

4 Or how wilt thou say to thy brother, Let me pull out the mote out of thine eye; and behold, a beam is in thine own eye?

5 Thou hypocrite, first cast out the beam out of thine own eye; and then shalt thou see clearly to cast out the mote out of thy brothers eye.

6 ¶ [2] Give not that which is holy unto the dogs, neither cast ye your [a] pearls before swine, lest they trample them under their feet, and turn again and rent you.

7 ¶ * [3] Ask, and it shall be given you: seek, and ye shall finde: knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

8 For every one that asketh, receiveth: and he that seeketh, findeth: and to him that knocketh, it shall be opened.

9 Or what man is there of you, whom if his sonne ask bread, will he give him a stone?

10 Or if he ask a fish, will he give him a serpent?

11 If ye then being evil, know how to give good gifts unto your children, how much more shall your Father which is in heaven give good things to them that ask him?

12 [4] Therefore all things * whatsoever ye would that men should do to you, do ye even so to them: for this is the [b] law & the prophets.

13 ¶ * [5] Enter ye in at the strait gate; for wide is the gate, and broad is the way that leadeth to destruction, and many there be which go in thereat:

14 ‡ Because [c] strait is the gate, and narrow is the way which leadeth unto life, and few there be that finde it.

15 ¶ [6] Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheeps clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves.

16 Ye shall know them by their fruits; * Do men gather grapes of thorns, or figs of thistles?

17 Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit: but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit.

18 A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit: neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit.

19 * Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit, is hewen down and cast into the fire.

20 Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them.

21 ¶ [7] Not every one that saith unto me, * Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdome of heaven: but he that doth the will of my Father which is in heaven.

22 Many will say to me in that day, Lord, Lord, have we not prophesied in thy [d] name? and in thy name have cast out devils? and in thy name done many [e] wonderfull works?

23 And then will I professe unto them, * I [f] never knew you: * depart from me [g] ye that work iniquitie.

24 ¶ * Therefore, * whosoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doth them, I will liken him unto a wise man which built his house upon a rock:

25 And the rain descended, and the flouds came, and the windes blew, and beat upon that house: and it fell not, for it was founded upon a rock.

26 And every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man which built his house upon the sand:

27 And the rain descended, and the flouds came, and the windes blew, and beat upon that house; and it fell, and great was the fall of it.

28 And it came to passe when Jesus had ended these sayings, * the people were astonished at his doctrine.

29 For he taught them as one having authoritie, and not as the Scribes.

CHAP. VIII.

2 Christ cleanseth the leper, 5 healeth the centurions servant. 14 Peters mother in law, 16 and many other diseased, 18 sheweth how he is to be followed: 23 stilleth the tempest on the sea, 28 driveth the devils out of two men possessed, 31 and suffereth them to go into the swine.

WHen he was come down from the mountain, great multitudes followed him.

2 * And [1] behold, there came a leper and worshipped him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

3 And Jesus put forth his hand and touched him, saying, I will, be thou clean. And immediately his leprosie was cleansed.

4 And Jesus saith unto him, See thou tell no man, but go thy way, shew thy self to the priest, and offer the gift that * Moses commanded, for a testimonie unto them.

5 ¶ * [2] And when Jesus was entred into Capernaum, there came unto him a centurion, beseeching him,

6 And saying, Lord, my servant lieth at home sick of the palsie, grievously tormented.

7 And Jesus saith unto him, I will come and heal him.

8 The centurion answered and said, Lord, I am not worthy that thou shouldest come under my roof: but speak the word onely, and my servant shall be healed.

9 For I am a man under authoritie, having souldiers under me: and I say to this man, Go, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he cometh: and to my servant, Do this, and he doth it.

10 When Jesus heard it, he marvelled, and said to them that followed, Verily I say unto you, I have not found so great faith, no not in Israel.

11 And I say unto you, that many shall come from the east and west, and shall [a] sit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob in the kingdome of heaven.

12 But the children of the kingdome shall be cast out into [b] outer darkenesse: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

25 And his diſciples came to him, and awoke him, ſaying, Lord, ſave us: we periſh.

26 And he ſaith unto them, Why are ye fearfull, O ye of little faith? Then he aroſe and rebuked the windes and the ſea, and there was a great calm.

27 But the men marvelled, ſaying, What manner of man is this, thet even the windes and the ſea obey him?

28 ¶ * [7] And when he was come to the other ſide, into the countrey of the Gergeſens, there met him two poſſeſſed with devils, coming out of the tombes, exceeding fierce, ſo that no man might paſſe by that way.

29 And behold, they cried out, ſaying, What have we to do with thee, Jeſus thou ſonne of God? art thou come hither to torment us before the time?

30 And there was a good way [f] off from them an herd of many ſwine, feeding.

31 So the devils beſought him, ſaying, If thou caſt us out, ſuffer us to go away into the herd of ſwine.

32 And he ſaid unto them, Go. And when they were come out, they went into the herd of ſwine: and behold, the whole herd of ſwine ran violently down a ſteep place into the ſea, and periſhed in the waters.

33 And they that kept them fled, and went their wayes into the citie, and told every thing, and what was befallen to the poſſeſſed of the devils.

* Mark 3, 14. Luke 9, 1.
‡ Or, over.

AND 1 when he had called unto him his twelve disciples, he gave them power ‡ against unclean spirits, to cast them out, and to heal all manner of sicknes, and all manner of disease.

2 Now the names of the twelve apostles are these, The a first, Simon, who is called Peter, and Andrew his brother, James the sonne of Zebedee, and John his brother,

2 Theophylact saith, that Peter and Andrew are called the first, because they were first called.
b A man of Kerioth. Now Kerioth was in the tribe of Judah, Josh. 15, 25.
* Acts 13, 46.

3 Philip, and Bartholomew, Thomas, & Matthew the publicane: James the sonne of Alpheus, & Lebbeus, whose surname was Thaddeus.

4 Simon the Canaanite, and Judas b Iscariot, who also betrayed him.

2 The summe of the gospel, or preaching of the apostles.
* Luke 10, 9.

5 These twelve Jesus sent forth, and commanded them, saying, Go not into the way of the Gentiles, and into any city of the Samaritanes enter ye not.

3 Miracles are dependances of the word.
* Mark 6, 8, Luke 9, 3. and 22, 35.
‡ Or, get.

6 * But go rather to the lost sheep of the house of Israel.

4 The ministers of the word must cast away all cares that might hinder them the least wise that might be.
c For this journey, to wit, both that nothing might hinder them, and also that they might feel some taste of Gods providence: for at their return back, the Lord asketh of them, whether they lacked any thing by the way, Luke 22, 35.
* Luke 10, 7. 1 Tim. 5, 18.
d God will provide you meat.

7 2 And as ye go, preach, saying, * The kingdome of heaven is at hand.

8 3 Heal the sick, cleanse the lepers, raise the dead, cast out devils: freely ye have received, freely give.

9 * ‡ Provide neither c gold, nor silver, nor brasse in your purses:

10 Nor scrip for your journey, neither two coats, neither shoes, nor yet staves, (* for the workman is worthy of his d meat)

* Luke 10, 8.
5 Happy are they that receive the preaching of the gospel: and unhappy are they that refuse it.

11 * 5 And into whatsoever city or town ye shall enter, enquire who in it is worthy, and there abide till ye go thence.

12 And when ye come into an house, salute it.

13 And if the house be worthy, let your c peace come upon it, but if it be not worthy, let your peace return to you.

c It is a manner of speech taken from the Hebrews, whereby they meant all kinde of happinesse.

14 * And whosoever shall not receive you, nor heare your words: when ye depart out of that house, or city, * shake off the dust of your feet.

* Mark 6, 11.
* Act. 13, 51.

15 Verily I say unto you, It shall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom & Gomorrah, in the day of judgement, than for that city.

* Luke 10, 3.
6 Christ sheweth how the ministers must behave themselves under the crosse.
f You shall be in great danger.

16 ¶ * 6 Behold, I send you forth as f sheep in the midst of wolves: be ye therefore wise as serpents, and ‡ g harmlesse as doves.

g You shall not so much as revenge an injurie: and by the mixing of these beasts natures together, he will not have our wisdome to be malicious, nor our simplicitie mild, but a certain form of good nature as exquisitly framed of both them as may be.

17 But beware of h men, for they will deliver you up to the councels, and they will scourge you in their synagogues.

18 And ye shall be brought before governours and kings for my sake, for a testimony against them and the Gentiles.

h For in the cause of religion men are wolves one to another.

19 * But when they deliver you up, take no thought how or what ye shall speak, for it shall be given you in that same houre what ye shall speak.

* Mark 13, 11. Luke 12, 11.

20 For it is not ye that speak, but the spirit of your Father which speaketh in you.

21 * And the brother shall deliver up the brother brother to death, and the father the childe: and the children shall rise up against their parents, and cause them to be put to death.

* Mark 13, 13.

22 And ye shall be hated of all men for my names sake: * but he that endureth to the end, shall be saved.

23 But when they persecute you in this city, flee ye into another: for verily I say unto you, ye shall not ‡ have [i] gone over the cities of Israel till the Sonne of man be come.

‡ Or, end or finish.
i Bring to an end, that is, you shall not have gone through all the cities of Israel, and preached in them.

24 * The disciple is not above his master, nor the servant above his lord.

* Luke 6, 40. John 13, 16.

25 It is enough for the disciple that he be as his master, and the servant as his lord: if they have called the master of the house [k] Beelzebub, how much more shall they call them of his houshold?

k It was the idol of the Acronites, which we call the god of flies.

26 [l] Fear them not therefore: * for there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; and hid, that shall not be known.

l Truth shall not alwaies be hid.
* Mark 4, 22. Luke 8, 17. and 12, 2.

27 What I tell you in darkneſse, that speak ye in light: and what ye heare in the eare, that preach ye upon the [m] house tops.

m Openly, and in the highest places. For the tops of their houses were so made, that they might walk upon them, Acts 10, 9.

* Luke 12, 4.
n Though tyrants be never so raging and cruel, yet wee may not feare them.

29 Are not two sparrows sold for a ‡ [o] farthing? and one of them shall not fall on the ground without your Father.

o The fourth part of an ounce.

30 * But the very hairs of your head are all numbred.

* Chap. 6, 24. Luke 9, 23. Mark 8, 34.

31 Fear ye not therefore, ye are of more value than many sparrows.

* Luke 12, 8. * Mark 8, 38. Luke 9, 26. 2 Tim. 2, 12.

34 * [8] Think not that I am come to send peace on earth: I came not to send peace, but a sword.

* Luke 12, 51.
8 Civil dissentions follow the preaching of the Gospel.

35 For I am come to set a man at variance * against his father, and the daughter against her mother, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

* Micah 7, 6.

36 And a mans foes shall be they of his own houshold.

37 * [9] He that loveth father or mother more than me, is not worthy of me: And he that loveth sonne or daughter more than me, is not worthy of me.

* Luke 14, 26.

* John 12, 25.
p They are said to finde their life, which deliver it out of danger: and this is spoken after the opinion of the people, which think them clean lost that die: because they think not of the life to come.

CHAP. XI.

2 Iohn sendeth his disciples to Christ. 7 Christs testimony concerning Iohn. 18 The opinion of the people, both concerning Iohn and Christ. 20 Christ upbraideth the unthankfulnesse and unrepentance of Chorazin, Bethsaida, and Capernaum: 25 and praising his Fathers wisdome in revealing the gospel to the simple, 28 he calleth to him all such as feel the burden of their sinnes.

AND [1] it came to passe, when Jesus had made an end of [a] commanding his twelve disciples, he departed thence to teach and to preach in [b] their cities.

1 Christ sheweth by his works that he is the promised Messias.
a Of instructing them with precepts.
b The disciples cities, that is to say, in Galilee where many of them were born.

2 * Now when John had heard in the prison the works of Christ, he sent two of his disciples,

* Luke 7, 18.

3 And said unto him, Art thou he that should come, or do we look for another?

4 Jesus answered and said unto them, Go and shew John again those things which ye do heare and see:

5 * The blinde receive their sight, and the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, and the deaf heare, the dead are raised up, and * the poore have the gospel preached to them.

* Isa. 35, 6.
* Isa. 61, 1.

6 And blessed is he whosoever shall not be offended in me.

7 [2] ¶ And as they departed, Jesus began to say unto the multitudes concerning John, what went ye out into the wildernesse to see? A reed shaken with the winde?

2 What agreement and what difference is betwixt the ministery of the prophets, the preaching of John, and the full light of the gospel, which Christ hath brought.

8 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? behold, they that wear soft clothing, are in kings houses.

9 But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? yea, I say unto you, and more than a prophet.

10 For this is he of whom it is written, * Behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

* Mal. 3, 3.

11 Verily I say unto you, among them that are born of women, there hath not risen a greater than John the Baptist: notwithstanding he that is least in the [c] kingdome of heaven, is greater than he.

c In the new state of the church where the true glory of God shineth, the persons are not compared together, but the kindes of doctrines, the preaching of John, with the Law and the prophets, and again, the most cleare preaching of the gospel with John.

12 * And from the dayes of John the Baptist, untill now, the kingdome of heaven ‡ suffereth violence, and the violent take it by force.

* Luke 16, 16.
‡ Or, is gotten by force, and they that thrust men.

13 For all the prophets, and the law [d] prophesied untill John.

d They prophesied of things to come, which are now present, and clearly, and plainly seen.

14 And if ye will receive it, this is * Elias which was for to come.

* Mal. 4, 5.

15 He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

16 ¶ [3] * But whereunto shall I liken this generation? [e] It is like unto children sitting in the markets, and calling unto their fellows,

3 There are none more stout and stubborn enemies of the gospel, than they to whom it ought to be most acceptable.
* Luke 7, 31.

17 And saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced: we have mourned unto you, and ye have not lamented.

18 For John came neither eating nor drinking, and they say, He hath a devil.

e He blameth the frowardnesse of this age, by a proverb, in that they could be moved neither with rough, nor gentle dealing.

20 ¶ * 5 Then began he to upbraid the cities, wherein moſt of his mighty works were done, becauſe they repented not.

21 Wo unto thee Chorazin, wo unto thee Bethſaida: for if the mighty works which were done in you, had been done in Tyre and Sidon, they would have repented long ago in ſackcloth and ashes.

22 But I ſay unto you, It ſhall be more tolerable for Tyre and Sidon at the day of judgement, than for you.

23 And thou Capernaum, which art exalted unto heaven, ſhalt be brought down to hell: for if the mighty works which have been done in thee, had been done in Sodom, it would have remained untill this day.

24 But I ſay unto you, that it ſhall be more tolerable for the land of Sodom, in the day of judgement, than for thee.

Chap. XII.

1 Chriſt reproveth the blindneſſe of the Phariſees concerning the breach of the ſabbath, 3 by ſcriptures, 9 by reaſon, 13 and by a miracle. 22 He healeth the man poſſeſſed that was blinde and dumbe. 31 Blaſphemy againſt the holy Ghoſt ſhall never be forgiven. 36 Account ſhall be made of idle words. 38 He rebuketh the unfaithfull who ſeek after a ſigne, 49 and ſheweth who is his brother, ſiſter, and mother.

1 Of the true ſanctifying of the ſabbath, and the abrogating of it. * Deut. 23, 25. Mark 2, 23. Luke 6, 1.
AT 1 that time * Jeſus went on the ſabbath-day through the corn, and his diſciples were an hungred, and began to pluck the eares of corn, and to eat.

2 But when the Phariſees ſaw it, they ſaid unto him, Behold, thy diſciples do that which is not lawfull to do upon the ſabbath-day.

* 1 Sam. 21, 6. a The Hebrews call it bread of faces, becauſe it ſtood before the Lord all the week upon the golden table appointed to that ſervice, Levit. 24, 6. *Exod. 29. 32, 33. Levit. 8, 31. and 24, 9. * Num. 28, 9.
3 But he ſaid unto them, Have ye not read * what David did when he was an hungred, and they that were with him,

4 How he entred into the houſe of God, and did eat the a ſhew-bread, which was not lawfull for him to eat, neither for them which were with him, * but onely for the prieſts?

5 Or have ye not read in the * law, how that on the ſabbath-dayes the prieſts in the temple b profane the ſabbath, and are blameleſſe?

b When the prieſts doe Gods ſervice upon the ſabbath day, yet they break not the law: much leſſe doth the Lord of the ſabbath break the Sabbath. * Hoſe 6. 6. Chap. 9, 13. * Mark 3, 1. Luke 6, 6. 2 The ceremonies of the law are not againſt the love of our neighbour.
6 But I ſay unto you, that in this place is one greater than the temple.

7 But if ye had known what this meaneth, * I will have mercy and not ſacrifice, ye would not have condemned the guiltleſſe.

8 For the Sonne of man is Lord even of the ſabbath-day.

9 * 2 And when he was departed thence, he went into their ſynagogue.

10 ¶ And behold, there was a man which had his hand withered, and they asked him, ſaying, Is it lawfull to heal on the ſabbath-dayes? that they might accuſe him.

11 And he ſaid unto them, What man ſhall there be among you, that ſhall have one ſheep, and if it fall into a pit on the ſabbath-day, will he not lay hold on it, and lift it out?

12 How much then is a man better than a ſheep? wherefore it is lawfull to do well on the ſabbath-dayes.

13 Then ſaith he to the man, Stretch forth thine hand: and he ſtretched it forth; and it was reſtored whole, like as the other.

14 ¶ 3 Then the Phariſees went out, and ‡ held a counſel againſt him; how they might deſtroy him.

3 How farre and in what reſpect we may give place to the unbridled rage of the wicked. ‡ Or, took counſel.
15 But when Jeſus knew it, he withdrew himſelf from thence? and great multitudes followed him, and he healed them all.

16 And charged them that they ſhould not make him known:

17 That it might be fulfilled which was ſpoken by Eſaias the prophet, ſaying, 18 * Behold, my ſervant whom I have choſen, my beloved in whom my ſoul is well pleaſed: I will put my ſpirit upon him, and he ſhall ſhew c judgement to the Gentiles.

* Iſa. 42, 1.
19 He ſhall not ſtrive, nor cry, neither ſhall any man heare his voice in the ſtreets.

20 A bruiſed reed ſhall he not break, and ſmoking flax ſhall he not quench, till he d ſend forth judgement unto victory.

c By judgement is meant a ſetled ſtate, becauſe Chriſt was to publiſh true religion among the Gentiles, and to caſt out ſuperſtition, which thing whereſoever it is done, the Lord is ſaid, to reigne and judge there: that is to ſay, to govern and rule matters. d He ſhall pronounce ſentence and judgement, maugre the world and Satan, and ſhew himſelf conqueror over all his enemies.
21 And in his name ſhall the Gentiles truſt.

22 ¶ * 4 Then was brought unto him one poſſeſſed with a devil, blinde and dumbe: and he healed him, inſomuch that the blinde and dumbe both ſpake and ſaw:

* Luke 11, 14. 4 A truth, be it never ſo manifeſt, is ſubject to the ſlander of the wicked: yet notwithſtanding it ought to be avouched ſtoutly. * Chap. 9, 34.
23 And all the people were amazed, and ſaid, Is this the ſonne of David?

24 * But when the Phariſees heard it, they ſaid, This fellow doth not caſt out devils, but by Beelzebub the prince of the devils.

25 5 And Jeſus knew their thoughts, and ſaid unto them, Every kingdome divided againſt it ſelf, is brought to deſolation: and every city or houſe divided againſt it ſelf, ſhall not ſtand.

5 The kingdome of Chriſt, and the kingdome of the devil cannot conſiſt together.
26 And if Satan caſt out Satan, he is divided againſt himſelf; how ſhall then his kingdome ſtand?

27 And if I by Beelzebub caſt out devils, by whom do your children caſt them out? therefore they ſhall be your judges.

28 But

28 But if I caſt out devils by the ſpirit of God, then the kingdome of God is come unto you.

29 Or elſe, how can one enter into a ſtrong mans houſe, and ſpoil his goods, except he firſt binde the ſtrong man? and then he will ſpoil his houſe.

30 He that is not with me, is againſt me: and he that gathereth not with me, ſcattereth abroad.

* Mark 3, 28. Luke 12, 10. 1 John 5, 16.

31 ¶ Wherefore I ſay unto you, * All manner of ſinne and blaſphemy ſhall be forgiven unto men: but the blaſphemy againſt the holy Ghoſt ſhall not be forgiven unto men.

32 And whoſoever ſpeaketh a word againſt the Sonne of man, it ſhall be forgiven him:

6 Of blaſphemy againſt the holy Ghoſt.

[6] but whoſoever ſpeaketh againſt the holy Ghoſt, it ſhall not be forgiven him, neither in this world, neither in the world to come.

33 Either make the tree good, and his fruit good; or elſe make the tree corrupt, & his fruit corrupt: for the tree is known by his fruit.

34 [7] O generation of vipers, how can ye, being evil, ſpeak good things? * for out of the abundance of the heart the mouth ſpeaketh.

35 A good man out of the good treaſure of the heart, bringeth forth good things: and an evil man out of the evil treaſure, bringeth forth evil things.

c Vain and unprofitable trifles, which the moſt part of men ſpend their lives in.

36 But I ſay unto you, That every [c] idle word that men ſhall ſpeak, they ſhall give account thereof in the day of judgement.

37 For by thy words thou ſhalt be juſtified, and by thy words thou ſhalt be condemned.

8 Againſt froward deſirers of miracles. * Chap. 16, 1. Luke 11, 29. 1 Cor. 1, 22.

39 But he anſwered and ſaid to them, An evil and [f] adulterous generation ſeeketh after a ſigne, and there ſhall no ſigne be given to it, but the ſigne of the prophet Jonas.

40 * For as Jonas was three dayes and three nights in the whales belly: ſo ſhall the Sonne of man be three dayes and three nights in the heart of the earth.

41 [9] The men of Nineveh ſhall riſe in judgement with this generation, and ſhall condemne it, * becauſe they repented at the preaching of Jonas, and behold, a greater than Jonas is here.

42 * The queen of the [g] ſouth ſhall riſe up in the judgement with this generation, and ſhall condemne it: for ſhe came from the [h] uttermoſt parts of the earth to heare the wiſdome of Solomon, and behold, a greater than Solomon is here.

43 * When the unclean ſpirit is gone out of a man, he walketh through drie places, ſeeking reſt, and findeth none.

44 Then he ſaith, I will return into my houſe from whence I came out; and when he is come, he findeth it empty, ſwept and garniſhed.

45 Then goeth he, and taketh with himſelf ſeven other ſpirits more wicked than himſelf, ſelf, and they enter in and dwell there: * and the laſt ſtate of that man is worſe than the firſt. Even ſo ſhall it be alſo unto this wicked generation.

13 * Heb. 6, 4. and 10, 26. 2 Pet. 2, 20.

47 Then one ſaid unto him, Behold, thy mother and thy brethren ſtand without: deſiring to ſpeak with thee.

48 But he anſwered and ſaid unto him that told him, Who is my mother? and who are my brethren?

11 None are more neare unto us, than they that are of the houſhold of faith.

49 [11] And he ſtretched forth his hand toward his diſciples, and ſaid, Behold my mother, and my brethren.

50 For whoſoever ſhall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the ſame is my brother, and ſiſter, and mother.

CHAP. XIII.

3 The parable of the ſower and the ſeed: 18 the expoſition of it. 24 The parable of the tares, 31 of the muſtard ſeed, 33 of the leaven, 44 of the hidden treaſure, 45 of the pearl, 47 of the draw-net, caſt into the ſea, 53 and how Chriſt is contemned of his own countrey men.

THe ſame day went Jeſus out of the houſe and ſat by the ſea ſide. * Mark 4, 1.

1 Chriſt ſheweth, in putting forth this parable of the ſower, that the ſeed of life which is ſown in the world, commeth not on ſo well in one as in another and the reaſon is, for that men, for the moſt part, either do not receive it, or ſuffer it not to ripen. * Luke 8, 5.

2 [1] And great multitudes were gathered together unto him, ſo that he went into a ſhip, and ſat, and the whole multitude ſtood on the ſhore.

3 And he ſpake many things unto them in parables, ſaying, Behold, a ſower went forth to ſow.

4 And when he ſowed, ſome ſeeds fell by the wayes ſide, and the fowls came and devoured them up.

5 Some fell upon ſtony places, where they had not much earth: and forthwith they ſprung up, becauſe they had no deepneſſe of earth:

6 And when the ſunne was up, they were ſcorched, and becauſe they had not root, they withered away.

7 And ſome fell among thorns: and the thorns ſprung up and choked them.

8 But other fell into good ground, and brought forth fruit, ſome an hundred fold, ſome ſixtie fold, ſome thirty fold.

9 Who hath eares to heare, let him heare.

10 And the diſciples came, and ſaid unto him, Why ſpeakeſt thou unto them in parables?

2 The gift of underſtanding and of faith is proper to the elect, and all the reſt are blinded through the juſt judgement of God. * Chap. 25, 29.

11 [2] He anſwered and ſaid unto them, Becauſe it is given unto you to know the myſteries of the kingdome of heaven, but to them it is not given.

12 * For whoſoever hath, to him ſhall be given, and he ſhall have more abundance: but whoſoever hath not, from him ſhall be taken away, even that he hath.

13 Therefore ſpeak I to them in parables: becauſe they ſeeing, ſee not: and hearing, they heare not, neither do they underſtand.

* Iſa. 6, 9. Mark 4, 12. Luke 8, 10. John 12, 40. Acts 28, 26. Rom. 11, 8.

14 And in them is fulfilled the propheſie of Eſaias, which ſaith, * By hearing ye ſhall

14 heare, and ſhall not underſtand: and ſeeing ye ſhall ſee, and ſhall not perceive.

15 For this peoples heart is waxed groſſe, and their eares are dull of hearing, and their eyes they have cloſed; leſt at any time they ſhould ſee with their eyes, and heare with their eares, and ſhould underſtand with their heart, and ſhould be converted, and I ſhould heal them.

3 The condition of the church under, and ſince Chriſt, is better than it was in the time of the fathers under the law. * Luke 28, 24.

16 [3] But bleſſed are your eyes, for they ſee, and your eares, for they heare.

17 For verily I ſay unto you, * that many prophets and righteous men have deſired to ſee thoſe things which ye ſee, and have not ſeen them: and to heare thoſe things which ye heare, and have not heard them.

18 ¶ Heare ye therefore the parable of the ſower.

19 When any one heareth the word of the kingdome, and underſtandeth it not, then cometh the wicked one, and catcheth away that which was ſown in his * heart: this is he which received ſeed by the way ſide.

a Though there be mention made of the heart, yet his ſowing is referred to hearing, without underſtanding. For whether the ſeed be received in the heart or no, yet he that ſoweth, ſoweth to the heart.

20 But he that received the ſeed into ſtonie places, the ſame is he that heareth the word, and anon with joy receiveth it:

21 Yet hath he not root in himſelf, but dureth for a while: for when tribulation or perſecution ariſeth becauſe of the word, by and by he is offended.

22 He alſo that received ſeed among the thorns, is he that heareth the word: and the care of this world, and the deceitfulneſſe of riches choke the word, and he becometh unfruitfull.

23 But he that received ſeed into the good ground, is he that heareth the word, and underſtandeth it, which alſo beareth fruit, and bringeth forth ſome an hundred fold, ſome ſixty, ſome thirty.

4 Chriſt ſheweth in another parable of the evil ſeed mixt with the good, that the church ſhall never be free and quit from offences, both in doctrine and manners untill the day appointed for the reſtoring of all things to come, and therefore the faithfull have to arm themſelves with patience and conſtancie.

24 ¶ [4] Another parable put he forth unto them, ſaying, The kingdome of heaven is likened unto a man which ſowed good ſeed in his field:

25 But while men ſlept, his enemy came and ſowed tares among the wheat, and went his way.

26 But when the blade was ſprung up, and brought forth fruit, then appeared the tares alſo.

27 So the ſervants of the houſholder came and ſaid unto him, Sir, didſt not thou ſow good ſeed in thy field? from whence then hath it tares?

28 He ſaid unto them, An enemie hath done this. The ſervants ſaid unto him, Wilt thou then that we go and gather them up?

29 But he ſaid, Nay; leſt while ye gather up the tares, ye root up alſo the wheat with them.

30 Let both grow together untill the harveſt: and in the time of harveſt I will ſay to the reapers, Gather ye together firſt the tares, and binde them in bundles to burn them: but gather the wheat into my barn.

5 God beginneth his kingdome with very ſmall beginnings, to the end that by the growing on of it, beſide the expectation and hope of all men, his mighty power and working may be the more ſet forth. * Mark 4, 30. Luke 13, 19.

31 ¶ [5] Another parable put he forth unto them, ſaying, * The kingdome of heaven is like to a grain of muſtard-ſeed, which a man took and ſowed in his field.

32 Which indeed is the leaſt of all ſeeds: but when it is grown, it is the greateſt among herbs, and becometh a tree: ſo that the birds of the aire come and lodge in the branches thereof.

33 ¶ * Another parable ſpake he unto them, The kingdome of heaven is like unto leaven, which a woman took and hid in three † meaſures of meal, till the whole was leavened.

* Luke 13, 20.

† The word in the Greek is a meaſure containing about a peck and a half, wanting little more than a pinte.

34 * All theſe things ſpake Jeſus unto the multitude in parables, and without a parable ſpake he not unto them:

* Mark 4, 33.

35 That it might be fulfilled which was ſpoken by the prophet, ſaying, * I will open my mouth in parables, I will utter things which have been kept ſecret from the foundation of the world.

* Pſal. 78, 2.

36 Then Jeſus ſent the multitude away, and went into the houſe: and his diſciples came unto him, ſaying, Declare unto us the parable of the tares of the field.

6 He expoundeth the former parable of the good and evil ſeed.

37 [6] He anſwered & ſaid unto them, He that ſoweth the good ſeed, is the Sonne of man:

38 The field is the world: the good ſeed are the children of the kingdome: but the tares are the children of the wicked one:

39 The enemie that ſowed them, is the devil: * the harveſt is the end of the world: and the reapers are the angels.

* Joel. 3, 13. Rev. 14, 15.

40 As therefore the tares are gathered and burnt in the fire; ſo ſhall it be in the end of this world.

41 The Sonne of man ſhall ſend forth his angels, and they ſhall gather out of his kingdome all ‡ things that offend, and them which do iniquitie:

‡ Gr. ſtandals.

42 And ſhall caſt them into a furnace of fire: there ſhall be wailing and gnaſhing of teeth.

43 Then ſhall the righteous ſhine forth as the ſunne, in the kingdome of their Father. Who hath eares to heare, let him heare.

* Dan. 12, 3.

7 Few men underſtand how great the riches of the kingdome of heaven are, and no man can be partaker of them, but he that redeemeth them with the loſſe of all his goods.

44 ¶ [7] Again, the kingdome of heaven is like unto treaſure hid in a field: the which when a man hath found, he hideth, and for joy thereof goeth and ſelleth all that he hath, and buyeth that field.

45 ¶ Again, the kingdome of heaven is like unto a merchant man, ſeeking goodly pearls:

46 Who when he had found one pearl of great price, he went and ſold all that he had, and bought it.

8 There are many in the church, which notwithſtanding are not of the church; and therefore at length ſhall be caſt out: but the full and perfect cleanſing of them is deferred to the laſt day.

47 ¶ [8] Again, the kingdome of heaven is like unto a net that was caſt into the ſea, and gathered of every kinde.

48 Which, when it was full, they drew to ſhore, and ſat down, and gathered the good into veſſels, but caſt the bad away.

49 So ſhall it be at the end of the world: the angels ſhall come forth, and ſever the wicked from among the juſt.

50 And

50 And ſhall caſt them into the furnace of fire: there ſhall be wailing and gnaſhing of teeth.

9 They ought to be diligent, which have not only to be wiſe for themſelves, but to diſpence the wiſedome of God to others.

51 [9] Jeſus ſaith unto them, Have ye underſtood all theſe things? They ſay unto him, Yea, Lord.

52 Then ſaid he unto them, Therefore every ſcribe which is inſtructed unto the kingdome of heaven, is like unto a man that is an houſholder, which bringeth forth out of his treaſure things new and old.

53 ¶ And it came to paſſe, that when Jeſus had finiſhed theſe parables, he departed thence.

* Mark 6, 1. Luke 4, 16.
10 Men do not onely ſinne of ignorance, but alſo wittingly and willingly lay ſtumbling blocks in their own wayes, that when God calleth them, they may not obey, and ſo moſt plainly deſtroy and caſt away themſelves.
* John 6, 42.

54 * [10] And when he was come into his own countrey, he taught them in their ſynagogue, inſomuch that they were aſtoniſhed, and ſaid, Whence hath this man this wiſdome, and theſe mightie works?

55 * Is not this the carpenters ſonne? is not his mother called Mary? and his brethren, James, and Joſes, and Simon, and Judas?

56 And his ſiſters, are they not all with us? whence then hath this man all theſe things?

57 And they were offended in him. But Jeſus ſaid unto them, * A prophet is not without honour, ſave in his own countrey, and in his own houſe.

* Mark 6, 4. Luke 4, 24. John 4, 44.

58 And he did not many mightie works there, becauſe of their unbelief.

Chap. XIIII.

1 Herods opinion of Chriſt. 3 Wherefore John Baptiſt was beheaded. 13 Jeſus departeth into a deſert place: 15 where he feedeth five thouſand men with five loaves and two fiſhes. 22 He walketh on the ſea to his diſciples: 34 and landing at Geneſaret, healeth the ſick by the touch of the hemme of his garment.

1 Here is John, an example of an invincible courage, which all faithful miniſters of Gods word ought to follow: in Herod, an example of tyrannous vanitie, pride, and cruelties, and to be ſhort, of a courtly conſcience, and of their miſerable ſlavetie which have once given themſelves over to pleaſures: in Herodias and her daughter, an example of whorelike wantonneſſe and womanly cruelty.

AT [1] that time * Herod the tetrarch heard the fame of Jeſus,

2 And ſaid unto his ſervants, This is John the Baptiſt, he is riſen from the dead, and therefore [a] mighty works ‡ do ſhew forth themſelves in him.

3 ¶ * For Herod had laid hold on John, and bound him, and put him in priſon for Herodias ſake, his brother Philips wife.

4 For John ſaid unto him, It is not lawfull for thee to have her.

5 And when he would have put him to death, he feared the multitude, * becauſe they counted him as a prophet.

* Mark 6, 14. Luke 9, 7.
a By works, he meaneth that force and power, whereby works are wrought, and not the works, as is ſeen oft before.
‡ Or, are wrought by him.

6 But when Herods birth-day was kept, the daughter of Herodias danced before them, and pleaſed [b] Herod.

* Luke 3, 19, 20. * Levit. 18, 16. and 20, 21. * Chap 21, 26.
b There were three Herods: the firſt of them was Antipaters ſonne, who is alſo called Aſcalonius, in whoſe reigne Chriſt was born, and he it was that cauſed the children to be ſlain. The ſecond was called Antipas Magnus his ſonne whoſe mothers name was Malthaca or Martaca, and this was called Tetrarch, by reaſon of enlarging his dominion, when Archelaus was baniſhed to Vienna in France. The third was Agrippa, Magnus his nephew by Ariſtobulus, and he it was that ſlew James.

7 Whereupon he promiſed with an oath, to give her whatſoever ſhe would ask.

8 And ſhe, being before inſtructed of her mother, ſaid, Give me here John Baptiſts head in a charger.

9 And the king was ſorie: nevertheleſſe for the oaths ſake, and them which ſat with him at meat, he commanded it to be given her:

10 And he ſent and beheaded John in the priſon.

11 And his head was brought in a charger, and given to the damſel: and ſhe brought it to her mother.

12 And his diſciples came, and took up the bodie and buried it, and went and told Jeſus.

13 ¶ * When Jeſus heard of it, he departed thence by ſhip into a deſert place, apart: and when the people had heard thereof, they followed him on foot out of the cities.

* Mark 6, 32. Luke 9, 10.

14 [2] And Jeſus went forth, and ſaw a great multitude, and was moved with compaſſion toward them, and healed their ſick.

2 Chriſt refreſheth a great multitude with five loaves and two little fiſhes, ſhewing thereby that they ſhall want nothing, which lay all things aſide, and ſeek the kingdome of heaven.

15 ¶ * And when it was evening his diſciples came to him, ſaying, This is a deſert place, and the time is now paſt; ſend the multitude away, that they may go into the villages, and buy themſelves victuals.

* Mark 6, 35. John 6, 5.

16 But Jeſus ſaid unto them, They need not depart, give ye them to eat.

17 And they ſay unto him, We have here but five loaves, and two fiſhes.

18 He ſaid, Bring them hither to me.

19 And he commanded the multitude to ſit down on the graſſe, and took the five loaves, and the two fiſhes, & looking up to heaven, he bleſſed, and brake, and gave the loaves to his diſciples, and the diſciples to the multitude.

20 And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the fragments that remained, twelve baskets full.

21 And they that had eaten were about five thouſand men, beſide women and children.

22 ¶ And ſtraightway Jeſus conſtrained his diſciples to get into a ſhip, and to go before him unto the other ſide, while he ſent the multitudes away.

* Mark 6, 46. * John 6, 18.

24 [3] But the ſhip was now in the midſt of the ſea, toſſed with waves: for the winde was contrarie.

3 We muſt ſail even through mighty tempeſts and Chriſt will never forſake us, ſo that we go whither he hath commanded us.

25 And in the [c] fourth watch of the night, Jeſus went unto them walking on the ſea.

c By the fourth watch is meant the time neare to day breaking: for in old time they divided the night into foure watches, in which they ſcouted.

26 And when the diſciples ſaw him walking on the ſea, they were troubled, ſaying, It is a [d] ſpirit; and they cried out for fear.

d A ſpirit, as it is here taken, is that which a man imagineth to himſelf vainly in his minde, perſwading himſelf that he ſeeth ſomething, and ſeeth nothing.

27 But ſtraightway Jeſus ſpake unto them, ſaying, Be of good cheer, it is I, be not afraid.

28 [4] And Peter anſwered him and ſaid, Lord, if it be thou, bid me come unto thee on the water.

4 By faith we treade under our feet even the tempeſts themſelves, but yet by the vertue of Chriſt, which helpeth that vertue, which he of his mercy hath given.

29 And he ſaid, Come. And when Peter was come down out of the ſhip, he walked on the water, to go to Jeſus.

30 But when he ſaw the winde ‡ boiſtrous, he was afraid: and beginning to ſink, he cried, ſaying, Lord ſave me.

‡ Or, ſtrong.

31 And immediatly Jeſus ſtretched forth his hand, and caught him, and ſaid unto him, O thou of little faith, wherefore didſt thou doubt?

32 And when they were come into the ſhip, the winde ceaſed.

33 Then they that were in the ſhip, came and worſhipped him, ſaying, Of a truth thou art the ſonne of God, 34 ¶ * And when they were gone over, they came into the land of [c] Genneſaret.

35 [5] And when the men of that place had knowledge of him, they ſent out into all that countrey round about, and brought unto him all that were diſeaſed, 36 And beſought him, that they might onely touch the hem of his garment: and as many as touched were made perfectly whole.

* Mark 6, 53.
c This Genneſaret was a lake nigh to Capernaum, which is alſo called the ſea of Galilee, and Tiberias, ſo that the countrey it ſelf grew to be called by that name.
5 In that that Chriſt healeth the ſick, we are given to underſtand, that we muſt ſeek remedie, for ſpirituall diſeaſes at his hands: and tha we are bound not only to run our ſelves, but alſo to bring others unto him.

CHAP. XV.

3 Chriſt reproveth the Scribes and Phariſees, for tranſgreſſing Gods commandments, through their own traditions; 11 teaching how that which goeth into the mouth, doth not defile a man. 21 He healeth the daughter of the womam of Canaan, 30 and other great multitudes: 32 and with ſeven loaves, and a few little fiſhes, feedeth foure thouſand men, beſides women and children.

THen * [1] came to Jeſus Scribes and Phariſees, which were of Jeruſalem, ſaying,

2 Why do thy diſciples tranſgreſſe the tradition of the elders? for they [a] waſh not their hands when they eat bread.

3 [2] But he anſwered and ſaid unto them, Why do you alſo tranſgreſſe the commandment of God by your tradition?

4 For God commanded, ſaying, * [b] Honour thy father and mother: and * he that curſeth father or mother, let him die the death.

5 But ye ſay, [c] Whoſoever ſhall ſay to his father or his mother, * It is a gift by whatſoever thou mighteſt be profited by me,

6 And honour not his father or his mother, he ſhall be free. Thus have ye made the commandment of God of none [d] effect by your tradition.

7 [3] Ye hypocrites, well did Eſaias propheſie of you, ſaying,

8 * This people draweth nigh unto me with their mouth, and honoureth me with their lips: but their heart is farre from me.

9 But in vain they do worſhip me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

10 ¶ * [4] And he called the multitude, and ſaid unto them, Heare and underſtand.

11 Not that which goeth into the mouth defileth a man: but that which cometh out of the mouth, this defileth a man.

12 Then came his diſciples, and ſaid unto him, Knoweſt thou that the Phariſees were offended after they heard this ſaying?

13 But he anſwered and ſaid, * Every plant which my heavenly Father hath not planted, ſhall be rooted up.

14 Let them alone: they be blinde leaders of the blinde. And if the blinde lead the blind, both ſhall fall into the dith.

15 * Then anſwered Peter and ſaid unto him, Declare unto us this parable.

* Mark 7, 1.
1 None commonly are more bold contemners of God, than they whom God appointeth keepers of his law.
a Which they received of their anceſtors from hand to hand, or their elders allowed, which were the governours of the church.
2 Their wicked boldneſſe in corrupting the commandements of God, and that upon pretence of godlineſſe, and uſurping authority to make laws is here reproved.
b By honour is meant, all kinde of duetie which children owe to their parents.
* Exod. 20, 12. Deut. 5, 16.
* Exod. 21, 17. Levit. 20, 9. Prov. 20, 20.
c The meaning is this: whatſoever I beſtow upon the temple, is to thy profit, for it is as good as if I gave it thee, for (as the Phariſees of our time ſay) it ſhall be meritorious for thee, for under this colour of religion they raked all to themſelves, as though that he that had given any thing to the temple, had done the duty of a child.
* Mark 7, 11, 12.
d You made it of no power and authority as much as lay in you: for otherwiſe the commandments of God ſtand faſt in the Church of God, in deſpite of the world and Satan.
3 The ſame men are condemned for hypocriſie and ſuperſtition, becauſe they made the kingdome of God to ſtand in outward things. * Eſa. 29, 13. * Mark 7, 14.
4 Chriſt teacheth us, that hypocriſie of falſe teachers which deceive our ſouls, is not to be born withall, no not in indifferent matters, and there is no reaſon why their ordinary vocation ſhould blinde our eyes: otherwiſe we are like to periſh with them. * John 15, 2. * Luke 6, 39. * Mark 7, 17.

16 And Jeſus ſaid, Are ye alſo yet without underſtanding?

17 Do not ye yet underſtand, that whatſoever entreth in at the mouth, goeth into the belly, and is caſt out into the draught?

18 But thoſe things which proceed out of the mouth, come forth from the heart, and they defile the man.

19 * For out of the heart proceed evil thoughts, murders, adulteries, fornications, thefts, falſe witneſſe, blaphemies.

* Gen. 6, 5. and 8, 21.

20 Theſe are the things which defile a man: but to eat with unwaſhen hands, defileth not a man.

21 ¶ * Then Jeſus went thence, and departed into the [e] coaſts of Tyre and Sidon.

* Mark 7, 24.
e Coaſts which were next to Tyre and Sidon, that is, in that quarter where Paleſtina bendeth toward Phenice, and the ſea of Syria.

22 And behold, a woman of [f] Canaan came out of the ſame coaſts, and cryed unto him, ſaying, Have mercy on me, O Lord, thou Sonne of David, my daughter is grievouſly vexed with a devil.

f Of the ſtock of the Canaanites, which dwelled in Phenicia.

23 [5] But he anſwered her not a word. And his diſciples came and beſought him, ſaying, Send her away, for ſhe cryeth after us.

5 In that that Chriſt doth ſometimes as it were ſtop his eares againſt the prayers of his ſaints, he doeth it for his glory, and our profit.

24 But he anſwered and ſaid, * I am not ſent, [g] but unto the loſt ſheep of the houſe of Iſrael.

* Chap. 10, 6.
g Of the people of Iſrael, which people was divided into tribes, but all thoſe tribes came of one houſe.

25 Then came ſhe and worſhipped him, ſaying, Lord, help me.

26 But he anſwered and ſaid, It is not meet to take the childrens bread, and to caſt it to dogs.

27 And ſhe ſaid, Truth Lord: yet the dogs eat of the crumbes which fall from their maſters table.

28 Then Jeſus anſwered and ſaid unto her, O woman, great is thy faith: be it unto thee even as thou wilt. And her daughter was made whole from that very houre.

* Mark 7, 31.

29 * [6] And Jeſus departed from thence, and came nigh unto the ſea of Galilee, and went up into a mountain, and ſat down there.

6 Chriſt ceaſeth not to be beneficiall even there were he is contemned, and in the middeſt of wolves he gathereth together and ſoftereth his flock.

30 * And great multitudes came unto him, having with them thoſe that were lame, blinde, dumbe, [h] maimed, and many others, and caſt them down at Jeſus feet, and he healed them:

* Iſa. 35, 5, 6.
h Whoſe members were weakened with the palſey, or by nature, for afterward it is ſaid, he healed them. Now Chriſt was wont to heal in this wiſe, that ſuch members as were weak, he reſtored to health, and yet he could eaſily if he had would, have given them hands and feet, and other members which wanted them.

31 Inſomuch that the multitude wondred when they ſaw the dumbe to ſpeak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blinde to ſee: and they glorified the God of Iſrael.

32 ¶ * [7] Then Jeſus called his diſciples unto him, and ſaid, I have compaſſion on the multitude, becauſe they [i] continue with me now three dayes, and have nothing to eat: and I will not ſend them away faſting, leſt they faint in the way.

* Mark 8, 1.
7 By doing again this miracle Chriſt ſheweth that he will never be wanting to them that follow him, no not in the wilderneſſe.
i Go not from my ſide.

33 And his diſciples ſay unto him, Whence ſhould we have ſo much bread in the wilderneſſe, as to fill ſo great a multitude?

34 And Jeſus ſaith unto them, How many loaves have ye? and they ſaid, Seven, and a few little fiſhes.

35 And he commanded the multitude to [k] ſit down on the ground.

k Word for word, to lie down backward as rowers do in rowing, they draw their oares to them.

36 And

36 And he took the seven loaves and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude.

37 And they did all eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left, seven [l] baskets full.

38 And they that did eat, were foute thousand men, beside women and children.

39 And he sent away the multitude, & took ship, and came into the coasts of Magdala.

Chap. XVI.

1 The Pharisees require a signe. 6 Jesus warneth his disciples of the leaven of the Pharisees and Sadducees. 13 The peoples opinion of Christ, 16 and Peters confession of him. 21 Jesus foreshewеth his death, 23 reproving Peter for disswading him from it. 24 And admonisheth those that will follow him, to bear the crosse.

THe * [1] Pharisees also with the Sadduces, came, and [a] tempting, desired him that he would shew them a signe from heaven.

2 He answered and said unto them, When it is evening, ye say, it will be fair weather: for the skie is red.

3 And in the morning, It will be foul weather to day: for the skie is red and lowring. O ye hypocrites, ye can discern the [b] face of the skie, but can ye not discern the signes of the times?

4 A wicked and adulterous generation seeketh after a signe, and there shall no signe be given unto it, but the [c] signe of the prophet Jonas. And he left them, and departed.

5 And when his disciples were come to the other side, they had forgotten to take bread.

6 ¶ [2] Then Jesus said unto them, Take heed and beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the Sadduces.

7 And they reasoned among themselves, saying, It is because we have taken no bread.

8 Which when Jesus [d] perceived, he said unto them, O ye of little faith, why reason ye among your selves, because ye have brought no bread?

9 * Do ye not yet understand, neither remember the [e] five loaves of the five thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

10 * Neither the seven loaves of the foure thousand, and how many baskets ye took up?

11 [f] How is it that ye do not understand, that I [g] spake it not to you concerning bread, that ye should beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the Sadduces?

12 Then understood they how that he bade them not beware of the leaven of bread, but of the doctrine of the Pharisees, and of the Sadduces.

13 ¶ [3] When Jesus came into the coasts of [h] Cesarea Philippi, he asked his disciples, saying * Whom do men say, that I, the Sonne of man, am?

14 And they said, Some say that thou art [i] John the Baptist, some Elias, and others Jeremias, or one of the prophets.

15 He saith unto them, But whom say ye that I am?

16 And Simon Peter answered and said, * Thou art Christ the Sonne of the living God.

17 [4] And Jesus answered and said unto him, Blessed art thou Simon Bar-jona: for [k] flesh and bloud hath not revealad it unto thee, but my Father which is in heaven.

18 [5] And I say also unto thee, that * thou art [l] Peter, and upon this rock I will build my church: and the [m] gates of hell shall not prevail against it.

19 * [6] And I will give unto thee the [n] keyes of the kingdome of heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt [o] binde on earth, shall be bound in heaven: and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth, shall be loosed in heaven.

20 [7] Then charged he his disciples that they should tell no man that he was Jesus the Christ.

21 ¶ [8] From that time forth began Jesus to shew unto his disciples, how that he must go unto Jerusalem, and suffer many things of the [p] elders, and chief priests, and Scribes, and be killed, and be raised again the third day.

22 Then Peter [q] took him, and began to rebuke him, saying, be it farre from thee, Lord: this shall not be unto thee.

23 [9] But he turned, and said unto Peter, Get thee behinde me, [r] Satan, thou art an offence unto me: for thou [s] savoureſt not the things that be of God, but those that be of men.

24 ¶ * [10] Then said Jesus unto his disciples, If any man will come after me, let him denie himself, and take up his crosse and follow me.

25 For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: and whosoever will lose his life for my sake, shall [t] finde it.

26 For what is a man profited if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul? or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

27 For the Sonne of man shall come in the [u] glorie of his Father, with his angels: * and then he shall reward every man according to his works.

28 Verily I say unto you, * There be some standing here, which shall not taste of death, till they see the Sonne of man coming in his [x] kingdome.

* Mark 8, 11. Luke 12, 54.
1 The wicked which otherwise are at defiance one with another, agree well together against Christ, but do what they can, Christ beareth away the victorie, and triumpheth over them.
a To trie whether he could do that which they desired, but their purpose was naught, for they thought to finde some thing in him by that means, whereupon they might have just occasion to reprehend him: or else distrust and curiosity moved them so to do, for by such means also is God said to be tempted, that is to say, provoked to anger, as though men would strive with him.

4 Faith is of grace, not of nature.
k By this kinde of speech is meant mans naturall procreation upon the earth, the creature, not being destroyed which was made, but deformed through sinne: so then this is the meaning: This was not revealed to thee by any understanding of man, but God shewed it thee from heaven.
5 That is true faith, which confesseth Christ, the vertue whereof is invincible.
* John 1, 42.
l Christ spake in the Syrian tongue, & therefore used not this descanting betwixt Petros, which signifieth Peter, and Petra, which signifieth a Rock, but in both places used this word Cepha: but his minde was that wrot in Greek, by the divers termination to make a difference betweenPeter which is a piece of the building, and Christ the Petra, that is, the rock and foundation: or else he gave his name Peter, because of the confession of his faith which is the churches as well as his, as the old fathers witnesse, for so saith Theoph, That confession which thou hast made, shall be the foundation of the beleevers.
m The enemies of the church are compared to a strong kingdome, and therefore by gates, are meant cities which are made strong with counsel and fortresses, and this is the meaning, whatsoever Satan can do by counsel or strength. So doth Paul. 2 Cor. 10, 4. call them strong holds.
* John. 20, 23.
6 The authoritie of the church is from God.
n A Metaphor taken of stewards which carry the keyes, and here is set forth the power of the ministers of the word, as Esa. 22, 22. and that power is common to all ministers, as chap. 18, 18. and therefore the ministerie of the Gospel, may rightly be called the key of the kingdome of heaven.
o They are bound whose sinnes are retained, heaven is shut against them, because they receive not Christ by faith: on the other side how happy are they, to whom heaven is open, which imbrace Christ, and are delivered by him, and become fellow heires with him?
7 Men must first learn, and then teach.
8 The mindes of men are in time to be prepared, and made ready against the stumbling block of perſecution.

s By this word we are taught, that Peter sinned through a false perswasion of himself.
* Chap. 10, 38. Mark 8, 34.
10 No men doe worse provide for themselves, than they that love themselves more than God.
t Shall gaine himself: And this is his meaning, they that deny Christ to save themselves, doe not only lose that which they look for, but also lose the thing they would have kept, that is, themselves, which losse is the greatest of all: but as for them that doubt not to die for Christ, it fareth farre otherwise with them.

CHAP. XVII.

1 The transfiguration of Christ. 14 He healeth the lunatick, 22 foretelleth his own passion, 24 and payeth tribute.

AND * [1] after [a] six dayes, Jesus taketh Peter, James, and John his brother, and bringeth them up into an high mountain apart,

2 And was [b] transfigured before them, and his face did shine as the sunne, and his raiment was white as the light.

3 And, behold, there appeared unto them Moses and Elias talking with him.

4 Then answered Peter, and said unto Jesus, Lord, it is good for us to be here: if thou wilt, let us make here three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

5 * While he yet spake, behold, a bright cloud overshadowed them: and behold, a voice out of the cloud, which said, This [c] is my beloved Sonne, in whom I am well pleased; heare ye him.

6 And when the disciples heard it, they fell on their [d] face, and were sore afraid.

7 And Jesus came and touched them, and said, Arise, and be not afraid.

8 And when they had lift up their eyes, they saw no man, save Jesus onely.

9 And as they came down from the mountain, Jesus charged them, saying, Tell the [e] vision to no man, untill the Sonne of man be risen again from the dead.

10 And his disciples asked him, saying, Why then say the Scribes, that Elias must first come?

11 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Elias truly shall first come, and restore all things:

12 But I say unto you, that Elias is come already, and they knew him not, but have done unto him whatsoever they listed: likewise shall also the Sonne of man suffer of them.

13 Then the disciples understood that he spake unto them of John the Baptist.

15 Lord have mercy on my sonne, for he is [g] lunatick, and sore vexed: for oft times he falleth into the fire, and oft into the water.

16 And I brought him to thy disciples, and they could not cure him.

17 Then Jesus answered and said, O faithlesse and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you? how long shall I suffer you? bring him hither to me.

18 And Jesus rebuked the devil, and he departed out of him: and the childe was cured from that very houre.

19 [3] Then came the disciples to Jesus apart, and said, Why could not we cast him out?

20 And Jesus said unto them, Because of your unbelief: for verily I say unto you,* If ye have faith as a grain of mustard-seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place, and it shall remove, and nothing shall be unpossible unto you,

21 * Howbeit this kinde goeth not out, but by [h] prayer and fasting.

22 ¶ * [5] And while they abode in Galilee, Jesus said unto them, The sonne of man shall be betrayed into the hands of men:

23 And they shall kill him, and the third day he shall be raised again: and they were exceeding sory.

24 ¶ [6] And when they were come to Capernaum, they that received [i] tribute money, came to Peter, and said, [i] Doth not your master [k] pay [l] tribute?

25 He saith, Yes. And when he was come into the house, Jesus prevented him, saying, What thinkest thou, Simon? of whom do the kings of the earth take custome or tribute? of their own [m] children, or of strangers?

26 Peter saith unto him, Of strangers. Jesus saith unto him, Then are the children free.

27 Notwithstanding, lest we should offend them, go thou to the sea, and cast an hook, and take up the fish that first cometh up: and when thou hast opened his mouth, thou shalt finde a [n] piece of money: that take, and give unto them for me and thee.

CHAP. XVIII.

1 Christ warneth his disciples to be humble and harmlesse, 7 to avoid offences, and not to despise the little ones: 15 teacheth how we are to deal with our brethren, when they offend us, 21 and how oft to forgive them; 23 which he setteth forth by a parable of the king, that took account of his servants, 32 and punished him who shewed no mercy to his fellow.

AT * the same time came the disciples unto Jesus, saying, Who is the greatest in the kingdome of heaven?

2 [1] And Jesus called a [a] little childe unto him, and set him in the midst of them,

3 And said, Verily I say unto you, * Except ye be [b] converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdome of heaven.

4 Whosoever therefore shall humble himself as this little childe, the same is greatest in the kingdome of heaven.

5 And whoso shall receive one such little childe in my name, receiveth me.

6 * [2] But whoso shall offend one of these little ones which beleeve in me, it were better for him that a milstone were hanged about his neck, and that he were drowned in the depth of the sea.

7 ¶ [3] Wo unto the world because of offences: for it must needs be that [c] offences come: but wo to that man by whom the offence cometh.

8 * Wherefore if thy hand or thy foot offend thee, cut them off, and cast them from thee: it is better for thee to enter into life halt or maimed, rather than having two hands or two feet, to be cast into everlasting fire.

m Here is set down a very great summe of threescore hundred thousand crowns, and a small summe of ten crowns, that the difference may be the greater, for there is no proportion between them.

t A talent is 750 ounces of silver, which after five shillings the ounce, is 187 li. 10 shillings.

25 But forasmuch as he had not to pay, his lord commanded him to be sold, and his wife and children, and all that he had, and payment to be made.

26 The servant therefore fell down, and [u] worshipped him, saying, Lord have [o] patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

u This was a civill reverence which was very usuall in the east.

o Yeeld not too much to thine anger against me: so is God called in the scripture, slow to anger, that is to say gentle, and one that refraineth the storming of his minde, Psal. 86, 5. patient and of great mercy.

27 Then the lord of that servant was moved with compassion, and loosed him, and forgave him the debt.

28 But the same servant went out, and found one of his fellow-servants which ought him an hundred [t] pence: and he laid hands on him, and took him by the throat, saying, Pay me that thou owest.

29 And his fellow-servant fell down at his feet, and besought him, saying, Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all.

30 And he would not: but went and cast him into prison, till he should pay the debt:

31 So when his fellow-servants saw what was done, they were very sorie, and came and told unto their lord all that was done.

32 Then his lord, after that he had called him, said unto him, O thou wicked servant, I forgave thee all that debt, because thou desiredst me:

33 Shouldst not thou also have had compassion on thy fellow-servant, even as I had pity on thee?

34 And his lord was wroth, and delivered him to the tormentours, till he should pay all that was due unto him.

35 So likewise shall my heavenly Father do also unto you, if ye from your hearts forgive not every one his brother their trespasses.

CHAP. XIX.

2 Christ healeth the sick; 3 answereth the Pharisees concerning divorcement: 10 sheweth when marriage is necessary: 13 receiveth little children: 16 instructeth the young man how to attain eternall life, 20 and how to be perfect: 23 telleth his disciples how hard it is for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God: 27 and promiseth reward to those that forsake any thing, to follow him.

AND it came to passe, * that when Jesus had finished these sayings, he [a] departed from Galilee, and came into the coasts of Judea, beyond Jordan:

* Mark 10, 1.

a Passed over the water out of Galilee into the border of Judea.

2 And great multitudes followed him, and he healed them there.

3 ¶ [1] The Pharisees also came unto him, tempting him, and saying unto him, Is it lawfull for a man to [b] put away his wife for every cause?

1 The band of marriage ought not to be broken, unlesse it be for fornication.

10 ¶ His disciples say unto him, If the i case of the man be so with his wife, it is not good to marry.

11 But he said unto them, All men cannot k receive this saying, save they to whom it is given:

12 For there are some l eunuchs, which were so born from their mothers wombe: and there are some eunuchs, which were made eunuchs of men: and there be eunuchs, which have m made themselves eunuchs for the kingdome of heavens sake. He that is able to receive it, let him receive it.

13 ¶ * 4 Then were there brought unto him little children, that he should put his hands on them, and pray: and the disciples rebuked them.

14 * But Jesus said, Suffer little children, and forbid them not to come unto me: for of such is the kingdome of heaven.

15 And he laid his hands on them, and departed thence.

16 ¶ * And behold, one came and said unto him, Good master, what good thing shall I do that I may have eternall life?

17 5 And he said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is none good but one, that is God: but if thou wilt enter into life, keep the commandments.

18 He saith unto him, Which? Jesus said, * Thou shalt do no murder, Thou shalt not commit adultery, Thou shalt not steal, Thou shalt not bear false witnesse.

19 Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self.

20 The young man saith unto him, All these things have I kept from my youth up: what lack I yet?

21 Jesus said unto him, If thou wilt be n perfect, go and sell that thou hast, and give to the poore, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven: and come and follow me.

22 But when the young man heard that saying, he went away sorrowfull: for he had great possessions.

24 And again I say unto you, It is o easier for a p camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

25 When his disciples heard it, they were exceedingly amazed, saying, Who then can be saved?

26 But Jesus beheld them, and said unto them, With men this is unpossible, but with God all things are possible.

27 ¶ * Then answered Peter, and said unto him, Behold, we have forsaken all, and followed thee, what shall we have therefore?

28 7 And Jesus said unto them, Verily I say unto you, that ye which have followed me in the q regeneration, when the Sonne of man shall sit in the throne of his glory, * ye also shall sit upon twelve thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.

29 And every one that hath forsaken houses, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my names sake, shall receive an hundred fold, and shall inherit everlasting life.

CHAP. XX.

1 Christ by the similitude of the labourers in the vineyard, sheweth that God is debter unto no man, 17 foretelleth his passion, 20 by answering the mother of Zebedees children, teacheth his disciples to be lowly, 30 and giveth two blinde men their sight.

FOr the kingdome of heaven is like unto a man that is an 1 housholder, which went out early in the morning to hire labourers into his vineyard.

2 And when he had a agreed with the labourers for a ‡ peny a day, he sent them into his vineyard.

3 And he went out about the third houre, and saw others standing idle in the market-place,

4 And said unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right, I will give you. And they went their way.

5 Again he went out about the sixth and ninth houre, and did likewise.

6 And about the b eleventh houre he went out, and found others standing idle, and saith unto them, Why stand ye here all the day idle?

7 They say unto him, Because no man hath hired us. He saith unto them, Go ye also into the vineyard, and whatsoever is right, that shall ye receive.

8 So when even was come, the lord of the vineyard saith unto his steward, Call the labourers, and give them their hire, beginning from the last unto the first.

9 And when they came that were hired about the eleventh houre, they received every man a peny.

10 But when the first came, they supposed that they should have received more, and they likewise received every man a peny.

11 And when they had received it, they murmured against the good man of the house, 12 Saying, These last ‡ have wrought but one houre, and thou hast made them equall unto us, which have born the burden and heat of the day.

13 But he answered one of them, and said, Friend, I do thee no wrong: didst not thou agree with me for a penie?

14 Take that thine is, and go thy way, I will give unto this last, even as unto thee.

15 Is it not lawfull for me to do what I will with mine own? c is thine eye evil because I am good?

1 God is bound to no man, and therefore he calleth whomsoever, and whensoever he listeth. This onely every man ought to take heed of, and hereupon bestow his whole endeavour, that he goe forward and come to the mark without all stopping or staggering and not curiously to examine other mens doings, or the judgements of God.
a Word for Word, fell in time: it is a kinde of speech taken from song.
‡ The Romane peny is the eighth part of an ounce, which after five shillings the ounce, is seven pence half-peny.
b The last houre, for the day was twelve houres long, and the first houre began at the sun-rising.

c Nought, that is to say, doest thou envie at my goodnesse towards them? for the Hebrews by an evil eye meane envie, because such dispositions appear chiefly in the eyes, as above Chap. 6, 23. It is set to answer the word, single, and it is taken there for corrupt: for whereas he said there afore, vers. 22. If thine eye be single, he addeth in the 23, but if thine eye be wicked, or corrupt, the word being the same in that place, as it is here.

16 * So the last shall be first, and the first last: for many be called, but few chosen.

17 ¶ * [2] And Jesus going up to Jerusalem, took the twelve disciples apart in the way, and said unto them,

18 [3] Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and the sonne of man shall be betrayed unto the chief priests, and unto the Scribes, and they shall condemne him to death,

19 * [4] And shall deliver him to the Gentiles to mock and to scourge, and to crucifie him: and the third day he shall rise again.

20 ¶ * [5] Then came to him the mother of Zebedees children, with her sonnes, worshipping him, and desiring a certain thing of him.

21 And he said unto her, What wilt thou? She saith unto him, Grant that these my two sonnes may sit, the one on thy right hand, and the other on the left in thy kingdome, 22 But Jesus answered and said, Ye know not what ye ask. Are ye able to [d] drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with the [e] baptisme that I am baptized with? They say unto him, We are able.

23 And he saith unto them, Ye shall drink indeed of my cup, and be baptized with the baptisme that I am baptized with: but to sit on my right hand, and on my left, is not [f] mine to give, but it shall be given to them for whom it is prepared of my Father.

24 And when the ten heard it, they were moved with indignation against the two brethren.

25 But Jesus called them unto him, and said, * Ye know that the princes of the Gentiles exercise [g] dominion over them, and they that are great, exercise authority upon them.

26 But it shall not be so among you: but whosoever will be great among you, let him be your minister.

27 And whosoever will be chief among you, let him be your servant.

28 Even as the * Sonne of man came not to be ministred unto, but to minister, and to give his life a ransome for many.

29 * [6] And as they departed from Jericho, a great multitude followed him.

30 ¶ And behold, two blinde men sitting by the way side, when they heard that Jesus passed by, cried out, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou sonne of David.

31 And the multitude rebuked them, because they should hold their peace: but they cried the more, saying, Have mercy on us, O Lord, thou sonne of David.

32 And Jesus stood still, and [h] called them, and said, What will ye that I shall do unto you?

33 They say unto him, LORD, that our eyes may be opened.

34 So Jesus had compassion on them, and touched their eyes: and immediately their eyes received sight, and they followed him.

CHAP. XXI.

1 Christ rideth into Jerusalem upon an asse, 12 driveth the buyers and sellers out of the temple, 17 curseth the fig-tree. 23 putteth to silence the priests and elders, 28 and rebuketh them by the similitude of the two sonnes, 35 and the husbandmen, who slew such as were sent unto them.

AND * [1] when they drew nigh unto Jerusalem, and were come to Bethphage, unto the mount of Olives, then sent Jesus two disciples.

2 Saying unto them, Go into the village over against you and straight way ye shall finde an asse tied, and a colt with her: loose them, and bring them unto me.

3 And if any man say ought unto you, ye shall say, The Lord hath need of them; and straightway he [a] will send them.

4 All this was done, that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, saying,

5 * Tell ye the [b] daughter of Sion, Behold, thy king cometh unto thee, meek, and sitting upon an asse, and a colt the foal of an asse.

6 * And the disciples went, and did as Jesus commanded them,

7 And brought the asse, and the colt, and put on them their [c] clothes, and they set him [d] thereon.

8 And a very great multitude spread their garments in the way, others cut down branches from the trees, and strawed them in the way.

9 And the multitudes that went before, and that followed, cryed, saying, [e] Hosanna to the sonne of David: [f] blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord, Hosanna in the highest.

10 * And when he was come unto Jerusalem, [g] all the city was moved, saying, Who is this?

11 And the multitude said, This is Jesus the prophet of Nazareth of Galilee.

12 ¶ And Jesus went into the temple of God, and cast out all them that sold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the seats of them that sold doves, 13 And said unto them, It is written, * My house shall be called the house of prayer, * but ye have made it a den of theeves.

14 And the blinde and the lame came to him in the temple, and he healed them.

15 [2] And when the chief priests and Scribes saw the wonderfull things that he did, and the children crying in the temple, and saying, Hosanna to the sonne of David; they were sore displeased, 16 And said unto him, Heares thou what these say? And Jesus saith unto them, Yea; have ye never read, * Out of the mouth of babes and sucklings thou hast [h] perfected praise?

17 ¶ [3] And he left them, and went out of the city into Bethanie, and he lodged there.

18 [4] Now in the morning as he returned into the city, he hungred.

19 * And when he saw a fig-tree in the way, he

20 And when the disciples saw it, they marvelled, saying, How soon is the fig-tree withered away?

21 [5] Jesus answered and said unto them, Verily I say unto you, If ye have faith and [i] doubt not, ye shall not onely do this which is done to the fig-tree, but also if ye shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast into the sea; it shall be done.

22 And all things whatsoever ye shall ask in prayer, beleeving, ye shall receive.

23 ¶ * [6] And when he was come into the temple, the chief priests and the elders of the people came unto him as he was teaching, and said, By what [k] authority doest thou these things? and who gave thee this authoritie?

24 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I also will [l] ask you one thing, which if you tell me, I in like wise will tell you by what authoritie I do these things.

25 The [m] baptisme of John, whence was it? from [n] heaven, or of men? and they [o] reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven, he will say unto us, Why did ye not then beleeve him?

26 But if we shall say, Of men; we fear the people, * for all hold John as a prophet.

27 And they answered Jesus, and said, We cannot tell. And he said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authoritie I do these things.

28 ¶ [7] But what think you? A certain man had two sonnes, and he came to the first, and said, Sonne, go work to day in my vineyard.

29 He answered and said, I will not: but afterward he repented, and went.

30 And he came to the second, and said likewise. And he answered and said, I go sir, and went not.

31 Whether of them twain did the will of his father? They say unto him, The first. Jesus saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, that the publicanes and the harlots [p] go into the kingdome of God before you.

32 For * John came unto you in the [q] way of righteousnesse, and ye beleeved him not: but the publicanes and the harlots beleeved him. And ye when ye had seen it, repented not afterward, that ye might beleeve him.

33 ¶ [r] Heare another parable, There was a certain housholder * which planted a vineyard, and hedged it round about, and digged a winepresse in it, and built a [s] tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a farre countrey.

34 [t] And when the time of the fruit drew neare, he sent his servants to the husbandmen, that they might receive the fruits of it.

35 And the husbandmen took his servants, and beat one, and killed another, and stoned another.

36 Again, he sent other servants, more than the first: and they did unto them likewise.

37 But last of all, he sent unto them his sonne, saying, They will reverence my sonne.

38 But when the husbandmen saw the sonne, they said among themselves, This is the heir, * come, let us kill him, and let us [f] seise on his inheritance.

39 And they caught him, and cast him out of the vineyard, and slew him.

40 When the Lord therefore of the vineyard cometh, what will he do unto those husbandmen?

41 They say unto him, He will [t] miserably destroy those wicked men, and will let out his vineyard unto other husbandmen, which shall render him the fruits in their seasons.

42 Jesus saith unto them, * Did ye never reade in the scriptures, The stone which the [u] builders rejected, the same is [x] become the [y] head of the corner? this is the [z] Lords doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes.

43 Therefore say I unto you, The kingdome of God shall be taken from you, and given to a nation bringing forth the [a] fruits thereof.

44 And whosoever * shall fall on this stone, shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will [b] grinde him to powder, 45 And when the chief priests and Pharisees had heard his parables, they perceived that he spake of them.

46 [9] But when they sought to lay hands on him, they feared the multitude, because they took him for a prophet.

1 The parable of the marriage of the kings son. 9 The vocation of the Gentiles. 12 The punishment of him that wanted the wedding garment. 15 Tribute ought to be paid to Cesar. 23 Christ confuteth the Sadduces for the resurrection, 34 answereth the lawyer, which is the first and great commandment, 41 and poseth the Pharisees about the Messias.

AND [1] Jesus answered * and spake unto them again by parables, and said,

2 The kingdome of heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his sonne,

3 And sent forth his servants to call them that where bidden to the wedding: and they would not come,

4 Again he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are [a] killed, and all things are readie: come unto the marriage.

5 But they made light of it, and went their wayes, one to his farm, another to his merchandise:

6 And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them.

7 [2] But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and he sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burnt up their citie.

8 Then saith he to his servants, The [b] wedding is 10 So those servants went out into the highwayes, and gathered together all as many as they found, both [c] bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.

11 ¶ [4] And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment:

12 And he saith unto him, Friend, how camest thou in hither, not having a wedding garment? And he was [d] speechlesse.

13 Then said the king to the [e] servants, Binde him hand and foot, and take him away, and cast him into outer darknesse: there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

15 ¶ * Then went the Pharisees, and took counsel how they might [f] intangle him in his talk.

16 And they sent out unto him their disciples, with the [g] Herodians, saying, Master, we know that thou art true, and teachest the way of God in [h] truth, neither carest thou for any man: for thou regardest not the [i] person of men.

17 [5] Tell us therefore, What thinkest thou? Is it lawfull to give [k] tribute unto Cesar, or not?

18 But Jesus perceived their wickednesse, and said, Why tempt ye me, ye hypocrites?

19 Shew me the tribute-money. And they brought unto him a ‡ [l] penie.

20 And he saith unto them, Whose is this image and ‡ superscription?

21 They say unto him, Cesars. Then saith he unto them, * Render therefore unto Cesar, the things which are Cesars: and unto God, the things that are Gods.

22 When they had heard these words, they marvelled, and left him, and went their way.

23 ¶ * [6] The same day came to him the Sadduces, * which say that there is no resurrection, and asked him.

24 Saying, Master, * Moses said, If a man die, having no [m] children, his brother shall marry his wife, and raise up seed unto his brother, 25 Now there were with us seven brethren, and the first when he had married a wife, deceased, and having no issue, left his wife unto his brother.

26 Likewise the second also, and the third, unto the seventh.

27 And last of all the woman died also.

28 Therefore in the resurrection whose wife shall she be of the seven? for they all had her.

29 Jesus answered and said unto them, Ye do erre, not knowing the scriptures, nor the power of God.

30 For in the resurrection they neither marrie, nor are given in marriage; but are as the [n] angels of God in heaven.

31 But as touching the resurrection of the dead, have ye not read that which was spoken unto you by God, saying, 32 * I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob? God is not the God of the dead, but of the living.

33 And when the multitude heard this, they were astonished at his doctrine.

34 ¶ [7] But when the Pharisees had heard that he had put the Sadducees to silence, they were gathered together.

35 Then [o] one of them which was a lawyer, asked him a question, tempting him, and saying,

36 Master, which is the great commandment in the law?

37 Jesus said unto him, * Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy [p] soul, and with all thy minde.

38 This is the first and great commandment.

39 And the second is like unto it, * Thou shalt love thy [q] neighbour as thy self.

40 On these two commandments hang all the law and the prophets.

41 ¶ * [8] While the Pharisees were gathered together, Jesus asked them, 42 Saying, What think ye of Christ? [r] whose sonne is he? They say unto him, The sonne of David.

43 He saith unto them, How then doth David in spirit call him LORD, saying, 44 The LORD said unto my Lord, * Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool?

45 If David then call him Lord, how is he his sonne?

46 And no man was able to answer him a word, neither durst any man (from that day forth) ask him any more questions.

39 For I say unto you, Ye shall not see me henceforth, till ye shall say, Blessed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

CHAP. XXIIII.

1 Christ foretelleth the destruction of the temple: 3 what and how great calamities shall be before it. 29 The signes of his coming to judgement. 36 And because that day and houre is unknown, 42 we ought to watch like good servants, expecting every moment our masters coming.

AND * Jesus went out, and departed from the temple; and his disciples came to him for to shew him the buildings of the temple.

* Deut. 22, 12.
c It was a thread, or ribband of blue silk in the fringe of a garment, the beholding whereof made them to remember the laws and ordinances of God: and therefore was it called a phylactorie, as ye would say, a keeper, Num. 15, 38. * Mark 12, 38, 39. Luke 11, 43.
e When assemblies and councels are gathered together.
f This word Rab, signifieth one that is above his fellowes, and is as good as a number of them: and we may see by the repeating of it, how proud a title it was. Now they were called Rabbi, which by laying on of hands were uttered and declared to the world to be wisemen.

5 Hypocrites can abide none to be better than themselves.
* Luke 11, 52.
m Christ when he reproveth any man sharply, useth this word, to give us to understand, that there is nothing more detestable than hypocrisie and falsehood in religion. n Which are even at the doore. 6 It is a common thing amongst hypocrites to abuse the pretence of zeal to covetousnes and extortion. * Mark 12, 40. Luke 20, 47. o Word for word, under a colour of long praying. And this word, Even, noteth a double naughtinesse in them: the one, that they devoured widows goods: the other, that they did it under a colour of godlinesse. p The dry part: how that part of the earth is called dry, which the Lord hath given us to dwell upon. q Sinnes are called in the Syrians tongue, Debts: and it is certain that Christ spake in the Syrian tongue. r Causeth the gold to be counted holy, which is dedicate to an holy use. ‡ Or debter, or bound. s If heaven be Gods throne, then is he no doubt above all this world. 7 Hypocrites are carefull in trifles, and neglect the greatest things of purpose. * Luke 11, 42.

8 Hypocrites are too much carefull of outward things, and the inward they utterly contemne.
* Luke 11, 39.
9 Hypocrites when they go most about to covet their wickednesse, then do they by the just judgement of God shame themselves.

i Those things which befell the people of the Jews in the 34 yeares when as the whole land was wasted, and at length the city of Jerusalem taken, and both it, and their temple destroyed, are mixted with those which shall come to passe before the last coming of our Lord. k The whole nation should utterly be destroyed: and this word Flesh, is by a figure taken for man, as the Hebrews use to speak. * Mark 13, 21. Luk. 17, 23. l Shall openly lay forth great signes for men to behold.

2 [1] And Jesus said unto them, See ye not all these things? verily I say unto you, * There shall not be left here one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 ¶ And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, the disciples came unto him privately, saying, Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the signe of thy coming, and of the end of the world?

4 [2] And Jesus answered and said unto them, Take heed that no man deceive you.

5 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ: and shall deceive many.

6 And ye shall heare of warres, and rumours of warres: see that ye be not troubled: for all these things must come to passe, but the end is [a] not yet.

7 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome, and there shall be famines, and pestilences, and earthquakes in [b] divers places.

8 All these are the beginning of [c] sorrows.

9 * Then shall they deliver you up to be afflicted, and shall kill you: and ye shall be hated of all nations for my names sake.

10 And then shall many be offended, & shall betray one another, & shall hate one another.

11 And many false prophets shall rise, and shall deceive many.

12 And because iniquitie shall abound, the love of many shall wax cold.

13 [3] But he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

14 And this [d] gospel of the kingdome shall be preached in [e] all the world, for a witnesse unto all nations, and then shall the end come.

15 * [4] When ye therefore shall see the [f] abomination of desolation spoken of by * Daniel the prophet, stand in the holy place, (whoso readeth, let him understand)

16 Then let them which be in Judea, flee into the mountains.

17 Let him which is on the house top, not come down to take any thing out of his house:

18 Neither let him which is in the field, return back to take his [g] clothes.

19 And wo unto them that are with childe, and to them that give suck in those dayes.

20 But pray ye that your flight be not in the winter, neither on the [h] sabbath-day:

21 For then shall be great tribulation, such as was not since the beginning of the world to this time, no, nor ever shall be.

22 And [i] except those dayes should be shortened, there should no [k] flesh be saved, but for the elects sake those dayes shall be shortened.

23 * Then if any man shall say unto you, Lo, here is Christ, or there: beleeve it not.

24 For there shall arise false Christs, and false prophets, and shall [l] shew great signes and wonders, insomuch that (if it were possible) they shall deceive the very elect.

25 Behold, I have told you before.

26 Wherefore, if they shall say unto you, Behold, he is in the desert, go not forth: behold, heis in the secret chambers, beleeve it not.

27 For as the lightning cometh out of the east, and shineth even unto the west: so shall also the coming of the Sonne of man be.

28 * [5] For whersoever the [m] carcase is, there will the eagles be gathered together.

29 ¶ [6] Immediately after the tribulation of those dayes, * shall the sunne be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light, and the starres shall fall from heaven, and the powers of the heaven shall be shaken.

30 And then shall appeare the [n] signe of the Sonne of man in heaven: and then shall all the [o] tribes of the earth [p] mourn, * and they shall see the Sonne of man [q] coming in the clouds of heaven, with power and great glory.

31 * And he shall send his angels ‡ with a great sound of a trumpet, and they shall gather together his elect from the [r] foure windes, from one end of heaven to the other.

32 [7] Now learn a parable of the fig-tree: When his branch is yet [s] tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is nigh:

33 So likewise ye, when ye shall see all these things, know that it is neare, even at the doores.

34 Verily I say unto you, This [t] generation shall not passe, till all these things be fulfilled.

35 * [8] Heaven and earth shall passe away, but my words shall not passe away.

36 ¶ [9] But of that day and houre knoweth no man, no, not the angels of heaven, but my Father onely.

37 But as the dayes of Noe were, so shall also the coming of the Sonne of man be.

38 * For as in the dayes that were before the floud, they were [u] eating and drinking, marrying and giving in marriage, untill the day that Noe entred into the ark, 39 And knew not untill the floud came, and took them all away; so shall also the coming of the Sonne of man be.

40 * [10] Then shall two be in the field, the one shall be taken, and the other left.

41 [x] Two women shall be grinding at the mill, the one shall be taken, and the other left.

42 ¶ * [11] Watch therefore, for ye know not what houre your Lord doth come.

43 * But known this, that if the good man of the house had known in what watch the thief would come, he would have watched, and would not have suffered his house to be broken up.

44 Therefore be ye also ready: for in such an houre as you think not, the Sonne of man cometh.

45 * Who then is a faithfull and wise servant, whom his Lord hath made ruler over his houshold, to give them meat in due season.

46 Blessed is that servant, whom his Lord when he cometh, shall finde so doing.

47 Verily I say unto you, that he shall make him ruler over all his goods.

48 But and if that evil servant shall say in his heart, My Lord delayeth his coming,

49 And shall begin to smite his fellow-servants, and to eat and drink with the drunken:

CHAP. XXV.

1 The parable of the ten virgins, 14 and of the talents.
31 Also the description of the last judgement.

THen [1] shall the kingdome of heaven be likened unto ten virgins, which took their lamps, and [a] went forth to meet the bridegroom.

1 We must desire strength at Gods hand, which may serve us as a torch whiles we walk through this darknesse, to bring us to our desired end: otherwise if we become slothfull and negligent, as wearie of our paines and travell we shall be shut out of the doores.
a The pomp of bridales was wont for the most part to be kept in the night seasons, and that by damsels.

2 And five of them were wise, and five were foolish.

3 They that were foolish took their lamps, and took no oyl with them:

4 But the wise took oyl in their vessels with their lamps.

5 While the bridegroom tarried, they all [b] slumbred and slept.

b Their eyes being heavy with sleep.

6 And at midnight there was a cry made, Behold, the bridegroom cometh, go ye out to meet him.

7 Then all those virgins arose, and trimmed their lamps.

8 And the foolish said unto the wise; Give us of your oyl, for our lamps are ‡ gone out.

‡ Or, going out.

9 But the wise answered, saying, Not so; lest there be not enough for us and you, but go ye rather to them that sell, and buy for your selves.

10 And while they went to buy, the bridegroom came, and they that were ready, went in with him to the marriage, and the doore was shut.

11 Afterward came also the other virgins, saying, Lord, Lord, open to us.

12 But he answered and said, Verily I say unto you, I know you not.

13 * Watch therefore, for ye know neither the day nor the houre, wherein the Sonne of man cometh.

* Chap. 24, 42. Mark 13, 33. * Luk. 19, 12.

14 ¶ * [2] For the kingdome of heaven is as a man travelling into a farre countrey, who called his own servants, and delivered unto them his goods:

2 Christ witnesseth that there shall be a long time between his departure to his Father, and his coming again to us, but yet notwithstanding, that he will at that day take an account not only of the rebellious and obstinate, how they have bestowed that which they received of him, but also of his household servants, which have not through slothfulnesse employed those gifts which he bestowed upon them.

15 And unto one he gave five ‡ talents, to another two, and to another one, to every man according to his severall [c] ability, and straightway took his journey.

‡ A talent is 187 pounds 10 shillings.
c According to the wisdome and skill in dealing, which was given them.

16 Then he that had received the five talents, went and traded with the same, and made them other five talents.

17 And likewise he that had received two, he also gained other two.

18 But he that had received one, went and digged in the earth, and hid his lords money.

19 After a long time, the lord of those servants cometh, and reckoneth with them.

20 And so he that had received five talents, came and brought other five talents, saying, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me five talents, behold, I have gained besides them five talents moe.

21 His lord said unto him, Well done, thou good and faithfull servant, thou hast been faithfull over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things, [d] enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

d Come and receive the fruit of my goodnesse: now the Lords joy is doubled, John 15, 11. that my joy may remain in you, and your joy be fulfilled.

22 He also that had received two talents, came and said, Lord, thou deliveredst unto me two talents: behold, I have gained two other talents besides them.

23 His lord said unto him, Well done, good and faithfull servant, thou hast been faithfull over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things: enter thou into the joy of thy lord.

24 Then he which had received the one talent, came and said, Lord, I knew thee that thou art an hard man, reaping where thou hast not sown, and gathering where thou hast not strawed:

25 And I was afraid, and went and hid thy talent in the earth: lo there thou hast that is thine.

26 His lord answered and said unto him, Thou wicked and slothfull servant, thou knewest that I reap where I sowed not, and gather where I have not strawed.

27 Thou oughtest therefore to have put my money to the [e] exchangers, and then at my coming I should have received mine own with usury.

e Table mates which have their shop bulks, or tables set abroad, where they let out money to usury.

28 Take therefore the talent from him and give it unto him which hath ten talents.

29 * For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance: but from him that hath not shall be taken away, even that which he hath.

* Chap. 13, 12. Mark 4, 25. Luke 8, 18.

30 And cast ye the unprofitable servant into outer darknesse, there shall be weeping and gnashing of teeth.

31 ¶ [3] When the Sonne of man shall come in his glory, and all the holy angels with him, then shall be sit upon the throne of his glory.

3 A lively setting forth of the everlasting judgement which is to come.

32 And before him shall be gathered all nations, and he shall separate them one from another, as a shepherd divideth his sheep from the goats:

33 And he shall set the sheep on his right hand, but the goats on the left.

34 Then shall the king say unto them on his right hand, Come ye [f] blessed of my Father, inherit the kingdome prepared for you from the foundation of the world.

f Blessed and happy, upon whom my Father hath most abundantly bestowed his benefits.

35 * For I was an hungred, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in:

* Isa. 58, 7. Ezek. 18, 7.

36 Naked

36 Naked, and ye clothed me: I was ſick and ye viſited me: I was in priſon, and ye came unto me.

37 Then ſhall the righteous anſwer him, ſaying, Lord, when ſaw we thee an hungred, and fed thee? or thirſtie, and gave thee drink?

38 When ſaw we thee a ſtranger, and took thee in? or naked, and clothed thee?

39 Or when ſaw we thee ſick, or in priſon, and came unto thee?

40 And the king ſhall anſwer, and ſay unto them, Verily I ſay unto you, In as much as ye have done it unto one of the leaſt of theſe my brethren, ye have done it unto me.

41 Then ſhall he ſay alſo unto them on the left hand, * Depart from me, ye curſed, into everlaſting fire, prepared for the devil and his angels.

* Pſal. 6, 8. Chap. 7, 23.

42 For I was an hungred, and ye gave me no meat: I was thirſtie, and ye gave me no drink:

43 I was a ſtranger, and ye took me not in: naked, and ye clothed me not: ſick, and in priſon, and ye viſited me not.

44 Then ſhall they alſo anſwer him, ſaying, Lord, when ſaw we thee an hungred, or athirſt, or a ſtranger, or naked, or ſick, or in priſon, and did not miniſter unto thee?

54 Then ſhall he anſwer them, ſaying, Verily I ſay unto you, In as much as ye did it not to one of the leaſt of theſe, ye did it not to me.

* Dan. 12, 2. John 5, 29.

46 And * theſe ſhall go away into everlaſting puniſhment: but the righteous into life eternall.

Chap. XXVI.

1 The rulers conſpire againſt Chriſt. 6 The woman anointeth his feet. 14 Iudas ſelleth him. 17 Chriſt eateth the paſſeover: 26 inſtituteth his holy ſupper: 36 prayeth in the garden: 47 and being betrayed with a kiſſe, 57 is carried to Caiaphas, 69 and denied of Peter.

1 Chriſt witneſſeth by his voluntary going to death, that he will make full ſatisfaction for the ſinne of Adam, by his obedience.

AND [1] it came to paſſe, when Jeſus had finiſhed all theſe ſayings, he ſaid unto his diſciples,

2 * [2] Ye know that after two dayes is the feaſt of the paſſeover, and the ſonne of man is betrayed to be crucified.

* Mark 14, 1. Luke 22, 1. John 13, 1.

2 God himſelf and not men appointed the time that Chriſt ſhould be crucified in.

3 * Then aſſembled together the chief prieſts, and the Scribes, and the elders of the people, unto the palace of the high prieſt, who was called Caiaphas.

* Joh. 11, 47.

4 And conſulted that they might take Jeſus by ſubtiltie, and kill him.

5 But they ſaid, Not on the [a] feaſt day, leſt there be an uproar among the people.

a By this word Feaſt, is meant the whole feaſt of unleavened bread: the firſt and eight day whereof, were ſo holy, that they might do no manner of work therein, though the whole company of the Sanhedrin determined otherwiſe: And yet it came to paſſe through Gods providence, that Chriſt ſuffered at that time, to the end that all the people of Iſrael might be witneſſes of his everlaſting ſacrifice. * Mark 14, 3. Joh. 11, 1.

6 ¶ * [3] Now when Jeſus was in Bethanie, in the houſe of Simon the leper,

3 By this ſudden work of a ſinfull woman, Chriſt giveth the gueſts to underſtand of his death and buriall which was nigh, the ſavour whereof ſhall bring life to all ſinners which flee unto him. But Judas taketh an occaſion hereby to accompliſh his wicked purpoſe and counſel. b For theſe things were done before Chriſt came to Jeruſalem, and yet ſome think that the Evangeliſts recite two hiſtories. c Theſe boxes were of alabaſter, which in old time men made hollow to put in ointments: for ſome write that alabaſter keepeth ointment very well without corruption, Plinie book 13. ch. 1.

7 [b] There came unto him a woman having an alabaſter [c] box of very precious ointment, and poured it on his head, as he ſat at meat.

8 But when his [d] diſciples ſaw it, they had indignation, ſaying, To what purpoſe is this [e] waſte?

d This is a figure called Synecdoche: for it is ſaid but of Judas, that he was moved thereat, John 12, 14.

e Unprofitable ſpending.

9 For this ointment might have been ſold for much, and given to the poore.

10 [4] When Jeſus underſtood it, he ſaid unto them, Why trouble ye the woman? for ſhe hath wrought a good work upon me.

4 We ought not raſhly to condemn that which is not orderly done.

11 * [5] For ye have the poore alwayes with you, but me ye have not alwayes.

* Deut. 15, 11.

5 Chriſt who was once anointed in his own perſon, muſt alwayes be anointed in the poore.

12 For [f] in that ſhe hath poured this ointment on my body, ſhe did it for my buriall.

f In that ſhe poured this ointment upon my body, ſhe did it to bury me.

13 Verily I ſay unto you, Whereſoever this goſpel ſhall be preached in the whole world, there ſhall alſo this, that this woman hath done, be told for a memoriall of her.

14 ¶ * Then one of the twelve, called Judas Iſcariot, went unto the chief prieſts,

* Mark 14, 10. Luke 22, 3.

15 And ſaid unto them, What will ye give me, and I will deliver him unto you? and they covenanted with him for thirty pieces of ſilver.

16 And from that time he ſought opportunity to betray him.

17 ¶ * [6] Now the [g] firſt day of the feaſt of unleavened bread, the diſciples came to Jeſus, ſaying unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare for thee to eat the paſſeover?

* Mark 14, 12. Luke 22, 7.

6 Chriſt verily purpoſing to bring us into our countrey out of hand, and ſo to abrogate the figure of the Law, fulfilleth the Law, neglecting the contrary tradition and cuſtome of the Jews: and therewithall ſheweth that all things ſhall ſo come to paſſe by the miniſtery of men, that the ſecret counſel of God ſhall govern them.

18 And he ſaid, Go into the citie to ſuch a man, and ſay unto him, The maſter ſaith, My time is at hand, I will keep the paſſeover at thy houſe with my diſciples.

19 And the diſciples did as Jeſus had appointed them, and they made ready the paſſeover.

g This was the fourteenth day of the firſt moneth: and the firſt day of unleavened bread ſhould have been the fifteenth, but becauſe this dayes evening (which after the manner of the Romanes was referred to the day before) did belong by the Jews manner to the day following, therefore it is called the firſt day of unleavened bread.

20 * Now when the even was come, he [h] ſat down with the twelve.

* Mark 14, 18. Luke 22, 14. Joh. 13, 21.

21 And as they did eat, he ſaid, Verily I ſay unto you, that one of you ſhall betray me.

22 And they were exceeding ſorrowfull, and began every one of them to ſay unto him, Lord, is it I?

23 And he anſwered and ſaid, * He that [i] dippeth his hand with me in the diſh, the ſame ſhall betray me.

h Becauſe the Law appointed them to be ſhod, and have their ſtaves in their hands, as though they were in haſte, thereby 24 The ſonne of man goeth as it is written of him: but wo unto that man by whom the Sonne of man is betrayed: it had been good for that man, if he had not been born.

25 Then [k] Judas, which betrayed him, anſwered, and ſaid, Maſter, is it I? He ſaid unto him, Thou haſt ſaid.

26 ¶ [7] And as they were eating, * Jeſus took bread, and ‡ [l] bleſſed it, and brake it, and gave it

27 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and gave it to them, saying, Drink ye n all of it:

n Therefore they which took away the cup from the people did against Christ his institution.

28 o For this is my bloud of the p new testament which is shed for many for the remission of sinnes.

o To wit, This cup or wine, is my bloud sacramentally, as Luke 22, 10.

q When they had made an end of their solemn singing, which some think was six psalmes, beginning at the 112 to the 117.

31 r Then saith Jesus unto them, * All ye shall be offended because of me this night: for it is written, * I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock shall be scattered abroad.

r Christ being more carefull of his disciples than of himself, forewarneth them of their flight, and putteth them in better comfort.

36 ¶ * s Then cometh Jesus with them unto a place called Gethsemane, and saith unto the disciples, Sit ye here, while I go and pray yonder.

* Mark 14, 32. Luke 22, 39.

s Christ having regard to the weakenesse of his disciples, leaving all the rest in safetie, taketh with him but three to be witnesses of his anguish, and goeth of purpose into the place appointed to betray him in.

37 And he took with him, Peter, and the two sonnes of Zebedee, and began to be t sorrowfull, and very heavy.

t The word which he useth, signifieth great sorrow, and marvelous and deadly grief: which thing, as it betokeneth the truth of mans nature, which shunneth death, as a thing that entred in against nature, so it sheweth that though Christ were void of sinne, yet he sustained this horrible punishment, because he felt the wrath of God kindled against us for sins, which he revenged and punished in his person.

38 u Then saith he unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowfull, even unto death: tarry ye here and watch with me.

u Christ a true man going about to suffer the punishment which was due unto us, for forsaking of God, is forsaken of his own: he hath a terrible conflict with the horrour and feare of the curse of God: out of which he escaping as conquerour, causeth us not to be any more afraid of death.

39 And he went a little further, and fell on his face, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if it be possible, x let this y cup passe from me: nevertheless, not as I will, but as thou wilt.

x Let it passe me, and not touch me. y That is, which is at hand, and is offered and prepared for me: a kinde of speech which the Hebrews used for the wrath of God, and the punishment he sendeth: above Chap. 20, 22.

40 z And he cometh unto the disciples, and findeth them asleep, and saith unto Peter, What, could ye not watch with me one houre?

z An example of the carelessesse of man.

41 Watch and pray, that ye enter not into temptation: the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.

42 He went away again the second time, and prayed, saying, O my Father, if this cup may not passe away from me, except I drink it, thy will be done.

43 And he came and found them asleep again: for their eyes were heavy.

44 And he left them, and went away again, and prayed the third time, saying the same words.

45 Then cometh he to his disciples, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest, behold, the houre is at hand, and the Sonne of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

46 a Rise, let us be going: behold, he is at hand that doth betray me.

a Christ offereth himself willingly to be taken, that in so obeying willingly, he might make satisfaction for the wilfull fall of man.

48 Now he that betrayed him, gave them a signe, saying, Whomsoever I shall kisse, that same is he, hold him fast.

49 And forthwith he came to Jesus, and said, Hail master, and kissed him.

50 c And Jesus said unto him, d Friend, wherefore art thou come? Then came they and laid hands on Jesus, and took him.

c Christ is taken, that we might be delivered.

d Christ reprehendeth Judas tantingly, and rebuketh him sharply, for he knew well enough for what cause he came.

51 And behold, one of them which were with Jesus, stretched out his hand, and drew his sword, and stroke a servant of the high priests, and smote off his eare.

52 e Then said Jesus unto him, Put up again thy sword into his place: * for all they that f take the sword, shall perish with the sword.

53 g Thinkest thou that I cannot now pray to my Father, and he shall presently give me more than twelve legions of angels?

g Christ was taken, because he was willing to be taken.

54 h But how then shall the scriptures be fulfilled, * that thus it must be?

h By this questioning, he answereth a slie objection, for they might have asked him, why he did not in this his great extremitie of danger, call to his Father for aid: but to this he answereth by a question.

56 But all this was done, that the * scriptures of the prophets might be fulfilled. Then all the disciples forsook him, and fled.

l The word here used, signifieth properly an open large room before an house, as we see in kings palaces and noble mens houses: we call it a court, for it is open to the aire, and by a figure Synecdoche, is taken for the house it self.

59 Now the chief priests and elders, and all the councel, sought false witnesse against Jesus to put him to death,

60 But found none: yea, though many false witnesses came, yet found they none. At the last came two false wines ses, 64 Jesus saith unto him, Thou hast said: nevertheless I say unto you, * n Hereafter shall ye see the Sonne of man o sitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the p clouds of heaven.

n This word distinguisheth his first comming from the later.

o Sitting with God in like and equall honour at the right hand of his power that is, in greatest power: for the right hand signifieth among the Hebrews that that is mighty, and of great power.

71 And when he was gone out into the porch, another maid ſaw him, and ſaid unto them that were there, This fellow was alſo with Jeſus of Nazareth.

72 And again he denied with an oath, I do not know the man.

73 And after a while came unto him they that ſtood by, and ſaid to Peter, Surely thou alſo art one of them, for thy ſpeech bewrayeth thee.

74 Then began he to [i] curſe and to ſwear, ſaying, I know not the man. And immediately the cock crew.

CHAP. XXVII.

1 Chriſt is delivered bound to Pilate. 3 Judas hangeth himſelf. 19 Pilate admoniſhed of his wife, 24 waſheth his hands, 26 and looſeth Barabbas, 29 Chriſt is crowned with thorns, 34 crucified, 40 reviled, 50 dieth, and is buried. 66 His ſepulchre is ſealed and watched.

WHen the morning was come, * all the chief prieſts and elders of the people, took counſel againſt Jeſus to put him to death.

2 And when they had bound him, they led him away, and delivered him to Pontius Pilate the governour.

3 ¶ [1] Then Judas which had betrayed him, when he ſaw that he was condemned, repented himſelf, and brought again the thirty pieces of ſilver to the chief prieſts and elders,

4 Saying, I have ſinned, in that I have betrayed the innocent bloud. And they ſaid, what is that to us? ſee thou to that.

5 And he caſt down the pieces of ſilver in the temple, * and [a] departed, and went and hanged himſelf.

6 And the chief prieſts took the ſilver pieces, and ſaid, It is not lawfull for to put them into the [b] treaſury, becauſe it is the price of [c] bloud.

7 And they took counſel, and bought with them the potters field, to bury [d] ſtrangers in.

8 Wherefore that field was called, * The field of bloud unto this day:

9 (Then was fulfilled that which was ſpoken by [e] Jeremy the prophet, ſaying, * And [f] they took the thirty pieces of ſilver, the price of him that was valued, ‡ whom they of the children of Iſrael did value;

10 And gave them for the potters field, as the Lord appointed me.) 29

11 [2] And Jeſus ſtood before the governour; and the governour asked him, ſaying, Art thou the king of the Jews? And Jeſus ſaid unto him, Thou ſayeſt.

12 And when he was accuſed of the chief prieſts and elders, he anſwered nothing.

13 Then ſaith Pilate unto him, Heareſt thou not how many things they witneſſe againſt thee?

14 And he anſwered him to never a word, inſomuch that the governour marvelled greatly.

15 * [3] Now at that feaſt the governour was wont to releaſe unto the people a priſoner: whom they would.

16 And they had then a notable priſoner, called Barabbas.

17 Therefore when they were gathered together, Pilate ſaid unto them, Whom will ye that I releaſe unto you? Barabbas, or Jeſus, which is called Chriſt?

18 For he knew that for envy they had delivered him.

19 ¶ When he was ſet down on the judgement-ſeat, his wife ſent unto him, ſaying, Have thou nothing to do with that juſt man: for I have ſuffered many things this day in a dream, becauſe of him.

20 * But the chief prieſts and elders perſwaded the multitude that they ſhould ask Barabbas, and deſtroy Jeſus.

21 The governour anſwered and ſaid unto them, Whether of the twain will ye that I releaſe unto you? They ſaid, Barabbas.

22 Pilate ſaith unto them, What ſhall I do then with Jeſus, which is called Chriſt? They all ſay unto him, Let him be crucified.

23 And the governour ſaid, Why, what evil hath he done? But they cried out the more, ſaying, Let him be crucified.

24 ¶ [4] When Pilate ſaw that he could prevail nothing, but that rather a tumult was made, he took water and [g] waſhed his hands before the multitude, ſaying, I am innocent of the [h] bloud of this juſt perſon: ſee ye to it.

25 ¶ Then anſwered all the people, and ſaid, His [i] bloud be on us, and on our children.

26 ¶ Then releaſed he Barabbas unto them: and when he had ſcourged Jeſus, he delivered him to be crucified.

27 * Then the ſouldiers of the governour took Jeſus into the † common hall, and gathered unto him the whole band of ſouldiers.

28 [5] And they ſtripped him, and [k] put on him [l] a ſcarlet robe.

29 ¶ And when they had platted a crown of thorns, they put it upon his head, and a reed in his right hand: and they bowed the knee before him, and mocked him, ſaying, Hail King of the Jews.

30 And they ſpit upon him, and took the reed, and ſmote him on the head.

32 * And as they came out, they found a man of Cyrene, Simon by name: him they [m] compelled to bear his crosse.

33 *[6] And when they were come unto a place called Golgotha, that is to say, A place of a scul, 34 ¶ [7] They gave him vineger to drink, mingled with gall: and when he had tasted thereof, he would not drink.

35 [8] And they crucified him, and parted his garments, casting lots: that it might be fulfilled which was spoken by the prophet, * They parted my garments among them, and upon my vesture did they cast lots.

36 And sitting down, they watched him there:

37 [9] And set up over his head, his accusation written, THIS IS JESUS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

38 [10] Then were there two theeves crucified with him: one on the right hand, and another on the left.

39 ¶ [11] And they that passed by, reviled him: wagging their heads, 40 And saying, Thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three dayes, save thy self: if thou be the Sonne of God, come down from the crosse.

41 Likewise also the chief priests mocking him, with the Scribes and elders, said, 42 He saved others, himself be cannot save: if he be the king of Israel, let him now come down from the crosse, and we wil beleeve him.

43 * He trusted in God, let him deliver him now if he will have him: for he said, I am the Sonne of God.

44 The [n] theeves also which were crucified with him, cast the same in his teeth.

45 [12] Now from the sixth houre there was darkneſſe over all the land unto the ninth houre.

46 And about the ninth houre Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, Eli, Eli, lama sabachthani? that is to say, * My God, my God, why hast thou [o] forsaken me?

47 Some of them that stood there, when they heard that, said, This man calleth for [p] Elias.

48 And straightway one of them ran, and took a spunge, * and filled it with vineger, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink.

49 The rest said, Let be, let us see whether Elias will come to save him.

50 ¶ [13] Jesus, when he had cried again with a loud voice, yeelded up the ghost.

51 [14] And behold, the [q] vail of the temple was rent in twain, from the top to the bottom, and the earth did quake, and the rocks rent,

52 And the [r] graves were opened, and many bodies of saints, which slept, arose, 53 And came out of the graves after his resurrection, and went into the holy citie, and appeared unto many.

54 Now when the centurion, and they that were with him, watching Jesus, saw the earth-quake, and those things that were done, they feared greatly, saying, Truly this was the Sonne of God.

55 And many women were there (beholding afarre off) which followed Jesus from Galilee, ministring unto him.

56 Among which was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James and Joses, and the mother of Zebedees children.

57 * [15] When the even was come, there came a rich man of Arimathea, named Joseph, who also himself was Jesus disciple:

58 He went to Pilate, and begged the bodie of Jesus: then Pilate commanded the bodie to be delivered.

59 And when Joseph had taken the bodie, he wrapped it in a clean linnen cloth, 60 And laid it in his own new tombe, which he had hewen out in the rock: and he rolled a great stone to the doore of the sepulchre, and departed.

61 And there was Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, sitting over against the sepulchre.

62 ¶ [16] Now the next day that followed the day of the preparation, the chief priests and Pharisees came together unto Pilate, 63 Saying, Sir, we remember that that deceiver said, while he was yet alive, After three dayes I will rise again.

64 Command therefore that the sepulchre be made sure untill the third day, lest his disciples come by night, and steal him away, and say unto the people, He is risen from the dead: so the last errour shall be worse than the first.

65 Pilate said unto them, Ye have a [s] watch, go your way, make it as sure as you can.

66 So they went and made the sepulchre sure, sealing the stone, and setting a watch.

CHAP. XXVIII.

1 Christs resurrection is declared by an angel to the women. 9 He himself appeareth unto them. 11 The high priests give the souldiers money to say that he was stolen out of his sepulchre. 16 Christ appeareth to his disciples, 19 and sendeth them to baptize and teach all nations.

IN [1] the * end of the [a] sabbath, as it [b] began to dawn towards the first day of the week, came Mary Magdalene, and the other Mary, to see the sepulchre.

2 And behold, there ‡ was a great earthquake, for the angel of the Lord descended from heaven, and came and rolled back the stone from the doore, and sat upon it.

3 His [c] countenance was like lightning, and his raiment white as snow.

4 And for fear of him the keepers did shake, and became as dead men.

5 And the angel answered and said unto the women, [d] Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified.

6 He is not here: for he is risen, as he said: come, see the place where the Lord lay.

8 And they departed quickly from the sepulchre, with fear and great joy, and did run to bring his disciples word.

2 Christ appeareth himself after his resurrection, and sending the women to his disciples, sheweth that he hath not forgotten them.

9 ¶ [2] And as they went to tell his disciples, behold, Jesus met them, saying, All hail. And they came, and held him by the feet, and worshipped him.

10 Then said Jesus unto them, Be not afraid: go tell my brethren that they go into Galilee, and there shall they see me.

13 Saying, Say ye, His disciples came by night, and stole him away while we slept.

THE GOSPEL According to S. MARK.

CHAP. I.

1 The office of John the Baptist. 9 Jesus is baptized, 12 tempted: 14 he preacheth: 16 calleth Peter, Andrew, James and John: 23 healeth one that had a devil, 29 Peters mother in law, 32 many diseased persons: 41 and cleanseth the leper.

THE beginning of the gospel of Jesus Christ the Sonne of God,

1 John goeth before Christ as it was forespoken by the Prophets.

a This is the figure Metonymia, whereby is meant the books of the Prophets Malachy and Esay.

* Mal. 3, 1.

b The Prophet useth the present tense, when he speaketh of a thing to come, being as sure of it, as if he saw it.

c A Metaphor taken from the usage of kings, which use to have ushers go before them.

* Isa. 40, 3. Luke 3, 4. John 1, 23.

2 [1] As it is written in the [a] prophets, * Behold, [b] I send my messenger [c] before thy face, which shall prepare thy way before thee.

3 * The voice of one crying in the wildernesse, prepare ye the way of the Lord, make his paths straight.

2 The summe of Johns doctrine, or rather Christs, is remission of sinnes and amendment of life.

* Matth. 3, 1.

d The Jews used many kindes of washings: but here is spoken of a peculiar kinde of washing,

4 [2] * John did baptize in the wildernesse, and preach the [d] baptisme of repentance, ‡ for the remission of sinnes.

5 * And there went out unto him all the land of Judea, and they of Jerusalem, and were all baptized of him in the river of Jordan, confessing their sinnes.

6 And John was * clothed with camels hair, and with a girdle of a skin about his loyns: and he did eat locusts and wilde honey:

7 [3] And preached, saying, There cometh one mightier than I after me, the latchet of whose shoes I am not worthy to [e] stoup down and unloose.

which hath all the part of true baptisme, amendment of life, and forgivenesse of sinnes.

‡ Or, unto. * Matth. 3, 5. * Matth. 3, 4. 3 John and all ministers cast their eyes upon Christ the Lord. e The Evangelist his meaning was to expresse the condition of the basest servant.

8 I indeed have [f] baptized you with water: but he shall baptize you with the holy Ghost.

f He sheweth that all the force of Baptisme proceedeth from Christ, who baptizeth within.

* Matth. 3, 13.

9 * [4] And it came to passe in those dayes, that Jesus came from Nazareth of Galilee, and was baptized of John in Jordan.

4 Christ doth consecrate our baptisme in himself.

10 [5] And straightway coming up out of the water, [g] he saw the heavens ‡ opened, and the Spirit like a dove descending upon him.

5 The vocation of Christ from heaven, as head of the church.

g John that went down into the water with Christ.

‡ O, cloven, or rent.

11 And there came a voice from heaven, saying, Thou art my beloved Sonne, in whom I am [h] well pleased.

h Look Mat. 3, 17.

12 * [6] And immediately the spirit [i] driveth him into the wildernesse.

* Matth. 4, 1.

6 Christ being tempted overcometh.

13 And he was there in the wildernes fourty dayes tempted of Satan, and was with the wild beasts, and the angels ministred unto him.

i Here is, no violent and forcible driving out, meant: but the divine power cladeth Christ (who had lived untill this time as a private man) with a new person, and prepareth him to the combate that was at hand, and to his ministery.

17 [7] Now after that John was put in prison, * Jesus came into Galilee, preaching the gospel of the kingdome of God, 7 After that John is taken, Christ sheweth himself fully.

* Matth. 4, 12.

15 And saying, The time is fulfilled, and the kingdome of God is at hand: repent ye and beleeve the gospel.

16 * [8] Now as he walked by the sea of Galilee, he saw Simon, and Andrew his brother, casting a net into the sea: (for they were fishers)

8 The calling of Simon and Andrew.

* Matth. 4, 18.

17 And Jesus said unto them, Come ye after me, and I will make you to become fishers of men.

18 And straightway they forsook their nets, and followed him.

19 [9] And when he had gone a little further thence 9 The calling of James and John.

32 thence, he saw James the sonne of Zebedee, and John his brother, who also were in the ship mending their nets.

20 And straightway he called them: and they left their father Zebedee in the ship with the hired servants, and went after him.

21 * And they went into [k] Capernaum, and straightway on the sabbath-day he entred into the synagogue, and taught.

22 * And they were astonished at his doctrine: for he taught them as one that had authoritie, and not as the Scribes.

23 * [10] And there was in their synagogue a [l] man with an unclean spirit, and he cried out, 24 Saying, Let us alone, what have we to do with thee, thou [m] Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the [n] holy one of God.

25 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him.

26 And when the unclean spirit [o] had torn him, and cried with a loud voice, he came out of him.

27 And they were all amazed, insomuch that they questioned [p] among themselves, saying, What thing is this? what new doctrine is this? for with authority [q] commandeth he even the unclean spirits, and they do obey him.

28 And immediately his fame spread abroad throughout all the region [r] round about Galilee.

29 * [11] And forthwith, when they were come out of the synagogue, they entred into the house of Simon and Andrew, with James and John.

30 But Simons wives mother lay sick of a fever, and anon they tell him of her.

31 And he came and took her by the hand, and lift her up; and immediately the fever left her and she ministred unto them.

32 And at even, when the sunne did set, they brought unto him all that were diseased, and them that were possessed with devils.

33 And all the citie was gathered together at the doore.

34 And he healed many that were sick of divers diseases, and cast out many devils, and [s] suffered not the devils ‡ to speak, because they knew him.

35 And in the morning rising up a great while before day, he went out, and departed into a solitary place, and there prayed.

36 And Simon, and they that were with him, followed after him.

37 And when they had found him, they said unto him. All men seek for thee.

38 And he said unto them, Let us go into the [t] next towns, that I may preach there also: for therefore came I forth.

39 And he preached in their synagogues throughout all Galilee, and cast out devils.

40 * [12] And there came a leper to him, beseeching him, and kneeling down to him, and saying unto him, If thou wilt, thou canst make me clean.

41 And Jesus moved with compassion, put forth his hand, and touched him, and saith unto him, I will, be thou clean.

42 And assoon as he had spoken, immediately the leprosie departed from him, and he was cleansed.

43 And he straitly charged him, and forthwith sent him away;

44 [13] And said unto him, See thou say nothing to any man: but go thy way, shew thy self to the [u] priest, and offer for thy cleansing those things which Moses commanded for a testimonie unto them.

45 * But he went out, and began to publish it much, and to blaze abroad the matter, insomuch that Jesus could no more openly enter into the city, but was without in desert places: and they came to him from every quarter.

CHAP. II.

1 Christ healeth one sick of the palsie, 14 calleth Matthew from the receipt of custome, 15 eateth with publicanes and sinners, 18 excuseth his disciples for not fasting, 23 and for plucking the eares of corn on the sabbath-day.

AND again * he entred into Capernaum, [1] after some dayes, and it was noised that he was in the [a] house.

2 And straightway many were gathered together, insomuch that [b] there was no room to receive them, no not so much as about the doore: and he preached the word unto them,

3 And they come unto him, bringing one sick of the palsie, which was born of foure.

4 And when they could not come nigh unto him for preasse, they uncovered the roof where he was: and when they had broken it up, they [c] let down the [d] bed wherein the sick of the palsie lay.

5 When Jesus saw their faith, he said unto the sick of the palsie, Sonne, thy sinnes be forgiven thee.

6 But there were certain of the Scribes sitting there, and [e] reasoning in their hearts,

7 Why doth this man thus speak blasphemies? * who can forgive sinnes but God onely?

8 And immediately, when Jesus perceived in his spirit, that they so reasoned within themselves, he said unto them, Why reason ye these things in your hearts?

9 Whether is it easier to say to the sick of the palsie, Thy sinnes be forgiven thee: or to say, Arise, and take up thy bed and walk?

10 But that ye may know that the Sonne of man hath power on earth to forgive sinnes, (he saith to the sick of the palsie)

11 I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy bed, and go thy way into thine house.

12 And immediately he arose, took up the bed, and went forth before them all; insomuch that they were all [f] amazed, and glorified God, saying, we never saw it on this fashion.

13 [2] And he went forth again by the seaside, and all the multitude resorted unto him, and he taught them.

14 * And as he passed by, he saw [g] Levi the sonne of Alpheus sitting ‡ at the receit of custome

CHAP. III.

1 Chriſt healeth the withered hand, 10 and many other infirmities: 11 rebuketh the unclean ſpirits: 13 chooſeth his twelve apoſtles: 22 convinceth the blaſphemie of caſting out devils by Beelzebub: 31 and ſheweth who are his brother, ſiſter, and mother.

AND * [1] he entred again into the ſinagogue, and there was a man there which had a [a] withered hand.

2 And they watched him, whether he would heal him on the ſabbath-day, that they might accuſe him.

3 And he ſaith unto the man which had the withered hand, Stand forth.

4 And he ſaith unto them, Is it lawfull to do good on the ſabbath-dayes, or to do evil? to ſave [b] life, or to kill? but they held their peace.

5 And when he had looked round about on them [c] with anger, being grieved for the ‡ [d] hardnes of their hearts, he ſaith unto the man, Stretch forth thine hand. And he ſtretched it out: and his hand was reſtored whole as the other.

6 [2] And the Phariſees went forth, & ſtraightway took counſel with the [e] Herodians againſt him, how they might deſtroy him.

7 But Jeſus withdrew himſelf with his diſciples to the ſea: and a great multitude from Galilee followed him, and from Judea,

8 And from Jeruſalem, and from Idumea, and from [f] beyond Jordan, and they about Tyre and Sidon, a great multitude, when they had heard what great things he did, came unto him.

immediately he putteth in the ſickle, becauſe the harveſt is come.

5 God farre otherwiſe than men uſe, beginneth with the leaſt, and endeth with the greateſt. * Matth. 13, 31.

30 ¶ [5] And he ſaid, * Whereunto ſhall we liken the kingdome of God? or with what compariſon ſhall we compare it?

31 It is like a grain of muſtard-ſeed, which when it is ſowen in the earth, is leſſe than all the ſeeds that be in the earth.

32 But when it is ſowen it groweth up, and becometh greater than all herbs, and ſhooteth out great branches, ſo that the fowls of the aire may lodge under the ſhadow of it.

* Matth. 13, 34. k According to the capacitie of the hearers.

33 * And with many ſuch parables ſpake he the word unto them as [k] they were able to heare it.

l Word for word, Looſed, as you would ſay, read them the hard riddles. * Matth. 8, 23.

34 But without a parable ſpake he not unto them: and when they were alone, he [l] expounded all things to his diſciples.

35 * And the ſame day when the even was come, he ſaith unto them, Let us paſſe over unto the other ſide.

36 And when they had ſent away the multitude, they took him even as he was in the ſhip, and there were alſo with him other little ſhips.

6 They that ſail with Chriſt, although he ſeem to ſleep never ſo ſoundly when they are in danger, yet they are preſerved of him in time convenient, being awaked.

37 [6] And there aroſe a great ſtorm of winde, and the waves beat into the ſhip, ſo that it was now full.

38 And he was in the hinder part of the ſhip, aſleep on a pillow: and they awake him, and ſay unto him, Maſter, careſt thou not that we periſh?

39 And he aroſe, and rebuked the winde, and ſaid unto the ſea, Peace, be ſtill: and the winde ceaſed, and there was a great calm.

m How cometh it to paſſe that you have no faith?

40 And he ſaid unto them, [m] Why are ye ſo fearfull? how is it that you have no faith?

41 And they feared exceedingly, and ſaid one to another, What manner of man is this, that even the winde and the ſea obey him?

CHAP. V.

1 Chriſt delivering the poſſeſſed of the legion of devils, 13 they enter into the ſwine: 25 He healeth the woman of the bloudy iſſue, 35 and raiſeth from death Jairus his daughter.

* Matth. 8, 28. 1 Many have the vertue of Chriſt in admiration, and yet they will not redeem it with the loſſe of the leaſt thing they have. a Look Matth. 8, 30. b Word for word, in an unclean ſpirit: now they are ſaid to be in the ſpirit, becauſe the ſpirit holdeth them faſt locked up, and as it were bound.

AND * [1] they came over unto the other ſide of the ſea, into the countrey of the [a] Gadarenes.

2 And when he was come out of the ſhip, immediately there met him out of the tombes, a man with an [b] unclean ſpirit,

3 Who had his dwelling among the tombes, and no man could binde him, no not with chains:

4 Becauſe that he had been often bound with fetters and chains, and the chains had been plucked aſunder by him, and the fetters broken in pieces: neither could any man tame him.

5 And alwayes night and day, he was in the mountains, and in the tombes, crying, and cutting himſelf with ſtones.

6 But when he ſaw Jeſus afarre off, he came and worſhipped him,

7 And cried with a loud voice, and ſaid, What have I to do with thee, Jeſus, thou Sonne of the moſt high God? I [c] adjure thee by God, that thou torment me not.

c That is, aſſure me by an oath, that thou wilt not vex me.

8 (For he ſaid unto him, Come out of the man, thou unclean ſpirit)

9 And he asked him, What is thy name? and he anſwered, ſaying, My name is legion: for we are many.

10 And he [d] beſought him much, that he would not ſend them away out of the countrey.

d That devil that played the meſſenger for his fellows.

11 Now there was there nigh unto the [e] mountains, a great herd of ſwine feeding.

e This whole countrey is for the greater part of it very hilly, for the mountains of Galiad run through it.

12 And all the devils beſought him, ſaying, Send us into the ſwine, that we may enter into them.

13 And forthwith Jeſus gave them leave. And the unclean ſpirits went out, and entred into the ſwine, and the herd ran violently down a ſteep place into the [f] ſea, (they were about two thouſand) and were choked in the ſea.

f Strabo in the ſixteenth book ſaith, that in Gadaris there is a ſtanding pool of very naughty water, which if beaſts taſte of, they ſhed their haire, nailes, or hooves and hornes.

14 And they that fed the ſwine fled, and told it in the city, and in the countrey. And they went out to ſee what it was that was done.

15 And they come to Jeſus, and ſee him that was poſſeſſed with the devil, and had the legion, ſitting, and clothed, and in his right minde, and they were afraid.

16 And they that ſaw it, told them how it befell to him that was poſſeſſed with the devil, and alſo concerning the ſwine.

17 And they began to pray him to depart out of their coaſts.

18 And when he was come into the ſhip, he that had been poſſeſſed with the devil, prayed him that he might be with him.

19 Howbeit, Jeſus ſuffered him not, but ſaith unto him, Go home to thy friends, and tel them how great things the Lord hath done for thee, and hath had compaſſion on thee.

20 And he departed, and began to publiſh in Decapolis, how great things Jeſus had done for him: and all men did marvel.

21 And when Jeſus was paſſed over again by ſhip unto the other ſide, much people gathered unto him, and he was nigh unto the ſea.

* Matth. 9, 18. g The whole company aſſembled not diſorderly, but in every Synagogue there were certain men which governed the people.

22 * And [g] behold, there cometh one of the rulers of the ſynagogue, Jairus by name, and when he ſaw him, he fell at his feet, 23 And beſought him greatly, ſaying, My little daughter lieth at the point of death, I pray thee come and lay thy hands on her that ſhe may be healed, and ſhe ſhall live.

24 And Jeſus went with him, and much people followed him, and thronged him.

2 Jeſus being touched with true faith, although it be but weak, doth heal us by his vertue.

25 [2] And a certain woman which had an iſſue of bloud twelve yeares,

26 And had ſuffered many things of many phyſicians, and had ſpent all that ſhe had, and was nothing bettered, but rather grew worſe, 27 When ſhe had heard of Jeſus, came in the preaſſe behinde, and touched his garment.

28 For 36 28 For ſhe ſaid, If I may touch but his clothes, I ſhall be whole.

29 And ſtraightway the fountain of her bloud was dried up: and ſhe felt in her body that ſhe was healed of that plague.

30 And Jeſus immediately knowing in himſelf, that vertue had gone out of him, turned him about in the preaſſe, and ſaid, Who touched my clothes?

31 And his diſciples ſaid unto him, Thou ſeeſt the multitude thronging thee, and ſayeſt thou, Who touched me?

32 And he looked round about to ſee her that had done this thing.

33 But the woman fearing and trembling, knowing what was done in her, came and fell down before him, and told him all the truth.

34 And he ſaid unto her, Daughter, thy faith hath made thee whole, go in peace, and be whole of thy plague.

35 While he yet ſpake, there came from the ruler of the ſynagogues houſe, certain which ſaid, Thy daughter is dead, why troubleſt thou the Maſter any futher?

3 Fathers apprehend by faith, the promiſes of life even for their children.

36 [3] Aſſoon as Jeſus heard the word that was ſpoken, he ſaith unto the ruler of the ſynagogue, Be not afraid, onely beleeve.

37 And he ſuffered no man to follow him, ſave Peter, and James, and John the brother of James.

38 And he cometh to the houſe of the ruler of the ſynagogue, and ſeeth the tumult, and them that wept and wailed greatly.

39 And when he was come in, he ſaith unto them, Why make ye this ado, and weep? the damſel is not dead, but ſleepeth.

4 Such as mock and ſcorn Chriſt are unworthy to be witneſſes of his goodneſſe.

40 [4] And they laughed him to ſcorn: but when he had put them all out, he taketh the father and the mother of the damſel, and them

h The three diſciples,

[h] that were with him, and entreth in where the damſel was lying.

41 And he took the damſel by the hand, and ſaid unto her, Talitha cumi, which is being interpreted, Damſel (I ſay unto thee) ariſe.

42 And ſtraightway the damſel aroſe, and walked, for ſhe was of the age of twelve yeares: and they were aſtoniſhed with a great aſtoniſhment.

43 And he charged them ſtraitly that no man ſhould know it: and commanded that ſomething ſhould be given her to eat.

CHAP. VI.

1 Chriſt is contemned of his countreymen. 7 He giveth the twelve power over unclean ſpirits: 14 Divers opinions of Chriſt. 18 John Baptiſt is beheaded, 29 and buried. 30 The apoſtles return from preaching, 34 The miracle of five loaves and two fiſhes. 48 Chriſt walketh on the ſea: 53 and healeth all that touch him.

* Matth. 13, 54.

1 The faithleſſe world doth no whit at all diminiſh the vertue of Chriſt, but wittingly and willingly depriveth it ſelf of the efficacie of it, being offered unto them.

AND * he [1] went out from thence, and came into his own countrey, and his diſciples follow him.

2 And when the ſabbath-day was come, he began to teach in the ſynagogue: and many hearing him were aſtoniſhed, ſaying, From whence hath this man theſe things? and what wiſdome is this which is given unto him, that even ſuch [a] mighty works are wrought by his hands?

a The word ſignifieth powers, or vertues, whereby are meant thoſe wonderfull works that Chriſt did, which ſhewed and ſet forth the vertue and power of his Godhead to all the world.

3 Is not this the carpenter, the ſonne of Mary, the brother of James and Joſes, and of Juda, and Simon? and are not his [b] ſiſters here with us? And they were offended at him.

Matth. 7, 22.

b After the manner of the Hebrews, who by brethren and ſiſters, underſtand all their kinsfolks.

4 But Jeſus ſaid unto them, * A prophet is not without [c] honour, but in his own countrey, and among his own kin, and in his own houſe.

* John 4, 44.

c Not onely that hath that honour, which of right is due to him, taken from him, but is alſo evil ſpoken of, and miſreported.

5 And he [d] could there do no mighty work, ſave that he laid his hands upon a few ſick folk, and healed them.

d That is, he would not: for we muſt needs have faith if we will receive the works of God.

6 And he marvelled becauſe of their unbelief. * And he went round about the villages, teaching.

* Matth. 9, 35. Luke 13, 22.

* Matth. 10, 1.

2 The diſciples are prepared to the generall Apoſtleſhip, by a peculiar ſending forth.

8 [3] And commanded them that they ſhould take nothing for their journey, ſave a ſtaff onely: no ſcrip, no bread, no ‡ money in their purſe:

3 Faithfull paſtors ought not to have their minds ſet, no not on things that are neceſſarie for this life, if they may be an hinderance unto them, be it never ſo little.

‡ The word ſignifieth a piece of braſſe money, in value ſomewhat leſſe than a farthing, Matth. 10, 9. but here it is taken in generall for money.

9 But be ſhod with [e] ſandals: and not put on [f] two coats.

e The word ſignifieth properly womens ſhoes.

f That is, they ſhould take no change of garments with them, that they might be lighter for this journey, and make more ſpeed.

10 And he ſaid unto them, In what place ſoever ye enter into an houſe, [g] there abide till ye depart from that place.

g That is, change not your Innes in this ſhort journey.

11 *[4] And whoſoever ſhall not receive you, nor heare you, when ye depart thence, * ſhake off the duſt under your feet, for a teſtimonie againſt them: verily I ſay unto you, it ſhall be more tolerable for Sodom and Gomorrha in the day of judgement, than for that city.

* Matth. 10, 14.

4 The Lord is a moſt ſevere revenger of his ſervants.

12 And they went out and preached that men ſhould repent.

13 And they caſt out many devils, * and [h] anointed with oyl many that were ſick, and healed them.

* Acts 13, 51. * James 5, 14.

h That oyl was a token and a ſigne of this marvellous vertue: and ſeeing that the gift of healing is ceaſed a good while ſince, the ceremonie which is yet retained of ſome, is to no purpoſe.

14 *[5] And king Herod heard of him, (for his name was ſpread abroad) and he ſaid that John the Baptiſt was riſen from the dead, and therefore [i] mighty works do ſhew forth themſelves in him.

* Matth. 14, 1.

5 The goſpel confirmeth the godly, and veexeth the wicked.

i The word ſignifieth powers, whereby is meant, the power of working miracles.

15 Others ſaid, that it is Elias. And others ſaid, That it is a prophet, or as one of [k] the prophets.

k Of the old prophets.

16 * But when Herod heard thereof, he ſaid, It is John whom [l] I beheaded, he is riſen from the dead.

* Luke 3, 19.

l Commanded to be beheaded.

17 For Herod himſelf had ſent forth and laid hold upon John, and bound him in priſon for Herodias ſake, his brother Philips wife; for he had married her.

18 For John had ſaid unto Herod, * It is not lawfull for thee to have thy brothers wife.

* Lev. 18, 16.

19 Therefore Herodias [m] had ‡ a quarrel againſt him, and would have killed him, but ſhe could not.

m Sought all means to do him hurt. ‡ Or, an inward grudge. ‡ Or, kept him, or ſaved him. n The tyrant was very well content to heare ſentence pronounced againſt himſelfe, but the ſeed fel upon ſtonie places.

20 For Herod feared John, knowing that he was a juſt man and an holy, and ‡ obſerved him, and when he heard him, he did many things, and heard him [n] gladly.

21 And when a convenient day was come, that Herod on his birth-day made a ſupper to his lords, high captains, and chief eſtates of Galilee:

o Which the ſame Herodias had not by Herodes Antipas, but by Philip, and Joſephus called her Salome.

22 And when the daughter o of the ſaid Herodias came in, and danced, and pleaſed Herod, and them that ſat with him, the king ſaid unto the damſel, Aſk of me whatſoever thou wilt, and I will give it thee.

23 And he ſware unto her, Whatſoever thou ſhalt aſk of me, I will give it thee, unto the half of my kingdome.

p For women uſed not to ſit at table with men.

24 And p ſhe went forth, and ſaid unto her mother, What ſhall I aſk? And ſhe ſaid, The head of John the Baptiſt.

25 And ſhe came in ſtraightway with haſte unto the king, and asked, ſaying, I will that thou give me by and by in a charger, the head of John the Baptiſt.

26 And the king was exceeding ſory, yet for his oaths ſake, and for their ſakes which ſat with him, he would not reject her.

q The word ſignifieth one that beareth a dart, and the kings guard was ſo called, becauſe they did beare darts.

27 And immediately the king ſent ‡ q an executioner, and commanded his head to be brought: and he went and beheaded him in the priſon, 28 And brought his head in a charger, and gave it to the damſel: and the damſel gave it to her mother.

29 And when his diſciples heard of it, they came and took up his corps, & laid it in a tomb.

* Luke 9, 10.

30 * And the apoſtles gathered themſelves together unto Jeſus, and told him all things, both what they had done, and what they had taught.

6 Such as follow Chriſt ſhall want nothing, no not in the wildernes, but ſhall have abundance. And how wicked a thing is it, not to look for this tranſitorie life at his hands, who giveth everlaſting life.

31 6 And he ſaid unto them, Come ye your ſelves apart into a deſert place, and reſt a while: for there were many coming and going, and they had no leiſure ſo much as to eat.

* Matth. 14, 13.

32 * And they departed into a deſert place by ſhip privately.

33 And the people ſaw them departing, and many knew him, and ran afoot thither out of all cities, and out went them, and came together unto him.

* Matth. 9, 36.

34 * And Jeſus, when he came out, ſaw much people, and was moved with compaſſion toward them, becauſe they were as ſheep not having a ſhepherd: and he began to teach them many things.

* Matth. 14, 15.

35 * And when the day was now farre ſpent, his diſciples came unto him, and ſaid, This is a deſert place, and now the time is farre paſſed.

36 Send them away, that they may go into the countrey round about, and into the villages, and buy themſelves bread: for they have nothing to eat.

r This is a kinde of demand and wondering, not without a privie mock, which men do commonly uſe, when beginning to be in a fume, they denie to do a thing.
ſ Which is about twenty crowns: which is five pound.
" The Romane peny is ſeven pence halfpeny, as Matth. 18, 21. no diſtributives, 37 Then r ſhall we go and buy ſ two hundred " penie-worth of bread, and give them to eat?

38 He ſaith unto them, How many loaves have ye? go and ſee. And when they knew, they ſay, Five, and two fiſhes.

39 And he commanded them to make all ſit down by t companies upon the green graſſe.

t Word for word, by bankets, after the manner of the Hebrewes who have as Chap. 6, 7. Now he calleth the rows of the ſitters, bankets.

40 And they ſat down in u ranks by hundreds, and by fifties.

u The word ſignifieth the beds in a garden, and it is word for word, by beds and beds, meaning thereby that they ſat down in rowes one by another, as beds in a garden.

41 And when he had taken the five loaves and the two fiſhes, he looked up to heaven, and bleſſed, and brake the loaves, and gave them to his diſciples to ſet before them; and the two fiſhes divided he among them all.

42 And they did all eat and were filled.

43 And they took up twelve baskets full of the fragments, and of the fiſhes.

44 And they that did eat of the loaves, were about five thouſand men.

7 The faithfull ſervants of God after their little labour, are ſubject to a great tempeſt, which Chriſt doth ſo moderate, being preſent in power, although abſent in body, that he bringeth them to an happie haven, at ſuch time, and by ſuch meanes, as they looked not for: A lively image of the church toſſed to and fro in this world.

* Matth. 14, 23.

45 7 And ſtraightway he conſtrained his diſciples to get into the ſhip, and to go to the other ſide before ‡ unto Bethſaida, while he ſent away the people.

46 And when he had ſent x them away, he departed into a mountain to pray.

47 * And when even was come, the ſhip was in the midſt of the ſea, & he alone on the land.

48 And he ſaw them toyling in rowing: (for the winde was contrary unto them) and about the fourth watch of the night he cometh unto them, walking upon the ſea, and would have paſſed by them.

49 But when they ſaw him walking upon the ſea, they ſuppoſed it had been a ſpirit, and cried out.

y They were ſo far from leaving to be amazed, when they knew that it was no ſpirit, that they were much more aſtonished than ever they were before when they ſaw the winde and the ſeas obey his commandments.

50 (For they all ſaw him, and were troubled) And immediately he talked with them, and ſaith unto them, Be of good cheere, it is I, be not afraid.

51 And he went up unto them into the ſhip, and the winde ceaſed and they were y ſore amazed in themſelves beyond meaſure, and wondred.

z Either they perceived not, or had not well conſidered that miracle of the five loaves, inſomuch that that vertue of Chriſt was no leſſe ſtrange to them, than if they had not been preſent at that miracle which was done but a little before.

52 For they z conſidered not the miracle of the loaves, for their heart was hardened.

* Matth. 14, 34.

54 8 And when they were come out of the ſhip, ſtraightway they knew him, 55 And ran through that whole region round about, and began to carry about in beds thoſe that were ſick, where they heard he was.

56 And whitherſoever he entred, into villages, or cities, or countrey, they laid the ſick in the ſtreets, and beſought him that they might touch, if it were but the border of his garment: and as many as touched a ‡ him, were made whole.

CHAP. VII.

1 The Phariſees finde fault at the diſciples, for eating with unwaſhen hands. 8 They break the commandment of God by the traditions of men. 14 Meat defileth not the man. 24 He healeth the Syrophenician womans daughter of an unclean ſpirit, 31 and one that was deaf and ſtammered in his ſpeech.

* Matth. 15, 1.

THen * 1 came together unto him the Phariſees, and certain of the Scribes, which came from Jeruſalem.

1 None do more reſiſt the wiſdome of God, than they that ſhould be wiſeſt, and that upon a zeal of their own traditions: for men do not pleaſe themſelves more in any thing than in ſuperſtition, that is to ſay, in a worſhip of God fondly deviſed of themſelves;

2 And when they ſaw ſome of his diſciples a eat bread with b ‡ defiled (that is to ſay, with unwaſhen) hands, they found fault.

a Word for word, eat bread: a kinde of ſpeech which the Hebrewes uſe, taking bread for all kinde of food. b For the Phariſees would not eat their meat with unwaſhen hands, becauſe they thought that their hands were defiled with common handling of things, Mat. 15, 11, 12. ‡ Or, common.

38 3 For the Pharisees, and all the Jews, except they wash their hands ‡ oft, eat not, [c] holding the tradition of the elders.

‡ Or, diligently: in the Originall, with the first: Theophylac, up to the elbow.
c Observing diligently.

4 And when they come from the [d] market, except they wash, they eat not. And many other things there be, which they have received to hold, as the washing of cups and ‡ [e] pots, brasen vessels, and of ‡ tables.

d That is to say, from civil affairs and worldly, they go not to meat, unlesse they wash themselves first.
‡ Sextarius is about a pinte and an half.
e By these words are understood all kindes of vessels, which are appointed for our daily use.

5 Then the Pharisees and Scribes asked him, Why [f] walk not thy disciples according to the tradition of the elders, but eat bread with unwashen hands?

‡ Or, beds.
f Why live they not? a kinde of speech taken from the Hebrews: for among them, the way is taken for trade of life.

6 [2] He answered and said unto them, Well hath Esaias prophesied of you hypocrites, as it is written, * This people honoureth me with their lips, but their heart is farre from me.

2 Hypocrisie is alwayes joyned with superstition.
* Isa. 29, 13. Matth. 15, 8.

7 [3] Howbeit, in vain do they worship me, teaching for doctrines the commandments of men.

3 The more earnest the superstitious are, the more they are mad in promising themselves Gods favour by their deserts.

8 [4] For laying aside the commandment of God, ye hold the tradition of men, as the washing of pots and cups: and many other such like things ye do.

4 The devises of superstitious men doe not onely not fulfill the law of God (as they blasphemously perswade themselves) but also doe utterly take it away.

9 [5] And he said unto them, Full well ye ‡ reject the commandment of God, that ye may keep your own tradition.

5 True religion, which is clean contrary to superstition, consisteth in spirituall worship: and all enemies of true religion, although they seem to have taken deep root, shall be pluckt up.
‡ Or, frustrate.

10 For Moses said, Honour thy father and thy mother: and, Whoso curseth father or mother, let him [g] die the death.

g Without hope of pardon, he shall be put to death.
* Matth. 15, 5.

11 But ye say, If a man shall say to his father or mother, It is * Corban, that is to say, a gift, by whatsoever thou mightest be profited by me: he shall be free.

* Matth. 15, 10.

12 And ye suffer him no more to do ought for his father or his mother:

13 Making the word of God of none effect through your tradition, which ye have delivered: and many such like things do ye.

14 ¶ * And when he had called all the people unto him, he said unto them, Hearken unto me every one of you, and understand.

15 There is nothing from without a man that entring into him can defile him: but the things which come out of him, those are they that defile the man.

16 If any man have eares to heare, let him heare.

17 And when he was entred into the house from the people, his disciples asked him concerning the parable.

18 And he saith unto them, Are ye so without understanding also? Do ye not perceive, that whatsoever thing from without entreth into the man, it cannot defile him.

19 Because it entreth not into his heart, but into the belly, and goeth out into the draught, [h] purging all meats?

h For that that] goeth into the draught, purgeth all meats.

20 And he said, That which cometh out of the man, that defileth the man.

* Gen. 6, 5. and 8, 21. Matth. 15, 19.

21 * For from within, out of the heart of men, proceed evil thoughts, adulteries, fornications, murders, i All kinde of craftinesse, whereby men profit themselves by other mens losses.

k Cankered malice.

23 All these evil things come from within, and defile the man.

28 And she answered and said unto him, [o] Yes Lord, yet the dogs under the table eat of the childrens crummes.

o As if she said. It is as thou saist, Lord, for it is enough for all the dogs, if they can but gather up the crummes that are under the table: therefore I crave the crummes and not the childrens bread.

29 And he said unto her, For this saying, go thy way, the devil is gone out of thy daughter.

30 And when she was come to her house, she found the devil gone out, and her daughter laid upon the bed.

31 ¶ [7] And again departing from the coasts of Tyre & Sidon, he came unto the sea of Galilee, through the midst of the coasts of [p] Decapolis.

33 And he took him aside from the multitude, and put his fingers into his eares, and he spit, and touched his tongue.

34 And looking up to heaven, he sighed, and saith unto him, Ephatha, that is, Be opened.

35 And straightway his eares were opened, and the string of his tongue was loosed, and he spake plain.

36 And he charged them that they should tell no man: but the more he charged them, so much the more a great deal they published it,

37 And were beyond measure astonished, saying, He hath done all things well: he maketh both the deaf to heare, and the dumbe to speak.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Christ feedeth the people miraculously: 10 refuseth to give a signe to the Pharisees: 14 admonisheth his disciples to beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod: 22 giveth a blinde man his sight: 27 acknowledgeth that he is the Christ, who should suffer and rise again: 24 and exhorteth to patience in persecution for the profession of the gospel.

IN those dayes * the multitude being very great, and having nothing to eat, Jesus called his disciples unto him, and saith unto them,

* Matth. 15, 32.

2 I have compassion on the multitude, because they have now been with me three dayes, and have nothing to eat:

3 And if I send them away fasting to their own houses, they will [a] faint by the way: for divers of them came from farre.

a Word for word, they will fall in sunder, or be dissolved, for when men fall in a sound, their sinewes fall one from another.

4 And his disciples answered him, From whence can a man satisfie these men with bread here in the wildernesse?

5 And he asked them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven.

6 And he commanded the people to sit down down on the ground: and he took the seven loaves, and gave thanks, and brake, and gave to his disciples to set before them: and they did set them before the people.

7 And they had a few small fishes: and he blessed, and commanded to set them also before them.

8 So they did eat, and were filled: and they took up of the broken meat that was left, seven baskets.

9 And they that had eaten were about foure thousand; and he sent them away.

10 ¶ And straightway he entred into a ship with his disciples, and came into the parts of Dalmanutha.

11 * [1] And the Pharisees [b] came forth, and began to question with him, seeking of him a signe from heaven, tempting him.

12 And he [c] sighed deeply in his spirit, and saith, Why doth this generation seek after a signe? verily I say unto you, There shall no [d] signe be given to this generation.

13 And he left them, and entring into the ship again, departed to the other side.

14 ¶ * Now the disciples had forgotten to take bread, neither had they in the ship with them more than one loaf.

15 [2] And he charged them, saying, Take heed, beware of the leaven of the Pharisees, and of the leaven of Herod.

16 [3] And they reasoned among themselves, saying, *It is because we have no bread.

17 And when Jesus knew it, he saith unto them, Why reason ye, because ye have no bread? perceive ye not yet, neither understand? have ye your heart yet hardened?

18 Having eyes, see ye not? and having eares, heare ye not? and do ye not remember?

19 When I brake the five loaves among five thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? They say unto him, Twelve.

20 And when the seven among foure thousand, how many baskets full of fragments took ye up? And they said, seven.

21 And he said unto them, [e] How is it that ye do not understand?

22 ¶ [4] And he cometh to Bethsaida, and they bring a blinde man unto him, and besought him to touch him.

23 And he took the blinde man by the hand, and led him out of the town, and when he had spit on his eyes, and put his hands upon him, he asked him if he saw ought.

24 And he looked up, and said, [f] I see men as trees, walking.

25 After that, he put his hands again upon his eyes, and [g] made him look up: and he was restored, and saw every man clearly.

26 [5] And he sent him away to his house, saying, Neither go into the town, nor tell it to any in the town.

27 ¶ [6] * And Jesus went out, and his disciples, into the towns of Cesarea Philippi: and by the way he asked his disciples, saying unto them, Whom do men say that I am?

28 And they answered, John the Baptist: but some say, Elias; & others, one of the prophets.

29 And he said unto them, But whom say ye that I am? And Peter answereth and saith unto him, Thou art the Christ.

30 [7] And he charged them that they should tell no man of him.

31 [8] And he began to teach them, that the Son of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and of the chief priests, and Scribes, and be killed, and after three dayes rise again.

32 [9] And he spake that saying openly. And Peter took him, and began to rebuke him.

33 But when he had turned about, and looked on his disciples, he rebuked Peter, saying, Get thee behinde me, Satan: for thou [h] savourest not the things that be of God, but the things that be of men.

34 ¶ [10] And when he had called the people unto him, with his disciples also, he said unto them, *Whosoever will come after me, let him deny himself, and take up his crosse and follow me.

35 For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it; but whosoever shall lose his life for my sake and the gospels, the same shall save it.

36 [11] For what shall it profit a man, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?

37 Or what shall a man give in exchange for his soul?

38 * Whosoever therefore shall be ashamed of me, and of my words, in this adulterous and sinfull generation, of him also shall the Sonne of man be ashamed when he cometh in the glory of his Father, with the holy angels.

CHAP. IX.

2 Jesus is transfigured. 11 He instructeth his disciples concerning the coming of Elias: 14 casteth forth a dumbe and deaf spirit: 30 foretelleth his death and resurrection: 23 exhorteth his disciples to humilitie: 38 bidding them not to prohibit such as be not against them, nor to give offence to any of the faithfull.

AND he said unto them, * Verily I say unto you, that there be some of them that stand here, which shall not taste of death, till they have seen the [a] kingdome of God come with power.

2 ¶ * [1] And after six dayes, Jesus taketh with him, Peter, and James, and John, and leadeth them up into an high mountain apart by themselves: and he was transfigured before them.

3 And his raiment became [b] shining, exceeding white as snow: so as no fuller on earth can white them.

4 And there appeared unto them Elias, with Moses: and they were talking with Jesus.

5 And Peter answered and said to Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here, and let us make three tabernacles; one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias.

6 For he wist not what to say, for they were sore [c] afraid.

7 And there was a cloud that overshadowed them: and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Sonne: heare him.

8 And suddenly when they had looked round about,

* Matt. 16, 1.
1 The stubborn enemies of the doctrin of the gospel, giving no credit to the miracles already done, require new: but Christ being angry with them, doth utterly forsake them.
b A common kinde of speech, which the Hebrews use, whereby is meant that the phariseeswent from their houses of purpose to encounter with him.
c These sighes came even from his heart root, for the Lord was very much moved with these mens so great infidelitie.
d Word for word, If a signe be given: It is a cutted kinde of speech very common among the Hebrews, wherein some such words as these must be understood, Let me be taken for a liar, or some such like. And when they speak out the whole, they say, The Lord do thus and thus by me.
* Matt. 16, 5.
2 We must especially take heed of them which corrupt the word of God, what degree soever they be of, either in the church, or in civil policie.
3 They that have their mindes fixed on earthly things, are utterly blinde in heavenly things although they be never so plainly set forth unto them.
* Matt. 16, 7.
e How cometh it to passe, that you understand not these things which are so plain and evident?
4 A true image of our regeneration, which Christ separating us from the world, worketh and accomplisheth by little and little in us.
f He perceived some moving of men when he could not discern their bodies.
g He commanded him again, to try indeed, whether he could see well or no.
5 Christ will not have his miracles to be separated from his doctrin.
6 Many praise Christ, which yet notwithstanding spoil him of his praise.
* Matt. 16, 13.

7 Christ hath appointed his times to the preaching of the gospel, and therefore here deferreth it to a more commodious time, lest sudden haste should rather hinder than further the mystery of his coming.
8 Christ suffered all that he suffered for us, not unwillingly, neither unawares, but foreknowing it, and willingly.
9 None are more made than they that are wise beside the word of God.
h This is not godly, but worldly wisdome.
10 The disciples of Christ must beare stoutly, what burden soever the Lord layeth upon them, and subdue the affections of the flesh.
* Mat. 10, 38.
11 They are the most foolish of all men, which purchase the enjoying of this life with the losse of everlasting blisse.

* Matt. 17, 1.
1 The heavenly glory of Christ, which should within a short space be abased upon the crosse, is avouched by visible signs, by the presence and talk of Elias and Moses, and by the voice of the Father himself, before three of his disciples, which are witnesses, against whom lyeth no exception.
b Did sparkle as it were.
c They were besides themselves for feare.

40 about, they ſaw no man any more, ſave Jeſus onely with themſelves.

2 The Lord hath appointed his times for the publiſhing of the goſpel.

9 [2] And as they came down from the mountain, he charged them that they ſhould tell no man what things they had ſeen, till the Sonne of man were riſen from the dead.

d Even very hardly as it were. e They queſtioned not together touching the generall reſurrection, which ſhall be in the latter day, but they underſtood not what he meant by that which he ſpake of his own peculiar reſurrection.

10 And they [d] kept that ſaying with themſelves, [e] queſtioning one with another what the riſing from the dead ſhould mean.

3 The foolish opinion of the Rabbines is here refelled, touching Elias coming, which was, that either Elias ſhould riſe again from the dead, or that his ſoul ſhould enter into ſome other body. * Iſa. 53, 24. * Matth. 17, 14.

11 ¶ [3] And they asked him, ſaying, Why ſay the Scribes that Elias muſt firſt come?

12 And he anſwered and told them, Elias verily cometh firſt, and reſtoreth all things, and * how it is written of the Sonne of man, that he muſt ſuffer many things, and be ſet at nought.

13 But I ſay unto you, that Elias is indeed come, and they have done unto him whatſoever they liſted, as it is written of him.

4 Chriſt sheweth by a miracle even to the unworthy, that he is come to bridle the rage of Satan.

14 ¶ * [4] And when he came to his diſciples, he ſaw a great multitude about them, and the Scribes queſtioning with them.

15 And ſtraightway all the people, when they beheld him, were greatly amazed, and running to him, ſaluted him.

16 And he asked the Scribes, What queſtion ye ‡ with them?

‡ Or, among your ſelves.

17 And one of the multitude anſwered and ſaid, Maſter, I have brought unto thee my ſonne, which hath a dumbe ſpirit:

18 And whereſoever he taketh him, he ‡ [f] teareth him; and he fometh, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away: and I ſpake to thy diſciples, that they ſhould caſt him out, and they could not.

‡ Or, dasheth him. f Vexeth him inwardly, as the colike uſeth to do.

19 He anſwered him, and ſaith, O faithleſſe generation, how long ſhall I be with you, how long ſhall I ſuffer you? bring him unto me.

20 And they brought him unto him: and when [g] he ſaw him, ſtraightway the ſpirit tare him, and he fell on the ground, and wallowed foming.

g So ſoon as Jeſus had looked upon the boy that was brought unto him, the devil began to rage after his manner.

21 And he asked his father, How long is it ago ſince this came unto him? And he ſaid, Of a childe.

22 And ofttimes it hath caſt him into the fire, and into the waters to deſtroy him: but if thou canſt do any thing, have compaſſion on us, and help us.

23 Jeſus ſaid unto him, If thou canſt beleeve, [h] all things are poſſible to him that beleeveth.

h There is nothing but Chriſt can and will doe it, for them that beleeve in him.

24 And ſtraightway the father of the childe cried out, and ſaid with tears, Lord, I beleeve, help thou mine unbelief.

25 When Jeſus ſaw that the people came running together, he rebuked the foul ſpirit, ſaying unto him, Thou dumbe and deaf ſpirit, I charge thee, Come out of him, and enter no more into him.

5 The nearer that the vertue of Chriſt is, the more outragiouſly doth Satan rage. 6 We have need of faith, and therefore of prayer and faſting, to caſt Satan out of his old poſſeſſion.

26 [5] And the ſpirit cried, and rent him ſore, and came out of him, and he was as one dead, inſomuch that many ſaid, He is dead.

27 But Jeſus took him by the hand, and lifted him up, and he aroſe.

28 [6] And when he was come into the houſe, his diſciples asked him privately, Why could not we caſt him out?

29 And he ſaid unto them, This kinde can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and faſting.

30 ¶ * And [i] they departed thence, and paſſed through Galilee, and he would not that any man ſhould know it.

* Matth. 17, 22. i He and his diſciples together.

31 [7] For he taught his diſciples, and ſaid unto them, The Sonne of man is delivered into the hands of men, and they ſhall kill him, and after that he is killed, he ſhall riſe the third day.

7 Chriſt forewarneth us with great diligence, to the end we ſhould not be oppreſſed with ſudden calamities, but the ſlothfulneſſe of man is wonderfull.

32 But they underſtood not that ſaying, and were afraid to ask him.

33 ¶ * [8] And he came to Capernaum, and being in the [k] houſe, he asked them, What was it that ye diſputed among your ſelves, by the way?

* Matth. 18, 1. 8 Onely humilitie doth exalt. k Where he was wont to make his abode.

34 But they held their peace; for by the way they had diſputed among themſelves, who ſhould be the greateſt.

35 And he ſat down and called the twelve, and ſaith unto them, If any man deſire to be firſt, the ſame ſhall be laſt of all, and ſervant of all.

36 And he took a childe, and ſet him in the midſt of them: and when he had taken him in his armes, he ſaid unto them, 37 Whoſoever ſhall receive one of ſuch children in my name, receiveth me: and whoſoever ſhall receive me, receiveth not me, [l] but him that ſent me.

l He doth not onely receive me, but alſo him that ſent me.

CHAP. X.

2 Christ disputeth with the Pharisees touching divorcement: 13 blesseth the children that are brought unto him: 17 resolveth a rich man how he may inherit life everlasting: 23 telleth his disciples of the danger of riches: 28 promiseth rewards to them that forsake any thing for the gospel: 32 foretelleth his death and resurrection: 35 biddeth the two ambitious suiters to think rather of suffering with him: 46 and restoreth to Bartimeus his sight.

AND * he [a] arose from thence, and cometh into the coasts of Judea by the farther side of Jordan: and the people resort unto him again; &, as he was wont, he taught them again.

* Matth. 19, 1.
a That is to say, departed and went from thence: for in the Hebrew tongue, sitting and dwelling are all one, and so arising and going forth.

2 ¶ And the Pharisees came to him, and asked him, Is it lawfull for a man to put away his wife? tempting him.

3 And he answered and said unto them, What did Moses command you?

4 And they said, Moses suffered to write a bill of divorcement, and to put her away.

5 [1] And Jesus answered and said unto them, For the hardnesse of your heart, he wrote you this [b] precept.

1 God did never allow those divorces which the law did tolerate.
b Look Matth. 19. For Moses gave them no commandment to put away their wives, but rather made a good provision for the wives against the stubborn hardnesse of their husbands.

6 But from the beginning of the creation, God made them male and female.

7 For this cause shall a man leave his father and mother, and cleave to his wife,

8 And they twain shall be one flesh: so then they are no more twain, but one flesh.

9 What therefore God hath joyned together, let not man put asunder.

10 And in the house his disciples asked him again of the same matter.

11 And he saith unto them, * Whosoever shall put away his wife, and marry another; [c] committeth adultery against her.

* Matth. 5, 32. and 19, 9.
c Whom he putteth away, for he is an adulterer by keeping company with another.

12 And if a woman shall put away her husband, and be married to another, she committeth adultery.

13 ¶ * [2] And they brought young children to him, that he should touch them, and his disciples rebuked those that brought them.

* Matth. 19, 13.
2 God of his goodnesse comprehendeth in the covenant not only the fathers, but the children also: and therefore he blesseth them.

14 But when Jesus saw it, he was much displeased, and said unto them, Suffer the little children to come unto me, and forbid them not: for of such is the kingdome of God.

15 Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdome of God [3] as a little childe, he shall not enter therein.

3 We must in malice become children, if we will enter into the kingdome of heaven.

16 And he took them up in his arms, put his hands upon them, and blessed them.

17 ¶ * [4] And when he was gone forth into the way, there came one running, and kneeled to him, and asked him, Good Master, what shall I do that I may inherit eternall life?

* Matth. 19, 16.
4 Two things are chiefly to be eschewed of them which earnestly seek eternall life: that is to say, an opinion of their merits or deservings, which is not onely understood, but condemned by the due consideration of the law: and the love of riches, which turneth aside many from that race wherein they ran with a good courage.

18 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? there is no man good, but one, that is God.

19 Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witnesse, [d] Defraud not, Honour thy father and mother.

d Neither by force nor deceit, nor any other meanes whatsoever.

20 And he answered and said unto him, Master, all these have I observed from my youth.

21 Then Jesus beholding him, loved him, and said unto him, One thing thou lackest, go thy way, sell whatsoever thou hast, and give to the poore, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come, take up the crosse, and follow me.

22 And he was sad at that saying, and went away grieved: for he had great possessions.

23 ¶ And Jesus looked round about, and saith unto his disciples, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdome of God!

24 And the disciples were astonished at his words. But Jesus answereth again, and saith unto them, Children, how hard is it for them that trust in riches, to enter into the Kingdome of God!

25 It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 And they were astonished out of measure, saying among themselves, Who then can be saved?

27 And Jesus looking upon them, saith, With men it is impossible, but not with God: for with God all things are possible.

28 ¶ * [5] Then Peter began to say unto him, Lo, we have left all, and have followed thee.

* Matth. 19, 27.
5 To neglect all things in comparison of Christ, is a sure way to eternal life, so that we fall not away by the way.

29 And Jesus answered and said, Verily I say unto you, There is no man that hath left house, or brethren, or sisters, or father, or mother, or wife, or children, or lands for my sake and the gospels, 30 But he shall [e] receive an hundred fold now in this time, houses, and brethren, and sisters, and mothers, and children, and lands, with [f] persecutions; and in the world to come eternall life.

e An hundred fold as much, if we look to the true use and commodities of this life, so that we measure them after the will of God, and not after the wealth it self, and our greedy desire.
f Even in the mids of persecution.

31 * But many that are first, shall be last: and the last, first.

* Matth. 19, 30.
* Matth. 20, 17.

32 ¶ * [6] And they were in the way going up to Jerusalem: and Jesus went before them, and they were amazed, and as they followed, they were afraid: and he took again the twelve, and began to tell them what things should happen unto him;

6 The disciples are again prepared to patience, not to be overcome, by the foretelling unto them of his death, which was at hand, and therewithall of life, which should most certainly follow.

33 Saying, behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and the Sonne of man shall be delivered unto the chief priests, and unto the Scribes: and they shall comdemn him to death, and shall deliver him to the Gentiles:

34 And they shall mock him, and shall scourge him, and shall spit upon him, and shall kill him, and the third day he shall rise again.

35 ¶ * [7] And James and John the sonnes of Zebedee come unto him, saying, Master, [g] we would that thou shouldst do for us whatsoever we shall desire.

* Matth. 20, 20.
7 We must first strive before we triumph.
g We pray thee.

42

36 And he ſaid unto them, What would ye that I ſhould do for you?

37 They ſaid unto him, Grant unto us that we may ſit, one on thy right hand, and the other on thy left hand, in thy glory.

38 But Jeſus ſaid unto them, Ye know not what ye aſk: can ye drink of the cup that I drink of? and be baptized with the baptiſme that I am baptized with?

39 And they ſaid unto him, We can. And Jeſus ſaid unto them, Ye ſhall indeed drink of the cup that I drink of; and with the baptiſme that I am baptized withall, ſhall ye be baptized:

40 But to ſit on my right hand and on my left hand, is not mine to give, but it ſhall be given to them for whom it is prepared.

41 And when the ten heard it, they began to be much diſpleaſed with James and John.

8 The magiſtrates according to Gods appointment rule over their ſubjects: but the paſtors are not called to rule, but to ſerve according to the example of the Son of God himſelf, who went before them, for ſo much as he alſo was a Miniſter of his Fathers will.

43 But ſo ſhall it not be among you: but whoſoever will be great among you, ſhall be your miniſter:

44 And whoſoever of you will be the chiefeſt, ſhall be ſervant of all.

45 For even the Sonne of man came not to be miniſted unto, but to miniſter, and to give his life a ranſome for many.

* Matt. 20, 29.
9 Chriſt onely, being called upon by faith, healeth our blindneſſe.

46 ¶ [9] And they came to Jericho: and as he went out of Jericho with his diſciples, and a great number of people; blind Bartimeus, the ſonne of Timeus, ſat by the high-way ſide, begging.

47 And when he heard that it was Jeſus of Nazareth, he began to cry out, and ſay, Jeſus, thou ſonne of David, have mercy on me.

48 And many charged him that he ſhould hold his peace: but he cried the more a great deal, Thou Sonne of David, have mercy on me.

49 And Jeſus ſtood ſtill, and commanded him to be called: and they call the blinde man, ſaying unto him, Be of good comfort, riſe, he calleth thee.

50 And he caſting away his garment, roſe, and came to Jeſus.

51 And Jeſus anſwered and ſaid unto him, What wilt thou that I ſhould do unto thee? The blinde man ſaid unto him, Lord, that I might receive my ſight.

‡ Or, ſaved thee.

52 And Jeſus ſaid unto him, Go thy way, thy faith hath [‡] made the whole: and immediately he received his ſight, and followed Jeſus in the way.

CHAP. XI.

1 Chriſt rideth with triumph into Jeruſalem: 12 curſeth the fruitleſſe leafie tree: 15 purgeth the temple: 20 exhorteth his diſciples to ſtedfaſtneſſe of faith, and to forgive their enemies: 27 and defendeth the lawfulneſſe of his actions, by the witneſſe of John, who was a man ſent of God.

* Mat. 21, 1.
1 A lively image of the ſpirituall kingdome of Chriſt on earth.

AND * [1] when they came nigh to Jeruſalem, unto Bethphage, and Bethanie, at the mount of Olives, he ſendeth forth two of his diſciples,

2 And ſaith unto them, Go your way into the village over againſt you, and aſſoon as ye be entred into it, ye ſhall finde a colt tied, whereon never man ſat, looſe him, and bring him,

3 And if any man ſay unto you, Why do ye this? ſay ye that the Lord hath need of him, and ſtraightway he will ſend him hither.

4 And they went their way, and found the cold tied by the doore without, in a place where two wayes met: and they looſe him.

5 And certain of them that ſtood there, ſaid unto them, What do ye looſing the colt?

6 And they ſaid unto them even as Jeſus had commanded: and they let them go.

7 And they brought the colt to Jeſus, and caſt their garments on him, and he ſat upon him.

8 And many ſpread their garments in the way: and others cut down branches of the trees, and ſtrawed them in the way.

9 And they that went before, and they that followed, cried, ſaying, Hoſanna, [a] bleſſed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

a well be it to him that cometh to us from God, or that is ſent of God.

10 [b] Bleſſed be the kingdome of our father David, that cometh in the name of the Lord, Hoſanna in the higheſt.

b Happie and proſperous.

11 And Jeſus entred into Jeruſalem, and into the temple; and when he had looked round about upon all things, and now the eventide was come, he went out unto Bethanie with the twelve.

12 ¶ And on the morrow when they were come from Bethanie, he was hungry.

13 * [2] And ſeeing a fig-tree afarre off, having leaves, he came, if haply he might finde any thing thereon: and when he came to it, he found nothing but leaves; for the time of figs was not yet.

* Mat. 21, 19.
2 An example of that vengeance which hangeth over the heads of hypocrites.

14 And Jeſus anſwered and ſaid unto it, No man eat fruit of thee hereafter for ever. And his diſciples heard it.

15 ¶ * [3] And they come to Jeruſalem, and Jeſus went into the temple, and began to caſt out them that ſold and bought in the temple, and overthrew the tables of the money-changers, and the ſeats of them that ſold doves:

* Matt. 21, 12.
3 Chriſt ſheweth indeed that he is the true King and high Prieſt, and therefore the revenger of the divine ſervice of the temple.

16 And would not ſuffer that any man ſhould carry any [c] veſſel through the temple.

c That is, any prophane inſtrument of which thoſe fellowes had a number, that made the court of the temple a market place.

17 And he taught, ſaying unto them, Is it not written, My houſe ſhall be [d] called of all nations the houſe of prayer? but ye have made it a den of theeves.

d Shall openly be ſo accounted and taken.

18 And the Scribes and chief prieſts heard it, and ſought how they might deſtroy him: for they feared him, becauſe all the people was aſtoniſhed at his doctrine.

19 And when even was come, he went out of the citie.

20 ¶ * [4] And in the morning, as they paſſed by, they ſaw the fig-tree dried up from the roots.

* Mat. 21, 19.
4 The force of faith is exceeding great, and charitie is ever joyned with it.

21 And Peter calling to remembrance, ſaith unto unto him, Master, behold, the fig-tree which thou cursedst, is withered away.

22 And Jesus answering, saith unto them, ‡ [c] Have faith in God.

‡ Or, have the faith of God.
c The faith of God is that assured faith and trust which we have in him.

23 For verily I say unto you, that whosoever shall say unto this mountain, Be thou removed, and be thou cast in to the sea, and shall not doubt in his heart, but shall beleeve that those things which he saith shall come to passe, he shall have whatsoever he saith.

24 Therefore I say unto you, * What things soever ye desire when ye pray, beleeve that [f] ye receive them, and ye shall have them.

* Matth. 7, 7.
f Word for word, that you receive it, speaking in the time that now is, to shew the certaintie of the thing, and the performance in deed.

25 And when ye stand, praying, [g] * forgive, if ye have ought against any: that your Father also which is in heaven may forgive you your trespasses.

* Matth. 6, 14.
g When you shall appear before the altar.

26 But if you do not forgive, neither will your Father which is in heaven, forgive your trespasses.

27 ¶ [5] And they come again to Jerusalem, * and as he was walking in the temple, there come to him the chief priests, and the Scribes, and the elders,

5 The Gospel hath been assaulted long time since, under the pretence of an ordinary succession.
* Matth. 21, 23.

28 And say unto him, By what authoritie doest thou these things, and who gave thee this authority to do these things?

29 And Jesus answered and said unto them, I will also ask of you one ‡ question, and answer me, and I will tell you by what authority I do these things.

‡ Or, thing.

30 The baptisme of John, was it from heaven, or of men? answer me.

31 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven, he will say, Why then did ye not beleeve him?

32 [6] But if we shall say, Of men, they feared the people: for all men counted John, that he was a prophet indeed.

6 A reward of an evil conscience to be afraid of those, of whom they should and might have been feared.

33 And they answered and said unto Jesus, We cannot tell. And Jesus answering saith unto them, Neither do I tell you by what authority I do these things.

Chap. XII.

1 In a parable of the vineyard let out to unthankfull husbandmen, Christ foretelleth the reprobation of the Jews, and the calling of the Gentiles. 13 He avoideth the snare of the Pharisees and Herodians about paying tribute to Cesar: 18 convinceth the errour of the Sadduces, who denied the resurrection: 28 resolveth the Scribe, who questioned of the first commandment: 35 refuteth the opinion that the Scribes held of Christ: 38 bidding the people to beware of their ambition and hypocrisie: 41 and commendeth the poore widow for her two mites, above all.

* Matth. 21, 33.
1 The calling of God is not tied, either to place, person, or time without exception.

And * [1] he began to speak unto them by [a] parables. A certain man planted a vineyard, and set an hedge about it, and digged a place for the winefat, and built a tower, and let it out to husbandmen, and went into a farre country.

a This word parable which the Evangelists use, doth not onely signifie a comparing of things together, but also dark speeches and allegories.

2 [b] And at the season he sent to the husbandmen a servant, that he might receive from the husbandmen of the fruit of the vineyard.

b When the fruits of the ground use to be gathered.

3 And they caught him and beat him, and sent him away empty.

4 And again he sent unto them another servant; and at him they cast stones, and wounded him in the head, and sent him away shamefully handled.

5 And again, he sent another, and him they killed: and many others, beating some, and killing some.

6 Having yet therefore one sonne, his welbeloved, he sent him also last unto them, saying, They will reverence my sonne.

7 But those husbandmen said amongst themselves, This is the heir, come, let us kill him, and the inheritance shall be ours.

8 And they took him, and killed him, and cast him out of the vineyard.

9 What shall therefore the Lord of the vineyard do? he will come and destroy the husbandmen, and will give the vineyard unto others.

10 * And have ye not read this scripture? The stone which the builders rejected is become the head of the corner.

* Psal. 118, 22.

11 This was the Lords doing, and it is marvellous in our eyes.

12 And they [c] sought to lay hold on him, but feared the people, for they knew that he had spoken the parable against them: and they left him, and went their way.

c They were greedy and very desirous.

13 ¶ * [2] And they send unto him certain of the Pharisees, and of the Herodians, to catch him in his words.

* Matth. 22, 15.
2 The gospel joyneth the authoritie of the magistrate with the service of God.

14 And when they were come, they say unto him, Master, we know that thou art true, and carest for no man: for thou [d] regardest not the person of men, but teachest the [e] way of God in truth: Is it lawfull to give tribute to Cesar, or not?

d Thou doest not so judge by outward appearance, that the truth is thereby darkened any whit at all.
e The way whereby we come to God.

15 Shall we give, or shall we not give? But he knowing their hypocrisie, said unto them, Why tempt ye me? bring me a ‡ peny, that I may see it.

‡ Valuing of our money seven pence half peny, as Matth. 18, 28.

16 And they brought it: and he saith unto them, Whose is this image and superscription? And they said unto him, Cesars.

17 And Jesus answering said unto them, Render to Cesar the things that are Cesars, and to God the things that are Gods. And they marvelled at him.

18 ¶ * [3] Then come unto him the Sadduces, which say there is no resurrection, and they asked him, saying,

* Matth. 22, 23.
3 The resurrection of the body is avouched against the foolish ignorance and malice of the Sadduces.

19 Master, Moses wrote unto us, If a mans brother die, and leave his wife behinde him, and leave no children, that his brother should take his wife, & raise up seed unto his brother.

20 Now there were seven brethren: and the first took a wife, and dying left no seed.

21 And the second took her, and died, neither left he any seed, and the third likewise.

22 And the seven had her, and left no seed: last of all the woman died also.

23 In the resurrection therefore when they shall rise, whose wife shall she be of them? for the seven had her to wife.

24 And Jesus answering said unto them, Do ye not therefore erre, because ye know not the scriptures, neither the power of God?

25 For when they shall rise from the dead, they neither marry nor are given in marriage: but are as the angels which are in heaven.

26 And as touching the dead, that they rise: have ye not read in the book of Moses, how in the bush God spake unto him, saying, I am the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob?

27 He is not the God of the dead, but the God of the living: ye therefore do greatly erre.

28 ¶ * [4] And one of the Scribes came, and having heard them reasoning together, and perceiving that he had answered them well, asked him, Which is the first commandment of all?

* Mat. 22, 35.
4 Sacrifices and outward worship never pleased God, unlesse such necessary duties as we owe to God and our neighbours went afore.

29 And Jesus answered him, The first of all the commandments is, Heare, O Israel, the Lord our God is one Lord?

30 And thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy minde, and with all thy strength: this is the first commandment.

31 And the second is like, namely this, Thou shalt love thy neighbour as thy self: there is none other commandment greater than these.

32 And the Scribe said unto him, Well Master, thou hast said the truth: for there is one God, and there is none other but he,

33 And to love him with all the heart, and with all the understanding, and with all the soul, and with all the strength, and to love his neighbour as himself, is more than all whole-burnt-offerings, and sacrifices.

34 And when Jesus saw that he answered discreetly, he said unto him, Thou art not farre from the kingdome of God. And no man after that durst ask him any question.

* Mat. 22, 41.
5 Christ proveth his Godhead even out of David himself, of whom he came according to the flesh.
f Word for word, in the holy Ghost, and there is a great force in this kinde of speech, whereby is meant, that it was not so much David, as the holy Ghost that spake, who did in a manner possesse David.

35 ¶ * [5] And Jesus answered and said, while he taught in the temple, How say the Scribes that Christ is the sonne of David?

36 For David himself said by the [f] holy Ghost, The LORD said to my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

37 David therefore himself calleth him Lord, and whence is he then his sonne? and the common people heard him gladly.

6 The manners of ministers are not rashly to be followed as an example.
g Whiles he taught them.
* Mat. 23, 5.
h The word is a stole, which is a kinde of womans garment, long even down to the heels, and is taken generally, for any garment made for comlinesse, but in this place it seemeth to signifie, That fringed garment, mentioned in Deut. 22, 11.

38 ¶ [6] And he said unto them in his [g] doctrine, * Beware of the Scribes which love to go in [h] long clothing, and love salutations in the market-places,

39 And the chief seats in the synagogues, and the uppermost rooms at feasts:

40 * Which devoure widows houses, and for a pretence make long prayers: these shall receive greater damnation.

41 ¶ * [7] And Jesus sat over against the treasury, and beheld how the people cast [‡ i] money into the treasury: and many that were rich cast in much.

* Luke 21, 1.
7 The doing of our duties, which God alloweth, is not esteemed according to the outward value, but to the inward affects of the heart.
‡ A piece of brasse money. See Mat. 10, 9.
i Money of any kinde of metall as the Romanes used, who in the beginning did stamp or coine brasse, and after used it for currant money.

42 And there came a certain poore widow, and she threw in two " mites, which make a farthing.

" It is the seventh part of one piece of that brasse money.

43 And he called unto him his disciples, and saith unto them, Verily I say unto you, that this poore widow hath cast more in, than all they which have cast into the treasury.

44 For all they did cast in of their abundance: but she of her want did cast in all that she had, even all her living.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Christ fortelleth the destruction of the temple: 9 the persecutions for the gospel: 10 that the gospel must be preached to all nations: 14 that great calamities shall happen to the Jews: 24 and the manner of his coming to judgement. 32 The houre whereof being known to none, every man is to watch and pray, that we be not found unprovided, when he cometh to each one particularly by death.

AND * [1] as he went out of the temple, one of his disciples saith unto him, Master, see what manner of stones, and what buildings are here.

* Mat. 24, 1.
1 The destruction of the temple, citie, and whole nation is foretold, and the troubles of the church: but yet there are annexed many comforts, and last of all, the end of the world is described.

2 And Jesus answering saith unto him, Seest thou these great buildings? there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

3 And as he sat upon the mount of Olives, over against the temple, Peter, and James, and John, and Andrew asked him privately,

4 * Tell us, when shall these things be? and what shall be the signe when all these things shall be fulfilled?

* Mat. 24, 3.

5 And Jesus answering them, began to say, Take heed lest any man deceive you.

6 For many shall come in my name, saying, I am Christ: and shall deceive many.

7 And when ye shall heare of warres, and rumours of warres, be ye not troubled: for such things must needs be, but the end shall not be yet.

8 For nation shall rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome: and there shall be earthquakes in divers places, and there shall be famines, and troubles: these are the beginnings of " sorrows.

" The word in the original importeth the pains of a woman in travail.

9 ¶ But take heed to your selves: for they shall deliver you up to councels, and in the synagogues ye shall be beaten, and ye shall be brought before rulers and kings for my sake, for a [a] testimony against them.

a The hearing of your preaching, shall be a most evident witnesse against them, so that they shall not be able to pretend ignorance.

10 And the Gospel must first be published among all nations.

* Matt. 10, 19.
b We are not forbidden to think beforehand, but pensive carefulnesse, whereby men discourage themselves, which proceedeth from distrust, and want of confidence and sure hope of Gods assistance, that carefulnesse we are willed to beware of, Look Matt. 6, 27.
c By any kinde of artificious and cunning kinde of talke what to speak.
d For me.

11 * But when they shall lead you, and deliver you up, [b] take no thought beforehand what ye shall speak, neither do ye [c] premeditate: but whatsoever shall be given you in that houre, that speak ye: for it is not ye that speak, but the holy Ghost.

12 Now the brother shall betray the brother to death, and the father the sonne: and children shall rise up against their parents, and shall cause them to be put to death.

13 And ye shall be hated of all men for my [d] names sake: but he that shall endure unto the end, the same shall be saved.

* Matt. 24, 15.
e When the heathen and profane people shall not onely enter into the temple, and defile both it, and the city, but also clean destroy it.

14 ¶ * But when ye shall see the abomination of desolation, spoken of by Daniel the prophet, [e] standing where it ought not, (let him that that readeth, understand) then let them that be in Judea, flee to the mountains:

15 And let him that is on the house top, not go down into the house, neither enter therein, to take any thing out of his house.

16 And let him that is in the field, not turn back again for to take up his garment.

17 But wo to them that are with childe, and to them that give suck in those dayes.

18 And pray ye that your flight be not in the winter:

19 For [f] in those dayes shall be affliction, such as was not from the beginning of the creation which God created, unto this time, neither shall be.

20 And except that the Lord had shortened those dayes, no flesh should be saved: but for the elects sake, whom he hath chosen, he hath shortened the dayes.

21 * And then, if any man shall say to you, Lo, here is Christ, or lo, he is there: beleeve him not.

22 For false Christs, and false prophets shall rise, and shall shew signes and wonders, to seduce, if it were possible, even the elect.

23 But take ye heed: behold, I have foretold you all things.

24 ¶ * But in those dayes, after that tribulation, the sunne shall be darkened, and the moon shall not give her light.

25 And the starres of heaven shall fall, and the powers that are in heaven shall be shaken.

26 And then shall they see the Sonne of man coming in the clouds, with great power and glory.

27 And then shall he send his angels, and shall gather together his elect from the foure windes, from the uttermost part of the earth to the uttermost part of heaven.

28 Now learn a parable of the fig-tree, When her branch is yet tender, and putteth forth leaves, ye know that summer is neare:

29 So ye in like manner, when ye shall see these things come to passe, know that it is nigh, even at the doores.

30 Verily I say unto you, that this generation shall not passe, till all these things be done.

31 Heaven and earth shall passe away: but my words shall not passe away.

32 ¶ [z] But of that day and that houre knoweth no man, no not the angels which are in heaven, neither the Sonne, but the Father.

33 * Take ye heed, watch and pray: for ye know not when the time is.

34 For the sonne of man is as a man taking a farre journey, who left his house, and gave authority to his servants, and to every man his work, and commanded the porter to watch.

35 Watch ye therefore, (for ye know not when the master of the house cometh, at even, or at midnight, or at the cock-crowing, or in the morning)

36 Lest coming suddenly, he finde you sleeping.

37 And what I say unto you, I say unto all, Watch.

Chap. XIIII.

1 A conspiracy against Christ. 3 Precious ointment is poured on his head by a woman. 10 Judas selleth his master for money. 12 Christ himself foretelleth how he shall be betrayed of one of his disciples: 22 after the passeover prepared, and eaten, instituteth his supper: 26 declareth aforehand the flight of all his disciples, and Peters denial. 43 Judas betrayeth him with a kisse. 46 He is apprehended in the garden, 55 falsly accused, and impiously condemned of the Jews counsel, 65 shamefully abused by them, 66 and thrice denied of Peter.

After * [1] two dayes, was the feast of the passeover, and of unleavened bread: and the chief priests and the Scribes sought how they might take him by craft, and put him to death.

2 But they said, Not on the feast-day, lest there be an uprore of the people.

3 ¶ * And being in Bethanie, in the house of Simon the leper, as he sat at meat, there came a woman, having an alabaster box of ointment of [‡] spike nard, very precious, and she brake the box, and poured it on his head.

4 [2] And there were some that had indignation within themselves, and said, Why was this waste of the ointment made?

5 For it might have been sold for more than three hundred "[a] pence, and have been given to the poore: and they murmured against her.

6 And Jesus said, Let her alone, why trouble ye her? she hath wrought a good work on me.

7 [3] For you have the poore with you alwayes, and whensoever ye will ye may do them good: but me ye have not alwayes.

8 [4] She hath done what she could: she is come aforehand to anoint my body to the burying,

9 Verily I say unto you, Whereseever this gospel shall be preached throughout the whole world, this also that she hath done shall be spoken of, for a memoriall of her.

10 ¶ * [5] And Judas Iscariot, one of the twelve, went unto the chief priests, to betray him unto them.

11 And when they heard it, they were glad, and promised to give him money. And he sought how he might conveniently betray him.

12 ¶ * [6] And the first day of [b] unleavened bread, when they [‡c] killed the [d] passeover, his disciples said unto him, Where wilt thou that we go and prepare, that thou mayest eat the passeover?

13 And he sendeth forth two of his disciples, and saith unto them, Go ye into the city, and there shall meet you a man bearing a pitcher of water: follow him.

14 And whereseever he shall go in, say ye to the good-man of the house, The Master saith, Where is the guest-chamber, where I shall eat the passeover with my disciples?

15 And he will shew you a [e] large upper room furnished and prepared: there make ready for us.

---

f This is a kinde of speech which the Hebrews use, and it hath a great force in it, for it giveth us to understand that in all that time one misery shall so follow upon another, as if the time it self were very misery it self. So the prophet Amos 5,20. saith, that the day of the Lord shall be darknesse.

* Matt. 24, 23.

* Matt. 24, 29.

z The latter day is not curiously to be searched for, which the Father alone knoweth: but let us rather take heed, that it come not upon us unawares.

* Matt. 24, 42.

* Matt. 26, 2.

1 By the will of God, against the councell of men, it came to passe that Christ should be put to death upon the solemn day of the passeover, that in all respects the truth might agree to the figure.

* Matt. 26, 6.

‡ Or, pure nard or liquid nard.

2 Rash judgements are frustrate before God.

" See Matth. 18, 28.

a Which is about six pounds English.

3 Christ suffered himself to be anointed once or twice for certain considerations: but his will is to be daily anointed in the poore.

4 This woman by the secret instinct of the spirit, anointing Christ, setteth before mens eyes his death and buriall, which were at hand.

* Matth. 26, 14.

5 Covetousnesse cloaked with a zeal of charitie, is an occasion to betray and crucifie Christ.

* Matth. 26, 17.

6 Christ being made subject to the law for us, doeth celebrate the passeover according to the law: and therewithall by a miracle sheweth, that notwithstanding he in the flesh shall straightway suffer, yet that he is God.

b That is, upon which day, and at the evening of the same day, which was the beginning of the fifteenth. Look Matth. 26. 17.

‡ Or, sacrificed.

c They used to sacrifice.

d This is spoken thus, by the figure Metonymia, which is usuall in sacraments, and by the passeover is meant the paschal lambe.

e The Greek word signifieth that part of the house that is highest from the ground, to what use soever it be put, because they used to sup in that part of the house. they called it a supping chamber.

46

16 And his disciples went forth, and came into the city, and found as he had said unto them: and they made ready the passeover.

17 And in the evening he cometh with the twelve.

* Matth. 26, 20.

18 * [7] And as they sat, and did eat, Jesus said, Verily I say unto you, one of you which eateth with me, shall betray me.

7 The figure of the law which is by and by to be fulfilled, is abrogated: and in place thereof are but figures of the new covenant answerable unto them, which shall continue to the worlds end.

19 And they began to be sorrowfull, and to say unto him one by one, Is it I? and another saith, Is it I?

20 And he answered and said unto them, It is one of the twelve, that [f] dippeth with me in the dish.

f That useth to eat meat with me.

21 The Sonne of man indeed goeth, as it is written of him: but wo to that man by whom the Sonne of man is betrayed: good were it for that man if he had never been born.

* Matth. 26, 26.

22 ¶ * And as they did eat, Jesus took bread, and blessed, and brake it, and gave to them, and said, Take, eat: this is my body.

23 And he took the cup, and when he had given thanks, he gave it to them: and they all drank of it.

24 And he said unto them, This is my bloud of the new testament, which is shed for many.

25 Verily I say unto you, I will drink no more of the fruit of the vine, untill that day that I drink it new in the kingdome of God.

‡ Or, psalme.

26 ¶ And when they had sung an ‡ hymn, they went out into the mount of Olives.

* Matth. 26, 31.

27 * [8] And Jesus saith unto them, All ye shall be offended becaufe of me this night: for it is written, I will smite the shepherd, and the sheep shall be scattered.

8 Christ foretelleth how he shall be forsaken of his, but yet that he will never forsake them.

28 But after that I am risen, I will go before you into Galilee.

* Matth. 26, 33.

29 * [9] But Peter said unto him, Although all be offended, yet will not I.

9 Here is set forth in an excellent person, a most sorrowfull example of mans rashnesse and weaknesse.

30 And Jesus saith unto him, Verily I say unto thee, that this day, even in this night before the cock crow twice, thou shalt deny me thrice.

g That doubling of words setteth out more plainly Peters vehement affirmation.

31 But he spake the [g] more vehemently, If I should die with thee, I will not deny thee in any wise. Likewise also said they all.

10 Christ suffering for us, in that flesh which he took upon him for our sakes, the most horrible terrours of the curse of God, receiveth the cup at his fathers hands, which he, being just, doth straightway drink off for the iniust.

32 [10] * And they came to a place which was named Gethsemane, and he saith to his disciples, Sit ye here, while I shall pray.

* Matth. 26, 36.

33 And he taketh with him Peter, and James, and John, and began to be sore amazed, and to be very heavy,

34 And saith unto them, My soul is exceeding sorrowfull unto death: tarry ye here, and watch.

h This doubling of the word, was used in those dayes when their languages were so mixed together: for this word, Abba, is a Syrian word.

35 And he went forward a little, and fell on the ground, and prayed, that if it were possible the houre might passe from him.

36 And he said, [h] Abba, Father, All things are possible unto thee, take away this cup from me: nevertheless, not what I will, but what thou wilt.

11 An horrible example of sluggishnesse of men, even in the disciples whom Christ had chosen.

37 [11] And he cometh and findeth them sleeping, and saith unto Peter, Simon, sleepest thou? couldst not thou watch one houre?

38 Watch ye and pray, lest ye enter into temptation: the spirit truly is ready, but the flesh is weak.

39 And again he went away, and prayed, and spake the same words.

40 And when he returned, he found them asleep again, (for their eyes were heavy) neither wist they what to answer him.

41 And he cometh the third time, and saith unto them, Sleep on now, and take your rest: it is enough, the houre is come, behold, the Sonne of man is betrayed into the hands of sinners.

42 Rise up, let us go; lo, he that betrayeth me is at hand.

* Matth. 26, 47.

43 ¶ * [12] And immediately, while he yet spake, cometh Judas, one of the twelve, and with him a great multitude with swords and staves, from the chief priests, and the Scribes, and the elders.

12 As men did willingly spoil God their Creator of his praise, in forsaking and betraying him: so Christ willingly going about to make satisfaction for this ruine, is forsaken of his own, and betrayed by one of his familiars, as a thief, that the punishment might be agreeable to the sin, and we who are very traytors, forsakers, and sacrilegers, might be delivered out of the devils snare.

44 And he that betrayed him, had given them a token, saying, Whomsoever I shall kisse, that same is he; take him, and lead him away [i] safely.

i So diligently, that he escape not out of your hands.

45 And assoon as he was come, he goeth straightway to him, and saith, Master, Master, and kissed him.

46 ¶ And they laid their hands on him, and took him.

47 [k] And one of them that stood by, drew a sword, and smote a servant of the high priest, and cut off his eare.

k That is, Peter.

48 And Jesus answered and said unto them, Are ye come out as against a thief, with swords and with staves to take me?

39 I was daily with you in the temple, teaching, and ye took me not: but the scriptures must be fulfilled.

50 And they [l] all forsook him, and fled.

l All his disciples.

51 [13] And there followed him a certain young man, having a [m] linnen cloth cast about his naked body, and the young men laid hold on him.

13 Under pretence of godlinesse, all things are lawfull to such as do violence against Christ.

m Which he cast about him, when he hearing that stirre in the night, suddenly ran forth: whereby we may understand with how great licentiousnesse these villains violently set upon him.

52 And he left the linnen cloth, and fled from them naked.

53 ¶ * And they led Jesus away to the high priest, and with him were assembled [n] all the chief priests, and the elders, and the Scribes.

* Matth. 26, 57.

n The highest councel was assembled, because Christ was accused as a blasphemer, and a false prophet: for as for the other crime of treason, it was forged against him by the priests, to enforce Pilate by that meanes to condemn him.

54 And Peter followed him afarre off, even into the palace of the high priest: and he sat with the servants, and warmed himself at the fire.

55 * [14] And the chief priests, and all the councel sought for witnesse against Jesus to put him to death, and found none.

* Matth. 26, 59.

14 Christ, who was so innocent that he could not be oppressed, no not by false witnesses, is at length, for confessing God to be his Father, condemned of impiety before the high priests: that we, who denied God, and were indeed wicked, might be quit before God.

56 For many bare false witnesse against him, but their witnesse agreed not together.

57 And there arose certain, and bare false witnesse against him, saying,

58 We heard him say, I will destroy this temple that is made with hands, and within three dayes I will build another made without hands.

59 But neither ſo did their witneſſe agree together.

60 And the high prieſt ſtood up in the midſt, and asked Jeſus, ſaying, Anſwereſt thou nothing? what is it which theſe witneſſe againſt thee?

61 But he held his peace, and anſwered nothing. Again the high prieſt asked him, and ſaid unto him, Art thou the Chriſt, the Sonne of the ° bleſſed?

° Of God who is moſt worthy of all praiſe.

62 And Jeſus ſaid, I am: * and ye ſhall ſee the Sonne of man ſitting on the right hand of power, and coming in the clouds of heaven.

* Matth. 24, 30.

63 Then the high prieſt rent his clothes, & ſaith, What need we any further witneſſes?

64 Ye have heard the blaſphemie: what think ye? And they all condemned him to be guilty of death.

65 [15] And ſome began to ſpit on him, and to cover his face, and to buffet him, and to ſay unto him, Propheſie: and the ſervants did ſtrike him with the palms of their hands.

15 Chriſt ſuffering all kinde of reproch for our ſakes, getteth everlaſting glory to them that beleeve in him.

66 ¶ * [16] And as Peter was beneath in the palace, there cometh one of the maids of the high prieſt.

* Matth. 26, 69.

16 An heavy example of the frailneſſe of man, together with a moſt comfortable example of the mercie of God, who giveth the ſpirit of repentance and faith to his elect.

67 And when she ſaw Peter warming himſelf, she looked upon him, and ſaid, And thou alſo waſt with Jeſus of Nazareth.

68 But he denied, ſaying, I know not, neither underſtand I what thou ſayeſt. And he went out into the porch, and the cock crew.

69 [p] And a maid ſaw him again, and began to ſay to them that ſtood by, This is one of them.

p If we compare the Euangeliſts diligently together, we ſhall perceive that Peter was known of many through the maidens report: yea, and in Luke when the ſecond deniall is ſpoken of there is a man ſervant mentioned, and not a maid.

70 And he denied it again. And a little after, they that ſtood by ſaid again to Peter, Surely thou art one of them: for thou art a Galilean, and thy ſpeech agreeth thereto.

71 But he began to curſe and to ſwear, ſaying, I know not this man of whom ye ſpeak.

* Matth. 26, 75.

72 * And the ſecond time the cock crew: and Peter called to minde the word that Jeſus ſaid unto him, Before the cock crow twice, thou ſhalt deny me thrice. And when he thought thereon, ‡ he wept.

‡ Or, he wept abundantly, or he began to weep.

Chap. XV.

1 Jeſus brought bound and accuſed before Pilate. 15 upon clamour of the common people, the murderer Barrabas is looſed, and Jeſus delivered up to be crucified. 17 He is crowned with thorns, 19 ſpit on, and mocked: 21 fainteth in bearing his croſſe: 27 hangeth between two theeves: 29 ſuffereth the triumphing reproaches of the Jews: 39 but confeſſed by the centurion to be the Sonne of God: 43 and is honourably buried by Joſeph.

* Matt. 27, 1.

AND * [1] ſtraightway in the morning the chief prieſts held a conſultation with the elders and Scribes, and the whole counſel, and bound Jeſus, and carried him away, and [a] delivered him to Pilate.

1 Chriſt being brought before the judgement ſeat of an earthly judge, in open aſſembly is condemned as guiltie unto the death of the croſſe, not for his own ſinnes, (as appeareth by the judges own words) but for all ours, that wee moſt guilty creatures being delivered from the guiltineſſe of our ſinnes, might be quitted before the judgement ſeat of God, even in open aſſembly of the angels. a It was not lawfull for them to put any man to death, for all cauſes of life and death were taken away from them, firſt by Herod the great, and afterward by the Romanes, about fourtie yeares before the deſtruction of the temple, and therefore they deliver Jeſus to Pilate.

2 And Pilate asked him, Art thou the king of the Jews? And he anſwering ſaid unto him, Thou ſayeſt it.

3 And the chief prieſts accuſed him of many things: but he anſwered nothing. 47

4 * And Pilate asked him again, ſaying, Anſwereſt thou nothing? behold how many things they witneſſe againſt thee. * Matth. 27, 13.

5 But Jeſus yet anſwered nothing; ſo that Pilate marvelled.

6 Now at that feaſt he [b] releaſed unto them one priſoner, whomſoever they deſired. b Uſed to deliver.

7 And there was one named Barabbas, which lay bound with them that had made inſurrection with him, who had committed murder in the inſurrection.

8 And the multitude crying aloud, began to deſire him to do as he had ever done unto them.

9 But Pilate anſwered them, ſaying, Will ye that I releaſe unto you the king of the Jews?

10 (For he knew that the chief prieſts had delivered him for envie)

11 But the chief prieſts moved the people, that he ſhould rather releaſe Barabbas unto them.

12 And Pilate anſwered, and ſaid again unto them, What will ye then that I ſhall do unto him whom ye call the king of the Jews?

13 And they cried out again, Crucifie him.

14 Then Pilate ſaid unto them, Why, what evil hath he done? And they cried out the more exceedingly, Crucifie him.

15 ¶ And ſo Pilate willing to content the people, releaſed Barabbas unto them, and delivered Jeſus, when he had ſcourged him, to be crucified.

16 And the ſouldiers led him away into the hall, called Pretorium, and they call together the whole band.

17 [2] And they clothed him with purple, and platted a crown of thorns, and put it about his head,

2 Chriſt going about to take away the ſinnes of men, who went about to uſurp the throne of God himſelf, is condemned as one that hunted after the kingdome, and mocked with a falſe ſhew of a kingdome, that we on the other ſide, who ſhall indeed be eternall kings, might receive the crown of glory at Gods own hand.

18 And began to ſalute him, Hail king of the Jews.

19 And they ſmote him on the head with a reed, and did ſpit upon him, and bowing their knees, worſhipped him.

20 And when they had mocked him, they took off the purple from him, and put his own clothes on him, and led him out to crucifie him.

21 * And they [3] compell one Simon a Cyrenian, who paſſed by, coming out of the countrey, the father of Alexander and Rufus, to bear his croſſe.

* Matth. 27, 32.

3 The rage of the wicked hath no meaſure, but in the mean ſeaſon, even the weakneſſe of Chriſt, being in pain under the heavie burden of the croſſe, doeth manifeſtly ſhew that a lamb is led to be ſacrificed.

22 [4] And they bring him unto the place Golgotha, which is, being interpreted, the place of a ſcull.

4 Chriſt is led out of the walls of the earthly Jeruſalem, into a foul place of dead mens carkaſes, as a man moſt unclean, not touching himſelf, but touching our ſinnes, which were laid upon him, to the end that we being made clean by his bloud, might be brought into the heavenly ſanctuarie.

23 And they gave him to drink, wine mingled with myrrhe: but he received it not.

24 [5] And when they had crucified him, they parted his garments, caſting lots upon them, what every man ſhould take.

5 Chriſt hangeth naked upon the croſſe and as the wickedeſt caitife that ever was, moſt vilely reproved: that we being clothed with his righteouſneſſe, and bleſſed with his curſes, and ſanctified by his onely obla-tion, may be taken up into heaven.

25 And

48

25 And it was the third houre, and they crucified him.

26 And the superscription of his accusation was written over, THE KING OF THE JEWS.

27 And with him they crucifie two theeves, the one on his right hand, and the other on his left.

* Isa. 53, 12.

28 And the scripture was fulfilled, which saith, * And he was numbred with the transgressours.

29 And they that passed by, railed on him, wagging their heads, and saying, Ah, thou that destroyest the temple, and buildest it in three dayes, 30 Save thy self, and come down from the crosse.

31 Likewise also the chief priests mocking, said among themselves with the Scribes, He saved others, himself he cannot save.

32 Let Christ the king of Israel descend now from the crosse, that we may see and beleeve: and they that were crucified with him, reviled him.

6 How angry God was against our sinnes, which he punished in our suretie, his Sonne, it appeareth by this horrible darknesse.

33 And when the sixth houre was come, there was [6] darknesse over the whole [c] land, untill the ninth houre.

c By this word Land, he meaneth Palestina: so that the strangenesse of the wonder, is so much the more set forth in that, that at the feast of the passeover, and in the full moone, when the sunne shined over all the rest of the world, and at midday, that corner of the world, wherein so wicked an act was committed, was overcovred with most grosse darknesse.

34 And at the [7] ninth houre Jesus cried with a loud voice, saying, * Eloi, Eloi, lama sabachthani? which is, being interpreted, My God, my God, why hast thou forsaken me?

7 Christ striving mightily with Satan, with sinne, and with death, all three armed with the horrible curse of God, grievously tormented in body hanging upon the crosse, and in soul plunged in the depth of hell, yet he ridded himself, crying with a mighty voyce: and notwithstanding the wound which he received of death, in that he died, yet by smiting, both things above, and things beneath, by renting of the vail of the temple, and by the testimony wrung out of them which murdered him, he sheweth evidently unto the rest of his enemies which are as yet obstinate, and mock at him, that he shall be, known out of hand to be conquerour and Lord of all.

35 And some of them that stood by, when they heard it, said, Behold, he calleth Elias.

36 And one ran, and filled a sponge full of vineger, and put it on a reed, and gave him to drink, saying, Let alone, let us see whether Elias will come to take him down.

37 And Jesus cried with a loud voice, and gave up the ghost.

38 And the vail of the temple was rent in twain, from the top to the bottome.

39 ¶ And when the centurion which stood over against him, saw that he so cried out, and gave up the ghost, he said, Truely, this man was the Sonne of God.

40 [8] There were also women looking on afarre off, among whom was Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James the lesse, and of Joses, and Salome.

41 Who also when he was in Galilee, * followed him, and ministred unto him, and many other women which came up with him unto Jerusalem.

42 ¶ * And now when the even was come, (because it was the preparation, that is, the day before the sabbath)

43 Joseph of Arimathea, an [d] honourable counseller, which also waited for the kingdome of God, came, and went in [c] boldly unto Pilate, and craved the body of Jesus.

44 And Pilate marvelled if he were already dead, and calling unto him the centurion, he asked him whether he had been any while dead.

45 And when he knew it of the centurion, he gave the body to Joseph.

46 And he brought fine linnen, and took him down, and wrapped him in the linnen, and laid him in a sepulchre which was hewen out of a rock, and rolled a stone unto the doore of the sepulchre.

47 And Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of Joses, beheld where he was laid.

* Matth. 27, 46.

8 Christ to the great shame of men which forsook the Lord, chose women for his witnesses, which beheld all this whole action. * Luke 8, 3. * Matth. 27, 57. d A man of great authoritie, of the councel of the Sanhedrin, or else taken into counsel by Pilate. c If we consider what danger Joseph cast himself into, we shall perceive how bold he was.

CHAP. XVI.

1 An angel declareth the resurrection of Christ to three women, 9 Christ himself appeareth to Mary Magdalene: 12 to two going into the countrey: 14 then to the apostles, 15 whom he sendeth forth to preach the gospel: 19 and ascendeth into heaven.

AND when the sabbath was past, Mary Magdalene, and Mary the mother of James, and Salome, had bought sweet spices, that they might come and anoint him.

2 * And very early in the morning, the first day of the week, they came unto the sepulchre at the rising of the sunne. * Luke 24, 1. John 20, 1.

3 And they said among themselves, Who shall roll us away the stone from the doore of the sepulchre?

4 (And when they [a] looked, they saw that the stone was rolled away) for it was very great. a When they cast their eyes towards the sepulchre.

5 * And entring into the [b] sepulchre, they saw a young man sitting on the right side, clothed in a long white garment, and they were affrighted. * John 20, 11. b Into the cave wherein the sepulchre was cut out.

6 And he saith unto them, Be not affrighted: ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified: he is risen, he is not here: behold the place where they laid him.

7 But go your way, tell his disciples & Peter, that he goeth before you into Galilee, there shall ye see him, * as he said unto you. * Matth. 26, 32.

8 And they went out quickly, and fled from the sepulchre; for they trembled, and were amazed, neither said they any thing to any man: for they were afraid.

9 ¶ [1] Now when Jesus was risen early, the first day of the week, * he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, * out of whom he had cast seven devils. 1 Christ himself appeareth to Mary Magdalene, to upbraid the disciples incredulitie. * Joh. 20, 14. * Luk. 8, 2.

10 And she went and told them that had been with him, as they mourned and wept.

11 And they, when they had heard that he was alive, & had been seen of her, beleeved not.

12 ¶ [2] After that, he appeared in another form * unto two of them, as they walked, and went into the countrey. 2 Christ appeareth to two other disciples, and at length to the eleven. * Luk. 24, 13.

13 And they went and told it unto the residue: neither beleeved they them.

14 ¶ * [c] Afterward he appeared unto the eleven, as they sat ‡ at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief, and hardnesse of heart, because they beleeved not them which had seen him after he was risen. * Luk. 24, 36. John 20, 19. c The Evangelist considered not the order of the time, but the course of his historie, which he divided into three parts: The first sheweth, how he appeared to the women, the second to his disciples, the third to his apostles, and therefore he saith finally. ‡ Or, together.

15 * [3] And 15 *[3] And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every [d]creature.

16 He that beleeveth and is baptized, shall be saved; * but he that beleeveth not, shall be damned.

17 And these signes shall follow them that beleeve; * In my name shall they cast out devils, *they shall speak with new [e] tongues, 18 * They shall take up serpents, and if they drink any deadly thing it shall not hurt them, * they shal lay hands on the sick, and they shall recover.

19 ¶ [4] So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was * received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.

20 And they went forth, and preached every where, the Lord working with them, *and confirming the [f] word with signes following. Amen.

*Matth. 28, 19. 3 The apostles are appointed, and their office is limited unto them, which is to preach that which they heard of him, and to minister the sacraments, which Christ hath instituted, having besides power to do miracles. d Not to the Jews only, not in Judea only, but to all men, and every where: and so must all the apostles do

*Acts 18, 8. 4 Christ having accomplished his office on earth, ascendeth into heaven, from whence (the doctrine of his Apostles being confirmed with signes) he will govern his church, unto the worlds end. *Luk 24, 51.

e Strange tongues, such as they knew not before. Acts 28, 5. * Joh. 12, 49. * Acts 16, 18. * Acts 2, 4. *Heb. 2, 4. f To wit, the doctrine: therefore doctrine must go before, and signes must follow after.

THE GOSPEL
According to
S. LUKE.

CHAP. I.

1 The preface of Luke to his whole gospel. 5 The conception of Iohn the Baptist, 26 and of Christ. 39 The prophesie of Elizabeth, and of Mary concerning Christ. 57 The nativitie and circumcision of Iohn. 67 The prophesie of Zachary both of Christ, 67 and of Iohn.

1 Luke commendeth the witnesses that saw this historie.

FOrasmuch as [1] many have [a] taken in hand to set forth in order a declaration of those things which are most surely beleeved among us, a Many took it in hand, but did not perform. Luke wrot his gospel before Matthew and Mark.

2 [b] Even as they delivered them unto us, which from the beginning were eye-witnesses, and ministers of the word:

b Luke was not an eye-witnesse and therefore it was not he, to whom the Lord appeared, when Cleopas saw him: and he was taught not onely by Paul, but by others of the apostles also.

3 It seemed good to me also, having had perfect understanding of all things from the very first, to write unto thee in order, [c] most excellent Theophilus, c That is, most mighty, and therefore Theophilus was a very honourable man, and in place of great dignitie, 4 [d] That thou mightest [e] know the certainty of those things wherein thou hast been instructed.

d Luke began his gospel a great deal further off, than the other did.

e Have fuller knowledge of those things, which before thou knewest but meanly.

5 ¶ THere [2] was in the [f] dayes of [g] Herod the king of Judea, a certain priest named Zacharias, of the [h] course of Abia: and his wife was of the daughters of Aaron, and her name was Elisabeth.

2 John who was another Elias, and appointed to be the herauld of Christ, coming of the stok of Aaron, and of two famous and blamelesse parents, hath shewed in his conception, which was against the course of nature, a double miracle, to the end, that men should be more readily stirred up to the hearing of his preaching, according to the forwarning of the prophets. f Word for word, in the dayes: so speak the Hebrews, giving us to understand, how short and frail a thing the power of princes is. g Herod the great. h For the posteritie of Aaron was divided into courses

6 And they were both [i] righteous before God, [k] walking in all the [l] commandments and ordinances of the Lord, [m] blameless.

i The true mark of righteousnesse is, To be liked and allowed of in the judgement of God. k Lived, so speak the Hebrews: for our life is a way, wherein we must walk, untill we come to the mark. l In all the morall and ceremoniall law. m Whom no man could justly reprove: now so it is, that the fruits of justification are set forth here, and not the cause, which is faith onely, and nothing else, 7 And they had no childe, because that Elizabeth was barren, and they both were now well stricken in yeares.

8 And it came to passe, that while he executed the priests office before God in the order of his course, 9 According to the custome of the priests office, his lot was to burn incense when he went into the [n] temple of the Lord.

10 * And the whole multitude of the people were praying without, at the time of incense.

n The temple was one, and the court another, for Zacharias went out of the court, or outward room, where all the people were, and therefore are said to be without, in the temple. *Exod. 30, 7. Levit 16, 17.

11 And there appeared unto him an angel of the Lord, standing on the right side of the altar of incense.

12 And when Zacharias saw him, he was troubled, and fear fell upon him.

13 But the angel said unto him, Fear not, Zacharias, for thy prayer is heard, and thy wife Elizabeth shall bear thee a sonne, and thou shalt call his name John.

14 And thou shalt have joy and gladnesse, and many shall rejoyce at his birth.

15 For he shall be great in the [o] sight of the Lord, and shall drink neither wine nor [p] strong drink, and he shall be filled with the holy Ghost, even from his mothers wombe.

o So speak the Hebrews, when it signified a rare kinde of excellencie, so it is said of Nimrod Gen. 10. p He was a valiant hunter before God. p Any drink that may make drunken. *Mal 4, 6.

16 And many of the children of Israel shall he [q] turn to the Lord their God.

q Shal be a means to bring many to repentance and turn themselves to the Lord from whom they fell 17 And he shall go before [r] him [f] in the spirit and power of Elias, to turn the [t] hearts of the fathers to the children, and the disobedient ‡ to the [u] wisdome of the just, to make ready a people prepared for the Lord.

r As they use to go before kings, and when you know the king is not farre off. f This is spoken by the figure Metonymia, taking the spirit, for the gift of the Spirit, as you would say. The cause, for that which cometh of the cause. t By the figure Synechdoche, he sheweth that he shall take away all kindes of enemies, which use to breed great troubles and turmoils amongst men. † Or, by. u Wisdome and goodnesse are two of the chiefest causes, which make men to reverence and honour their fathers.

18 And Zacharias said unto the angel, Whereby shal I know this? for I am an old man, and my wife well stricken in yeares.

19 And the angel answering said unto him, I am Gabriel, that [x] stand in the presence of God: and am sent to speak unto thee, and to shew thee these glad tidings.

x That appear, for so the Hebrews use this word (To stand) meaning, That they are ready to do his commandment.

20 And behold, thou shalt be dumbe, and not able to speak, untill the day that these things shall be performed, because thou beleevest not my words, which shal be fulfilled in their season.

21 And the people waited for Zacharias, and marvelled that he tarried so long in the temple.

22 And when he came out, he could not speak unto them: and they perceived that he had seen a vision in the temple: for he beckned unto them, and he remained speechlesse.

23 And it came to passe, that assoon as the dayes of his ministration were accomplished, he departed to his own house.

24 And after those dayes his wife Elizabeth conceived, & hid her self five moneths, saying,

25 Thus hath the Lord dealt with me in the dayes wherein he looked on me, to take away my reproach among men.

26 [3] And in the sixth moneth, the angel Gabriel was sent from God, unto a city of Galilee, named Nazareth, 27 To a virgin espoused to a man whose name was Joseph, of the [y] house of David; and the virgins name was Mary.

28 And the angel came in unto her, and said, Hail Thou that art ‡ [z] highly favoured, the Lord is with thee: [z] blessed art thou [a] among women.

29 And when she saw him, she was [b] troubled at his saying, and cast in her minde what manner of salutation this should be.

30 And the angel said unto her, Fear not, Mary: for thou hast found [c] favour with God.

31 *And behold, thou shalt conceive in thy wombe, and bring forth a Sonne, and shalt call his name Jesus.

32 He shall be great, and shall be [d] called the Sonne of the Highest, and the Lord God shall give unto him the throne of his father David.

33 *And he shall reigne over the house of Jacob for ever, and of his kingdome there shall be no end.

34 Then said Mary unto the angel, [e] How shall this be, seeing [f] I know not a man?

35 And the angel answered and said unto her, The holy Ghost shall come upon thee, and the power of the Highest [g] shall overshadow thee: therefore also that [h] holy thing which shall be born of thee, shall be [i] called the Sonne of God.

36 And behold, thy [k] cousin Elizabeth, she hath also conceived a sonne in her old age, and this is the [l] sixth moneth with her, who was called barren.

37 For with God nothing shall be unpossible.

38 And Mary said, Behold the handmaid of the Lord, be it unto me according to thy word: and the angel departed from her.

39 [4] And Mary arose in those dayes, and went into the [m] hill-countrey with haste, into a [n] city of Juda, 40 And entred into the house of Zacharias, and saluted Elizabeth.

41 And it came to passe, that when Elizabeth heard the salutation of Mary, the babe [o] leaped in her wombe: and Elizabeth was filled with the holy Ghost.

42 And she spake out with a loud voice, and said, Blessed art thou among women, and blessed is the [p] fruit of thy wombe.

43 And whence is this to me, that the mother of my Lord should come to me?

44 For, lo, assoon as the voice of thy salutation sounded in mine eares, the babe leaped in my wombe for joy.

45 And blessed is she ‡ that beleeved, for there shall be a performance of those things which were told her from the Lord.

46 [5] And Mary said, My soul doth magnifie the Lord, 47 And my spirit hath rejoyced in God my Saviour.

48 For he hath [q] regarded the [r] low estate of his handmaiden: for behold, from henceforth all generations shal call me blessed.

49 For he that is mighty hath done to me great things, and holy is his name.

50 And his mercy is on them that [t] fear him, from generation to generation.

51 *He hath shewed strength with his [u] arm, he hath [x] scattered the proud, in the [x] imagination of their hearts.

52 *He hath [y] put down the mightie from their seats, and exalted them of [z] low degree.

53 *He hath filled the [a] hungry with good things, and the rich he hath sent emptie away.

54 [b] He hath holpen his servant Israel, * in remembrance of his mercy, 55 *As he [c] spake to our fathers, to Abraham and to his seed for ever.

56 And Mary abode with her about three moneths, and returned to her own house.

57 [6] Now Elisabeths full time came, that she should be delivered, and she brought forth a sonne.

58 And her neighbours and her cousins heard how the Lord had shewed great mercy upon her, and they rejoyced with her.

59 And it came to passe that on the eighth day they came to circumcise the childe, and they called him Zacharias, after the name of his father.

60 And his mother answered and said, Not so, but he shall be called John.

61 And they said unto her, There is none of thy kindred that is called by this name.

62 And they made signes to his father, how he would have him called.

63 And he asked for a writing-table, and wrote, saying, His name is John: and they marvelled all.

64 And his mouth was opened immediately, & his tongue loosed, and he [d] spake, & praised God.

65 And

3 The angel serving the Lord which should be born, is sent to the virgin Mary, in whom the Sonne of the most High, promised to David, is conceived by the vertue of the holy Gost.
y As much is to be said of Mary, otherwise Christ had not been of the stock, nor the sonne of David.
† Or, gratiously accepted, or much graced. See vers. 30.
z It might be rendred word for word, full of favour and grace, and he sheweth straight after, laying out plainly unto us, what that favour is, in that he saith, the Lord is with thee.
a Of God.
b Moved at the strangenesse of the matter.
c So spake the Hebrewes, saying, that men have found favour, which are in favour.
*Isa. 7, 14. Matth. 1, 21.
d He shall be declared so to be, for he was the Sonne of God from everlasting, but was made manifest in the flesh in his time.
*Dan. 7, 14. Mic. 4, 7.
e The greatnesse of the matter causeth the virgin to ask this question not that she distrusteth any whit at all, for she asketh onely of the manner of the conceiving, so that it is plain, she beleeved all the rest.

1 Christ the Sonne of God, taking upon him the form of a servant, and making himself of no reputation, is poorely born in a stable: and by the means of Augustus the mightiest prince in the world (thinking nothing lesse) hath his cradle prepared in Bethlehem, as the prophets forewarned.

c In which David was born, and brought up in.

1 And [1] it came to passe in those dayes, that there went out a decree from Cesar Augustus, that all the [a] world should be ‡ [b] taxed.

2 (And this taxing was first made when Cyrenius was governour of Syria)

3 And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city.

4 And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of Nazareth, into Judea, unto *the [c] city of David, which is called Bethlehem, (because he was of the house and linage of David)

5 To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with childe.

6 And so it was, that while they were there, the dayes were accomplished that she should be delivered.

7 And she brought forth her first born sonne, and wrapped him in swadling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inne.

8 [2] And there were in the same countrey shepherds [d] abiding in the field, keeping ‡ watch over their flocks by night.

9 And lo, the angel of the Lord [e] came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them, and they were sore afraid.

10 And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

11 For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

12 And this shall be a signe unto you; Ye shall finde the babe wrapped in swadling clothes lying in a manger.

13 And suddenly there was with the angel a [f] multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, 14 Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, [g] good will towards men.

15 And it came to passe, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another, Let us now go even unto Bethlehem, and see this thing which is come to passe, which the Lord hath made known unto us.

16 And they came with haste, and found Mary and Joseph, and the babe lying in a manger.

17 And when they had seen it, they made known abroad the saying which was told them concerning this childe.

18 And all they that heard it, wondered at those things which were told them by the shepherds.

19 But Mary kept all these things, and pondered them in her heart.

20 And the shepherds returned, glorifying and praising God for all the things that they had heard and seen, as it was told unto them.

21 * [3] And when eight dayes were accomplished for the circumcising of the childe, his name was called * JESUS, which was so named of the angel before he was conceived in the wombe.

22 [4] And when the dayes of her [h] purification according to the law of Moses, were accomplished, they brought him to Jerusalem, to present him to the Lord.

45 And when they found him not, they turned back again to Jeruſalem, ſeeking him.

46 And it came to paſſe, that after three dayes they found him in the temple, ſitting in the midſt of the doctours, both hearing them, and asking them queſtions.

47 And all that heard him were aſtoniſhed at his underſtanding and anſwers.

48 [8] And when they ſaw him, they were amazed: and his mother ſaid unto him, Sonne, why haſt thou thus dealt with us? behold, thy father and I have ſought thee ſorrowing.

49 And he ſaid unto them, How is it that ye ſought me? wiſt ye not that I muſt be about my Fathers buſineſſe?

5 Every valley ſhall be filled, and every mountain and hill ſhall be brought low, and the crooked ſhall be made ſtraight, and the rough wayes ſhall be made ſmooth,

6 And all fleſh ſhall ſee the ſalvation of God.

7 Then ſaid he to the multitude that came forth to be baptized of him, *O generation of vipers, who hath warned you to flee from the wrath to come?

3 [2] And the devil said unto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, command this stone that it be made bread.

4 And Iesus answered him, saying, It is written, That man shall not live by bread alone, but by every word of God.

5 And the devil taking him up into an high mountain, shewed unto him all the kingdomes of the world in a moment of time.

6 And the devil said unto him, All this [a] power will I give thee, and the glory of them; for that is, [b] delivered unto me, and to whomsoever I will, I give it.

1 Christ being caried away (as it were out of the world) into the desart, after the fast of fourty dayes, and the overcoming of Satan thrice, coming as it were suddenly from heaven, beginneth his office.

2 Christ being stirred up of Satan, first, to distrust in God: secondly, to the desire of riches and honour: and lastly, to a vain confidence of himself, overcometh him thrice by the word of God.

a By this word power, are the kingdomes themselves meant, which have the power: and so it is spoken by the figure Metonymia.

b That is sure so, for he is prince of the world, yet not absolutely, and as the sovereign over it, but by sufferance, and way of intreatie, and therefore he saith not give it to whom he will.

† Or, fall down before me.

54 Get thee behinde me, Satan: for it is written, Thou shalt worship the Lord thy God, and him onely shalt thou serve.

9 And he brought him to Jerusalem, and set him on a pinnacle of the temple, and said unto him, If thou be the Sonne of God, cast thy self down from hence.

10 For it is written, He shall give his angels charge over thee, to keep thee.

11 And in their hands they shall bear thee up, lest at any time thou dash thy foot against a stone.

12 And Jesus answering, said unto him, it is said, Thou shalt not tempt the Lord thy God.

13 And when the devil had ended all the temptation, he departed from him for a season.

14 ¶ And Jesus returned in the power of the spirit into Galilee, and there went out a fame of him through all the region round about.

15 And he taught in their synagogues, being glorified of all.

16 ¶ [3] And he came to *Nazareth, where he had been brought up, and as his custome was, he went into the synagogue on the sabbath-day, and stood up for to reade.

17 And there was delivered unto him the book of the prophet Esaias, and when he had [d]opened the book, he found the place where it was written,

18 * The spirit of the Lord is upon me, because he hath anointed me to preach the gospel to the poore, he hath sent me to heal the broken-hearted, to preach deliverance to the captives, and recovering of sight to the blinde, to set at liberty them that are bruised, 19 To preach the acceptable yeare of the Lord.

20 And he closed the book, and he gave it again to the minister, and sat down: and the eyes of all them that were in the synagogue were fastened on him.

21 And he began to say unto them, this day is this scripture fulfilled in your eares.

22 [4] And all [e]bare him witnesse, and [f]wondred at the [g] gracious words which proceeded out of his mouth. And they said, Is not this Iosephs sonne?

23 And he said unto them, Ye will surely say unto me this proverb, Physician, heal thy self: whatsoever we have heard done in Capernaum, do also here in thy countrey.

24 And he said, Verily I say unto you, No *prophet is accepted in his own countrey.

25 But I tell you of a truth, *many widows were in Israel in the dayes of Elias, when the heaven was shut up three yeares and six moneths, when great famine was throughout all the [h] land:

26 But unto none of them was Elias sent, save unto Sarepta acity of Sidon, unto a woman that was a widow.

27 * And many lepers were in Israel in the time of Eliseus the prophet: and none of them was cleansed, saving Naaman the Syrian.

28 [5] And all they in the synagogue, when they heard these things, were filled with wrath, 29 And rose up, and thurst him out of the city, and led him unto the ‡ brow of the hill (whereon their city was built) that they might cast him down headlong.

30 But he passing through the midst of them went his way:

31 And came down to Capernaum, a city of Galilee, and taught them on the sabbath-dayes.

32 And they were astonished at his doctrine: *for his word was with power.

33 ¶ * And in the synagogue there was a man which had a spirit of an unclean devil, and cried out with a loud voice, 34 [6] Saying, ‡ Let us alone, what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art, the holy one of God.

35 And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him and hurt him not.

36 And they were all amazed, and spake among themselves, saying, What a word is this? for with authority and power he commandeth the unclean spirits, and they come out.

37 And the fame of him went out into every place of the countrey round about.

38 ¶ [7] *And he arose out of the synagogue, and entred into Simons house, and Simons wives mother was taken with a great fever, and they besought him for her.

39 And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever, and it left her, And immediately she arose and ministred unto them.

40 ¶ Now when the sunne was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases, brought them unto him, and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them.

41 *[8] And devils also came out of many, crying out, and saying, Thou art Christ the Sonne of God. And he rebuking them, suffered them not ‡ to speak, for they knew that he was Christ.

42 [9] And when it was day, he departed and went into a desert place, and the people sought him, and came unto him, and stayed him, that he should not depart from them.

43 And he said unto them, I must preach the kingdome of God to other cities also, for therefore am I sent.

44 And he preached in the synagogues of Galilee.

CHAP. V.

1 Christ teacheth the people out of Peters ship; 4 in a miraculous taking of fishes, sheweth how he will make him and his partners fishers of men; 12 cleanseth the leper; 16 prayeth in the wildernesse; 18 healeth the sick of the palsie; 27 calleth Matthew the publicane; 29 eateth with sinners, as being the physician of souls; 34 foretelleth the fastings and afflictions of the apostles after his ascension; 36 and likeneth faint-hearted and weak disciples to old bottles, and worn garments.

4 Familiarity causeth Christ to be contemned, and therefore he oftentimes goeth to strangers.

e Approved those things which he spake, with common consent and voice: for this word, Witnesse, signifieth in this place, and many other, to allow and approve a thing with open confession.

f Not onely the doctours, but also the common people were present at this conference of the scriptures: and besides that, their mother tongue was used, for else how could the people have wondred? Paul appointed the same order in the church at Corinth, as 1 Cor. 14.

of the Apostleship, which should hereafter be committed unto them

2 Did, as it were, lie upon him, so desirous they were both to see him and heare him, and therefore he taught them out of a ship.

God,

God, he stood by the lake of Gennesareth,
2 And saw two ships standing by the lake: but the fishermen were gone out of them, and were washing their nets.
3 And he entred into one of the ships which was Simons, and prayed him that he would thrust out a little from the land: and he sat down and taught the people out of the ship.
4 Now when he had left speaking, he said unto Simon, Lanch out into the deep, and let down your nets for a draught.
5 And Simon answering, said unto him, [b] Master, we have toiled all the night, and have taken nothing: nevertheless at thy word I will let down the net.

[b] The word signifieth him that hath rule over any thing.

6 And when they had this done, they enclosed a great multitude of fishes; and their net brake.
7 And they beckned unto their partners, which were in the other ship, that they should come and help them. And they came and filled both the ships, so that they began to sink.
8 When Simon Peter saw it, he fell down at Jesus knees, saying, Depart from me, for I am a sinfull man, O Lord.
9 For he was astonished, and all that were with him, at the draught of the fishes which they had taken.
10 And so was also James and John the sonnes of Zebedee, which were partners with Simon. And Jesus said unto Simon, Fear not, from henceforth thou shalt catch men.
11 And when they had brought their ships to land, they forsook all and followed him.
12 ¶ [*] [2] And it came to passe, when he was in a certain city, behold, a man full of leprosie: who seeing Jesus, fell on his face, and besought him, saying, Lord, if thou wilt, thou canst make me clean:

[*] Matt. 8, 2.
[2] Christ by healing the leper with his onely touch, and sending him to the priest, witnesseth that it is he, through whom, and by whom, apprehended by faith, all we which are unclean, according to the law, by the witnesse of God himself, are pronounced to be pure and clean.

13 And he put forth his hand, and touched him, saying, I will, be thou clean: and immediately the leprosie departed from him.
14 And he charged him to tell no man: but go, and shew thy self to the prieſt, and offer for thy cleansing, according as Moses commanded, for a testimony unto them.
15 [3] But so much the more went there a fame abroad of him, and great multitudes came together to heare, and to be healed by him of their infirmities.

[3] Christ had rather to be famous by his doctrin than by miracles, and therefore he departeth from them that seek him as Physician of the body, and not as the authour of salvation.

16 ¶ And he withdrew himself into the wilderness, and prayed.
17 [4] And it came to passe on a certain day, as he was teaching, that there were Pharisees, and doctours of the law sitting by, which were come out of every town of Galilee, and Judea, and Jerusalem: and the power of the Lord was [c] present to heal them.

[4] Christ in healing him that was sick of the palsie, sheweth the cause of all diseases, and the remedie.

[c] The mighty power of Christs Godhead, shewed it self in him at that time.

18 ¶ [*] And behold, men brought in a bed a man which was taken with a palsie: and they sought means to bring him in, and to lay him before him.

[*] Matt. 9, 2.

19 And when they could not finde by what way they might bring him in, because of the multitude, they went upon the house top, and let him down through the tiling with his couch, into the midst before Jesus.
20 And when he saw their faith, he said unto him, Man, thy sinnes are forgiven thee.
21 And the Scribes and the Pharisees began to reason, saying, Who is this which speaketh blasphemies? Who can forgive sinnes but God alone?
22 But when Jesus perceived their thoughts, he answering said unto them, What reason ye in your hearts?
23 Whether is easier to say, Thy sinnes be forgiven thee, or to say, Rise up and walk?
24 But that ye may know that the Sonne of man hath power upon earth to forgive sinnes, (he said unto the sick of the palsie) I say unto thee, Arise, and take up thy couch, and go into thine house.
25 And immediately he rose up before them, and took up that whereon he lay, and departed to his own house, glorifying God.
26 And they were all amazed, and they glorified God, and were filled with fear, saying, We have seen strange things to day.
27 ¶ [*] [5] And after these things he went forth, and saw a publicane named Levi, sitting at the receit of custome: and he said unto him, Follow me.

[*] Matt. 9, 9.
[5] The church is a company of sinners, through the grace of Christ repentant, which banquet with him, to the great offence of the proud and envious worldlings.

28 And he left all, rose up, and followed him.
29 And Levi made him a great feast in his own house: and there was a great companie of publicanes, and of others that sat down with them.
30 But their Scribes and Pharisees murmured against his disciples, saying, Why do ye eat and drink with publicanes and sinners?
31 And Jesus answering, said unto them, They that are whole need not a physician: but they that are sick.
32 I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance.
33 ¶ [6] And they said unto him, [*] Why do the disciples of John fast often, and make prayers, and likewise the disciples of the Pharisees; but thine eat and drink?

[6] It is the point of hypocrites and ignorant men to put an holinesse in things indifferent.
[*] Matt. 9, 14.

34 And he said unto them, Can ye make the children of the bride-chamber fast, while the bridegroom is with them?
35 But the dayes will come, when the bridegroom shall be taken away from them, and then shall they fast in those dayes.
36 ¶ And he spake also a parable unto them, No man putteth a piece of a new garment upon an old: if otherwise, then both the new maketh a rent, and the piece that was taken out of the new, agreeth not with the old.
37 And no man putteth new wine into old bottles; else the new wine will burst the bottles, and be spilled, and the bottles shall perish.
38 But new wine must be put into new bottles, and both are preserved.
39 No man also having drunk old wine, straightway desireth new: for he saith, The old is better.

[7] Lawes generally made without any consideration of circumstance, for fasting, and other things of like sort, are not onely tyrannous, but very hurtfull in the church.

CHAP. VI.

1 Chriſt reproveth the Phariſees blindneſſe about the obſervation of the ſabbath, by ſcripture, reaſon, and miracle: 13 chooſeth twelve apoſtles: 17 healeth the diſeaſed: 20 preacheth to his diſciples before the people of bleſſings and curſes; 27 how we muſt love our enemies; 46 and joyn the obedience of good works to the hearing of the word, leſt in the evil day of temptation we fall like an houſe built upon the face of the earth without any foundation.

AND * [1] it came to paſſe on the ſecond ſabbath after the firſt, that he went through the corn-fields: and his diſciples * plucked the eares of corn, and did eat, rubbing them in their hands.

2 And certain of the Phariſees ſaid unto them, Why do ye that which is not lawfull to do on the ſabbath-dayes?

3 And Jeſus anſwering them, ſaid, Have ye not read ſo much as this, what David did, when himſelf was an hungred, and they which were with him:

4 How he went into the houſe of God, and did take and eat the ſhew-bread, and gave alſo to them that were with him, which is not lawfull to eat but for the prieſts alone?

5 And he ſaid unto them, That the Sonne of man is Lord alſo of the ſabbath.

6 * [2] And it came to paſſe alſo on another ſabbath, that he entred into the ſynagogue and taught, and there was a man whoſe right hand was withered.

7 And the Scribes and Phariſees watched him, whether he would heal on the ſabbath-day: that they might finde an accuſation againſt him.

8 But he knew their thoughts, and ſaid to the man which had the withered hand, Riſe up, and ſtand forth in the midſt. And he aroſe, and ſtood forth.

9 Then ſaid Jeſus unto them, I will ask you one thing, Is it lawfull on the ſabbath-dayes to do good, or to do evil? to ſave life, or to [b] deſtroy it.

10 And looking round about upon them all, he ſaid unto the man, Stretch forth thy hand: and he did ſo: and his hand was reſtored whole as the other.

11 And they were filled with madneſſe, and communed one with another what they might do to Jeſus.

12 [3] And it came to paſſe in thoſe dayes, that he went out into a mountain to pray, and continued all night in prayer to God.

13 ¶ And when it was day, he called unto him his diſciples: * and of them he choſe twelve, whom alſo he named Apoſtles:

14 Simon (whom he alſo named Peter) and Andrew his brother, James and John, Philip and Bartholomew.

15 Matthew and Thomas, James the ſonne of Alpheus, and Simon called Zelotes, 16 And Judas * the brother of James, and Judas Iſcariot, which alſo was the traitour.

17 ¶ And he came down with them, and ſtood in the plain, and the company of his diſciples, and a great multitude of people out of all Judea and Jeruſalem, and from the [c] ſea-coaſt of Tyre and Sidon, which came to heare him, and to be healed of their diſeaſes:

18 And they that were vexed with unclean ſpirits: and they were healed.

19 And the whole multitude ſought to touch him: for there went vertue out of him, and healed them all.

20 ¶ [4] And he lifted up his eyes on his diſciples, and ſaid, * Bleſſed be ye poore: for yours is the kingdome of God.

21 Bleſſed are ye that hunger now: for ye ſhal be filled. Bleſſed are ye that weep now: for ye ſhal laugh.

22 Bleſſed are ye when men ſhall hate you, and when they ſhall [d] ſeparate you from their company, and ſhall reproach you, and caſt out your name as evil, for the Sonne of mans ſake.

23 Rejoyce ye in that day, and [e] leap for joy: for behold, your reward is great in heaven: for in the like manner did their fathers unto the prophets.

24 * But wo unto you that are rich: for ye have [f] received your conſolation.

25 * Wo unto you that are full: for ye ſhall hunger. Wo unto you that laugh now: for ye ſhall mourn and weep.

26 Wo unto you when all men ſhall ſpeak well of you: for ſo did their fathers to the falſe prophets.

27 ¶ * [5] But I ſay unto you which heare, Love your enemies, do good to them which hate you.

28 Bleſſe them that curſe you, and pray for them which deſpitefully uſe you.

29 * And unto him that ſmiteth thee on the one cheek, offer alſo the other: * and him that taketh away thy cloke, forbid not to take thy coat alſo.

30 Give to every man that asketh of thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods, ask them not again.

31 * And as ye would that men ſhould do to you, do ye alſo to them likewiſe.

32 * For if ye love them which love you, [g] what thank have ye? for ſinners alſo love thoſe that love them.

33 And if ye do good to them which do good to you, what thank have ye? for ſinners alſo do even the ſame.

34 * And if ye lend to them of whom ye hope to receive, what thank have ye? for ſinners alſo lend to ſinners, to receive as much again.

35 But love ye your enemies, and do good, and lend, hoping for [h] nothing again: and your reward ſhal be great, and ye ſhall be the children of the higheſt: for he is kinde unto the unthankfull, and to the evil.

36 Be ye therefore mercifull, as your Father alſo is mercifull.

37 * [6] Judge not, and ye ſhall not be judged: condemn not, and ye ſhall not be condemned: [i] forgive, and ye ſhall be forgiven:

38 Give,

6 Brotherly reprehenſions muſt not proceed of curioſitie nor churliſhnes nor malice: but they muſt be juſt, moderate and loving.

i He ſpeaketh not here of civill judgements, and therefore by the word, Forgive, is meant that good nature, which the Chriſtians uſe in ſuffering and pardoning wrongs.

38 Give, and it ſhall be given unto you; good measure, [k] preſſed down, and ſhaken together, and running over, ſhall men give into your boſome. For with the ſame meaſure that ye mete withall, it ſhall be meaſured to you again.

k Theſe are borrowed kindes of ſpeeches, taken from them which uſe to meaſure dry things, as corn and ſuch like, who uſe a frank kinde of dealing therein, and thruſt it down and ſhake it together, and preſſe it, and heap it.

39 [7] And he ſpake a parable unto them, * Can the blinde lead the blinde? ſhall they not both fall into the ditch?

45 A good man out of the good treaſure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is good: and an evil man out of the evil treaſure of his heart, bringeth forth that which is evil: for of the abundance of the heart his mouth ſpeaketh.

49 But he that heareth, and doeth not, is like a man that without a foundation built an houſe upon the earth, againſt which the ſtream did beat vehemently, and immediately it fell, and the ruine of that houſe was great.

CHAP. VII.

1 Chriſt findeth a greater faith in the centurion a Gentile, than in any of the Iews; 10 healeth his ſervant being abſent; 11 raiſeth from death the widows ſonne at Naim; 19 anſwereth Iohns meſſengers with the declaration of his miracles; 24 teſtifieth to the people what opinion he held of Iohn; 33 inveigheth againſt the Iews, who with neither the manners of Iohn nor of Ieſus could be wonne; 36 and ſheweth by occaſion of Mary Magdalene, how he is a friend to ſinners, not to maintain them in ſinnes, but to forgive them their ſinnes, upon their faith and repentance.

NOw [1] when he had ended all his ſayings in the audience of the people, * he entred into Capernaum.

1 Chriſt admoniſheth the Jews, by ſetting before them the example of the centurion, that for their obſtinacie and rebellion, he will go to the Gentiles.

* Matt. 8, 5.

2 And a certain centurions ſervant, who was deare unto him, was ſick and ready to die.

3 And when he heard of Jeſus, he ſent unto him the elders of the Jews, beſeeching him that he would come and heal his ſervant.

4 And when they came to Jeſus, they beſought him inſtantly, ſaying, that he was worthy for whom he ſhould do this.

5 For he loveth our nation, and he hath built us a ſynagogue.

6 Then Jeſus went with them, And when he was now not farre from the houſe, the centurion ſent friends to him, ſaying unto him, Lord, trouble not thy ſelf, for I am not worthy that thou ſhouldeſt enter under my roof.

7 Wherefore neither thought I my ſelf worthy to come unto thee: but ſay in a word, and my ſervant ſhall be healed.

8 For I alſo am a man ſet under authority, having under me ſouldiers, and I ſay unto one, Go, and he goeth: and to another, Come, and he cometh: and to my ſervant, Do this, and he doeth it.

9 When Jeſus heard theſe things, he marvelled at him, and turned him about, and ſaid unto the people that followed him, I ſay unto you, I have not found ſo great faith, no, not in Iſrael.

10 And they that were ſent, returning to the houſe, found the ſervant whole that had been ſick.

11 ¶ [2] And it came to paſſe the day after, that he went into a city called [a] Naim; and many of his diſciples went with him, and much people.

2 Chriſt avouchcth openly his power over death.

a Naim is the name of a town in Galilee which was ſituate on the other ſide of Kiſon, which falleth into the ſea of Galilee.

12 Now when he came nigh to the gate of the city, behold, there was a dead man carried out, the onely ſonne of his mother, and ſhe was a widow: and much people of the city was with her.

13 And when the Lord ſaw her, he had compaſſion on her, and ſaid unto her, Weep not.

14 And he came and touched the ‡ biere, (and they that bare him ſtood ſtill) and he ſaid, Yong man, I ſay unto thee, Ariſe.

‡ Gr; ſoſſin.

15 And he that was dead, ſat up, and began to ſpeak: and he delivered him to his mother.

16 And there came a fear on all, and they glorified God, ſaying, That a great prophet is riſen up among us, and that God hath viſited his people.

17 And this rumor of him went forth throughout all Judea, and throughout all the region round about.

18 * [3] And the diſciples of John ſhewed him of all theſe things.

* Matt. 11, 2.

3 John ſendeth from the priſon his unbeleeving diſciples, to Chriſt himſelf to be confirmed.

19 ¶ And John calling unto him two of his diſciples, ſent them unto Jeſus, ſaying, Art thou he that ſhould come, or look we for another?

20 When the men were come unto him they ſaid, John Baptiſt hath ſent us unto thee, ſaying, Art thou he that ſhould come, or look we for another?

21 And in that [b] ſame houre he cured many of their infirmities and plagues, and of evil ſpirits, and unto many that were blinde he gave ſight.

b When Johns diſciples came to Chriſt.

22 Then Jeſus anſwering, ſaid unto them, Go

58 Go your way, and tell John what things ye have seen and heard, how that the blinde see, the lame walk, the lepers are cleansed, the deaf heare, the dead are raised, to the poore the gospel is preached.

23 And blessed is he whosoever shal not be offended in me.

a That which the prophets shewed long before, John sheweth at hand: and Christ himself doth present it daily unto us in the gospel, but for the most part in vain, for that many lack nothing els, but foolish toyes and vain glory.

24 ¶ [a] And when the messengers of John were departed, he began to speak unto the people concerning John, What went ye out into the wilderneſſe for to see? A reed shaken with the winde?

25 But what went ye out for to see? A man clothed in soft raiment? Behold, they which are gorgeously apparelled, and live delicately, are in kings courts.

26 But what went ye out for to see? A prophet? Yea, I say unto you, and much more than a ptophet.

27 This is he of whom it is written, behold, I send my messenger before thy face, which shal prepare thy way before thee.

28 For I say uuto you, Among those that are born of women there is not a greater prophet than John the Baptist: but he that is least in the kingdome of God, is greater than he.

c Said that he was just, good, faithfull, and mercifull.

29 And all the people that heard him, and the publicanes [c] justified God, being baptized with the baptisme of John.

† Or, frustrated. ‡ Or; within themselves. d To their own hurt

30 But the Pharisees and lawyers † rejected the counsel of God ‡ [d] against themselves, being not baptized of him.

5 What way soever God followeth in offering us the Gospel, the most part of men procure offences unto themselves: yet notwithstanding some church is gathered together.

31 ¶ [5] And the Lord said, Whereunto then shall I liken the men of this generation? and to what are they like?

32 They are like unto children sitting in the market-place, and calling one to another, and saying, We have piped unto you, and ye have not danced: we have mourned to you, and ye have not wept.

* Matth. 11, 16.

33 For John the Baptist came neither eating bread, nor drinking wine, and ye say, He hath a devil.

34 The Sonne of man is come eating and drinking, and ye say, Behold, a gluttonous man, and a wine-bibber, a friend of publicanes and sinners.

35 But wisdome is justified of all her children.

* Mark 14, 3. 6 Proud men deprive themselves of the benefits of Christ, even then, when he is at home with them in their houses, which the humble and base do enjoy.

36 ¶ * [6] And one of the Pharisees desired him that he would eat with him, And he went into the Pharisees house, and sat down to meat.

37 And behold, a woman in the city, which was a sinner, when she knew that Jesus sat at meat in the Pharisees house, brought an alabaster box of ointment.

38 And stood at his feet behinde him weeping, and began to wash his feet with tears, and did wipe them with the hairs of her head, and kissed his feet, and anointed them with the ointment.

7 Rashneſſe is the fellow of pride.

39 [7] Now when the Pharisee which had bidden him, saw it, he spake within him self, saying, This man, if he were a prophet, would have known who, and what manner of woman this is that toucheth him: [e] for she is a sinner.

e The Pharisee testifieth the law which holdeth them defiled that touch the defiled. 8 To love Christ is a sure and perpetuall witnesse of remission of sins.

40 [8] And Jesus answering, said unto him, Simon, I have somewhat to say unto thee. And he saith, Master, say on.

41 There was a certain creditour, which had two debters: the one ought five hundred † pence, and the other fifty.

† See Matt. 18, 28.

42 And when they had nothing to pay, he frankly forgave them both. Tell me therefore, which of them will love him most?

43 Simon answered and said, I suppose that he to whom he forgave most. And he said unto him, Thou hast rightly judged.

44 And he turned to the woman, and said unto Simon, Seest thou this woman? I entred into thine house, thou gavest me no water for my feet: but she hath washed my feet with tears, and wiped them with the hairs of her head.

45 Thou gavest me no kisse: but this woman, since the time I came in, hath not ceased to kisse my feet.

46 Mine head with oyl thou didst not anoint: but this woman hath anointed my feet with ointment.

47 Wherefore I say unto thee, Her sinnes, which are many, are [f] forgiven, for she loved much: but to whom little is forgiven, the same loveth little,

f That is, saith Theophilact, she hath shewed her faith abundantly: and Basil in his Sermon of Baptisme saith, He that oweth much, hath much forgiven him, that he may love much more: and therefore Christs saying is so plain by the similitude, that it is a wonder to see the enemies of the truth, draw and rack this place so fondly, to 48 And he said unto her, Thy sinnes are forgiven.

49 And they that sat at meat with him, began to say within themselves, Who is this that forgiveth sinnes also?

50 And he said to the woman, Thy faith hath saved thee, go in [g] peace.

establish their meritorious works. for the greater summe a man hath forgiven him, the more he loveth him that hath been so gracious to him: And this woman sheweth by duties of love, how great the benefit was she had received: and therefore the charity that is here spoken of, is not to be taken for the cause; but as a signe: for Christ saith not as the Pharisees did, that she was a sinner, but beareth her witnesse that the sinnes of her life past are forgiven her. g He confirmeth the benefit which he had bestowed, with a blessing.

Chap. VIII.

Women minister unto Christ of their substance. 4 Christ after he had preached from place to place attended with his apostles, propoundeth the parable of the sower, 16 and of the candle; 21 declareth who are his mother, and brethren; 22 rebuketh the windes; 26 casteth the legion of devils out of the man, into the herd of swine; 37 is rejected of the Gadarenes; 43 healeth the woman of her bloudy issue; 49 and raiseth from death Iairus daughter.

AND it came to passe afterward, that he went throughout every city and village preaching, and shewing the glad tidings of the kingdome of God; and the twelve were with him.

2 And certain women which had been healed of evil spirits and infirmities, Mary called Magdalene, *out of whom went seven devils.

* Mark 16, 9.

3 And Joanna the wife of Chuza, Herods steward, and Susanna, and many others which ministred unto him of their substance.

* Matt. 13, 2. 1 The self same gospel is sower every where, but not with like fruits and that through the onely fault of men themselves.

4 ¶ * [1] And when much people were gathered together, and were come to him out of every city, he spake by a parable:

5 A sower went out to sow his seed: and as he sowed, some fell by the wayes side, and it was was troden down, and the fowls of the aire devoured it.

6 And ſome fell upon a rock, and aſſoon as it was ſprung up, it withered away, becauſe it lacked moiſture.

7 And ſome fell among thorns, and the thorns ſprang up with it, and choked it.

8 And other fell on good ground, and ſprang up, and bare fruit an hundred fold. And when he had ſaid theſe things, he cried, He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

9 And his diſciples asked him, ſaying, What might this parable be?

10 And he ſaid, Unto you it is given to know the * myſteries of the kingdome of God: but to others in parables; that ſeeing they might not ſee, and hearing they might not underſtand.

a Thoſe things are called myſteries, which may not be uttered: for the word uſed here, is as much as we ſay in our tongue, to hold a mans peace. * Matt. 13, 18.

11 * Now the parable is this: The ſeed is the word of God.

12 Thoſe by the way ſide, are they that heare: then cometh the devil, and taketh away the word out of their hearts, leſt they ſhould beleeve and be ſaved.

13 They on the rock, are they, which when they heare, receive the word with joy; and theſe have no root, which for a while beleeve and in time of temptation fall away.

b That is, ſo ſoon as they have heard the word, they go about their buſineſſe.
c They bring not forth perfect and full fruit to the ripening: or they begin, but they bring not to an end.
d Which ſeeketh not onely to ſeem ſuch a one but is ſo indeed ſo that this word, Honeſt, reſpecteth the outward life, and the word Good, is referred to the good gifts of the minde.
e With much adoe, for the devil and the flesh fight againſt the Spirit of God, which is a new gueſt.

‡ Either to himſelf, or to other, or to both: for there are none ſo proud as theſe fellowes, if it were poſſible to ſee that, that they cloke: neither are there that deceive the ſimple more than they do.

14 And that which fell among thorns, are they, which when they have heard b go forth, and are choked with cares and riches, and pleaſures of this life, and c bring no fruit to perfection.

15 But that on the good ground, are they, which in an d honeſt and good heart, having heard the word, e keep it, and bring forth fruit with patience.

16 ¶ * 2 No man when he hath lighted a candle, covereth it with a veſſel, or putteth it under a bed: but ſetteth it on a candleſtick, that they which enter in may ſee the light.

17 * For nothing is ſecret that ſhall not be made manifeſt, neither any thing hid, that ſhall not be known, and come abroad.

18 3 Take f heed therefore how ye heare: * for whoſoever hath, to him ſhall be given; and whoſoever hath not, from him ſhal be taken even that which he † ‡ ſeemeth to have.

19 ¶ * 4 Then came to him his mother and his brethren, and could not come at him for the preaſſe.

20 And it was told him by certain, which ſaid, Thy mother and thy brethren ſtand without, deſiring to ſee thee.

21 And he anſwered and ſaid unto them, My mother and my brethren are theſe which heare the word of God, and do it.

22 ¶ * 5 Now it came to paſſe on a certain day, that he went into a ſhip with his diſciples and he ſaid unto them, Let us go over unto the other ſide of the lake; and they lanched forth.

23 But as they ſailed, he h fell aſleep: and there came down a ſtorm of winde on the lake, and they were i filled with water, and were in jeopardy.

24 And they came to him, and awoke him, ſaying, Maſter, maſter, we periſh. Then he aroſe, and rebuked the winde, and the raging of the water: and they ceaſed, and there was a calm.

25 And he ſaid unto them, where is your faith? And they being afraid, wondred, ſaying one to another, What manner of man is this? for he commandeth even the windes and water, and they obey him.

26 ¶ * 6 And they arrived at the countrey of the Gadarenes, which is over againſt Galilee.

27 And when he went forth to land, there met him out of the city, a certain man which had devils long time, and ware no clothes, neither abode in any houſe, but in the tombes.

28 When he ſaw Jeſus, he cried out, and fell down before him, and with a loud voice ſaid, What have I to do with thee, Jeſus, thou ſonne of God moſt high? I beſeech thee torment me not.

29 (For he had commanded the unclean ſpirit to come out of the man. For oftentimes it had caught him, and he was kept bound with chains, and in fetters, and he brake the bands, and was k driven of the devil into the wil derneſſe.)

30 And Jeſus asked him, ſaying, What is thy name? And he ſaid, Legion: becauſe many devils were entred into him.

31 And they beſought him that he would not command them to go out into the deep.

32 And there was there an herd of many ſwine feeding on the mountain: and they beſought him that he would ſuffer them to enter into them: and he ſuffered them.

33 Then went the devils out of the man, and entred into the ſwine: and the herd ran violently down a ſteep place into the lake, and were choked.

34 When they that fed them ſaw what was done, they fled, and went and told it in the city and in the countrey.

35 Then they went out to ſee what was done, and came to Jeſus, and found the man out of whom the devils were departed, ſitting at the feet of Jeſus, clothed, and in his right minde: and they were afraid.

36 They alſo which ſaw it, told them by what means he that was poſſeſſed of the devils, was healed.

37 ¶ Then the whole multitude of the countrey of the Gadarenes round about, beſought him to depart from them; for they were taken with great fear: and he went up into the ſhip, and returned back again.

38 Now the man out of whom the devils were departed, beſought him that he might be with him: but Jeſus ſent him away, ſaying, how great things God hath done unto thee. And he went his way, and publiſhed [1] through out the whole city, how great things Jeſus had done unto him.

1 To wit, the city of the Gadarenes: and though Mark ſay that he preached it in Decapolis, they diſſent not: for Plinie recordeth, lib. 5. cap. 18. that Gadara is a town of Decapolis, ſo that Decapolis was partly on this ſide Iordan, and partly on the other ſide.

40 And it came to paſſe, that when Jeſus was returned, the people gladly [m] received him: for they were all waiting for him.

m The multitude was glad he was come again, and rejoyced greatly.

41 ¶ * [7] And behold, there came a man named Jairus, and he was a ruler of the ſynagogue, and he fell down at Jeſus feet, and beſought him that he would come into his houſe:

* Matth. 9. 18.

7 Chriſt ſheweth by a double miracle, that he is Lord both of life and death.

42 For he had one onely daughter, about twelve yeares of age, and ſhe lay a dying. (But as he went, the people thronged him.

43 ¶ And a woman having an iſſue of bloud twelve yeares, which had ſpent all her [n] living upon phyſicians, neither could be healed of any.

n All that she had to live upon.

44 Came behinde him, and touched the border of his garment: and immediately her iſſue of bloud ſtanched.

45 And Jeſus ſaid, Who touched me? When all denied, Peter, and they that were with him, ſaid, Maſter, the multitude throng thee, and preaſſe thee, and ſayeſt thou, Who touched me?

46 And Jeſus ſaid, Some body hath touched me: for I perceive that vertue is gone out of me.

47 And when the woman ſaw that ſhe was not hid, ſhe came trembling, and falling down before him, ſhe declared unto him before all the people, for what cauſe ſhe had touched him, and how ſhe was healed immediately.

48 And he ſaid unto her, Daughter, be of good comfort, thy faith hath made thee Whole, go in peace)

49 ¶ While he yet ſpake, there cometh one from the ruler of the ſynagogues houſe, ſaying to him, Thy daughter is dead, trouble not the Maſter.

50 But when Jeſus heard it, he anſwered him, ſaying, Fear not, beleeve onely, and ſhe ſhall be made whole.

51 And when he came into the houſe, he ſuffered no man to go in, ſave Peter, and James, and John, and the father and the mother of the maiden.

o The word ſignifieth to beat and ſtrike, and is transferred to the mournings and lamentations that are at burials, at which times men uſe ſuch kinde of behaviour.

52 And all wept, and [o] bewailed her: but he ſaid, Weep not; ſhe is not dead, but ſleepeth.

53 And they laughed him to ſcorn, knowing that ſhe was dead.

54 And he put them all out, and took her by the hand, and called, ſaying, Maid, ariſe.

55 And her ſpirit came again, and ſhe aroſe [p] ſtraightway: and he commanded to give her meat.

p The corps was layd out, and the wench received life, and roſe out of the bed, that all the world might ſee, ſhe was not only reſtored to life, but alſo void of all ſickneſſe.

56 And her parents were aſtoniſhed: but he charged them that they ſhould tell no man what was done.

CHAP. IX.

1 Chriſt ſendeth his Apoſtles to work miracles, and to preach. 7 Herod deſireth to ſee Chriſt. 17 Chriſt feedeth five thouſand: 18 enquireth what opinion the world had of him; foretelleth his paſſion: 23 propoſeth to all the pattern of his patience. 28 The transfiguration. 37 He healeth the lunatick: 43 again forewarneth his diſciples of his paſſion: 46 commendeth humility: 51 biddeth them to ſhew mildeneſſe towards all, without deſire of revenge. 57 Divers would follow him, but upon conditions.

THen * [1] he called his twelve diſciples together, and gave them power and authority over all devils, and to cure diſeaſes.

* Matt. 10. 1.

1 The twelve apoſtles are ſent forth at the onely commandement of Chriſt, and furniſhed with the power of the holy Ghoſt: both that none of the Iſraelites might pretend ignorance, and alſo that they might be better prepared to their generall ambaſſie.

2 And he ſent them to preach the kingdome of God, and to heal the ſick.

3 And he ſaid unto them, Take nothing for your journey, neither ſtaves, nor ſcrip, neither bread, neither money, neither have two coats apiece.

4 And whatſoever houſe ye enter into, [a] there abide, and thence depart.

a When you depart out of any city, depart from thence, where you firſt took up your lodging: ſo that in few words, the Lord forbiddeth them to change their lodgings: for the publiſhing of this goſpel, was as it were a through paſſage, that none of Judea might pretend ignorance, as though he had not heard that Chriſt was come.

5 And whoſoever will not receive you; when ye go out of that city, ſhake off the very duſt from your feet for a teſtimony againſt them.

6 And they departed and went through the towns, preaching the goſpel, and healing every where.

7 ¶ * [2] Now Herod the tetrach heard of all that was done by him: and he was [b] perplexed, becauſe that it was ſaid of ſome, that John was riſen from the dead:

* Matt. 14. 1.

2 So ſoon as the world heareth tidings of the goſpel, it is divided into divers opinions, and the tyrants eſpecially are afraid.

8 And of ſome, that Elias had appeared: and of others, that one of the old prophets was riſen again.

9 And Herod ſaid, John have I beheaded: but who is this of whom I heare ſuch things? And he deſired to ſee him.

b He ſtuck, as it were, faſt in the myre.

10 ¶ [3] And the apoſtles when they were returned, told him all that they had done. * And he took them, and went aſide privately into a [c] deſert place, belonging to the city called Bethſaida.

3 They ſhall lack nothing that follow Chriſt, no not in the wilderneſſe.

* Matt. 14. 13.

c Note, this was not in the town Bethſaida, but part of the fields belonging to the town.

11 And the people when they knew it, followed him, and he received them, and ſpake unto them of the kingdome of God, and healed them that had need of healing.

12 * And when the day began to weare away, then came the twelve and ſaid vnto him, Send the multitude away, that they may go into the towns and countrey round about, and lodge, and get victuals: for we are here in a deſert place.

* Matt. 14. 15.

13 But he ſaid unto them, Give ye them to eat. And they ſaid, We have no more but five loaves and two fiſhes, [d] except we ſhould go and buy meat for all this people.

d This is unperfectly ſpoken, and therefore we muſt underſtand ſome thing, as this, we cannot give them to eate, unleſſe we goe and buy, &c.

14 For they were about five thouſand men. And he ſaid to his diſciples, make them ſit down by fifties in a company.

15 And they did ſo, and made them all ſit down.

16 Then he took the five loaves and the two fiſhes, and looking up to heaven, he [e] bleſſed them, and brake, and gave to the diſciples to ſet before the multitude.

e He gave God thanks for theſe loves and fiſhes and withall prayed him to feed this ſo great a multitude with ſo ſmall a quantitie, and to be ſhort, that this whole banket might be to the glory of God.

17 And they did eat, and were all filled: and there there was taken up of fragments that remained to them, twelve baskets.

18 ¶ * [4] And it came to passe as he was alone praying, his disciples were with him: and he asked them, saying, Whom say the people that I am?

19 They answering, said, John the Baptist: but some say Elias: and others say, that one of the old prophets is risen again.

20 He said unto them, But whom say ye that I am? Peter answering, said, The Christ of God.

21 And he straitly charged them and commanded them to tell no man that thing.

22 [5] Saying, * The Sonne of man must suffer many things, and be rejected of the elders, and chief priests, and Scribes, and be slain, and be raised the third day.

23 ¶ * And he said to them all, If any man will come after me, let him denie himself, and take up his crosse [g] daily, and follow me.

24 For whosoever will save his life, shall lose it: but whosoever will lose his life for my sake, the same shall save it.

25 * For what is a man advantaged, if he gain the whole world, and lose himself, or be cast away?

26 * For whosoever shall be ashamed of me and of my words, of him shall the Sonne of man be ashamed, when he shall come in his own glory and in his Fathers, and of the holy angels.

27 * But I tell you of a truth, there be some standing here which shall not taste of death, till they see the kingdome of God.

28 ¶ * [6] And it came to passe about an eight dayes after these ‡ sayings, he took Peter, and John, and James, and went up into a mountain to pray.

29 And as he prayed, the fashion of his countenance was altered, and his raiment was white and glistering.

30 And behold, there talked with him two men, which were Moses and Elias.

31 Who appeared in glory, and spake of his [d] decease which he should accomplish at Jerusalem.

32 But Peter, and they that were with him, were heavy with sleep: and when they were awake, they saw his glory, and the two men that stood with him.

33 And it came to passe, as they departed from him, Peter said unto Jesus, Master, it is good for us to be here; and let us make three tabernacles, one for thee, and one for Moses, and one for Elias, not knowing what he said.

34 While he thus spake, there came a cloud, and overshadowed them, and they feared as they entred into the cloud.

35 And there came a voice out of the cloud, saying, This is my beloved Sonne, heare him.

36 And when the voice was past, Jesus was found alone: and they kept it close, and told no man in [i] those dayes any of those things which they had seen.

37 ¶ * [7] And it came to passe, that on the next day, when they were come down from the hill, much people met him.

38 And behold, a man of the company cried out, saying, Master, I beseech thee look upon my sonne, for he is mine onely childe.

39 And lo, a spirit taketh him, and he suddenly crieth out, and it teareth him, that he fometh again, and [k] bruising him, hardly departeth from him.

40 And I besought thy disciples to cast him out, and they could not.

41 And Jesus answering, said, O faithlesse and perverse generation, how long shall I be with you, and suffer you? Bring thy sonne hither.

42 And as he was yet a coming, the devil threw him down, and tare him: and Jesus rebuked the unclean spirit, and healed the childe, and delivered him again to his father.

43 ¶ [8] And they were all amazed at the mighty power of God: but while they wondered every one at all things which Jesus did, he said unto his disciples.

44 * [1] Let these sayings sink down into your eares: for the Sonne of man shall be delivered into the hands of men.

45 But they understood not this saying, and it was hid from them, that they perceived it not: and they feared to ask him of that saying.

46 ¶ * [9] Then there arose a reasoning among them, which of them should be greatest.

47 And Jesus perceiving the thought of their heart, took a childe, and set him by him, 48 And said unto them, Whosoever shall receive this childe in my name, receiveth me: and whosoever shall receive me, receiveth him that sent me: for he that is least among you all, the same shall be great.

49 ¶ * [10] And John answered and said, Master, we saw one casting out devils in thy name, and we forbad him, because he followeth not with us.

50 And Jesus said unto him, Forbid him not: for he that is not against us, is for us.

51 ¶ [11] And it came to passe, when the time was come that he should be received up, he [m] stedfastly set his face to go to Jerusalem, 52 And sent messengers before his face, and they went, and entred into a village of the Samaritanes to make ready for him.

53 And they did not receive him, because his face was as though he would go to Jerusalem.

54 [12] And when his disciples James & John saw this, they said, Lord, wilt thou that we command fire to come down from heaven, and consume them, even as * Elias did?

55 But he turned, and rebuked them, and said, Ye know not what manner of [n] spirit ye are of.

CHAP. X.

1 Christ sendeth out at once seventy disciples to work miracles, and to preach: 17 admonisheth them to be humble, and wherein to rejoyce: 21 thanketh his father for his grace: 23 magnifieth the happy estate of his church: 25 teacheth the lawyer how to attain eternall life, and to take every one for his neighbour that needeth his mercy: 41 reprehendeth Martha, and commendeth Mary her sister.

AFter * 1 these things, the Lord appointed other seventy also, and sent them two and two before his face into every city, and place whither he himself would come.

2 Therefore said he unto them, * The harvest truly is great, but the labourers are few: pray ye therefore the Lord of the harvest, that he would send forth labourers into his harvest.

3 2 Go your wayes: * behold, I send you forth as lambes among wolves.

4 Carry neither purse, nor scrip, nor shoes, and salute 3 no man by the way.

5 * And into whatsoever house ye enter, first say, Peace be to this house.

6 And if the b sonne of peace be there, your peace shall rest upon it: if not, it shall turn to you again.

7 And in the same house c remain, eating and drinking such things as they give: for the labourer is worthy of his hire. Go not from house to house.

8 And into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you, d eat such things as are set before you.

9 And heal the sick that are therein, and say unto them, The kingdome of God is come nigh unto you.

10 3 But into whatsoever city ye enter, and they receive you not, go your wayes out into the streets of the same, and say,

11 Even the very dust of your city which cleaveth on us, we do wipe off against you: notwithstanding, be ye sure of this, that the kingdome of God is come nigh unto you.

12 But I say unto you, that it shall be more tolerable in that day for Sodom, than for that citie.

13 * Wo unto thee Chorazin, wo unto thee Bethsaida: for if the mighty works had been done in Tyre and Sidon, which have been done in you, they had a great while ago repented, sitting in sackcloth and ashes.

14 But it shall be more tollerable for Tyre and Sidon at the judgement, than for you.

15 And thou Capernaum, which art exalted to heaven, shalt be thrust down to hell.

16 * He that heareth you, heareth me: and he that despiseth you, despiseth me: and he that despiseth me, despiseth him that sent me.

17 ¶ 4 And the seventy returned again with joy, saying, Lord, even the devils are subject unto us e through thy name.

18 And he said unto them, I beheld Satan as lightning, f fall from heaven.

19 Behold, I give unto you power to tread on serpents and scorpions, and over all the power of the enemy; and nothing shall by any means g hurt you.

20 Notwithstanding in this rejoyce not, that the spirits are subject unto you: but rather rejoyce, because your names are written in heaven.

21 ¶ 5 In that houre Jesus rejoyced in spirit, and said, I thank thee, O Father, Lord of heaven and earth, that thou hast hid these things from the h wise and prudent, and hast revealed them unto babes: even so Father, for so it seemed good in thy sight.

22 ¶ 6 All things are delivered to me of my Father: and no man knoweth who the Sonne is, but the Father; and who the Father is, but the Sonne, and he to whom the Sonne will reveal him.

23 ¶ 7 And he turned him unto his disciples, and said privately, * Blessed are the eyes which see the things that ye see.

24 For I tell you, that many prophets and kings have desired to see those things which ye see, and have not seen them; and to heare those things which ye heare, and have not heard them.

25 ¶ 8 And behold, i a certain lawyer stood up, and tempted him, saying, * Master, what shall I do to inherit eternall life?

26 He said unto him, What is written in the law? how readest thou?

27 And he answering, said, Thou shalt love the Lord thy God with all thy heart, and with all thy soul, and with all thy strength, and with all thy minde; and thy neighbour as thy self.

28 And he said unto him, Thou hast answered right: this do, and thou shalt live.

38 ¶ [10] Now it came to paſſe, as they went, that he entred into a certain village: and a certain woman named Martha, received him into her houſe.

39 And she had a ſiſter called Mary, which alſo ſat at Jeſus feet, and heard his word.

40 But Martha was cumbred about much ſerving, and came to him, and ſaid, Lord, doſt thou not care that my ſiſter hath left me to ſerve alone? bid her therefore that she help me.

CHAP. XI.

1 Chriſt teacheth to pray, and that inſtantly: 11 aſſuring that God ſo will give us good things. 14 He caſting out a dumbe devil, rebuketh the blaſphemous Phariſees: 28 and sheweth who are bleſſed: 29 preacheth to the people: 37 and reprehendeth the outward shew of holineſſe in the Phariſees, Scribes, and lawyers.

AND it came to paſſe, that as he was praying in a certain place, when he ceaſed, one of his diſciples ſaid unto him, Lord, teach us to pray, as John alſo taught his diſciples.

2 And he ſaid unto them, When ye pray, ſay, * [1] Our Father which art in heaven, Hallowed be thy name. Thy kingdome come. Thy will be done, as in heaven, ſo in earth.

* Matth. 6, 9.

3 Give us ‡ day by day our [a] daily bread.

‡ Or, for the day.
a That is, as much as is needfull for us this day, whereby we are not debarred to have an honeſt care for the maintenance of our lives, but that carking care, which killeth a number of men, is cut off and reſtrained.

4 And forgive us our ſinnes; for we alſo forgive every one that is indebted to us. And lead us not into temptation, but deliver us from evil.

5 [2] And he ſaid unto them, Which of you shall have a friend, and shall go unto him at midnight, and ſay unto him, Friend, lend me three loaves;

2 We muſt pray with faith.

6 For a friend of mine ‡ in his journey is come to me, and I have nothing to ſet before him:

‡ Or, out of his way.

7 And he from within shall anſwer and ſay, Trouble me not, the doore is now shut, and my children are with me in bed; I cannot riſe and give thee.

8 I ſay unto you, Though he will not riſe and give him, becauſe he is his friend: yet becauſe of his [b] importunity, he will riſe and give him as many as he needeth.

b Word for word Impudencie: but that impudencie which is ſpoken of here, is not to be found fault withall, but is very commendable before God, for he liketh well of ſuch importunitie.

9 * And I ſay unto you, Ask, and it shall be given you: ſeek, and ye ſhall finde: knock, and it shall be opened unto you.

c By the name and power of Beelzebub.

19 And if I by Beelzebub caſt out devils, by whom do your ſonnes caſt them out? therefore shall they be your judges.

37 ¶ [10] And as he spake, a certain Pharisee besought him to dine with him: and he went in and sat down to meat.

10 The service of God consisteth not in outward cleanlinesse, and devised rites, or ceremonies, but in the spirituall righteousnesse of the heart and charitie.

38 And when the Pharisee saw it, he marvelled that he had not first washed before dinner.

* Matth. 23, 25.

39 * And the Lord said unto him, Now do ye Pharisees make clean the outside of the cup and the platter: but your inward part is full of ravening and wickednesse.

40 Ye fools, did not he that made that which is without, make that which is within also?

41 But rather [f] give alms ‡ of such things as you have: and behold, all things are clean unto you.

f That is, according to your abilitie: as who would say, In stead of your extortions, which hindered you, that you could not eat cleanly, use charitie, and accordingly as your abilitie shall serve you, be good to the poore, and so shall that, that is within the platter, be sanctified, though the platter be unwashed. ‡ Or, as you are able.

42 [11] But wo unto you Pharisees: for ye [g] tithe mint and rue and [h] all manner of herbs, and passe over [i] judgement and the love of God: these ought ye to have done, and not to leave the other undone.

43 * [12] Wo unto you Pharisees: for ye love the uppermost seats in the synagogues, and greetings in the markets.

44 [13] Wo unto you Scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites: for ye are as graves which appear not, and the men that walk over them, are not aware of them.

13 Hypocrites deceive men with an outward shew.

45 ¶ [14] Then answered one of the lawyers, and said unto him, Master, thus saying, thou reproachest us also.

14 Hypocrites are very severe against other men, but think all things lawfull to themselves.

46 * And he said, Wo unto you also ye lawyers: for ye lade men with burdens grievous to be born, and ye your selves touch not the burdens with one of your fingers.

* Matth. 23, 4.

47 * [15] Wo unto you: for ye build the sepulchres of the prophets, and your fathers killed them.

* Matth. 23, 29. 15 Hypocrites honour those saints when they are dead, whom they most cruelly persecute, when they are alive.

48 Truly ye [k] bear witnesse that ye allow the deeds of your fathers: for they indeed killed them, and ye build their sepulchres.

k When you persecute Gods servants, like mad men, even as your fathers did, though you colour it with a pretence of godlinesse, yet notwithstanding, in that you beautifie the sepulchres of the prophets, what do you else but glory in your fathers cruelties, and set up monuments (as it were) in glory and triumph of it.

49 Therefore also said the wisdome of God, I will send them prophets and apostles, and some of them they shall [l] slay and persecute:

l They shall so vex them and trouble them, that at length they shall banish them.

50 That the bloud of all the prophets, which was [m] shed from the foundation of the world, may be required of this generation:

m That you may be called to an account for it, yea, and be punished for the shedding of that bloud of the prophets.

51 * From the bloud of Abel unto the bloud of Zacharias, which perished between the altar and the temple: verily I say unto you, it shall be required of this generation.

* Gen. 4, 8. * Matt. 23, 35.

52 * [16] Wo unto you lawyers: for ye have [n] taken away the key of knowledge: ye entred not in your selves, and them that were entring in, ye ‡ hindred.

16 They have of long time chiefly hindered the people from entring into the knowledge of God, which ought to be the doore keepers of the church. n You have hidden and taken away, so that it cannot be found any where. ‡ Or, forbad.

53 [17] And as he said these things unto them, the Scribes and the Pharisees began to urge him vehemently, and to [o] provoke him to speak of many things:

17 The more the world is reprehended, the worse it is, and yet must we not betray the truth. o They proposed many questions to him, to draw something out of his mouth, which they might traiterously carp at.

54 Laying wait for him, and seeking to catch something out of his mouth, that they might accuse him.

CHAP. XII.

1 Christ preacheth to his disciples to avoid hypocrisie and fearfulnesse in publishing his doctrine: 13 warneth the people to beware of covetousnesse, by the parable of the rich man who set up greater barns. 22 We must not be over-carefull of earthly things, 31 but seek the kingdome of God, 33 give alms. 36 be ready at a knock to open to our Lord whensoever he cometh. 41 Christs ministers are to see to their charge, 49 and look for persecution. 54 The people must take this time of grace, 58 because it is a fearfull thing to die without reconciliation.

IN * [1] the mean time, when there were gathered together an [a] innumerable multitude of people, insomuch that they trode one upon another, he began to say unto his disciples first of all, Beware ye of the leaven of the Pharisees, which is hypocrisie.

* Matth. 16, 6. 1 The faithfull teachers of Gods word, which are appointed by him for his people, must both take good heed of them, which corrupt the puritie of doctrine with goodly glosses, and also take paine, through the help of God, to set forth sincere doctrine, openly without fear. a Word for word, Ten thousands of people, a certain number for an uncertain.

2 * For there is nothing covered, that shall not be revealed; neither hid, that shall not be known.

4 * [2] And I ſay unto you my friends, Be not afraid of them that kill the bodie, and after that, have no more that they can do.

5 But I will [b] forewarn you whom you ſhall fear: Fear him, which after he hath killed, hath power to caſt into hell, yea, I ſay unto you, Fear him.

11 [4] And when they bring you unto the ſynagogues, and unto magiſtrates, and powers, take ye no thought how or what thing ye ſhall anſwer, or what ye ſhall ſay:

18 And he ſaid, This will I do, I will pull down my barns and build greater, and there will I beſtow all my fruits, and my goods.

19 And I will ſay to my ſoul, Soul, thou haſt much goods laid up for many yeares, take thine eaſe, eat, drink, and [g] be merry.

21 So is he that layeth up treaſure [h] for himſelf, and is not rich towards God.

22 ¶ [7] And he ſaid unto his diſciples, Therefore I ſay unto you, * Take no thought for your life what ye ſhall eat, neither for the body what ye ſhall put on.

23 The life is more than meat, and the body is more than raiment.

24 Conſider the ravens, for they neither ſow nor reap, which neither have ſtorehouſe nor barn, and God feedeth them. How much more are ye better than the fowls?

25 And which of you with taking thought can adde to his ſtature one cubit?

26 If ye then be not able to do that thing which is leaſt, why take ye thought for the reſt?

27 Conſider the lilies how they grow, they toyl not, they ſpin not: and yet I ſay unto you, that Solomon in all his glory, was not arayed like one of theſe.

28 If then God ſo clothe the graſſe, which is to day in the field, and to morrow is caſt into the oven: how much more will he clothe you, O ye of little faith?

29 And ſeek not ye what ye ſhall eat, or what ye ſhall drink, ‡ neither be ye of [i] doubtfull minde.

30 For all theſe things do the nations of the world ſeek after: and your Father knoweth that ye have need of theſe things.

43 Bleſſed is that ſervant whom his lord when he cometh ſhall finde ſo doing.

10 A godly bountifulneſſes is a ready way to get true riches.
k This is the figure Metonymia, for by this word, Almes, is meant that compaſſion, and friendlineſſe of an heart, that tendreth the miſerie and poore eſtate of a man, and sheweth forth it ſelf by ſome gift, and hath the name given it in the Greek tongue of, mercy and compaſſion: and therefore he is ſaid to give almes who parteth with ſomething to another, and giveth to the poore, ſhewing thereby that he pitieth their poore eſtate.
* Matth. 6, 20. * 1 Pet. 1, 13.
11 The life of the faithfull ſervants of God in this world, is a certain watchfull peregrination, having the light of the word going before it.
* Matth. 24, 43.
12 None have more need to watch, than they that have ſom degree of honour in the houſhold of God.
l That is, every moneth ſuch meaſure of corn as was appointed them.

to beat the men-servants, and maidens, and to eat and drink, and to be drunken:

‡ Or, cut him off.

47 And that servant which knew his lords will, and prepared not himself, neither did according to his will, shall be beaten with many stripes.

48 But he that knew not, and did commit things worthy of stripes, shall be beaten with few stripes. For unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required: and to whom men have committed much, of him they will ask the [m] more.

m More than of him, to whom so much was not given.

49 ¶ [13] I am come to send fire on the earth, and what will I, if it be already kindled?

13 The gospel is the only cause of peace betwixt the godly: and so is it the occasion of great trouble among the wicked.

50 But I have a baptisme to be baptized with, and how am I ‡ straitned till it be accomplished!

‡ Or, pained.

51 * Suppose ye that I am come to give peace on earth? I tell you, Nay; but rather division.

* Matth. 10, 34.

52 For from henceforth there shall be five in one house divided, three against two, and two against three.

53 The father shall be divided against the sonne, and the sonne against the father: the mother against the daughter, and the daughter against the mother: the mother in law against her daughter in law, and the daughter in law against her mother in law.

54 ¶ [14] And he said also to the people, * When ye see a cloud rise out of the [n] west, straightway ye say, There cometh a shower, and so it is.

14 Men which are very quick of sight in earthly things, are blinde in those things which pertain to the heavenly life, and that through their own malice.

* Matth. 16, 2.

n Which appeareth, and gathereth it self together in that part of the aire.

55 And when ye see the south-winde blow, ye say, There will be heat, and it cometh to passe.

56 Ye hypocrites, ye can discern the face of the skie, and of the earth: but how is it, that ye do not discern this time?

57 [15] Yea, and why even of your selves judge ye not what is right?

15 Men that are blinded with the love of themselves, and therefore are detestable and stubborn, shall bear the reward of their folly.

58 ¶ * When thou goest with thine adversary to the magistrate, as thou art in the way, give diligence that thou mayest be delivered from him; lest he hale thee to the judge, and the judge deliver thee to the [o] officer, and the officer cast thee into prison.

* Matth. 5, 25.

o To him that had to demand and gather the amerciaments, which they were condemned unto, that had wrongfully troubled men: moreover, the magistrates officers make them which are condemned, pay, that they owe, yea, and oftentimes if they be obstinate, they do not onely take the costs and charges of them, but also imprison them. ‡ See Mark. 12, 42.

59 I tell thee, thou shalt not depart thence, till thou hast payed the very last ‡ mite.

CHAP. XIII.

1 Christ preacheth repentance upon the punishment of the Galileans, and others. 6 The fruitlesse fig-tree may not stand. 11 He healeth the crooked woman: 18 sheweth the powerfull working of the word in the hearts of his chosen, by the parable of the grain of mustard-seed, and of leaven: 24 exhorteth to enter in at the strait gate: 31 and reproveth Herod and Jerusalem.

THere [1] were present at that season, some that told him of the Galileans, whose bloud [a] Pilate had mingled with their sacrifice.

1 We must not rejoyce at the just punishment of others, but rather be instructed thereby to repentance.

a Pontius Pilatus was governour of Judea almost ten yeeres, and about the fourth yeare of his government, which might be about the fifteenth yeare of Tiberius reigne, Christ finished the work of our redemption by his death.

2 And Jesus answering, said unto them, Suppose ye that these Galileans were sinners above all the Galileans, because they suffered such things?

3 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

4 Or those eighteen, upon whom the tower in [b] Siloam fell, and slew them, think ye that they were ‡ sinners above all men that dwelt in Jerusalem?

b To wit, in the place, or river, for Siloam was a small river, from whence the conduits of the citie came, whereof John 9, 7. and Esa. 8, 6. and therefore it was a tower or castle, built upon the conduit side, which fell down suddenly and killed some.

‡ Or, debters.

5 I tell you, Nay: but except ye repent, ye shall all likewise perish.

6 ¶ [2] He spake also this parable: A certain man had a fig-tree planted in his vineyard, and he came and sought fruit thereon, and found none.

2 Great and long suffering is the patience of God, but yet so that at length he executeth judgement.

7 Then said he unto the dresser of his vineyard, Behold, these three yeares I come seeking fruit on this fig-tree, and finde none: cut it down, why [c] cumbreth it the ground?

c Maketh the ground barren in that part which otherwise were good for vines.

8 And he answering, said unto him, Lord, let it alone this yeare also, till I shall dig about it, and dung it:

9 And if it bear fruit, well: and if not, then after that thou shalt cut it down.

10 [3] And he was teaching in one of the synagogues on the sabbath.

3 Christ came to deliver us from the bands of Satan.

11 ¶ And behold, there was a woman which had a [d] spirit of infirmity eighteen yeares, and was bowed together, and could in no wise lift up her self.

d Troubled with a disease which Satan brought.

12 And when Jesus saw her, he called her to him, and said unto her, Woman, thou art [e] loosed from thine infirmity.

e For Satan had the woman bound, as if she had been in chains, in so much that for eighteen yeares space, she could not hold up her head.

13 And he laid his hands on her, and immediately she was made straight, and glorified God.

14 * And the [f] ruler of the synagogue answered with indignation, because that Jesus had healed on the sabbath-day, and said unto the people, There are six dayes in which men ought to work: in them therefore come and be healed, and not on the sabbath-day.

4 A lively image of hypocrisie, & reward thereof.

f One of the rulers of the synagogue, for it appeareth by Mark 5, 22. and Acts 13, 15. that there were many rulers of the synagogue.

15 The Lord then answered him, and said, Thou hypocrite, doth not each one of you on the sabbath loose his ox or his asse from the stall, and lead him away to watering?

16 And ought not this woman being a daughter of Abraham, whom Satan hath bound, lo, these eighteen yeares, be loosed from this bond on the sabbath-day?

17 And when he had said these things, all his adversaries were ashamed: and all the people rejoyced for all the glorious things that were done by him.

18 ¶ * Then said he, Unto what is the kingdome of God like? and whereunto shall I resemble it?

* Matth. 13, 31.

19 [5] It is like a grain of mustard-seed, which a man took, and cast into his garden, and it grew, and waxed a great tree; and the fowls of the aire lodged in the branches of it.

5 God beginneth his kingdome with small beginnings, that the unlooked for proceeding of it may better set forth his power.

20 And again he said, Whereunto shall I liken the kingdome of God?

21 It

21 It is like leaven, which a woman took and hid in three " meaſures of meal, tſll the whole was leavened.

" See Matth. 13. 33.

22 * 6 And he went through the cities and villages, teaching and journeying towards Jeruſalem.

* Matth. 9, 35. 6 Againſt them which had rather erre with many, than go right with a few, and by that means through their own ſlowneſſe, are ſhut out of the kingdome of God.

23 Then ſaid one unto him, Lord, are there few that be ſaved? And he ſaid unto them.

24 ¶ * Strive to enter in at the ſtrait gate: for many, I ſay unto you, will ſeek to enter in, and ſhall not be able.

* Matth. 7, 13.

25 When once the maſter of the houſe is riſen up, and hath ſhut to the doore, and ye begin to ſtand without, and to knock at the doore, ſaying, Lord, Lord, open unto us; and he ſhall anſwer and ſay unto you, I know you not whence you are:

26 7 Then ſhall ye begin to ſay, We have eaten and drunk in thy preſence, and thou haſt taught in our ſtreets.

7 He is in vain in the church, which is not of the church, which thing the cleanneſſe of life sheweth.

27 * But he ſhall ſay, I tell you, I know you not whence you are, depart from me all ye workers of iniquitie.

* Matth. 7, 23.

28 8 There ſhall be weeping and gnaſhing of teeth, when ye ſhall ſee Abraham, and Iſaac, and Jacob, and all the prophets in the kingdome of God, and you your ſelves thruſt out.

8 The caſting off of the Jews, and the calling of the Gentiles is foretold.

29 And they ſhall come from the 8 eaſt, and from the weſt, and from the north, and from the ſouth, and ſhall ſit down in the kingdome of God.

8 From all the quarters of the world, and theſe are foure of the chiefeſt.

30 * And behold, there are laſt which ſhall be firſt, and there are firſt which ſhall be laſt.

* Matth. 19, 30.

31 ¶ 9 The ſame day there came certain of the Phariſees, ſaying unto him, Get thee out, and depart hence: for Herod will kill thee.

9 We muſt go forward in the caſe of our calling, through the midſt of terrours, whether they be true or feigned.

32 And he ſaid unto them, Go ye and tell that h fox, Behold, I caſt out devils, and I do cures to i day and to morrow, and the third day I ſhall be k perfected.

h That deceitfull and treacherous man.
i That is, a ſmall time, and Theophylact ſaith, it is a proverb: or elſe, by To day, we may underſtand The time that now is, and by To morrow, The time to come; meaning thereby, All the time of his miniſtery and office.
k To wit, when the ſacrifice for ſinne is ended.

33 10 Neverthleſſe I muſt walk to day and to morrow, and the day following: for it cannot be that a prophet perish out of Jeruſalem.

10 There are no where more cruel enemies of the godly, than they which are within the ſanctuary, and church it ſelf: but God ſeeth it, and will in his time have an account of it.

34 * O Jeruſalem, Jeruſalem, which killeſt the prophets, and ſtoneſt them that are ſent unto thee: how often would I have gathered thy children together, as a hen doth gather her l brood under her wings, and ye would not?

* Matth. 23, 37. l Word for word, Thu neſt: now the brood of chickens is the neſt.

35 Behold, your houſe is left unto you deſolate: And verily I ſay unto you, ye ſhall not ſee me, untill the time come when ye ſhall ſay, Bleſſed is he that cometh in the name of the Lord.

CHA. XIIII.

2 Chriſt healeth the dropſie on the ſabbath: 7 teacheth humilitie: 12 to feaſt the poore. 15 Under the parable of the great ſupper, ſheweth how worldly-minded men, who contemn the word of God, ſhall be ſhut out of heaven. 15 Thoſe who will be his diſciples, to bear their croſſe, muſt make their accounts aforehand, leſt with ſhame they revolt from him afterward, 34 and become altogether unprofitable, like ſalt that hath loſt his ſavour.

AND 1 it came to paſſe, as he went into the houſe of 2 one of the chief Phariſees to eat bread on the ſabbath-day, that they watched him.

1 The law of the very ſabbath ought not to hinder the offices of charitie. 2 Either one of the elders whom they called the Sanhedrin, or one of the chief of the Synagogue: for all the Phariſees were not chief men of the Synagogue, John 7, 48. for this word Phariſee was the name of a ſect, though it appear by the whole hiſtorie that the Phariſees were in great credit.

2 And behold, there was a certain man before him which had the dropſie.

3 And Jeſus anſwering, ſpake unto the lawyers and Phariſees, ſaying, Is it lawfull to heal on the ſabbath-day?

4 And they held their peace. And he took him and healed him, and let him go:

5 And anſwered them, ſaying, Which of you ſhall have an aſſe or an ox fallen into a pit, and will not ſtraightway pull him out on the ſabbath-day?

6 And they could not anſwer him again to theſe things.

7 ¶ 2 And he put forth a parable to thoſe which were bidden, when he marked how they choſe out the chief rooms; ſaying unto them,

2 The reward of pride is ignominy: and the reward of true modeſtie is glory.

8 When thou art bidden of any man to a wedding, ſit not down in the higheſt room, leſt a more honourable man than thou be bidden of him:

9 And he that bad thee and him, come and ſay to thee, Give this man place: and thou begin with ſhame to take the loweſt room.

10 * But when thou art bidden, go and ſit down in the loweſt room; that when he that bad thee cometh, he may ſay unto thee, Friend, go up higher: then ſhalt thou have worſhip in the preſence of them that ſit at meat with thee.

* Prov. 25, 6, 7.

11 * For whoſoever exalteth himſelf, ſhall be abaſed; and he that humbleth himſelf, ſhall be exalted.

* Matth. 23, 12.

12 ¶ 3 Then ſaid he alſo to him that bad him, When thou makeſt a dinner or a ſupper, call not thy friends, nor thy brethren, neither thy kinſmen, nor thy rich neighbours; leſt they alſo bid thee again, and a recompenſe be made thee.

3 Againſt them which lavish out their goods either ambitiouſly, or for hope of recompence, where as Chriſtian charitie reſpecteth onely the glory of God, and the profite of our neighbour.

13 But when thou makeſt a feaſt, call * the poore, the maimed, the lame, the blinde:

* Tob. 4, 7.

14 And thou ſhalt be bleſſed; for they cannot recompenſe thee: for thou ſhalt be recompenſed at the reſurrection of the juſt.

15 ¶ And when one of them that ſat at meat with him, heard theſe things, he ſaid unto him, * Bleſſed is he that ſhall eat bread in the kingdome of God.

* Rev. 19, 9.

16 * Then ſaid he unto them, A certain man made a great ſupper, and bade many:

* Matth. 22, 2.

17 And ſent his ſervant at ſupper time to ſay to them that were bidden, Come, for all things are now ready.

18 * And they all with b one conſent began to make excuſe: The firſt ſaid unto him, I have bought a piece of ground, and I muſt needs go and ſee it: I pray thee have me excuſed.

4 The moſt part, even of them, to whom God hath revealed himſelf, are ſo mad, that ſuch helps as they have received of God, they willingly turn into lets and hinderances.
b As of ſet purpoſe, and a thing agreed upon before: for though they alledge ſeverall cauſes, yet all of them agree in this, that they have their excuſes, that they may not come to ſupper.

19 And another ſaid, I have bought five yoke of oxen, and I go to prove them: I pray thee have me excuſed.

20 And another ſaid, I have married a wife, and therefore I cannot come.

68

21 So that ſervant came, and ſhewed his lord theſe things. Then the maſter of the houſe being angry, ſaid to his ſervant, Go out quickly into the [c] ſtreets and lanes of the city, and bring in hither the poore, and the maimed, and the halt, and the blinde.

c Wide and broad quarters.

22 And the ſervant ſaid, Lord, it is done as thou haſt commanded, and yet there is room.

23 And the lord ſaid unto the ſervant, Go out into the high-wayes and hedges, and compell them to come in, that my houſe may be filled.

24 For I ſay unto you, that none of thoſe men which were bidden, ſhall taſte of my ſupper.

5 Even thoſe affections, which are of themſelves worthy of praiſe and commendation, muſt be ruled and ordered, that godlineſſe may have the upper hand and preeminence.

25 ¶ [5] And there went great multitudes with him: and he turned, and ſaid unto them,

*Matth. 10, 37.

26 * If any man come to me, and [d] hate not his father, and mother, and wife, and children, and brethren, and ſiſters, yea and his own life alſo, he cannot be my diſciple.

d If the matter ſtand between God and him, as Theophylact ſaith: and therefore theſe words are not ſpoken ſimply but by compariſon.

27 [6] And whoſoever doth not bear his croſſe, and come after me, cannot be my diſciple.

6 The true followers of Chriſt, muſt at once build and fight, and therefore be ready and prepared to ſuffer all kinde of miſeries.

28 For which of you intending to build a tower, [e] ſitteth not down firſt, and counteth the coſt, whether he have ſufficient to finish it?

e At home, and caſteth all his coſt, before he begin the work.

29 Leſt haply after he hath laid the foundation, and is not able to finish it, all that behold it, begin to mock him, 30 Saying, This man began to build, and was not able to finish.

31 Or what king going to make warre againſt another king, ſitteth not down firſt, and conſulteth whether he be able with ten thouſand to meet him that cometh againſt him with twenty thouſand?

32 Or elſe, while the other is yet a great way off, he ſendeth an ambaſſage, and deſireth conditions of peace.

33 So likewiſe, whoſoever he be of you, that forſaketh not all that he hath, he cannot be my diſciple.

* Matth. 5, 13.

34 ¶ * [7] Salt is good: but if the ſalt have loſt his ſavour, wherewith ſhall it be ſeaſoned?

7 The diſciples of Chriſt muſt be wiſe both for themſelves, and for others: otherwiſe they become the fooliſheſt of all.

35 It is neither fit for the land, nor yet for the dunghill, but men caſt it out. He that hath eares to heare, let him heare.

CHAP. XV.

1 The parable of the loſt ſheep: 8 of the piece of ſilver: 11 of the prodigall ſonne.

THen drew neare unto [1] him [a] all the publicanes and ſinners for to heare him.

1 We muſt not deſpair of them, which have gone out of the way, but according to the example of Chriſt, we muſt take great pains about them.

a Some Publicanes and ſinners came to Chriſt from all quarters.

2 And the Phariſees and Scribes murmured, ſaying, This man receiveth ſinners, and eateth with them.

* Matth. 18, 12.

3 ¶ And he ſpake this parable unto them, ſaying,

4 * What man of you having an hundred ſheep, if he loſe one of them, doth not leave the ninety and nine in the wilderneſſe, and go after that which is loſt, untill he finde it?

5 And when he hath found it, he layeth it, on his ſhoulders, rejoycing.

6 And when he cometh home, he calleth together his friends and neighbours, ſaying unto them, Rejoyce with me, for I have found my ſheep which was loſt.

7 I ſay unto you, that likewiſe joy ſhall be in heaven over one ſinner that repenteth, more than over ninety and nine juſt perſons, which need no repentance.

" Drachma here tranſlated a piece of ſilver, is the eight part of an ounce, which cometh to ſeven pence half-peny, and is equall to the Romane peny, Matth. 18, 28.

8 ¶ Either what woman having ten " pieces of ſilver, if ſhe loſe one piece, doth not light a candle, and ſweep the houſe, and ſeek diligently till ſhe finde it?

9 And when ſhe hath found it, ſhe calleth her friends and her neighbours together, ſaying, Rejoyce with me, for I have found the piece which I had loſt.

10 Likewiſe I ſay unto you, There is joy in the preſence of the angels of God, over one ſinner that repenteth.

2 Men by their voluntary falling from God, having ſpoiled themſelves of the benefits which they received of him, caſt themſelves headlong into infinite calamities: but God of his ſingular goodneſſe, offering himſelf freely to them, whom he called to repentance, through the greatneſſe of their miſerie, wherwith they were tamed, doth not onely gently receive them, but alſo enricheth them with farre greater gifts, and bleſſeth them with the chiefeſt bliſſe.

11 ¶ [2] And he ſaid, A certain man had two ſonnes:

12 And the younger of them ſaid to his father, Father, give me the portion of goods that falleth to me. And he divided unto them his living.

13 And not many dayes after, the younger ſonne gathered all together, and took his journey into a farre countrey, and there waſted his ſubſtance with riotous living.

14 And when he had ſpent all, there aroſe a mighty famine in that land, and he began to be in want.

15 And he went and joyned himſelf to a citizen of that countrey, and he ſent him into his fields to feed ſwine.

16 And he would fain have filled his belly with the huſks that the ſwine did eat: and no man gave unto him.

3 The beginning of repentance is the acknowledging of the mercie of God, which ſtirreth us up to hope well.

17 [3] And when he came to himſelf, he ſaid, How many hired ſervants of my fathers have bread enough and to ſpare, and I perish with hunger!

18 I will ariſe, and go to my father, and will ſay unto him, Father, I have ſinned againſt [b] heaven, and before thee, b Againſt God, becauſe he is ſaid to dwell in heaven.

19 And am no more worthy to be called thy ſonne: make me as one of thy hired ſervants.

20 And he aroſe, and came to his father. But when he was yet a great way off, his father ſaw him, and had compaſſion, and ran, and fell on his neck, and kiſſed him.

4 In true repentance there is a feeling of our ſinnes joyned with ſorrow and ſhame, from whence ſpringeth a confeſſion, after which followeth forgiveneſſe.

21 [4] And the ſonne ſaid unto him, Father, I have ſinned againſt heaven, and in thy ſight, and am no more worthy to be called thy ſonne.

22 But the father ſaid to his ſervants, Bring forth the beſt robe, and put it on him, and put a ring on his hand, and ſhoes on his feet.

23 And bring hither the fatted calf, and kill it, and let us eat and be merry.

24 For this my ſonne was dead, and is alive again; he was loſt, and is found. And they began to be merry.

5 Such as truely feare God, deſire to have all men to be their fellows.

25 [5] Now his elder ſonne was in the field: and as he came and drew nigh to the houſe, he heard muſick and dancing.

26 And

26 And he called one of the ſervants, and asked what theſe things meant.

27 And he ſaid unto him, Thy brother is come, & thy father hath killed the fatted calf, becauſe he hath received him ſafe and ſound.

28 And he was angry, and would not go in: therefore came his father out, and intreated him.

29 And he anſwering, ſaid to his father, Lo, theſe many yeares do I ſerve thee, neither tranſgreſſed I at any time thy commandment, and yet thou never gaveſt me a kid, that I might make merry with my friends:

30 But aſſoon as this thy ſonne was come, which hath devoured thy living with harlots, thou haſt killed for him the fatted calf.

31 And he ſaid unto him, Sonne, thou art ever with me, and all that I have is thine.

32 It was meet that we ſhould make merry, and be glad: for this thy brother was dead, and is alive again; and was loſt, and is found.

Chap. XVI.

1 The parable of the unjuſt ſteward. 14 Chriſt reproveth the hypocriſie of the covetous Phariſees. 19 The rich glutton, and Lazarus the begger.

1 Seeing that men oftentimes purchaſe friendſhip to themſelves, by other mens coſts, it is ſhame for us, if with a free and liberall beſtowing of the goods which the Lord hath given us, to that purpoſe we do not pleaſe him, nor procure the good will of our neighbours, ſeeing that by this only means, riches, which are often times occaſions of ſinne, are turned to another end and purpoſe.

AND he ſaid alſo unto his diſciples, There was a certain rich man which had a ſteward, and the ſame was accuſed unto him that he had waſted his goods.

2 And he called him, and ſaid unto him, How is it that I heare this of thee? give an account of thy ſtewardſhip: for thou mayeſt be no longer ſteward.

3 Then the ſteward ſaid within himſelf, What ſhall I do? for my lord taketh away from me the ſtewardſhip: I cannot dig, to beg I am aſhamed.

4 I am reſolved what to do, that when I am put out of the ſtewardſhip, they may receive me into their houſes.

5 So he called every one of his lords debters unto him, and ſaid unto the firſt, How much oweſt thou unto my lord?

6 And he ſaid, An hundred [a] meaſures of oyl. And he ſaid unto him, Take thy bill, and ſit down quickly, and write fifty.

7 Then ſaid he to another, And how much oweſt thou? And he ſaid, An hundred [a] meaſures of wheat. And he ſaid to him, Take thy bill, and write foureſcore.

8 And the Lord [a] commended the unjuſt ſteward, becauſe he had done wiſely: for the [b] children of this world are in their generation wiſer than the children of light.

9 And I ſay unto you, Make to your ſelves friends of the ‡ Mammon of [c] unrighteouſneſſe, that when ye fail, they may receive you into everlaſting [d] habitations.

10 [2] He that is faithfull in that which is leaſt, is faithfull alſo in much: and he that is unjuſt in the leaſt, is unjuſt alſo in much.

11 If therefore ye have not been faithfull in the unrighteous ‡ Mammon, who will commit to your truſt the [e] true riches?

12 And if ye have not been faithfull in that which is [f] another mans, who ſhall give you that which is your own?

13 ¶ [3] * No ſervant can ſerve two maſters: for either he will hate the one and love the other, or elſe he will hold to the one and deſpiſe the other: ye cannot ſerve God and Mammon.

14 And the Phariſees alſo who were covetous, heard all theſe things, and they derided him.

15 [4] And he ſaid unto them, Ye are they which juſtifie your ſelves before men, but God knoweth your hearts: for that which is highly eſteemed amongſt men, is abomination in the ſight of God.

16 * [5] The law and the prophets were untill John: ſince that time the kingdome of God is preached, and every man preaſſeth into it.

17 † And it is eaſier for heaven and earth to paſſe, than one tittle of the law to fail.

18 * Whoſoever putteth away his wife, and marrieth another, committeth adultery: and whoſoever marrieth her that is [g] put away from her husband, committeth adultery.

19 ¶ [6] There was a certain rich man, which was clothed in [h] purple and fine linnen, and fared ſumptuouſly every day.

20 And there was a certain begger named Lazarus, which was laid at his gate, full of ſores, 21 And deſiring to be fed with the crumbes which fell from the rich mans table: moreover, the dogs came and licked his ſores.

22 And it came to paſſe that the begger died, and was carried by the angels into Abrahams boſome: the rich man alſo died and was buried.

23 And in hell he lift up his [i] eyes being in torments, and ſeeth Abraham afarre off, and Lazarus in his boſome.

24 And he cried, and ſaid, Father Abraham, have mercy on me, and ſend Lazarus that he may dip the tip of his finger in water and cool my tongue, for I am tormented in this flame.

25 But Abraham ſaid, Sonne, remember that thou in thy life-time receiveſt thy good things, and likewiſe Lazarus evil things, but now he is comforted, and thou art tormented.

26 And beſides all this, between us and you there is a great gulf fixed, ſo that they which would paſſe from hence to you, cannot, neither can they paſſe to us, that would come from thence.

27 [7] Then he ſaid, I pray thee therefore father, that thou wouldeſt ſend him to my fathers houſe:

28 For I have five brethren; that he may teſtifie unto them, leſt they alſo come into this place of torment.

29 Abraham ſaith unto him, They have Moſes and the prophets, let them heare them.

[a] The word Batus in the originall, containeth nine gallons three quarts.
[a] The word here interpreted a meaſure, in the originall containeth about fourteen bushels and a pottle.
a This parable doth not approve the ſtewards naughty dealing, for it was very theft: but parables are ſet forth, to ſhew a thing covertly, and as it were, under a figure to repreſent the trueth, though it agree not throughly with the matter it ſelf ſo that Chriſt meaneth by this parable, to teach us, that worldly men are more heedie in the affairs of this world, than the children of God are carefull for everlaſting life. b Men that are given to this preſent life, contrary to whom the children of light are ſet. S. Paul calleth theſe ſpirituall, and the other carnall. ‡ Or, riches. c This is not ſpoken of goods that are evil gotten, for God will have our bountifulneſſe to the poore, proceed and come from a good fountain: but he calleth thoſe riches of iniquitie, which men uſe naughtily. d To wit, the poor Chriſtians: for they are the inheritours of theſe tabernacles, Theoph. 2 We ought to take heed, that for abuſing our earthly function and dutie we be not deprived of heavenly gifts: for how can they uſe ſpirituall gifts aright, who abuſe worldly things?

e That is, heavenly and true riches: which are contrary to worldly and flitting ſubſtance. ‡ Or, riches.
f In worldly goods, which are called other mens, becauſe they are committed to our credit.
3 No man can love God and riches together. * Matth. 7, 24.

4 Our ſinnes are not hidden to God, although they be hidden to men, yea although they be hidden to them, whoſe ſinnes they are. * Matth. 11, 12.
5 The Phariſees deſpiſed the excellencie of the new covenant, in reſpect of the old, being ignorant of the perfect righteouſneſſe of the law, and how falſe expounders they were of the law, Chriſt declareth by the ſeventh commandement. * Matth. 5, 18.
* Matth. 5, 32.
g They that gather by this place, that a man cannot be married again after that he hath put away his wife for adulterie, while ſhe liveth, reaſon fondly: for Chriſt ſpeaketh of thoſe divorces, which the Jews uſed, of which ſort we cannot take the divorcement for adulterie, for adulterers were put to death by the law.
6 The end of the povertie and miſerie of the godly ſhall be everlaſting joy: as the end of the riotouſneſſe and cruel pride of the rich ſhall be everlaſting miſerie, without all hope of mercy.
h Very gorgeouſly and ſumptuouſly, for purple garments were coſtly, and this fine linnen, which was a kinde of linnen that came out of Achaia, was as deare as gold.
i Heavenly and ſpirituall things are expreſſed, and ſet forth under colours and reſemblances fit for our ſenſes.

7 Seeing that we have a moſt ſure rule to live by, laid forth unto us in the word of God, raſhly and vainly do men ſeek for other revelations.

70

30 And he ſaid, Nay, father Abraham: but if one went unto them from the dead, they will repent.

31 And he ſaid unto him, If they heare not Moſes and the prophets, neither will they be perſwaded, though one roſe from the dead.

CHAP. XVII.

1 Chriſt teacheth to avoid occaſions of offence. 3 One to forgive another. 6 The power of faith. 7 How we are bound to God, and not he to us. 11 He healeth ten lepers. 22 Of the kingdome of God, and the coming of the Sonne of man.

THen ſaid he unto the diſciples,* [1] It is impoſſible but that offences will come, but wo unto him through whom they come.

* Matth. 18, 7.
1 The church is of neceſſitie ſubject to offences, but the Lord will not ſuffer them unpunished, if any of the leaſt be offended.

2 It were better for him that a milſtone were hanged about his neck, and he caſt into the ſea, than that he ſhould offend one of theſe little ones.

3 ¶ [2] Take heed to your ſelves: * if thy brother treſpaſſe againſt thee, rebuke him; and if he repent, forgive him.

2 Our reprehenſions muſt be juſt, and proceed of love and charitie.
* Matth. 18, 21.

4 And if he treſpaſſe againſt thee ſeven times in a day, and ſeven times in a day turn again to thee, ſaying, I repent; thou ſhalt forgive him.

5 [3] And the apoſtles ſaid unto the Lord, Increaſe our faith.

3 God will never be utterly lacking to the godly (although he be not ſo perfectly with them, as they would) even in thoſe difficulties, which cannot be overcome by mans reaſon.

6 * And the Lord ſaid, If ye had faith as a [a] grain of muſtard-ſeed, ye might ſay unto this ſycamine-tree, Be thou plucked up by the root, and be thou planted in the ſea, and it ſhould obey you.

* Matth. 17, 20.
a If you had no more faith, but the quantity of the grain of muſtardſeed.

7 * But which of you having a ſervant plowing, or feeding cattel, will ſay unto him by and by, when he is come from the field, Go and ſit down to meat?

4 Seeing that God may challenge unto himſelf of right, both us and all that is ours, he can be debtour unto us for nothing, although we labour manfully even unto death.

8 And will not rather ſay unto him, Make ready wherewith I may ſup, and gird thy ſelf, and ſerve me, till I have eaten and drunken: and afterward thou ſhalt eat and drink.

9 Doth he thank that ſervant becauſe he did the things that were commanded him? I trow not.

5 The moſt perfect keeping of the law which we can perform, deſerveth no reward.

10 [5] So likewiſe ye, when ye ſhall have done all thoſe things which are commanded you, ſay, We are unprofitable ſervants: we have done that which was our duty to do.

6 Chriſt doth well even unto ſuch as will be unthankfull, but the benefits of God profit them onely to ſalvation, which are thankfull.

11 ¶ [6] And it came to paſſe, as he went to Jeruſalem, that he paſſed through the midſt of Samaria and Galilee.

12 And as he entred into a certain village, there met him ten men that were lepers, which ſtood afarre off:

13 And they lifted up their voices, and ſaid, Jeſus maſter have mercy on us.

14 And when he ſaw them, he ſaid unto them, * Go ſhew your ſelves unto the prieſts. And it came to paſſe that as they went, they were cleanſed.

* Lev. 14, 2.

15 And one of them when he ſaw that he was healed, turned back, and with a loud voice glorified God.

16 And fell down on his face at his feet giving him thanks: and he was a Samaritane.

17 And Jeſus anſwering ſaid, Were there not ten cleanſed? but where are the nine?

18 There are not found that returned to give glory to God, ſave this ſtranger.

19 And he ſaid unto him, Ariſe, go thy way, thy faith hath made thee whole.

20 ¶ [7] And when he was demanded of the Phariſees, when the kingdome of God ſhould come; he anſwered them and ſaid, The kingdome of God cometh not ‡ with [b] obſervation.

7 The kingdome of God is not marked of many, although it be moſt preſent before their eyes: becauſe they fondly perſwade themſelves, that it is joyned with outward pomp.
‡ Or, with outward ſhew.
b With any outward pomp and ſhew of majeſtie, to be known by: for there were otherwiſe many plain and evident tokens whereby men might have underſtood, that Chriſt was the Meſſias, whoſe kingdome was ſo long looked for: but he ſpeaketh in this place of thoſe ſignes which the phariſees dreamed of, wich looked for an earthly kingdome of Meſſias.

21 Neither ſhall they ſay, Lo here, or lo there: for behold, the kingdome of God is ‡ [c] within you.

‡ Or, among you.
c You look about for Meſſias, as though he were abſent, but he is amongſt you in the midſt of you.

22 [8] And he ſaid unto the diſciples, The dayes will come when ye ſhall deſire to ſee [d] one of the dayes of the Sonne of man, and ye ſhall not ſee it.

8 We oftentimes neglect thoſe things when they be preſent, which we afterward deſire when they are gone, but in vain.
d The time will come, that you ſhall ſeek for the Sonne of man with great ſorrow of heart, and ſhall not finde him.

23 * [9] And they ſhall ſay to you, See here, or ſee there: go not after them, nor follow them.

* Matth. 24, 23.
9 Chriſt forewarneth us, that falſe Chriſts ſhall come, and that his glory ſhall ſuddenly be ſpread farre and wide through the world, after that the ignominie of the croſſe is put out and extinguished.

24 For as the lightning that lightneth out of the one part under heaven, ſhineth unto the other part under heaven: ſo ſhall alſo the Sonne of man be in his day.

25 But firſt muſt he ſuffer many things, and be rejected of this generation.

26 * [10] And as it was in the dayes of Noe; ſo ſhall it be alſo in the dayes of the Sonne of man.

* Gen. 7, 5.
10 The world ſhall be taken unaware with the ſudden judgement of God: and therefore the faithfull ought to watch continually.

27 They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, uutill the day that Noe entred into the ark: and the floud came and deſtroyed them all.

28 * Likewiſe alſo as it was in the dayes of Lot, they did eat, they drank, they bought, they ſold, they planted, they builded:

* Gen. 19.

29 But the ſame day that Lot went out of Sodom, it rained fire and brimſtone from heaven, and deſtroyed them all:

30 Even thus ſhall it be in the day when the Sonne of man is revealed.

31 [11] In that day, he which ſhall be upon the houſe top, and his ſtuff in the houſe, let him not come down to take it away, and he that is in the field, let him likewiſe not return back.

11 We muſt take good heed, that neither diſtruſt, nor the enticements of this world, nor any reſpect of friendſhip hinder us the leaſt that may be.

32 * Remember Lots wife.

* Gen. 19, 26.

33 * Whoſoever ſhall ſeek to ſave his life, ſhall loſe it; and whoſoever ſhall loſe his life, ſhall [e] preſerve it.

* Matth. 16, 25.
e That is, ſhall ſave it, ſo Matthew expoundeth it: for the life that is here ſpoken of, is everlaſting ſalvation.

34 * I tell you, in that night there ſhall be two men in one bed; the one ſhall be taken, the other ſhall be left.

* Matth. 24, 40.

35 Two women ſhall be grinding together; the one ſhall be taken, and the other left.

36 " Two men ſhall be in the field; the one ſhall be taken, and the other left.

" This 36 verſe is wanting in moſt of the Greek copies.

37 [12] And they anſwered and ſaid unto him, * Where, Lord? And he ſaid unto them, Whereſoever the body is, thither will the eagles be gathered together.

12 The onely way to continue, is to cleave to Chriſt.

CHAP. XVIII.

3 Of the importunate widow. 9 Of the Pharisee and the publicane. 15 Children brought to Christ. 18 A ruler that would follow Christ, but is hindered by his riches. 28 The reward of them, that leave all for his sake. 31 He foresheweth his death, 35 and restoreth a blinde man to his sight.

1 God will have us to continue in prayer, not to wearie us, but to exercise us, therefore we must so strive with impatience, that long delay cause us not to break off the course of our prayers.

AND [1] he spake a parable unto them, to this end, that men ought * alwayes to pray, and not to [a] faint,

2 Saying, [b] There was in a city a judge which feared not God, neither regarded man.

3 And there was a widow in that city, and she came unto him, saying, Avenge me of mine adversary.

4 And he would not for a while: but afterward he said within himself, Though I fear not God, nor regard man,

5 Yet because this widow troubleth me, I will avenge her, lest by her continuall coming she [c] weary me.

6 And the Lord said, Heare what the unjust judge saith.

7 And shall not God avenge his own elect, which cry day and night unto him, though he [d] bear long with them?

8 I tell you that he will avenge them speedily, Nevertheless, when the Sonne of man cometh, shall he finde faith on the earth?

9 [2] And he spake this parable unto certain which trusted in themselves ‡ that they were righteous, and despised others:

10 Two men went up into the temple to pray, the one a Pharisee, and the other a publicane.

11 [3] The Pharisee stood and prayed thus with himself, God I thank thee, that I am not as other men are, extortioners, unjust, adulterers, or even as this publicane.

12 I fast twice in the week, I give tithes of all that I possesse.

13 And the publicane standing [e] afarre off, would not lift up so much as his eyes unto heaven, but smote upon his breast, saying, God be mercifull to me a sinner.

14 I tell you, this man went down to his house justified rather than the other: * for every one that exalteth himself, shall be abased; and he that humbleth himself, shall be exalted.

15 [f] And they brought unto him also infants, that he would touch them: but when his disciples saw it, [4] they rebuked them.

16 [5] But Jesus [g] called them unto him, and said, Suffer little children to come unto me, and forbid them not? for of such is the kingdome of God.

17 [6] Verily I say unto you, Whosoever shall not receive the kingdome of God as a little childe, shall in no wise enter therein.

18 * And a certain ruler asked him, saying, Good Master, what shall I do to inherit eternall life?

19 And Jesus said unto him, Why callest thou me good? none is good save one that is, God.

20 Thou knowest the commandments, Do not commit adultery, Do not kill, Do not steal, Do not bear false witnesse, Honour thy father and thy mother.

21 [7] And he said, All these have I kept from my youth up.

22 Now when Jesus heard these things, he said unto him, Yet lackest thou one thing: sell all that thou hast, and distribute unto the poore, and thou shalt have treasure in heaven, and come, follow me.

23 And when he heard this, he was very sorrowfull, for he was very rich.

24 [8] And when Jesus saw that he was very sorrowfull, he said, How hardly shall they that have riches enter into the kingdome of God!

25 For it is easier for a camel to go through a needles eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdome of God.

26 And they that heard it, said, Who then can be saved?

27 And he said, The things which are unpossible with men, are possible with God.

28 * Then Peter said, Lo, we have left all, and followed thee.

29 [9] And he said unto them, Verily I say unto you, there is no man that hath left house, or parents, or brethren, or wife, or children for the kingdome of Gods sake, 30 Who shall not receive manifold more in this present time, and in the world to come life everlasting.

31 ¶ [10] * Then he took unto him the twelve, and said unto them, Behold, we go up to Jerusalem, and all things that are written by the prophets concerning the Sonne of man shall be accomplished.

32 For he shall be delivered unto the Gentiles, and shall be mocked, and spitefully entreated and spitted on:

33 And they shall scourge him, and put him to death, and the third day he shall rise again.

34 And they understood [h] none of these things: and this saying was hid from them, neither knew they the things which were spoken.

35 ¶ * [11] And it came to passe, that as he was come nigh unto Jericho, a certain blinde man sat by the way side begging:

36 And hearing the multitude passe by, he asked what it meant.

37 And they told him, that Jesus of Nazareth passeth by.

38 And he cried, saying, Jesus, thou sonne of David, have mercie on me.

39 [12] And they which went before, rebuked him, that he should hold his peace: but he cried so much the more, Thou Sonne of David have mercie on me.

40 And Jesus stood and commanded him to be brought unto him: and when he was come neare, he asked him, 41 Saying, What wilt thou that I shall do unto thee? And he said, Lord, that I may receive my sight.

42 And Jesus said unto him, Receive thy sight, thy faith hath saved thee.

43 And a Yeeld to afflictions and adversities, as they doe which are out of heart.

b He doeth not compare things that are equall together, but the lesse with the greater: If a man get his right at a most unrighteous judges hands, much more shall the prayers of the godly prevail before God.

c Word for word, Beat me down with her blows, and it is a metaphor taken of wrestlers, which beat their adversaries with their fists or clubs: so doe they that are importunate, beat the judges eares with their crying out, even as it were with blows.

d Though he seem slow in revenging the injuries done to his.

2 Two things especially make our prayers void and of none effect: confidence of our own righteousnes, and the contempt of others: and an humble heart is contrary to both these.

‡ Or, as being righteous.

3 Although we confesse that whatsoever we have, we have it of God, yet are we despised of God, as proud and arrogant, if we put never so little trust in our own works before God.

e Farre from the Pharisee in a lower place.

* Matth. 23, 12.

f The children were tender and young, in that they were brought, which appeareth more evidently in that that they were infants: which is to be marked against them that are enemies to the baptizing of children.

4 To judge or think of Christ after the reason of the flesh, is the cause of infinite corruptions.

5 The children also of the faithfull are comprehended in the free covenant of God.

g Them that carried the children, whom the disciples drove away.

6 Childe-like innocencie is an ornament of Christians.

* Matth. 19, 16.

7 The intisement of riches carrieth away many from the right way.

8 To be both rich and godly, is a singular gift of God.

* Matth. 19, 27.

9 They become the richest of all, which refuse not to be poore for Christs sake.

* Matth. 20, 17.

10 As sure and certain as persecution is, so sure is the glory which remaineth for the conquerours.

h Hereby we see how ignorant the disciples were.

* Matth. 20, 29.

11 Christ sheweth by a visible miracle, that he is the light of the world.

12 The more stops and lets that Satan layeth in our way, even by them which professe Christs name, so much the more ought we to go forward.

72

43 And immediately he received his ſight, and followed him, glorifying God: and all the people when they ſaw it, gave praiſe unto God.

CHAP. XIX.

1 Of Zaccheus a publicane. 11 The ten pieces of money. 28 Chriſt rideth into Jeruſalem with triumph: 41 weepeth over it: 45 driveth the buyers and ſellers out of the temple: 47 teaching daily in it. The rulers would have deſtroyed him, but for fear of the people.

1 Chriſt preventeth them with his grace eſpecially, which ſeemed to be furtheſt from it.

AND [1] Jeſus entred and paſſed through Jericho.

2 And behold, there was a man named Zaccheus, which was the [a] chief among the publicanes, and he was rich.

a The overſeer and head of the Publicanes, which were there together: for the Publicanes were divided into companies as we may gather by many places of Cicero his Oration.

3 And he ſought to ſee Jeſus who he was, and could not for the preaſſe, becauſe he was little of ſtature.

4 And he ran before, and climbed up into a ſycomore-tree to ſee him; for he was to paſſe that way.

5 And when Jeſus came to the place, he looked up and ſaw him, and ſaid unto him, Zaccheus, make haſte, and come down; for to day I muſt abide at thy houſe.

6 And he made haſte and came down, and received him joyfully.

2 The world forſaketh the grace of God, and yet is unwilling that it ſhould be beſtowed upon other.

7 [2] And when they ſaw it, they all murmured, ſaying, That he was gone to be gueſt with a man that is a ſinner.

3 The example of true repentance, is known by the effect.

8 [3] And Zaccheus ſtood, and ſaid unto the Lord, Behold, Lord, the half of my goods I give to the poore, and if I have taken any thing from any man by [b] falſe accuſation, I reſtore him fourefold.

b By falſly accuſing any man: and this agreeth moſt fitly to the maſter of the cuſtomers perſon: for commonly they have this trade among them, when they rob and ſpoil the common-weal, they have nothing in their mouthes, but the profit of the common-weal, and under that colour they play the theeves, inſomuch that if men reprove and go about, to redreſſe their robberie, and ſpoiling, they cry out, the common-weal is hindred.

9 And Jeſus ſaid unto him, This day is ſalvation come to this houſe, forſomuch as he alſo is the [c] ſonne of Abraham.

c Beloved of God, one that walketh in the ſteps of Abrahams faith: and we gather that ſalvation came to that houſe, becauſe they received the bleſſing as Abraham had, for all of the houſhold were circumciſed.

10 * For the Sonne of man is come to ſeek and to ſave that which was loſt.

* Matth. 18, 11.

11 [4] And as they heard theſe things, he added, and ſpake a parable, becauſe he was nigh to Jeruſalem, and becauſe they thought that the kingdome of God ſhould immediately appear.

4 We muſt patiently wait for the judgement of God, which ſhall be revealed in his time.

12 * He ſaid therefore, A certain noble man went into a farre countrey to receive for himſelf a kingdome, and to return.

* Matth. 25, 14.

13 [5] And he called his ten ſervants, and delivered them ten " pounds, and ſaid unto them, Occupy till I come.

5 There are three ſorts of men in the church: the one ſort fall from Chriſt, whom they ſee not: the other, which according to their vocation, beſtow the gifts which they have received of God, to his glory with great pains and diligence: the third live idlely, and do no good. As for the firſt, the Lord, when he cometh, will juſtly punish them in his time: the other he will bleſſe according to the pains which they have taken: and as for the ſlouthfull and idle perſons, he will punish them as the firſt.

14 But his citizens hated him, and ſent a meſſage after him, ſaying, We will not have this man to reigne over us.

15 And it came to paſſe, that when he was returned, having received the kingdome, then he commanded theſe ſervants to be called unto him, to whom he had given the money, that he might know how much every man had gained by trading.

16 Then came the firſt, ſaying, Lord, thy [d] pound hath gained ten pounds.

17 And he ſaid unto him, Well, thou good ſervant: becauſe thou haſt been faithfull in a very little, have thou authoritie over ten cities.

18 And the ſecond came, ſaying, Lord, thy pound hath gained five pounds.

19 And he ſaid likewiſe to him, Be thou alſo over five cities.

20 [6] And another came, ſaying, Lord, behold, here is thy pound which I have kept laid up in a napkin:

6 Againſt them which ſpend their life idlely in deliberating, and otherwiſe, in contemplation.

21 For I feared thee, becauſe thou art an auſtere man: thou takeſt up that thou layedſt not down, and reapeſt that thou didſt not ſow.

22 And he ſaith unto him, Out of thine own mouth will I judge thee, thou wicked ſervant: thou kneweſt that I was an auſtere man, taking up that I laid not down, and reaping that I did not ſow.

23 Wherefore then gaveſt not thou my money into the [e] bank, that at my coming I might have required mine own with uſurie?

e To the bankers and changers.

24 And he ſaith unto them that ſtood by, Take from him the pound, and give it to him that hath ten pounds.

25 (And they ſaid unto him, Lord, he hath ten pounds)

26 For I ſay unto you, * That unto every one which hath, ſhall be given; and from him that hath not, even that he hath ſhall be taken away from him.

* Matth. 13, 12.

27 But thoſe mine enemies which would not that I ſhould reigne over them, bring hither, and ſlay them before me.

28 ¶ And when he had thus ſpoken, he went [f] before, aſcending up to Jeruſalem.

f The diſciples ſtaggered and ſtayed at the matter, but Chriſt goeth on boldly, though death were before his eyes.

29 * [7] And it came to paſſe when he was come nigh to Bethphage and Bethany, at the mount called the mount of Olives, he ſent two of his diſciples,

* Matth. 21, 1.

7 Chriſt ſheweth in his own perſon, that his kingdome is not of this world.

30 Saying, Go ye into the village over againſt you, in the which at your entring ye ſhall finde a colt tied, whereon yet never man ſat: looſe him, and bring him hither.

31 And if any man ask you, Why do ye looſe him? thus ſhall ye ſay unto him, Becauſe the Lord hath need of him.

32 And they that were ſent, went their way, and found even as he had ſaid unto them.

33 And as they were looſing the colt, the owners thereof ſaid unto them, Why looſe ye the colt?

34 And they ſaid, The Lord hath need of him.

35 And they brought him to Jeſus: and they caſt their garments upon the colt, and they ſet Jeſus thereon.

36 And as he went, they ſpread their cloathes in the way.

37 And when he was come nigh, even now at the deſcent of the mount of Olives, the whole multitude of the diſciples began to rejoyce and praiſe God with a loud voice, for all the mighty works that they had ſeen, 38 Saying, Bleſſed be the King that cometh in the name of the Lord, peace in heaven, and glory in the higheſt.

" Mina here tranſlated a pound, is 12 ounces and an half: which according to five ſhillings the ounce, is three pounds two ſhillings ſix pence. d This was a piece of money which the Grecians uſed, and was in value about an hundred pence, which is about ten crowns.

39 [8] And

39 [g] And some of the Pharisees from among the multitude, said unto him, Master, rebuke thy disciples.

40 And he answered and said unto them, I tell you, that if these should hold their peace, the stones would immediately cry out.

41 ¶ [g] And when he was come neare, he beheld the city, and wept over it, 42 [g] Saying, [h] if thou hadst known, even thou, [i] at least in this [k] thy day, the things which belong unto thy [l] peace! but now they are hid from thine eyes.

43 For the dayes shall come upon thee, that thine enemies shall cast a trench about thee, and compasse thee round, and keep thee in on every side, 44 And shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy children within thee: and they shall not leave in thee one stone upon another, because thou knewest not the time of [m] thy visitation.

45 * [10] And he went into the temple, and began to cast out them that sold therein, and them that bought,

46 Saying unto them, It is written, My house is the house of prayer: but ye have made it a den of theeves.

47 And he taught daily in the temple. But the chief priests and the Scribes, and the chief of the people sought to destroy him, 48 And could not finde what they might do: for all the people ‡ were very attentive to heare him.

g When they linger which ought to be the chiefest preachers and sters forth of the kingdome of God he will raise up other extraordinarily in despight of them.

g Christ is not simply delighted with the destruction, no not of the wicked.

g Christ breaketh off his speech, which sheweth partly how he was moved with compassion for the destruction of the citie, that was like to ensue: and partly to upbraid them for their treachery and stubbornesse against him, such as hath not lightly been heard of.

h At least wise thou, O Ierusalem to whom this message was properly sent.

i If after the slaying of so many prophets, and so oft refusing me the Lord of the prophets now especially, in this my last coming to thee, thou hadst had any regard to thy self.

k The fit and commodious time is called the day of this citie.

l That is, those things wherein thy happinesse standeth

m That is, this very instant, wherein God visited thee.

* Matth. 21, 12.

10 Christ sheweth after his entry into Ierusalem by a visible signe, that it is his office enjoyned him of his Father to purge the temple.

1 Christ avoucheth his authority, by a question of Iohns baptisme. 9 The parable of the vineyard. 19 Of giving tribute to Cesar. 27 He convinceth the Sadduces that denied the resurrection. 41 How Christ is the sonne of David. 55 He warneth his disciples to beware of the Scribes.

* Matth. 21, 23.

AND * [1] it came to passe, that on one of those dayes, as he taught the people in the temple, and preached the gospel, the chief priests and the Scribes came upon him, with the elders,

1 The Pharisees being overcome with the trueth of Christs doctrine, move a question about his outward calling, and are overcome by the witnesse of their own conscience.

2 And spake unto him, saying, Tell us, By what authority doest thou these things? or who is he that gave thee this authoritie?

3 And he answered and said unto them, I will also ask you one thing, and answer me.

4 The baptisme of John, was it from heaven, or of men?

5 And they reasoned with themselves, saying, If we shall say, From heaven; he will say, Why then beleeved ye him not?

6 But and if we say, Of men; all the people will stone us: for they be perswaded that John was a prophet,

7 And they answered, that they could not tell whence it was.

8 And Jesus said unto them, Neither tell I you by what authoritie I do these things.

2 It is no new thing to have them the chiefest enemies of Christ and his servants, which are conversant in the very sanctuary of Gods holy place, but at length they shall not escape unpunished.

9 [2] Then began he to speak to the people this parable: * A certain man planted a vineyard,

* Matth. 21, 33.

and let it forth to husbandmen, and went into a farre countrey for a long time.

10 And at the season, he sent a servant to the husbandmen, that they should give him of the fruit of the vineyard: but the husbandmen beat him and sent him away empty.

11 And again he sent another servant; and they beat him also and entreated him shamefully, and sent him away empty.

12 And again he sent the third, and they wounded him also, and cast him out.

13 Then said the lord of the vineyard, What shall I do? I will send my beloved sonne: it may be they will reverence him when they see him.

14 But when the husbandmen saw him, they reasoned among themselves, saying, This is the heir, come, let us kill him, that the inheritance may be ours.

15 So they cast him out of the vineyard, and killed him. What therefore shall the Lord of the vineyard do unto them?

16 He shall come and destroy these husbandmen, and shall give the vineyard to others. And when they heard it, they said, God forbid.

17 And he beheld them, and said, What is this then that is written, * The stone which the builders rejected, the same is become the head of the corner?

* Psal. 118, 22.

18 Whosoever shall fall upon that stone, shall be broken: but on whomsoever it shall fall, it will grinde him to powder.

19 ¶ And the chief priests and the Scribes the same houre sought to lay hands on him, and they feared the people: for they perceived that he had spoken this parable against them.

20 [3] And they [a] watched him, and sent forth [b] spies, which would feigne themselves just men, that they might take hold of his [c] words, that so they might deliver him unto the power and [d] authority of the governour.

3 The last refuge that false prophets have to destroy the true prophets is to lay sedition and treason to their charge.

a A fit time to take him in.

b Whom they had deceitfully hired.

c That they might take some hold in his talk, and thereby forge some false accusation against him.

d To put him to death.

21 And they asked him, saying, * Master, we know that thou sayest and teachest rightly, neither [e] accepteſt thou the person of any, but teachest the way of God ‡ truly.

* Matth. 22, 16.

e Thou art not moved by favour of any man: and by person he meaneth outward circumstances, which if a man have respect unto, he will not judge alike of them that are indeed alike

22 Is it lawfull for us to give tribute unto Cesar, or no?

23 But he perceived their [f] craftinesse, and said unto them, Why tempt ye me?

‡ Or, of a truth.

f Craftinesse is a certain diligence and wittinesse to do evil, gotten by much use and great practise in matters 24 Shew me a ‡ peny: whose image and superscription hath it? They answered and said, Cesars.

‡ See Matth 18. 28.

25 And he said unto them, Render therefore unto Cesar the things which be Cesars, and unto God the things which be Gods.

26 And they could not take hold of his words before the people, and they marvelled at his answer, and held their peace.

27 ¶ * [4] Then came to him certain of the Sadduces (which deny that there is any resurrection) and they asked him.

* Matth. 22, 23.

4 The resurrection of the flesh is avouched against the Sadduces.

28 Saying, Master, Moses wrote unto us, If any mans brother die, having a wife, and he die without children, that his brother should take his wife, & raise up seed unto his brother.

74

29 There were therefore seven brethren, and the first took a wife, and died without children.

30 And the second took her to wife, and he died childlesse.

31 And the third took her, and in like manner the seven also. And they left no children, and died.

32 Last of all the woman died also.

33 Therefore in the resurrection, whose wife of them is she? for seven had her to wife.

34 And Jesus answering said unto them, The [g] children of this world marry, and are given in marriage:

35 But they which shall be accounted worthy to obtain that world, and the resurrection from the dead, neither marry, nor are given in marriage.

36 Neither can they die any more; for they are equall unto the angels, and are the children of God, being the [h] children of the resurrection.

37 Now that the dead are raised, * even Moses shewed at the bush, when he calleth the Lord the God of Abraham, and the God of Isaac, and the God of Jacob.

38 For he is not a God of the dead, but of the living; [i] for all live unto him.

39 ¶ Then certain of the Scribes answering, said, Master, thou hast well said.

40 And after that, they durst not ask him any question at all.

41 [5] And he said unto them, * How say they that Christ is Davids sonne?

42 And David himself saith in the book of psalmes, The LORD said unto my Lord, Sit thou on my right hand, 43 Till I make thine enemies thy footstool.

44 David therefore calleth him Lord, how is he then his sonne?

45 ¶ Then in the audience of all the people, he said unto his disciples, 46 * [6] Beware of the Scribes, which desire to walk in long robes, and love greetings in the markets, and the highest seats in the synagogues, and the chief rooms at feasts.

47 Which devoure widows [k] houses, and for a shew make long prayers: the same shall receive greater damnation.

[g] They are called here in this place, The children of this world, which live in this world: and not they, that wholly are given to the world, as before Chap 16,8. which are contrary to the children of light.

[h] That is, men partakers of the resurrection: for as we say truly, that they shall live indeed, which shall enjoy everlasting blisse so do they rise to life, though if this word resurrection be taken generally, it belongeth also to the wicked, which shall rise to condemnation, which is not properly life, but death.

* Exod. 3, 6.

[i] That is, before him: a notable saying, the godly do not die, though they die here on earth.

[5] Christ is so the sonne of David, according to the flesh, that he is also his Lord (because he is the everlasting Sonne of God) according to the spirit.

* Matth. 22, 42.

* Matth. 23, 5.

[6] We must avoid the example of the ambitious and covetous pastours.

[k] This is spoken by the figure Metonymia, houses, for the goods and substance.

CHAP. XXI

1 Christ commendeth the poore widow. 5 He foretelleth the destruction of the temple, and of the city Ierusalem: 25 The signes also which shall be before the last day. 34 He exhorteth them to be watchfull.

AND [1] he looked up, * and saw the rich men casting their gifts into the treasury.

2 And he saw also a certain poore widow, casting in thither two † mites.

3 And he said, Of a truth I say unto you, that this poore widow hath cast in more than they all.

4 For all these have of their abundance cast in unto the offerings of God, but she of her penury hath cast in all the living that she had.

[1] The poore may exceed in bounty, and liberalitie, even the richest, according to Gods judgement.

* Mark. 12, 41.

† See Mark 12, 42.

5 ¶ * [2] And as some spake of the temple, how it [a] was adorned with goodly stones, and gifts, he said,

* Matth. 24, 1.

[2] The destruction of the temple is foretold, that that true spirituall building may be built up whose head builders must, and ought, to be circumspect.

[a] These were things that were hanged upon walls and pillars.

6 As for these things which ye behold, the dayes will come, in the which there shall not be left one stone upon another, that shall not be thrown down.

7 And they asked him, saying, Master, but when shall these things be? and what signe will there be when these things shall come to passe?

8 And he said, Take heed that ye be not deceived: for many shall come [b] in my name, saying, I am Christ, and the time draweth neare: go ye not therefore after them.

[b] Using my name.

9 [3] But when ye shall heare of warres, and commotions, be not terrified: for these things must first come to passe, but the end is not by and by.

[3] The true temple of God is built up even in the midst of incredible tumults, and most sharp miseries, through invincible patience, so that the end thereof cannot be but most happie.

10 * Then said he unto them, Nation shall rise against nation, and kingdome against kingdome:

* Matth. 24, 7.

11 And great earthquakes shall be in divers places, and famines, and pestilences, and fearfull sights, and great signes shall there be from heaven.

12 But before all these they shall lay their hands on you, and persecute you, delivering you up to the synagogues, and into prisons, being brought before kings and rulers for my names sake.

13 And it shall turn to you for a [c] testimony.

[c] This shall be the end of your troubles and affliction, they shall be witnesses both before God and man, as well of the treacherous and cruel dealing of your enemies, as also of your constancie: A notable saying, that the afflictions of the godly and holy men pertain to the witnesse of the truth.

14 * Settle it therefore in your hearts, not to meditate before, what ye shall answer.

* Matth. 10, 19.

15 For I will give you a mouth and wisdome, which all your adversaries shall not be able to gainsay, nor resist.

16 And ye shall be betrayed both by parents, and brethren, and kinsfolks, and friends; and some of you shall they cause to be put to death.

17 And ye shall be hated of all men for my names sake.

18 * But there shall not an hair of your head perish.

* Matth. 10, 30.

19 In your patience [d] possesse ye your souls.

[d] Though you are compassed about on all sides with many miseries, yet notwithstanding be valiant and courageous, and bear out these things manfully.

20 * [4] And when ye shall see Jerusalem compassed with armies, then know that the desolation thereof is nigh.

* Matth. 24, 15.

[4] The finall destruction of the whole city is foretold.

21 Then let them which are in Judea, flee to the mountains, and let them which are in the midst of it, depart out, and let not them that are in the countreys, enter thereinto.

22 For these be the dayes of vengeance, that all things which are written may be fulfilled.

23 But wo unto them that are with childe, and to them that give suck in those dayes; for there shall be great distresse in the land, and [e] wrath upon this people.

[e] By wrath those things are meant, which God sendeth when he is displeased.

24 And they shall fall by the [f] edge of the sword, and shall be led away captive into all nations, and Jerusalem shall be troden down of the Gentiles, untill the times of the Gentiles be fulfilled.

[f] Word for words Mouth: for the Hebrews call the edge of a sword, The mouth, because the edge biteth.

25 ¶ * [5] And

25 ¶ *[1] And there ſhall be ſignes in the ſunne, and in the moone, and in the ſtarres, and upon the earth diſtreſſe of nations, with perplexity, the ſea and the waves roaring,

26 [2] Mens hearts failing them for fear, and for looking after thoſe things which are coming on the earth; for the powers of heaven ſhall be ſhaken.

27 And then ſhall they ſee the Sonne of man coming in a cloud with power and great glory.

28 And when theſe things begin to come to paſſe, then look up, and lift up your heads; for your redemption draweth nigh.

29 [6] And he ſpake to them a parable, Behold the fig-tree, and all trees, 30 When they now ſhoot forth, ye ſee and know of your own ſelves, that ſummer is now nigh at hand.

31 So likewiſe ye, when ye ſee theſe things come to paſſe, know ye that the kingdome of God is nigh at hand.

32 Verily I ſay unto you, This generation ſhall not paſſe away, till all be fulfilled.

33 Heaven and earth ſhall paſſe away: but my words ſhall not paſſe away.

34 ¶ And take heed to your ſelves, leſt at any time your hearts be overcharged with ſurfeting, and drunkenneſſe, and cares of this life, and ſo that day come upon you unawares.

35 For as a ſnare ſhall it come on all [h] them that dwell on the face of the whole earth.

36 Watch ye therefore and pray alwayes, that ye may be accounted worthy to eſcape all theſe things that ſhall come to paſſe, and to [i] ſtand before the ſonne of man.

37 And in the day-time he was teaching in the temple, and at night he went out, and abode in the mount that is called the mount of Olives.

38 And all the people came early in the morning to him in the temple, for to heare him.

Chap. XXII.

1 The Iews conſpire againſt Chriſt. 3 Satan preparеth Iudas to betray him. 7 The apoſtles prepare the paſſeover. 19 Chriſt inſtituteth his holy ſupper: 21 covertly foretelleth of the traitour: 24 deboreth the reſt of his apoſtles from ambition: 32 aſſureth Peter his faith ſhould not fail, 34 and yet he ſhould deny him thrice, 39 He prayeth in the mount, and ſweateth blood: 47 is betrayed with a kiſſe: 50 he healeth Malchus eare. 54 He is thrice denied of Peter, 36 ſhamefully abuſed, 66 and confeſſeth himſelf to be the Sonne of God.

NOw * the [1] feaſt of unleavened bread drew nigh, which is called the paſſeover.

2 And the chief prieſts and Scribes ſought how they might kill him; for they feared the people.

3 ¶ * [2] Then entred Satan into Judas ſurnamed Iſcariot, being of the number of the twelve.

4 And he went his way, and communed With the chief prieſts and [a] captains, how he might betray him unto them.

5 And they were glad, and covenanted to give him money.

6 And he promiſed, and ſought opportunity to betray him unto them in the [b] abſence of the multitude.

7 ¶ * [3] Then came the day of unleavened bread, when the paſſeover [c] muſt be killed.

8 And he ſent Peter and John, ſaying, Go and prepare us the [d] paſſeover, that we may eat.

9 And they ſaid unto him, Where wilt thou that we prepare?

10 And he ſaid unto them, Behold, when ye are entred into the city, there ſhall a man meet you, bearing a pitcher of water, follow him into the houſe where he entreth in.

11 And ye ſhall ſay unto the good man of the houſe, The Maſter ſaith unto thee, Where is the gueſt-chamber where I ſhall eat the paſſeover with my diſciples?

12 And he ſhall ſhew you a large upper room furniſhed, there make ready.

13 And they went and found as he had ſaid unto them: and they made ready the paſſeover.

14 * [4] And when the [e] houre was come, he ſat down, and the twelve apoſtles with him.

15 And he ſaid unto them, ‡ With deſire I have deſired to eat this paſſeover with you before I [f] ſuffer.

16 For I ſay unto you, I will not any more eat thereof, untill it be fulfilled in the kingdome of God.

17 And he took the cup, and gave thanks, and ſaid, Take this, and divide it among your ſelves.

18 For I ſay unto you, I will not drink of the fruit of the vine, untill the kingdome of God ſhall come.

19 ¶ * [5] And he took bread, and gave thanks and brake it, and gave unto them, ſaying, This is my body which is given for you, this do in remembrance of me.

20 Likewiſe alſo the cup after ſupper, ſaying, This [g] cup is [h] the new teſtament in my bloud, which is ſhed for you.

21 ¶ * [6] But behold, the [i] hand of him that betrayeth me, is with me on the table.

22 [7] And truly the Sonne of man goeth as it was determined, but wo unto that man by whom he is betrayed.

23 And they began to enquire among themſelves, which of them it was that ſhould do this thing.

24 ¶ [8] And there was alſo a ſtrife among them, which of them ſhould be accounted the greateſt.

25 * And he ſaid unto them, The kings of the Gentiles exerciſe lordſhip over them, and they that exerciſe authority upon them, are called [k] benefactours.

26 But ye ſhall not be ſo; but he that is greateſt among you, let him be as the younger;

* Matth. 24, 29. g When the times are expired, appointed for the ſalvation of the Gentiles, and puniſhment of the Gentiles, and puniſhment of the Iews. And ſo he paſſeth from the deſtruction of Jeruſalem, to the hiſtorie of the latter judgement.

1 After divers tempeſts, the Lord will at the length plainly, appear to deliver his church.

2 We muſt be ſober and watchfull both day and night for the Lords coming that we be not taken as unawares.

h On all men whereſoever they be.

i You may ſo appear, that you will abide the countenance and ſentence of the Iudge without feare.

* Matth. 26, 2.

1 Chriſt is taken upon the day of the paſſeover, rather by the providence of his Father, than by the will of men.

* Matth. 26, 14.

2 Godby his wonderfull providence cauſeth him to be the miniſter of our ſalvation who was the author of our deſtruction.

a They that had the charge of keeping the temple, which were none of the prieſts and biſhops, as appeareth by the 52 verſe of this chapter.

b Without tumult, unwitting to the people which uſed to follow him: and therefore indeed they watched their time, when they knew he was alone in the garden.

* Matth 26, 17.

3 Chriſt teacheth his diſciples by a manifeſt miracle, that although he be going to be crucified, yet nothing is hid from him: and therefore that he goeth willingly to death.

c By the order appointed by the law.

d The lambe which was the figure of the paſſeover; And this is ſpoken by the figure metonymia, which is very uſuall in the matter of the ſacraments.

* Matth. 26, 20.

4 Chriſt having ended the paſſeover according to the order of the law, forewarneth them that this ſhall be his laſt banket with them, after the manner and neceſſitie of this life.

e The evening and twilight, at what time this ſupper was to be kept.

‡ Or, I have heartily deſired.

f I am put to death.

* Matth. 26, 26.

5 Chriſt eſtabliſheth his new covenant, and his communicating with us with new ſignes.

g Here is a double metonymie: for firſt, The veſſel is taken for that which is contained in the veſſel, as the cup, for the wine which is within the cup. Then the wine is called the covenant or teſtament, whereas indeed it is but the ſigne of the teſtament, or rather of the bloud of Chriſt whereby the teſtament was made: neither is it a vain ſigne, although it be not all one with the thing that it repreſenteth.

h This word, The, ſheweth the excellencie of the teſtament, and anſwereth to the place of Ieremie, Chap. 31. 31. where the new teſtament is promiſed.

* Matth. 26, 21.

6 Chriſt ſheweth again that he goeth to death willingly, although he be not ignorant of Iudas treaſon. i That is, his practiſe, ſo uſe the Hebrews to ſpeak, as 2 Kings 14, 19: is not the hand of Ioab in this matter? 7 Although the decree of Gods providence come neceſſarily to paſſe, yet it excuſeth not the faulc of the inſtruments. 8 The paſtours are not called to rule, but to ſerve. * Matth. 10, 25. k Have great titles, for ſo it was the cuſtome to honour princes with ſome great titles.

ger; and he that is chief, as he that doth serve.
27 For whether is greater, he that sitteth at meat, or he that serveth? is not he that sitteth at meat? But I am among you as he that serveth.
28 [o] Ye are they which have continued with me in my temptations.
29 And I appoint unto you a kingdome, as my Father hath appointed unto me:
30 That ye may eat and drink at my table in my kingdome, *and sit on thrones, judging the twelve tribes of Israel.
31 [10] ¶ And the Lord said, Simon, Simon, behold, *Satan hath desired to have you, that he may [l] sift you as wheat:
32 [11] But I have prayed for thee, that thy faith fail not; and when thou art converted, strengthen thy brethren.
33 [12] And he said unto him, Lord, I am ready to go with thee both into prison, and to death.
34 *And he said, I tell thee Peter, the cock shall not crow this day, before that thou shalt thrice denie that thou knowest me.
35 * And he said unto them, When I sent you without purse, and scrip, and shoes, lacked ye any thing? And they said, Nothing.
36 [m] Then said he unto them, But now he that hath a purse, let him take it, and likewise his scrip: and he that hath no sword, let him sell his garment, and buy one.
37 For I say unto you, that this that is written, must yet be accomplished in me, *And he was reckoned among the transgressours: for the things concerning me have an end.
38 And they said, Lord, behold, here are two swords. And he said unto them, It is enough.
39 ¶ *And he came out, and went, as he was wont, to the mount of Olives, and his disciples also followed him.
40 * [13] And when he was at the place, he said unto them, Pray, that ye enter not into temptation.
41 [14] And he was withdrawn from them about a stones cast, and kneeled down, and prayed, 42 Saying, Father, if thou be willing, remove this cup from me: nevertheless, not my will, but thine be done.
43 And there appeared an angel unto him from heaven, strengthening him.
44 And being in an [n] agonie, he prayed more earnestly, and his sweat was as it were great [o] drops of bloud falling down to the ground.
45 And when he rose up from prayer, and was come to his disciples, he found them sleeping for sorrow, 46 And said unto them, Why sleep ye? rise and pray, lest ye enter into temptation.
47 ¶ [16] And while he yet spake, *behold, a multitude, and he that was called Judas, one of the twelve, went before them, and drew neare unto Jesus to kisse him.
48 But Jesus said unto him, Judas, betrayest thou the Sonne of man with a kisse?
49 [17] When they which were about him, saw what would follow, they said unto him, Lord, shall we smite with the sword?
50 ¶ And one of them smote the servant of the high priest, and cut off his right eare.
51 And Jesus answered and said, Suffer ye thus farre. And he touched his eare, and healed him.
52 [18] Then Jesus said unto the chief priests, and captains of the temple, and the elders which were come to him, Be ye come out as against a thief, with swords and staves?
53 When I was daily with you in the temple; ye stretched forth no hands against me: but this is your houre, and the [p] power of darkenesse.
54 ¶ *Then took they him, and led him, and brought him into the high priests house. And [19] Peter followed afarre off.
55 * And when they had kindled a fire in the midst of the hall, and were set down together, Peter sat down among them.
56 But a certain maid beheld him as he sat by the fire, and earnestly looked upon him, and said, This man was also with him.
57 And he denied him, saying, Woman, I know him not.
58 And after a little while another saw him, and said. Thou art also of them. And Peter said, Man, I am not.
59 And about the space of one hour after, another confidently affirmed, saying, Of a truth this fellow also was with him; for he is a Galilean.
60 And Peter said, Man, I know not what thou sayest. And immediately while he yet spake, the cock crew.
61 And the Lord turned, and looked upon Peter; and Peter remembred the word of the Lord, how he had said unto him, Before the cock crow, thou shalt deny me thrice.
62 And Peter went out, and wept bitterly.
63 ¶ [20] And the men that held Jesus, mocked him, and smote him.
64 And when they had blind-folded him, they stroke him on the face, and asked him, saying, Prophesie, who is it that smote thee?
65 And many other things blaspemously spake they against him.
66 ¶ * [21] And assoon as it was day, the elders of the people, and the chief priests and the Scribes came together, and led him into their councel,
67 Saying, Art thou the Christ? tell us. And he said unto them, If I tell you, you will not beleeve, 68 And if I also ask you, you will not answer me, nor let me go.
69 Hereafter shall the Sonne of man sit on the right hand of the power of God.

70 Then

[o] Such as are partakers of the afflictions of Christ, shall also be partakers of his kingdome.

* Matth. 19, 28.

[10] We must alwayes think upon the wait that Satan layeth for us.
* 1 Pet. 5, 8.
[l] To tosse you, and scatter you, and also to cast you out.
[11] It is through the prayers of Christ, that the elect do never utterly fall away from the faith: and that for this cause, that they should stirre up one another.
[12] Christ sheweth that faith differeth much from a vain securitie, in setting before us the grievous example of Peter.
* Matth. 26, 34.
* Matth. 10, 9.
[m] All this talk is by way of an allegorie, as if he said, O my friends and fellow souldiers, you have lived hitherto as it were in peace: but now there is a most sharp battel at hand to be fought, and therefore you must lay all other things aside, and think upon furnishing your selves in armour. And what this armour is, he shewed by his own example, when he prayed afterward in the garden, and reproved Peter for striking with the sword.
* Isa. 53, 12.
* Matth 26, 36.
* Matth. 26, 41.
[13] Christ hath made death acceptable unto us, by overcoming, in our name, all the horrours of death which had joyned with them, the curse of God.
[14] Prayers are a sure succour against the most perillous assaults of our enemies.
[n] This agonie sheweth that Christ strove much, and was in great distresse: for Christ strove not onely with the fears of death as other men use to do, for so many Martyrs might seem more constant than Christ, but with the fearfull judgement of his angry Father, which is the fearfullest thing in the world, and the matter was, for that he took the burden of all our sins upon himself.
[o] These do not onely shew that Christ was true man, but other things also which the godly have to consider of, wherein the secres of the redemption of all mankind is contained in the Sonne of God his debating himself to the state of a servant: such things as no man can sufficiently declare.
[15] Men are utterly sluggish, even in their greatest dangers, untill Christ stirre them up.
[16] Christ is willingly betrayed and taken, that by his obedience he might deliver us, which were guilty for the betraying, of Gods glory.
* Matt. 26, 47.

[17] That zeal which carrieth us out of the bounds of our vocation, pleaseth not Christ.

[18] Even the very fear of them which took Christ proveth partly their evil conscience and partly also that all these things were done by Gods providence.

[p] The power that was given to darknesse to oppresse the light for a season.
* Matth. 25, 37.

[19] We have to behold in Peter an example both of the fragilitie of mans nature, and of the singular goodnesse of God towards his elect.
* Matth. 26, 69.

[20] Christ bare the shame that was due to our sinnes.

* Matth 27, 1.
[21] Christ is wrongfully condemned of blasphemie before the high Priests judgement seat, that we might be quit before God from the blasphemy which we deserved.

70 Then said they all, Art thou then the Son of God? And he said unto them, * Ye say that I am.

* Matt. 14, 62.

71 And they said, What need we any further witnesse? for we our selves have heard of his own mouth.

CHAP. XXIII.

1 Iesus is accused before Pilate, and sent to Herod. 8 Herod mocketh him. 12 Herod and Pilate are made friends. 18 Barabbas is desired of the people, and is loosed by Pilate, and Iesus is given to be crucified. 27 He telleth the women that lament him, the destruction of Ierusalem: 34 prayeth for his enemies, 39 Two evil doers are crucified with him. 46 His death 50 His buriall.

1 Christ, who is now ready to suffer for the sedition which we raised in this world, is first of all pronounced guiltlesse, that it might appear that he suffered not for his own sinnes (which were none) but for ours.

1 AND [1] the whole multitude of them arose, and led him unto Pilate.

2 And they began to accuse him, saying, We found this fellow [a] perverting the nation, and forbidding to give tribute to Cesar, saying, that he himself is Christ a king.

a Corrupting the people, and leading them into errours.

3 * And Pilate asked him, saying, Art thou the king of the Jews? And he answered him and said, Thou sayest it.

* Matt. 27, 11.

4 Then said Pilate to the chief priests and to the people, I finde no fault in this man.

5 And they were the more fierce, saying, He stirreth up the people, teaching throughout all Jewry, beginning from Galilee to this place.

2 Christ is a laughing stock to Princes, but to their great smart.

6 [2] When Pilate heard of Galilee, he asked whether the man were a Galilean.

7 And assoon as he knew that he belonged unto [b] Herods jurisdiction, he sent him to Herod, who himself was also at Jerusalem at that time.

b This was Herod Antipas the Tetrarch, in the time of whose governance; which was almost the space of 22 yeares, Iohn the Baptist preached, and was put to death, and Iesus Christ also died, and rose again, and the Apostles began to preach, and divers things were done at Ierusalem, almost seven years after Christs death. This Herod was sent into banishment to Lyons, about the second yeare of Cajus Cesar.

8 ¶ And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceeding glad, for he was desirous to see him of a long season, because he had heard many things of him, and he hoped to have seen some miracle done by him.

9 Then he questioned with him in many words, but he answered him nothing.

10 And the chief priests and Scribes stood and vehemently accused him.

c Accompanied with his nobles and souldiers which followed him from Galilee.

11 And Herod with his [c] men of warre set him at nought, and mocked him, and arayed him in a gorgeous robe, and sent him again to Pilate.

3 The hatred of godlinesse joyneth the wicked together.

12 ¶ [3] And the same day Pilate and Herod were made friends together; for before they were at enmity between themselves.

* Matt. 27, 23.

13 ¶ * [4] And Pilate when he had called together the chief priests, and the [d] rulers, and the people.

4 Christ it quit the second time, even of him of whom he is condemned. that it might appear, how he being just, redeemed us which were unjust.

d Those whom the Iewes called the Sanhedrim.

14 Said unto them, Ye have brought this man unto me, as one that perverteth the people, and behold, I having examined him before you, have found no fault in this man touching those things whereof ye accuse him:

15 No, nor yet Herod: for I sent you to him, and lo, nothing worthy of death is done unto him.

5 The wisdome of the flesh, of two evils chuseth, the lesse, but God curseth such counsels.

16 [5] I will therefore chastise him, and release him.

17 For of necessity he must release one unto them at the feast.

18 And they cried out all at once, saying, Away with this man, & release unto us Barabbas:

19 (Who for a certain sedition made in the citie, and for murder was cast in prison)

20 Pilate therefore willing to release Jesus, spake again to them.

21 But they cried, saying, Crucifie him, crucifie him.

6 Christ is quit the third time, before he was condemned once, that it might appear, how that our sins were condemned in him.

22 [6] And he said unto them the third time, Why, what evil hath he done? I have found no cause of death in him, I will therefore chastise him, and let him go.

23 And they were instant with loud voices, requiring that he might be crucified: and the voices of them, and of the chief priests prevailed.

† Or, assented.

24 And Pilate, † gave sentence that it should be as they required.

25 And he released unto them, him that for sedition and murder was cast into prison, whom they had desired; but he delivered Jesus to their will.

* Matt. 27, 32.

7 An example of the outragiousnesse and disorder of souldiers.

26 * [7] And as they led him away, they laid hold upon one Simon a Cyrenian, coming out of the countrey, and on him they laid the crosse, that he might bear it after Jesus.

8 The triumph of the wicked hath a most horrible end.

27 [8] ¶ And there followed him a great companie of people, and of women, which also bewailed and lamented him.

28 But Jesus turning unto them, said, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for your selves, and for your children.

29 For behold, the dayes are coming, in the which they shall say, Blessed are the barren, and the wombes that never bare, and the paps which never gave suck.

* Isa. 2, 19. Hos 10, 8. Revel. 6, 16.

30 * Then shall they begin to say to the mountains, Fall on us; and to the hils, Cover us.

* 1. Pet. 4, 17.

e As if he said, If they do thus to me that am fruitfull and alwayes flourishing, and who live for ever, by reason of my Godhead, what will they do to you that are unfruitfull, and void of all lively righteousnesse?

31 For if they do these things, in a [e] green tree, what shall be done in the drie?

* Matt. 27, 38.

32 * And there were also two other malefactours led with him to be put to death.

9 Christ became accursed for us upon the crosse, suffering the punishment which they deserved that would be made Gods children.

† Or, the place of a scull.

33 [9] And when they were come to the place which is called † Calvarie, there they crucified him, and the malefactours, one on the right hand, and the other on the left.

10 Christ in praying for his enemies, sheweth that he is both the Sacrifice and the Priest.

34 ¶ [10] Then said Jesus, Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do. And they parted his raiment, and cast lots.

f Whom God loveth more than all other.

35 And the people stood beholding, and the rulers also with them, derided him, saying, He saved others, let him save himself, if he be Christ the [f] chosen of God.

36 And the souldiers also mocked him, coming to him, and offering him vineger.

11 Pilate at unawares is made a Preacher of the kingdome of Christ.

37 And saying, If thou be the king of the Jews, save thy self.

38 [11] And a superscription also was writen over him in letters of Greek, and Latine, and Hebrew, THIS IS THE KING OF THE JEWS.

39 ¶ [g] And [12] one of the malefactours which g Therefore either we must take that is spoken by Synechdoche, which Matthew saith, or that both of the mocked Christ. But one of them at length overcome with the great patience of God, break forth into that confession worthy all memorie. 12 Christ in the middest of the humbling himself upon the crosse, sheweth in deed, that he hath both power of life to save the beleevers, and of death to revenge the rebellious.

78 were hanged, railed on him, saying, if thou be Christ, save thy self and us.

40 But the other answering, rebuked him, saying, Dost not thou fear God, seeing thou art in the same condemnation?

41 And we indeed justly; for we receive the due reward of our deeds: but this man hath done nothing [h] amisse.

h More than he ought.

42 And he said unto Jesus, Lord, remember me when thou comest into thy kingdome.

43 And Jesus said unto him, Verily I say unto thee, To day shalt thou be with me in [i] paradise.

i God made the visible paradise in the east part of the world: but that which we behold with the eyes of our minde is the place of everlasting joy and salvation, through the godnesse and mercie of God, a most pleasant rest of the soule of the godly, and most quiet and joyfull dwelling.

44 [13] And it was about the sixth houre, and there was a darknesse over all the † earth until the ninth houre.

13 Christ being even at the point of death, sheweth himself to be God Almightie, even to the blinde.

† Or, land.

45 [14] And the sunne was darkened, and the vail of the temple was rent in the midst.

14 Christ entreth stoutly into the very darknesse of death, for to overcome death even within his most secret places.

46 ¶ And when Jesus had cried with a loud voice, he said, * Father, into thy hands I commend my spirit: and having said thus, he gave up the ghost.

* Psal. 31, 5.

47 [15] Now when the centurion saw what was done, he glorified God, saying, Certainly this was a righteous man.

15 Christ causeth his very enemies to give honourable witnesse on his side, so fit as it pleaseth him.

48 And all the people that came together to that sight, beholding the things which were done, smote their breasts, and returned.

49 [16] And all his acquaintance, and the women that followed him from Galilee, stood afarre off beholding these things.

16 Christ gathereth together, and defendeth his little flock, in the midst of the tormentours.

50 ¶ * [17] And behold, there was a man named Joseph, a counseller, and he was a good man, and a just:

* Matth. 27, 57. Mark 15, 43. Iohn 19, 38.

51 (The same had not consented to the counsel and deed of them) he was of Arimathea, a citie of the Jews (who also himself waited for the kingdome of God)

17 Christ through his famous buriall, confirmeth the truth both of his death and resurrection, by the plain and evident witnesse of Pilate.

52 This man went unto Pilate, and begged the body of Jesus.

53 And he took it down, and wrapped it in linnen, and laid it in a sepulchre that was hewen in stone, wherein never man before was laid.

54 And that day was the preparation, and the sabbath [k] drew on.

k Word for word, Dawning, as now beginning, for the light of the former day drew toward the going down, and that was the day of preparation for the feast, which was to be kept the day following.

55 [18] And the women also which came with him from Galilee, followed after, and beheld the sepulchre, and how his body was laid.

18 Christ being set upon by the devil, and all his instruments, and being even in deaths mouth, setteth weak women in his forward, minding straightway to triumph over those terrible enemies, without any great endeavour.

56 And they returned, and prepared spices and ointments, and rested the sabbath-day, according to the commandement.

Chap. XXIIII.

1 Christs resurrection is declared by two angels to the women that come to the sepulchre: 9 these report it to others. 13 Christ himself appeareth to the two disciples that went to Emmaus. 36 Afterward he appeareth to the apostles, and reproveth their unbelief: 47 giveth them a charge: 49 promiseth the holy Ghost: 51 and so ascendeth into heaven.

NOw * [1] upon the first day of the week, very [2] early in the morning, they came unto the sepulchre, bringing the spices which they had prepared, and certain others with them.

* Matth. 28, 1.

2 Poore sillie women even beside their expectation are chosen to be the first witnesses of the resurrection, that there might be no suspition either of deceit or violence. a Very earely, as Mark sayeth, or as Iohn, sayeth, while it was yet dark, that is, when it was yet scare the dawning of the day.

2 And they found the stone rolled away from the sepulchre.

3 And they entred in, and found not the bodie of the Lord Jesus.

4 And it came to passe, as they were much perplexed thereabout, behold, two men stood by them in shining garments.

5 And as they were afraid, and bowed down their faces to the earth, they said unto them, Why seek ye † the living among the dead?

† Or, him that liveth.

6 He is not here, but risen: * remember how he spake unto you when he was yet in Galilee.

* Matt. 17, 23.

7 Saying, the Sonne of man must be delivered into the hands of sinfull men, and be crucified, and the third day rise again.

8 And they remembred his words.

9 [2] And returned from the sepulchre, and told all these things unto the eleven, and to all the rest.

2 The cowardly & dastardly minde of the disciples is upbraided by the stout courage of women (so wrought by Gods great mercies) to shew that the kingdome of God consisteth in an extraordinary power.

10 It was Mary Magdalene, and Joanna, and Mary the mother of James, and other women that were with them, which told these things unto the apostles.

11 And their words seemed to them as idle tales, and they beleeved them not.

* Iohn 20, 6.

12 * [3] Then arose Peter, and ran unto the sepulchre, and stouping down, he beheld the linnen clothes laid by themselves, and departed, wondering in himself at that which was come to passe.

3 Christ useth the incredulitie of his disciples, to the fuller setting forth of the truth of his resurrection, lest they should seem to have beleeved that too lightly, which they preached afterward to all the world.

b As it were holding down his head, and bowing his neck, looked diligently in.

13 ¶ * [4] And behold, two of them went that same day to a village called Emmaus, which was from Ierusalem about threescore furlongs.

* Mark 16, 12.

14 And they talked together of all these things which had happened.

4 The resurrection is proved by two other witnesses, which saw it, and that it was no forged thing framed of purpose in their own brains, all the circumstances doe declare.

15 And it came to passe, that while they communed together and reasoned, Jesus himself drew neare, and went with them.

16 [c] But their eyes were holden, that they should not know him.

c Were holden back and strayed, God so appointing it, no donbt: and therefore his body was not invisible, but their eyes were dimmed.

17 And he said unto them, What manner of communications are these that ye have one to another, as ye walk, and are sad?

18 And [d] the one of them, whose name was Cleopas, answering, said unto him, Art thou onely a stranger in Jerusalem, and hast not known the things which are come to passe there in these dayes?

d Some of the old Fathers think that the other disciple was this our Euangelist. but Epiphanius writing against the Saturniians, saith, it was Nathanael, but all these are uncertainties.

19 And he said unto them, What things? And they said unto him, concerning Jesus of Nazareth, which was a prophet mightie in deed and word before God, and all the people:

20 And how the chief priests and our rulers delivered him to be condemned to death, and have crucified him.

5 It appeareth by the conferring of the forewarnings of the prophets that all these things are true and certain which the Euangelists have put down in their writing of Christ.

21 But we trusted that it had been he, which should have redeemed Israel: and beside all this, to day is the third day since these things were done.

22 Yea, and certain women also of our company made us astonished, which were early at the sepulchre:

23 And

23 And when they found not his body, they came, saying, that they had also seen a vision of angels, which said that he was alive.

24 And certain of them which were with us, went to the sepulchre, and found it even so as the women had said, but him they saw not.

25 Then he said unto them, O fools, and slow of heart to beleeve all that the prophets haven spoken:

26 Ought not Christ to have suffered these things, and to enter into his glorie?

27 And beginning at Moses, and all the prophets, he expounded unto them in all the scriptures, the things concerning himself.

28 And they drew nigh unto the village, whither they went, and he made as though he would have gone further.

29 But they constrained him, saying, Abide with us, for it is towards evening, and the day is farre spent: and he went in to tarry with them.

30 And it came to passe, as he sat at meat with them, he took bread, and blessed it, and brake, and gave to them.

31 And their eyes were opened, and they knew him, and he † [e] vanished out of their sight.

† Or, ceased to be seen of them.
e Suddenly taken away, and therefore we may not imagine that he was there in such a body as could not be seen, but beleeve in deed that he changed his place.

32 And they said one to another, Did not our heart burn within us, while he talked with us by the way, and while he opened to us the scriptures?

33 And they rose up the same houre, and returned to Jerusalem, and found the eleven gathered together, and them that were with them, 34 Saying, The Lord is risen indeed, and hath appeared to Simon.

35 And they told what things were done in the way, and how he was known of them in [f] breaking of bread.

f When he brake bread, which that people used, as the Jews use yet at this day at the beginning of their meales, and say a prayer.

36 ¶ * [6] And as they thus spake, Jesus himself stood in the midst of them, and saith unto them, Peace be unto you.

* Mark. 16, 14.
6 The Lord himself sheweth by certain and necessarie signes, that he was risen again, and that the same body which he took upon him.

37 But they were terrified and affrighted, and supposed that they had seen a spirit, 38 And he said unto them, Why are ye troubled, and why do [g] thoughts arise in your hearts?

g Divers and doubtfull thoughts which fall oft into mens heads, when any strange thing falleth out, whereof there is no great likelihood.

39 Behold my hands and my feet; that it is I my self: handle me, and see, for a spirit hath not flesh and bones, as ye see me have.

40 And when he had thus spoken, he shewed them his hands and his feet.

41 And while they yet beleeved not for joy; and wondered, he said unto them, Have ye here any meat?

42 And they gave him a piece of a broiled fish, and of an honey-combe.

43 And he took it, and did eat before them.

44 And he said unto them, These are the words which I spake unto you, while I was yet with you, that all things must be fulfilled which were written in the law of Moses, and in the prophets, and in the psalmes concerning me.

45 Then opened he their understanding, that they might understand the scriptures,

46 And said unto them, Thus it is written, and thus it behoved Christ to suffer, and to rise from the dead the third day:

47 [7] And that repentance and remission of sinnes should be preached in his name, among all nations, [h] beginning at Jerusalem.

7 The preaching of the gospel, which was promised to the Prophets, and performed in his time is committed unto the Apostles; the summe whereof is, Repentance and remission of sinnes, h The apostles, who are the preachers of the Gospel, beginning at Jerusalem.
* John 15, 26. Acts 1, 4.

48 And ye are witnesses of these things.

49 ¶ * And behold, I send the promise of my Father upon you: but tarry ye in the city of Jerusalem, [i] untill ye be endued with power from on high.

i Untill the holy Ghost come down from heaven upon you.

50 ¶ [8] And he led them out as farre as to Bethany, and he lift up his hands, and blessed them.

8 Christ ascendeth into heaven, and departing bodily from his disciples, filleth their hearts with the holy Ghost.

51 * And it came to passe, while he blessed them, he was parted from them, and carried up into heaven.

* Mark 1, 19. Acts 1, 9.

52 And they worshipped him, and returned to Jerusalem, with great joy:

53 And were continually in the temple, praising and blessing God. Amen.

S. IOHN.

CHAP. I.

1 The divinity, humanity, and office of Iesus Christ. 15 The testimony of Iohn. 39 The calling of Andrew, Peter &c.

1 The Sonne of God is of one, and the self same eternitie or everlastingnesse, & of one and the self same essence or nature with the Father.

IN [1] the [a] beginning [b] was the [c] Word, and the Word was [d] with God, and the [e] Word was God.

2 * The same was in the beginning with God.

3 * [2] All [f] things were made by him, and [g] without him [h] was not any thing made that was made.

4 [i] In him [k] was life, and the life was the [l] light of men.

5 [3] And the light shineth in darknesse, and the [m] darknesse comprehended it not.

6 ¶ * [4] There was a man sent from God, whose name was John.

7 The same came for a witnesse, to bear witnesse of the light, that all men [n] through him might beleeve.

8 He was not that [o] light, but was sent to bear witnesse of that light.

9 [5] That was the [p] true light, which lighteth every man that cometh into the world.

10 [q] He was in the world, and [r] the world was made by him, and the world knew him not.

11 He came unto [r] his own, and his own received him not.

12 [6] But as many as received him, to them gave he [t] power to become the sonnes of God, even to them that beleeve on his name:

13 Which were born, not of bloud, nor of the [t] will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God.

14 * [7] And the Word was made [u] flesh, and [x] dwelt among us (and we beheld his glory, the [y] glory [z] as of the onely begotten of the Father [a] full of grace and truth.

16 ¶ [8] John bare witnesse of him and cried, saying, This was he of whom I spake, He that cometh [b] after me, is preferred [c] before me, for he was before me.

16 [9] And of his * fulnesse have all we received, and [d] grace for grace.

17 For the law was given by Moses, but grace and truth came by Jesus Christ.

18 * [10] No man hath seen God at any time; the onely begotten Sonne, which is in the [e] bosome of the Father, he hath [f] declared him.

19 ¶ [11] And this is the record of John, when the Jews sent priests and Levites from Jerusalem, to ask him, Who art thou?

20 And he [g] confessed, and [h] denied not; but confessed, I am not the Christ;

21 And they asked him, What then? Art thou Elias? And he said, [i] I am not. Art thou † [k] that prophet? And he answered, No.

22 Then said they unto him, Who art thou, that we may give an answer to them that sent us? what sayest thou of thy self?

23 * He said, I am the voice of one crying in the wilderness, Make straight the way of the Lord, as said the prophet Esaias.

24 [12] And they which were sent, were of the Pharisees.

25 And they asked him, and said unto him, [l] Why baptizest thou then, if thou be not

---

2 The Sonne of God declareth that same his everlasting Godhead, both by the creating of all things, and also by the preserving of them and especially, by the excellent gifts of reason and understanding, wherewith he hath beautified man above all other creatures. f Paul expoundeth this place Col. 1, 15. and 16, verses. g That is, as the Father did work, so did the Sonne work with him: for, he was fellow worker with him. h Of all those things which were made, nothing was made without him. i That is, by him: and it is spoken after the manner of the Hebrews, meaning thereby that by his force and working power, all life cometh to the world. k To wit, even then, when all things are made by him: for else he would have said, Life is in him, and not life was. l That force of reason and understanding, which is kindled in our mindes to acknowledge him, the authour of so great a benefit. 3 The light of men is turned into darknesse, but yet so that there is clearnesse enough to make them without excuse. m They could not perceive nor reach unto it, to receive any light of it, no, they did not so much as acknowledge him. * Matt. 3, 1. 4 There is another more full manifestation of the Sonne of God, to the consideration whereof men are in good time stirred up, even by Johns voice, who is as it were the herault of Christ. n Through Iohn. o That light which we spake of, to wit, Christ, who onely can lighten our darknesse. 5 When as the Son of God saw, that men did not acknowledge him by his works although they were endued with understanding (which he had given to them all) he exhibited himself unto his people, to be seen of them with their corporall eyes: yet neither did they so acknowledge him, nor receive him. p Who onely and properly deserveth to be called the light, for he shineth of himself, and borroweth light of none. q The person of the word was made manifest even at that time when the world was made. * Heb. 11, 3. r The word shewed himself again, when he came in the flesh. 6 The Sonne being shut out of the most of his people and acklowledged but of a few, doeth regenerate themby his own vertue and power, and receiveth them into that honour which is common to all the children of God that is to be the sonnes of God. † Or, the right, or priviledge. t He vouhsafed to give them this prerogative to take them to be his children. t Of that grosse and corrupt nature of man, which is throughout the Scriptures, set as enmity to the spirit.

* Matt. 1, 16.

7 The Sonne who is God from everlasting took upon him mans nature, that one and the self same might be both God and man, which manifestly appeared to many witnesses that saw him, amongst whom he was conversant, and unto whom by sure and undoubted arguments he shewed both his natures.

u That is, man: so that the part is taken for the whole by the figure Synecdoche: for he tooke upon him all out whole nature, that is to say, a true body, and a true soule.

x For a season and when that was ended, he went up into heaven: for the word which he useth is taken from tents: and yet notwithstanding his absence from us in body is not such, but that he is alwayes present with us, though not in flesh, yet by the vertue of his spirit.

y The glory which he speaketh of here, is that manifestation of Christ his majestie which was, as it were laid open before our eyes when the Son of God appeared in the flesh.

z This word (as) doeth not in this place betoken a likenesse, but the truth of the matter, for his meaning is this, that we saw such a glory, as beseemed and was meet for the true and only begotten Sonne of God, who is Lord and King over all the whole world. a He was not onely a partaker of grace, and truth, but was full of the very substance of grace and truth. 8 John is a faithfull witnesse of the excellencie of Christ. b That is, He before whom I am sent to prepare him the way: so that these words are referred to the time of his calling, and not of his age, for Iohn was sixe moneths older than he. c This sentence hath in it a turning of the reason, as we call it, as who should say, a setting of that first, which should be last, and that last which should be first: for in plain speech this it is, He that commeth after me, is better than I am, for he was before me. The like kinde of turning the reason we finde in Luke 7, 47. Many sinnes are forgiven her, because she loved much, which is thus much to say, Shee loved much, because many sinnes are forgiven her. 9 Christ is the most plentifull fountain of all goodnesse, but then he powred out his gifts most bountifully, when as he exhibited and shewed himself to the world. * Colos. 1, 19. d That is, grace upon grace, as a man would say, graces heaped one upon another. * 1 Thim. 6, 16 1 Iohn 4, 12. 10 The true knowledge of God procedeth onely from Jesus Christ. e Who is neareſt to his father, not onely in respect of his love towards him, but by the bond of nature, and for that union or oneness that is between them, whereby the Father and the Sonne are one. f Revealed him and shewed him unto us, whereas before he was hid under the shadows of the law, so that the quicknesse of the sight of our minds was not able to perceive him: for who soever seeth him, seeth the Father also. 11 John is neither the Messias, nor like to any of the other Prophets, but is the herauld of Christ who is now present. g He did acknowledge him, and spake of him plainely and openly. h This rehearsing of the one and the self same thing, though in divers words, is used much of the Hebrews, and it hath great force, for they use to speak one thing twice, to set it out more certainly and plainly. i The Iews thought that Elias should come again before the dayes of Messias, and they took the ground of that their opinion out of Malac. 4, 5. which place is to be understood of Iohn, Matth. 11, 14. And yet Iohn denieth that he is Elias; answering them indeed according as they meant. † Or, a prophet. k They enquire of some great Prophet, and not of Christ, for Iohn denyed before that he is Christ, for they thought that some great prophet should be sent like unto Moses, wresting, to that purpose that place of Deut. 18, 15. which is to be understood of all the company of the Prophets and ministers, which have been, and shall be to the end, and especially of Christ who is the head of all prophets. * Matth. 3, 3. 12 Christ is the author of baptisme, and not Iohn: and therefore the force there of consisteth not in Iohn, who is the minister, but wholy in Christ the Lord. l Hereby we may prove that the Iews knew there should be some change in religion under Messias.

that Chriſt, nor Elias, neither that prophet?

26 Iohn anſwered them, ſaying, I baptize with water, but there ſtandeth one [m] among you, whom ye know not.

27 * He it is who coming after me, is preferred before me, whoſe ſhoes latchet I am not worthy to unlooſe.

28 Theſe things were done in Bethabara beyond Iordan, where Iohn was baptizing.

29 ¶ [13] The next day Iohn ſeeth Jeſus coming unto him, and ſaith, Behold [n] the Lambe of God, which ‡ [o] taketh away the [p] ſinne of the world.

30 This is he of whom I ſaid, After me cometh a man, which is preferred before me: for he was before me.

31 And [q] I knew him not: but that he ſhould be made manifeſt to Iſrael, therefore am I come baptizing with water.

32 * [14] And Iohn bare record, ſaying, I ſaw the Spirit deſcending from heaven, like a dove, and it abode upon him.

33 And I knew him not: but he that ſent me to baptize with water, the ſame ſaid unto me, Upon whom thou ſhalt ſee the Spirit deſcending and remaining on him, the ſame is he which baptizeth with the holy Ghoſt.

34 And I ſaw, and bare record that this is [r] the Sonne of God.

35 ¶ [15] Again the next day after, Iohn ſtood, and two of his diſciples:

36 [16] And looking upon Jeſus as he walked, he ſaith, Behold the Lambe of God.

37 [17] And the two diſciples heard him ſpeak, and they followed Jeſus.

38 Then Jeſus turned, and ſaw them following, and ſaith unto them, What ſeek ye? They ſaid unto him, Rabbi (which is to ſay being interpreted, Maſter) [s] where ‡ dwelleſt thou?

39 He ſaith unto them, Come and ſee. They came and ſaw where he dwelt, and abode with him that day: for it was about the [t] tenth houre.

40 One of the two which heard Iohn ſpeak, and followed him, was Andrew, Simon Peters brother.

41 He firſt findeth his own brother Simon, and ſaid unto him, We have found the Meſſias, which is, being interpreted, ‡ the [u] Chriſt.

42 And he brought him to Jeſus. And when Jeſus beheld him, he ſaid, Thou art Simon the ſonne of Iona, thou ſhalt be called Cephas, which is by interpretation, ‡ a ſtone, 43 ¶ The day following, Jeſus would go forth into Galilee, and findeth Philip, and ſaith unto him, Follow me.

44 Now Philip was of Bethſaida, the city of Andrew and Peter.

45 [18] Philip findeth Nathanael, and ſaith unto him, We have found him of whom * Moſes in the law, and the * prophets did write, Jeſus of Nazareth, the ſonne of Joſeph.

46 [19] And Nathanael ſaid unto him, Can there any good thing come out of Nazareth? Philip ſaith unto him, Come and ſee.

47 [20] Jeſus ſaw Nathanael coming to him, and ſaith of him, Behold an Iſraelite indeed, in whom is no guile.

48 [21] Nathanael ſaith unto him, Whence knoweſt thou me? Jeſus anſwered and ſaid unto him, Before that Philip called thee when thou waſt under the fig-tree, I ſaw thee.

49 Nathanael anſwered and ſaith unto him, Rabbi, thou art the Sonne of God, thou art the King of Iſrael.

50 Jeſus anſwered and ſaid unto him, Becauſe I ſaid unto thee, I ſaw thee under the fig-tree, beleeveſt thou? thou ſhalt ſee greater things than theſe.

51 And he ſaith unto him, Verily verily I ſay unto you, Hereafter you ſhall ſee heaven open, and the angels of God * aſcending and deſcending upon the Sonne of man.

CHAP. II.

1 Chriſt turneth water into wine, 12 departeth into Capernaum, and to Ieruſalem, 14 where he purgeth the temple of buyers and ſellers. 19 He fortelleth his death and reſurrection. 23 Many beleeved becauſe of his miracles, but he would not truſt himſelf with them.

AND [1] the [a] third day there was a marriage in Cana of Galilee, and the mother of Jeſus was there.

2 And both Jeſus was called, and his diſciples, to the marriage.

3 [2] And when they wanted wine, the mother of Jeſus ſaith unto him, They have no wine.

4 Jeſus ſaith unto her, Woman, what have I to do with thee? mine [b] houre is not yet come.

5 His mother ſaith unto the ſervants, Whatſoever he ſaith unto you, do it.

6 And there were ſet there [c] ſix water-pots of ſtone, after the manner of the purifying of the Jews, containing two or three [d] firkins a piece.

7 Jeſus ſaith unto them, Fill the water-pots with water. And they filled them up to the brim.

8 And he ſaith unto them, Draw out now, and bear unto the governour of the feaſt. And they bare it.

9 When the ruler of the feaſt had taſted the water that was made wine, and knew not whence it was, (but the ſervants which drew the water knew) the governour of the feaſt called the bridegroom,

10 And ſaith unto him, Every man at the beginning doth ſet forth good wine, and when men have [e] well drunk, then that which is worſe: but thou haſt kept the good wine untill now.

11 This beginning of miracles did Jeſus in Cana of Galilee, and manifeſted forth his glory, and his diſciples beleeved on him.

12 ¶ After this, he went down to Capernaum, he, and his mother, and his [f] brethren, and his diſciples, and they continued there not many dayes.

13 ¶ [3] And the Jewes passeover was at hand, and Jesus wont up to Jerusalem,

14 [4] And found in the temple those that sold oxen, and sheep, and doves, and the changers of money, sitting:

15 And when he had made a scourge of small cords, he drove them all out of the temple, and the sheep and the oxen, and poured out the changers money, and overthrew the tables;

16 And said unto them that sold doves, Take these things hence, make not my Fathers house an house of merchandise.

17 And his disciples remembred that it was written, * The [g] zeal of thine house hath eaten me up.

18 ¶ [5] Then answered the Jews, and said unto him, What [h] signe shewest thou unto us, seeing that thou doest these things?

19 Jesus answered and said unto them, * Destroy this temple, and in three dayes I will raise it up.

20 Then said the Jews, Fourty and six yeares was this temple in building, and wilt thou rear it up in three dayes?

21 But he spake of the [i] temple of his body.

22 When therefore he was risen from the dead, his disciples remembred that he had said this unto them: and they beleeved the scripture, and the word which Jesus had said.

23 ¶ Now when he was in Jerusalem at the passeover, in the feast day, many beleeved in his name, when they saw the miracles which he did.

24 [6] But Jesus did not commit himself unto them, because he knew all men, 25 [7] And needed not that any should testifie of man: for he knew what was in man.

3 Christ being made subject to the law for us, satisfieth the law of the passeover.

4 Christ being ordained to purge the church, doth with great zeal begin his office both of priest and prophet.

* Psal. 69, 9.

g Zeal in this place is taken for a wrathfull indignation and displeasure of the minde, conceived of some naughty and evil dealing towards them whom we love well.

5 Against them which so binde God to an ordinary calling, which they themselves most shamefully abuse, that they will not admit an extraordinarie, which God confirmeth from heaven (and they, although in vain, would have it extinguished) unlesse it be sealed with outward and bodily miracles.

h With what miracle dost thou confirm it, that we may see that heavenly power and vertue, which giveth thee authority to speak and doe thus?

* Matt. 26, 61.

i That is, of his body.

6 It is not good crediting them, which stand onely upon miracles.

CHAP. III.

1 Christ teacheth Nicodemus the necessity of regeneration: 14 of faith in his death. 16 The great love of God towards the world. 18 Condemnation for unbelief. 23 The baptisme, witnesse, and doctrine of Iohn concerning Christ.

1 There are none sometimes more unlearned than the learned: but as well the learned as the unlearned must desire wisdome of Christ onely.

THere [1] was a man of the Pharisees, named Nicodemus, a [a] ruler of the Jews:

2 The same came to Jesus by night, and said unto him, Rabbi, we know that thou art a [b] teacher come from God: for no man can do these miracles that thou doest, [c] except God be with him.

a A man of great estimation, and a ruler amongst the Iews.

b We know that thou art sent from God to teach us.

c But he in whom some part of the excellencie of God appeareth. And if Nicodemus had known Christ aright, he would not onely have said that God was with him, but in him, as Paul doth, 2 Cor. 1, 19.

3 [2] Jesus answered and said unto him, Verily verily I say unto thee, Except a man be born † again, he cannot [d] see the [e] kingdome of God.

2 The beginning of Christianitie consisteth in this, That we know our selves not onely to be corrupt in part, but to be wholly dead in sinne: so that our nature hath need to be created a new, as touching the qualities thereof which can be done by no other vertue, but by the divine and heavenly, whereby we were first created.

† Or, from above.

d That is, go in, or enter, as he expoundeth himself afterward, vers. 5.

e The church: for Christ sheweth in this place how we come to be citizens, and to have ought to doe in the citie of God.

4 Nicodemus saith unto him, [f] How can a man be born when he is old? can he enter the second time into his mothers wombe, and be born?

f How can I that am old be born again? for he answereth as if Christ his words belonged to none but to him.

5 Jesus answered, Verily verily I say unto thee, Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit, he cannot enter into the kingdome of God.

6 That which is born of the [g] flesh, is flesh, and that which is born of the Spirit, is spirit.

7 Marvell not that I said unto thee, Ye must be born † again.

8 The winde bloweth where it [h] listeth, and thou heares the sound thereof, but canst not tell whence it cometh, and whither is goeth: so is every one that is born of the Spirit.

9 [3] Nicodemus answered and said unto him, How can these things be?

10 Jesus answered and said unto him, Art thou a master of Israel, and knowest not these things?

11 Verily verily I say unto thee, We speak that we do know, and testifie that we have seen; and ye receive not our [i] witnesse.

12 If I have told you earthly things, and ye beleeve not: how shall ye beleeve if I tell you of heavenly things?

13 And [k] no man hath [l] ascended up to heaven, but he that came down from heaven, even the [m] Sonne of man which is [n] in heaven.

14 ¶ * And as Moses lifted up the serpent in the wilderness: even so must the Sonne of man be lifted up:

15 That whosoever beleeveth in him, should not perish, but have eternall life.

16 ¶ * [4] For God so loved the world, that he gave his onely begotten Sonne: that whosoever beleeveth [o] in him, should not perish, but have everlasting life.

17 * [5] For God sent not his Sonne into the world to [p] condemn the world: but that the [q] world through him might be saved.

18 ¶ He that beleeveth on him, is not condemned: but he that beleeveth not, is condemned already, because he hath not beleeved in the name of the onely begotten Son of God.

19 [6] And this is the [r] condemnation, * that light is come into the world, and men loved darknes rather than light, because their deeds were evil.

20 For every one that doeth evil, hateth the light, neither cometh to the light, lest his deeds should be † reproved.

21 But he that [t] doeth truth, cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought [s] in God.

22 ¶ After these things came Jesus and his disciples into the land of Judea, and there he tarried with them, * and baptized.

23 ¶ And John also was baptizing in Ænon, neare to Salim, because there was much water there: and they came, and were baptized.

24 For John was not yet cast into prison.

25 ¶ [7] Then there arose a question betwen

g That is, fleshly, to wit, wholly unclean, and under the wrath of God: and therefore this word (Flesh) signifieth the corrupt nature of man: contrary to which is the (Spirit) that is, the man ingrafted into Christ through the grace of the holy Ghost, whose nature is everlasting and immortall, though the strife of the flesh remaineth.

h With free and wandring blasts as it listeth.

i The secret mysterie of our regeneration which cannot be comprehended by mans capacitie, is perceived by faith, and that in Christ onely, because that he is both God on earth and man in heaven, that is to say, in such sort man, that he is God also, and therefore almighty: and in such sort God, that he is man also, and therefore his power is manifest unto us.

k Onely Christ can teach us heavenly things, for no man ascendeth, &c.

l That is, hath any spirituall light and understanding or ever had, but onely that Son of God, which came down to us.

m Whereas he is said to have come down from heaven, that must be understood of his Godhead, and of the manner of his conception: for Christ his birth upon the earth was heavenly and not earthly, for he was conceived by the holy Ghost.

n That which is proper to the divinitie of Christ, is here spoken of whole Christ, to give us to understand that he is but one person where in two natures are united, and this kinde of speech men call, the communicating of proprieties.

* Num. 21, 9.

* 1 Ioh. 4, 9. † Nothing else but the free love of the Father, is the beginning of our salvation, and Christ is he in whom our righteousnesse and salvation is resident; and faith is the instrument or mean whereby we apprehend it, and life everlasting is that which is set before us to apprehend.

o It is not all one to beleeve in a thing, and to beleeve of a thing, for we may not beleeve (in any thing) save onely in God, but we may beleeve (of a thing) whatsoever, saith Nazianzene in his oration of the spirit.

* Chap. 12, 47.

p That is, to be the cause of condemning of the world, for indeed sinnes are the cause of death, but Christ shall judge the quick and the dead.

q Not onely the people of the Iews, but whosoever shall beleeve in him.

r That is, the cause of condemnation, which sticketh fast in men, unlesse through God his great benefit they be delivered from it.

Chap. IIII.

1 Christ talketh with a woman of Samaria, and revealeth himself unto her. 27 His disciples marvel. 31 He declareth to them his zeal to Gods glory. 39 Many Samaritanes beleeve on him. 43 He departeth into Galilee, and healeth the rulers sonne that lay sick at Capernaum.

1 This measure is to be kept in doing of our dutie, that neither by fear we be terrified from going forward, neither by rashnesse procure or pluck dangers upon our heads.

WHen 1 therefore the Lord knew how the Pharisees had heard that Jesus made and baptized more disciples than John,

2 (Though Jesus himself baptized not, but his disciples)

3 He left Judea, and departed again into Galilee.

4 And he must needs go through Samaria.

2 Christ leaving the proud Pharisees, communicateth the treasures of everlasting life with a poore sinfull woman and stranger, refelling the grosse errours of the Samaritanes, and defending the true service of God, which was delivered to the Iews, but yet so, that he calleth both of them back to himself, as one, whom onely all the Fathers, and also the ceremonies of the law, did regard, and had a respect unto * Gen. 33, 19. and 48. 22. Iosh. 24, 32.

5 2 Then cometh he to a city of Samaria, which is called Sychar, neare to the parcell of ground * that Jacob gave to his sonne Joseph.

6 Now Jacobs well was there. Jesus therefore being wearied with his journey, sat a thus on the well: and it was about the b sixth houre.

7 There cometh a woman of Samaria to draw water: Jesus saith unto her, Give me to drink.

8 For his disciples were gone away unto the city to buy meat.

9 Then saith the woman of Samaria unto him, How is it that thou being a Jew, askest drink of me, which am a woman of Samaria? for the Jews have c no dealings with the Samaritanes.

10 Jesus answered and said unto her, If thou knewest the d gift of God, and who it is that saith to thee, Give me to drink; thou wouldest have asked of him, and he would have given thee e living water.

11 The woman saith unto him, Sir, thou hast nothing to draw with, and the well is deep: from whence then hast thou that living water?

12 Art thou greater than our father Jacob, which gave us the well, and drank thereof himself, and his children, and his cattel?

13 Jesus answered and said unto her, Whosoever drinketh of this water shall thirst again:

14 But whosoever drinketh of the water that I shall give him, shall never thirst: but the water that I shall give him, shall be in him a well of water springing up into everlasting life.

15 The woman saith unto him, Sir, give me this water, that I thirst not, neither come hither to draw.

16 Jesus saith unto her, Go, call thy husband, and come hither.

17 The woman answered and said, I have no husband. Jesus said unto her, Thou hast well said, I have no husband:

18 For thou hast had five husbands, and he whom thou now hast is not thy husband: in that saidst thou truly.

19 The woman saith unto him, Sir, I perceive that thou art a prophet.

20 3 Our fathers worshipped in this f mountain, and ye say, that in * Jerusalem is the place where men ought to worship.

21 Jesus saith unto her, Woman, beleeve me, the houre cometh when ye shall neither in this mountain, nor yet at Jerusalem worship the Father.

22 Ye worship ye know not what: we know what we worship: for salvation is of the Jews.

23 But the houre cometh, and now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in g spirit and in truth: for the Father seeketh such to worship him.

24 * God is a h Spirit, and they that worship him, must worship him in spirit and in truth.

25 The woman saith unto him, I know that Messias cometh which is called Christ: when he is come, he will tell us all things.

26 Jesus saith unto her, I that speak unto thee, am he.

27 ¶ And upon this came his disciples, and marvelled that he talked with the woman: yet no man said, What seekest thou? or, Why talkest thou with her?

28 The woman then left her water-pot, and c There is no familiaritie nor friendship between the Iews and the Samaritanes.

d By this word, The, we are given to understand, that Christ speaketh of some excellent gift that is to say, Even of himself, whom his Father offered to this woman.

e This everlasting water, that is to say, The exceeding love of God, is called Living, or of life, to make a difference between it, and the water that should be drawn out of a well: and these metaphores are very much used of the Iews, Ier. 2, 13. Ioel 3, 18. Zach. 13, 11.

3 All the religion of superstitious people, standeth, for the most part, upon two pillars, but very weak, that is to say, upon the examples of the fathers perverted, and a foolish opinion of outward things: against which errours we have to set the word and nature of God.

g This word (Spirit) is to be taken here, as it is set against that commandement which is called carnall, Heb. 7. 16. as the commandement is considered in it self: and so he speaketh of (Truth) not as we set it against a lie, but as we take it in respect of the outward ceremonies of the law, which did onely shadow that which Christ performed indeed. * 2 Cor. 3. 17. h By the word (Spirit) he meaneth the nature of the Godhead, and not the third person in the Trinitie.

30 Then they went out of the city, and came unto him.

31 ¶ In the mean while his disciples prayed him, saying, Master, eat.

4 We may have care of our bodies, but yet so, that we preferre willingly and freely the occasion which is offered us to enlarge the kingdome of God: before all necessities of this life whatsoever.

32 [4] But he said unto them, I have meat to eat that ye know not of.

33 Therefore said the disciples one to another, Hath any man brought him ought to eat?

34 Jesus saith unto them, My meat is to do the will of him that sent me, and to finish his work.

* Matth. 9, 37.

35 [5] Say not ye, There are yet foure moneths, and then cometh harvest? behold, I say unto you, Lift up your eyes, and look on the fields: * for they are white already to harvest.

6 The doctrin of the prophets was, as it were, a sowing time: and the doctrin of the gospel, as the harvest: and there is an excellent agreement besween them both and the ministers of them both.

36 [6] And he that reapeth receiveth wages, and gathereth fruit unto life eternall: that both he that soweth, and he that reapeth, may rejoyce together.

37 And herein is that [i] saying true, One soweth, and another reapeth.

38 I sent you to reap that whereon ye bestowed no labour: other men laboured, and ye are entred into their labours.

7 The Samaritanes doe most joyfully embrace that, which the Iews most stubbornly rejected.

39 ¶ [7] And many of the Samaritanes of that city beleeved on him, for the saying of the woman, which testified, He told me all that ever I did.

40 So when the Samaritanes were come unto him, they besought him that he would tarry with them: and he abode there two dayes.

41 And many mo beleeved, because of his own word:

42 And said unto the woman, Now we beleeve, not because of thy saying, for we have heard him our selves, and know that this is indeed the Christ, the Saviour of the world.

* Matth. 13, 57.

8 The despisers of Christ deprive themselves of his benefit: yet Christ prepareth a place for himself.

43 ¶ * [8] Now after two dayes he departed thence, and went into [k] Galilee:

k Into the towns and villages of Galilee, for he would not make abode in his countrey of Nazareth, because they despised him and whose (as the other Euangelists write) the efficacie of his benefits was hindred through their mervellous stiffneckednesse.

44 For Jesus himself testified, that a prophet hath no honour in his own countrey.

45 Then when he was come into Galilee, the Galileans received him, having seen all the things that he did at Jerusalem at the feast: for they also went unto the feast.

9 Although Christ be absent in body, yet he worketh in the beleevers by his word.

46 [9] So Jesus came again into Cana of Galilee, * where he made the water wine. And there was a certain † [l] noble man, whose sonne was sick at Capernaum.

† Or, courtier, or ruler.

l Some of Herods courtiers, for though Herod was not a King, but a Tetrarch, yet the lostie name onely excepted, he was a King, or at least, the people called him a King.

47 When he heard that Jesus was come out of Judea into Galilee, he went unto him, and besought him that he would come down, and heal his sonne: for he was at the point of death.

48 Then said Jesus unto him, Except ye see signes and wonders, ye will not beleeve.

49 The noble man saith unto him, Sir, come down ere my childe die.

50 Jesus saith unto him, Go thy way, thy sonne liveth. And the man beleeved the word that Jesus had spoken unto him, and he went his way.

51 And as he was now going down, his servants met him, and told him, saying, Thy sonne liveth.

52 Then enquired he of them the houre, when he began to amend: and they said unto him, Yesterday at the seventh houre the fever left him.

53 So the father knew that it was at the same houre, in the which Jesus said unto him, Thy sonne liveth; and himself beleeved, and his whole house.

54 This is again the second miracle that Jesus did, when he was come out of Judea into Galilee.

CHAP. V.

1 Iesus on the sabbath-day cureth him that was diseased eight and thirty yeares. 10 The Iews therefore cavill, and persecute him for it. 17 He answereth for himself, and reproveth them, shewing by the testimonie of his father, 32 of Iohn, 36 of his works, 39 and of the scriptures, who he is.

AFter * this there was a feast of the Jews, and Jesus went up to Jerusalem.

* Levit. 23, 1. Deut. 16.

1 There is no disease so old, which Christ cannot heal.

2 Now [1] there is at Jerusalem by the sheep-† market a [a] pool, which is called in the Hebrew tongue, [b] Bethesda, having five porches.

† Or, gate.

a Whereof cattel drank, and used to be plunged in, whereof there could not be but great store at Jerusalem.

b That is to say, the house of powring out, because great store of water was powred out into that place.

3 In these lay a great multitude of impotent folk, of blinde, halt, withered, waiting for the moving of the water.

4 For an angel went down at a certain season into the pool, and troubled the water: whosoever then first after the troubling of the water stepped in, was made whole of whatsoever disease he had.

5 And a certain man was there, which had an infirmity thirty and eight yeares.

6 When Jesus saw him lie, and knew that he had been now a long time in that case, he saith unto him, Wilt thou be made whole?

7 The impotent man answered him, Sir, I have no man, when the water is troubled, to put me into the pool: but while I am coming, another steppeth down before me.

8 Jesus saith unto him, Rise, take up thy bed, and walk.

9 And immediately the man was made whole, and took up his bed, and walked: and on the same day was the sabbath.

2 True religion is not more cruelly assaulted by any means, than by the pretence of religion it self.

10 ¶ [2] The Jews therefore said unto him that was cured, It is the sabbath day, * it is not lawfull for thee to carry thy bed.

* Ierem. 17, 22.

11 He answered them, He that made me whole, the same said unto me, Take up thy bed and walk.

12 Then asked they him, What man is that which said unto thee, Take up thy bed and walk?

13 And he that was healed, wist not who it was: for Jesus had conveyed himself away, † a multitude being in that place.

† Or, from the multitude that was.

14 Afterward Jesus findeth him in the temple, and said unto him, Behold, thou art made whole: sinne no more, lest a worse thing come unto thee.

15 The man departed, and told the Jews that that it was Jesus which had made him whole.

16 And therefore did the Jews persecute Jesus, and sought to slay him, because he had done these things on the sabbath-day.

17 ¶ [3] But Jesus answered them, My Father worketh hitherto, and I work.

18 Therefore the Jews sought the more to kill him, because he not onely had broken the sabbath, but said also, that God was [c] his Father, making himself equall with God.

19 Then answered Jesus and said unto them, Verily verily I say unto you, The Sonne can do nothing [d] of himself, but what he [e] seeth the Father do: for what things soever he doeth, these also doeth the Sonne [f] likewise.

20 For the Father loveth the Sonne, and sheweth him all things that himself doeth: and he will shew him greater works than these, that ye may marvel.

21 [4] For as the Father raiseth up the dead, and quickeneth them: even so the Sonne quickeneth whom he will.

22 For the Father [g] judgeth [h] no man: but hath committed all judgement unto the Sonne.

23 That all men should honour the Sonne, even as they honour the Father. He that honoureth not the Sonne, honoureth not the Father which hath sent him.

24 [5] Verily verily I say unto you, He that heareth my word, and beleeveth on him that sent me, hath everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation: but is passed from death unto life.

25 Verily verily I say unto you, The houre is coming, and now is, [6] when the dead shall heare the voice of the Sonne of God: and they that heare shall live.

26 For as the Father hath life in himself: so hath he given to the Son to have life in himself.

27 And hath given him [i] authority to execute judgement also, because he is [k] the Sonne of man.

28 [7] Marvel not at this: for the houre is coming, in the which all that are in the graves shall heare his voice, 29 [8] And shall [l] come forth, * they that have done good, unto the [m] resurrection of life, and they that have done evil, unto the resurrection of damnation.

30 [9] I can of mine own self [n] do nothing; [o] as I heare, I judge: and my judgement is just, because I seek not mine own will, but the will of the Father which hath sent me.

31 * If I bear witnesse of my self, my witnesse is not [p] true.

32 ¶ * There is another that beareth witnesse of me, and I know that the witnesse which he witnesseth of me, is true.

33 [10] Ye sent unto John, * and he bare witnesse unto the truth.

34 But I receive not testimony from man: but these things I say, that ye might be saved.

35 He was a burning and a shining light: and ye were willing for a [p] season to rejoyce in his light.

36 ¶ But I have greater witnesse than that of John: for the works which the Father hath given me to finish, the same works that I do, bear witnesse of me, that the Father hath sent me.

37 And the Father himself which hath sent me, * hath born witnesse of me. Ye have neither heard his voice at any time, * nor seen his shape.

38 And ye have not his word abiding in you: for whom he hath sent, him ye beleeve not.

39 ¶ Search the scriptures, for in them ye think ye have eternall life, and they are they which testifie of me.

40 And ye will not come to me, that ye might have life.

41 I receive not honour from men.

42 But I know you, that ye have not the [r] love of God in you.

43 I am come in my Fathers name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive.

44 * How can ye beleeve, which receive honour one of another, and seek not the honour that cometh from God only?

45 [s] Do not think that I will accuse you to the Father: there is one that accuseth you, even Moses, in whom ye trust.

46 For had ye beleeved Moses, ye would have beleeved me: * for he wrote of me.

47 But if ye beleeve not his writings, how shall ye beleeve my words?

CHAP. VI.

1 Christ feedeth five thousand men with five loaves and two fishes. 15 Thereupon the people would have made him king. 16 But withdrawing himself, he walketh on the sea to his disciples: 26 reproveth the people flocking after him, and all the fleshly hearers of his word: 33 declareth himself to be the bread of life to beleevers. 66 Many disciples depart from him. 68 Peter confesseth him. 70 Judas is a devil.

AFter these things Jesus went [a] over the sea of Galilee, which is the sea of Tiberias.

2 And a great multitude followed him, because they saw his miracles which he did on them that were diseased.

3 And Jesus went up into a mountain, and there he sat with his disciples.

4 * And the passeover, a feast of the Jews, was nigh.

5 ¶ * [t] When Jesus then lift up his eyes, and saw a great company come unto him, he saith unto Philip, Whence shall we buy bread that these may eat?

6 (And this he said to prove him: for he himself knew what he would do)

3 The work of God was never the breach of the Sabbath, but the works of Christ are the works of the Father, both because they are one God, and also because the Father doth not work but in the Sonne.

c That is, his only, and no mans else, which they gather by that, that he saith, (And I work) applying this word (Work) to himself, which is proper to God, and therefore maketh himself equal to God.

d Not only without his Fathers authoritie, but also without his mighty working, and power.

e This must be understood of Christ his person, which consisteth of two natures: and not simply of his God-head: so then he saith, That his Father moveth and governeth him in all things, but yet notwithstanding when he saith, He worketh with his Father, he vouchsafeth his God-head.

f In like sort, joyntly and together. Not, for that the Father doeth some things, and then the Sonne worketh after him, and doeth the like, but because the might and power of the Father and the Sonne do work equally and joyntly together.

4 The Father maketh no man partaker of everlasting life, but in Christ, in whom only also he is truely worshipped.

g This word (Judgeth) is taken by the figure Synecdoche, for all government.

h These words are not so to be taken, as though they simply denied, that God governed the world, but as the Jews imagined it, which separate the Father from the Sonne, whereas in deed, the Father doeth not govern the world, but only in the person of his Sonne, being made manifest in the flesh, so saith he afterward, verse 30. That he came not to do his own will: That his doctrin is not his own, Chap. 7, 16. That the blinde man and his parents sinned not, &c. Chap. 9, 3. 5 The Father is not worshipped but by his Sonnes word, apprehended by faith, which is the only way that leadeth to eternall life. 6 We are all dead in sinne, and cannot be quickned by any other meanes, then by the word of Christ, apprehended by faith. i That is, high and sovereigne power to rule and govern all things, in so much that he hath power of life and death. k That is, he shall not only judge the world as he is God, but also as he is man, he receiveth this of his father to be judge of the world. 7 All shall appeare before the judgment seat of Christ, at length to be judged. 8 Faith and infidelitie shall be judged by their fruits. l Of their graves. * Matth. 25, 46. m To that resurrection which hath life everlasting following it: against which is set the resurrection of condemnation, that is, which condemnation followeth. 9 The Father is the authour, and approver of all things which Christ doth. n Look verse 22. o As my Father directeth me, who dwelleth in me. * Chap. 8, 14. p Faithfull, that is, worthy to be credited, look chap. 14.

10 Christ is declared, to be the only Saviour by Johns voice, and infinite miracles, and by the testimonies of all the prophets. But the world notwithstanding being addicted to false prophets, and desirous to seem religious, seeth none of all these things.

7 Philip answered him, Two hundred peniworth of bread is not sufficient for them, that every one of them may take a little.

8 One of his disciples, Andrew, Simon Peters brother, saith unto him, 9 There is a lad here, which hath five barley loaves, and two small fishes: but what are they among so many?

10 And Jesus said, Make the men sit down. Now there was much grasse in the place. So the men sat down, in number about five thousand.

11 And Jesus took the loaves, and when he had given thanks, he distributed to the disciples, and the disciples to them that were set down, and likewise of the fishes, as much as they would.

12 When they were filled, he said unto his disciples, Gather up the fragments that remain, that nothing be lost.

13 Therefore they gathered them together, and filled twelve baskets with the fragments of the five barley loaves, whichr emained over and above, unto them that had eaten.

14 Then those men, when they had seen the miracle that Jesus did, said, This is of a truth that prophet that should come into the world.

15 ¶ [2] When Jesus therefore perceived that they would come and take him by force, to make him a king, he departed again into a mountain himself alone.

16 *[3] And when even was now come, his disciples went down unto the sea, 17 And entred into a ship, and went over the sea [b] towards Capernaum: and it was now dark, and Jesus was not come to them.

18 And the sea arose, by reason of a great winde that blew.

19 So when they had rowed about five and twenty, or thirty furlongs, they see Jesus walking on the sea, and drawing nigh unto the ship: and they were afraid.

20 But he saith unto them, It is I, be not afraid.

21 [c] Then they willingly received him into the ship: and immediately the ship was at the land whither they went.

22 ¶ The day following, when the people which stood on the other side of the sea, saw that there was none other boat there, save that one whereinto his disciples were entred, and that Jesus went not with his disciples into the boat, but that his disciples were gone away alone:

23 (Howbeit there came other boats from Tiberias, nigh unto the place where they did eat bread, after that the Lord had given thanks)

24 When the people therefore saw that Jesus was not there, neither his disciples, they also took shipping, and came to Capernaum seeking for Jesus.

25 And when they had found him on the other side of the sea, they said unto him, Rabbi, when camest thou hither?

26 * [4] Jesus answered them and said, Verily verily I say unto you, Ye seek me, not because ye saw the miracles, but because ye did eat of the loaves, and were filled.

27 ‡ [d] Labour not for the meat which perisheth, but for that meat which endureth unto everlasting life, which the Sonne of man shall give unto you: * for him hath God the Father [e] sealed.

28 Then said they unto him, What shall we do, that we might [f] work the works of God?

29 [5] Jesus answered and said unto them, * This is the [g] work of God, that ye beleeve on him whom he hath sent.

30 [6] They said therefore unto him, What signe shewest thou then, that we may see, and beleeve thee? what dost thou work?

31 * Our fathers did eat manna in the desert, as it is written, * He gave them bread from heaven to eat.

32 [7] Then Jesus said unto them, Verily verily I say unto you, Moses gave you not that [h] bread from heaven, but my Father giveth you the true bread from heaven.

33 For the bread of God is he which cometh down from heaven, and giveth life unto the world.

34 Then said they unto him, Lord, evermore give us this bread.

35 And Jesus said unto them, I am the bread of [i] life: he that cometh to me, shall never hunger; and he that beleeveth on me, shall never thirst.

36 But I said unto you, that ye also have seen me, and beleeve not.

37 * [8] All that the Father giveth me, shall come to me; and him that cometh to me, I will in no wise cast out.

38 For I came down from heaven, not to do mine [k] own will, but the will of him that sent me.

39 And this is the Fathers will which hath sent me, that of all which he hath given me, I should lose nothing, but should raise it up again at the last day.

40 And this is the will of him that sent me, that every one which [l] seeth the Sonne, and beleeveth on him, may have everlasting life: and I will raise him up at the last day.

41 [9] The Jews then murmured at him, because he said, I am the bread which came down from heaven.

42 And they said, * Is not this Jesus the sonne of Joseph, whose father and mother we know? how is it then that he saith, I came down from heaven?

43 Jesus therefore answered and said unto them, Murmure not among your selves.

44 No man can come to me, except the Fa-

* Matth. 14, 23.

3 The godly are often in perill and danger, but Christ cometh to them in time, even in the mids of the tempests, and bringeth them to the haven.

b In Mark 6, 45. they are willed to go before to Bethsaida, for Bethsaida was in the way to Capernaum.

c They were afraid at the first, but when they knew his voice they became new men, and took himwillingly into the ship, whom they shunned and fled from before.

4 They that seek the kingdome of heaven, lack nothing: notwithstanding, the gospel is not the food of the bellie, but of the minde.

‡ Or, work not.

* Matth. 3, 17.

e That is, whom God the Father hath distinguished from all other men by planting his own vertue in him, as though he had sealed him with his seal, that he might be a lively patern and representer of him: and that more is, installed him to this office, to reconcile us men to God, and bring us to everlasting life, which is only proper to Christ.

f Which please God: for they think that everlasting life hangeth upon the condition of fulfilling the law: therefore Christ calleth them back to faith.

5 Men torment themselves in vain, when they go about to please God without faith.

* 1 John 3, 23.

g That is, this is the work that God requireth, that you beleeve in me, and therefore he calleth them back to faith.

6 The spirituall vertue of Christ is contemned of them that are desirous of earthly miracles.

* Exod. 16, 15. Num. 11, 7.

* Psal. 78, 25.

7 Christ, who is the true and only authour and giver of eternal life, was signified unto the fathers in manna.

h He denieth that that manna was that true heavenly bread, and saith that he himself is that true bread, because he feedeth unto the true and everlasting life. And as for that, that Paul, 1 Cor. 10. calleth Manna, Spirituall food, it maketh nothing against this place, for he joyneth the thing signified with the signe: but in this whole disputation, Christ dealeth with the Jews after their own opinion and conceit of the matter, and they had no further consideration of the manna, but in that it fed the bellie.

i Which have life, and give life.

8 The gift of faith proceedeth from the free election of the Father in Christ, after which followeth necessarily everlasting life: therefore faith in Christ Jesus is a sure witnesse of our election, and therefore of our glorification, which is to come.

k Look above Chap. 5. vers. 22.

l Seeing and beleeving are joyned together: for there is another kinde of seeing which is generall, which the devils have, for they see: but here he speaketh of that kinde of seeing which is proper to the elect.

9 Flesh cannot perceive spirituall things, and therefore the beginning of our salvation cometh from God, who changeth our nature, so that we being inspired of him, may abide to be instructed and saved by Christ. * Matth. 13, 55.

ther which hath sent me, draw him, and I will raise him up at the last day.

45 * It is written in the [m] prophets, And they shall be all [n] taught of God. Every man therefore that hath heard, and hath learned of the Father, cometh unto me.

46 Not that any man hath seen the Father, * [o] save he which is of God, he hath seen the Father.

47 Verily yerily I say unto you, He that beleeveth on me hath everlasting life.

48 [10] I am that bread of life.

49 Your fathers did eat manna in the wilderneſse, and are dead.

50 [p] This is the bread which cometh down from heaven, that a man may eat thereof, and not die.

51 [11] I am the [q] living bread, which came down from heaven: if any man [r] eat of this bread, he shall live for ever: and the bread that I will give, is my flesh, which I will give for the life of the world.

52 [12] The Jews therefore strove amongst themselves, saying, How can this man give us his flesh to eat?

53 Then Jesus said unto them, Verily verily I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Sonne of man, and drink his bloud, ye have [r] no life in you.

54 Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my bloud, hath eternall life, and I will raise him up at the last day.

55 For my flesh is meat indeed, and my bloud is drink indeed.

56 He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my bloud, dwelleth in me, and I in him.

57 As [s] the living Father hath sent me, and I live by the [u] Father: so, he that eateth me, even he shall live by me.

58 This is that bread which came down from heaven: not as your fathers did eat manna, and are dead: he that eateth of this bread, shall live for ever.

59 These things said he in the synagogue, as he taught in Capernaum.

60 [13] Many therefore of his disciples, when they had heard this, said, This is an hard saying, who can heare it?

61 When Jesus knew in himself, that his disciples murmured at it, he said unto them, Doth this offend you?

62 * What and if ye shall see the Sonne of man ascend up where he was before?

63 [14] It is the [x] spirit that quickeneth, the flesh profiteth nothing: the words that I speak unto you, they are spirit, and they are life.

64 But there are some of you that beleeve not. For Jesus knew from the beginning, who they were that beleeved not, and who should betray him.

65 And he said, Therefore said I unto you, that no man can come unto me, except it were given unto him of my Father.

66 [15] From that time many of his disciples went back, and walked no more with him.

67 Then said Jesus unto the twelve, Will ye also go away?

68 Then Simon Peter answered him, Lord, to whom shall we go? thou hast the words of eternall life.

69 * And we beleeve, and are sure that thou art that Christ the Sonne of the living God.

70 [16] Jesus answered them, Have not I chosen you twelve, and one of you is a devil?

71 He spake of Judas Iscariot the sonne of Simon: for he it was that should betray him, being one of the twelve.

Chap. VII.

1 Jesus reproveth the ambition and boldneſse of his kinſmen: 10 goeth up from Galilee to the feast of tabernacles: 14 teacheth in the temple. 40 Divers opinions of him among the people. 45 The Pharisees are angry that their officers took him not, and chide with Nicodemus for taking his part.

AFter these things, Jesus walked in Galilee: for he would not walk in Jewry, because the Jews sought to kill him.

2 * Now the Jews [a] feast of tabernacles was at hand.

3 [1] His brethren therefore said unto him, Depart hence, and go into Judea, that thy disciples also may see the works that thou doest.

4 For there is no man that doeth any thing in secret, and he himself seeketh to be known openly: If thou do these things, shew thy self to the world.

5 For neither did his [b] brethren beleeve in him.

6 [2] Then Jesus said unto them, My time is not yet come: but your time is alway ready.

7 The world cannot hate you, but me it hateth, because I testifie of it, that the works thereof are evil.

8 Go ye up unto this feast: I go not up yet unto this feast, * for my time is not yet full come.

9 When he had said these words unto them, he abode still in Galilee.

10 ¶ [3] But when his brethren were gone up, then went he also up unto the feast, not openly, but as it were in secret.

11 Then the Jews sought him at the feast, and said, Where is he?

12 And there was much murmuring among the people concerning him: for some said, He is a good man: others said, Nay, but he deceiveth the people.

13 Howbeit, no man spake [c] openly of him, for fear of the Jews.

14 ¶ [4] Now about the [d] midst of the feast, Jesus went up into the temple, and taught.

15 And the Jews marvelled, saying, How

[m] In the book of the prophets, for the old testament was divided by them into three severall parts, into the law, the prophets, and the holy writ.

[n] To wit, they sha'l be children of the church, for so the prophet Esay expoundeth it, chap. 54, 13. that is to say, ordained to life, Acts 13, 48. and therefore the knowledge of the heavenly truth is the gift and work of God, and standeth not in any power of man.

[o] Matth. 11, 27. If the Son only hath seen the Father, then it is he only that can teach and instruct us truely.

[10] The true use of sacraments is to ascend from them to the thing it self, that is, To Christ, by the partaking of whom only, we get everlasting life.

[p] He pointeth out himself when he spake these words.

[11] Christ being sent from the Father, is the self same unto us for the getting and keeping of everlasting life, that bread and flesh, yea, meat and drink, are to the use of this transitorie life.

[q] Which giveth life to the world.

[r] That is to say, Whosoever is partaker of Christ indeed, who is our food.

[12] Flesh cannot put a difference between fleshly eating, which is done by the help of the teeth, and spirituall eating, which consisteth in faith: and therefore it condemneth that which it understandeth not: yet notwithstanding, the truth must be preached and taught.

[f] If Christ be present, life is present, but when Christ is absent, then is death present.

[s] In that that Christ is man, he receiveth that power, which quickneth and giveth life to them that are his, of his Father: and addeth this word (That) to make a difference between him and all other fathers.

[u] Christ his meaning is that though he be man, yet his flesh can give life, not of the own nature, but because that flesh of his liveth by the Father, that is to say doeth suck and draw out of the Father, that power which it hath to give life.

[13] The reason of man cannot comprehend the uniting of Christ and his members, therefore let it worship and reverence that which is better than it self. * Chap. 3, 13.

[14] The flesh of Christ doeth therefore quicken us, because that he that is man, is God: which mystery is onely comprehended by faith, which is the gift of God, proper only to the elect.

[x] Spirit, that is, That power which floweth from the God-head, causeth the flesh of Christ, which otherwise were nothing but flesh, both to live in it self, and to give life to us.

[15] Such is the malice of men, that they take occasion of their own destruction, even of the very doctrin of salvation, unlesse it be a few which beleeve through the singular gift of God.

* Matth. 16, 16.

[16] The number of the professours of Christ is very small, among them also there be some hypocrites, and worse than all other.

[a] This feast was so called, because of the boothes and tents which they pight of divers kinds of boughs, and sate under them, the seven dayes together, all which time the feast lasted.

[1] The grace of God cometh not by inheritance, but it is a gift that cometh otherwayes: where by it cometh to passe, that oftentimes the children of God suffer more affliction by their own kinsfolks, than by strangers.

[b] His kinsfolks: for so use the Hebrews to speak.

[2] We must not follow the foolish desires of our friends.

* Chap. 8, 20.

[3] An example of horrible confusion in the very bosom of the church. The pastors oppresse the people with terrour and feare: the people seek Christ, when he appeareth not: when he offereth himself, they neglect him. Some also that know him, condemn him rashly; a very few think well of him, and that in secret.

[c] Or, boldly and freely: for the chief of the Jews sought nothing so much, as to bury his fame and name. 4 Christ striveth with goodnesse against the wickednesse of the worlds in the mean season the most part of men take occasion of offence, even by that same whereby they ought to have been stirred up to embrace Christ.

[d] About the fourth day of the feast.

knoweth this man ‡ letters, having never learned?

16 [5] Jesus answered them, My doctrine is not [e] mine, but his that sent me.

17 If any man will do his will, he shall know of the doctrine, whether it be of God, or whether I speak of my self.

18 [6] He that speaketh of himself, seeketh his own glory: but he that seeketh his glory that sent him, the same is true, and no unrighteousnesse is in him.

19 * [7] Did not Moses give you the law, and yet none of you keepeth the law? * Why go ye about to kill me?

20 The people answered and said, Thou hast a devil: who goeth about to kill thee?

21 [8] Jesus answered and said unto them, I have done one work, and ye all marvel.

22 * Moses therefore gave unto you circumcision, (not because it is of Moses, * but of the fathers) and ye on the sabbath-day circumcise a man.

23 If a man on the sabbath-day receive circumcision ‡ that the [f] law of Moses should not be broken; are ye angry at me, because I have made a man every whit whole on the sabbathday?

24 * [9] Judge not according to the [g] appearance, but judge righteous judgement:

25 [10] Then said some of them of Jerusalem, Is not this he whom they seek to kill?

26 But lo, he speaketh boldly, and they say nothing unto him: do the rulers know indeed that this is the very Christ?

27 [11] Howbeit we know this man whence he is: but when Christ cometh, no man knoweth whence he is.

28 [12] Then cried Jesus in the temple as he taught, saying, Ye both know me, and ye know whence I am, and I am not come of my self, but he that sent me is true, whom ye know not.

29 But I know him, for I am from him, and he hath sent me.

30 [13] Then they sought to take him: but no man laid hands on him, because his houre was not yet come.

31 And many of the people beleeved on him, and said, When Christ cometh, will he do more miracles than these which this man hath done?

32 ¶ [14] The Pharisees heard that the people murmured such things concerning him: and the Pharisees and the chief priests sent officers to take him.

33 Then said Jesus unto them, Yet a little while am I with you, and then I go unto him that sent me.

34 * Ye shall seek me, and shall not finde me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come.

35 Then said the Jews among themselves, Whither will he go, that we shall not finde him? will he go unto the [h] dispersed among the ‡ Gentiles, and teach the Gentiles? ‡ Or, Greeks.

36 What manner of saying is this that he said, Ye shall seek me, and shall not finde me: and where I am, thither ye cannot come?

37 * [15] In the [i] last day, that great day of the feast, Jesus stood and cried, saying, If any man thirst, let him come unto me, and drink.

38 * He that beleeveth on me, as the [k] scripture hath said, out of his belly shall flow rivers of living water.

39 (*But this spake he of the spirit, which they that beleeve on him, should receive: for the [l] holy Ghost was not yet given, because that Jesus was not yet [m] glorified)

40 ¶ [16] Many of the people therefore, when they heard this saying, said, Of a truth this is the prophet.

41 Others said, This is the Christ. But some said, Shall Christ come out of Galilee?

42 * Hath not the scripture said, That Christ cometh of the seed of David, and out of the town of Bethlehem, where David was?

43 So there was a division among the people because of him.

44 And some of them would have taken him, but no man laid hands on him.

45 ¶ [17] Then came the officers to the chief priests and Pharisees, and they said unto them, Why have ye not brought him?

46 The officers answered, Never man spake like this man.

47 Then answered them the Pharisees, Are ye also deceived?

48 Have any of the [18] rulers, or of the Pharisees beleeved on him?

49 But this people who knoweth not the law are cursed.

50 Nicodemus saith unto them, (* he that came to Jesus by night, being one of them)

51 * Doth our law judge any man before it heare him, and [n] know what he doeth?

52 They answered, and said unto him, Art thou also of Galilee? Search, and look: for out of Galilee ariseth no prophet.

53 [19] And every man went unto his own house.

CHAP. VIII.

1 Christ delivereth the woman taken in adulterie. 12 He preacheth himself the light of the world, and justifieth his doctrine. 33 answereth the Jews that boasted of Abraham, 59 and conveyeth himself from their cruelty.

JEsus went unto the mount of Olives:

2 And early in the morning he came again into the temple, and all the people came unto him, and he sat down, and taught them.

3 [1] And the Scribes and Pharisees brought unto him a woman taken in adultery, and when they had set her in the midst,

4 They say unto him, Master, this woman was taken in adultery, in the very act.

5 * Now Moses in the law commanded us, that such should be stoned: but what sayest thou?

6 This they said, tempting him, that they might might have to accuse him. But Jesus stouped down, and with his finger wrote on the ground, as though he heard them not.

2 Against hypocrites which are very severe judges against other men, and flatter themselves in their own sins. * Deut. 17,7.

7 [2] So when they continued asking him, he lift up himself, and said unto them, * He that is without sinne among you, let him first cast a stone at her.

8 And again he stouped down, and wrote on the ground.

9 And they which heard it, being convicted by their own conscience, went out one by one, beginning at the eldest, even unto the last: and Jesus was left alone, and the woman standing in the midst.

3 Christ would not take upon him the civill magistrates office: he contented himself to bring sinners to faith and repentance.

10 [3] When Jesus had lift up himself, and saw none but the woman, he said unto her, Woman, where are those thine accusers? hath no man condemned thee?

11 She said, No man, Lord. And Jesus said unto her, Neither do I condemn thee: go, and sinne no more.

4 The world which is blinde in it self, cannot come to have any light but in Christ only. * Chap. 1, 5. and 9, 5.

12 ¶ [4] Then spake Jesus again unto them, saying, * I am the light of the world: he that followeth me, shall not walk in darknesse, but shall have the light of life.

5 Christ is without all exception. the best witnesse of the trueth, for he was sent by his Father for that purpose, and was by him approved to the world by infinit miracles. a Thou beareſt witnesse of thy self, which thing by all mens opinions is naught, and for a man to commend himself is very discommendable. b That which he denied afore, Chap. 5, 31. must be taken by a manner of granting, for in that place he framed himself somewhat to the humor of his hearers, which acknowledged nothing in Christ but his humanitie, and therefore he was content they should set light by his own witnesse, unlesse it were otherwise confirmed. But in this place, he standeth for the maintenance of his God-head, and praiseth his Father, who is his witnesse, and agreeth with him. c I do now only teach you. I condemn no man: but yet if I lust to do it, I might lawfully do it, for I am not alone, but my Father is with me. * Deut. 17,6. Matth. 18,16. d The God-head is plainly distinguished from the manhood, else there were not two witnesses: for the party accused is not taken for a witnesse. 6 No man can know God, but in Christ only. e This was some place appointed for the gathering of the offerings. 7 We live and die at the pleasure of God, and not of men: therefore this one thing remaineth that we go forward constantly in our vocation. 8 Because that men do naturally abhor heavenly things, no man can be a fit disciple of Christ: unlesse the spirit of God frame him: in the mean season notwithstanding, the world must of necessitie perish, because it refused the life that is offered unto it.

13 [5] The Pharisees therefore said unto him, Thou [a] beareſt record of thy self, thy record is not true, 14 Jesus answered and said unto them, [b] Though I bear record of my self, yet my record is true: for I know whence I came, and whither I go; but ye cannot tell whence I come, and whither I go.

15 Ye judge after the flesh, I [c] judge no man.

16 And yet if I judge, my judgement is true: for I am not alone, but I and the Father that sent me.

17 * It is also written in your law, that the testimony of two men is true.

18 [d] I am one that bear witnesse of my self, and the Father that sent me, beareth witnesse of me.

19 [6] Then said they unto him, Where is thy Father? Jesus answered, Ye neither know me, nor my Father: if ye had known me, ye should have known my Father also.

20 These words spake Jesus in the [e] treasury as he taught in the temple: and no man laid hands on him, for [7] his houre was not yet come.

21 [8] Then said Jesus again unto them, I go my way, and ye shall seek me, and shall die in your sinnes: whither I go, ye cannot come.

22 Then said the Jews, Will he kill himself? because he saith, Whither I go, ye cannot come.

23 And he said unto them, Ye are from beneath, I am from above: ye are of this world, I am not of this world.

24 I said therefore unto you, that ye shall die in your sinnes: for if ye beleeve not that I am he, ye shall die in your sinnes, 9 He shall at length know who Christ is, which will diligently heare what he saith. f That is, I am Christ, and the Saviour, for so I told you from the beginning that I was.

25 [9] Then said they unto him, Who art thou? And Jesus saith unto them, [f] Even the same that I said unto you from the beginning.

26 [10] I have many things to say, and to judge of you: but he that sent me, is true, and I speak to the world those things which I have heard of him.

10 God is the revenger of Christs doctrin despised.

27 [11] They understood not that he spake to them of the Father.

11 Even the contempt of Christ maketh for his glory: which thing his enemies shall feel at length to their great smart.

28 Then said Jesus unto them, When ye have lift up the Sonne of man, then shall ye know that I am he, and that I do nothing of my self: but as my Father hath taught me, I speak these things.

29 And he that sent me, is with me: the Father hath not left me alone: for I do alwayes those things that please him.

30 As he spake these words, many beleeved on him.

31 [12] Then said Jesus to those Jews which beleeved on him, If ye continue in my word, then are ye my disciples indeed.

12 The true disciples of Christ continue in his doctrin, that profiting more and more in the knowledge of the trueth, they may be delivered from the most grievous burden of sin, into the true liberty of righteousnesse and life.

32 And ye shall know the truth, and the truth shall [g] make you free.

g From the slavery of sinne.

33 ¶ [h] They answered him, We be [i] Abrahams seed, and were never in bondage to any man: how sayest thou, Ye shall be made free?

h Some of the multitude, not they that beleeved: for this is not the speech of men that consent unto him but of men that are against him. i Born and begotten of Abraham. * Rom. 6,20. 2 Pet. 2, 19.

34 Jesus answered them, Verily verily I say unto you, * Whosoever committeth sinne, is the servant of sinne.

35 And the servant abideth not in the house for ever: but the Sonne abideth ever.

36 If the Sonne therefore shall make you free, ye shall be free indeed.

37 [13] I know that ye are Abrahams seed, but ye seek to kill me, because my word hath no place in you.

13 Our wicked manners declare, that we are plainly born of a devilish nature. But we are changed, and made of the household of God, according to the covenant which he made with Abraham by Christ only, apprehended and laid hold on by faith: which faith is known by a godly and honest life.

38 I speak that which I have seen with my Father: and ye do that which ye have seen with your father.

39 They answered and said unto him, Abraham is our father. Jesus saith unto them, If ye were Abrahams children, ye would do the works of Abraham.

40 But now ye seek to kill me, a man that hath told you the truth, which I have heard of God: this did not Abraham.

41 Ye do the deeds of your father. Then said they to him, We be not born of fornication, we have one father, even God.

42 Jesus said unto them, If God were your Father, ye would love me, for I proceeded forth, and came from God; neither came I of my self, but he sent me.

43 Why do ye not understand my [k] speech? even because ye cannot heare my word.

k Or, language: as though he sayed, You do no more understand what I say, than if I spake in a strange and unknown language to you.

44 * Ye are of your father the devil, and the lusts of your father ye will do: he was a murderer from the [l] beginning, and [m] abode not in the [n] truth, because there is no truth in him. When he speaketh a lie, he speaketh of his [o] own: for he is a liar, and the [p] father of it.

45 And becauſe I tell you the truth, ye beleeve me not.

46 [14] Which of you convinceth me of ſinne? And if I ſay the truth, why do ye not beleeve me?

47 * He that is of God, heareth Gods words: ye therefore heare them not, becauſe ye are not of God.

48 [15] Then anſwered the Jews, and ſaid unto him, Say we not well that thou art a Samaritane, and haſt a devil?

49 Jeſus anſwered, I have not a devil: but I honour my Father, and ye do dishonour me.

50 And I ſeek not mine own glory, there is one that [q] ſeeketh and judgeth.

51 [16] Verily verily I ſay unto you, If a man keep my ſaying, he ſhall [r] never ſee death.

52 [17] Then ſaid the Jews unto him, Now we know that thou haſt a devil. Abraham is dead, and the prophets, and thou ſayeſt, If a man keep my ſaying, he ſhall never taſte of death.

53 Art thou greater than our father Abraham, which is dead? and the prophets are dead: whom makeſt thou thy ſelf?

54 [18] Jeſus anſwered, If I honour my ſelf, my honour is [s] nothing: it is my Father that honoureth me, of whom ye ſay, that he is your God:

55 [19] Yet ye have not known him, but I know him: and if I ſhould ſay, I know him not, I ſhall be a liar like unto you: but I know him, and keep his ſaying.

56 [20] Your father Abraham [t] rejoyced to ſee my [u] day: and he [x] ſaw it, and was glad.

57 Then ſaid the Jews unto him, Thou art not yet fifty yeares old, and haſt thou ſeen Abraham?

58 Jeſus ſaid unto them, Verily verily I ſay unto you, Before Abraham was, I [y] am.

59 [21] Then took they up ſtones to caſt at him: but Jeſus hid himſelf, and went out of the temple, going through the midſt of them, and ſo paſſed by.

CHAP. IX.

1 The man that was born blinde reſtored to ſight. 8 He is brought to the Phariſees. 13 They are offendedat it, and excommunicate him: 35 but he is received of Jeſus, and confeſſeth him. 39 Who they are whom Chriſt enlightneth.

1 Sin is the beginning even of all bodily diſeaſes, and yet doeth it not follow, that God alway reſpecteth their ſins whom he moſt ſharply puniſheth.
a Chriſt reaſoneth here, as his diſciples thought, which preſuppoſe that there come no diſeaſes but for ſins only: whereupon he anſwereth, that there was another cauſe of this mans blindneſſe, and that was, that God his work might be ſeen.

AND [1] as Jeſus paſſed by, he ſaw a man which was blinde from his birth.

2 And his diſciples asked him, ſaying, Maſter, who did ſinne, this man, or his parents, that he was born blinde?

3 Jeſus anſwered, [a] Neither hath this man ſinned, nor his parents: but that the works of God ſhould be made manifeſt in him.

4 [2] I muſt work the works of him that ſent me, while it is [b] day: the night cometh when no man can work.

2 The works of Chriſt are at it were a light, which lighteth in the darkneſſe of the world. b By (day) is meant the light, that is, the light ſome doctrin of the heavenly truth: and by night is meant the darkneſſe which cometh by the obſcurity of the ſame doctrin.

5 As long as I am in the world, * I am the light of the world.

* Chap. 1, 9.

6 [3] When he had thus ſpoken, he ſpat on the ground, and made clay of the ſpittle, & he [‡] anointed the eyes of the blind man with the clay,

7 And ſaid unto him, Go wash in the pool of Siloam (which is by interpretation, Sent) He went his way therefore, and waſhed, and came ſeeing.

8 ¶ * The neighbours therefore, and they which before had ſeen him, that he was blinde, ſaid, Is not this he that ſat and begged?

9 Some ſaid, This is he: others ſaid, He is like him: but he ſaid, I am he.

10 Therefore ſaid they unto him, How were thine eyes [c] opened?

11 He anſwered and ſaid, A man that is called Jeſus, made clay, and anointed mine eyes, and ſaid unto me, Go to the pool of Siloam, and waſh: and I went and waſhed, and I received ſight.

12 Then ſaid they unto him, Where is he? He ſaid, I know not.

13 ¶ They brought to the Phariſees him that aforetime was blinde,

14 And it was the ſabbath-day when Jeſus made the clay, and opened his eyes.

15 Then again the Phariſees alſo asked him how he had received his ſight. He ſaid unto them, He put clay upon mine eyes, and I waſhed, and do ſee.

16 [5] Therefore ſaid ſome of the Phariſees, This man is not of God, becauſe he keepeth not the ſabbath-day. Others ſaid, How can a man that is a ſinner, do ſuch miracles? and there was a diviſion among them.

17 They ſay unto the blinde man again, What ſayeſt thou of him, that he hath opened thine eyes? He ſaid, He is a prophet.

18 But the Jews did not beleeve concerning him, that he had been blinde, and received his ſight, untill they called the parents of him that had received his ſight.

19 And they asked them, ſaying, Is this your ſonne, who ye ſay was born blinde? how then doth he now ſee?

20 His parents anſwered them and ſaid, We know that this is our ſonne, and that he was born blinde:

21 But by what means he now ſeeth, we know not, or who hath opened his eyes we know not: he is of age, ask him, he ſhall ſpeak for himſelf.

22 Theſe words ſpake his parents, becauſe they feared the Jews: for the Jews had agreed already, that if any man did confeſſe that he was Chriſt, he ſhould be put out of the ſynagogue.

23 Therefore ſaid his parents, He is of age, ask him.

24 Then again called they the man that was blinde, and ſaid unto him, [d] Give God

3 Chriſt healing the man born blinde, by taking the ſigne of clay, and afterward the ſigne of the fountain of Siloam, (which ſignifieth, Sent) sheweth that as he at the beginning made man, ſo doeth he again reſtore both his body and ſoul: and yet ſo, that he himſelf cometh firſt of his own accord to heal us.
‡ Or, ſpread the clay upon the eyes of the blinde man.
4 A true image of all men, who as they are of nature blinde, do neither themſelves receive the light that is offered unto them, nor ſuffer it in other, and yet make a great a do amongſt themſelves.
c This is an Hebrew kinde of ſpeech, for they call a mans eyes ſhut, when they cannot receive any light: And therefore they are ſaid to have their eyes opened, which of blinde men are made to ſee.

the praise, we know that this man is a [e] sinner.

25 He answered and said, Whether he be a sinner or no, I know not: one thing I know, that whereas I was blinde, now I see.

26 Then said they to him again, What did he to thee? how opened he thine eyes?

27 He answered them, I have told you already, and ye did not heare: wherefore would ye heare it again? will ye also be his disciples?

28 [6] Then they reviled him, and said, Thou art his disciple, but we are Moses disciples.

29 We know that God spake unto Moses: as for this fellow, we know not from whence he is.

30 The man answered and said unto them, Why, herein is a marvellous thing, that ye know not from whence he is, and yet he hath opened mine eyes.
